

LOYOLA MARYMOUNT UNIVERSITY BULLETIN 2014–2015

The University Bulletin contains the academic and administrative policies and regulations that govern enrollment of undergraduate, graduate, and postbaccalaureate students at Loyola Marymount University. Students are responsible for knowing academic and administrative policies and regulations affecting their program of study and for abiding by all such policies and regulations during their period of enrollment at the University. Continued enrollment is subject to compliance with the academic and administrative policies and regulations. Failure to understand the policies and regulations does not relieve a student of her or his responsibility for adhering to the policies and regulations.

Students are governed by the applicable University and degree requirements in the University Bulletin of their entry year into the University. Students must normally fulfill the department major or program requirements in effect when they declare the primary major or program of study. If these requirements have been modified since the most recent Bulletin, students may be required to fulfill those with the most recent date. Students are advised to consult the chairperson of the major department or the appropriate program director for the correct information.

The University Bulletin is not an offer to enter into a contract. Loyola Marymount University reserves the right to make changes to degree program requirements, academic and administrative policies and regulations, financial charges, and course offerings published in the University Bulletin at any time without prior notice. The University strives to assure the accuracy of the information in the University Bulletin. However, the University reserves the right to make corrections as necessary to the University Bulletin. For changes that may occur, please log on to <http://bulletin.lmu.edu>.

Loyola Marymount University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, handicap, or age. Loyola Marymount University seeks compliance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, and section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, which respectively prohibit discrimination. Inquiries regarding these issues may be directed to the Senior Vice President for Student Affairs. Students desirous of filing a complaint should contact the Senior Vice President for Student Affairs.

THE UNIVERSITY

History

The names “Loyola” and “Marymount” have long been associated with Catholic higher education in countries around the globe. Saint Ignatius Loyola, founder of the Society of Jesus, the Jesuits, sanctioned the foundation of his order’s first school in 1548. The Religious of the Sacred Heart of Mary have conducted educational institutions since their establishment in France by Father Jean Gailhac. These two traditions of education have come together in Los Angeles as Loyola Marymount University.

The present institution is the successor to the pioneer Catholic college and first institution of higher learning in Southern California. In 1865 the Vincentian Fathers inaugurated St. Vincent’s College for Boys in Los Angeles. When this school closed in 1911, members of the Society of Jesus opened the high school division in their newly founded Los Angeles College.

Rapid growth prompted the Jesuits to commence the collegiate department that same year, seek a new campus in 1917, and incorporate as Loyola College of Los Angeles in 1918. Relocating to the present Westchester campus in 1929, the school achieved university status one year later.

Graduate instruction began in 1920 with the foundation of a separate law school. The formation of the Graduate Division occurred in June 1950, though graduate work had formed an integral part of the Teacher Education Program during the preceding two years.

The Religious of the Sacred Heart of Mary began teaching local young women in 1923. Ten years later they opened Marymount Junior College in Westwood which first granted the baccalaureate degree in 1948. The school later transferred classes to a new campus on the Palos Verdes Peninsula in 1960. Eight years later, Marymount College moved again, this time to the Westchester campus of Loyola University as an autonomous college. At this juncture, the Sisters of St. Joseph of Orange joined the Marymount Sisters as partners.

After five years of sharing faculties and facilities, Loyola University and Marymount College merged and formed Loyola Marymount University in July 1973. Through this union, the expanded school maintained the century-old mission of Catholic higher education in Los Angeles.

In articulating a vision for this unique collegiate enterprise, the Board of Trustees turned to the history of the four-century-old Jesuit educational philosophy as well as to the history and traditions of the Marymount and St. Joseph’s Sisters. They also recognized the riches of a variety of religious traditions represented among the dedicated faculty and staff that complemented and enhanced the school’s heritage of Catholic values.

The University pursues quality in:

- Curricula of All Academic Programs
- Co-curricular Programs and Support Services
- Faculty, Administration and Staff
- Students
- Campus Life, Hospitality and Services

Loyola Marymount University:

- Promotes Academic Excellence
- Lives an Institutional Commitment to Roman Catholicism and the Judeo-Christian Tradition
- Provides a Liberal Education
- Fosters a Student-centered University
- Creates a Sense of Community on Campus
- Participates Actively in the Life of the Larger Community

University Mission Statement

Introduction

Loyola Marymount University offers rigorous undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs to academically ambitious students committed to lives of meaning and purpose. We benefit from our location in Los Angeles, a dynamic city that brings into sharp focus the issues of our time and provides an ideal context for study, research, creative work, and active engagement. By intention and philosophy, we invite men and women diverse in talents, interests, and cultural backgrounds to enrich our educational community and advance our mission:

- The encouragement of learning
- The education of the whole person
- The service of faith and the promotion of justice

The University is institutionally committed to Roman Catholicism and takes its fundamental inspiration from the combined heritage of the Jesuits, the Marymount Sisters, and the Sisters of St. Joseph of Orange. This Catholic identity and religious heritage distinguish LMU from other universities and provide touchstones for understanding our threefold mission.

The Encouragement of Learning

At LMU, the encouragement of learning takes place in the context of an intellectual tradition that:

- Insists on critical thinking and the development of imagination and artistic expression
- Takes philosophical and theological disciplines seriously
- Engages in ethical discourse and embraces the search for values
- Respects the integrity of the individual while at the same time pursuing the common good
- Views the world as sacramental and seeks to find God in all things
- Encourages an integration of knowledge in which “faith and reason bear witness to the unity of all truth” (Ex Corde Ecclesiae, 1990, #17)

As a foundation for inquiry and learning, we strive to create an intercultural community and to promote ecumenical and inter-religious dialogue. This means that at LMU the encouragement of learning is a radical commitment to free and honest inquiry—but always with reverence before the mystery of the universe and openness to transcendent reality.

The Education of the Whole Person

With roots in the spiritual humanism of the earliest Jesuit colleges, LMU’s pedagogical tradition has an abiding concern for the education of the whole person. Today we understand this as a simultaneous process of information, formation, and transformation. The education of the whole person thus includes these points:

- It encourages personal integration of the student’s thinking, feeling, choosing, evolving self. It does this by fostering not only academic and professional development but also physical, social, psychological, moral, cultural, and religious/spiritual growth.
- It promotes formation of character and values, meaning and purpose. As students learn to “read” what is going on in their own lives and in the larger world, they are encouraged to grow in the skills of personal and social literacy needed for responsible citizenship.
- It seeks to develop men and women for others. LMU encourages students, faculty, and staff to identify with those living on the margins of society so that the intellectual inquiry and moral reflection endemic to university life will lead to meaningful work for transformative social change.

The Service of Faith and the Promotion of Justice

We take seriously both parts of this phrase. The service of faith encompasses all those ways in which the University engages its Catholic intellectual, cultural, and religious heritage. These ways include specific courses and academic programs as well as opportunities for worship, faith formation, and spiritual development.

The service of faith also honors the reality of religious pluralism on our campus and embraces inter-faith dialogue in formal and informal contexts. The desired outcome of such encounters moves us beyond tolerance to mutual respect and understanding, deepens appreciation of one's own faith, and creates opportunities for engaging others who share a longing for meaningful lives.

Finally, at LMU we insist that the service of faith is incomplete without the promotion of justice. Together with the University's sponsoring religious orders and the post-Vatican II Church, we believe that participating in the struggle for justice in ways appropriate to our academic community is a requirement—not simply an option—of biblical faith. In this struggle LMU makes common cause with all who share a commitment to local and global justice, whether they are motivated by faith or other noble ideals.

Goals

Loyola Marymount University promotes academic excellence by:

- Enrolling an academically ambitious, multicultural, and socioeconomically diverse student body
- Recruiting, retaining, and supporting a diverse and multicultural faculty committed to excellence in teaching and active scholarship or artistic productivity
- Sustaining an excellent staff and administration as partners with the faculty in promoting academic excellence
- Engaging students in academic programs that explore the multicultural experience of American ethnic groups
- Maintaining an academic community in which freedom of inquiry and expression enjoy the highest priority
- Emphasizing the skills and knowledge necessary for a lifetime of intellectual growth and providing strong pre-professional and professional preparation in the undergraduate curriculum
- Offering excellent graduate and legal education in a context which promotes the highest standards of personal integrity and professional responsibility
- Developing and maintaining the physical facilities, equipment, and support systems that enable the university to carry out its academic mission
- Providing library facilities and services for excellence in the university's undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs

Lives an institutional commitment to Catholicism and the Judeo-Christian tradition by:

- Ensuring that Catholic faith and tradition continue to inform and inspire the Loyola Marymount educational experience
- Encouraging collaboration between members of the founding religious communities and other members of the University to give a distinctive tone to campus life
- Welcoming students, faculty, and staff from all faith traditions
- Emphasizing the examination of the moral and ethical implications of all human actions
- Fostering a just society through a commitment to social justice and service
- Offering opportunities for religious practice and faith development for the entire Loyola Marymount community
- Provides a liberal education by:
 - Offering a core curriculum that provides each undergraduate with a broad education in the liberal arts and sciences as the heart of the undergraduate experience
 - Emphasizing the study of philosophy and theology in the undergraduate curriculum
 - Challenging all students to think critically and reflect on basic values and issues, and free themselves from prejudice
 - Supporting a faculty committed to excellent teaching and scholarship in a university based on the liberal arts tradition
 - Encouraging students to understand their fields of studies in a broad intellectual, ethical, and social context
 - Preparing students, undergraduate and graduate, to play active roles in addressing the problems and challenges of the larger society and world in which they live

Fosters a student-centered university by:

- Maintaining the residential character and medium size of the Westchester campus to assure that each student receives personal attention
- Encouraging staff, administration, and faculty to embrace the ideal of personal care and dedication to the well-being and development of each student
- Offering co-curricular programs that complement the academic programs and produce a coherent educational experience
- Supporting the full involvement of students in campus life by offering a wide variety of activities
- Providing opportunities for students to develop their leadership skills by actively involving them in decision making
- Challenging and encouraging students to lead and serve others

Creates a sense of community on campus by:

- Introducing new members of the community to the shared values and history of the university and reinforcing a sense of belonging for all members
- Assuring that the daily life of the campus reflects a vision of human dignity and fosters mutual understanding and caring
- Celebrating the richness and diversity of a multicultural campus
- Encouraging faculty, staff, administrators, and students to serve others, participate in the life of the University, and act as responsible and generous members of the academic community
- Providing opportunities to participate in making significant decisions through well-defined and fair procedures

Participates actively in the life of the larger community by:

- Using the resources of Los Angeles and Southern California to expand and deepen the student's educational experience
- Developing academic programs that address the dynamics and opportunities of the nations and cultures of Latin America and the Pacific Rim
- Inspiring faculty, staff, students, and alumni to serve their communities and society by applying their skills and knowledge to critical problems
- Contributing to the intellectual and cultural life of society through scholarship and the arts
- Providing leadership in the examination and discussion of the ethical dimensions of social issues
- Recognizing a particular responsibility to serve the global Church, and especially the people of the Archdiocese of Los Angeles and the local dioceses.

Approved by Board of Trustees, December 3, 1990

Interculturalism

Interculturalism is sharing and learning across cultures with the aim of promoting understanding, equity, harmony, and justice in a diverse society. Our actions must be grounded in, and guided by, the following:

- LMU is composed of individuals and groups who continue to grow in knowledge of the historical contexts from which we emerged.
- Knowledge of self and others, inspired by a commitment to human dignity and justice, is the hallmark of interculturalism.
- Promotion of the common good requires the recognition of similarities within a common humanity, the appreciation of differences, and the willingness to share cross-cultural experiences.
- Interculturalism is a dynamic and critical endeavor that involves the acquisition of knowledge, ongoing examination of the way we view the world, and purposeful action to promote a just and harmonious society at LMU and beyond.

Vision

Grounded in the Catholic intellectual tradition, Loyola Marymount University affirms human dignity and promotes justice. Different cultures are unique expressions of these common aspirations.

All cultures can contribute to the search for knowledge and the building of communities based on the common humanity of all people. At LMU, interculturalism is an essential source of academic excellence and a defining characteristic of our campus community. We draw upon interculturalism to create a university of excellence, to serve as a model Catholic institution, and to be a catalyst for the creation of a more just society built on respect and a sense of shared destiny.

We embody interculturalism in our policies, practices, and curricula. We promote personal and professional interaction, encouraging intercultural engagement to engender trust, respect, and compassion. Intercultural engagement enables us to share power and responsibility as we grow in self-knowledge, learn to value the unique qualities of diverse cultural groups, and understand the common elements of our shared humanity.

ADMISSION TO THE UNIVERSITY

Undergraduate Admission

Loyola Marymount University welcomes applications from students who subscribe to the goals of the University and who are qualified to undertake its programs. The University makes selective and individual decisions, and the academic record is the primary consideration. Writing ability; accomplishments in academic, artistic, athletic, co-curricular, or work- or service-related endeavors; recommendations; national test scores; and relationship to the University are also given significant consideration. Each application is individually evaluated.

Candidates are considered for admission to either the Fall or Spring semester, provided ALL required documents have been received before the priority dates. The Fall priority date for freshman applicants is January 15; transfer applications are due March 15; the Spring priority date for all applicants is October 15. An Early Action program is also offered to freshman and transfer for freshmen applicants for the Fall semester. The Early Action application deadline for freshman is November 1. The Early Action deadline for transfer is February 1. Full consideration cannot be assured to applicants failing to meet these priority dates. A personal interview is not required, but individual Admission counseling appointments are encouraged. Personal appointments and campus tours can be arranged through the Office of Admission. Please visit <http://admission.lmu.edu> or call 310.338.2750. The fax number is 310.338.2797, and the e-mail address is admissions@lmu.edu.

High School Subjects Recommended for Admission

The following high school course of study is recommended for admission into the University.

English	4 years
Foreign Language	3 years
Mathematics	3 years
Laboratory Science	2 years
Social Sciences	3 years
Academic Electives	1 year

Business students must complete a unit in each of the following: elementary algebra, geometry, intermediate algebra/trigonometry, and precalculus. Engineering, computer science, mathematics, and science majors should complete four units of mathematics and one unit each of biology, chemistry, and physics.

Admission Procedure

Loyola Marymount University is an exclusive user of the Common Application. All applicants should file the Common Application by the appropriate deadline and submit a $60 nonrefundable application fee.

The following procedures apply to all candidates. Transfer and international applicants should be sure to note specific additional requirements as stated below. Candidates seeking admission to Loyola Marymount University should:

1. File the Common Application and the LMU Writing Supplement by the appropriate deadline and submit a $60 nonrefundable application fee or an appropriate fee waiver. The Common Application form is available online at <http://www.lmu.edu>.
2. Request official transcripts to be sent from the last high school attended and from each college attended. Advanced Placement students must submit official AP test score results in order to receive college credit. International Baccalaureate students must submit official result of IB Higher Level examinations to receive college credit.
3. Arrange for SAT I or ACT scores to be sent to the Director of Admission. Information about SAT I may be obtained from the College Board: P.O. Box 6200, Princeton, NJ 08541-6200 or at <http://www.collegeboard.org>. Information about ACT may be obtained from the American College Testing Program: ACT Records, P.O. Box 451, Iowa City, IA 52243 or at <http://www.actstudent.org>.
4. Before school begins, all entering students are required to submit an official final high school transcript certifying the completion of secondary requirements and showing the high school graduation date. Transfer students are also required to submit official transcripts for any courses completed since the application for admission was filed. Students failing to submit required transcripts will be prevented from registering for subsequent semesters until this requirement is satisfied.

Notification of Acceptance

Candidates will be evaluated for admission after all of the required steps in the application process have been completed, according to the following calendar:

- Fall freshman applicants (Early Action): Decisions for candidates applying under the Early Action program whose applications are complete by November 1 will be announced before December 20. Early Action applications may be accepted, denied, or deferred for further consideration during the regular decision process. Loyola Marymount's Early Action program is non-binding.
- Fall freshman applicants (Regular Decision): Decisions for candidates considered under the Regular Decision program (applications submitted after November 1 and before January 15) will be sent on a rolling basis, and no later than April 1.
- Fall semester transfer applicants (Early Action): Decisions will be announced no later than March 15.
- Fall semester regular decision transfer applicants and all Spring semester candidates: Notification of acceptance will be sent on a rolling basis.

A final transcript is required as verification that all work in progress has been completed with a GPA equal to or greater than the student's overall grade point average at the time of acceptance. In the event that the final semester of work does not meet required criteria, acceptance may be rescinded.

Academic Scholarships

Each year the Loyola Marymount Scholarship Committee offers academic scholarships to the most accomplished candidates for freshman admission. These scholarships are renewable for four years and are not based on financial need.

The Arrupe Scholarship, named for Fr. Pedro Arrupe, S.J., the former Superior General of the Society of Jesus (the Jesuits), carries a minimum value of $12,500 per year. Selection is based on outstanding GPA and SAT I/ACT scores, with supplemental consideration to leadership potential and school or community service and involvement.

From among the Arrupe Scholars, the Scholarship Committee further selects a very limited number of students for additional scholarship consideration. These students—no more than 10% of all Arrupe Scholars—will be invited to participate in Presidential Preview Weekend in late February, which offers a special opportunity to see the campus and to interview for the Presidential and Trustee Scholarships (see the Financial Aid section of the Bulletin for more information on these scholarships).

While there are no absolute criteria for Arrupe Scholarships, to be considered, students selected must generally present a GPA of at least 3.5 (unweighted) and an SAT I score of 1300 (Critical Reading and Math) or an ACT of 29 or better. All students meeting the January 15 Regular Decision deadline will be eligible for selection as an Arrupe Scholar. Superior students are encouraged to apply under the Early Action program to ensure full consideration for Presidential and Trustee Scholarships.

In addition to the Arrupe, Presidential, and Trustee Scholarships, qualified applicants may be selected to receive the LMU Scholarship or LMU Achievement Awards. Further information may be found at <http://financialaid.lmu.edu/prospective/scholarships>.

Commitment Deposit

Accepted students intending to enroll are required to submit a nonrefundable $250 commitment deposit to secure their seat in the class.

The commitment deposit is held by the University and is non-refundable. The commitment deposit may be applied at the discretion of the University against any delinquent and unpaid debts. This deposit is payable from the student's own resources. It will neither be deducted from any financial aid awards nor billed as part of tuition and fees.

If the commitment deposit is not received within the stated time, the acceptance for admission may be canceled.

Housing

First-time freshmen entering in the Fall term are guaranteed University housing, provided their commitment deposit and housing request are received electronically or postmarked no later than May 1 for Fall admission.

Fall term transfer students and any student entering in the Spring term are not guaranteed housing. Instead, they are offered accommodations on a space-available basis. Their housing requests will be processed on a first-come, first-served basis as they make their commitment deposits and return all requested Housing information.

Admission of Transfer Students

Each semester the University considers students for transfer, provided they are in good standing and not under academic or disciplinary probation or suspension from the last school attended. Please see the paragraph on Admission Procedure above for general admission requirements. The priority dates for transfer applications for fall admission are February 1 (Early Action) and March 15 (regular decision); for Spring admission, the priority date is October 15. Transfer students are considered for admission as follows:

Students who would have been acceptable for admission as freshmen to Loyola Marymount University at the time of their graduation from high school will be considered for transfer standing if they have at least a 3.00 cumulative average for all previous college work and at least a 3.00 average for the most recent college work attempted prior to admission.

Students who, for academic reasons, were not acceptable for admission as freshmen at the time of their graduation from high school will be considered for transfer standing if they have completed at least the equivalent of 30 semester hours of transferable college work with at least a 3.00 cumulative average and at least a 3.00 average for the most recent college work attempted prior to admission.

Admission of transfer students is selective and subject to available space and enrollment limitations. The minimum transfer GPA of 3.00 may not always be sufficient to secure admission. Likewise, certain majors require that some prerequisites be completed prior to transferring.

The College of Business Administration explains its transfer policy in its section of the Bulletin.

Transfer admission to Film and Television Production and Recording Arts in the School of Film and Television is limited and restricted to students with freshman or sophomore standing. Students with more than 60 transferable units are not eligible for admission to these programs.

Credit for work completed at institutions accredited by one of the six regional associations of the Accrediting Commission for Senior Colleges and Universities, other than course work identified by such institutions as remedial or in other ways as being nontransferable, will be accepted toward the satisfaction of baccalaureate degree and credential requirements at the University within limitations of residence requirements. Courses with grades below C (2.0) do not transfer. A maximum of 60 semester hours from two-year colleges are transferable to the degree program of the University.

Policies regarding transfer credit for a particular degree may vary slightly among the individual colleges, depending upon degree requirements. In general, courses having comparable content and class level with those in the LMU curriculum will transfer.

Admission of International Students

International students should follow the same admission procedures and priority dates outlined above. International students are admitted as degree-seeking students only.

Further, international students are cautioned to comply with the following additional guidelines to ensure compliance with immigration authorities and avoid delay in the processing of the applications:

1. Take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) given by the Educational Testing Service and arrange for scores to be sent to the Director of Admission. Information about this test may be obtained from: Test of English as a Foreign Language, P.O. Box 6151, Princeton, NJ 08541-6151 or at <http://www.ets.org/toefl>. The University's minimum standard for undergraduate admission is 550 (paper-based TOEFL), 213 (computer-based TOEFL), or 80 (Internet-based TOEFL). As an alternative to taking the TOEFL, non-native English speakers may also take the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) which is jointly managed by British Council, IDP: IELTS Australia and the University of Cambridge ESOL Examinations (Cambridge ESOL). Information about this test may be obtained from: <http://www.ielts.org>. The University's minimum standard for undergraduate admission is 6.5.
2. Submit a statement of financial responsibility for all obligations covering the full period of time for which the student is making application.
3. Submit official transcripts of previous academic training. Documents must be sent from the originating sources directly to the Admission Office and must cover all secondary schools attended and, if college study was attempted, all colleges and universities attended. Documents should include results of standard examinations administered by government or certifying agencies.

Photostatic copies are acceptable only if they are notarized as true copies and bear the original seal of the notarizing authority. All documents submitted for admission become property of the University and will not be returned.

The United States Department of Justice Immigration and Naturalization Form (I-20) will be sent after the $250 non-refundable Commitment Deposit has been received by the Office of Admission.

Non-Degree Students

Students wishing to take courses at the University on a non-degree basis must file an application with the Office of Admission in accordance with regularly stated deadlines. Proof of eligibility to study at the University will be required, including transcripts or other appropriate documents.

Non-degree students will be allowed to study for a period of no more than three semesters or a total of 18 semester hours, whichever occurs first.

Advanced Placement

LMU participates in the Advanced Placement Program of the College Board. Students may be granted credit at the time of entrance into the University for subjects in which they have completed the AP examinations with minimum score of 4. When official scores have been received from the College Board, applicants will be notified of the advanced placement and course credit in accordance with the following table.

Note that an essay is required for all examinations offering optional essays.

Visual Arts: Option B Higher Level	5	6	No specific course

Note: Students studying for the Bachelor of Arts in Liberal Studies do not follow the regular University Core pattern.

* IB credit does not count for most graduate Health Professions and Dental schools. Students intending to pursue pre-medical studies should fulfill major requirements at LMU.

Graduate Admission

Master's Degree and Credential

Loyola Marymount University welcomes applications from students without regard to race, color, gender, creed, national origin, disability, marital status, or religion. All prospective graduate students are expected to provide evidence of suitable preparation for graduate-level work. U.S. applicants should have received a bachelor's degree from a college or university that has been accredited as a degree granting institution by one of the accrediting bodies recognized by the Commission on Recognition of Postsecondary Accreditation (CORPA). The bachelor's degree must have been awarded by the institution where final coursework was completed. For School of Education applicants, the bachelor's degree must be awarded from a regionally accredited college or university.

All applicants for a Master's degree and for a California Credential must supply the following admission materials:

1) Application for admission plus the application fee ($50.00) and 2) two official transcripts of all schools attended since high school. Most programs require additional materials, including standardized test scores, a personal statement, and letters of recommendation. Further details on the admission procedure, application deadlines, and departmental prerequisites are given in the section dealing with the respective programs. A student who wishes to apply for admission to a program after the closing date for applications should contact the program director for permission to file an application.

Additional Admission Requirements for International Students

1. International applicants who have completed their postsecondary education from a college or university outside of the U.S. must hold a degree from a university recognized by the Ministry of Education as a degree granting institution in the country where the institution is located. All international applicants must have their transcripts translated and evaluated by a U.S. transcript evaluation service before the application is considered for admission. For applicants to the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering, School of Education, School of Film and Television, and Marital and Family Therapy program, a detailed transcript evaluation identifying GPA must be submitted with the application.

2. All applicants (including those who received their bachelor's degree from a U.S. college or university) must take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) unless they received a high school diploma in the United States.

Exceptions to this rule may be made on a case by case basis for students from countries where English is one of several official languages, as well as at the discretion of the program director. The minimum score for admission into most graduate programs is 100 Internet-based, except for the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering, which requires a minimum score of 79. For information regarding the TOEFL, please write to: Test of English as a Foreign Language, Box 899, Princeton, New Jersey, U.S.A., 08540. If after admission to a graduate program the applicant's proficiency in English should prove inadequate, the University reserves the right to require additional proficiency in English and failure to comply will result in disqualification from the graduate program.

3. The applicant must also file with the University a certified statement showing financial ability to cover all obligations for the full period of time for which the student is making application. This statement should be from either a United States bank or agency or an international bank. The United States Department of Immigration and Naturalization Form I-20 Certificate of Eligibility will not be issued by the University until such documentation is on file in the Graduate Studies Office.

Tuition, books, etc., plus living expenses amount to between $25,000 and $40,000 a year or more depending on the program selected.

4. The applicant must comply with passport and visa requirements as set down by the United States Immigration Service.

International students must be continuously enrolled during the academic year to meet visa requirements.

5. All admission requirements should be received ninety days prior to the term for which application is being made.

6. An international student cannot be issued an I-20 Certificate of Eligibility as a non-degree graduate student.

Non-Degree Status

Students who are not pursuing a formal graduate program but who are eligible to take graduate-level courses at LMU may apply for non-degree status. In addition to filing the Application for Non-Degree Graduate Status plus the application fee ($10.00), students should attach official copies of transcripts to verify receipt of a degree and that all prerequisites have been met. The Graduate Division reserves the right to request additional transcripts when necessary.

Reapplication Procedures for a Second Degree

A student who has completed one Master's or credential program and wishes to enter another must file a formal application form with the Graduate Studies Office. A student who has completed a credential program at LMU and wishes to apply for a Master's program must file a formal application form with the Graduate Studies Office. If the application is submitted within one year of completion of the master's or credential, the normal application fee is waived.

Readmission

A student wishing to return to the University after two years in which he or she was not enrolled must reapply for admission through the Graduate Studies Office and will be evaluated on the same conditions as all other new students.

Admission Status

Students may be admitted to the Graduate Division under the following categories:

1. Formal Admission—Formally admitted students are those who have completed the entire application process and have been reviewed and accepted by a particular program with no conditions and provisions.
2. Provisional Admission—Provisionally admitted students are those who are missing one or more items or prerequisite courses.
3. Controlled Admission—Students on Controlled Admission are required to achieve some specific needs of their particular program.
4. Non-Degree Admission—Students admitted under non-degree status are not pursuing a formal graduate program but are eligible (as determined by the director of the graduate program) to take graduate-level courses at LMU.

Immunization Record for Graduate Students

New graduate students entering the University who were born after 1956 are required to return a completed Immunization Record to the Student Health Center. All new students entering the University must show results of a Tuberculin Skin Test given within the last year. ALL immunizations must be current and physician-verified. Students with incomplete forms will have their registration withheld for the following semester until the completed Immunization Record has been received by the Student Health Center.

In addition, all international students must submit their immunization records to the Student Health Center. Students with incomplete forms will have their registration withheld for the following semester until the completed form has been received by the Student Health Center.

FINANCIAL AID

Undergraduate Financial Aid

The mission of Loyola Marymount University's Financial Aid Office is to provide students access to financial resources to assist them in achieving their educational goals. The Financial Aid Office administers federal, state, institutional, and private financial aid programs to help students meet the educational costs to attend Loyola Marymount University.

The Financial Aid Office, located in the Von der Ahe Building, welcomes visitors from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. The telephone number is 310.338.2753, and the fax number is 310.338.2793. Visit the Financial Aid Office website at <http://financialaid.lmu.edu> for the most current information on financial assistance.

Application Procedures

Entering Freshmen and Transfer students:

Students can apply for financial aid by completing the required forms prior to being formally admitted:

1. The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), available at <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov>.
2. California residents only: applications for the Cal Grant must complete the FAFSA and complete Cal Grant GPA Verification Form by the deadline established by the California Student Aid Commission at www.calgrants.org.

Visit the financial aid website at <http://www.lmu.edu/financialaid> for current year application and program deadlines.

Continuing Undergraduates:

LMU requires all continuing undergraduates who have received aid in a prior year at LMU to complete the following:

1. The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) at <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov>.
2. The LMU Undergraduate Application, which is posted as a missing requirement on a student's MYLMU PROWL account after the FAFSA has been completed. The LMU Application is not required to receive federal or state aid; however, it is required to receive LMU-funded financial aid.

Visit the financial aid website at <http://www.lmu.edu/financialaid> for current year application and program deadlines.

General Eligibility

To receive financial aid:

Students must be enrolled in a degree program at Loyola Marymount University. Students working towards a second Bachelor's degree are only eligible for the Federal Subsidized and Unsubsidized Stafford loan programs.

Students must have received a high school diploma or a General Education Development (GED) certificate, or must have passed an independently administered test approved by the U.S. Department of Education, or meet other state standards approved by the U.S. Department of Education.

Students must be enrolled full-time to be eligible for most University-funded financial aid programs. Eligibility for federal and California state grant programs require at least half-time enrollment. Students who enroll less than half-time are generally only eligible for the Federal Pell Grant.

Students must be U.S. citizens, permanent residents, or other eligible non-citizens and meet other program eligibility requirements to be eligible for federal, state, and institutionally-funded financial aid programs. Limited scholarships and assistantships are available for international students.

Students must not owe a refund from any federal grant or loan or be in default on any federal loan.

Students required to register with Selective Service must register.

Financial Aid Communications

The Financial Aid Office primarily communicates with students electronically. Students are notified of information regarding their aid application via e-mail and MYLMU, LMU's online portal which provides access to various campus systems.

Maintaining Eligibility for Financial Aid

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)

To be eligible for federal, state, and University financial aid programs, students are required to make satisfactory academic progress.

These standards are separate and distinct from the University's Academic Degree Requirements and Policies as stated in the University Bulletin.

These guidelines are in accordance with those required by federal regulations for recipients of federal grant, work, and loan programs, including the Federal Direct Parent (PLUS) Loan. These standards also apply to state aid or state-funded financial aid programs in accordance with the State of California.

Recipients of LMU tuition benefits who are not receiving any other federal, state, or University funds are not bound by these guidelines. Undergraduate students must:

Undergraduate students must:

- Maintain a minimum semester and cumulative grade point average of 2.00
- If enrolled full-time, complete 67% of attempted hours.

Note: Recipients of Merit scholarships are required to maintain the minimum grade point average stated in their academic scholarship award letter.

- Not exceed the maximum timeframe to complete an undergraduate degree, 150% of the required semester hours (120) = 180 semester hours.

Grades

Grades of F, NC, AU, and W do not count in calculating the minimum grade point average. Grades of I (Incomplete) or IP temporarily will not be counted until the final grade is posted. Students must comply with the requirements to convert an incomplete to a permanent grade according to the requirements as stated in the University Bulletin.

Withdrawals

Students who withdraw from all coursework or take a leave of absence and later enroll in a subsequent term retain the SAP status held during their last term of enrollment.

Transfer Student Course Evaluation

Transfer students are evaluated based on the number of units accepted at admission to determine their maximum time frame to receive financial aid.

Repeat Coursework

A student who receives federal financial aid (Title IV funds) must follow Repeat Coursework rules in order to be considered as meeting enrollment requirements for financial aid eligibility and satisfactory academic progress. The federal regulations are listed below:

- A student may repeat a previously passed course once.
- A student may repeat a failed course until the student passes the course.
- A student, who passes a course but does not meet the grade requirement established by the college or school, may only repeat the course one time.
- A student who earns a passing grade in a course and chooses to retake the course a second time earning a grade of "F" or "W" may not take the course a third time and that course be considered as enrollment of federal financial aid programs.

- A student may repeat a course as an independent study, special topics, film genre, etc., as long as the subject matter is different for each course and the institution awards new credit each time.

Maximum Time Frame to Complete Degree

Students must complete their degree within 150% of the published credit hours required to graduate. For example, an undergraduate student in a program requiring 120 semester hours to complete must meet all graduation requirements by 180 semester hours.

Important: The maximum time-frame to complete degree requirements does not override institutional, federal or state financial aid programs that have a maximum period of eligibility. For example, LMU funded aid programs as well as the Cal Grant are available for a maximum of eight semesters. Students should refer to the Academic Degree Requirements and Policies section of the University Bulletin for information on the recommended course load required to complete their degree requirements in eight semesters (4 years).

Satisfactory Academic Progress Review Process

All students receiving financial aid are reviewed for satisfactory academic progress at the end of each term of enrollment.

SAP Warning

Students enrolled for the summer are reviewed after the end of the second summer session. Students failing to meet these requirements for the first time receive a "SAP Warning" Notice. Students are eligible for financial aid for their next term of enrollment while on Warning status.

Financial Aid Probation

A student who has received a "SAP Warning" and does not meet the minimum requirements after their next term of enrollment is not eligible to receive financial aid. The student may submit a Satisfactory Academic Progress Appeal to the Financial Aid Office. This appeal must detail why the student was unable to meet minimum satisfactory academic progress requirements and the steps being taken to meet the minimum requirements and regain eligibility. If the appeal is approved the student is placed on Financial Aid Probation for one term. Students who cannot meet the minimum requirements within one term are encouraged to meet with an academic advisor to prepare an academic contract which outlines the terms and period that will allow the student to meet the minimum requirements.

Withdrawals—Impact on Financial Aid

Students who withdraw from all coursework will have their tuition charges adjusted based on their date of withdrawal. Current information on University tuition refund policies is available at <http://www.lmu.edu>.

Housing and University meal plans will be adjusted according to the terms set by the housing office and meal plan contracts. Students should contact the Student Housing Office and Student Accounts for specific refund information.

Students receiving financial aid who decide to withdraw from all coursework during a term are required to notify the Office of the Registrar and the Financial Aid Office. Federal financial aid will be adjusted according to federal regulations known as "Return of Title IV Aid."

University- and state-funded programs will be adjusted according to University and state policies.

Unofficial Withdrawal

Students who do not receive a passing grade in any coursework, i.e., all F's or combination of F's and W's may be required to return all or a portion of their financial aid if it is determined that the student stopped attending without notifying the University. Official documentation will be requested to determine when the student last participated in an academically related activity and financial aid will be returned according to federal, state and institutional policies. This may result in the student owing a balance to the University.

For detailed information on how financial aid is adjusted based on withdrawal, visit <http://www.lmu.edu/financialaid>.

Financial Aid: Fraud

Any fraudulent use of financial aid funds is cause for immediate suspension or dismissal, as well as discontinuance of future financial aid. This includes, but is not limited to, fraudulent statements on Financial Aid forms, inaccurate tax returns, and student time cards for both hours worked and signatures obtained.

Programs of Assistance for Undergraduates

Academic Scholarships for First Time Freshmen

Loyola Marymount University offers a wide range of academic scholarship programs to recognize and reward the scholastic accomplishments of our most distinguished entering freshmen. Scholarship selection is coordinated by the Office of Undergraduate Admission, in consultation with LMU's faculty and administration. Detailed information on these programs is available on the Financial Aid Office website at <http://www.lmu.edu/financialaid>.

Receipt of an Academic Scholarship does not preclude consideration from financial aid awarded by the Financial Aid Office but must be coordinated according to federal, state, and University policies.

Grants

LMU Grants are merit/need-based grants awarded to students who meet all federal and University eligibility requirements. Students must complete the FAFSA to apply, meet LMU's priority funding deadlines, and comply with all requests for additional documentation to be considered.

The Federal Pell Grant program is a federal aid program designed to provide financial assistance to eligible students for postsecondary studies. The amount of the Pell Grant is determined based on the financial resources of the student and parents.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG) program is designed to assist those students who would not otherwise be financially able to pursue an undergraduate course of study. The amount of the grant is determined by reviewing the student's financial resources and also the resources of the parents. The amount of the award varies based on the student's Pell Grant and, like other grants, does not have to be repaid.

Cal Grants are administered by the California Student Aid Commission. All undergraduates who are residents of California are encouraged to apply. Cal Grants can be applied towards tuition and fees. For detailed information on Cal Grants, visit <http://www.calgrants.org>.

Scholarships

There are additional scholarships available to LMU students. Most scholarships are awarded by the Financial Aid Office and do not require that students complete a special application. Scholarships that require a separate application are provided at <http://www.lmu.edu/financialaid>.

Student Employment

The Federal Work Study program is another source of employment for students who qualify based on financial need. This program is funded jointly by the Federal Government and the University. It is designed to create jobs for students at the University, such as library researchers, teaching assistants, laboratory technicians, intramural referees, team managers, etc. Under the Work Study Program, most students will be awarded funds to average 12–15 hours per week during the term. Students are hired for part-time positions for the entire academic year, and they may earn up to the amount listed on their current financial aid award letter.

Loyola Work is a University-funded non-need work program. Funding for this program is limited and may not be awarded to those students who do not meet LMU priority funding deadlines.

The Student Worker program is an employment program designed to give students the opportunity to earn a majority of their education expenses by working on campus. The Student Worker Organization is an autonomous group that is primarily student-directed and operated. Selected students must live on campus. Jobs include maintenance, recycling, and clerical and miscellaneous tasks for departments on campus. More information on this program is available at <http://www.studentaffairs.lmu.edu/activitieservice/studentleadershipdevelopment/studentworkerprogram>.

The Career Services Office provides employment assistance to the students of Loyola Marymount University including part-time jobs ranging from 10 to 20 hours a week, part-time/full-time seasonal work during the Christmas and summer vacations, temporary jobs on an hourly basis, and tutoring positions within the student's major field of study. These services are for all students regardless of their financial need. They are primarily off-campus positions.

Loans

All federal loans require that the student complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and comply with any requests for additional information.

Federal Perkins Loan is a low-interest loan for students based on need. Repayment begins nine months after the student has ceased to be enrolled at least half-time.

Federal Subsidized and Unsubsidized Direct Stafford Loans are a low-interest federal loan for students.

The Federal Direct Parent (PLUS) Loan is a low-interest federal loan made to creditworthy parents.

LMU Institutional Loans are low interest loans offered to students from private funds provided to the University.

Private (Alternative) Loans are loans certified for creditworthy students who complete the application process with a lender of their choice. Alternative loan counseling with the Financial Aid Office is also required.

For information on loan terms and the application process for these loan programs, visit <http://www.lmu.edu/financialaid>.

Graduate Financial Aid

The mission of Loyola Marymount University's Financial Aid Office is to provide students access to financial resources to assist them in achieving their educational goals. The Financial Aid Office administers federal, state, and private awards as well as institutional awards that are selected in conjunction with the Graduate Studies Office.

General Eligibility

Students must be U.S. Citizens, permanent residents, or other eligible non-citizens to be eligible for federal, state, and institutionally-funded financial aid programs and meet other eligibility requirements. Limited scholarships and assistantships are available for international students.

Students must be enrolled in a Doctoral, Master's, Credential, or eligible Certificate Program as degree-seeking students at Loyola Marymount University to receive financial aid administered by the Financial Aid Office.

Provisional and Controlled admitted students must submit the necessary requirements of their particular program as specified by the Graduate Studies Office to receive federal or state financial aid.

A graduate student is eligible to receive federal and/or state financial aid if enrolled at least half-time in graduate level coursework as determined by his/her program level. Only courses numbered in the 500s, 600s, 6000s, and 7000s are considered graduate level.

Master's Degree and Doctoral Students not Completing Dissertation

Fall Semester, Spring Semester, and Summer Sessions (combined):
Full-Time: 6+ semester hours
Half-Time: 5–3 semester hours
Less Than Half-Time: 2–0 semester hours

Non-Degree Credential (Credential Only)

Fall Semester and Spring Semester:
Full-Time: 12+ semester hours
Half-Time: 6–11 semester hours
Less Than Half-Time: 5–0 semester hours

Pre-Medical Post-Baccalaureate Program

Fall Semester and Spring Semester:
Full-Time: 12+ semester hours
Half-Time: 6–11 semester hours
Less Than Half-Time: 5–0 semester hours

Summer Sessions (combined):
Full-Time: 6+ semester hours
Half-Time: 5–3 semester hours
Less Than Half-Time: 2–0 semester hours

Doctoral Students Completing Dissertation

Fall Semester, Spring Semester, and Summer Sessions (combined):
Full-Time: 2 semester hours

Students must not owe a refund from any federal grant or loan or be in default on any federal loan.

Application Procedures

Grants and Scholarships

All students, including International students, interested in Loyola Marymount University grants, scholarships, or assistantships offered through the Graduate Studies Office, are encouraged to apply by submitting the appropriate application. For additional information pertaining to grants, scholarships, or assistantships, please contact your department.

Federal and State Aid

U.S. Citizens, permanent residents, and eligible non-citizens who are interested in participating in federal and/or state aid programs offered through the Financial Aid Office should visit us online at <http://financialaid.lmu.edu> for application information, office hours, contact information, and to review the Frequently Asked Questions.

Financial Aid Communications

Communications from the Financial Aid Office will be primarily electronic in form. The LMU student Lion e-mail account, PROWL, and MYLMU messaging are our primary means of communicating important financial aid information.

- MYLMU (<https://my.lmu.edu>)
MYLMU provides students with access to various campus systems, e-mail, registration, billing, forms, and communications. MYLMU is accessed by a user name and a password that are automatically generated upon acceptance to LMU. For assistance logging into MYLMU, contact the ITS Help Desk at 310.338.7777.
- PROWL (<http://www.lmu.edu/prowl>)
PROWL is our online student financial aid resource. Using PROWL, students can view their application status, requests for additional information/documentation from the Financial Aid Office, important messages, and their Financial Aid Award.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) and Financial Aid Probation

To be eligible for federal, state, and University financial aid programs, students are required to make satisfactory academic progress. These standards are separate and distinct from the University's Academic Degree Requirements and Policies as stated in the University Bulletin.

These guidelines are in accordance with those required by federal regulations for recipients of federal grant, work, and loan programs. These standards also apply to state aid or state-funded financial aid programs in accordance with the State of California.

Recipients of LMU tuition benefits who are not receiving any other federal, state, or University funds are not bound by these guidelines.

Graduate students must:

- Maintain a minimum semester and cumulative grade point average of 3.00
- If enrolled full-time, complete a minimum of three (3) semester hours per semester
- Not exceed the five (5) year maximum timeframe to complete a graduate degree.

Grades

Grades of F, NC, AU, and W do not count in calculating the minimum grade point average. Grades of I (Incomplete) or IP temporarily will not be counted until the final grade is posted. Students must comply with the requirements to convert an incomplete to a permanent grade according to the requirements as stated in the University Bulletin.

Withdrawals

Students who withdraw from all coursework or take a leave of absence and later enroll in a subsequent term retain the SAP status held during their last term of enrollment.

Repeat Coursework

A student who receives federal financial aid (Title IV funds) must follow Repeat Coursework rules in order to be considered as meeting enrollment requirements for financial aid eligibility and satisfactory academic progress. The federal regulations are listed below:

- A student may repeat a previously passed course once.
- A student may repeat a failed course until the student passes the course.
- A student who passes a course but does not meet the grade requirement established by the college or school may only repeat the course one time.
- A student who earns a passing grade in a course and chooses to retake the course a second time earning a grade of "F" or "W" may not take the course a third time.
- A student may repeat a course as an independent study, special topics, film genre, etc., as long as the subject matter is different for each course and the institution awards new credit each time.

Maximum Timeframe to Complete Program

The normal time allowed for the completion of graduate degree programs is five (5) years. A student who has not completed the degree within five (5) years must request an extension of time. If the extension is granted by the Program Director or Dean of the student's college or school, the student may be required to undertake additional coursework. Some departments have a shorter limit for the completion of the program. A minimum of 30 graduate semester hours (500 and 600 level) and a minimum of 3.0 ("B") cumulative grade point average are necessary to qualify for completion of a program. See individual program descriptions for specific and additional graduation requirements.

Important: The maximum timeframe to complete degree requirements does not override institutional, federal or state financial aid programs that have a maximum period of eligibility. For example, Cal Grant TCP is available for a maximum of one (1) year.

Students should refer to the Academic Degree Requirements and Policies section of the University Bulletin for information on the recommended course load required to complete their degree requirements in five (5) years.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Review Process

All students receiving financial aid are reviewed for satisfactory academic progress at the end of each term of enrollment.

SAP Warning

Students enrolled for the summer are reviewed after the end of the second summer session. Students failing to meet these requirements for the first time receive a "SAP Warning" notice. Students are eligible for financial aid for their next term of enrollment while on Warning status.

Financial Aid Probation

If the student does not meet the minimum requirements after his or her next term of enrollment, he or she is not eligible to receive financial aid. Students may submit a Satisfactory Academic Progress Appeal to the Financial Aid Office. This appeal must detail why the student was unable to meet minimum satisfactory academic progress requirements and the steps being taken to meet the minimum requirements and regain eligibility. If the appeal is approved, the student is placed on Financial Aid Probation for one term. Students who cannot meet the minimum requirements within one (1) term are encouraged to meet with an academic advisor to prepare an academic contract which outlines the terms and period that will allow the student to meet the minimum requirements.

Withdrawal Calculations

When students receiving financial aid are eligible for a refund or a cancelation of LMU charges, their financial aid funding will also be adjusted. A refund is calculated when a student withdraws from the University, drops out, takes an unapproved leave of absence that will exceed 60 days, is expelled or otherwise does not complete the period of enrollment for which he or she was charged. The financial aid award will be recalculated based on federal refund requirements, and the Controller's Office will be notified. Any resulting charge will be added to the student's account. Any resulting refund, due to a federal financial aid program will be made by LMU for the student.

Fraud

Any fraudulent use of financial aid funds is cause for immediate suspension or dismissal and criminal prosecution, as well as discontinuance of future financial aid. This includes, but is not limited to, fraudulent statements on financial aid forms or submitted documentation, inaccurate tax returns, and student time cards for both hours worked and signatures obtained.

Programs of Assistance for Graduate Students

LMU Graduate Studies Office

Please visit us on the web at <http://www.lmu.edu/gradfinancialaid> to explore the various scholarship, employment, and loan opportunities available for graduate students at LMU through the Graduate Studies Office.

Scholarships

Departmental Graduate Scholarships

Each graduate program at LMU awards its own departmental scholarships based on financial need and merit. Applications are available online at <http://financialaid.lmu.edu>.

Some departments may require that students complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and LMU Application, in addition to the department's Graduate Scholarship Application, in order to be considered. Information on how to complete the FAFSA and the LMU Application can be found online at <http://financialaid.lmu.edu>.

Inquiries about the application and/or selection process should be directed to a program's Graduate Director.

Catholic Teacher/Ministry Fund

Students who work full-time as Catholic school teachers, administrators, or parish administrators are eligible to apply. Students must submit their department's Graduate Scholarship Application with proof of employment attached (e.g., last pay stub, letter from your supervisor on official letterhead) in order to be considered. Additional instructions can be found online at <http://financialaid.lmu.edu>.

Contact the Director of your program if you have questions about the application and/or selection process.

Endowed and Donated Scholarships

Some programs have additional scholarships available. Consult the Director of your program for information about additional scholarships and the application process.

Developing Countries Scholarships

Catholic clergy or members of Catholic religious communities from developing countries may apply for full tuition assistance in order to obtain one (1) master's or doctoral degree in any field of study at LMU. Interested applicants should submit a copy of their R-1 visa to the Graduate Studies Office, along with a one (1) page statement of intent. Please contact the Graduate Studies Office at 310.338.2721 or graduatescholarship@lmu.edu for more information on how to apply for this scholarship.

Religious Scholarships

Catholic Clergy or members of Catholic religious communities are eligible to receive a scholarship equal to 25% of their total tuition costs. Please contact the Graduate Studies Office at 310.338.2721 or graduatescholarship@lmu.edu for more information on how to apply for a Religious Scholarship.

Student Employment

Program assistantships are available through individual programs on a competitive basis. Consult the Director of your program for information about available assistantships.

There are also jobs on campus for which graduate students may apply. Visit us on the web at <http://financialaid.lmu.edu> for application information, or contact the Graduate Studies Office at 310.338.2721 directly for more information.

LMU Financial Aid Office

The Financial Aid Office at LMU administers federal, state, and private financial aid programs. Additional information can be found online at <http://financialaid.lmu.edu>.

State Grants

Cal Grant +TCP

Students who received a Cal Grant A or B as an undergraduate and begin an Elementary or Secondary teaching program within 15 months of their last Cal Grant payment, may apply to renew their Cal Grant for one (1) additional year. School of Education students participating in a specialized cohort program who receive a Cal Grant A or B extension will be awarded Cal Grant first, not to exceed their specialized cohort's total scholarship commitment. Complete a G-44 renewal form available at <http://www.calgrants.org>.

Federal Student Employment

Federal Work-Study

LMU employs students each year to work on campus in a variety of jobs. To receive Federal Work-Study, you must complete the FAFSA and meet financial need and eligibility requirements. Funding to hire students is limited, and eligible students are awarded upon request as funding permits.

Federal Direct Loan Programs

Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loans

All students who complete the FAFSA and meet federal eligibility requirements will be offered an Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford loan. This means that the borrower is responsible for the interest from the time the loan is disbursed. While enrolled at least half-time, a borrower may defer interest payments and capitalize the interest.

Federal Direct Graduate and Professional Student PLUS Loan

The Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loan is designed to help bridge the gap between the financial aid a student is awarded and the cost of attendance. In order to apply for the Grad PLUS Loan, borrowers must complete the FAFSA and be creditworthy. Students may borrow up to the LMU standard cost of attendance, minus all other financial aid a student has received.

Reminder: A graduate student must be enrolled at least half-time, as determined by his/her program level, in order to receive federal financial aid. Students may not borrow in excess of the annual Federal Direct Stafford Loan borrowing limits as determined by the federal government.

For information on loan terms and the application process for these loan programs, visit <http://financialaid.lmu.edu>.

For more details on all federal loan programs visit the Federal Student Aid Web site at <http://www.studentaid.ed.gov>.

Private (Alternative) Loan Programs

Private loans are educational loans available from the private sector. The interest rate on these loans varies by lender, and eligibility is based on creditworthiness of the student or student's co-borrower. Eligible students are encouraged to apply for all federal and institutional financial aid programs including the Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loan, before considering a private educational loan. The maximum a student may borrow in a private loan is LMU's standard cost of attendance, minus all other financial aid a student has received.

All students interested in borrowing a private loan must meet with a Financial Aid Counselor to complete Alternative Loan Counseling.

For more information regarding the loans available to graduate students at LMU, please visit the Financial Aid Office online at <http://financialaid.lmu.edu>.

Federal and State Teacher Loan Forgiveness Programs

Federal Perkins Loan Cancellation

Borrowers may qualify for cancellation (discharge) of up to 100% of a Federal Perkins Loan if they have served full-time in a public or nonprofit elementary or secondary school system as a

- Teacher in a school serving students from low-income families; or
- Special-education teacher, including teachers of infants, toddlers, children, or youth with disabilities; or
- Teacher in the fields of mathematics, science, foreign languages, or bilingual education, or in any other field of expertise determined by a state education agency to have a shortage of qualified teachers in that state.

For more information or to obtain an application, contact the office that administers the Federal Perkins Loan program at the school that holds your loan.

Teacher Loan Forgiveness (TLF)

TLF is a federal program to assist teachers in repayment of Federal Stafford and Direct Loans. Eligible loan borrowers must have been employed as teachers for five years in a qualified teaching service area. For more information, visit <http://studentaid.ed.gov>.

AmeriCorps Education Award

Students who participate in the AmeriCorps service program must request their Americorps Education Award payment online at <http://my.americorps.gov>. The Education Award will be electronically transferred to their student account at LMU, 7–10 business days from the date payment is requested.

TUITION AND FEES

The tuition charge supports the instructional program and general operating and administration of the University, such as ordinary health services, various counseling services, lectures, intercollegiate athletic events, and the library. Tuition is charged based on primary curricula.

Other fees may exist that are not listed within each heading. Fees are subject to change without notice. Generally, fees are indicated based on enrolled status. The University reserves the right to change, delete, or add to this pricing schedule as deemed appropriate.

For further information, please contact the Controller's Office at 310.338.2711 or at studacct@lmu.edu.

Certain courses may also require mandatory laboratory fees. Check with departments.

Any unpaid fines or charges (such as parking, library, delinquent telephone charges, property damage) or any miscellaneous charges incurred by a student while in attendance at the University will be charged to the student's account. Certain fees deemed optional are required to obtain that good or service.

The tuition, fees, and other charges described above are good faith projections for the academic year. They are, however, subject to change from one academic term to the next as deemed necessary by the University in order to meet its financial commitments and to fulfill its role and mission.

There are other fees and charges unique to certain programs that are dependent upon a student's matriculation at the University. These fees or charges may be determined by contacting the University offices that administer those programs or activities in which the student intends to enroll or engage.

Estimate of Charges

Since each student may elect various services with associated charges, it is not possible to determine precisely all student charges before registration. However, the following schedule estimates the charges for one academic year for a typical freshman undergraduate resident exclusive of entertainment, injury insurance, or other personal costs. Your actual cost may vary.

Payment of Student Charges

To make a payment or enroll in a payment plan, please visit the Student Accounts Center accessible via MyLMU, PROWL, or through the Student Accounts website: <http://www.lmu.edu/StudentAccounts>. Tuition, fees, and board charges are payable by the semester.

Financial clearance is necessary and subject to Late Financial Fee after the deadline. Clearance may be obtained from the Office of Student Financial Services at the time of payment or by making arrangements for the payment plan described below.

Registration for classes may be canceled for any student whose payment for tuition or fees is returned unpaid from the bank or who has defaulted on payment arrangements.

Financial clearance cannot be granted, and registration will not be permitted, if a student's account is delinquent.

Failure to pay tuition and other outstanding debts will result in the withholding of the academic transcript. The student diploma will not be released until all debts are satisfied in full. Students are prohibited from future registrations due to delinquent accounts.

In the event of payment default of non-payment of charges, the account may be submitted to an external collection agency. The student is responsible for the expenses of collection, including, without limitation, reasonable attorney's fees and collection costs. Unpaid accounts are also reported to national credit bureaus.

Sickness Insurance

The annual Sickness Insurance fee of $1,660 (estimated) is mandatory for students who are taking 7 or more semester hours. Students may waive coverage by completing the online waiver at <http://www.aetnastudenthealth.com>, beginning July. Please visit the Student Accounts website at: <http://www.lmu.edu/StudentAccounts> for specific dates. Students entering for the first time or returning to the University during the Spring 2015 semester and taking 7 or more semester hours will be charged a prorated amount for the Spring semester unless a waiver form is submitted to the Controller's Office by the deadline listed on our website.

International (Visa) students must have sickness insurance coverage regardless of the number of semester hours in which they are enrolled.

Please refer to the Aetna Student Health brochure for additional major medical, dependent and spousal coverage.

(Accident Insurance is mandatory for all students registered for 7 or more semester hours and may not be waived.)

Payment Plan Options

Full Payment by Year

This payment plan is only available to undergraduate students and only those undergraduate students who would like to make one payment, in full, for the entire academic year including the Fall and Spring semesters. Payment in full must be received by the published payment deadlines.

Full Payment by Semester

This payment plan is a semester plan open to all students, undergraduate and graduate, who would like to make one payment, in full, for the entire semester minus any incoming financial aid. Students enrolling in this plan will need to pay in full prior to the start of each term by the published payment deadlines.

5 Month—Automatic Checking Deduction

This payment plan is a semester plan open to all students, undergraduate and graduate, who would like to make five monthly payments via automatic deduction from a checking/savings account. Automatic deductions are required for this payment plan. This plan is subject to a setup fee of $50.00 per semester, which will be charged once the student enrolls in the plan.

5 Month—Check Mailing

This payment plan is a semester plan option to all students, undergraduate and graduate, who would like make five monthly payments by mail, in-person at the Student Accounts Office, or online through the Student Account Center. This payment plan is subject to a setup fee of $150.00 per semester, which will be charged once the student enrolls in the plan.

Company Reimbursement

This plan is a semester payment plan for students whose company will reimburse them for partial or full cost of tuition and mandatory fees. A current company reimbursement authorization letter is required to be submitted in order to enroll in this plan and an enrollment fee of $150.00 will be charged for deferring payment until the end of the semester. The tuition and fee portion your company does not reimburse is due upon the submission of your authorization letter. The remaining balance is due and payable 30 days from the date semester grades are posted. If you leave employment of the sponsoring company, the balance is due and payable immediately. Sole Proprietor owner students are ineligible for this plan.

Third-Party Billing

This payment plan is a semester plan for students whose company pays for partial or full cost of tuition and mandatory fees. LMU bills the company directly for the portion of tuition and fees it will cover after the semester begins. A current voucher/authorization letter is required to be submitted in order to enroll in this plan. For monthly payment options for the uncovered portion of your tuition and fees, please contact the Student Accounts Office.

TFA and PLACE students have mandatory payment plan options in which they must enroll. Students should see their advisor or the Student Accounts Office for more information.

Certificate of Eligibility for Veterans

All expenses incurred by a veteran that have not been properly authorized by the Veterans Administration must be paid by the veteran. Therefore, it is the responsibility of every veteran to see that papers are in proper order at the time of the first and each subsequent registration. Also, all veterans who are receiving benefits for educational expenses are required to contact the Office of the Registrar.

The University is required by the Veterans Administration to report failure on the part of the student to complete 75% of the semester hours attempted in any given term. Benefits to a veteran who fails to complete 75% of the semester hours originally enrolled in may be suspended. Failures, withdrawals, and NCs are not recognized as making satisfactory progress.

Refunds/Cancellation

Refunds for tuition and/or housing are made only after a complete withdrawal or leave of absence from the University (dropping all courses) has been processed by the Office of the Registrar and, in the case of a resident student, also by the Housing Office. For resident students, if the official withdrawal dates from the Office of the Registrar and the Housing Office are different, the respective dates will be used for tuition or housing refunding purposes. See the accompanying table for the allowable refund percentage.

Meal plans are non-refundable. A student should complete the Withdrawal/Leave of Absence form in the Office of the Registrar and, if a resident student, the withdrawal form in the Housing Office.

The University strives to meet the expectations of its students and tries to act compassionately in a time of crisis that interrupts a student's semester studies so that she/he cannot or should not finish the semester. In an attempt to ease the cost of tuition, the refund policy is in place to allow for a sliding refund for those who withdraw from all courses in a given semester according to the following schedule. This policy applies to, but is not limited to, the following leave or withdrawal reasons: hospitalization, illness, moving out of the area, employment changes/relocation, and family-related emergencies.

No refund may be given for registered courses which a student did not attend and did not withdraw from within the full refund period. No refund or cancellation is granted to a student who withdraws from a portion of his/her program after the end of the 100% Drop/Add period. Consult the following refund schedule for the academic category corresponding to your enrollment and type of program.

Students, whether undergraduate, graduate, or non-degree, who have paid tuition by the semester hour are eligible for tuition refunds per semester hour, based on the published sliding scale. Full refunds for all other students are contingent upon withdrawal from all classes or from the University. The published sliding scale still applies to this type of refund.

The University's Federal Aid refund policy complies with the Higher Education Amendments Act.

Refund Payments

Refund credits are applied to the student's account. Refunds of credit balances will be made in accordance with Federal guidelines. Refunding of credit balances is subject to a holding period until verification that funds received have cleared the University's bank. Refund payments are issued in the name of the student unless written authorization from the student is received to the contrary.

Security Interest in Student Records

A student may not receive a diploma, certificate, transcript, or access to University records until all accounts, current or otherwise, have been settled in accordance with University and Agency requirements. Students with delinquent accounts will be prohibited from future registration until all balances are resolved to the University's satisfaction. Such documents and services will be retained by Loyola Marymount University as security for such obligations until they are satisfied.

If a student defaults on payment of a Federal Perkins Student Loan, a Federal Family Educational Loan, or an Institutional Loan, or if a student fails to satisfy exit interview requirements, a security interest in records and services will remain in effect until debts and requirements are satisfied. Unpaid accounts are reported to the three major credit reporting agencies. Exit interviews are administered through the Student Loan Office and the Financial Aid Office.

UNIVERSITY CORE CURRICULUM

- Philosophy and Goals of the Core Curriculum
- Core Learning Outcomes
- Developmental Pattern of the Core
- Summary of the Area Requirements of the University Core Curriculum

Philosophy and Goals of the Core Curriculum

The University Core reflects the values of its founding and partnering communities—the Society of Jesus (Jesuit), Religious of the Sacred Heart of Mary (Marymount), and the Sisters of St. Joseph of Orange (CSJ). Rooted in the traditional Jesuit emphasis on classics, philosophy, theology, the liberal arts, and faith that does justice, the Core also reflects the Marymount commitment to faith, culture, and the arts. Moreover, the CSJ work for unity and reconciliation pervades the Core's emphasis on integration. The Core encourages students to value learning, and to carry that love of learning into their future lives. Valuing learning has two key components: a distinctively Catholic, humanistic vision of intellectual inquiry as well as the cultivation of particular skills. Both are necessary for students to be thoughtful, critical, and engaged citizens of the world. The Core values and educates the whole person. The LMU University Core therefore emphasizes the formation of students as whole persons, integrated in thinking, feeling, and action. As such, the Core includes intellectual, creative/artistic, and moral development. The Core invites students to analyze their relationship with themselves, others, the world, and God. The Core serves faith by bringing students to a critical and appreciative understanding of religious traditions, and to see the search for God as intrinsic to the human condition. The Core recognizes LMU's special role in creating men and women who will be discerning and active members of diverse communities, local and global. The Core includes the study of ethical theories and moral development, in which students come to recognize the value of acting rightly and using knowledge mindfully in the promotion of justice.

Core Learning Outcomes

Through the LMU Core, students will know...

- Ideas concerning the origins and nature of existence—e.g., various accounts of human existence; the existence of God.
- The dominant arguments concerning what is just.
- The prevalent methodologies and traditions for approaching human knowledge.
- Theories and models of the physical world.
- The formative influences, dynamics, social impacts, and ethical consequences of scientific and technological development.
- The historical processes that have produced the modern world.
- The intertwined development of western and other world cultures, ideas, institutions, and religions.
- The diversity of human experiences, identities, and interpretations of social life within societies.
- The critical role that power, race, ethnicity, class, religion, gender, and sexuality play in determining social relations.
- The modes of creative expression used to explore and shape culture.

Through the LMU Core, students will be able to...

- Engage fundamental questions of faith and justice analytically, critically, and creatively.
- Identify, reflect upon, integrate, and apply different arguments to form independent judgments.
- Collect, interpret, evaluate, and use evidence to make arguments and produce knowledge.
- Apply knowledge and tools from various disciplines in order to identify and address intellectual, ethical, and practical problems of relevance to the contemporary world.
- Communicate ideas and arguments through clear writing and speech.
- Use quantitative reasoning skills to make informed, analytical decisions.

- Identify information needs, locate and access information, and critically evaluate sources.
- Collaborate intellectually and creatively with diverse people.
- Engage in the creative process and think critically about that process, its products, and its cultural traditions.
- Use imagination and informed intuition to ask questions and solve problems.

Through the LMU Core, students will value...

- Spirituality and intellectually informed service to a local and global community.
- The experiences, cultures, and traditions of diverse peoples of the world.
- The role of continuing intellectual and creative experience and growth in leading a full life.

Developmental Pattern of the Core

The Core moves from Foundations, to Explorations, to Integrations, carefully educating mindful women and men for others. Foundations courses introduce students to the intellectual life of LMU; guide them to confront important issues about values, faith, justice, race, gender, sexuality, and culture; and emphasize fundamental communication and reasoning skills. Exploration courses build on the skills and knowledge gained in the Foundations courses, refining them through the different disciplinary methods and perspectives of the humanities, arts, natural sciences, and social sciences. Integrations courses challenge students to take the skills and knowledge from the Foundations and Explorations courses, as well as their majors, and apply them to interdisciplinary consideration of thematic questions. In addition, Flagged courses in writing, oral skills, quantitative reasoning, information literacy, and engaged learning build on and reinforce the skills and critical thinking that students obtain in the Foundations courses.

Summary of the Area Requirements of the University Core Curriculum

Students fulfill One Area Requirement per course. Courses in a student's major may also satisfy Core requirements, so the total number of courses required outside of a student's major will typically be fewer than 13 listed below. Flagged courses will typically be courses that also satisfy other Core or major requirements so they do not add to the total course requirements for most students.

Foundations (Years 1–2)

Students fulfill One Area Requirement per course in each of these Areas:

First Year Seminar (Fall)
Rhetorical Arts (Spring)
Quantitative Reasoning
Theological Inquiry
Philosophical Inquiry
Studies in American Diversity

Explorations (Years 2–3)

Students fulfill One Area Requirement per course in each of these Areas:

Creative Experience
Historical Analysis and Perspectives
Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics
Understanding Human Behavior

Integrations (Years 3–4)

Students fulfill One Area Requirement per course in each of these Areas*:

Faith and Reason
Ethics and Justice
Interdisciplinary Connections

Flagged Courses

Writing	2 Flags
Oral Skills	1 Flag
Information Literacy	1 Flag
Quantitative Reasoning	1 Flag
Engaged Learning	1 Flag

* Students enrolled in a Bachelor of Science in Engineering or Engineering Physics program are required to take only two Integrations courses: Faith and Reason and Ethics and Justice. For these students, there are a total of 12 required Areas.

 The Quantitative Reasoning Flag is met by the curriculum of the majors in the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering.

The University Core Curriculum provides a common foundation for every undergraduate student at LMU. The power to develop additional core requirements will reside with Major and Minor programs rather than Colleges and Schools.

GRADUATE DIVISION

The mission of the Graduate Division is to promote transformative graduate education at Loyola Marymount University, to celebrate the accomplishments of graduate students and the faculty who educate them, and to provide leadership in the establishment and communication of policies, standards, and processes related to graduate education and to the quality of life for graduate students.

Since its creation in 1950, the Graduate Division has worked closely with the University's colleges and schools to create innovative programs that meet the personal, academic, and professional needs of its students. As life-long learning becomes even more integral to individual success and social welfare, the Graduate Division remains committed to providing an array of forward-looking programs of great distinction and to creating an environment that enables students to realize their full potential.

The University's graduate programs are characterized by outstanding faculty, academic excellence, small class size, and attention to individual students. Though the graduate programs span a diverse array of academic disciplines and professions, they are uniform in their attention to education of the whole person, to conscious exploration of ethical issues, and to developing leaders in service to society.

Across its various schools and colleges, the University offers curricula leading to the degrees of Doctorate in Education (Ed.D.), Education Specialist (Ed.S.), Master of Arts (M.A.), Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.), Master of Fine Arts (M.F.A.), Master of Science (M.S.), Master of Science in Accounting (M.S.A), and Master of Science in Engineering (M.S.E.), as well as to a variety of graduate certificates and credentials.

The Graduate Studies Office is located in University Hall, Suite 1840. Telephone: 310.338.2721 or 888.946.5681; fax: 310.338.6086.

All communication concerning Graduate Studies should be addressed to:

ACADEMIC DEGREE REQUIREMENTS AND POLICIES

Students are held individually responsible for information contained in these pages. Failure to read and understand these regulations will not excuse a student from their observance.

All regulations and rules or procedures contained in this official University Bulletin apply to undergraduate and graduate programs. Questions in individual cases should be presented through written petition to the appropriate dean.

A student is held responsible for academic regulations in effect at the time of entrance, provided the student maintains continuous enrollment. Similarly, a student who changes programs or majors after being admitted to the University is held responsible for the academic regulations in effect at the time the program or major is changed. A student who interrupts academic enrollment is subject to the academic regulations in effect in the University Bulletin at the time enrollment is resumed.

For non-academic matters, all students are governed by the Loyola Marymount University Student Conduct Code found in the Community Standards booklet. The booklet can be found on MYLMU (<http://my.lmu.edu>).

Academic Advising

Students are assigned a faculty academic advisor within their major or college. LMU offers an advising model based on a close student/faculty advisor relationship. This relationship offers assistance to students in achieving educational, career, and personal goals through the use of the full range of institutional resources.

In order to make the best of advising appointments, students are encouraged to become familiar with the degree requirements, coursework within the major, and other information about academic policies. LMU students must be pro-active in understanding the academic requirements, policies, and procedures which affect their studies and path to graduation. Students are further encouraged to come with well-developed questions for the advisor.

As part of the registration process, students meet with their advisors, who may conduct degree audits to assess progress toward completing degree requirements. Exceptions to University policy and changes to established degree coursework must be approved as exceptions by the Chairperson of the Department or Director of the Program and documented on a Petition for CAPP Adjustment (change to the student's degree audit). This form must then be signed by the student's Associate Dean's Office and submitted to the Office of the Registrar.

Academic Calendar

The University offers two fifteen-week semesters plus a week of final examinations for each semester and two six-week summer sessions that include final examinations.

Academic Program

An academic program is a combination of courses and related activities organized for the achievement of specific learning outcomes as defined by the University. This includes programming at the undergraduate and graduate levels and consists of degrees, majors, minors, concentrations, and certificates.

A degree program is an academic program of study leading to a Bachelor's, Master's, or Doctoral degree. All degree programs require a minimum number of semester credit hours in addition to the requirements of the University, College, or School, and the academic major Department. (See Degree Requirements.)

Academic Major

An academic major indicates a particular curriculum which leads to a degree. Students must complete the requirements for a primary academic major, including the University Core Curriculum and college or school requirements, to be eligible for a degree. Requirements for academic majors can be found under the departmental listings in the chapters for each respective college or school. Some academic majors have concentrations which are a sub-set of a discipline, organized in clusters, of focused courses taken within a major.

Students normally declare a major at the time of application to the University. If a student is unsure about choosing a major, some colleges may allow for an undeclared status within that College. This option is at the discretion of the College or School. Under normal conditions, an undergraduate student has decided on a particular major prior to earning 60 semester hours of credit.

Second Academic Major

Students may declare a second academic major in addition to their primary major by obtaining the approval of the department chair of the major and the Associate Dean in that college. Students in the College of Business Administration may not choose a second academic major within the college.

A second academic major may be earned only while the student is concurrently completing the requirements for the baccalaureate degree in the primary academic major. A student must successfully complete all requirements for the second academic major prior to, or in the same term as, the primary major. A second major may not be granted after a degree has been posted. If a student decides to drop a second academic major, the student must submit a Change of Program to the Office of the Registrar.

Academic Minor

Undergraduate students may declare an academic minor from among the LMU departmental minors. Students who wish to declare an academic minor must obtain the approval of the department chair or program director of the minor and submit a Change of Program to the Office of the Registrar. Some minors may require an application process and are limited based on space available; some may also require the signature of the Associate Dean of the College or School.

To earn an academic minor, a student must complete all requirements of the minor as prescribed either before or at the time of the awarding of the degree in the primary major. Minors may not be earned after the awarding of the primary degree. If a student decides to drop a minor, he or she must submit a Change of Program with the relevant signatures to the Office of the Registrar.

In addition to the requirements of the department of the minor, a student must also meet the following for an academic minor:

1. A minor consists of 18 or more semester hours. At least half of the upper division semester hours of the minor program must be completed in residence at LMU.
2. A student who declares a minor is held responsible for the academic regulations specified in the Bulletin and in effect at the time the minor is declared. Each department offering a minor program lists specific semester hour requirements.
3. A student must have a minimum cumulative grade point average of C (2.0) for courses taken in the minor program.
4. Courses may not count as fulfilling both a major and minor program, unless both programs require the specific course.

Non-Degree Status

Undergraduate

- Undergraduate non-degree students wishing to take undergraduate courses at the University on a non-degree basis during the fall or spring semester must file an application with the Office of Undergraduate Admission in accordance with regularly stated deadlines. Proof of eligibility to study at the University will be required, including transcripts or other appropriate documents. Non-degree students must meet all course requirements for registration and will be allowed to study for a period of no more than three semesters or a total of 18 semester hours, whichever occurs first.
- Non-LMU students and incoming freshmen and transfer students who wish to take undergraduate courses at the University during one or both summer terms must submit an Application for Summer Registration with the Office of the Registrar. Although these students have non-degree status for summer, incoming freshmen and transfer students may apply these courses towards LMU degree requirements. Non-degree students must meet all course requirements for registration; proof of eligibility, such as transcripts or other appropriate documents, may be required.

- Undergraduate non-degree students may register only in courses numbered 100–599, and courses numbered 1000–4999. An undergraduate may not register in the School of Education.
- Admission to the Undergraduate non-degree status does not guarantee admission to undergraduate degree programs or credential recommendation.

Graduate

- Graduate non-degree students wishing to take graduate courses at the University must file an application with the Office of Graduate Admission in accordance with regularly stated deadlines. Proof of eligibility to study at the University will be required, including transcripts or other appropriate documents.
- Non-degree graduate students may take more than two courses while in the non-degree status; however, only two courses taken in the non-degree status may apply toward a degree or credential. A student should consult the appropriate Graduate Program Director about the applicability of non-degree courses to a degree program. Non-degree students must meet all course requirements for registration; proof of eligibility, such as transcripts or other appropriate documents, may be required. Graduate non-degree students may register for 500-, 600-, 5000-, 6000-, and 7000-numbered courses. Non-degree students must meet all course requirements for registration.
- Admission to the Graduate non-degree status does not guarantee admission to degree candidacy or credential recommendation.

Academic Standing

Good Standing

A student must maintain in each semester the stated minimum cumulative grade point average for each of the requirements in the degree program and may not be on academic probation or subject to disqualification. The calculation of standing is based on all courses taken at LMU:

- Undergraduate students must maintain a C average (2.0) in term, major, program, and cumulative GPA. The calculation is based upon courses taken in Fall and Spring semesters only.
- Graduates must maintain a B average (3.0) in term, major, program, and cumulative GPA. The calculation is based upon courses taken in Fall, Spring, and Summer semesters.

Academic Disqualification

Undergraduate and graduate students are subject to disqualification if, in two consecutive semesters on probation, their term, major or cumulative grade point average on all courses falls below the stated career requirement. The first semester in which an undergraduate or graduate student is placed on probation is the first of the consecutive semesters used to determine the student being subject to disqualification.

- Undergraduate disqualification is based upon two consecutive semesters (Fall or Spring) in which work of less than a grade of C (2.0) average is earned or in which the student fails to meet conditions imposed by the Dean or other academic entity. Summer sessions are not used to calculate if an undergraduate is subject to disqualification.
- Graduate disqualification is based upon two consecutive semesters (Fall, Spring, or Summer Sessions) in which work of less than grade of B (3.0) average is earned or in which the student fails to meet conditions imposed by the Dean or other academic entity. Summer sessions are used to calculate if a graduate student is subject to disqualification.
- Executive MBA Program: a student who receives a failing grade in any of the prescribed courses will be subject to immediate dismissal.

Disqualification terminates a student's relationship with the University for a minimum of one year. A disqualified student may not register in any division or session of the University and is denied all privileges of the University and of all organizations or activities in any way connected with it.

Appeal of Disqualification

- Undergraduate students who wish to appeal a disqualification must submit a written request to the Dean of the College. The decision of the Dean is final.
- Graduate students who wish to appeal a disqualification must submit a written request to the Chair, Program Director, or Dean of the student's college or school. If the appeal process cannot be resolved, an impartial three-person faculty panel will be assigned by the Chair of the Graduate Council to review the request. The panel will individually interview the faculty person and the student. After the interviews, review, and discussion, the panel will submit a formal decision to the Chair of the Graduate Council, whose decision will be final.
- Graduate students in the School of Education should appeal directly to the Program Coordinator. If the appeal cannot be resolved, the issue will then be submitted to the Associate Dean, and if necessary, the Dean.

Readmission after Disqualification

Disqualified undergraduate and graduate students are not eligible for readmission to the University until one calendar year has elapsed since the disqualification. Undergraduate and graduate students who wish to return to LMU after disqualification must make an appointment with their Dean. The Dean will determine if a student is eligible to return and either grant or deny permission to seek readmission to the University. If allowed to attend LMU after a disqualification, the student must submit an application for admission through the appropriate Admission Office.

1. A disqualified student who is readmitted will be on strict probation, which requires that the student must satisfactorily complete all requirements set by the Dean in the initial semester after readmission.
2. A student who has been disqualified a second time may not apply for readmission.

Academic Probation

Undergraduate and graduate students are subject to academic probation if their term, major, program, or cumulative grade point average on all courses taken at LMU is lower than the following:

- Undergraduates: C average (2.0) in term, major, program, or cumulative GPA
- Graduates: B average (3.0) in term, major, program, or cumulative GPA

Academic probation constitutes a serious warning to students that their academic performance is unsatisfactory and continued failure to improve this record may result in being disqualified from the University. Additionally, a student who does not make satisfactory progress in the course of study is subject to probation. Further, the Dean or Director may impose restrictions on students on probation regarding the program of study and their participation in extracurricular activities at LMU.

Attendance

Class attendance expectations and consequences for absences from class are left to the discretion of individual instructors and shall be announced by the faculty member at the first class meeting or listed on the class syllabus. Students are accountable for all course assignments, whether or not the assignments were announced during an absence.

In order for a student to earn academic credit for a course, he/she must be enrolled officially in the course. Students who are not registered in a class are not allowed to attend a course, submit coursework, or take an exam including the final exam.

Change of Academic Major/Concentration/Minor

Undergraduate

Entering freshmen and transfer students are admitted to the University in their academic major of choice at application. A change of academic major or emphasis/concentration in the major within the same school or college may be limited by the availability of space within the requested major and requires the approval of the department chair and the Associate Dean of the College or School.

A student must also be signed out of the current major by obtaining the approval of the department chair of the current major as well as the Associate Dean of the College or School. If a student decides to change an academic minor, he/she must submit a Change of Program to the Office of the Registrar.

Changes in majors, which involve the changing of a School or College, may be limited by the availability of space within the school and/or the specific academic major. Students wishing to change colleges or schools must meet the respective admittance criteria and complete the application process specified by that College or School. The decision of the Associate Dean of the College or School is considered final. Upon acceptance into the new major, emphasis, or minor, the student must submit a completed Change of Program to the Office of the Registrar.

Graduate

Graduate students are admitted to a specific program consisting of a degree and major within a College or School. Graduate students who wish to change a degree program must apply for the new program through Graduate Admissions. A student who wishes to change from one emphasis/concentration to another within a program before completing a degree must request approval from the Program Director. Students must submit a completed Change of Program to the Office of the Registrar.

Change of Address

Students may change their permanent, mailing, and billing addresses through PROWL. Students must update their emergency contact information through PROWL. International students are required to notify the Office of International Students and Scholars if wishing to change their permanent address. The University assumes no responsibility for materials sent through the mail or e-mail not received.

Commencement

Ceremonies

The University grants degrees three times per year: at the end of the Summer (August 31), Fall (December 31), and Spring (May) terms. LMU celebrates its Commencement Ceremonies only at the end of the spring semester.

LMU honors at the Commencement Ceremonies its newest graduates with a celebration of achievement for family and friends. Participation is granted to those students who will be receiving their degrees in one of five terms: the previous Summer and Fall as well as Spring, Summer, and Fall of the Commencement year. Participation in the honorary ceremony does not mean that a degree has been awarded.

Classification of Undergraduate Students

The classification of undergraduate students is determined by the number of semester hours completed at LMU with passing grades and, if applicable, accepted transfer work.

Lower-division students are considered:

- Freshmen if they have satisfied entrance requirements and completed fewer than 30 semester hours
- Sophomores when they have completed at least 30 but fewer than 59 semester hours
- Upper-division students are considered:
 - Juniors when they have completed at least 60 but fewer than 89 semester hours
 - Seniors when they have completed at least 90 semester hours

Concurrent Enrollment

Concurrent term enrollment by LMU degree-seeking undergraduate students at another institution for the purpose of transferring credits is not permitted.

Course Information

Classification of Courses

This section contains a list of symbols for all courses offered at the University.

Undergraduate Courses

- 000–099: Courses offered in this number range do not carry degree-granting credit.
- 100–299: Lower division undergraduate courses with degree-granting credit
- 300–499: Upper division undergraduate courses with degree-granting credit
- 500–599: Upper division undergraduate courses in which graduate students may enroll and receive graduate credit. Undergraduate students may not enroll in 500-level courses offered by the School of Education.
- 1000–2999: College of Business Administration lower division undergraduate courses with degree-granting credit
- 3000–4999: College of Business Administration upper division undergraduate courses with degree-granting credit

Graduate Courses

Only students accepted into the Graduate Division may register for these courses.

- 600–699: Graduate courses with degree-granting credit
- 5000–6999: School of Education graduate courses with degree-granting credit
- 7000–7999: School of Education Doctor of Education courses with degree-granting credit
- 8000: School of Education required course for credential program

Extension Courses

- 800–999: LMU Extension courses. Courses offered in this number range do not carry LMU degree-granting credit.

Course Audit

After the registration period and space permitting, enrolled students may be permitted to register as auditors only for exceptional reasons and with the authorization of the Dean of the college or school of the course. Not all courses are open to auditors. Auditors are not held responsible for the work expected of regular students and receive no grade or credit for the course. Regular attendance at class is expected.

A student who has previously enrolled as an auditor may not take the course for credit in the subsequent term except by special permission of the Dean of the college or school in which the course is offered. Individuals may not be formally admitted to the University to audit courses only. Enrolled LMU students may not enroll as auditors in a regularly scheduled LMU course through LMU Extension.

Course Challenge

A student may request credit by examination for selected courses provided that the student meets all eligibility requirements of the course. It is the responsibility of the student to arrange for a credit by examination, including a faculty member willing to administer the challenge, as then approved by the course Chairperson and student's Dean. A course may be challenged only once.

Undergraduate

- To challenge an undergraduate course by examination, a student must be regularly enrolled and a full-time student. Students may not challenge a course that is at a level more elementary than one in which they are currently enrolled or for which they have already received credit. Students may not challenge a course for which they have previously registered until a period of one year has elapsed from the time of their original registration in the course. A challenge examination once failed may not be repeated. 100- and 200-level courses in the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures may not be challenged.

Graduate

- If the student passes the challenge exam, that is equivalent to waiving the course requirement but not the total unit requirement for the degree. MBA students may challenge MBA core courses only during the first semester of enrollment.

Course Load

In a Fall or Spring semester, the normal load for full-time, degree-seeking undergraduate students in good standing from the previous semester is 15–18 semester hours. For summer, undergraduate students in good standing may register for six semester hours per session.

Course Terminology

- Core courses are identified as fulfilling the University Core requirements.
- Major courses are identified as fulfilling the academic major requirements.
- Minor courses are identified as fulfilling the academic minor requirements.
- Elective courses are identified as not fulfilling core, major, or minor requirements, but do fulfill overall semester hours requirements.

Cross-Listed Courses

A cross-listed course is one that carries credit in more than one department or program. Students may not enroll in more than one section of a cross-listed course and may receive credit in one department only.

Special Studies/Independent Studies/Tutorial Courses

Special Studies

Courses whose numbers have as the last two digits “98” are Special Studies. These courses have a special syllabus and description not listed in the Bulletin. They can be held in a lecture, discussion, or seminar format at a specified or arranged time and place for a group of students. Each department sponsoring Special Studies courses maintains these course descriptions.

Independent Studies

Courses whose numbers have as the last two digits “99” are Independent Studies. This is an individualized study arranged by a student with a full-time faculty member and approved by the Chairperson of the Department and the Dean. An Independent Studies course is considered part of the student’s semester program. Registration for such courses takes place only during the regular registration periods.

These courses are for the educational enrichment of the student particularly qualified for the kind of experiences that are beyond the scope of a regular course. Under the supervision of a faculty member, the work will be of research or similarly creative nature and will normally culminate in a project or examination. Freshmen, first-semester transfer students, and part-time undergraduates are not eligible.

Most graduate programs will allow graduate students to take no more than two classes as independent study. Consult the individual Program Director for future information and limitations.

Tutorials

A course tutorial is an option to register for an LMU course which is not otherwise offered in the term. Students may individually arrange with a faculty member to take the course as a tutorial. The tutorial must be based on an existing LMU course and all arrangements for the tutorial are the responsibility of the student. A tutorial course is considered part of a student’s semester program. Registration for it takes place during the regular registration periods. Only full-time students are eligible, and approval will be given for only one tutorial course per semester.

Freshmen and first-semester transfer students are not eligible. Approval of the Department Chair and Dean’s Office is required.

Degree Requirements

Baccalaureate Degree Requirements

Candidates for an undergraduate degree at Loyola Marymount University must complete all requirements for a bachelor’s degree as set forth by the University, their college or school, and academic departments or programs. Failure to understand those requirements does not relieve a student of his or her responsibility.

All candidates for a baccalaureate degree at LMU must fulfill the following requirements:

1. For the primary academic major complete a minimum of 120 semester hours, including core curriculum, program requirements, and 45 semester hours of upper-division course work. Certain programs require more than 120 semester hours and are under the appropriate department listings.
2. All courses taken at LMU must have a cumulative grade point average of C (2.0). All courses taken in the major, minor, or area of concentration must have a cumulative grade point average of C (2.0)
3. Fulfill the requirements for any declared academic secondary major or primary or secondary minor, including those set forth by the department and/or College or School.
4. At least 30 of the last 36 semester hours for the bachelor’s degree must be taken in residence at LMU. At least two-thirds of the upper division semester hours of the major must be taken in residence at LMU, unless, for programmatic purposes, the Dean and the Chair of the major department deem an exception appropriate.
5. Fulfill the academic regulations printed in the University Bulletin in effect at the time of entrance or for those in effect in the senior year provided the student maintains continuous enrollment for the length of the degree program. A student who changes his or her program of study subsequent to admission to the University may be held responsible for the academic regulations in effect at the time of the declaration or change. A student who interrupts LMU enrollment for more than two years is subject to the academic regulations in effect in the University Bulletin at the time of readmission.
6. Fulfill the requirements specified in Baccalaureate Graduation Requirements and Degree Conferral.

Baccalaureate Graduation Requirements and Degree Conferral

The date of degree posted on a student’s diploma is the one by which all graduation requirements are completed or documents are submitted—specifically the respective Commencement Weekend dates, August 31, or December 31. These requirements include:

1. Submitting an Application for Degree form to the Office of the Registrar by the stated deadline in the term in which all academic and graduation requirements will have been met. If a student is canceled for graduation in a given term, the student must submit a new Application for Degree form for a subsequent graduation term.
2. The completion of all incomplete work required for the degree prior to the degree date of that term. A grade of Incomplete in a required course at the time of degree posting renders the student ineligible for that degree date.
3. Students who have taken coursework at other institutions must submit an official transcript showing the graded course(s) and transfer course approval form (if not previously submitted) to the Office of the Registrar no later than 30 working days after the end of the LMU semester. The transfer course(s) must be completed in a term which ends prior to the degree date.

Second Baccalaureate Degree Requirements

1. The pursuit of a second baccalaureate degree is not allowed unless a student already possesses an earned B.A. degree prior to commencing the second B.A. program.
2. An LMU student may not be enrolled in a primary degree program and concurrently begin a second B.A. program.
3. The major program of the second B.A. must be different from the first major.

All candidates for a second baccalaureate degree at LMU must fulfill the following requirements:

- Already possess an awarded B.A. degree from an accredited institution.
- Complete a minimum of 30 semester hours at LMU beyond those required for the first degree; these must include at least 24 semester hours of upper division work and at least 20 semester hours of upper division work in the major field of study.
- Fulfill the core requirements of the College or School in which the major is offered.
- Satisfy all the requirements for the major.
Fulfill the requirements specified in the Baccalaureate Graduation Requirements and Degree Conferral.

Graduate Degree Requirements

Candidates for a graduate degree at Loyola Marymount University must complete all requirements for a Master's or Doctoral degree as set forth by the University, their college or school, and academic departments or programs. Failure to understand these requirements does not relieve a student of his or her responsibility. All candidates for a graduate degree at LMU must fulfill the following requirements:

1. For a Master's degree, complete a minimum of 30 graduate semester hours (500 and 600 level) beyond an earned Baccalaureate degree. A minimum B (3.0) cumulative grade point average is necessary to qualify for completion of a program. See individual program descriptions for specific and additional graduation requirements.
2. For a doctoral degree in Education, complete a minimum of 52 graduate semester hours (7000-level courses) beyond an earned Master's degree. A minimum B (3.0) cumulative grade point average is necessary to qualify for completion of a program. See individual program descriptions for specific and additional graduation requirements.
3. The normal time allowed for the completion of graduate degree programs is five years. A student who has not completed the degree within five years must request an extension of time. If the extension is granted by the Dean of the student's college or school, the student may be required to undertake additional coursework. Some departments have a shorter limit for the completion of the program; see individual program descriptions for further information.
4. Fulfill the requirements specified in Graduate Graduation Requirements and Degree Conferral.

Graduate Graduation Requirements and Degree Conferral

The date of degree posted on a student's diploma is the one by which all graduation requirements are completed or documents are submitted, specifically the respective Commencement Weekend dates, August 31, or December 31. These requirements include:

- Submitting a completed Application for Degree to the Office of the Registrar by the stated deadline in the term in which all graduation requirements will have been met. If a student is canceled for graduation in a given term, the student must submit a new Application for Degree for the appropriate graduation term.
- The completion of all incomplete work required for the degree prior to the degree date of that term. A grade of Incomplete in a required course at the time of graduation renders the student ineligible for that degree date.
- Students who have taken coursework at other institutions must submit an official transcript showing the graded course(s) and transfer course approval form (if not previously submitted) to the Office of the Registrar no later than 30 working days after the end of the LMU semester. The transfer course(s) must be completed in a term which ends prior to the degree date.

Diplomas

Diplomas are granted and mailed to students who have completed all academic degree requirements and who have no outstanding financial obligations to the University. Diplomas not delivered or picked up after three years from the graduation date must be re-ordered by the student.

Double Credit

Undergraduate

- A student may not count a course as fulfilling both a major and minor program, unless both programs require the specific course. A student may not count the same course to meet the requirements for both an undergraduate and graduate degree.

Graduate

- A student who wishes to enroll for a second Master's degree in the School of Education may apply up to three core courses towards a second Master's degree. For other graduate programs, no more than two courses may be counted toward a second degree upon prior approval from the respective Deans' offices.

Enrollment

Students must be officially registered via PROWL for all classes in accordance with the regulations, procedures, and dates published in the Schedule of Classes and the University Bulletin. Registration is subject to full payment of tuition, room and board charges, and other fees associated with enrollment. The University reserves the right to deny registration to any student for reasonable cause.

Final Examinations

Students are required to take all scheduled examinations. Final examinations are to be held at the time published by the Office of the Registrar. No student is allowed to take a final examination before the scheduled time.

Full-Time Standing

An undergraduate student enrolled for 12 or more semester hours in a Fall or Spring semester or 6 or more semester hours in a Summer session is considered a full-time student. Students taking fewer than the stated amount above are considered part-time and may not qualify for all University activities and benefits, such as eligibility for financial aid, on-campus housing, and intercollegiate athletic competition.

A graduate student enrolled for 6 or more semester hours in a Fall, Spring, or a single Summer session is considered a full-time student. Graduate students taking fewer than 6 are considered part-time. Doctoral students completing the dissertation are full-time with at least 2 semester hours per term.

Please refer to the Financial Aid full-time/part-time standing for an explanation of how that department defines full-time standing and the impact on financial aid awards.

Grades and Grading

Credit/No Credit Grading

Undergraduate

Students may take courses which are offered on a Credit/No Credit basis for up to 20% of their total semester hours requirement for graduation. For undergraduate courses, a grade of CR may be given for performance equal to or greater than a grade of "C." A CR/NC course will not affect the grade point average. Courses offered on a CR/NC basis will count toward fulfilling requirements of the academic major, academic minor, or University Core. Courses offered on a graded basis which a student elects to take on a CR/NC basis will NOT fulfill the above requirements.

A	Superior
B	Satisfactorily demonstrated potential for professional achievement in field of study
C	Passed the course but did not do work indicative of potential for professional achievement in field of study
F	Failure
CR	Credit—Equivalent to grade of B or higher
NC	No Credit—Equivalent to grade of B- or lower
NR	Not reported by instructor
AU	Audit

I	Work incomplete
IP	Work in progress (A grade assigned to the first semester of a scheduled two-semester course. The final grade is posted to the second semester of the course.)
W	Official withdrawal from course

If a course is offered on a CR/NC basis only and the student wishes to receive a standard grade, the student must petition the instructor for that standard grade before the end of the third week of the semester. After submitting an approved form to the Office of the Registrar requesting CR/NC grading for a course, the student may not rescind the request.

Graduate

Graduates may take courses on a CR/NC basis only with the permission of the Program Director and/or Dean of the College or School.

Grade Appeals

It is understood that, except in rare instances, only the Instructor may change the final grade using the Correction of Grade form through the Office of the Registrar and then only with the approval of Department Chairperson's, Program Director's, or equivalent (hereafter called Department Chairperson), and the approval of the Dean of the Instructor's college or school. The Dean may, however, change the grade if all of the following processes of appeal have been followed. The Dean must notify the Instructor, in writing, of the change in final grade.

1. No later than three weeks into the semester following the issuance of a disputed grade, the student must meet face-to-face with the Instructor to review the reasons for the grade.
2. No later than the following week, if the Instructor is not available for discussion or if discussion fails to resolve the problem, the student may ask the appropriate Department Chairperson (see above) to meet with both the Instructor and the student within five class days. If the Chairperson and the Instructor are in agreement about the validity of the grade, the student may appeal to the appropriate Dean. If the Chairperson cannot agree with the Instructor, the Chairperson will refer the student to file a written appeal to the Dean.
3. The student who appeals beyond the department level must file a written appeal to the appropriate Dean within five class days of the meeting with the Instructor and Chairperson, and no later than the end of the sixth week of classes. The Dean, upon receipt of the written appeal, will work with all parties in an attempt to resolve the matter by mutual agreement. If agreement cannot be reached, the Dean may appoint a committee of three impartial persons to investigate the matter and make a recommendation to the Dean. The Dean will normally follow the recommendation of the committee; however, the decision of the Dean is final.

Grading System

The work of all students at LMU is reported in terms of grades. Instructors are required to assign a final grade for each student registered in a course. The Office of the Registrar via PROWL issues a grade report to the student at the end of each term.

Undergraduate

The following grades are used to report the quality of undergraduate student work at LMU:

A	Superior
B	Good
C	Satisfactory
D	Poor
F	Failure
CR	Credit—Equivalent to grade of C or higher
NC	No Credit—Equivalent to grade of C- or lower
NR	Not reported by instructor
AU	Audit
I	Work incomplete
W	Official withdrawal from course

A grade of A may be modified by a minus (-) suffix, and grades B and C may be modified by a plus (+) or minus (-) suffix. Grades A, B, C, and CR denote satisfactory progress toward the degree, but a C- or D grade must be offset by higher grades in the same term for students to remain in good academic standing. An F or NC grade yields no semester hour or course credit. Note that a "C-" grade is not a passing grade in courses requiring a minimum grade of "C." A student must maintain a 2.0 GPA in order to remain in good academic standing.

Graduate

The following grades are used to report the quality of graduate student work at LMU:

A grade of A may be modified by a minus (-) suffix, and grades B and C may be modified by a plus (+) or minus (-) suffix. Grades A, B, and CR denote satisfactory progress toward the degree, but a B- grade must be offset by higher grades in the same term for students to remain in good academic standing. Courses in which a grade of B- through C- is received may be applied toward graduate degrees unless otherwise prohibited by the program requirements. A student must maintain a 3.0 GPA in order to remain in good academic standing. Graduates may only take courses on a CR/NC basis with approval from the Dean.

Grade Point Average

Grade points are a measure of the quality of the academic work completed, just as semester hours are a measure of the quantity of this work. The University uses a letter grade to indicate the level of individual student achievement. Each letter grade has a point value assigned for the grade achieved. The point value assigned to each letter grade is as follows:

A	4.0 grade points	C+	2.3 grade points
A-	3.7 grade points	C	0.0 grade points
B+	3.3 grade points	C-	1.7 grade points
B	3.0 grade points	D	1.0 grade points
B-	2.7 grade points	F	0.0 grade points

The LMU grade point average is determined by dividing the total number of LMU grade points by the number of LMU semester hours completed with a letter grade.

The grades of AU, CR, NC, I, IP, and W have no point value and are not used in calculating the grade point average.

Change of Grades

Grades, once submitted to the Office of the Registrar, will be changed only in case of error. An instructor desiring a change of grade must present a written explanation to the Chairperson and the Dean with a Correction of Grade form from the Office of the Registrar. No grade changes will be made after the fourth week of instruction of the next full term.

A student's permanent record reflects the coursework upon which the University awarded the degree or recommended a credential. Therefore, no grade or other changes are permitted either after awarding the degree or recommending the credential.

Incomplete Course Work

An incomplete grade may be assigned by the professor only if a student has completed at least 80% of the coursework.

The student must speak to the professor prior to final exam week to determine if the completed course work meets the minimum requirement for a grade of Incomplete and to discuss what further work is required to complete the course. The professor may or may not agree to the assignment of a grade of Incomplete. If the professor agrees to assign the grade of Incomplete, s/he will enter a grade of "I" on the Final Grade Roster.

The student's deadline for submitting all outstanding coursework for undergraduate level courses is three weeks after the first scheduled class day of the next full semester. Graduate students who received a grade of Incomplete in graduate level courses have one academic year to complete and submit all outstanding coursework, unless an earlier deadline is set by the professor.

An incomplete grade not removed by the deadline will default to an "F" or to the default grade as submitted by the instructor on the Final Grade Roster.

If a student requires an extension to the deadline, the student must petition to obtain an extension to the deadline for removal of the grade of Incomplete. The petition, approved by the instructor, must be submitted to the Office of the Registrar.

Graduate students carrying any grades of Incomplete are not permitted to take a comprehensive examination until all "I" grades have been removed.

Graduate students enrolled in undergraduate level courses and who have received a grade of Incomplete in the undergraduate level course must submit outstanding coursework no later than three weeks after the first scheduled class day of the next full semester.

Mid-Term Deficiencies

Mid-term deficiencies are assigned to students whose work thus far in the semester has been evaluated by the instructor as unsatisfactory. Notifications are sent to undergraduate students who are performing at the level of C- (1.7) or less; to graduates who are performing at the level of B- (2.7) or less. These notices, advisory in nature and sent to the student's LMU e-mail and posted to PROWL prior to the last day to withdraw in a term, are not used in any calculation and do not appear on either the CAPP report or the University transcript. Students who receive a mid-term deficiency are advised to speak to the instructor and/or their advisor.

Graduation Rate

The completion or graduation rate by August 2013 for undergraduate students who entered Loyola Marymount University in Fall 2007 on a full-time basis was 75.8%.

Leave of Absence/Withdrawal

A Leave of Absence may be granted to students who apply for a temporary break from studies for two years or four semesters. Students on a processed Leave retain their admitted status; however, they are not registered and therefore do not have the rights and privileges of registered students. Students on a leave may complete course work for which the grade of Incomplete was submitted in the prior term and must comply with the policies concerning resolving a grade of Incomplete.

A Withdrawal from the University is the termination of the academic program and course of study and the rights and privileges offered to currently enrolled students. Students who withdraw are responsible for outstanding financial obligations with the University. Students who used deferred payment plans or student loans during their attendance at the University must clear their financial obligations with the Financial Aid Office and the Student Financial Services Office. Students who have unpaid bills or other unsettled financial obligations with the University will not receive academic transcripts until they have cleared all such obligations.

A student has three options when considering a Leave of Absence or Withdrawal from the University. A Leave or Withdrawal may be taken from a semester which has not yet begun, from a semester already in progress, or at the end of term after final grades have been posted.

1. For a Leave of Absence or Withdrawal in a semester which has not yet begun or before the end of the first week of the term, the student must drop all courses via PROWL. Under these circumstances, no courses will appear on the student transcript.
2. For a Leave of Absence or Withdrawal in a semester which has already begun, the student may request a Leave anytime up through and including the last day in a semester to withdraw as published in the Academic Calendar. The student must withdraw from all courses via PROWL prior to the deadline. Under these circumstances, each course will remain on the student's transcript and receive a grade of W.
3. For a Leave of Absence or Withdrawal in a semester for which final grades have been posted and for the student who has registered in a subsequent semester, see #1 above. For a student who has no subsequent registrations, please request the Leave of Absence or Withdrawal to be in effect at the end of the graded term.

In all cases, the University asks that the student fill out an online form to better help LMU understand which factors influenced the decision.

The official Leave of Absence or Withdrawal date will be after the student has dropped all courses via PROWL and submitted the online form. The course drops and submission of form must be in the Office of the Registrar prior to or on the last day to withdraw. Any student who stops attendance after the deadline to withdraw from classes will receive a grade of F for each course in progress.

A student with prior enrollment may apply for a leave through the Office of the Registrar. A leave of absence is canceled if the student registers in another college or university without prior written permission of the student's Dean. In this case, the student has de facto withdrawn from LMU and must reapply through the Admission Office. The student may enroll again at LMU if accepted through the Admission Office. Similarly, a student is considered to have withdrawn from LMU if the leave of absence is extended unofficially beyond two years.

Students may be eligible for tuition and fee refunds according to the University's published policy. Students should notify the Financial Aid Office of their intent to leave the University if they are receiving any type of aid, particularly to protect eligibility for certain programs and funds such as Cal Grants. A portion of any refund is returned to the sources of aid.

Withdrawal for Health Reasons

Students may experience an illness, injury, or psychological condition that significantly impairs their ability to function successfully or safely in their role as students. In these instances, time away from the University for treatment and recovery can restore functioning to a level that will enable them to return to the University. The purpose of this policy is to set forth the procedures for student withdrawals from the University for reasons of health and/or safety.

Student may withdraw from a course(s) or the current semester prior to the published deadline and may be eligible for tuition refund according to the published refund scale. A student will receive a grade of W in each course withdrawal.

After the withdrawal deadline, but before the final day of classes, students may withdraw from courses only for medical or psychological reasons. A written General Petition with accompanying documentation from a licensed professional must be submitted to the Office of the Registrar. The documentation from the licensed professional must certify that the student is unable to complete the current semester for medical or psychological reasons and requires an immediate withdrawal from ALL classes. If approved, the Office of the Registrar will withdraw the student from all courses with corresponding grades of W. Students granted a medical withdrawal after the deadline are not eligible for tuition refund.

LMU Honor Code and Process

Loyola Marymount University is a community dedicated to academic excellence, student-centered education, and the Jesuit and Marymount traditions. As such, the University expects all members of its community to act with honesty and integrity at all times, especially in their academic work. Academic honesty respects the intellectual and creative work of others, flows from dedication to and pride in performing one's own best work, and is essential if true learning is to take place.

Examples of academic dishonesty include, but are not limited to, the following: all acts of cheating on assignments or examinations, or facilitating other students' cheating; plagiarism; fabrication of data, including the use of false citations; improper use of non-print media; unauthorized access to computer accounts or files or other privileged information; and improper use of Internet sites and resources.

Definitions of Academic Dishonesty

The following are examples of academic dishonesty which may be interpreted as intentional or unintentional. This list is not meant to be exhaustive. It is the student's responsibility to make sure that his/her work meets the standards of academic honesty set forth in the Honor Code. If the student is unclear about how these definitions and standards apply to his/her work, it is the student's responsibility to contact the instructor to clarify the ambiguity.

- A. Cheating and Facilitating Cheating
 1. Possession, distribution, and/or use of unauthorized materials or technology before or during an examination or during the process of preparing a class assignment.
 2. Collaboration on class assignments, including in-class and take home examinations, without the permission of the instructor.

3. Provision of assistance to another student attempting to use unauthorized resources or collaboration on class assignments or examinations.
- B. Plagiarism
1. Presentation of someone else's ideas or work, either in written form or non-print media, as one's own.
 2. Omission or improper use of citations in written work.
 3. Omission or improper use of credits and attributions in non-print media.
- C. Falsification of Data
1. Presentation of altered or fabricated data, such as lab reports, with the intention of misleading the reader.
 2. Presentation of forged signatures as authentic.
 3. Use of false citations, either incorrect or fabricated, including sources found on the Internet.
- D. Unauthorized Access to Computers or Privileged Information
1. Use of University network and/or computer hardware to gain unauthorized access to files, and alteration or other use of those files.
- E. Improper Use of Internet Sites and Resources
1. Inappropriate use of an Internet source, including, but not limited to, submission of a paper, in part or in its entirety, purchased or otherwise obtained via the Internet, and failure to provide proper citation for sources found on the Internet.
- F. Improper Use of Non-Print Media
1. All above standards apply to non-print media.
- G. Group Work-Group and team work are an integral part of the Executive MBA and some other graduate programs. Classmates are encouraged to work with and support each other, as much of the learning results from mutually shared experiences and expertise of classmates. There is a point, however, where students must make their own use of materials and present their own ideas, thoughts, and solutions. Examples where work must be clearly individual include individual papers, exams, and projects. There is a fine line between shared learning and cheating. If the student is unclear between what constitutes group work and what constitutes individual work, it is the student's responsibility to contact the instructor to clarify the ambiguity.
- H. Other Academic Dishonesty
1. Any other means of violating the standards of academic honesty set out above.
- c. Unintentional Violation: If the Instructor believes the violation was unintentional, he/she may take any of the following actions:
1. Warn Student
 2. Require assignment or exam to be resubmitted
 3. Reduce the grade on the assignment, project, or exam
The Instructor shall inform the Student of his/her decision and also inform the Student of the right to appeal the Instructor's decision.
- d. Intentional Violation: If the Instructor believes the violation is intentional, he/she may take any of the following actions:
1. Fail the Student on the assignment or exam
 2. Fail the Student in the course
The Instructor shall inform the Student of his/her decision in writing and also inform the Student of the right to appeal the Instructor's decision.
The Instructor may consult with the Chairperson, Program Director, or equivalent and refer the matter directly to the Dean of the Instructor's college or school with a recommendation that the Student be suspended or expelled. Upon such a referral, the Dean shall appoint an Academic Honesty Panel consisting of one Student from the ASLMU Judiciary and two Faculty members for undergraduate students and three faculty members for graduate students.
- II. Departmental Appeal
- a. The Student may appeal the Instructor's decision under section I(C) or (D) to the Department Chairperson, Program Director, or equivalent. In accordance with the grade appeal policy in the University Bulletin, the Student will be required to make his/her appeal in writing no later than three weeks into the semester following the decision.
 - b. If either the Student or Instructor wishes, he/she may appeal the decision of the Department Chairperson, Program Director, or equivalent to the Dean of the Instructor's college or school, who will refer the matter to the Academic Honesty Panel. Appeals must be made within 30 days of receipt of the Chairperson's decision.
- III. Academic Honesty Panel Appeal
- a. The Academic Honesty Panel is an ad hoc recommending body of the Instructor's college/school. The Panel consists of two Faculty members for undergraduate students and three Faculty members for graduate students. The Dean will appoint one of the Faculty members as Chair of the Academic Honesty Panel.
 - b. Responsibilities of the Panel
 1. The Panel will hear appeals by the Student or Instructor of the Chair's decision for any penalty short of expulsion or suspension.
 2. The Panel will make the initial recommendation as to whether the Student should be suspended or expelled.
 - c. In fulfilling these responsibilities, the Panel will make two determinations:
 1. It will determine whether there is clear and convincing evidence that the Student has violated the Honor Code. The Student is entitled to the presumption of innocence and the right to review and respond to all evidence and information relevant to the Panel's decision.
 2. Upon the finding of clear and convincing evidence of a violation, the Panel is to determine the appropriate penalty. With regard to the appropriateness of serious recommendations such as suspension and expulsion, the Panel shall take into account the following factors:
 - a. The severity of the violation;
 - b. Whether the violation is an isolated instance, or part of a pattern of two or more violations; and
 - c. Other mitigating or extenuating circumstances.
 - d. The recommendation of the Academic Honesty Panel, along with an explanation of the reason for the recommendation, will

Honor Code Process

This section sets out the process to be followed when an Instructor suspects a violation of the Honor Code. The recommended sanctions are not mandatory, but are intended to guide the Instructor's discretion. Instructors are encouraged to consult with their colleagues and chairs in making these decisions. This section also outlines the student appeal process for Honor Code violations.

- I. Intentional and Unintentional Academic Dishonesty
 - a. Notification: Instructors will notify the Student of the suspected act of academic dishonesty. The Student will be given the opportunity to admit, deny, or explain the situation. If the suspected violation of the Honor Code occurs with respect to an assignment that the Instructor has not reviewed until after the class has stopped meeting, the Instructor will send a letter to the permanent address of the Student and keep a copy of the letter. Failure to notify will result in a reasonable extension of the Student's time to appeal, but is not in and of itself a defense to the violation of the Honor Code.
 - b. Determination: If the Instructor determines that a violation has occurred, he/she will next determine whether or not the violation was intentional or unintentional. The distinction between intentional and unintentional violations of academic honesty is not based upon the purely subjective intentions of the Student. The question is whether a Student who has carefully read the Honor Code should have understood that his/her action violated the Honor Code and standards of academic honesty.

be reported in writing to the Dean of the Instructor's college or school. The Dean will normally follow the recommendation of the Panel. However, the Dean's decision is final.

- e. The Dean will inform the Student and Instructor, in writing, of his/her decision. The Dean will also report his/her decision to the Provost/Executive Vice President. The Office of the Provost/Executive Vice President will keep a permanent, confidential record of all proceedings of the Academic Honesty Panel.

Privacy Rights of Students in Education Records (FERPA)

Loyola Marymount University Policy on Confidentiality of Education Records (FERPA Policy)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended ("FERPA"), is a Federal law which governs student privacy and confidentiality of student education records. Loyola Marymount University ("LMU") recognizes, abides by and enforces the confidentiality of student records under FERPA.

Definitions

For the purposes of this policy, the following definitions apply:

Student—any person who attends or has attended LMU.

Education records—any record (in handwriting, print, tapes, film, electronic, or other medium) maintained by LMU or any agent of LMU which is directly related to a student, except:

A personal record kept by a staff member if it is kept in the sole possession of the maker of the record and is not accessible or revealed to any other person except a temporary substitute for the maker of the record.

An employee record of an individual whose employment is not contingent on the fact that he or she is a student, provided the record is used only in relation to the individual's employment.

LMU Department of Public Safety records created and maintained by LMU's Department of Public Safety for Department of Public Safety purposes.

Counseling records which are created or maintained by a physician, psychiatrist, psychologist, or other recognized professional or paraprofessional, acting in his or her professional capacity or assisting in a paraprofessional capacity, used solely in connection with the provision of treatment to the student and not disclosed to anyone other than individuals providing such treatment, so long as the records can be personally reviewed by a physician or other appropriate professional of the student's choice. "Treatment" in this context does not include remedial educational activities or activities which are part of the program of instruction at the institution.

Health records maintained by the Student Health Center, if the records are used only for treatment of a student and made available only to those persons providing the treatment.

Alumni records which contain information about a student after he or she is no longer in attendance at the University and which do not relate to the person as a student.

Annual Notification

Current students are notified annually of their rights under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) by publication in the University Bulletin and by posts on the LMU website.

Procedure to Inspect Education Records

Students may inspect and review their official academic or other education records (with certain limited exceptions) within 45 days of the day LMU receives the student's written request for access. A student should submit any such request in writing, identifying the record(s) the student wishes to inspect, to the appropriate LMU official or department. LMU will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected.

Right of University to Refuse Access

LMU reserves the right to refuse to permit a student to inspect the following records:

- The financial statements of third parties.

- Letters and statements of recommendation for which the student has waived his or her right of access, or which were created before January 1, 1975.
- Records connected with an application to attend LMU, or any LMU program, after acceptance but prior to enrollment, or if that application was denied.
- Those records which are excluded from the FERPA definition of education records.

Refusal to Provide Copies

Unless required by FERPA or other law, LMU reserves the right to deny a student's access to academic transcripts or copies of records in any of the following situations:

The student has any unpaid financial obligations to LMU.

There is an unresolved disciplinary action against the student. Copies of disciplinary records will only be made available when a student is unable to come to the office to inspect the record.

Disclosure of Education Records

LMU will disclose information from a student's education record only with the written consent of the student, except:

- To school officials who have a legitimate educational interest in the records.
- A "school official" is any person employed by LMU in any administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including public safety and health services staff); any person or company with whom LMU has contracted to provide a service to or on behalf of LMU (such as attorneys, auditors or collection agents); any person serving on LMU's Board of Trustees; or any student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.
- A school official has a "legitimate educational interest" if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill the official's professional responsibilities.
- To officials of another school, upon request, in which a student seeks or intends to enroll. A reasonable attempt will be made to notify the student prior to the release of such records.
- To certain officials of the U.S. Department of Education, the Controller General, Attorney General, and the state and local educational authorities, in connection with certain state or federally supported education programs.
- In connection with a student's request for or receipt of financial aid, as necessary to determine the eligibility, amount or conditions of the financial aid, or to enforce the terms and conditions of the aid. Parents' financial information, including statements submitted in connection with financial aid applications, is excluded from inspection.
- If required by a state law requiring disclosure that was adopted before November 19, 1974.
- To organizations conducting certain studies for or on behalf of the university.
- To accrediting organizations to carry out their functions.
- To parents of a dependent student, as defined in the Internal Revenue Code. The parents must provide a copy of their most recent federal income tax return establishing the student's dependency. Full rights under the act shall be given to either parent, unless LMU has been provided with evidence that there is a court order, state statute or legally binding document relating to such matters as divorce, separation or custody that specifically revokes those rights. LMU does not have an obligation to disclose any financial information about one parent to another. If a parent claims a student as a dependent and does not want his/her financial information disclosed to his/her spouse or former spouse, the parent may make that request to the institution.
- To comply with a judicial order or a lawfully issued subpoena.
- To appropriate parties in a health or safety emergency.
- To an alleged victim of a sexual assault of the final results of any institutional disciplinary proceeding against the alleged perpetrator of that crime with respect to that crime or offense.

- To courts for a legal proceeding brought by a parent or student against the university or by the university against a parent or student.
- To parents and legal guardians of students under age 21 if the student violated LMU policies, state or federal laws relating to the use or possession of alcohol or a controlled substance.
- To the public the final results of a disciplinary proceeding only if it has been determined that:
 - The student is an alleged perpetrator of a crime of violence or nonforcible sex offense; and
 - The student has committed a violation of the university's rules with respect to the allegation.
- To state and local juvenile justice systems or their officials.
- If designated as "Directory Information."

Directory Information

LMU is permitted under provisions of FERPA to release "Directory Information" upon request to anyone within the LMU community and to the general public without a student's consent. Students who wish to have their directory information withheld must notify the Office of the Registrar in writing each semester by the close of official registration. (Please note that such withhold notification will prevent LMU from providing your directory information to friends, prospective employers, organizations and others with whom a student may wish to share such information, so a student should make any withhold notification carefully.)

Directory Information consists of a student's:

- Name
- Address(es)
- E-mail address(es)
- Telephone numbers
- Date and place of birth
- Major field of study
- Enrollment status
- Dates of attendance
- Anticipated degree and degree date
- Degrees, honors, and awards received
- Participation in officially recognized activities
- Weight and height of members of athletic teams
- A student's personal identifier used by the student for purposes of accessing or communicating in electronic systems
- Most recent educational institution attended
- Photograph

Correction of Education Records

Students have the right to ask to have records corrected that they believe are inaccurate, misleading, or in violation of their privacy rights. A student should submit any such request to LMU in writing, clearly identifying the records that the student believes are inaccurate and specifying the reasons the student believes them to be inaccurate. LMU will notify the student of its decision, and if the decision is negative, of the student's right to a hearing regarding his or her request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided at that time.

Notice of Student Rights with Respect to Education Records (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (20 U.S.C. 1232g) ("FERPA") affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. These rights include:

(1) The right to inspect and review the student's education records (with certain limited exceptions) within 45 days of the day LMU receives the student's written request for access. A student should submit any such request in writing, identifying the record(s) the student wishes to inspect, to the appropriate LMU official or department. LMU will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected.

(2) The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes to be inaccurate. A student should submit any such request to LMU in writing, clearly identifying the records that the student believes are inaccurate and specifying the reasons the student believes them to be inaccurate. LMU will notify the student of its decision, and if the decision is negative, of the student's right to a hearing regarding his or her request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided at that time.

(3) The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. One such exception permits disclosure to "school officials" with "legitimate educational interests" without a student's consent. A "school official" is any person employed by LMU in any administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including public safety and health services staff); any person or company with whom LMU has contracted to provide a service to or on behalf of LMU (such as attorneys, auditors, or collection agents); any person serving on LMU's Board of Trustees; or any student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a "legitimate educational interest" if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill the official's professional responsibilities.

Another such exception permits LMU to disclose a student's "directory information," consisting of a student's name, address(es), e-mail address(es), telephone numbers, major field of study, enrollment status, dates of attendance, anticipated degree and degree date, degrees, honors and awards received, participation in officially recognized activities; a student's personal identifier used by the student for purposes of accessing or communicating in electronic systems; most recent educational institution attended; and photograph, to anyone within the LMU community and to the general public. Students who wish to have their directory information withheld must notify the Office of the Registrar in writing each semester by the close of official registration. (Please note that such withhold notification will prevent LMU from providing your directory information to friends, prospective employers, organizations and others with whom a student may wish to share such information, so a student should make any withhold notification carefully.)

Upon request, LMU also discloses education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll or where the student is already enrolled so long as the disclosure is for purposes related to the student's enrollment or transfer.

Information on other exceptions to FERPA's requirements is available through the Office of the Registrar.

(4) The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning LMU's compliance with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is: Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20202.

Registration

The days of registration are listed in the University Calendar. All students must follow the registration procedures as established by the Office of the Registrar. A student is not considered registered until official clearance has been obtained from the Controller's Office and successful registration has been processed in and posted to PROWL. The student's official academic program consists of the courses in which the student is enrolled at the close of official registration.

Students register for classes via PROWL during the times assigned by the Office of the Registrar. Through the first week of each term, students may register or change their registration schedule by adding and dropping classes without a grade of "W" in accordance with the procedures established by the Office of the Registrar. Registration for a term or registration changes are not accepted after the last day of the registration period.

Students may withdraw from a course (and receive a grade of "W") until the date published in the Academic Calendar. Students who do not complete a course and/or do not withdraw from a class in accordance with the required procedures will receive an appropriate grade in the class as assigned by the instructor.

LMU does not allow a student who is not registered for a course to attend the class. Registration must be completed in accordance with the regulations, procedures, and dates in the University Bulletin. Sitting in a class or obtaining an instructor's signature on a petition form does not constitute enrollment.

The University does not remove courses for those students who stop attending a course. It is the sole responsibility of the student to ensure that his/her class schedule is correct, including dropping or withdrawing from any courses prior to the respective deadlines in the semester. Failure to withdraw officially from a course will result in a grade of "F" or other as assigned by the instructor.

Registration Restrictions

Courses may have registration restrictions, and students wishing to register for these courses must have met the criteria of the restriction. Restrictions and other registration considerations are enforced in PROWL and are identifiable in the Schedule of Classes.

Students who have not earned 60 units, including transfer credit, may not enroll in upper-division courses without the approval of the instructor and the chair of the department of the course. This restriction does not apply to upper-division foreign language courses for which a student has demonstrated sufficient proficiency.

Any holds on the student's record for academic, financial, student conduct, or other reasons may inhibit eligibility for registration. A student is not considered registered until official clearance has been obtained from Student Accounts and successful registration through PROWL has been processed by the Office of the Registrar.

Repeat Courses

Certain courses such as special studies and performance courses are repeatable for credit. Please consult the University Bulletin and your advisor in order to confirm that a given course may be repeatable for credit.

Students may repeat a non-repeatable LMU course once, including withdrawals, in order to improve academic performance in that course. The prior occurrence is excluded from the cumulative grade point average and earned hours but remains on the transcript. The grade of the latest occurrence of the repeated course will be the one calculated into the GPA and earned hours. The third and final time a course is taken requires approval from the Dean.

- A repeat course must be taken on the same grade basis as the original occurrence. A course taken for a grade may only be excluded by the same course with a grade. Similarly, a course taken on a CR/NC basis may only be excluded by the same course taken on a CR/NC basis.
- Undergraduate students may not register for any course in the College of Business Administration for a third time without the written permission of the Department Chairperson and the Dean.
- Undergraduate students may not repeat an elementary or intermediate foreign language course after successful completion of a more advanced course in the same language.
- Courses taken at LMU after a degree has been granted will not change the graduation GPA.

Unit Overload

Undergraduate students are limited to enrolling in a maximum of 17 semester hours up until the third week prior to the first week of classes. Beginning the third week prior to classes and running through the first week of the term, undergraduate students are eligible to enroll in 18 or more semester hours with the approval of their Dean's Office.

In order for an undergraduate student to enroll in 19 or more semester hours, the following criteria must be met:

1. A 3.50 overall GPA
2. A minimum of 15 semester hours completed during the prior full semester
3. A General Petition to adjust hours signed by the Associate Dean's office and submitted to the Office of the Registrar.

The maximum load for graduate students during a Fall or Spring semester is 15 semester hours.

Transcripts

Transcripts show all Loyola Marymount University work completed as of the date of the transcript request. Work in progress is noted on the transcript. Requests for transcripts to show end of current semester's work are held until all grades are recorded. Transcript requests are processed in accordance with the date of filing. Transcripts will not be issued when a student has outstanding financial obligations to the University. In this case, the student will be notified by the Controller's Office. Official transcripts of courses taken at the University are issued only with the permission of the student concerned. Unofficial or partial transcripts are not issued.

Transcripts from other institutions, which have been presented for admission or evaluation, become a part of the student's permanent academic file and are not returned to the student. Students desiring transcripts covering work attempted elsewhere should request them from the appropriate institutions.

Transfer Credit and Articulation

Credit for work completed at institutions accredited by one of the six regional associations of the Accrediting Commission for Senior Colleges and Universities may generally be accepted toward the satisfaction of degree and credential requirements at Loyola Marymount University.

Course work completed at non-U.S. institutions must be documented on an official academic record from an international institution recognized by the Ministry or Department of Education of that country. A foreign credentials evaluation may be required. International transcripts submitted without appropriate evaluations may not be considered for eligible transfer work to LMU.

Articulation

The articulation services at LMU help undergraduate students to identify courses completed at other academic institutions that are transferable to LMU degree programs. Courses taken at other academic institutions may fulfill University core requirements, Program (academic major/minor) requirements or transfer in as electives. LMU has established articulation agreements with its major feeder community colleges.

View these transfer agreements on the Registrar's website, and click on "Transfer Agreements."

Graduate students should consult their Dean's Office in their College or School.

Transfer Grades

Only LMU semester hour value is granted to transfer courses. LMU does not list grades from transfer courses nor does it use those grades in calculation of the LMU GPA.

Transfer Work

Undergraduate

Any undergraduate student regularly enrolled as a degree candidate who elects to take courses at a college or university other than Loyola Marymount University must obtain a Transfer Course Approval form signed by the Associate Dean of the student's College or School prior to enrollment in such courses and submit it to the Office of the Registrar. Courses taken without this approval may not be counted toward the degree. Entering transfer students generally receive credit after admission to LMU for courses from other colleges and universities.

Approved undergraduate courses with a grade of C (2.0) or higher may be counted for LMU credit. Credit will not be accepted for courses which

1. Are taken at colleges not accredited, trade schools, extension programs, or correspondence programs or have been identified as being remedial or in other ways as being non-transferable.
2. Are taken on a CR/NC or Pass/Fail basis where the CR or Pass grade is not equivalent to a grade of C or higher.
3. Are identified as duplicates to course work already completed (excludes courses that may be taken multiple times for degree credit).
4. Exceed the limitations of resident requirements.

5. Exceed the 60 semester hour maximum allowed for undergraduate course work from community colleges, or exceed the 90 semester hour maximum allowed for undergraduate course work from four-year institutions.

Graduate Transfer Work

At the time of admission to a program, and if approved by his/her Department, Program Director, and/or Dean of the student's college or school, a student may transfer a maximum of two applicable courses of approved graduate credit, six (6) semester units total, from an accredited institution for work completed no more than five years ago.

1. A course credit may be transferred when the grade received was at least a "B" (3.0), and if taken on a CR/NC or Pass/Fail basis, where the CR or Pass grade is equivalent to a grade of B (3.0) or higher.
2. If a course was used to satisfy a degree requirement, it usually cannot be used for transfer credit, with the exception of core or prerequisite requirements.

VA Certification

Students must apply for educational benefits through the Department of Veterans Affairs. Qualified students will receive from the VA a Certificate of Eligibility indicating the educational benefits to which they are entitled. Once committed to LMU and registered in classes, students must submit their Certificate of Eligibility to the Office of the Registrar for enrollment certification processing. Enrollment certification will be performed prior to each semester of enrollment until the University is notified that benefits have been exhausted or the student is no longer enrolled at LMU.

The Office of the Registrar acts as liaison between the student and the Veterans Administration. Any student eligible to receive educational benefits under one of the various Veterans Administration programs must, at the beginning of each term for which he or she is registered, complete and/or submit the appropriate application for certification of educational benefits. Information or consultation regarding Veterans educational benefits is available at any time during regular office hours. For more information regarding how to apply for Veterans' educational benefits, visit <http://academics.lmu.edu/registrar/services/veteranbenefits/>.

LMU participates in the Yellow Ribbon Program; which is a Post-9/11 GI Bill enhancement program for students who qualify for 100% of the Post-9/11 GI Bill. This program allows institutions of higher learning in the United States to voluntarily enter into an agreement with the VA to fund tuition expenses that may exceed the higher of the actual tuition and fees for a private school. The number of student sponsored for Yellow Ribbon Program benefits is limited. For additional information on this and other Chapter financial considerations, please see the Financial Aid website.

Federal Law requires that educational assistance benefits to Veterans and other eligible persons be discontinued when the student ceases to make satisfactory progress toward their degree objective. Individuals who qualify, and wish to receive veterans' educational benefits, must meet the published academic standards and requirements of the University in order to be certified for Veterans educational benefits.

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

Programs

The University Honors Program

Created in 1958, the University Honors Program at Loyola Marymount University seeks to offer an intellectually creative and rigorous academic community for outstanding students. Not housed inside of any given college or school, the University Honors Program is an interdisciplinary set of courses and activities designed to create life-long love of learning and the intellectual habits required to serve others. Although academic excellence is the hallmark of the program, the University Honors Program is equally committed to the education of the whole person, the service of faith, and the promotion of justice.

Students in the University Honors Program do not take the regular University Core courses. Instead, they participate in a series of interdisciplinary seminars that challenge as well as inform, ask hard questions as well as examine tested solutions, and create new solutions as well as ponder the implications of such solutions. Drawing from faculty from across the University, the University Honors Program provides a creative, demanding, and integrated curriculum for academically excellent students who are seeking a rigorous, multidisciplinary course of study to accompany their major(s) and minor(s).

The University Honors Program also offers co-curricular and extracurricular activities and events, including "The University Honors Program Presents," a multidisciplinary, campus-wide lecture series featuring speakers and performers from Southern California and the nation. The Honors Summit is a retreat held at the beginning of the academic year that allows Honors students to get to know each other and learn about the program.

The University Honors Program is open to students from any school or college of Loyola Marymount University, regardless of major. The Program is administered by the Honors Director, the Honors Associate Director, and the Honors Program Coordinator with the assistance of the Honors Advisory Council. Faculty members of all disciplines are encouraged to be involved with the University Honors Program.

Students in the University Honors Program must maintain a 3.50 cumulative GPA and attend a majority of Honors-sponsored events in order to continue in the program. Graduating students receive an Honors medallion to be worn with their academic regalia at Commencement.

Admission to the University Honors Program is open to all incoming and current first year students. The program is interested in students who display a sense of academic adventure, high motivation, academic rigor, personal responsibility, social awareness, and the constant pursuit of excellence. Incoming first year students must complete a special University Honors Program application (in addition to their application for admission to Loyola Marymount). Current first year students must schedule an interview with the Honors Director, presenting a writing sample from a class taken at Loyola Marymount and a letter of recommendation from a faculty member. Only a limited number of students who apply will be invited to join the University Honors Program. Application materials are available at <http://www.lmu.edu/honors>.

Further details on requirements are continued under "University Honors Program" in the University Bulletin.

Air Force ROTC

Air Force ROTC at Loyola Marymount University provides an opportunity for students to become commissioned officers in the United States Air Force. The program is typically completed in four years, but there is some flexibility for students to finish the requirements on an accelerated timeline. The program seeks to better develop students in the areas of character, leadership, physical fitness, and academic performance. In addition, AFROTC provides opportunities for scholarships and other financial aid. More information can be found under the "Aerospace Studies" section of this University Bulletin.

Individualized Study Program

The Individualized Study Program involves a select number of creative and highly motivated students within all colleges and schools of the University whose educational needs and goals cannot fully be met by individual departments or majors. The program is thus designed to offer each participant greater responsibility in determining the content of his or her major program, based upon the goals to which that major is directed. Students may wish to construct their programs or areas of concentration from interdisciplinary, independent study, field work alternatives, or a combination thereof.

The program is open to freshmen and sophomores who have completed at least one semester in the participating colleges or school. Once accepted into the program by the Dean of the student's college or school, the student selects a counselor who assists in designing the specific content of the major in line with the student's objectives.

The student's program is then formalized into a contract signed by the student, advisor, and Dean. Upon completion of the contracted course of studies, the student is issued a degree in Individualized Studies.

Naval ROTC

Eligible Loyola Marymount University students who wish to participate in the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps may do so through a program established with the UCLA University Extension. The program, in conjunction with an LMU baccalaureate degree, leads to a commission in the United States Navy or Marine Corps. Appropriate academic credit for courses accredited by the University of California is given in accordance with the policies governing LMU's Aerospace Studies program. Further information may be obtained from the Chairperson of the Department of Naval Science, University of California, Los Angeles.

Post-Baccalaureate Premedical Program

The Loyola Marymount University Post-Baccalaureate Premedical Program is for those who received a bachelor's degree from an accredited four-year institution in an unrelated field, and have completed less than four of the prerequisite courses for admission to medical or dental school. A minimum undergraduate GPA of 3.2 is required to qualify for the program. The ideal candidate will have had sufficient experience in the medical field, either through volunteer work or previous employment, to serve as a basis for an informed, mature, and committed decision to enter the field of medicine or dentistry.

The program is designed to prepare students for the challenges of medical and dental school by offering intensive, full-time study in the classroom and in the community over a 13-month period. The program enrollment is set at 14–16 students to give individual attention, support, advising, and resources that meet students' needs.

LMU offers a structured and comprehensive curriculum that gives students the opportunity to prepare for the MCAT or DAT in five terms.

To remain in the program, students will need to successfully complete a full-time load (minimum 12 semester hours Fall and Spring semesters, and 6 semester hours in two 6-week Summer sessions) and maintain a minimum of 3.2 term GPA.

Individuals interested in applying to this program should check the program website for application materials and timeline: <http://cse.lmu.edu/programs/hpao/pre-medicalpost-baccalaureateprogram>.

For questions about the program, please send an e-mail to pre-health@lmu.edu.

Preparation for a Career in Law

The University offers several curricula that are appropriate for students who plan to enter law school upon the completion of their undergraduate degree. The prelaw student should select a course of study that insures the development of the skills essential to the successful study of law: 1) the ability to use language and communicate effectively and 2) the ability to think critically and creatively. In addition, the prelaw curriculum must provide a broad understanding of basic human institutions and values.

To insure they follow an appropriate course of study, prelaw students are advised to select their classes in consultation with the University Prewal Advisor. The Prewal Advisor also serves as a resource person for students during the law school application process.

Preparation for the Health Professions

The Health Professions Information Program provides the student with regular informational meetings. The Director of the Program serves as a resource person and is available for individual consultation. The Director's Office distributes relevant materials to prospective applicants and maintains their files for the Health Professions Advisory Committee. The Committee assists students in completing the application process to health professional schools.

The University offers pre-health professional curricula for those students who plan to apply for admission to the following programs: Medicine, Dentistry, Optometry, Pediatric Medicine, Veterinary Medicine, Pharmacy, Medical Technology, Occupational Therapy, Physical Therapy, and Public Health. These curricula are not degree programs, and students who wish to complete the requirements for a Bachelor's degree before admission to a professional school should select a major within the University. Students usually select a biology, biochemistry, or other science major. Students in other majors should consult with the director early in their college career about blending pre-health profession courses with their chosen major. In addition to fulfilling the requirements of the chosen major, specific requirements of the professional programs should be satisfied. The following lower division courses are usually required: BIOL 101, BIOL 102, BIOL 111, BIOL 112, BIOL 201, BIOL 202; CHEM 110, CHEM 111, CHEM 112, CHEM 113, CHEM 220, CHEM 221, CHEM 222, CHEM 223; English (6 semester hours); MATH 122, MATH 123; PHYS 253, PHYS 254, 255; and PSYC 100. In addition, other specified upper division biology, biochemistry, and statistics courses and electives from Liberal Arts, Fine Arts, and the Sciences may be required.

Students should be aware that many health professional schools do not recognize some AP credits and that alternative coursework may need to be completed to meet admission requirements. Please discuss with the Director.

Services

LMU Extension

Center for Religion and Spirituality

Established in 1989, the Center for Religion and Spirituality is one of Loyola Marymount's two interdisciplinary centers, and an embodiment of the University's commitment to serve the Archdiocese of Los Angeles, neighboring dioceses, and religious communities throughout Southern California. The purpose of the Center is to provide educational opportunities for adult learners, which strengthen their religious and spiritual formation as ministers, educators, and leaders who are committed to the pursuit of service and justice in their own communities. In collaboration with University faculty, the local Church, and religious leaders, the Center carries out this purpose in three ways: Continuing education in theology, religion, and spirituality with an emphasis on pastoral leadership; theological research that is interdisciplinary, intercultural, and interreligious; and outreach to individual parishes, religious institutions, and faith-based organizations. The Center for Religion and Spirituality is located in University Hall, Suite 1840e and can be found on the web at <http://extension.lmu.edu/crs>.

Continuing Education

LMU Extension offers certificates, courses, programs, institutes, conferences, and lectures which provide a variety of educational experiences to members of the community. There are three types of classifications of such offerings.

The first of these is Professional Development courses in a certificate or professional development program with identifiable subject areas or in particular disciplines, e.g., teacher education. These are offered under a departmental rubric and carry University semester hours of continuing education/professional development credit. The second type are those courses with academic content falling outside the normal undergraduate or graduate offerings. Such courses and programs are offered under the rubric CNTX. Credit is recorded in semester hours; 1.0 semester hour represents 10 continuing education contact hours. The third type is personal enrichment programs covering a variety of activities that might include dance, martial arts, or yoga, to name but a few.

Regular Loyola Marymount undergraduate students may enroll in "For Credit" LMU Extension courses with permission of their College or School Dean, at the fees quoted for such courses, above and beyond regular full-time tuition. Enrollment in other LMU Extension offerings is unrestricted unless otherwise specified, also at the fees quoted.

Study Abroad

Semester Study Abroad Models

Semester programming listed as "featured" indicates federal, state, and institutional aid travels with the student.

LMU Semester Programs

LMU Semester Study Abroad programs provide unparalleled opportunities to learn in a distinctive setting, experience a new culture and become a global citizen. Spending three to four months abroad is the perfect way to really get to know a new city, a new country, and potentially a new language. Students will study with LMU classmates and learn from LMU faculty and local instructors. LMU semester programs offer a range of core and specialized courses, for which students will earn LMU credit and grades. All courses are taught in English with the exception of foreign language courses.

Students apply for the program one semester before they would like to participate, register for courses via PROWL, pay LMU tuition and program fee, and keep their financial aid package including any grants and scholarships already awarded. A comprehensive list of LMU semester programming can be found on the LMU Study Abroad website.

LMU Exchange Programs

Exchange programs allow LMU students to spend a semester studying at carefully selected institutions of higher education around the world. An exchange program is an exceptional opportunity to enhance one's college experience and become fully immersed in another culture. LMU students live and study with students from the host country. Academically, they will be challenged by learning a new language, if they choose, or exploring an array of unique course offerings that count as transfer credit toward their LMU degree. In order for transfer work to be eligible for LMU credit, a course must be passed with a grade of "C" or higher.

Students apply for the program one semester before they would like to participate, pay LMU tuition, and keep their financial package including any grants and scholarships already awarded. Housing and Board costs vary by location and are paid directly to the host institution. At most institutions, LMU students take courses taught in English as well as any applicable foreign language courses. Exchange Programs in Spanish speaking countries require that students have an intermediate level of Spanish, as they will take classes taught in Spanish as well as any available courses taught in English. A comprehensive list of reciprocal exchange programming can be found on the LMU Study Abroad website.

Other Featured Programming

Loyola Marymount University highlights other programming offered by other U.S. or international institutions. One such organization is the Association of Jesuit Colleges and Universities, which has a common mission and belief in the development of the whole person and a commitment to social justice, service, and leadership development. The LMU Study Abroad Office offers several AJCU semester study abroad programs, which have been selected to meet LMU standards. In order for transfer work to be eligible for LMU credit, a course must be passed with a grade of "C" or higher.

Students apply for the program one semester before they would like to participate, pay LMU tuition and program fee, and keep their financial package including any grants and scholarships already awarded. A comprehensive list of other featured programming can be found on the LMU Study Abroad website.

Non-LMU Study Abroad Programs

A list of other academically approved programs may be found on the Study Abroad website. If a student chooses to study abroad in one of the approved programs, he or she must follow the administrative procedures below in order to receive prior approval. In order for transfer work to be eligible for LMU credit, a course must be passed with a grade of "C" or higher. Schedule an advising appointment with the Study Abroad Advisor who advises for Non-LMU programs.

- In addition to the host institution application materials a student must submit directly to the host institution, he or she must complete an LMU Study Abroad Application by the deadline. Students will go through the Study Abroad Transfer of Credit Approval (TCA) process to determine how the courses will transfer towards their degree as part of their LMU Study Abroad Application.
- Students are strongly encouraged to speak with their departmental advisor about their study abroad plans and discuss how they fit with their academic plan.
- Students who do not complete the above full administrative procedure starting with the Study Abroad office will not be approved to receive academic credit for their Study Abroad program.

Summer Semester Study Abroad Models

LMU Summer Programs

LMU Summer Study Abroad programs, typically four to five weeks, provide a rich academic experience complemented by short cultural excursions. Students can take core and specialized courses for which they will receive LMU credit and grades. Each program is led by LMU faculty members whose expertise in the country and subject matter give a lasting perspective of the host country and provide a strong academic foundation.

Students apply for the program through the Study Abroad Office, register for courses via PROWL and pay for the program cost via the Student Account Center. A comprehensive list of programming can be found on the LMU study abroad website.

Non-LMU Summer Programs

Non-LMU Summer Study Abroad programs, typically four to five weeks, provide a rich academic experience complemented by short cultural excursions. The LMU study abroad office has selected a small number of non-LMU summer programs to highlight and offer to our students in conjunction with our own programming. In order for transfer work to be eligible for LMU credit, a course must be passed with a grade of "C" or higher.

Students apply for the program through the Study Abroad Office and pay for the program cost as indicated on the LMU study abroad website, via the Student Account Center. A comprehensive list of programming can be found on the LMU study abroad website.

Study Abroad Administrative Procedures and Forms

Study Abroad Transfer Course Approval Form

The Study Abroad Transfer Course approval form is used for all study abroad programming models aside from the full LMU semester or summer programs. The Study Abroad Transfer Course Approval (SATCA) form is part of the application process for study abroad. In order for transfer work to be eligible for LMU credit, a course must be passed with a grade of "C" or higher.

Students who wish to receive transfer credit towards their degree must:

- Complete a Study Abroad Transfer course approval form listing all courses. If you are taking courses which are part of your academic major program, you must obtain the approval of the Department Chair for each course. Take the approved form to your Dean's Office for approval and then submit it to the Study Abroad Office for further processing.
- Courses which have not received prior approval on the SATCA form generally do not earn LMU credit. Students seeking to transfer credit from overseas program experiences that does not follow the full pre-approval process may find that credit is not transferable.
- All Study Abroad work completed through a sponsoring institution must be documented on an official transcript from a U.S. Institution accredited by one of the six regional associations of the Accrediting Commission for Senior Colleges and Universities.
- Study Abroad work completed at an international institution must be documented on an official academic record from an institution recognized by the Ministry or Department of Education of that country. Work completed at institutions which do not have official recognition by the Ministry or Department of Education of that country are not eligible for transfer.

- Order an official transcript from the University attended and have it sent directly to the LMU Office of the Registrar. LMU course credit will not be granted without an official transcript.

Study Abroad Petitions

Students who would like participate in a semester program that is not pre-approved must petition the Study Abroad Office for a one-time program approval. This process must be started at least one year before the study abroad semester. Students wishing to petition for summer programming must submit a similar petition by March 1 in advance of any non-LMU summer program of that same year. Students must demonstrate a compelling academic reason to attend and follow the full administrative procedure starting with the Study Abroad Office. The petition must be pre-approved by the Study Abroad Office, the student's Associate Dean and the institution accreditation must be verified and approved by the Office of the Registrar.

The Study Abroad Office strongly recommends that the full administrative petition process be completed before the student makes any payment to a non-approved program.

For more information regarding Study Abroad opportunities, please consult the Study Abroad website (<http://www.lmu.edu/studyabroad>) or contact the Director of Study Abroad, Jack Hobson, at calvin.hobson@lmu.edu, 310.338.1973.

Other University Services

Academic Resource Center

The Academic Resource Center at Loyola Marymount University provides academic support for all LMU students. It is the mission of the ARC to promote engaged academic citizenship and to provide opportunities for students to become more fully integrated into the rich and diverse culture of the university.

Our office offers content tutoring for gateway courses in subjects such as Chemistry, Economics, and Modern Languages. Certified ARC peer tutors provide one-on-one writing support for papers in any class and lead a wide variety of writing workshops on topics including researching tools, addressing audience, citing sources, quoting and paraphrasing, and written argumentation.

Students who need assistance locating, understanding, and utilizing their academic planning tools may meet with an ARC University Advisor. Students looking for an academic boost may receive access to the ARC online video library by signing up for Kickstart, where they will find tips on how to develop productive study habits, time management skills, critical reading, note-taking strategies, and much more.

The ARC also supports a variety of programs for special populations, such as First to Go, which serves first-generation college students on campus, and programs for the entire campus community, such as the LMU Common Book, which brings faculty, students, and staff together for a shared academic experience.

The ARC is located on the second floor of Daum Hall, and all services are included in the cost of tuition. For additional information on ARC services, please call 310.338.2847 or visit our website at www.lmu.edu/arc.

Basil P. Caloyeras Center for Modern Greek Studies

The Caloyeras Center for Modern Greek Studies provides students with an opportunity to study the culture of contemporary Greece. By means of courses in the language, literature, and the arts of the Greece of today, a doorway is opened to the past, which is thus given a fresh and compelling reality.

The Center has the following goals:

- To offer courses in modern Greek language, post-classical and modern literature and history, the Greek Orthodox tradition, theatre, cinema, dance, music, and the fine arts
- To encourage students to pursue a minor in Modern Greek Studies
- To sponsor lectures on subjects pertaining to Greece which are of interest to the academic community and to the public at large
- To encourage students and faculty to pursue studies and research projects in Greece.

The Center supports the courses that lead to a minor in Modern Greek. (See "Classics and Archaeology" in this Bulletin.)

Thomas and Dorothy Leavey Center for the Study of Los Angeles

Overview

The Thomas and Dorothy Leavey Center for the Study of Los Angeles was established in 1994 to assist students, the University, and the community at large to become agents for change that leads to social justice. Using Los Angeles as a laboratory for understanding the urban experience, the center has become a university leader in developing multidisciplinary courses, producing highly regarded applied research, and promoting civic involvement.

Programs

Southern Californians and Their Leaders is one of the only systematic analyses of how our leaders view contemporary Los Angeles, the opportunities and constraints they face, and the conditions that facilitate leadership. Current activities include leadership roundtables, public opinion polls and leadership surveys, leadership internships, and a leadership lecture series. These activities enable students to apply their classroom knowledge in a real-world setting and aim to empower them to serve their community with skill and compassion.

The Community Studies Program gives students the opportunity to examine patterns and trends reshaping Los Angeles from the perspective of individual neighborhoods. Through in-depth neighborhood analyses, this program gives residents a voice on issues facing their communities. Community studies have focused on communities with a strong Jesuit presence: Hollywood, Pico Union, East Los Angeles, Watts, Lennox, Westchester, and Playa Vista.

In a short span of time, the center has established one of the best undergraduate archives in the nation, the Research Collection. The research collection promotes preservation and analysis of historical documents of public officials, post-World War II developers, late twentieth-century Los Angeles reformers and reform movements, and prominent Catholic families. Holdings include a decade's worth of the original program tapes of KCRW 89.9 FM's "Which Way, L.A.?" as well as the papers of Rebuild L.A., Los Angeles Educational Alliance for Restructuring Now (LEARN), Los Angeles Annenberg Metropolitan Project (LAAMP), Fritz B. Burns, and Mike Roos, to name just a few. A complete index to the research collection and the contents of individual collections is available online at <http://lib.lmu.edu/special/csla/csla.htm>.

Disability Support Services

The Disability Support Services (DSS) Office provides specialized assistance and resources that enable students with documented physical, perceptual, learning, ADD/ADHD, psychiatric disabilities and students on the autism spectrum to achieve maximum independence while pursuing their educational goals. Services are offered to students who have established documented disabilities under federal and state law. Staff specialists constantly interact with all areas of the University to eliminate physical and attitudinal barriers. Please visit our website for more details: <http://www.lmu.edu/dss/> or contact us at 310.338.4216. Please note that all information is confidential.

Orientation

The Freshman Orientation Program welcomes new students to the Loyola Marymount community. During Orientation, students are introduced to the academic and co-curricular programs of the University, meet with faculty for individual academic advisement, and are assisted in registering for courses. Students also become familiar with all of the services, activities, and resources available to them. Throughout the Orientation Program, students interact in small groups, led by current LMU students. Since Orientation provides a useful introduction to the people, programs, and opportunities LMU offers. All incoming freshmen are required to participate in the program. For additional information, please contact the Orientation office at 310.338.7429 or orientation@lmu.edu.

The Transfer Orientation Program is the best way to acclimate to life at LMU. Orientation helps students become familiar with their new campus, learn about student life, and introduce them to current and other new students as well as helpful and friendly faculty and staff. Some of the activities that take place at orientation include: opportunities to meet faculty and discuss questions about the University; introductions to LMU's wide-ranging events, clubs, and organizations; discussions with current students about various involvement opportunities on campus; and a chance to speak with representatives from all administration areas (Registrar, One Card, Financial Aid, etc.). For additional information regarding Transfer Orientation, please contact the Transfer Programs office at transferprograms@lmu.edu or 310.338.5252.

University Library

Located on the bluff between the Jesuit Community and the Leavey Residence Halls, the William H. Hannon Library opened in July 2009 and was named for long-time LMU benefactor and Distinguished Alumnus William H. Hannon.

A highlight of the building is the Information Commons where students can learn, work, and collaborate on class projects using state-of-the-art information technology. A media lounge and café provides comfortable seating and a casual learning environment.

The William H. Hannon Library contains the collections of the University's Westchester campus. In addition to the Library's online catalog, LINUS, wired and wireless access is also available to online index databases such as Academic Search Complete and PROQuest Research Library. For a complete listing of available databases, please go to the Library home page: <http://library.lmu.edu>. In addition, the Library is a member of the LINK+ Consortium, an interlibrary lending organization of member libraries. The Library's Instruction Program offers classroom instruction in information literacy and database searching.

The Digital Library Program, which began in 2008, is a relatively new initiative of the William H. Hannon Library and currently comprises the Digital Collections and Digital Commons at Loyola Marymount University and Loyola Law School Scholarship Repository. The Digital Collections showcase digitized materials from the Department of Archives and Special Collections. Digital Commons at Loyola Marymount University and Loyola Law School Scholarship Repository is an initiative of the William H. Hannon Library and the William M. Rains Library. The repository serves faculty and institutional interests by collecting, organizing, preserving, and disseminating faculty scholarship and creative works in a digital, open-access environment. This initiative is consistent with the library's archival role and responsibility in preserving publications and other artifacts documenting the university's history and the activities of its faculty, students, staff, and administrators.

The Department of Archives and Special Collections houses collections of art, rare books, manuscripts, and the University Archives. Notable holdings include the St. Thomas More, Oliver Goldsmith, and the Helena and John Weadock Collection of rare English and American first editions. Other important collections are the papers of the motion picture producer Arthur P. Jacobs, best known for the Planet of the Apes series, and the Werner Von Boltenstern postcard collection, which contains over a million cards. The department also houses the Research Collection of the Thomas and Dorothy Leavey Center for the Study of Los Angeles which collects research materials relating to local public officials, post-World War II developers, late twentieth-century reformers, and prominent Catholic families.

The Library's Access Services Department provides reserve materials for student class work, as well as equipment and materials in various multi-media formats.

ACADEMIC AWARDS AND COMMENCEMENT HONORS

Dean's List

The Dean's List is an honorary academic acknowledgment for undergraduate students which is printed on the transcript at the end of the Fall and Spring semesters. The list consists of full-time, degree-seeking undergraduate students who must have in a term:

- Completed all courses, with minimum of 15 semester hours at LMU
- Received letter grades in at least 12 semester hours of which none is an "F"
- Earned a cumulative term grade point average of 3.50 or higher

Latin Honors

Honors at commencement are determined by the LMU cumulative grade point average at the time the degree is granted. Only honors earned by merit of academic performance at LMU will appear on the student's record. These honors are entered on the transcript and are inscribed on the diploma.

To be eligible for academic honors at commencement, an undergraduate student must have completed at least 60 semester hours toward the baccalaureate degree on a graded basis (Credit/No Credit courses are excluded) at LMU.

The following grade point averages are required for the honors indicated:

3.9	Summa Cum Laude
3.7	Magna Cum Laude
3.5	Cum Laude

Eligible students for honors at May commencement received a degree on the previous August 31 or December 31 degree date, or must be a degree candidate for honors in May. An indication of honors pending at graduation printed in the commencement program is unofficial. The final determination will be made after a review of all completed undergraduate courses counted toward the degree.

University Academic Awards

For undergraduate students to be eligible for academic awards presented at the May Commencement ceremony, they must have either graduated in the previous Summer or Fall term or be a candidate for graduation for May.

The University Scholar of the Year Award

Presented to the student who, in the four-year undergraduate program at LMU, is determined to have achieved the best overall academic record in the graduating class.

The Ignatian Award

Awarded to the graduating senior man who has achieved well academically and who has distinguished himself in leadership and service to the student body and the University.

The Marian Award

Awarded to the graduating senior woman who has achieved well academically and who has distinguished herself in leadership and service to the student body and the University.

The Valedictorian Award

Presented to the student who, in the four-year undergraduate program, is chosen after a presentation to the Valedictorian Committee to give the Valedictorian Address at the Undergraduate Commencement Exercises.

Presidential Citations

Presented to outstanding graduating seniors who have combined excellence in the classroom with effective service and leadership in the University community.

University Honor Societies

Loyola Marymount University sponsors numerous honor societies to recognize significant academic achievement of its students.

Alpha Kappa Delta Sociology Society

Established at LMU in 1997, Alpha Kappa Delta is an academic organization dedicated to the study of sociology, the research of social problems, and other social and intellectual activities. It promotes the development of scholastic and leadership skills within the framework of a national honor society and the Department of Sociology. It was founded in 1920 at the University of Southern California.

Alpha Sigma Nu Jesuit Honor Society

Alpha Sigma Nu is a national honor society for men and women founded in 1915 at Marquette University. The society was organized to honor students from Jesuit colleges and universities who have distinguished themselves in scholarship, loyalty, and service to the University. A limited number of juniors and seniors is selected for membership each year. The society offers its services to the University, particularly in an effort to stimulate intellectual interest and accomplishment. It was established at LMU in 1939.

Beta Beta Beta Biology Society

Since its inception at Oklahoma City University in 1922, Beta Beta Beta has been a society for students dedicated to improving the understanding and appreciation of biological study and extending boundaries of human knowledge through scientific research. The society has been at LMU since 1999.

Beta Gamma Sigma Business Society

The establishment of the first national honor society for business students was the result of the 1913 merger of three separate societies from the University of Wisconsin, University of Illinois, and University of California. Beta Gamma Sigma is an international honor society recognizing the outstanding academic achievements of students enrolled in collegiate business and management programs. LMU's chapter started in 1982.

Eta Sigma Phi Classics Society

Established at the University of Chicago in 1914, Eta Sigma Phi became recognized as a national honors society in 1924. The LMU chapter was established in 2007. Eta Sigma Phi is the national honorary collegiate society for students of Latin and/or Greek intended to develop interest in classical study among the students of colleges and universities and promote closer relationships among students who are interested in classical study.

Gamma Kappa Alpha National Italian Honor Society

Gamma Kappa Alpha acknowledges superior scholastic performance in the field of Italian language, literature, and culture, and is open to membership at institutions of higher learning in the United States and Canada. The Society encourages college students to acquire a greater interest in, and a deeper understanding of, Italian culture, art, and history. It was founded at Nazareth College in Rochester, NY, in 1983 and established at LMU in 1998.

Kappa Delta Pi International Honor Society in Education

The Kappa Delta Pi International Honor Society in Education was founded in 1911 at the University of Illinois and established at LMU in 1996. It is dedicated to recognizing scholarship and excellence in education, promoting development and dissemination of worthy educational ideas and practices, and enhancing the continuous growth and leadership of its diverse membership.

Lambda Pi Eta Communication Studies Society

Founded at the University of Arkansas in 1985, this society later became the official honor society of the National Communication Association. Taking its name from the three elements of persuasion as described in Aristotle's Rhetoric, it functions to foster development among students and professionals in the field.

Omicron Delta Epsilon Economics Society

Omicron Delta Epsilon is an international honor society for economics that was created in 1963 through the merger of two honor societies, Omicron Delta Gamma and Omicron Chi Epsilon. The LMU chapter was established in 1990. This society recognizes scholastic attainment and honor outstanding achievements in economics and intends to establish of closer ties between students and faculty in economics within colleges and universities.

Phi Alpha Theta History Society

Established at the University of Arkansas in 1921, Phi Alpha Theta is a professional society whose mission is to promote the study of history through the encouragement of research, teaching, publication, and the exchange of learning and ideas among historians. The LMU chapter started in 1968.

Phi Sigma Tau Philosophy Society

The purpose of Phi Sigma Tau is to serve as a means of awarding distinction to students having high scholarship and personal interest in philosophy and to promote student interest in research and advanced study in this field. It was founded at Muhlenberg College in 1930, incorporated in 1955, and became active at LMU in 1987.

Pi Delta Phi French Honor Society

This society was established in 1906 at the University of California at Berkeley, with the goals of recognizing outstanding scholarship in French language and literature and increasing knowledge of the contribution of French-speaking countries to world culture. LMU's chapter began in 1969.

Pi Mu Epsilon Mathematics Society

Pi Mu Epsilon is an honorary national mathematics society founded at Syracuse University in 1914, with the purpose of promoting scholarly activity in mathematics among the students in academic institutions. The society was established at LMU in 1975.

Pi Sigma Alpha National Political Science Honor Society

Pi Sigma Alpha was founded in 1920 at the University of Texas at Austin. Its goal is to stimulate scholarship and intelligent interest in the field of political science. LMU's chapter was established in 1998.

Psi Chi Psychology Society

Psi Chi Psychology Society was established in 1929 at Yale for the purposes of encouraging, stimulating, and maintaining excellence in scholarship and advancing the science of psychology. LMU started a chapter of the society in 1979.

Sigma Delta Pi Hispanic Society

Sigma Delta Pi, the National Collegiate Hispanic Honor Society, was established in 1919 at the University of California at Berkeley. Its goals include honoring those who attain excellence in the study of the Spanish language and encouraging university students to acquire a greater interest in and a deeper understanding of Hispanic culture. LMU's chapter became active in 1972.

Sigma Pi Sigma National Physics Honor Society

Founded at Davidson College, North Carolina, in 1921, Sigma Pi Sigma exists to honor outstanding scholarship in physics, to encourage interest in physics among students at all levels, to promote an attitude of service of its members towards their fellow students and colleagues and to the public, and to provide a fellowship of persons who have excelled in physics. The society was established at LMU in 1979.

Sigma Tau Delta English Society

Founded at Dakota Wesleyan College in 1924 and established at LMU in 1994, Sigma Tau Delta members are expected to have superior creative talent and to have an interest in literature and language beyond the classroom. They are dedicated to providing cultural and intellectual enlightenment in a community of others who have similar talents and interests.

Sigma Xi Scientific Research Society

At LMU since 1967, Sigma Xi endeavors to encourage support of academic achievement and original work in science and technology and to promote an appreciation within society at large for the role research has played in human progress. Founded at Cornell University in 1886, it is among the oldest such societies in the nation.

Tau Beta Pi Engineering Society

This national engineering honor society was founded at Lehigh University in 1885 to honor students displaying excellence in scholarship and exemplary character as undergraduates in engineering and to foster a spirit of liberal culture in engineering colleges. The LMU chapter was established in 1974.

Theta Alpha Kappa Religious Studies Society

Founded in 1976 at Manhattan College, Theta Alpha Kappa is the only national honor society recognizing excellence of students involved in the study of religion and theology. The society was established at LMU in 1981.

UNIVERSITY HONORS PROGRAM

All University Colleges

Director: Vandana Thadani

Associate Director: John David N. Dionisio

Program Coordinator: Meghan Alcantar

Objectives

The University Honors Program at Loyola Marymount University seeks to offer academically outstanding students with intellectually creative and rigorous courses designed to create a life-long love of learning and the intellectual habits required to serve others. The sequence of courses culminates in a Senior Thesis project (either HNRS 497 or a Senior Thesis/Project course in their major) prepared under the guidance of professorial mentors. Honors students are strongly encouraged to present their work at the LMU Undergraduate Research Symposium as well as national conferences in their discipline. Selected students will have the opportunity to attend and present work at the National Collegiate Honors Council and the Western Regional Honors Council conferences.

For more on the program, including how to apply, please consult the description of the University Honors Program in the Academic Programs and Services section of the Bulletin, or look at the program's website at <http://www.lmu.edu/honors>.

Program Requirements

Students in the University Honors Program replace the University Core with the following University Honors Core:

Foundations (Years 1–2)

Honors Colloquium: Introduction to Honors (1 Semester hour)

Honors First Year Seminar

Philosophical Inquiry (Honors section)

Theological inquiry (Honors section)

In addition, students must take one course in Studies in American Diversity from the University Core.

University Honors students must demonstrate proficiency, by coursework or by examination, to the 203 (intermediate) level of any foreign language. International students fulfill this requirement by TOEFL proficiency in English as a Second Language.

Explorations (Years 2–3)

Honors Colloquium: Research and Exhibition (1 semester hour)

Honors Literary Analysis

Historical Analysis (Honors section)

Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics (Honors section)

In addition, students must take one course in Creative Experience and Understanding Human Behavior from the University Core.

Integrations (Years 3–4)

Honors Colloquium: Post-Baccalaureate Success Seminar (1 semester hour)

Contemplation in Action: Ethics and Justice (Honors section)

Honors Thesis (or thesis/project/capstone course in one's major)

Honors Portfolio and Assessment (0 semester hours)

In addition, students must take one course in Faith and Reason from the University Core.

AP and IB Equivalencies

The University Honors Program offers HNRS credit for AP and IB tests in the appropriate areas in accordance to LMU's AP and IB equivalencies. However, Honors sections of courses (including specifically Literary Analysis; Historical Analysis; and Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics) may not be satisfied in this way. AP credit in a foreign language fulfills the Honors language requirement.

Liberal Studies Students

Students who are working toward elementary education credentials need to meet with the Honors Director to determine the best coursework path. Decisions about courses will be made in consultation with the Center for Undergraduate Teacher Preparation.

BELLARMINA COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

Administration

Dean: Robbin D. Crabtree

Associate Deans: Jennifer Eich, Richard Fox, Michael Horan

Assistant Dean: Shannon Pascual

Mission of the Bellarmine College of Liberal Arts (BCLA)

The Bellarmine College of Liberal Arts (BCLA) embodies the wider University goals of liberal education and commitment to Roman Catholicism and the Judaeo-Christian tradition. The curriculum in the College liberates the mind, nourishes the spirit, and cultivates creativity for the challenges of today and tomorrow. Its courses, therefore, are at the heart of the University's core curriculum for all undergraduates.

BCLA Student Learning Outcomes

By virtue of their liberal arts courses, LMU students should understand:

- The various ways in which knowledge is established and integrated
- The broad outlines of human history and the interconnectedness of the world
- The philosophical and theological dimensions of our intellectual traditions.

By virtue of their liberal arts courses, LMU students should be able to:

- Demonstrate written and oral competencies
- Synthesize and apply knowledge to solve problems, personal and social
- Interact cross-culturally and pursue justice, locally and globally.

By virtue of their liberal arts courses, LMU students should value:

- The life of the mind, enhanced self-awareness and social awareness
- Critical reflection that leads to thoughtful action
- Diversity, responsibility, justice, and globally sound human practice.

Similarly, BCLA students attain the learning outcomes of their majors and minors, found in the following program descriptions.

M.A. in Yoga Studies

Application of General University Requirements

The University requirements for admission, graduation, and all general rules and regulations of the University as set forth in this Bulletin are applicable to and binding upon all students enrolled in the Bellarmine College of Liberal Arts.

Degree Requirements for a Baccalaureate Degree in the Bellarmine College of Liberal Arts

The degree program has three components: core, major, and electives. The core curriculum, which is taken throughout the four-year program, provides educational breadth and embodies Loyola Marymount's educational mission and vision. The major provides a field of concentration that develops a depth of understanding in the humanities or social sciences. Finally, up to one-third of the program is made up of electives. This provides the opportunity for exploring fields of study complementary to the major or for developing expertise in a second major or minor.

All BCLA students should be aware of the following policies:

120 semester hours are required for graduation with the following distribution: a) at least 45 semester hours of upper division, and b) a maximum of 30 upper division semester hours in any one department will be accepted toward graduation requirements.

No more than 9 semester hours in any of the following programs will be accepted toward degree requirements: ART, DANC (studio technique/performance), MUSC (applied music, studio, or performance), THEA (technical or performance).

Liberal Arts students with a double major or minor in one of the above departments are allowed to exceed the 9 semester hour limit in order to complete their programs. Only those units that are applicable to the double major or minor will be accepted toward graduation requirements.

Enrollment by degree-seeking students at another institution at the same time they are enrolled at LMU is not permitted. Courses taken concurrently elsewhere will not be accepted toward degree requirements in BCLA. See Financial Aid policies for additional restrictions.

The Bellarmine College of Liberal Arts accepts a maximum of two semester hours of physical education only upon entrance for a new transfer student. Other physical education hours do not count toward degree requirements.

A maximum of 10 semester hours of Aerospace credit will be accepted. This credit is limited to:

- AERO 100 1 semester hour
- AERO 101 1 semester hour
- AERO 200 1 semester hour
- AERO 201 1 semester hour
- AERO 300/AERO 400 3 semester hours
- AERO 301/AERO 401 3 semester hours

Students should consult the Dean's Office for specific policies applicable to the Bellarmine College of Liberal Arts.

Students Interested in Teaching in California Public Schools

Students wishing to teach grades K–5 in California public schools are required to obtain a Multiple Subjects Subject Matter Teaching Credential and demonstrate “subject matter competence” to teach the many subjects commonly taught in elementary school. Subject matter competence must be demonstrated by passing the California Subject Examination for Teachers (CSET). To prepare for this examination, students complete the requirements of the Liberal Studies Bachelor's of Arts degree in the Bellarmine College of Liberal Arts. Students interested in the Liberal Studies degree program should consult a Liberal Studies advisor.

Students wishing to teach in grades 6–12 in California public schools are required to obtain a Single Subject Credential and demonstrate “subject matter competence” to teach a particular subject (e.g., English, Social Studies, Foreign Language, Mathematics, or Science). Subject matter competence can be demonstrated by either passing a national exam or by successfully completing an approved subject matter preparation program in English. Students interested in teaching English at the 6–12 grades levels should consult the English Subject Matter advisor in the English Department. The Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering offers an approved single subject preparation program in mathematics. Students interested in teaching mathematics should consult an advisor in the Mathematics Department. Subject matter preparation programs in science and French are pending, whereas Spanish and the social sciences have been approved.

A Multiple Subjects Subject Matter or Single Subject Matter teaching credential can be earned concurrently with a Bachelor's degree. Except for Liberal Studies majors, students may declare a minor in Education and begin taking Education courses after completion of 30 semester hours (first semester Sophomore standing). In order to maximize the full potential of taking Education courses with the undergraduate program, students are strongly encouraged to declare the Education minor early in their career. Credential programs are also available in Special Education (K–12) and Bilingual Education (Spanish, K–12). For more information on Education programs, see the School of Education section in this Bulletin.

Secondary Teacher Preparation Programs

For information on these programs, see the Secondary Teacher Preparation section in this Bulletin.

African American Studies, B.A.

Objectives

African American Studies is an interdisciplinary department with a worldview grounded in the perspective of Africa and the Diaspora. This worldview forms the basis of our intellectual, theoretical, and methodological approaches. The objective of African American Studies is to understand the forces that impact the lives of people of African descent in America as well as the influences of African descent on America and beyond. The Department's curriculum challenges students to integrate knowledge and analytical skills from disciplines such as sociology, history, literature, political science, philosophy, and economics so that a more holistic understanding emerges.

By examining the lived experiences of Africans in America and throughout the Diaspora from the perspective of various disciplines, students develop a deeper understanding of themselves and their interactions within a diverse society. Thus, African American Studies provides students with an excellent preparation for graduate study, professional schools, social advocacy and activism to promote social justice, and numerous employment opportunities (e.g., law, education, counseling, entertainment, social work, public relations, business, etc.) that require a Bachelor of Arts degree.

African American Studies Student Learning Outcomes

By virtue of exposure to African American Studies courses, African American Studies students should know:

- The general history of African American people in the U.S. and the Diaspora
- The significance of the concept of an African worldview and its significance to African American-centered scholarship
- How to conduct social science research and to interpret scientific data
- The basic research questions posed by the various disciplines contributing to a better understanding of the African American experience
- The value of embracing the concept of diversity in the modern and complex world in which we live
- The pathways to graduate schools and professional careers provided to a major or minor in African American Studies
- The scope and content of African-centered knowledge systems;

African American Studies students should be able to:

- Effectively employ social science methodologies in the analysis of issues related to African Americans
- Demonstrate written and oral competencies in the analysis of theories and practices
- Identify and utilize appropriate primary data, including census and demographic data
- Apply their understanding of social issues to the development and critical analysis of programs and policies that impact residents in rural and urban areas
- Develop a basic knowledge and appreciation of the Black Aesthetic
- Develop an understanding of the forces that negatively impact the Black family and other institutions in the Black community;

African American Studies students should value:

- The contributions of Black people to America and to world civilization
- The importance of diversity in a complex world
- Critical thinking as an important problem solving skill
- Community service and service learning as meaningful activities
- The dignity of all human cultures.

Major Requirements

Lower Division:

AFAM 115	Introduction to African American Studies 3 semester hours
AFAM 150	Black Cultural Arts 3 semester hours
AFAM 155	African American History 3 semester hours

African American Studies Model Four-Year Plan

The normal course load is 15 semester hours (5 classes). By following the model below, a student will complete all lower division core requirements by the end of the sophomore year as well as AFAM major prerequisites. Note that core areas are suggested to provide a distribution of various disciplines every semester. Please be flexible implementing these suggestions, given your own interests and course availability. In four years, this plan meets all common graduation requirements.

Minor Requirements

18 semester hours, including AFAM 115, AFAM 150 or AFAM 155, and AFAM 335 and nine (9) semester hours in upper division courses. An average grade of C (2.0) must be obtained in the courses included in the minor.

American Cultures Studies

Coordinator: Edward Park

Mission of American Cultures Studies

Courses in American Cultures Studies will enhance students' familiarity with and appreciation of several of the diverse cultural groups that comprise the multi-ethnic society of the United States. The in-depth, comparative, and interdisciplinary study of the cultures, behaviors, experiences, and inter-group relations of the following groups—African American, Asian/Pacific Islander American, Chicano/Latino American, Euro-American, and Native American—will provide students with competencies and sensibilities that will enable them to contribute to and thrive in a culturally diverse world. (It is understood that the above categories do not include the entirety of peoples comprising the United States of America. Moreover, it is recognized that a rich variety of cultures is also represented within these broad groups.)

Students will strengthen their knowledge and awareness of various ethnic or cultural groups. They will also develop analytical responses to various forms of cultural expression. This approach asks students to challenge the boundaries of ethnicity, culture, and academic discipline. In so doing, students improve their intergroup communication skills and become better able to see, appreciate, and respect the perspectives of others—factors that are essential to the creation of a more understanding and just society.

Goals of American Cultures Studies

Courses in American Cultures Studies are designed to:

- Provide strategies and competencies necessary to thrive in and contribute to a multiethnic and inter-cultural environment.
- Link theory and practice in the Jesuit-Marymount tradition.

American Cultures Studies Student Learning Outcomes

Students who have completed an AMCS course will:

- Know the histories, cultures, and politics of major ethno-racial groups in American society
- Know the role of race and ethnicity in shaping the American experience.

Students who have completed an AMCS course will be able to:

- Become more informed and effective participants in a culturally diverse world
- Evaluate the multiracial and multiethnic dimension of American life.

Students who have completed an AMCS course will value:

- Historical and contemporary efforts to build a more just and inclusive America
- Commitment to social justice and inter-culturalism.

All courses in this curriculum satisfy the AMCS component of the student's core requirement. Some of the courses are also cross-listed in other disciplines.

Asian and Pacific Studies

Director: Robin Wang

Faculty

Professor: Robin Wang

Assistant Professor: Yanjie Wang

Asian and Pacific Studies, B.A.

Objectives

Asian and Pacific Studies, an interdisciplinary area studies program, provides a general background to the traditions and cultures of Asia and the Pacific as well as an understanding of contemporary issues relating to that region. Furthermore, given the present shift of interest to the Pacific region, it aims to deepen the student's knowledge of Asia and the Pacific or of a country/area through a concentrated study in one academic discipline. This academic program, therefore, is intended to develop the student's personal interest in Asian and Pacific affairs and to prepare her or him for Asia-related career opportunities. All students are encouraged to spend some time in Asia through the various programs available to them.

Asian and Pacific Studies Student Learning Outcomes

- Students will come to understand the culture of the Asia Pacific region and its contributions to human civilization, with special attention to distinctively Asian culture and spiritual traditions that originated in this region
- Students will enhance their competencies by doing original research on topics of concern in the Asia Pacific region, and communicate their findings in both written and oral presentations. Students will also acquire a basic knowledge and skill in an Asian language

- Students will have the opportunity to develop self-awareness by exploring interactively the relationships between their own cultures and those of the Asian Pacific region.

Major Requirements

Lower Division Requirements (18 semester hours) including:

ASPA 201 Asian Civilizations 3 semester hours
HIST 198 Special Studies 1 TO 3 semester hours

Language Requirement:

Study of an Asian language (competence expected is the equivalent of a two-year study, i.e., 12 semester hours). Native speakers of an Asian language may be exempted from the language requirement but will be strongly encouraged to study another language. At LMU, course credit may be obtained for ARCH 205, ARCH 305 (Sanskrit); CHIN 101, CHIN 102, CHIN 203, CHIN 204; FLPN 101, FLPN 102, FLPN 203, FLPN 204; JAPN 101, JAPN 102, JAPN 203, JAPN 204. At UCLA, credit may be obtained through the SOCCIS program for Arabic, Korean, and Mongolian.

Upper Division Requirements (24 semester hours):

ASPA 302 Masterpieces of East Asian Literature 3 semester hours
ASPA 305 Economic and Political Issues in Contemporary Asia 3 semester hours
ASPA 500 Senior Integrating Seminar 3 semester hours

Note: Choose the additional twelve upper-division semester hours from ASPA courses or, in consultation with the Director, from courses with substantial content focused on Asia and the Pacific region in other disciplines, including art, business, economics, history, philosophy, political science, and theological studies.

Asian Pacific American Studies

Director: Edward Park

Faculty

Professor: Edward Park

Assistant Professor: Curtiss Takada Rooks

Asian Pacific American Studies MinorObjectives

Asian Pacific American Studies (APAM) is a program that supports Loyola Marymount's commitment to multicultural education. APAM grew out of the Asian Pacific Studies Program (ASPA) in 1992. While ASPA focuses on the traditions and cultures of Asia and the Pacific, APAM is designed to enhance student understanding of the history and contemporary issues that impact the lives of Asian Pacific Americans in the United States. A minor in APAM is available at LMU.

People of all races and ethnicities are encouraged to enroll in APAM courses. Only through a critical understanding of our multicultural society can we begin to "live together, learn together, work together, and forge new ties that bind together."

Asian Pacific American Studies Student Learning OutcomesOutcomes

- A greater understanding of the historical contributions of Asian Pacific Americans
- A more critical understanding of contemporary issues facing the Asian Pacific American communities
- A deeper appreciation of the ethnic, class, gender, and generation diversity of Asian Pacific Americans
- A greater appreciation of Asian Pacific American cultural, literary, and artistic expressions

APAM Minor Requirements

APAM 117	Introduction to Asian Pacific American Studies 3 semester hours
APAM 500	Capstone Course 3 semester hours
_____	ASPA Upper Division (12 semester hours required)

Note: Other courses may be approved with the consent of the Director.

BioethicsFaculty

Director: Roberto Dell'Oro

Mission Statement

The graduate programs in bioethics at Loyola Marymount University are distinct programs of study leading to a Master of Arts degree or a Graduate Certificate in Bioethics. The programs seek to provide graduate educational opportunities that will enable students to reflect systematically on contemporary issues in bioethics through a challenging liberal arts and sciences curriculum with a commitment to social justice.

Bioethics Graduate Certificate

The Graduate Certificate in Bioethics program prepares individuals to deal with the complexities of bioethical issues arising in clinical practice and to become leaders in decision-making about bioethical problems in their respective institutions. A Graduate Certificate in Bioethics can augment clinical practice and prepare healthcare professionals (e.g., physicians, nurses, clinical social workers, pastoral care personnel, hospital administrators, etc.) to serve on medical center bioethics committees.

Program Requirements

The Graduate Certificate requires a total of 12 semester hours of graduate coursework, completed over a program of 4 three-semester-hour courses.

Required Courses: 12 semester hours

BIOE 6000	Introduction to Bioethics	3 semester hours
BIOE 6100	Bioethics at the Beginning of Life	3 semester hours
BIOE 6200	Law and Bioethics	3 semester hours
BIOE 6300	Bioethics at the End of Life	3 semester hours

Bioethics, M.A.

The Master of Arts in Bioethics is a multidisciplinary program that facilitates learning and thinking from an interdisciplinary perspective. It fosters the critical analysis of bioethical topics through the interplay between moral theory and medical practice. An M.A. in Bioethics can prepare students for doctoral study at another institution or complement other graduate work in fields such as Philosophy, Law, Medicine, Theology, and Spiritual Care.

Learning Outcomes of the M.A. Program in Bioethics

Graduates of the Bioethics Institute will be able to:

- Understand the basic problems, methods, and approaches to the field of bioethics
- Familiarize with the main ethical theories of bioethics and identify the philosophical components of the public discussion on bioethical issues
- Engage in the critical analysis of bioethical questions and articulate their theoretical and practical dimension
- Recognize and interpret the theological presuppositions of bioethical questions and appreciate the contribution of religious traditions to the field of bioethics
- Appreciate the importance of ethical dialogue across different philosophical traditions
- Become familiar with the clinical context of medicine and recognize the ethical challenges facing health care professionals and their patients today
- Understand the legal and public policy implications of bioethics and become able to understand the interplay of morality and law both at a general level and in relation to specific bioethical issues

Degree Requirements

The Master of Arts degree requires a total of thirty semester hours of graduate coursework, completed over a program of 10 three-semester-hour courses, including 7 core and 3 elective courses.

Required Courses in Bioethics: 30 semester hours

BIOE 6000	Introduction to Bioethics	3 semester hours
BIOE 6100	Bioethics at the Beginning of Life	3 semester hours
BIOE 6200	Law and Bioethics	3 semester hours

BIOE 6400	Clinical Bioethics	3 semester hours
BIOE 6500	Elective Topics in Bioethics	3 semester hours (total of 9 semester hours)
BIOE 6600	Foundations of Theological Ethics	3 semester hours
BIOE 6700	Foundations of Philosophical Ethics	3 semester hours

Catholic Studies

Interim Director: Barbara Rico

Catholic Studies Minor

Objectives

Catholic Studies is an academic interdisciplinary minor program designed to expose students to the study of the intellectual, social, cultural, and spiritual expressions of Catholicism. It is grounded in Vatican II's discussion of the Church in the modern world, with its focus on human culture, dignity, and justice. On the one hand, Catholic Studies' interdisciplinary nature mirrors the complex diversity that is Catholicism, as it intersects and interacts with history and culture. On the other hand, its intellectual and academic focus gives it purpose and direction as a program intent on studying, exploring, critiquing, and understanding the relationship between faith and culture. Therefore, it welcomes students and professors from any religious background and/or faith commitment and viewpoints.

Catholic Studies' students pursue such issues as the influence of Catholicism upon the development of philosophy and the arts; the relationship between Catholicism and the history of world civilizations; the intellectual and ethical issues raised by the interactions of theology, science, and modern culture; Catholic social thought and practice; and the theological foundations of Catholicism. In addition, it offers students opportunities to explore the Ignatian tradition that grounds LMU's founding orders, the Society of Jesus and the Religious of the Sacred Heart of Mary. Moreover, it also makes available opportunities for community service and spiritual activities, expressions of the University's commitment to a faith that does justice. Catholic Studies celebrates Catholicism as a living heritage.

Faculty from a number of LMU's departments, schools, and colleges teach courses cross-listed with Catholic Studies.

Catholic Studies Student Learning Outcomes

1. Students minoring in Catholic Studies will be given opportunities to learn about Catholicism as an intellectual, social, spiritual, and cultural tradition within the history of ideas.
2. Students minoring in Catholic Studies will be given opportunities to develop
 - a. their ability to do scholarly work on various topics having to do with Catholicism, ranging from theology and philosophy to the creative and critical arts, the humanities, business, and the social and natural sciences
 - b. their ability to appreciate and evaluate Catholic contributions to and expressions in all fields of learning
 - c. their ability to make connections among the many disciplines focusing on Catholicism
3. Students minoring in Catholic Studies will be encouraged to examine and value the distinctive contribution of Catholicism to world civilization.
4. Students minoring in Catholic Studies will be able to draw on their own experience and insights to further their self-reflection.

CATH Minor Requirements

The Catholic Studies minor program consists of 18 semester hours, with at least 12 being upper division, structured as follows:

- A. Foundational course (3 semester hours):

CATH 122	Theological Foundations of Catholicism	3 semester hours or
THST 122	Theological Foundations of Catholicism	3 semester hours
- B. Faith and Culture (3 semester hours upper division):
One course that explores Catholicism as an intellectual, social, spiritual, and/or cultural tradition within the history of ideas.
- C. Critical/Creative Arts (3 semester hours upper division):
One course that critically explores the interplay between Catholicism and the arts or one course that allows students to explore and express Catholic faith creatively.
- D. Additional CATH (6 semester hours, at least 3 being upper division).
- E. Capstone (3 semester hours):
CATH 490 Seminar in Catholic Studies 3 semester hours

Note: A service-learning course with a Catholic focus would replace any one course from the Faith and Culture and Creative/Critical Arts categories.

Chicana/o Studies

Faculty

Chairperson: KarenMary Davalos

Professors: KarenMary Davalos, Deena J. González, Fernando J. Guerra

Assistant Professor: Eliza Rodriguez y Gibson

Chicana/o Studies, B.A.

Objectives

The interdisciplinary Chicana/o Studies curriculum is designed to enhance student understanding of the unique influence of the Chicano/Latino community in the United States. It is the belief of the Department that a liberal arts education should expose students to as many cultures and perspectives as possible. This exposure emphasizes the following aspects of the goals of the University: the encouragement of learning, the education of the whole person, the service of faith, and the promotion of justice. The goals of Chicana/o Studies have a special meaning given the significant historical and contemporary presence of Mexican and Chicana/o peoples in Los Angeles. Chicana/o Studies courses attempt to prepare all students to live in and contribute to a society which is increasingly diverse.

Chicana/o Studies Student Learning Outcomes

At the end of a course of study, in the major or minor in Chicana/o Studies, students will be able to:

- Interpret, define, and evaluate historical and contemporary information about Mexican-origin people living in the U.S.;
- Use and apply humanistic, scientific, and/or social science methods to arrive at understandings about Chicana/os;
- Compare and contrast recent theories, methodologies, ideas, and developments central to the discipline of Chicana/o Studies.

Classics and Archaeology

Faculty

Chairperson: Matthew Dillon

Professors: Matthew Dillon, William J. Fulco, S.J. (National Endowment for the Humanities Professor of Ancient Mediterranean Studies), Katerina Zacharia

Major Programs

The Department of Classics and Archaeology offers a variety of majors: Classics, Greek, Latin, and Classical Civilizations. The Classics major offers a traditional training in both Greek and Latin language and literature (in the original), although students may opt to major exclusively in Greek or Latin. The Classical Civilizations major allows the student to study the cultures of Greece, Rome, and the Near East from various cultural perspectives in conjunction with other departments; in this major, language study is encouraged but not required.

At entry to the University, students declare the major/minor through the Office of Admission. LMU students wishing to declare the major/minor must meet with the chair/program director. The chair/director would ordinarily sign the student's Change of Program form, provided the student meets certain academic standards that include having a minimum LMU GPA of 2.0 (C) and not otherwise being on academic probation.

Classical Civilizations, B.A.

Objectives

The Department of Classics and Archaeology seeks to provide the student with a deeper understanding of the literary and cultural foundations of western societies by exploring their roots in the Greek and Roman classical traditions. Our archaeological offerings extend these investigations of early European cultures into their Near Eastern background and include the hands-on study of ancient artifacts. The combined study of the languages, literature, religion, and material cultures of ancient Greece, Rome, and the Near East offers the student a wide-ranging and well-rounded preparation in critical thinking, analytic skills, and writing and prepares the student to contextualize the immense achievements of the past in the modern world. Because of the broad humanistic nature of the programs in Classics and Archaeology, there emerge fundamental questions about what it means to be a human being, and thus the courses in the department offer many interdisciplinary connections with philosophy, theological studies, history, theater, and other academic fields.

Classics and Archaeology Student Learning Outcomes

As a Classics major, the student will:

- Master the grammar and syntax of ancient Greek and Latin, and be able to read ancient literary works at an advanced level
- Be able to critically analyze Greek and Roman literature and to place them in social and historical contexts both ancient and modern
- Develop writing, research, and communication skills, which are articulate, thoughtful, and effective.

As a Classical Civilizations major, the student will:

- Demonstrate a broad knowledge about ancient Mediterranean cultures, including areas such as history, literature in the original or in translation), language (optional, but recommended), art, and archaeology
- Be able to critically analyze the cultures of Greece, Rome, or the ancient Near East and to place them in social and historical contexts both ancient and modern
- Develop writing, research, and communication skills, which are articulate, thoughtful, and effective.

As a Greek major, the student will:

- Master the grammar and syntax of ancient Greek, and be able to read ancient literary works at an advanced level
- Be able to critically analyze Greek literature and to place it in social and historical contexts both ancient and modern
- Develop writing, research, and communication skills, which are articulate, thoughtful, and effective.

As a Latin major, the student will:

- Master the grammar and syntax of classical Latin, and be able to read ancient literary works at an advanced level
- Be able to critically analyze Latin literature and to place it in social and historical contexts both ancient and modern
- Develop writing, research, and communication skills, which are articulate, thoughtful, and effective.

Classical Civilizations Major

Requirements

The Classical Civilizations major is an interdisciplinary program focusing on the classical civilizations of Greece, Rome, and the Near East through the study of literature, history, archaeology, art history, philosophy, theatre, and theology. Greek and/or Latin language study is encouraged but not required.

The Classical Civilizations major consists of 33 semester hours, at least 24 of which must be in upper division courses emphasizing Greek, Roman, or Near Eastern civilization. The study of the Greek and/or Latin language is highly recommended.

Note: Students may take no more than ten upper division courses in any one department, except for Philosophy, in which the maximum is thirteen.

Archaeology Minor

Requirements

The minor in Archaeology consists of ARCH 401 and 15 additional semester hours, of which 6 may be in courses in an appropriate Mediterranean language (e.g., ancient or modern Greek, Latin, Hebrew, or Arabic, or a Romance language if it is relevant to a particular archaeological emphasis).

Classical Civilizations Minor

Requirements

18 semester hours, at least 9 in the upper division.

Lower Division Requirement:

CLCV 200	Classical Epic in Translation 3 semester hours or
CLCV 210	Greek Tragedy 3 semester hours

Upper Division Requirement:

CLCV 451	Classical Mythology 3 semester hours
----------	--------------------------------------

Classics Minor

Requirements

18 semester hours, at least 9 in upper division. All courses must be in Greek and/or Latin Language and Literature. Students who test out of lower division language courses will fulfill 18 semester hours in the upper division.

Upper Division Requirements:

GREK 311	Homer 3 semester hours or
LATN 312	Virgil 3 semester hours or
LATN 313	Catullus 3 semester hours or
LATN 314	Horace 3 semester hours

Greek Minor

Requirements

18 semester hours, at least 9 in the upper division.

Lower Division Requirements:

GREK 101	Elementary Greek I 3 semester hours
GREK 102	Elementary Greek II 3 semester hours
GREK 201	Intermediate Greek 3 semester hours

Note: Students who test out of lower division language courses will fulfill 18 semester hours of upper division work in Greek language and literature.

Upper Division Requirements:

GREK 311	Homer 3 semester hours or
GREK 312	Greek Drama 3 semester hours
GREK 322	Greek Philosophy 3 semester hours or
GREK 325	Greek Orators 3 semester hours or
GREK 327	Greek Historians 3 semester hours

Latin Minor

Requirements

18 semester hours, at least 9 in the upper division.

Lower Division Requirements:

LATN 101	Elementary Latin I 3 semester hours
LATN 102	Elementary Latin II 3 semester hours
LATN 201	Intermediate Latin 3 semester hours

Note: Students who test out of lower division language courses will fulfill 18 semester hours of upper division work in Latin language and literature.

Upper Division Requirements:

LATN 312	Virgil 3 semester hours
LATN 321	Cicero 3 semester hours

Modern Greek Minor

Objectives

The Modern Greek Studies Program offers students the opportunity to study Modern Greece—its language, literature, history (from the Byzantine Empire to the present), its Christian Orthodox tradition, and its arts. Modern Greek Studies on the LMU campus may be supplemented by the Summer Study Abroad courses of The Odyssey Program.

Minor Program

The minor in Modern Greek Studies consists of 18 semester hours, of which at least 6 hours must be at the 300 or 400 level. The following distribution is recommended, with the approval of the Director of the minor:

9 semester hours of Modern Greek language instruction
3–6 semester hours from upper division MDGK courses
3–6 semester hours from the following:

CLCV 230	The First Historians 3 semester hours
CLCV 301	Greek Civilization 3 semester hours
CLCV 451	Classical Mythology 3 semester hours
HIST 410	History of Byzantine Empire 3 semester hours
HIST 450	Modern Greek History and Society 3 semester hours
THST 322	Greek Orthodox Tradition 3 semester hours
THST 352	Orthodox Christian Spirituality 3 semester hours

Other Courses

Note: The Basil P. Caloyeras Center also sponsors the following courses with other departments:

CLCV 304	Art and Architecture of Ancient Greece 3 semester hours
HIST 410	History of Byzantine Empire 3 semester hours

Entry into the Major or Minor

At entry to the University, students declare the major or minor through the Office of Admission. Currently enrolled LMU students wishing to declare the major or minor in Economics must meet with an advisor of the Economics Department. The advisor will sign the student's Change of Program form, provided the student meets certain academic standards that include having a minimum LMU GPA of 2.0 (C), not otherwise being on academic probation, and having passed any economics or mathematics courses that he/she might have already taken with grades that satisfy the minimum requirements for those courses in the major or minor as outlined in the University Bulletin.

Economics, B.A.

This degree is suitable for pre-law students or those interested in careers in education; urban planning; and federal, state, and local government.

Objectives

The study of economics illuminates both the limitations and successes of different systems of the production, distribution, and consumption of material wealth. Because of the economy's importance to the human condition, economic knowledge is useful to many other fields, such as political science, sociology, anthropology, law, and history. It, thus, is as central to a liberal arts education as it is to the business program.

The study of economics involves (1) the development of theories of economic behavior and their application to new problems; (2) the use of statistics and other evidence to test or add content to existing theories; (3) the development of perspective on economic institutions, economic history, and the development of economic philosophy. Students are encouraged to engage in independent research on all of these levels.

The goal of the program is to provide the student with the best preparation for employment in business, government, or secondary education, or for continuation to graduate studies in business, law, or economics, leading to careers in management, banking, finance, law, government, or academia.

Economics Student Learning Outcomes

After finishing the Economics major, students should be able to:

1. Recognize the role of economic and other incentives in shaping human behavior in real-world situations.
2. Understand the principles of microeconomics: constrained optimization, production, distribution, consumption, markets, uncertainty and risk.
3. Understand the principles of macroeconomics: economic growth, unemployment, inflation, money, interest rates, balance of payments, and exchange rates.
4. Comprehend the structure, development, and impact of economic institutions.
5. Appreciate the ethical concerns that should underlie economic policy: efficiency, fairness, equity, and individual freedom.
6. Separate the normative from the positive content in economics propositions and research, including separating arguments based on special pleading from those aimed at serving the interests of humanity.
7. Use statistics in order to analyze and understand a problem.
8. Possess the basic mathematical skills needed to understand economic problems.
9. Create or design a model in order to understand an economic problem.
10. Generate or father real-world data concerning economic issues.
11. Write effectively about economics and communicate to readers clearly and fluently.
12. Orally communicate economic ideas well, presenting theories and evidence clearly.

Major Requirements:

Students may pursue either a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) or Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree. The specific requirements of these degrees are explained below.

Economics majors are required to take one social science course from outside the major. The course may be a lower or upper level course in Geography, Political Science, Sociology, Urban Studies, or any course that satisfies the Understanding Human Behavior requirement of the University Core.

Lower Division Requirements:

Economics requirements (6–9 semester hours):

ECON 110	Introductory Microeconomics	3 semester hours
ECON 120	Introductory Macroeconomics	3 semester hours or
ECON 105	Accelerated Introductory Economics	3 semester hours
ECON 230	Introductory Statistics	3 semester hours or
ECON 235	Accelerated Introductory Statistics	3 semester hours

Note: A grade of at least B- (2.7) is required in each of these courses.

Mathematics requirements (0–8 semester hours):

The mathematics requirement for economics may be satisfied with one of two plans, Plan A or Plan B. We strongly recommend Plan A for our majors.

Plan A:

MATH 120	Precalculus Mathematics	3 semester hours (if necessary in order to take MATH 131)
MATH 131	Calculus I	4 semester hours

Note: A grade of at least C (2.0) is required in MATH 131. We also strongly recommend MATH 132, especially for students pursuing a Bachelor of Science degree.

Plan B:

MATH 112	Mathematical Analysis for Business II	3 semester hours or
MATH 131	Calculus I	4 semester hours

Note: A grade of at least B- (2.7) is required in each of these courses.

Note: Students are strongly encouraged to follow Plan A and to take additional mathematics courses beyond these basic requirements in consultation with their economics advisor.

Upper Division Requirements (24 semester hours):

Eight upper division economics courses. A grade of at least C- must be obtained in every upper division course in the major, and the average grade in upper division economics courses must be at least C (2.0). Three theory courses are required: ECON 310, ECON 320, and ECON 410. These courses should be taken by the junior year, although well-prepared students can take them in their sophomore year. Five additional upper division economics courses are required, of which at least two (6 semester hours) must be at the 400 or 500 level. No more than 30 semester hours of upper division economics may count toward the degree requirement of 120 hours. Upper division economics courses must be taken in the LMU Economics Department, except by prior permission of the Chairperson.

Bachelor of Arts (B.A. Economics) with an International Emphasis

At least eight upper division economics courses are needed for the B.A. degree in Economics with an International emphasis, although students can take up to ten. A grade of at least C- must be obtained in every upper division course in the major, and the average grade in upper division economics courses must be at least C (2.0). Six of these courses are required: ECON 310, ECON 320, ECON 370, ECON 372, ECON 410, and ECON 474. ECON 310 and ECON 320 should be taken in the sophomore or junior year, and ECON 370, ECON 372, ECON 410, and ECON 474 should be taken in the junior or senior year. Two additional upper division economics courses are required, of which at least one (3 semester hours) must be at the 400 level. Upper division economics courses must be taken in the LMU Economics Department, except by prior permission of the Chairperson. The B.A. degree with an International emphasis is suitable for students who intend to pursue careers in international agencies of government, NGO, and private corporations doing business in the international arena.

Business and Economics Double Major Requirements

Students with majors in business may also pursue a major in economics by fulfilling the requirements of the B.A. or B.S. track described above. With prior permission of the Department, double majors in Business and Economics may select two upper division Business Administration courses as part of their economics electives.

Assessment Tests

All Economics majors are required to take two tests of learning, one at the end of their freshman year, and another at the end of their senior year. These tests do not determine any grade, but they are required for graduation.

Test of Introductory Economics

During the Spring semester, all Economics majors who have taken ECON 105, ECON 110, or ECON 120 during that academic year are required to take a test of learning of introductory economics.

Comprehensive Test of Economics

All Economics majors who will have completed 100 hours or more by the end of the Spring semester are required to enroll in ECON 490. This is a zero semester hour course, required for graduation, which includes a comprehensive test of economics, a senior exit interview, and possible additional Department evaluation.

Economics Model Four-Year Plan

The normal course load is 15 semester hours (5 classes). By following the model below, a student will complete all lower division core requirements by the end of the sophomore year as well as most major prerequisites. Note that core areas are suggested to provide a distribution of various disciplines every semester. Please be flexible implementing these suggestions, given your own interests and course availability. In four years, this plan meets all common graduation requirements.

Economics, B.S.

The Bachelor of Science degree is suitable for students who 1) wish to continue to graduate school in economics or business (especially finance), 2) are particularly interested in statistics or forecasting, or 3) are interested in any of the careers mentioned for the B.A. degree but who desire a more quantitative preparation. The B.S. degree has the same requirements as the B.A. degree, except for two upper division economics course requirements. Specifically, the B.S. degree additionally requires Mathematics for Economics (ECON 530) and Econometrics (ECON 532).

Students who intend to earn the B.S. degree must submit a Change of Program form to the Office of the Registrar.

Major Requirements:

Students may pursue either a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) or Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree. The specific requirements of these degrees are explained below.

Economics majors are required to take one social science course from outside the major. The course may be a lower or upper level course in Geography, Political Science, Sociology, Urban Studies, or any course that satisfies the Understanding Human Behavior requirement of the University Core.

Lower Division Requirements:

These requirements are the same as for the B.A. Economics degree. Students pursuing the B.S. Economics degree, however, are strongly advised to follow Plan A for the mathematics requirements and to take additional mathematics courses beyond this sequence in consultation with their economics advisor.

Upper Division Requirements (24 semester hours):

Eight upper division economics courses. A grade of at least C- must be obtained in every upper division course in the major, and the average grade in upper division economics courses must be at least C (2.0). In addition to ECON 310, ECON 320, and ECON 410, students are required to take ECON 530 and ECON 532. Three additional upper division economics courses are required, of which at least two (6 semester hours) must be at the 400 or 500 level. No more than 30 semester hours of upper division economics may count toward the degree requirement of 120 hours. Upper division economics courses must be taken in the LMU Economics Department, except by prior permission of the Chairperson.

English Graduate Program

Mission Statement

The Department of English at Loyola Marymount University offers a Master of Arts degree in English with a Literature Emphasis, a Master of Arts degree in English with a Creative Writing Emphasis, and a Master of Arts degree in English with a Rhetoric and Composition Emphasis. We are committed to the interdependence between literature and writing. We believe that the act of engaging the literary and rhetorical fields involves the production of literary, critical, or theoretical texts, and that broad-based reading in the tradition of literature provides the necessary foundation for more focused study and analysis. Therefore, we offer Literature Emphasis, Creative Writing Emphasis, and Rhetoric and Composition Emphasis students an introduction to graduate scholarship within a range of possible critical, rhetorical, and creative modes, while offering the intellectual background and literary study which makes their course of study both theoretically and historically self-conscious.

All emphases within the M.A. program address the needs of a diverse student population; those going on to doctoral programs in literature, literary theory, rhetoric, or creative writing; those pursuing literary or commercial writing careers; those teaching in high schools and community colleges.

Admission Requirements

1. The applicant for the degree of Master of Arts in English should have completed with a 3.0 ("B") average a minimum of seven upper division undergraduate English courses. For applicants to the Literature Emphasis, at least six of these courses should be in literature. For applicants to the Creative Writing Emphasis, at least two of these courses should be in creative writing and at least four in literature, including one in Shakespeare. Applicants to the Rhetoric/Composition Emphasis should have undergraduate preparation in literature and theory, and/or creative, and/or professional writing courses. Any undergraduate preparation in Rhetoric or Composition, linguistics, or peer tutoring/writing lab experience is welcomed though not required.

Any deficiency in grades or course work in undergraduate preparation will require that prerequisite courses at the undergraduate level be taken before work on the ten courses for the Master's degree may be begun. No course at the 600 level may be taken before the prerequisites are completed. A 600-level course taken before the completion of the prerequisite may be counted toward neither the prerequisites nor the requirements for the Master's degree.

- Applicants must submit an application, $50 application fee, and two letters of recommendation. Recommendations should be obtained from individuals who are in a position to comment on the applicant's academic and personal suitability for pursuing graduate work in English.
- Applicants should write an ambition statement (1½–2 pages) in which they indicate which emphasis (Literature, Creative Writing, Rhetoric/Composition) they wish to enter. Applicants should also discuss relevant prior experiences (i.e., Academic, research work, creative writing, or other life experiences) and their career goals. This statement should be included with the basic application.
- A 10–15 page writing sample is required of all applicants. Applicants to the Literature or Rhetoric/Composition Emphasis should submit a sample of their critical writing; applicants to the Creative Writing Emphasis should submit both a 10–15 page critical writing samples AND a sample of their best creative writing. The two combined samples may not exceed 30 pages total. Both writing samples should be combined into one document for upload to the application website.
- The General Test of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is a prerequisite requirement for all applicants. A score of 160 (600 on the previous GRE scale) or higher on the Verbal component of the test is highly recommended.
- The deadline for the receipt of all materials is April 1.

Teaching Fellowships

Students applying for Teaching Fellowships are asked to include, along with their application materials, the following: a resume or c.v.; a letter of application for the Teaching Fellowship; and two letters of recommendation which specifically address their potential abilities as teachers of College Writing. These letters are in addition to letters submitted for admission to the M.A. program.

Rains Research Assistantships

Rains Research Assistantships are available to qualified graduate students by invitation of individual faculty members. These assistantships are paid at $12 per hour for a maximum of 120 hours per academic year. Teaching Fellows are not eligible for Rains Research Assistantships due to federal government financial aid restrictions.

Graduate Assistantships

A Graduate Assistantship and an internship with the William H. Hannon Library's Special Collections are also available. Students who qualify would work an average of 20 hours per week during the regular semesters. The rate of pay is about $18.00 per hour.

English Undergraduate Program

English Department Mission

Believing that literature is a profound expression of human experience, the English Department uses a range of critical methods to introduce students to literatures in English from a variety of cultural traditions.

The course work reveals the art form's creative beauty, strategies for representing the human experience, and its power to shape the reader.

The English Department encourages an understanding of the critical and creative union of reading and writing as fundamental to the processes of developing the self. Through their imaginations, students who major or minor in English interact with language and literature, thereby encountering another equally open and attentive mind: that of the writer they are reading or of the reader who comes to the work they have created. As students of the literary arts, English majors and minors prepare for a lifetime of reading and writing, enlightenment and fulfillment, learning to do what Toni Morrison describes as a dance of two minds.

English, B.A.

English Student Learning Outcomes

English majors know:

- The history of literatures in the English language
- A variety of critical theories
- The range of creative choices made by the literary artist.
- English majors are able to:
 - Read literary texts closely and carefully
 - Interpret analytically and innovatively using a variety of critical and theoretical approaches
 - Write creatively and effectively
 - Perceive and express the artistry, ideas, and social significance of language.

English majors value:

- The ways in which literature represents human experience
- The affect of literature on the artist and reader
- The artistry of precise and elegant expression.

Major Requirements

Please note that English majors may take no more than ten upper division English courses and have them count toward graduation.

A student wishing to declare the English major must be in good academic standing with a minimum GPA of C (2.0).

Lower Division Requirements for all emphases (12 semester hours):

ENGL 201	Language of Poetry 3 semester hours
ENGL 200	Language of Drama 3 semester hours or
ENGL 202	Language of Fiction 3 semester hours
ENGL 203	History of British Literature I 3 semester hours
ENGL 204	History of British Literature II 3 semester hours

Note: A grade of C (2.0) is required in each premajor course before qualifying for upper division status as an English major. Students transferring into the Department after their sophomore year may enroll in upper division courses in the major concurrently with the premajor courses. Students must complete all upper division courses in the major with a minimum grade of C (2.0) in order to maintain status as English majors. Failure to maintain this standard or failure to make sufficient progress toward completion of the major will result in probation or disqualification from the Department.

Upper Division Requirements:

There are three programs for the major in English.

English majors should officially declare an emphasis no later than the first semester of their junior year.

I. The English Major: Literature Emphasis

27 semester hours in upper division courses. Up to six of these semester hours may be taken in writing classes.

Upper Division Requirements:

ENGL 321	Shakespeare: The Major Plays 3 semester hours or
ENGL 322	Studies in Shakespeare 3 semester hours
ENGL 371	American Literature I 3 semester hours or
ENGL 372	American Literature II 3 semester hours
	One course in English or American Literature prior to 1800 (excluding Shakespeare).
	Two courses in English or American Literature after 1800.
	One course in Theory (consult with your advisor).
	One course in Comparative/Cultural Literatures or Writing (includes any course in multi-ethnic literature, gender-based literature, world literature, or foreign language literature in translation. Check with your advisor to determine which courses may be used to fulfill this requirement.)
	6 additional upper division semester hours.

Total lower division and upper division: 39 semester hours

A minimum grade of C (2.0) must be obtained in each course in the major.

II. The English Major: Writing Emphasis

27 semester hours in upper division courses.

Upper Division Requirements:

ENGL 321	Shakespeare: The Major Plays 3 semester hours or
ENGL 322	Studies in Shakespeare 3 semester hours
ENGL 371	American Literature I 3 semester hours or
ENGL 372	American Literature II 3 semester hours
	One course in English or American Literature before or after 1800 (excluding Shakespeare).
	Three upper division writing courses (excluding ENGL 569).
	One course in Theory (consult with your advisor).
	One course in Comparative/Cultural Literatures or Writing (includes any multi-ethnic writing or literature course, gender-based writing or literature course, world writing or literature course, or any foreign language literature course in translation. Check with your advisor to determine which courses may be used to fulfill this requirement.)
	3 additional upper division semester hours.

Total lower division and upper division: 39 semester hours.

A minimum grade of C (2.0) must be obtained in each course in the major.

III. The English Major: Secondary Teacher Preparation Program for English

For information on this program, see the Secondary Teacher Preparation Program section in this Bulletin.

English Model Four-Year Plan

The normal course load is 15 semester hours (5 classes). By following the model below, a student will complete all lower division core requirements by the end of the sophomore year as well as most major prerequisites. Note that core areas are suggested to provide a distribution of various disciplines every semester. Please be flexible implementing these suggestions, given your own interests and course availability. In four years, this plan meets all common graduation requirements.

Note: Students may take no more than ten upper division courses in any one department, except for Philosophy, in which the maximum is thirteen.

Upper division courses are open to juniors and seniors only. With the permission of the Chairperson, ENGL 321, ENGL 322, ENGL 371, and ENGL 372 may be open to sophomores who have taken or are concurrently enrolled in the required lower division, pre-major English courses.

Certificate

Journalism Certificate

(Open to all majors and minors, 18 semester hours)

A large number of LMU graduates have gone on to successful careers or graduate work in Journalism by earning an LMU Journalism Certificate. These students, who have often majored or minored in English, Communication Studies, or other majors, have taken advantage of a number of exciting LMU courses that constitute "The Journalism Certificate." (Note: Some of the courses you take for the Certificate may also be counted toward your Major or Minor in English, Communication Studies, or the OLD core.) The Journalism Certificate is ideal for students who intend pursuing a Masters or Ph. D. in Journalism, or who plan to work as a Freelance journalist, PR or Advertising, in corporate communications, for a newspaper or magazine or on various new media platform. The Journalism Certificate at LMU offers maximum flexibility as no specific courses are required. The "certificate" appears as a line on the student's final transcript, and may be referenced in a student's résumé. (You will not receive a frameable certificate from the Office of the Registrar.) Note: The Journalism Certificate is not a major or minor.

It is important to note that a working journalist often develops a specialization in a particular area, such as sports, entertainment, or politics. Elective courses in these areas would, of course, be useful. The Journalism Curriculum includes Political Science courses specifically since local, state, and national politics have an impact on most news, and politics is considered an important working knowledge base for any journalist. Ethics coursework from the Philosophy Department is also included, as ethics are a concern at the forefront of a career in Journalism. Interdisciplinary Applied Programs contributes a selection of PR and media coursework. A total of 18 units or six courses is required to earn the certificate. Generally Students may elect one course from PHIL, or one course from POLS, or one course from IDAP courses listed.

Five (5) Journalism Certificate courses must be selected from the English courses listed. In some cases where students have other experience as a journalist either on LMU publications, work, or high school, an additional IDAP or other course may be approved, dropping the total of English/Journalism required courses to four (4). Some students will take all six courses from the Journalism/English courses listed. Consult Dr. Linda Bannister to make sure your program fulfills the certificate requirements.

Selecting Courses

Students interested in assembling a Journalism Curriculum should review each semester's course offerings across the colleges, paying particular attention to special studies courses focusing on journalistic issues, media topics, or related fields. Students may consult with Dr. Linda Bannister, Journalism Certificate Advisor, (lbannist@lmu.edu, 310.338.2854, UH 3875), to determine which special or new courses may be appropriate. The Journalism Certificate eligible courses offered by the College of Communication and Fine Arts (IDAP courses) may require the permission of Dr. Dean Scheibel, Director, Interdisciplinary Applied Programs (dscheibel@lmu.edu).

Note: Although there is no set sequence for taking Journalism courses, some of the above listed courses may carry prerequisite courses that must be completed first. Students interested in Journalism are also strongly advised to participate in LMU's award-winning student newspaper The Los Angeles Loyolan, The Tower Yearbook, The ROAR Network, and/or The Marymount Institute Press.

Obtaining the Journalism Certificate

A Journalism Certificate can be issued to the students who successfully completes 18 units or 6 classes of approved Journalism coursework (earning a C [2.0] or better in each course). The bulk of the student's curriculum, at least 5 of 6 courses selected, generally should consist of writing courses from the Journalism coursework offered by the English Department. Students should bring a transcript (unofficial is fine) with name, phone, email address, and ID number written on it and showing 18 units of accepted, completed coursework to Dr. Linda Bannister in University Hall 3875 at least one month prior to intended graduation with appropriate courses highlighted. Notice of Certificate approval will be forwarded by e-mail to the Office of the Registrar and to the student by Dr. Bannister. Students who seek a certificate can be advised on how to create a program that focuses on their area of interest; for example, political reporting, sports reporting, electronic media, etc.

Note: This certificate program is not a major or a minor. No application or Change of Program paperwork from the Office of the Registrar is required. You need only e-mail your interest to Dr. Bannister to sign up. Get on our mailing list ASAP to learn of Journalism events on campus. Email your contact information (email, cell, mailing address) and student ID to Dr. Bannister at lbannist@lmu.edu.

English, M.A.

Degree Requirements

Work for the degree of Master of Arts in English includes a minimum of 10 courses (30 semester hours) plus the Capstone Portfolio Project (0 semester hours). Courses selected must be approved by the Director of the Graduate English program. For the completion of the Master of Arts in English, all students are required to take Critical Methodology (in the first semester), Contemporary Critical Theory (in the first year) and a Major Writer Seminar. In addition, we strongly suggest that students take courses in as many of the following areas as possible: 1) Old English, Middle English, or Renaissance literature; 2) Restoration or 18th Century literature; 3) 19th Century or modern English literature; 4) American literature; and 5) a literary genre. All students must take at least four courses at the 600 level. Courses in the 500 group which receive a grade of "B-" or less will not count toward the degree.

Literature Emphasis (Ten Courses)

- Critical Methodology (1)
- Contemporary Critical Theory (1)
- Major Writer (1)

- Literature and Theory Electives (5–7)
- Creative Writing Seminar (0–2)

Creative Writing Emphasis (Ten Courses)

- Critical Methodology (1)
- Contemporary Critical Theory (1)
- Major Writer (1)
- Creative Writing Seminar (4)
- Literature and Theory Electives (3)

Rhetoric and Composition Emphasis (Ten Courses)

- Critical Methodology (1)
- Contemporary Critical Theory (1)
- Major Writer (1)
- Literature and Theory Electives (3)
- Rhetoric and Composition Theory and Practice (3)
- Linguistics or Reading Theory (1)

Capstone Portfolio Project

The Capstone Portfolio Project is a culminating project that requires students to work under the supervision of an advisor to create a critical or creative portfolio that highlights his/her research or creative interests. The portfolio is evaluated by the advisor and a second reader for quality of work and mastery of skills acquired throughout the graduate program.

Details of requirements, evaluation, and deadlines are described in the Graduate Handbook available on the Department website.

Foreign Language Requirement

Applicants for the degree of Master of Arts in English who wish a recommendation for doctoral work are encouraged to pass an examination designed to test their ability to translate materials pertaining to their field in either French, German, Spanish, or Latin.

Student Learning Outcomes

Students who complete the Master's Degree in English will:

- Master the terms and issues specific to the discipline and profession of literary studies.
- Understand the history and nature of the discipline and prepare for a future in academia or teaching.
- Master professional writing skills for tasks including book reviews, abstracts, short critical essays, and research projects.
- Have experience giving presentations and making submissions for professional publications and/or conferences.
- Engage critically and deeply with a range of literatures and literary theories.

English Minor

Requirements

A student wishing to declare the English minor must be in good academic standing with a minimum GPA of C (2.0).

18 semester hours beyond 100-level courses, including:

ENGL 200	Language of Drama	3 semester hours or
ENGL 201	Language of Poetry	3 semester hours or
ENGL 202	Language of Fiction	3 semester hours

One survey course:

ENGL 203	History of British Literature I	3 semester hours or
ENGL 204	History of British Literature II	3 semester hours or
ENGL 371	American Literature I	3 semester hours or
ENGL 372	American Literature II	3 semester hours

One pre-1800 course

[Including Shakespeare] (if a student takes ENGL 203 or ENGL 371 to fulfill this requirement, then the student must take a second "survey" course from ENGL 203, ENGL 204, ENGL 371, or ENGL 372).

Nine upper division semester hours in English (excluding ENGL 402)

Note: A minimum grade of C (2.0) must be obtained in each course in the minor.

English Minor in Journalism

Requirements

Open to all non-English majors. English majors interested in Journalism, please see Journalism Certificate Program.

21 semester hours of coursework with a C (2.0) or better in each class. Three courses are required: 1) ENGL 206 Language of Journalism; 2) ENGL 381 Journalism and New Media; and 3) a 400-level journalism Capstone Course with a special backpack/long-form journalism component. ENGL 206 must be taken before or concurrently with ENGL 381. The lower division requirement (ENGL 206) will give Journalism minor students the foundation for further study, acquaint them with journalistic formats, and teach them the fundamentals of reportage and news literacy, essential tools for all apprentice journalists. Students may be exempted from taking ENGL 206 and enroll in ENGL 301 Writing for Journalism I: Workshop instead, if they can demonstrate (via résumé and portfolio) significant secondary or post-secondary journalism proficiency and experience. ENGL 381 Journalism and New Media is the essential introduction to non-print news platforms all Journalism minors must navigate and populate. The 400-level required course will be subtitled "Capstone Course." A course list follows:

1. Two required courses (6 semester hours)

ENGL 206	Language of Journalism	3 semester hours or
ENGL 301	Writing for Journalism I: Workshop	3 semester hours
ENGL 381	Journalism and New Media	3 semester hours
2. One course in community journalism or specialized journalism (3 semester hours)
3. One 400-level capstone course with backpack journalism/long-form focus (3 semester hours). Restricted to Senior Journalism Minors.
4. Three electives (9 semester hours)

Total: 21 semester hours

Screenwriting Minor for English Majors

The School of Film and Television offers a minor as an option to students majoring in the writing emphasis in the English Department. The minor consists of 18 semester hours. Check for the full description of the minor under the Screenwriting section of this Bulletin.

Environmental Studies

Director

Brian Treanor

Environmental Studies Minor

Objectives

The Environmental Studies Program offers an interdisciplinary minor designed to help students acquire an understanding of the complex issues and concerns associated with the environment. Building on courses in a variety of departments in the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences, the Environmental Studies Program minor offers a coherent curriculum addressing some of the most pressing ecological, political, economic, social, and ethical programs of the contemporary world.

Students who minor in Environmental Studies will study issues such as: global climate change; resource management, including excessive consumption and the just distribution of resources; genetically modified crops and organisms; biodiversity; wilderness preservation; pollution pressures on the land, air, and sea; sustainable development; the rights or value of non-human animals and nature; energy production; population and consumption; the role of the environment in local, national, and international politics; international agencies and treaties addressing environmental issues; and environmental justice.

The Environmental Studies Program and its curriculum is dedicated to fostering a genuine spirit of interdisciplinary exchange, across both traditional disciplinary as well as college definitions. Faculty from a variety of departments, schools, and colleges may teach courses cross-listed in Environmental Studies, and students from across the University community will find an appropriate niche in the program through its intentionally interdisciplinary nature.

Environmental Studies Minor Student Learning Outcomes

Environmental Studies minor students will know:

- The primary environmental issues confronting humans in the 21st century (e.g., anthropogenic climate change, loss of biodiversity, resource consumption, peak oil, etc.).
- The fundamental science that frames and makes comprehensible current debates about environmental issues (e.g., the carbon cycle)
- How to assess and grasp the moral and ethical significance of environmental crises and the possible responses to those crises using multiple approaches or frames (e.g., utilitarian, deontological, intrinsic value, virtue theory, pragmatic, etc.)
- The practical challenges (e.g., political, economic, etc.) associated with various possible responses to environmental crises.

Environmental Studies minor students will be able to:

- Apply diverse perspectives and methodologies (ways) of addressing environmental questions (e.g., philosophical, economic, scientific, political, theological, etc.), transcending traditional disciplinary boundaries in favor of a more holistic perspective
- Apply the knowledge and analytic skills they have acquired in the course of their studies to real-world issues, bridging the supposed gap between theory and practice
- Demonstrate the ability to write, speak, and think clearly and critically about the issues studied in the minor.

Environmental Studies minor students will value:

- The diverse perspectives and values (e.g., political, cultural, religious, etc.) amongst the various stakeholders in environmental challenges
- The importance of good science in framing environmental questions
- The role of both a) personal transformation (e.g., lifestyle choices, consumptive dispositions, etc.) and b) social transformation (e.g., community involvement, political action, addressing environmental justice and environmental racism, etc.) in any response to environmental challenges.

Minor Requirements

The Environmental Studies minor consists of 21 semester hours. Both foundation courses are lower division, and the Capstone seminar is an upper division course. The four distribution courses may include one lower division course. Thus, the program allows for up to 9 semester hours of lower division work; the remaining 12 semester hours must come from upper division course offerings.

1. Foundations Course: (3 semester hours)
EVST 100 Introduction to Environmental Studies 3 semester hours
2. Distribution Courses
3. Capstone Course: (3 semester hours)
EVST 401 Environmental Studies Capstone Seminar 3 semester hours
4. Alternative courses can be substituted at the discretion of the Director.

Ethics

Director: W S K (Scott) Cameron

Ethics Minor

Objectives

In response to the need to address ethical issues in the various professions, the Philosophy Department, in conjunction with other departments in the different Colleges and Schools of the University, offers a minor in Ethics. Its main focus is to deepen and broaden the student's grasp of the theoretical foundations and practical applications of ethical thought. The Ethics minor will complement and support the student's studies by encouraging reflection on the ethical issues that arise in his or her major field of study.

The objectives of this program are: 1) to heighten the student's awareness of the pervasive moral dimensions of human experience; 2) to broaden and deepen the student's understanding of ethical theories and their foundations; and 3) to promote moral deliberation, evaluation, decision-making, and conduct that alone can renew and sustain healthy economic, social, political, and professional institutions in concrete human communities.

Ethics Minor Student Learning Outcomes

Ethics minor students will understand:

- The historical context, the import, and the strengths and weaknesses of various paradigms of ethical reflection
- The ways in which ethical theories have been applied to concrete human concerns
- The relevance of ethical reflection to critical issues arising in their chosen major field of study.

Ethics minor students will be able to:

- Demonstrate written competency in the analysis and application of ethical theories to vexed practical problems
- Draw on their own experience and on insights gleaned from their major field of study to further the evaluation and refinement of ethical theories.

Ethics minor students will value:

- The importance of ethical reflection in creating and sustaining healthy human communities
- The productive relation between ethical reflection and other practical and theoretical pursuits
- The power of reflection and self-criticism to transform one's self-conception as well as one's relationships to others.

Minor Requirements

The minor in Ethics consists of 18 semester hours divided as follows:

FOUR Foundations Courses, including:

PHIL 198 Special Studies and PHIL 320, which also satisfy the University's core requirements in Philosophy.

Two further classes chosen in consultation with the Ethics minor advisor, at least one of which must be in Philosophy, though the second may be offered by departments in any of the Colleges or Schools in the University. These courses should deepen the student's awareness of the context, presuppositions, and implications of various approaches to ethical reflection.

TWO Applications Courses including:

One course in Applied Ethics related to the student's College or School of origin chosen from PHIL 321–330 (see Course Descriptions).

One elective course in Applied Ethics selected from the PHIL 321–330 (see Course Descriptions) options without regard for the student's College or School of origin.

ONE Assessment Course:

PHIL 494 is a 0 credit hour Ethics Minor assessment class, to be taken once all other Ethics minor credit hours are completed or during the semester the student is completing his or her final classes for the minor.

Note: Philosophy majors or minors cannot also have an Ethics minor.

European Studies

Director: Petra Liedke Konow

Faculty

The faculty of the European Studies major are those professors in various departments of the University who regularly offer courses that are directly concerned with issues relating to Europe, or to specific countries or traditions of Europe, past and present.

European Studies, B.A.

The European Studies major is an integrated, interdisciplinary area-studies program. Students choose from a range of courses taught in different departments, selecting a focus that reflects their individual interests (e.g., German or Irish Studies).

The program requires competence in a European language, background to grasp the complexity of European history and civilization as a whole, as well as a specialization in one field of study. As such, it provides students with a solid preparation for graduate school or a career in government or private enterprise. One semester of study in Europe is strongly recommended, but is not mandatory.

Objectives

- Intermediate proficiency in one European language (equivalent to level 2/3 on the scale of five levels developed by the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Language). LMU offers French, German, Italian, and Spanish in the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures as well as Greek, Latin, and Modern Greek in the Department of Classics and Archaeology. EURO language courses are also available in the LMU Study Abroad Programs in Europe. Once per year during the Spring, the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures offers a general proficiency test in German (ZD), which is internationally recognized and certifies the language skills of the student to prospective employers in the public and private sector. It is administered free of charge for graduating European Studies students with a concentration in German within their major.
- Knowledge of the historical, intellectual, political, and religious contexts of Europe, past and present.
- Knowledge of the art and literary works of Europeans, past and present.

European Studies Student Learning Outcomes

European Studies students are expected to demonstrate:

- Linguistic proficiency in one European language (French, German, Italian, Spanish, Greek, Latin, and/or Modern Greek)
- Knowledge and understanding of:
 - The history of Europe (History)
 - The history of ideas in Europe (Philosophy)
 - The politics of Europe (Political Science)
 - The religious contexts of Europe (Theological Studies)
- Familiarity with cultural expressions of Europeans such as:
 - European literature (Classics, English, European Studies, Foreign Literature in Translation, French, German, Italian, Spanish)
 - European art history and creative arts (Art History, Film, Theatre Arts)
- Reflection on/assessment of:
 - Reasons why a major in European Studies was chosen
 - Cultural competency (what they have learned)
 - Content of the courses selected for the European Studies major

- Development and evolution in the European Studies major
- Extracurricular activities connected with the European Studies major (study abroad experiences, program-related activities, work experience/internships).

Student Learning Outcomes will be assessed through a Senior Capstone Project (EURO 500), which consists of a portfolio completed during the second semester of the senior year. The portfolio is a collection of multiple samples, usually compiled over the course of studies, accompanied by a personal reflection essay, which shows that the student has met the objectives of the European Studies Program.

Major Requirements

LMU students wishing to declare the European Studies major must meet with the program director. The director will sign the student's Change of Program form provided the student is in good academic standing, which includes having a minimum cumulative LMU GPA of 2.0 (C).

Lower Division Requirements (18 semester hours):

HIST 198 Special Studies 1 TO 3 semester hours with advisor approval

Geography

Director: Peter Hoffman

Objectives

Geography is one of the fundamental disciplines in the social sciences and an essential component in a liberal arts education. The critical importance of geography and the topics addressed by the discipline are recognized by its inclusion in the core curricula of the Bellarmine College of Liberal Arts, the College of Communication and Fine Arts, and the School of Film and Television.

Geography examines the relationships between people and their environment—its focus is sometimes simply referred to as “human ecology.” With a distinctly spatial perspective, geography examines the wide range of places that humans have come to occupy on the Earth. Critical to that examination are an analysis of the ways in which people have modified the environment, for both better and worse, and the long term consequences of such modifications. Geography has also traditionally been the discipline that engages in the systematic study of the world’s diverse countries and regions. With the dramatic political and economic transformations occurring throughout the world as a result of contemporary globalization, regional geographic analysis represents a continuing challenge to the discipline and gains greater importance every day.

Geography Student Learning Outcomes

By virtue of their Geography courses, students should know:

- The general global patterns of major geographic elements and processes
- The regional structures and expressions of human environmental relationships associated with the modern and postmodern realm
- The structures and expressions of human settlement associated with the developed realms/core and those associated with the less developed realm/periphery
- The basic research questions and agendas associated with human and regional geography
- The common theories, practices, and methodologies employed in contemporary human geography
- The global patterns of contemporary societies differentiated by their social and economic structures, values, and practices;

By virtue of their Geography courses, students should be able to:

- Effectively employ contemporary social science methodology in the analysis of environmental and geographic issues
- Demonstrate written and oral competencies in the analysis of environmental and geographic issues and policy
- Identify and utilize appropriate primary data for the analysis of environmental and geographic issues
- Apply their understanding of environmental and geographic issues to the development and critical analysis of programs and policies appropriate to addressing contemporary social and economic problems;

By virtue of their Geography courses, students should value:

- Diverse perspectives in the analysis and assessment of human environmental issues and global policies
- Thoughtful analysis of the implications of human population growth and evolving technologies in the context of social justice and sound environmental practices
- Rigorous, scientific research that enlightens human ecology and contributes to the resolution of social and environmental problems
- Community-based participation in the development of programs and policies that contribute to social, economic, political, and environmental improvement.

Associate Professors: Najwa Al-Qattan, Cara Anzilotti, Carla J. Bittel, Constance J.S. Chen, Anthony M. Perron, Nicolas Rosenthal, Amy Woodson-Boulton

Assistant Professors: Dexter L. Blackman, Andrew Devereux, Elizabeth Drummond, Kevin McDonald, Margarita Ochoa, Nigel A. Raab, Sun-Hee Yoon

Prerequisites for Declaring a Major or Minor in History

At entry to the University, students declare the major/minor through the Office of Admission. LMU students wishing to declare the major/minor must first meet with the department chair, who will ordinarily sign the student's Change of Program form. The History Department requires a minimum LMU GPA of 2.0 (C) and the students should not be on academic probation. It also requires an average grade of C (2.0) in all history courses taken before declaring a major or minor, including courses at other institutions. The history department accepts Advanced Placement courses in European and American history to fulfill lower division history requirements, provided the scores of the AP examinations are 5 or 4.

History, B.A.

Objectives

The study of history is integral to Loyola Marymount University's mission as a university in the Jesuit/Marymount, Catholic, and liberal arts traditions. It contributes to "the encouragement of learning" through intellectually demanding courses that cultivate an understanding of both familiar and unfamiliar pasts and cultures. It educates "the whole person" by focusing on a multiplicity of perspectives and experiences, and by attempting to understand the lived, bodily experience of the "whole person" in the past. History courses ground discussions of "the service of faith and the promotion of justice" by putting these ideas in context, showing change over time, and emphasizing how today's world evolved out of the contingent actions of and interactions between individuals and groups of people. The study of history enables the student to examine cultures, religions, and the interconnections among peoples and societies as complex historical phenomena, human structures open to historical interpretation and analysis. Historical perspective thus provides insight into the sequence of events, into the relationship of events at diverse times and places, and into the dynamism of structures and beliefs that can otherwise appear fixed or predetermined. The study of history therefore also leads to greater sensitivity to and awareness of cultural differences and similarities, as well as conflicting interpretations of events. As a discipline, History is open to and inclusive of multiple different methodological approaches to the study of the past. The History curriculum thus emphasizes the potential for human action, showing how an individual's actions can change the world even as it examines the structures necessary for that action. The Department of History at LMU seeks to educate students to become global citizens engaged with the world around them and sensitive to our ties to the past. The Department sees History as supporting the creation of "contemplatives in action," as the contemplation of the past and the present is an essential part of students moving into the world as agents in their own right.

History Student Learning Outcomes

- History students develop an understanding of events, processes, and patterns in the human experience. History students should gain an understanding of how their lives relate to a larger historical process.
- Students should be able to analyze historical texts and to gain an understanding of the methods used in interpreting the past, such as criticism of sources, the definition of historical questions, comparative analysis, and the diverse perspectives of participants in history. They will employ evidence to craft arguments about historical change and analyze the factors that cause change on local, national, and global scales.
- Students should value the vast range of ways in which individuals and societies have responded to the problems confronting them. The insights they have gained through historical analysis will enrich their lives as citizens of an interconnected world.

Major Requirements

Lower Division Requirements:

15 semester hours, distributed among five required survey courses, one from each category:

Category One: Ancient Civilization

Category Two: Western Civilization

Category Three: Early America

Category Four: Modern America

Category Five: World Region (Middle East, Latin America, Asia, Africa)

Note: The History Department has introduced new lower division courses, all number HIST 198 that may substitute for the above requirements. These courses fulfill the University Core Curriculum requirement for Historical Analysis and Perspectives (Explorations). Each section of HIST 198 will have a specific subtitle for the course as listed below:

- Founders of the West (fulfills Category One)
- Heirs of Rome: Europe, Byzantium, and Islam in the Middle Ages (fulfills Category One)
- Crisis and Expansion: Europe and the World, 1200–1648 (fulfills Category One)
- European Empires, Exploration, and Exchange since 1500 (fulfills Category Two)
- Power, Privilege, and Agency in Modern Europe (fulfills Category Two)
- The Individual, the State, and Civil Society in Modern Europe (fulfills Category Two)
- Religion, Society, and the Search for Meaning in Modern Europe (fulfills Category Two)
- Revolutions in the Making of the West (fulfills Category Two)
- America and the Atlantic World (fulfills Category Three)
- Becoming America (fulfills Category Three)
- The United States and the World (fulfills Category Four)
- The United States and the Pacific World (fulfills Category Four)
- African Americans in the World since Slavery (fulfills Category Four)
- The Middle East since 1453: State, Society, and Citizen (fulfills Category Five)
- The Middle East since 1453: Minorities and Women
- The Middle East since 1453: Through the Social Lives of Commodities
- Latin America: Encounter, Conquest, and the Viceregal Experience
- Latin America: State, Nation, and Conflict since Independence (fulfills Category Five)
- Modern Asia: China, Japan, and Korea since 1600 (fulfills Category Five)
- Modern Africa: African States and Societies since 1600 (fulfills Category Five)

Upper Division Requirements:

24 semester hours, distributed as follows:

- HIST 310 History and Historians 3 semester hours
- 6 upper division courses, not more than 3 from any one of the following areas: 1) Europe, 2) United States, or 3) World Regions. Courses are to be chosen in consultation with the student's advisor.
- 500-level seminar

Note: An average grade of C (2.0) must be obtained in the courses included in the major.

History Minor

Requirements

21 semester hours, distributed as follows:

- Western Civilization: 1 course
- U.S.: 1 course
- 5 electives, of which at least 9 semester hours must be from upper division course offerings

The history minor is a flexible program. Aside from the two lower division course requirements, students can select any history course as long as at least three of the remaining five courses are upper division history courses. However, students might want to consider selecting courses that relate to their major and belong to geographical or thematic units.

Humanities

Director: Áine O'Healy

Faculty

Assistant Professor: Alexandra Neel

Humanities, B.A.

Objectives

The Humanities major is designed to meet the needs of a student who has a broad interest in liberal arts but whose interest would not be served by a major program within a single department. The Humanities major is an interdisciplinary program. In the first two years the student acquires a broad background in the arts, history, and literature. Language study through the advanced level is also required. In the second two years, the student concentrates in a particular area of interest. The concentration consists of five (5) upper division courses taken from departmental offerings in Archaeology, Art History, Classics, English, French, German, Greek, History, Italian, Latin, Philosophy, Spanish, or Theological Studies. The concentration is then supported by two (2) upper division history or philosophy courses and two (2) upper division courses in either an ancient or a modern literature selected in consultation with the Humanities advisor. All Humanities majors are required to complete, in their final semester, a final project which marks the culmination of the student's interdisciplinary course of study. There are two options: the student may complete a Capstone Project (HMNT 497), which consists of a portfolio that encapsulates the student's course of study; alternately, the student may elect to write a Senior Thesis (HMNT 490), which is a substantial research project based on the student's concentration. The student who elects to write a senior thesis will choose a topic and a thesis advisor in consultation with the Director. Working closely with the thesis advisor, the student will produce a thesis which integrates the student's interests in language, literature, history, art history, or philosophy. The senior thesis is reviewed and graded by the thesis advisor and the Director.

The program is a fine preparation for students interested in professional courses in law, business, or education. Also, the program is designed to allow students to complete a major in a departmental area which would qualify them for graduate studies.

Humanities Student Learning Outcomes

By virtue of pursuing a major in Humanities,

Students should know:

- How knowledge has been pursued, established, and critically evaluated in the three different disciplines representing their concentration, their literature support, and their historical or philosophical support
- The various ways in which artists have developed the fine arts to convey their sense of the world's surface and its depth
- A foreign language
- The content as well as analytical and communicative skills that the study of their concentration demands;

Students should be able to:

- Communicate insights clearly, effectively, and with nuance in both oral and written form

- Synthesize insights from a variety of disciplines
- Develop insights from one discipline for the enrichment of others;

Students should value:

- The variety of ways in which cognitive, moral, and aesthetic disciplines have enriched our sense of the human condition
- The further pursuit of those disciplines, as required by their deeper sense of the complexity of the human condition
- Their responsibility to serve the world as whole persons, with head, heart, and hand.

Major Requirements

Lower Division Requirements:

15 semester hours distributed as follows:

6 semester hours from:

ARHS 200	Art of the Western World I	3 semester hours
ARHS 201	Art of the Western World II	3 semester hours
ARHS 202	Modernism	3 semester hours

3 semester hours in Studio or Performance Arts.

MDGK 204	Intermediate Modern Greek II	3 semester hours

SPAN 203	Intermediate Spanish I	3 semester hours
SPAN 204	Intermediate Spanish II	3 semester hours

Note: An average grade of C (2.0) must be obtained in courses included in the major.

Upper Division Requirements:

At least 30 semester hours in upper division courses distributed as follows:

- 15 semester hours in concentration in a departmental major.
- 6 semester hours in either an ancient or a modern literature which supports the concentration.
- 6 semester hours in either art history, history, or philosophy which supports the concentration.

And, in the final semester, either

3 semester hours for the Senior Thesis (HMNT 490), or 1 semester hour for the Capstone Project (HMNT 497) plus 3 semester hours in an ancient or modern literature, art history, history, or philosophy.

Note: An average grade of C (2.0) must be obtained in courses included in the major.

The choice of a concentration and of support courses must be formally approved by the Director.

Humanities Model Four-Year Plan

Irish Studies

Director: John Menaghan

Irish Studies Minor

Objectives

Irish Studies is an interdisciplinary minor designed to complement a wide variety of majors by providing students with an understanding of the historical and cultural development of the Irish people and the significance of their intellectual, artistic, spiritual, and economic contribution to world civilization, including their experiences as both a post-colonial nation and an emigrant diaspora. Taken together, Ireland's historical evolution; its long experience of colonization and cultural oppression; its rich contribution to world literature, art, and music; the creative tension in contemporary Ireland between its ancient Celtic heritage and its modern Anglo-Irish/Hiberno-English identity; and its remarkable though often unacknowledged influence upon the countries—chiefly the United States, Great Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa—that make up the far-flung Irish diaspora constitute a fertile field for intellectual inquiry.

Focused simultaneously on a small nation on the edge of Europe and a far-flung diaspora and offered within the context of the most culturally diverse city in the world, the minor in Irish Studies is designed to be not merely interdisciplinary but intercultural. At a time when the nearly simultaneous phenomena of a European drive toward unification and an American emphasis on diversity both complicate and enrich our very notions of what constitutes a nation, culture, or people, students minoring in Irish Studies will have the flexibility to explore the richness of the Irish experience from a broad range of perspectives and the opportunity to assess its influence not only in Europe and America but on struggles against cultural and political oppression around the globe.

Irish Studies Student Learning Outcomes

Students minoring in Irish Studies are given opportunities to learn about:

- The general history of Ireland and the Irish diaspora
- The distinctive literary achievements of the Irish
- Irish achievements in cinema and dance
- Historical, religious, and moral issues in contemporary Irish politics
- The intersection/intermingling of Celtic and Christian worldviews
- The connection of Irish struggles for freedom and self-determination to similar struggles in the United States and around the world

Students minoring in Irish Studies will be given opportunities to develop:

- Their ability to perform research into several distinct aspects of the Irish experience
- Their ability to compose well-written and thoughtful essays on Irish history, politics, religion, and culture
- Their ability to evaluate and appreciate Irish achievements in the arts
- Their ability to make connections across disciplines, countries, and cultures

Students minoring in Irish Studies will be encouraged to value:

- The Irish struggle against cultural and political oppression and its relation and continuing relevance to similar struggles around the world
- The distinctive contributions of the Irish to European, American, and world civilization.

Study Abroad

Students can earn up to six semester hours toward the minor in Irish Studies in the LMU Summer in Ireland Program at Trinity College Dublin, one of the oldest and most renowned universities in the world.

Students can also arrange to spend a semester or year abroad at an Irish university.

Minor Requirements

LMU students wishing to declare the Irish Studies minor must meet with the program director. The director will sign the student's Change of Program form provided the student meets certain academic standards that include having a minimum LMU GPA of 2.0 (C) and not otherwise being on academic probation.

18 semester hours, including at least one course in Irish literature and one in Irish history. At least 12 semester hours must be in upper division courses. An average grade of C (2.0) must be maintained in Irish Studies courses.

Note: Courses offered in other departments and programs may be used as semester hours to fulfill the minor requirements in IRST, provided the student receives the approval of the Director in advance of taking the course. Students seeking such approval must arrange with the relevant instructor to complete a substantial paper/project on Ireland and/or the Irish diaspora and must submit a copy of same to the Director at the end of the course. No more than nine semester hours (3 such courses) may be applied toward the 18 total semester hours required to complete the Irish Studies minor. Such courses may also have departmental prerequisites; consult Course Descriptions for further details.

Jewish Studies

Director: Holli G. Levitsky

Jewish Studies Minor

Objectives

Jewish Studies provides an academically rigorous minor to examine Jewish history, culture, faith, and practice in its unity and diversity across geographic, political, historical, religious, and aesthetic boundaries and dimensions.

The Jewish Studies program is unique in that it provides:

1. A rigorous foundation for the academic minor; and
2. Regular opportunities for engaged learning, such as endowed lectureships, study abroad courses, and special events for the University and the community. The Jewish Studies program sponsors three endowed events each year, which Jewish Studies minors can actively participate in. Jewish Studies Scholarships are available for student travel and living costs.

The Jewish Studies program provides students with a diversity of Jewish perspectives and is open to students of all faiths and backgrounds. Through education and community outreach, the Jewish Studies program offers a profound opportunity to engage others directly and constructively in order to promote greater understanding and appreciation of Judaism and its relation to other faith traditions, and to act together upon such respect and understanding.

Faculty from a range of departments, schools, and colleges teach courses in Jewish Studies, many of which are cross-listed with Core and other University requirements. For questions relating to these and other matters in Jewish Studies, students should consult the Director of the Jewish Studies program.

Jewish Studies Student Learning Outcomes

Students will know:

- The nature of the Jewish religious experience
- Significant aspects of Jewish history, culture, and literature/art
- Significant developments in and implications of Jewish/Christian relations
- The development of the State of Israel

Students will be able to:

- Demonstrate critical reflection on significant aspects of Jewish history, culture, religion, and literature/art
- Conduct critical research and write intelligently and persuasively on issues within Judaism
- Synthesize and apply this knowledge to pursue justice locally and globally
- Explain the development of the State of Israel

Students will value:

- The rich contribution of the Jewish people to history, culture, religion, and literature/art
- The importance of inter-religious dialogue
- The living vitality of Jewish faith and culture through the promotion of justice
- The study of modern Israel

Study Abroad

Students can earn up to six semester hours toward the minor in Jewish Studies in the LMU Summer in Israel Program, the LMU Semester exchange at Hebrew University in Jerusalem, and the "Holocaust in Poland," an "immersion course" offered in Poland approximately every other Summer. Students can also arrange to spend a semester or a year abroad at an Israeli university.

Jewish Studies Minor Requirements

The foundational courses for the Jewish Studies minor address its interdisciplinary nature and the Jewish Studies mission to provide opportunities to engage the community. The required 18 semester hours must include JWST 300 Modern Jewish History, JWST 350 Modern Israel (or an equivalent course on modern Israel), JWST 375 Judaism: Religion, History, and Culture (Ancient through Modern), JWST 434 Literature of the Holocaust (or an equivalent course on the Holocaust), and JWST 490 Capstone Project in consultation with the Jewish Studies program director. For the remaining three semester hours, students may elect another Jewish Studies course offering, or a cross-listed course from another department or program.

Students may apply one approved First Year Seminar (FFYS 1000) course to fulfill the elective requirement towards the Jewish Studies minor.

Liberal Arts

Liberal Arts courses (LIBA), offered by the Bellarmine College of Liberal Arts, are designed to enrich the academic, career-related, and life skills of our students.

Liberal Studies

Director: Bernadette Musetti

University Core Curriculum of Liberal Studies, B.A.

I. University Core Curriculum

40 Semester Hours

Subject-matter requirements set by the Commission on Teacher Credentialing are very specific. Therefore, many of the core requirements for Liberal Studies majors are specified and may differ from those of other majors within the Bellarmine College of Liberal Arts. The core course requirements are spread across 13 courses and three areas—Foundations, Explorations, and Integrations—and include six core "flags."

Foundations

- First Year Seminar (3 semester hours)
- Rhetorical Arts (3 semester hours)
- Quantitative Reasoning: MATH 106 Mathematics for Elementary Teachers I (3 semester hours). Liberal Studies majors must take a placement test and either test out of or take MATH 101 as a prerequisite to MATH 106.
- Theological Inquiry (3 semester hours)
- Philosophical Inquiry (3 semester hours)
- Studies in American Diversity: Choose from advisor approved list (3 semester hours)

Explorations

- Creative Experience: Choose from advisor approved list (3 semester hours)
- Historical Analysis and Perspective (3 semester hours)
- Understanding Human Behavior (3 semester hours)
- Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics: SCEN 270 Experimenting in Science I (4 semester hours)

Integrations

Choose from advisor approved list for each of the following Integrations courses:

- Faith and Reason (3 semester hours)
- Ethics and Justice (3 semester hours)
- Interdisciplinary Connections (3 semester hours)

Flags

Additionally, students fulfill the "flag" requirements as follows:

- Writing (2 flags)
- Oral Skills (1 flag)
- Information Literacy (1 flag)
- Quantitative Reasoning (1 flag)
- Engaged Learning (1 flag)

II. Liberal Studies Major Requirements

35 semester hours

LBST 100	Pre-Practicum Field Experience in Education 1 TO 4 semester hours (1 semester hour)
LBST 200	Pre-Practicum Field Experience in Education 1 TO 4 semester hours (1 semester hour)
ART 250	Visual Arts for the Elementary Educator 3 semester hours
DANC 384	Creative Dances for Children 3 semester hours
DANC 385	Movement Arts for Children 3 semester hours
ENGL 305	Advanced Composition for Credential Candidates 3 semester hours
ENGL 346	Children's Literature 3 semester hours
HIST 198	Special Studies 1 TO 3 semester hours
HIST 300	Global Encounters pre-1500 3 semester hours
HIST 301	Global Encounters post-1500 3 semester hours
HIST 366	History of California 3 semester hours or advisor approved course in history of California
MATH 107	Mathematics for Elementary Teachers II 3 semester hours
MUSC 104	Fundamentals of Music 3 semester hours or other advisor approved course
PSYC 352	Developmental Psychology 3 semester hours or advisor approved course

Note that LBST students must take courses which cover the U.S. History, California History and World/Regional History, pre/and post 1500.

III. Education Program Requirements

21 semester hours

EDUR 400	Sociocultural Analysis of Education 3 semester hours
EDES 401	Applied Educational Psychology for the Childhood and Adolescent Years 3 semester hours
EDES 402	Teaching Reading in Today's Elementary Classrooms 3 semester hours
EDES 414	Theories and Policies of Second Language Acquisition 3 semester hours
EDES 425	Methods in English Language Development and Specially Designed Academic Instruction in English 3 semester hours
EDES 434	Elementary Curriculum and Methods 3 semester hours
EDSS 440	Introduction to the Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Student with Exceptional Needs 3 semester hours
EDES 8000	Health Education 1 semester hour

Note: * Starred courses require a separate application to and acceptance into the Elementary Education program or the Mild/Moderate Specialist Credential program. Acceptance into either of these programs requires an LMU cumulative GPA of 3.0. See the Director of Liberal Studies for other application requirements.

IV. Electives

Liberal Studies majors fulfill the multiple subjects student teaching requirement for the teaching credential by completing 9 semester hours of EDCE 410 Elementary Directed Teaching, which are applied toward both the semester hour requirement for the baccalaureate degree and the requirements for the credential within the state of California.

V. Concentration

12–18 semester hours

In addition to the above requirements, all Liberal Studies majors complete a minimum of 12 semester hours of coursework in a chosen area of concentration which represents a subject area generally taught in elementary schools or a related area of study. With careful planning, the concentration can constitute most, if not all, of an LMU minor. See the Director of Liberal Studies for qualifying concentrations and their specific requirements.

Liberal Studies, B.A.

Objectives

The Liberal Studies program enables the student to meet the Elementary Education teacher preparation standards mandated by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing. The Liberal Studies program curriculum likewise serves the Loyola Marymount University mission.

Liberal Studies Student Learning Outcomes

The Liberal Studies program student will master the content required of professional educators in the State of California, to include:

- Key concepts in the following academic fields: the social sciences and history, the arts and humanities, language studies, mathematics and science, health, physical education, human development, and in an approved academic concentration of the candidate's choice
- Candidates will demonstrate their mastery of the subject matter by successfully passing the CSET (California Subject Examination for Teachers) at the completion of their coursework;

The Liberal Studies program student will master the skills required of professional educators in the State of California:

- To synthesize subject content in the liberal arts, professional content related to classroom teaching, and educational policies
- To apply reading, writing, and research skills appropriate to the work of the academic disciplines being studied
- To apply academic concepts to practical teaching contexts
- To analyze, reflect on, and evaluate the relationships among academic theories, the practical and applied contexts of teaching, and the multiple and complex needs of students comprising a rich and diverse globe
- Candidates will demonstrate the ability to synthesize and the other skills listed above in an exit interview conducted by the Director of Liberal Studies at the completion of required coursework;

The Liberal Studies program student will value:

- Intellectual inquiry across a range of subjects
- A world view comprising faith, social justice, and a respect for diversity
- The individual's role as a future educator who will shape the lives of children, local communities, and larger national and global societies.

Liberal Studies students will develop in their roles as:

- Critical thinkers and creative problem solvers
- Responsible local and global citizens
- Culturally responsive and reflective learners and practitioners
- Collaborators in a community of learners characterized by the Ignatian imagination
- Effective, caring educators who are advocates for equity
- Curricular leaders who value multiple ways of knowing.

There are five components to the Liberal Studies major:

I. University Core Curriculum

40 Semester Hours

Subject-matter requirements set by the Commission on Teacher Credentialing are very specific. Therefore, many of the core requirements for Liberal Studies majors are specified and may differ from those of other majors within the Bellarmine College of Liberal Arts. The core course requirements are spread across 13 courses and three areas—Foundations, Explorations, and Integrations—and include four core “flags.” (A fifth “flag” in globalization can be met outside of the core courses).

Foundations

- First Year Seminar (3 semester hours)
- Rhetorical Arts (3 semester hours)
- Quantitative Reasoning: MATH 106 Mathematics for Elementary Teachers I (3 semester hours). Liberal Studies majors must take a placement test and either test out of or take MATH 101 as a prerequisite to MATH 106.
- Theological Inquiry (3 semester hours)
- Philosophical Inquiry (3 semester hours)
- Studies in American Diversity: Choose from advisor approved list (3 semester hours)

Explorations

- Creative Experience: Choose from advisor approved list (3 semester hours)
- Historical Analysis and Perspective: “Becoming America” (3 semester hours)
- Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics: SCEN 270 Experimenting in Science I (4 semester hours)
- Understanding Human Behavior: PSYC 100 General Psychology (3 semester hours)

Integrations: Choose from advisor approved list for each of the following Integrations courses:

- Faith and Reason (3 semester hours)
- Ethics and Justice (3 semester hours)
- Interdisciplinary Connections (3 semester hours)

Additionally, students fulfill the “flag” requirements as follows:

- Writing (2 flags)
- Oral Skills (1 flag)
- Information Literacy (1 flag)
- Quantitative (1 flag)
- Globalization (1 flag)

Note: * Starred courses require a separate application to and acceptance into the Elementary Education program or the Mild/Moderate Specialist Credential program. Acceptance into either of these programs requires an LMU cumulative GPA of 3.0. See the Director of Liberal Studies for other application requirements.

IV. Electives

Liberal Studies majors fulfill the multiple subjects student teaching requirement for the teaching credential by completing 9 semester hours of EDCE 410 (Directed Teaching), which are applied toward both the semester hour requirement for the baccalaureate degree and the requirements for the credential within the state of California.

V. Concentration

12–18 Semester Hours In addition to the above requirements, all Liberal Studies majors complete a minimum of 12 semester hours of coursework in a chosen area of concentration which represents a subject area generally taught in elementary schools or a related area of study. With careful planning, the concentration can constitute most, if not all, of an LMU minor. See the Director of Liberal Studies for qualifying concentrations and their specific requirements.

Bilingual Authorization (9 semester hours)

Credential candidates with the requisite language proficiency can earn a bilingual authorization to teach in either Spanish or Mandarin in an elementary classroom. The authorization requires students to complete part of their coursework and student teaching in a bilingual classroom. The bilingual authorization may contribute to meeting other requirements as well, such as those for particular Concentrations. See the Director of Bilingual Programs if interested in earning the bilingual authorization.

Liberal Studies Model Four-Year Plan

The typical course load for an undergraduate student is 15–16 semester hours per semester. The following model represents a student who is completing a 15-semester-hour concentration, does not need to complete any prerequisites for required coursework, and is pursuing the 2042 Multiple Subject teaching credential. Students with larger concentrations, those required to take MATH 101 (or other prerequisite coursework), and/or those seeking credentials in Bilingual or Special Education may need to “overload” during some semesters and/or complete summer coursework. Please note that the model is provided as a guideline rather than a prescriptive course of study. Students will need to be flexible implementing the model plan, given variability of course availability and other potential scheduling issues in any given semester.

Note: This model does not include some School of Education requirements which are not required for the Liberal Studies degree but are required for the teaching credential (i.e., TPAs—Teaching Performance Assessments; Health course requirement). As such requirements relate to the teaching credential and are independent of the Liberal Studies degree, students are advised to consult with the Academic Advisor in the School of Education regarding the coordination and sequencing of specific School of Education requirements.

Modern Languages and Literatures

Faculty

Chairperson: Véronique Flambard-Weisbart

Professors: Jennifer L. Eich, Véronique Flambard-Weisbart,
Áine O'Healy

Associate Professors: Rebeca Acevedo, José Ignacio Badenes, S.J.,
Mónica Cabrera, Petra Liedke Konow, Marc Lony,
Alicia Partnoy, Antonia Petro

Assistant Professor: Chan Lú

Objectives

Our Department equips students with language proficiency as it introduces them to the multicultural nature and historical evolution of literary and other texts in the target languages. Our courses provide opportunities to comprehend, interpret, and practice linguistic skills through oral and written exercises and assignments. Through a judicious selection of required courses and electives that include literature, history, and the arts, students acquire an increasing commitment to the mission of the University. We thrive to provide tools to foster transcultural understanding as the basis for mutual respect, global harmony and social justice.

Major and Minor Requirements

Students can declare a major in French/Francophone Studies, Modern Languages, or Spanish, or a minor in Chinese, French/Francophone Studies, German, Italian, or Spanish, at entry to the University, through the Office of Admission. Students wishing to declare a major/minor in the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures after admission to LMU must meet with a professor from that particular program. A Change of Program form will be signed by the chairperson, provided that the student has a minimum LMU GPA of 2.0 (C).

Lower division language courses (100–200 level) may not be challenged by exam. Students may be exempt from these courses by placing above that level through the LMU online Placement Exam for Chinese, French, German, or Spanish, and by professor evaluation for Italian and Japanese. A minimum grade of C (2.0) is required in all lower division language courses to major or minor in those languages.

Students with significant course credit in a language from high school or college will not be allowed to enroll in the 101 course of that language.

The department offers lower division language courses (100–200 level) in Chinese, Japanese, and Filipino which satisfy the language requirements for the Asian and Pacific Studies major and minor.

Language Placement Exam

The online LMU Placement Exam measures your language skills in Chinese, French, German, or Spanish so that you may be placed in the appropriate level of coursework in the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures.

Your score is used for language placement advising purposes and does not become part of your permanent record.

FAQ

When do I need to take a foreign language exam?

You need to take this exam ONLY...

1. If you have taken Chinese, French, German, or Spanish language courses in any educational setting (for example, at a high school or community school or at another university if you are a transfer student) AND you wish to continue taking classes in these languages during the first three semesters at LMU.
2. If you have taken AP language and/or literature courses in the above languages.
3. If you are interested in a minor or major in the above languages so that you can begin at the appropriate level of coursework immediately.
4. If you plan to take language or literature courses in a study abroad program in a country where Chinese, French, German, or Spanish are the language of instruction: Summer, semester, and year-long study abroad programs sometimes require previous foreign language study.
5. If you are a heritage speaker who has learned the language at home and wishes to take language or literature courses in Chinese, French, German, or Spanish.

PLEASE NOTE: If you have NEVER studied Chinese, French, German, or Spanish and wish to do so, you would sign up for the 101 level course in that language. If you plan to study or travel abroad in the summer before entering LMU, please wait until you return to take the language placement exam.

Where do I take the exam?

You take the exam online. Log into MYLMU, click System Logins > MYLMU Connect. Then click the link "Orientation and Registration Tutorial." Inside the tutorial, on the left side, click the link "Placement Exams." Then click the link for Language Placement and follow the instructions. If you do not have access to the "Orientation and Registration Tutorial" or cannot access the placement exam for any reason, please contact the Modern Languages and Literatures department at 310.338.3051.

How long does the exam take?

The text takes approximately 20 minutes.

Can I use books such as a dictionary? Should I guess at the answers?

It is TO YOUR BENEFIT that you answer the questions honestly and without the support of notes, textbooks, parents, or friends: doing otherwise will be considered cheating. In addition, the score will likely place you at a level of coursework above the appropriate one based on your experiences and academic studies.

How do I get my score? Does my advisor get it?

Your score and placement will be displayed at the end of the exam and will be accessible to your advisor through PROWL. However, you are strongly encouraged to save a copy for advising and registration.

What if I have problems taking the exam?

Please contact the ITS helpdesk at 310.338.7777.

Filipino

The courses are designed to develop student competency in Filipino/Tagalog focusing first on the sounds and rhythm of the language, vocabulary building, and sentence patterns. A functional-situational approach to language learning is utilized to develop an understanding and appreciation of Filipino culture and customs associated with the use of various linguistic forms. All levels will enhance and work toward increased proficiency in speaking, listening, reading, and writing through language games and exercises.

Foreign Literature in English Translation

No knowledge of the foreign language is required.

Japanese

The courses develop listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills using the direct method. Grammar points are explained in English. The student is provided an opportunity to practice conversation with native speakers to further improve oral skills. Selected topics are presented to enhance awareness and understanding of Japanese culture.

Students with significant course credit in Japanese from high school or college will not be allowed to enroll in JAPN 101. Students with more advanced knowledge must consult with the departmental chair or with a professor in Japanese for evaluation before enrolling in a Japanese language class.

French/Francophone Studies, B.A.

Objectives

The French/Francophone Studies curriculum is designed to enhance students' understanding of the French/Francophone world by exposing them to French/Francophone cultures and perspectives. It also responds to the increasing demand for a more practical emphasis in language learning after the lower division level and allows students to tackle the professional world immediately beyond graduation. It may complement LMU's Summer Study Abroad Program in Paris, France.

French/Francophone Studies Student Learning Outcomes

Student Learning Outcomes will be assessed through a Senior Capstone Project (FREN 500) which consists of a portfolio during the last semester of the senior year. The portfolio is a collection of multiple samples usually compiled over time accompanied by a personal reflection essay, which would show that the student has met the objectives of the French/Francophone Studies program.

Majors in French/Francophone Studies will know:

- The variety and nature of linguistic practices of French-speaking populations
- The variety and nature of cultural texts of French-speaking populations
- The variety and nature of cultural perspectives in the Francophone world at large
- The representative literary works and cultural texts of Francophone cultures and civilizations, and other diasporic French-speaking populations
- The principal aspects of cultural expressions such as literature, art, social practices, gender, and media of the Francophone world at large
- Theoretical terminology and concepts essential to analyze literary and cultural products.

Majors in French/Francophone Studies will be able to:

- Understand spoken French at the appropriate level
- Speak French at the appropriate level
- Read French at the appropriate level
- Write French at the appropriate level
- Use acquired theoretical and critical skills to textual analysis and scholarly research
- Demonstrate an informed knowledge of literary works developed by French-speaking populations
- Demonstrate an informed knowledge of cultural works developed by French-speaking populations
- Demonstrate an informed knowledge of linguistic varieties developed by French-speaking populations.

Majors in French/Francophone Studies will demonstrate an appreciation for:

- The evolution and variety of perspectives in French-speaking cultures
- The mission of our University
- Transcultural similarities and differences.

Major Requirements

Lower Division Requirements:

FREN 101	Elementary French I 3 semester hours
FREN 102	Elementary French II 3 semester hours
FREN 203	Intermediate French I 3 semester hours
FREN 204	Intermediate French II 3 semester hours

Note: These requirements may be waived or modified based upon proficiency demonstrated on the LMU French Placement Examination. For majors, a minimum grade of C (2.0) is required in all pre-major courses.

Upper Division Requirements:

25 semester hours in upper division courses:

FREN 301	French Pronunciation Clinic 3 semester hours
FREN 314	Stylistics and Translation 3 semester hours
FREN 321	Writing Workshop in French 3 semester hours
FREN 333	French Literature and Society I 3 semester hours
FREN 334	French Literature and Society II 3 semester hours
_____	Three courses in the 400-level series
FREN 500	Senior Capstone Project 1 semester hour

Note: A minimum grade of C (2.0) must be maintained in all upper division courses.

French Placement Exam

Any student who has knowledge of or has had prior instruction in French in high school or at a college or university other than LMU must take the French Placement Exam.

This requirement includes students who have taken the AP French Exam in high school. Generally, a student who receives a score of 5 or 4 on the AP French Exam (Language or Literature) places in FREN 204. Final placement is conditional upon the instructor's consent. Course credit will be given for FREN 101, FREN 102, and FREN 203 once the student's official scores have been received from the College Board. It is the responsibility of each student to ensure that the official AP scores have been sent to Loyola Marymount University.

To know when and how a student should take a language placement exam in French, please refer to the guidelines provided under Modern Languages and Literatures.

French/Francophone Studies Model Four-Year Plan

The normal course load is 15 semester hours (5 classes). By following the model below, a student will complete all lower division core requirements by the end of the sophomore year as well as most major prerequisites. Note that core areas are suggested to provide a distribution of various disciplines every semester. Please be flexible implementing these suggestions, given your own interests and course availability. In four years, this plan meets all common graduation requirements.

Modern Languages, B.A.Objectives

The aim of the Modern Languages Major is twofold: to enable students to develop proficiency in the four language skills—aural, oral, speaking, and writing—in two modern languages, and to develop cultural literacy.

Through a structured and carefully planned group of course offerings and a strong recommendation to participate for a semester or a summer in study abroad programs, the Modern Languages Major will prepare students for a world in which intercultural understanding provides the basis for mutual respect, global harmony, and social justice.

The program will encourage and advise students to embark in study abroad experiences, research opportunities, extracurricular activities, and community-based learning opportunities that will prepare them to speak, understand, and write two foreign languages as well as linguistically analyze them, to know the principal aspects of some of the cultures where those languages are spoken, and to exercise intercultural awareness.

The major is highly desirable for those interested in international communications and access to immigrant populations, in areas including but not limited to business, teaching, social work, theology, law, theatre, and the visual arts. Competence in more than one foreign language, a keen awareness of cultures, and an understanding of the structure of language itself is a compelling combination of skills that will prepare the student for employment in a globalized economy.

Modern Languages Student Learning Outcomes

Modern Languages majors will know:

- The principal aspects of two foreign languages and cultures
- The tools to analyze languages and cultures
- The principal aspects of two cultures and civilizations through the study of their cultural productions such as literature, art, social practices, and media.
- Modern Languages majors will be able to:
- Speak, understand, and write two foreign languages as well as linguistically analyze them
- Read a variety of texts in two languages and discuss their content, technique, and cultural significance.

Modern Languages majors will be able to demonstrate that they value:

- Two distinct cultures and civilizations and their cultural productions
- Increasing intercultural awareness
- Multilingualism and the world it opens up for them.

Spanish, B.A.

Objectives

This major equips students with language proficiency in Spanish as it introduces them to the multicultural nature and historical evolution of literary and cultural expressions in the target language. It provides students with opportunities to comprehend, interpret, and practice advanced linguistic skills in Spanish through oral and written exercises and assignments. Survey and seminar classes familiarize them with representative literary works and cultural texts from Spain, Latin America, the U.S., and other diasporic Spanish-speaking populations. Our students become familiar with theoretical terminology and concepts essential to analyze these and other cultural products. The major also includes the study of Spanish phonology, morphology, syntax, and dialectal varieties. Students consistently participate in intercultural events and service learning activities in academic and culturally significant contexts. They acquire an increasing commitment to the mission of the University.

Spanish Student Learning Outcomes

Spanish majors will know:

- The variety and nature of linguistic practices of Spanish-speaking populations
- The variety and nature of cultural texts of Spanish-speaking populations
- The variety and nature of cultural perspectives of Spanish-speaking populations
- Representative literary works and cultural texts from Spain, Latin America, the U.S., and other Spanish-speaking populations
- Theoretical terminology and concepts essential to analyze literary and cultural texts.

Spanish majors will be able to:

- Understand spoken Spanish at the appropriate level
- Speak Spanish at the appropriate level
- Read Spanish at the appropriate level
- Write Spanish at the appropriate level
- Use acquired theoretical and critical skills to textual analyses and scholarly research
- Demonstrate an informed knowledge of literary works developed by Spanish-speaking populations
- Demonstrate an informed knowledge of cultural products developed by Spanish-speaking populations
- Demonstrate an informed knowledge of linguistic varieties developed by Spanish-speaking populations.

Spanish majors will also demonstrate an appreciation for:

- The evolution and variety of perspectives in Spanish-speaking cultures
- The mission of our University
- Transcultural similarities and differences.

Major Requirements

Lower Division Requirements:

SPAN 101 Elementary Spanish I 3 semester hours
 SPAN 102 Elementary Spanish II 3 semester hours
 SPAN 203 Intermediate Spanish I 3 semester hours

SPAN 204	Intermediate Spanish II 3 semester hours or
SPAN 205	Intermediate Spanish II for Latino Students 3 semester hours

Note: Any of these courses may be satisfied by placing above that level through the LMU Spanish Placement Exam. A minimum grade of C (2.0) is required in all lower division Spanish courses.

Upper Division Requirements:

The major in Spanish requires 25 semester hours in upper division courses: SPAN 321, SPAN 322, SPAN 333; 6 semester hours in SPAN 331, SPAN 332, or SPAN 334; 9 semester hours in 400-level Spanish electives; and SPAN 500, a senior capstone project (1 semester hour). Students are permitted to take up to 31 upper division hours in Spanish. Students must complete all upper division courses with a minimum grade of C (2.0).

Senior Capstone Project: Portfolio Requirements:

Spanish majors are required to register for a one-credit course (SPAN 500 Senior Capstone Project) during, or after, their last semester in the Spanish major program. Each graduating student constructs a portfolio that includes a collection of previous works, a brief description of extracurricular activities connected with the Spanish major, and a reflective essay in Spanish demonstrating how the goals of the program were met. These goals are language proficiency, cultural competency, mastery of literary and linguistic studies, development of a sense of social justice, and transcultural understanding. An oral presentation of the portfolio to a faculty panel is required.

Guidelines for the elaboration of the portfolio and the oral presentation are available in the Modern Languages and Literatures Department. This course is graded Credit/No Credit.

LMU Spanish Placement Exam

Any student who has knowledge of or has had prior instruction in Spanish in high school or at a college or university other than LMU must take the LMU Spanish Placement Exam.

This requirement includes students who have taken an AP Spanish Exam in high school. A student who receives a score of 5 or 4 on the AP Spanish Exam (Language and/or Literature) might place in SPAN 321 Stylistics and Composition, SPAN 204 Intermediate Spanish II, or SPAN 205 Intermediate Spanish II for Latino Students. Final placement is conditional upon the instructor's consent. The student's CAPP report will reflect credit for SPAN 101, SPAN 102, and SPAN 203 after official scores have been received from the College Board. It is the responsibility of each student to ensure that the official AP scores have been sent to Loyola Marymount University.

To know when and how a student should take a language placement exam in Spanish, please refer to the guidelines provided under Modern Languages and Literatures.

Study Abroad

Students are strongly encouraged to take language courses abroad for a semester either during their sophomore year (Spring semester) or junior year (Fall or Spring semester). Prior to departure, students must obtain transfer credit approval for any courses that they plan to take. No more than two Spanish courses will transfer for the major. Consult the Study Abroad Office or the Spanish language professors for information about semester, year-long, or summer study abroad programs offered by other universities other than those that the Spanish program endorses.

Spanish Model Four-Year Plan

The normal course load is 15 semester hours per semester (5 classes). By following the model below, a student who places at the second semester level of Spanish (SPAN 102) at the time of admission into our program will complete most major prerequisites and all lower division core requirements by the end of the sophomore year. Students with no previous knowledge of Spanish will be able to complete the program in four years if they are willing to take a Spanish course approved by our department, either abroad or at another institution during the summer. Note that core areas are suggested to provide a distribution of various disciplines every semester. Please be flexible implementing these suggestions, given your own interests and course availability. In four years, this plan meets all common graduation requirements.

Chinese MinorObjectives

The Chinese minor offers skill-based, articulated four-year courses in Mandarin Chinese. Coupled with Study Abroad and research opportunities, the program expects to provide students with opportunities to develop advanced proficiency in Chinese as well as cultural literacy.

Chinese Minor Learning Outcomes

Chinese minors will know:

- Principal aspects of Chinese language
- Macro and micro societal environments and culture in contemporary China
- Tools to analyze the Chinese language, literary production, and social phenomena
- Chinese minors will be able to:
 - Speak Chinese appropriately and accurately
 - Read texts in Chinese that are conceptually abstract and linguistically complex
 - Write in Chinese on a variety of topics with precision and in detail
 - Conduct cross-linguistic and cultural analyses between Chinese and their native language and culture

Chinese minors will be able to demonstrate that they value:

- Multilingualism and multiculturalism
- Cultural values that are distinctively different from their own
- Social behaviors and mindsets of Chinese people that are deeply rooted and reflected in Chinese language and culture

Minor Requirements

The Chinese minor consists of 18 semester hours above the 102 level:

CHIN 203	Intermediate Chinese I 3 semester hours
CHIN 204	Intermediate Chinese II 3 semester hours
CHIN 305	Advanced Chinese I 3 semester hours
CHIN 306	Advanced Chinese II 3 semester hours and two 300–400 level content-based courses in Chinese

Note: The CHIN 101, CHIN 102, CHIN 203, CHIN 204 series is recommended for those who seek a basic speaking, writing, and reading knowledge of the language. This series requires one hour of study/drill session in the language lab each week.

Chinese Placement Exam

Any student who has knowledge of or has had prior instruction in Chinese in high school, community heritage language school, or at a college or university other than LMU must take the Chinese Placement Exam.

This requirement includes students who have taken the AP Chinese Language and Culture Exam in high school. Generally, a student who receives a score of 5 or 4 on the AP Chinese Language and Culture Exam places in CHIN 204 or higher. Course credit will be given for CHIN 101, CHIN 102, and CHIN 203 once a student's official scores have been received from the College Board. Final placement is conditional upon the instructor's consent. It is the responsibility of each student to ensure that the official AP scores have been sent to Loyola Marymount University.

To know when and how a student should take a language placement exam in Chinese, please refer to the guidelines provided under Modern Languages and Literatures.

French/Francophone Studies Minor

Minor Requirements

18 semester hours taken beyond FREN 203:

FREN 204	Intermediate French II 3 semester hours
FREN 301	French Pronunciation Clinic 3 semester hours
FREN 314	Stylistics and Translation 3 semester hours
FREN 321	Writing Workshop in French 3 semester hours
FREN 333	French Literature and Society I 3 semester hours or
FREN 334	French Literature and Society II 3 semester hours
	and one (1) course in the 400-level series

Note: The FREN 101, FREN 102, FREN 203, and FREN 204 series is recommended for those who seek basic proficiency in the language. This series requires attendance of a one hour weekly language lab.

French Placement Exam

Any student who has knowledge of or has had prior instruction in French in high school or at a college or university other than LMU must take the French Placement Exam.

This requirement includes students who have taken the AP French Exam in high school. Generally, a student who receives a score of 5 or 4 on the AP French Exam (Language or Literature) places in FREN 204. Final placement is conditional upon the instructor's consent. Course credit will be given for FREN 101, FREN 102, and FREN 203 once the student's official scores have been received from the College Board. It is the responsibility of each student to ensure that the official AP scores have been sent to Loyola Marymount University.

To know when and how a student should take a language placement exam in French, please refer to the guidelines provided under Modern Languages and Literatures.

German Minor

Objectives

During the phase of early language acquisition, our German courses build students' language skills and intercultural awareness. While still perfecting their language skills, students in GRMN 203 and above are introduced to short German prose from a variety of literary traditions. Literature courses range from a general survey of German literature over the centuries to the study of specific genres, such as drama, the novella, and the German fairy tale. In addition to literary studies, the German section also offers a course on German film and a course on German culture and civilization that provides an introduction to German history, society, politics, and the arts, while developing students' general intercultural awareness. For students interested in the language of business, the German section offers two business-related courses.

German Student Learning Outcomes

Students minoring in German will know:

- The principal aspects of the German language
- The principal aspects of the history of German literature and film

- The principal aspects of the history and culture of German-speaking countries;

Students minoring in German will be able to:

- Speak, understand, read, and write German in meaningful contexts
- Use the latest relevant applications in educational technology
- Read literary texts in German and discuss their content, techniques, and social significance;

Students minoring in German will value:

- German language, literature, and culture
- Expressing independent critical opinions
- Increasing intercultural awareness.

German courses at LMU foster communication and understanding others as essential aspects of the education of the whole person. Students thus embark on a road of lifelong learning that will take them into a richer future.

Minor Requirements

The German minor consists of 18 semester hours above the 100 level: GRMN 203, GRMN 204, GRMN 301, and three courses from upper division offerings (300–400 level). Within this minor a professional German emphasis is possible, with GRMN 302 and GRMN 437 offered as upper division course options for the business-oriented student.

The GRMN 101, GRMN 102, GRMN 203 series is recommended for those who seek a basic speaking, writing, and reading knowledge of the language.

Students of German may wish to take advantage of LMU's semester or full year New Europe Program in Bonn, Germany, to improve their language skills. Lower division elementary and intermediate German language courses in Bonn are listed each semester as EURO 181 and EURO 283. GRMN 301 Mastery of German is also available on a regular basis.

German Placement and Proficiency Testing

To know when and how a student should take a language placement exam in German, please refer to the guidelines provided under Modern Languages and Literatures.

Once per year, during the Spring semester, the German section offers a general proficiency test in German (ZD) for graduating minors. The test is internationally recognized and certifies the language skills of the student to prospective employers in the public and private sector.

Italian Minor

Objectives

The Italian minor introduces students to the rich, complex culture of Italy, first by providing them with basic linguistic skills in the Italian language, and subsequently by familiarizing them with important literary works produced in Italy over the centuries as well as with historically significant films.

Italian Minor Learning Outcomes

Italian minors will know:

- The principal elements of Italian syntax and morphology
- Representative works of Italian literature, cinema, and other forms of cultural production
- Theoretical concepts essential for the analysis of these texts.

Italian minors will be able to:

- Communicate effectively in written and oral forms in Italian
- Understand spoken Italian
- Read modern Italian literature
- Apply acquired critical skills to textual analysis and scholarly research.

Italian minors will be encouraged to value:

- The distinctive contributions of Italian culture to world civilization
- The interconnectedness of all cultures in the global era
- The complex ways in which issues of social justice find expression in cultural production.

Minor Requirements

The minor consists of 18 semester hours taken above the 100 level: ITAL 203, ITAL 204, and four courses taken from upper division offerings. Students who have not previously studied Italian and who wish to declare a minor in Italian are advised to begin their study of the language in their freshman year.

The ITAL 101, ITAL 102, ITAL 203 series is recommended for those who seek a basic speaking, writing, and reading knowledge of the language. This series requires one hour of independent study in the language lab each week.

Students with previous knowledge of the language or with course credit in Italian are requested to contact the department to schedule a placement exam.

Spanish Minor

Lower Division Requirements:

SPAN 101	Elementary Spanish I 3 semester hours
SPAN 102	Elementary Spanish II 3 semester hours
SPAN 203	Intermediate Spanish I 3 semester hours
SPAN 204	Intermediate Spanish II 3 semester hours or
SPAN 205	Intermediate Spanish II for Latino Students 3 semester hours

Note: Any of these courses may be satisfied by placing above that level through the LMU Spanish Placement Exam. A minimum grade of C (2.0) is required in all lower division Spanish courses.

Upper Division Requirements:

The minor consists of 18 semester hours in upper division courses:

SPAN 321	Stylistics and Composition 3 semester hours
SPAN 322	Introduction to Hispanic Literatures 3 semester hours
SPAN 333	Spanish Linguistics I: Sounds and Words 3 semester hours

6 semester hours in

SPAN 331	Survey of Peninsular Spanish Literature 3 semester hours
SPAN 332	Survey of Latin American Literature 3 semester hours
SPAN 334	Spanish Linguistics II: Structure and Variation 3 semester hours

And one upper division 400-level Spanish elective.

Note: Students must complete all upper division courses with a minimum grade of C (2.0) to maintain status.

LMU Spanish Placement Exam

Any student who has knowledge of or has had prior instruction in Spanish in high school or at a college or university other than LMU must take the LMU Spanish Placement Exam.

This requirement includes students who have taken an AP Spanish Exam in high school. A student who receives a score of 5 or 4 on the AP Spanish Exam (Language and/or Literature) might place in SPAN 321 Stylistics and Composition, SPAN 204 Intermediate Spanish II, or SPAN 205 Intermediate Spanish II for Latino Students. Final placement is conditional upon the instructor's consent. The student's CAPP report will reflect credit for SPAN 101, SPAN 102, and SPAN 203 after official scores have been received from the College Board. It is the responsibility of each student to ensure that the official AP scores have been sent to Loyola Marymount University.

To know when and how a student should take a language placement exam in Spanish, please refer to the guidelines provided under Modern Languages and Literatures.

Study Abroad

Students are strongly encouraged to take language courses abroad for a semester either during their sophomore year (Spring semester) or junior year (Fall or Spring semester). Prior to departure, students must obtain transfer credit approval for any courses that they plan to take. No more than two Spanish courses will transfer for the major. Consult the Study Abroad Office or the Spanish language professors for information about semester, year-long, or summer study abroad programs offered by other universities other than those that the Spanish program endorses.

Peace Studies

Director: Daniel L. Smith-Christopher

Peace Studies Minor

Objectives

In order to accommodate the significant diversity in approaches to peace and justice, Loyola Marymount University's Peace Studies program is a contract-based minor that is arranged on an individual basis, working with the particular interests and study areas of each student. Students may choose from a variety of courses that relate to chosen fields of interest and emphasis, drawing from programs such as Political Science, History, Ethnic Studies, Theological Studies, Philosophy, Classics, English, Sociology, and any number of other departments. The proposed contract, with the suggested list of courses, must be accepted in writing by both the Director of the Program and the Dean of the Bellarmine College of Liberal Arts before the minor is officially entered in the academic record of each student who wishes to enter the program.

Minor Requirements:

18 semester hours (6 courses) are required for the minor. There are no required courses, but it is strongly suggested that students take THST 304 War and Peace in the Bible as a foundation course for the program. There is a limit of 2 courses (6 semester hours) in lower division courses, and a single 400-level course is strongly encouraged. A Thesis/Independent Study option is available to fulfill this recommended course, to be arranged with the Director.

Peace Studies Student Learning Outcomes

Peace Studies minors will know:

- The approaches to war and peace of various religious traditions
- Nonviolence and Nonviolent Strategy as exemplified by Gandhi or Dr. King
- The significance of personal values arising from a commitment to peacemaking that may be applicable to one's personal as well as social life.

Peace Studies minors will be able to:

- Suggest skills and activities that may contribute to minimizing the potential for conflict and contribute to peacemaking in a given conflict situation
- Present a coherent defense of the values of peace within selected traditions, both religious and political.

Peace Studies minors will value:

- The diversity of approaches relevant to peacemaking skills
- The historical contributions made by peacemakers in the past, and assess their contributions to continued thought in Peace Studies
- The unique legacy of nonviolence in world history
- The varied Christian traditions of peacemaking and nonviolence as a theological as well as social value
- Contributions to peacemaking that are unique to their own tradition, if non-Christian (e.g., Jewish, Islamic, Buddhist).

To demonstrate the attainment of these learning outcomes, students submit a portfolio of class papers, tests, and other assignments from the six courses approved by the Director for their minor. Please direct all questions to the Director of Peace Studies.

The M.A. program at Loyola Marymount University is marked by three emphases: the history of Philosophy, including recent and contemporary continental philosophy; ethical studies; and philosophy informing and informed by the Catholic and Jesuit tradition. Our students are invited to acquire a solid grasp of the history of Philosophy, both Western and Eastern, and to pursue specialized studies of a range of philosophical issues and figures. The program is designed for students who seek the comprehensive background and training required for admission to and success in a Ph.D. program in Philosophy, as well as for those who wish to complement their studies in related disciplines with the Master of Arts in Philosophy. A special feature of our M.A. Program is our commitment to imparting to students the skills associated with effective teaching as they broaden and deepen their philosophical understanding.

The Department

The Loyola Marymount University Department of Philosophy has a longstanding commitment to excellent teaching, careful advising, and productive scholarship, and is dedicated to providing a collegial and friendly environment conducive to ongoing intellectual development. We encourage both students and faculty to engage in collaborative inquiry and discussion. While the department as a whole values a strong foundation in the history of philosophy, it is pluralistic in its orientation. The Department is distinguished by its desire to familiarize students with the full range of philosophical traditions and issues: western and eastern, continental and analytic. The special interests of our faculty cover a broad range of systematic topics and historical periods, providing resources for a wide variety of specialized studies.

Admission Requirement

1. The General Test of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) (waived for some foreign applicants).
2. Demonstration of undergraduate competence in Philosophy, as evidenced by the completion of an undergraduate major or minor in Philosophy, or strong undergraduate preparation in a closely related field. The competency of students with non-traditional backgrounds will be determined in interviews with the Program Director.
3. An undergraduate GPA of 3.0.
4. An application, an application fee, and two letters of recommendation testifying to the student's aptitude for graduate studies in Philosophy, from professors familiar with the student's undergraduate work in Philosophy.
5. A personal statement, of no more than four typed pages, on why the applicant wishes to pursue philosophical studies at the graduate level. Applicants should indicate in their statements their intention to pursue either a terminal M.A. or to seek admission to a Ph.D. program after earning the M.A.
6. A writing sample of approximately 10 typed pages, preferably of philosophical writing.
7. The deadline for the receipt of all materials is March 15 for the Fall semester and November 1 for the Spring semester.

Financial Assistance

Every student admitted into the program is considered for tuition assistance. The amounts of the grants vary and are awarded on the basis of both merit and need. One Research Assistantship is awarded each year. Teaching Fellowships may be awarded to students who participate in the Teacher Orientation Program (TOP). Students may also apply for a number of on-campus jobs reserved for graduate students. Rains Research Assistantships (60 hours per semester, 120 hours per year) may be obtained by arrangement with individual professors.

Philosophy, B.A.Objectives

Philosophy is a reflective and critical discipline whose aim is to explore fundamental ideas which underlie and penetrate human existence and constitute the deep background of all human endeavors: ideas such as Meaning and Truth, Knowledge and Being, Objectivity and Bias, Good and Evil, Value and Disvalue. Philosophic inquiry into these and related notions is governed by the complementary ideals of analytic precision and comprehensive synthesis, and so it aims to raise these basic notions from their everyday obscurity, to articulate them with logical precision and rigor, and to bind them together into an overarching vision of the nature and purpose of human life.

Accordingly, the Department of Philosophy offers basic courses in Critical Thinking, Human Nature, Ethics, and Contemporary Moral Problems in the core curriculum and a wide variety of courses complementary to studies in a broad range of fields. For convenience, courses are grouped into eight content areas:

- I. Morality, Law, and Politics (PHIL 320 through PHIL 334) (see Course Descriptions)
- II. Natural and Social Sciences (PHIL 341, PHIL 343)
- III. Arts and Literature (PHIL 254, PHIL 351, PHIL 352, PHIL 353, PHIL 354)
- IV. Religion and Theology (PHIL 361 through PHIL 368) (see Course Descriptions)
- V. History of Philosophy (PHIL 381, PHIL 382, PHIL 383, PHIL 385, PHIL 387)
- VI. Contemporary Movements (PHIL 421 through PHIL 426) (see Course Descriptions)
- VII. Major Thinkers (PHIL 451)
- VIII. Mind and Reality (PHIL 461 through PHIL 464) (see Course Descriptions)

Philosophy Student Learning Outcomes

Philosophy students will understand:

- The history of philosophy from the pre-Socratics to modern European thinkers
- Contemporary philosophical movements, issues, and techniques
- Central themes in the primary texts of important philosophers

Philosophy students will be able to:

- Demonstrate written competency in the analysis of philosophical issues
- Apply the tools of logic in the analysis and critical evaluation of philosophical texts
- Synthesize philosophical insights in relation to their own lived experience

Philosophy students will value:

- The contributions of philosophers to civilization
- An understanding of the relationship of philosophy to a variety of areas of human experience such as faith, morality, and culture
- Rigorous philosophical inquiry and reflection in relation to their own self-development, their interactions with others, and the quest for a better world.

Major Requirements

At entry to the University, students may declare the major or minor through the Office of Admission. LMU students wishing thereafter to declare the major or minor must meet with the chair. The chair will ordinarily sign the student's Change of Program petition, provided the student meets certain academic standards that include having a minimum GPA of 2.0 (C), not otherwise being on academic probation, and (for majors) upon completion of an entrance questionnaire.

Symbolic Logic

PHIL 221 Symbolic Logic 3 semester hours

The History of Philosophy sequence

PHIL 381 Ancient Philosophy 3 semester hours
 PHIL 383 Medieval Philosophy 3 semester hours
 PHIL 385 Modern Philosophy I 3 semester hours
 PHIL 387 Modern Philosophy II 3 semester hours

Note: Students are encouraged to take the History of Philosophy sequence in chronological order.

Five Philosophy electives

At least three of these electives must be upper division courses taken at LMU, in addition to the courses that satisfy the University Core Philosophical Inquiry and Ethics and Justice requirements.

Senior Assessment

PHIL 495 Senior Assessment 0 semester hours

Note: Students are strongly encouraged to study a foreign language to enhance their philosophical studies. Programs should be planned in consultation with their faculty advisor.

An average grade of C+ (2.3) must be maintained in Philosophy courses by majors.

Majors may take up to 13 upper division courses in Philosophy.

Honors in Philosophy

To graduate with honors in Philosophy, a Philosophy major must have a minimum GPA in Philosophy of 3.3, enroll in the PHIL 500 Senior Project in place of one of the upper division electives, and receive at least a grade of B+ (3.3) on the project.

Philosophy Model Four-Year Plan

The normal course load is 15 semester hours (5 classes). By following the model below, a student will complete all lower division core requirements by the end of the sophomore year as well as PHIL major prerequisites. Note that core areas are suggested to provide a distribution of various disciplines every semester. Please be flexible implementing these suggestions, given your own interests and course availability. In four years, this plan meets all common graduation requirements.

Philosophy, M.A.

Degree Requirements

The two-year program requires 30 credit hours of course work (10 600-level courses), successful completion of a reading proficiency examination in French, German, Latin, or Greek, and successful completion of an oral examination. Students are expected to take six courses in their first year, and four in their second. Students may complete their credit requirement with their own choice of graduate courses. A portion of the course requirement may be fulfilled by graduate course work in the Departments of English or Theological Studies, or in the Bioethics Institute, with the approval of the Program Director. Students must maintain a 3.0 GPA to remain in good standing.

Teacher Orientation and Practicum (TOP)

Students may elect to participate in the TOP Program. Students who wish to be considered for a Teaching Fellowship must participate in the TOP Program. The aim of TOP is to introduce students to the practical and pedagogical tasks involved in teaching at the undergraduate level, and to provide basic instruction in the effective performance of those tasks. TOP is administered by members of the Department of Philosophy. It includes both instructional sessions and practical applications. The instructional sessions provide guidelines for the preparation of course descriptions and syllabi, assignments and examinations, and for the grading of assignments and examinations. In addition, they offer guidelines for the preparation and delivery of lectures and the conduct of classroom discussions. The practical applications include: interviews with faculty members about their approaches to teaching and their methods, their successes and their failures; preparation of sample course descriptions and syllabi; preparation and delivery of a lecture, with optional videotaping, and a final review of the student's performance. Students participate in TOP in the second and third semesters of the M.A. Program and receive a Certificate of Participation upon completion of the program.

Oral Examination

The Oral Examination is a one-hour oral, conducted by three faculty members. Its aim is to probe and evaluate a student's ability to articulate and defend his/her developing epistemological, metaphysical, and ethical positions.

Language Requirement

Before completion of the program students must demonstrate reading proficiency in French, German, Latin, or Greek. Language examinations are offered every semester and may be retaken.

Learning Outcomes of the M.A. Program in Philosophy

Upon successful completion of the M.A. Program in Philosophy, the student

- Will be familiar with the major figures, movements, positions, and issues characterizing the ancient, medieval, modern, late modern, and contemporary periods in the history of Western Philosophy;
- Will be able to make intelligent and critical use of the resources and tools required for thorough philosophical research and writing;
- Will be able to interpret philosophical texts intelligently, critically, and charitably;
- Will be able to analyze and evaluate philosophical arguments;
- Will be capable of clear, coherent, and rigorous argumentation and expression in their own philosophical writing;
- Will be able to communicate their interpretations of philosophical texts and their own critical views confidently in both informal and professional settings;
- Will be able to engage in fruitful philosophical dialogue and discussion;
- Will be able to formulate precisely and communicate clearly their own developing positions on the basic epistemological, metaphysical, and ethical questions;
- Will have a clearer understanding and firmer grasp of the philosophical questions with which they themselves are most deeply concerned;
- Will be familiar with the range of responsibilities associated with the professional side of the philosophical life.

Philosophy Minor

Minor Requirements

18 semester hours in Philosophy, of which at least 12 are in upper division courses. Core requirements PHIL 198 and PHIL 320 through PHIL 330 (see Course Descriptions) may be counted towards the minor. An average of C (2.0) must be attained in courses in the minor.

The Department of Philosophy also offers a minor in Ethics for students who wish to explore further the foundations of ethics and ethical issues as they arise in a range of theoretical and applied domains. Philosophy majors and minors may not minor in Ethics.

4-Semester-Hour Political Science Curriculum

Several years ago the Department of Political Science converted all of our upper division courses into 4-semester-hour classes. The goal of this change was to enhance depth and rigor in the Political Science curriculum. All lower division courses still count for 3 semester hours, and upper division courses offered by Political Science faculty count for 4 semester hours. This curricular design enables students to take four courses instead of the usual five in at least one semester in both the junior and senior year. Ideally, our curriculum will allow students to take fewer courses overall, while exploring the subject area of their choice in greater depth. The 4-semester-hour courses are more challenging and rigorous. Graduating students surveyed find the courses to be more interesting, demanding, and beneficial to their academic experience. Political Science is one of the only departments across the College to adopt such a model thus far.

Political Science, B.A.

Objectives

The Department challenges and encourages students to:

- Be perceptive observers of political life in all its variety and richness;
- Seek a systematic understanding of the causes and consequences of political institutions, policies, and behavior;
- Develop a moral and ethical perspective that allows them to critically evaluate actions, institutions, and policies; and
- Prepare themselves for a life of active citizenship and involvement in creating a more just and humane world.

The Department challenges and encourages its faculty to:

- Master the art of teaching;
- Contribute to their profession as active scholars and researchers; and
- Promote an atmosphere of care and concern for each student inside and outside the classroom.

Both faculty and students share a responsibility for creating a lively and diverse community of scholars marked by civility, mutual respect, and support.

Political Science Student Learning Outcomes

The Political Science Department strives to help all majors:

1. Demonstrate a broad and deep understanding of politics and political science
2. Possess the skills necessary to think critically and communicate effectively about politics
3. Exhibit a commitment to active citizenship and a just society

Major Requirements

Political Science majors are required to take one social science course from outside the major. The course may be a lower or upper level course in Economics, Geography, Psychology, Sociology, Urban Studies, or any course that satisfies the Understanding Human Behavior requirement of the University Core.

A. Lower Division Requirements: 4 courses (12 semester hours)

1. Students must take two of the following three courses: POLS 135, POLS 155, and POLS 165.
2. Students must take POLS 210 and POLS 220.
3. An average grade of C (2.0) must be obtained in these courses.

B. Upper Division Requirements: 6 courses (24 semester hours)

1. Students take at least one 500-level seminar.
2. An average grade of C (2.0) must be obtained in courses included in the major.

C. Additional Requirements

1. Students must take at least four 4-semester-hour courses to complete the major.

Total: 36 semester hours

Honors in Political Science

Students who attain a GPA of 3.7 or higher, both overall and in the major, are automatically eligible to enroll in the POLS 581 Honors Seminar in the Fall of their senior year and write an POLS 591 Honors Thesis in the Spring of their senior year. Other students may be invited to pursue Honors by the faculty. The Honors Seminar is a prerequisite for the Honors Thesis. Students who attain a grade of A- or higher for the Honors Thesis will graduate with Honors in Political Science. Both the Honors Seminar and Honors Thesis count toward the 24 semester hours of upper division course work required of majors.

Political Science Model Four-Year Plan

The normal course load is 14–16 semester hours (4–5 classes). By following the model below, a student interested in completing the major will complete all lower division core requirements by the end of the sophomore year, as well as most major prerequisites. Note that core areas are suggested to provide a distribution of various disciplines every semester. Please be flexible implementing these suggestions, given your own interests and course availability. In four years, this plan meets all common graduation requirements.

Students may take no more than 30 upper division semester hours in any one department, except for Political Science, where the maximum is 32, and Philosophy, where the maximum is 39.

Political Science Minor

Minor Requirements

18 semester hours

A. Lower Division Requirements: 2 courses (6 semester hours)

1. Students must take two of the following lower division courses:

POLS 135 U.S. Politics 3 semester hours
 POLS 155 Comparative Politics 3 semester hours
 POLS 165 International Relations 3 semester hours
 POLS 210 Empirical Approaches 3 semester hours
 POLS 220 Foundations of Political Thought 3 semester hours

B. Upper Division Requirements: 12 semester hours

- At least two 4 semester hour courses must be taken to complete the minor. The remaining four semester hours may be completed by taking any of the offered upper division courses.
- Of the 12 upper division semester hours, at least one course must be taken in two of the four subfields in Political Science: Political Thought, American Politics, Comparative Politics, and International and World Politics.
- Only 3 or 4 semester hour courses satisfy the subfield requirement.
- An average grade of C (2.0) must be obtained in the courses included in the minor.

Note: Specific programs should be planned individually with the advice of a faculty advisor.

Mission

The Psychology program shares the University's commitment to develop ethical leaders for a culturally diverse world, and contributes to the liberal education of students. Through a comprehensive education in the science of psychology, the Psychology Department seeks to educate the whole person, pursue academic excellence, advance scholarship, promote service and justice, and encourage life-long learning.

Description

The Psychology Department provides a high quality curriculum emphasizing excellence in teaching and learning. Students majoring in psychology examine in depth many aspects of human and animal behavior, along with the biological, psychological, and sociocultural aspects of behavior. Students are provided the opportunity to apply these perspectives to a variety of individual, family, and community contexts. As students progress through the curriculum, they have opportunities to assist faculty with research and engage in their own research with faculty supervision. The program prepares students for graduate study in psychology and related fields or careers in other professions.

Psychology, B.A.

Goals and Objectives

The goals of the Psychology curriculum focus on educating students in the methodology, content, and application of psychological science.

Goal 1: Theory and Methodology in Psychology

Students should:

- Understand the role of psychology as a discipline that uses an empirical approach to knowledge; and
- Use, respect, and value skeptical inquiry, critical thinking, and the scientific approach to understanding behavior.

Knowledge areas students will study/learn:

- Basic research methods and ethics
- History and systems and philosophy of science
- Data analysis and interpretation
- Scientific and critical thinking
- Scientific writing and communication.

Goal 2: Mastery of Content (Discipline Specific Knowledge)

Students should be familiar with:

- Core theoretical approaches and research findings that reflect a biopsychosocial understanding of behavior; and
- More in-depth theoretical approaches and research findings within at least one subject area in psychology.

Core knowledge areas students will study/learn:

- Biological foundations of behavior
- Psychological foundations of behavior
- Social and cultural foundations of behavior
- Biopsychosocial development across the lifespan.

Goal 3: Application of Knowledge and Scientific Method

Students should demonstrate the application of psychological theory, methodology, and findings to:

- An understanding of the whole person, as an individual and as a member of a larger community, society, and culture; and
- The promotion of social justice in these contexts.

Psychology Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Psychology curriculum, students will demonstrate knowledge of the history, foundations, content, and analytical skills of psychology in their ability to:

1. Demonstrate knowledge of the history, foundations, content, and methods used in Psychology, specifically in the following areas:
 - a. Learning and Cognition
 - b. Biological Psychology (including Neuropsychology, Sensation and Perception, Comparative, and Ethological Psychology)
 - c. Clinical, Abnormal, and Personality Psychology
2. Developmental and Social Psychology
3. Demonstrate an increased appreciation and understanding of the importance of a scientific approach to understanding human behavior
4. Demonstrate an ability to analyze and critically evaluate the biopsychosocial components of behavior
5. Demonstrate an ability to apply critical thinking in order to
6. Understand psychological principles
7. Evaluate scientific research, including research presented in the media
8. Demonstrate written communication skills on psychological topics
9. Demonstrate oral communication skills on psychological topics
10. Demonstrate an ability to apply psychological principles, including the consideration of ethics and social justice, to contemporary problems/issues
11. Demonstrate an ability to identify ethical issues and apply ethical principles to research in the following situations:
 12. When conducting research
 13. When evaluating research

14. Demonstrate competency in the following aspects of research methods:

- a. Locate and understand past research
- b. Formulate a hypothesis based on past research
- c. Design research to test a hypothesis
- d. Use statistical software to analyze research data
- e. Write complete manuscripts in APA style

Major Requirements

A minimum grade of C (2.0) is required in all courses for the major.

Students may not register for any Psychology course for a third time without the written permission of the Psychology Department Chairperson and the Dean of the Bellarmine College of Liberal Arts.

Pre-major Requirements (3 semester hours):

A minimum grade of C (2.0) is required in the Pre-major Requirements in order to declare or remain a Psychology major. Students must repeat any course in which a grade below C (2.0) is earned.

HHSC 150 Human Anatomy and Physiology 3 semester hours

Note: BIOL 101 or a similar course covering anatomy, physiology, or human biology may be substituted for HHSC 150 for students who previously completed such a course with a grade of C (2.0) or better.

Lower Division Major Requirements (13 semester hours):

1. PSYC 241 Statistical Methods for Psychology and PSYC 243 Statistical Methods for Psychology Lab. Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 100, PSYC 243 or concurrent enrollment.
2. PSYC 251 Brain and Behavior. Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: HHSC 150, PSYC 100, or consent of instructor.
3. PSYC 261 Experimental Methods. Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 100, PSYC 241, PSYC 243.
4. PSYC 265 Nonexperimental Methods. Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 100, PSYC 241, PSYC 243.

Upper Division Major Requirements (24 semester hours):

5. PSYC 401 Cognition. Prerequisites: PSYC 251, PSYC 261, and PSYC 265 (grade of C [2.0] or higher in each).
6. PSYC 410 Social Psychology. Prerequisites: PSYC 251, PSYC 261, and PSYC 265 (grade of C [2.0] or higher in each).
7. PSYC 415 Lifespan Development. Prerequisites: PSYC 251, PSYC 261, and PSYC 265 (grade of C [2.0] or higher in each).
NOTE: Students must earn a grade of C (2.0) or higher in each of the above three courses before taking other 400- or 500-level PSYC courses.
8. Four additional upper division PSYC courses (12 semester hours). A maximum of 6 of these 12 semester hours may be at the 300 level.
9. Capstone Course: PSYC 515. Prerequisites: All required courses completed or currently in progress.
10. Senior Assessment: PSYC 595. Prerequisite: Concurrent enrollment in PSYC 515, or completed with a grade of C (2.0) or higher.

Note: Students may take no more than 30 semester hours of upper division psychology courses.

Assistant Professors: Stephanie Limoncelli, David Marple, Mona Seymour, Rachel Washburn

Sociology, B.A.

Objectives

As a department, our objectives are to foster the intellectual development of students and to promote lifetime learning experiences. We do this through teaching and applying the insights of sociological perspectives to achieve a critical understanding of social reality and the human condition.

Our curriculum is designed to explore relationships within society, the social and cultural influences on human behavior, dynamics of interaction, and social institutions and social change in a global context.

Sociology Student Learning Outcomes

Students majoring in Sociology should know:

- The processes and structures that establish the underlying regularities of social life
- How social life is continually reconstructed through opposition and deviance
- The significance of cultural differences in traditional and modern societies
- The origin and development of principal theoretical ideas that inform contemporary sociological inquiries
- The basic methodological and statistical strategies used in contemporary sociology;

Students majoring in Sociology should be able to:

- Recognize how social life is structured in ways that influence choices, opportunities, and action
- Demonstrate an ability to write and speak effectively about contemporary social issues
- Read, assess, and interpret the results of sociological research
- Successfully complete an independent research project that competently draws from current theoretical, methodological, and empirical research;

Students majoring in Sociology should value:

- A knowledge of the range of interests and goals expressed by groups and organizations in society
- The ways in which sociological research may be effectively employed by organizations and institutions
- The application of sociological knowledge in order to enhance the quality of life

- A reasoned participation in community life that is informed by grounded sociological knowledge.

Major Requirements

Sociology majors are required to take one social science course from outside the major. The course may be a lower or upper level course in Economics, Geography, Political Science, Psychology, Urban Studies, or any course that satisfies the Understanding Human Behavior requirement of the University Core.

Lower Division Requirements (9 semester hours):

SOCL 100	Principles of Sociology	3 semester hours
SOCL 109	Social Research Methods	3 semester hours
SOCL 210	Elementary Social Statistics	3 semester hours

Note: A grade of at least C (2.0) will be required in all lower division courses.

Upper Division Requirements:

27 semester hours in upper division courses in sociology which must include SOCL 301, SOCL 401, and SOCL 495. An average grade of C (2.0) must be obtained in courses included in the major.

SOCL 495 should be taken in the senior year. The remaining 18 semester hours are to be chosen from the six theme areas into which upper division sociology courses are grouped: I. Deviance and Control; II. Social Inequality; III. Urban, Population, and Demographic Processes; IV. Social Structure, Culture, and Process; V. Family and Life Cycle; and VI. Globalization. Students must take at least one course from four of the theme areas. The remaining courses may be taken from any of the upper division offerings.

At least two 300- or 400-level sociology courses must be taken in the senior year.

Sociology Model Four-Year Plan

The normal course load is 15 semester hours (5 classes). By following the model below, a student will complete all lower division core requirements by the end of the sophomore year as well as most major prerequisites. Note that core areas are suggested to provide a distribution of various disciplines every semester. Please be flexible implementing these suggestions, given your own interests and course availability. In four years, this plan meets all common graduation requirements.

Theological Studies Graduate Program

Mission Statement

The Master of Arts (Theology) provides students with a critical understanding of the Christian theological tradition, especially from a Roman Catholic perspective. The program engages students in serious reflection on the broad range of theological studies and methods (biblical, comparative, historical, liturgical, and systematic theology, as well as ethics, spirituality, faith and culture, ecumenical and inter-religious dialogue). The goal of the program is to provide a general and integrated exploration of these areas for students seeking to teach on a secondary level, for students preparing for graduate education, and for students with a strong interest in theology beyond the undergraduate level.

The Master of Arts in Pastoral Theology engages the student in critical theological reflection on ministerial practice as preparation for active ministry in a pluralistic society. The program provides theological foundations in pastoral theology, especially in the Roman Catholic tradition, and integrates the formation of persons preparing for pastoral ministry with their study of the Christian theological tradition (spirituality, liturgy, faith and culture, ethics, as well as biblical, historical, and systematic theology, and ecumenical and inter-religious dialogue). Throughout the program there is a stress on the holistic relationships between pastoral theology, faith seeking critical understanding, and faith that does justice.

Admission Requirements

- Baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution
- Demonstrated ability to do graduate studies

This last requirement can be fulfilled by providing a range of information including: graduate work completed or advanced degree obtained; evidence of undergraduate work, including GPA and submission of written academic work (e.g., a term paper); scores received on the GRE, the Miller Analogies, or other standardized tests (recommended but not required); a personal interview.

Applicants need to indicate the particular Master of Arts program to which they are applying, either M.A. (Theology) [THEO] or M.A. in Pastoral Theology (PATH).

All applicants for admission to the master's degree programs are required to submit a Graduate Division application and $50.00 fee; two copies of all post-secondary transcripts; a personal statement; and two letters of recommendation, including one academic reference. All materials should be sent to the Graduate Admissions Office.

Applicants who have applied for admission may be formally admitted or may be required to fulfill prerequisites before being formally admitted.

All materials for admission must be received in the Graduate Admission Office by the date listed below. Applications received after this deadline will be reviewed on an individual basis.

March 1 for the Fall semester

Students may take graduate courses in non-degree status with permission of the Graduate Director.

Theological Studies Undergraduate Program

Mission Statement

The Department of Theological Studies engages the LMU student community in thoughtful, critical reflection on faith and religious praxis with a special concern for the Roman Catholic tradition. It offers courses in three areas: A. Sacred Scriptures, Religious Sources, and Traditions; B. Theology, Ethics, and Spirituality; and C. Faith, Culture, and Ministry. We educate the whole person and serve faith by an academic exploration of its possibilities, challenges, and ambiguities while also engaging in ecumenical and interreligious dialogue. We strive to promote justice by the structure of our curriculum and by encouraging students and faculty to engage their theological understanding in a world both graced and broken.

Vision Statement

Loyola Marymount University is the largest Catholic university on the West Coast, in a city that is at once the large Roman Catholic archdiocese in the United States as well as one of the most religiously diverse cities in the world. The Department of Theological Studies has the unique role and responsibility of promoting the study of theology and religion within the University and the broader Los Angeles community. The Department also has a special role to play in helping the University to live out its Mission in the service of faith and the promotion of justice. The urgency of these endeavors is reinforced by the importance of religion in the 21st century in our globalized world.

Catholic Studies Minor

Students with particular interest in Catholic Studies are encouraged to consider the Catholic Studies Minor described in this Bulletin.

Jewish Studies Minor

Students with particular interest in Jewish Studies are encouraged to consider the Jewish Studies Minor described in this Bulletin.

Theology, B.A.

Program Goals

1. To maintain a challenging and current curriculum for our Majors to provide them with a foundation for pursuing careers as teachers, ministers, or for graduate work in Theological Studies;
2. To maintain a challenging and current curriculum for our Minors to provide them with a solid understanding of theology and religious studies, ethical values, social justice, and spirituality;
3. To maintain a current and challenging set of core curriculum courses that contribute to fulfilling the mission of Loyola Marymount as a Catholic liberal arts University.

Student Learning Outcomes

By virtue of their Theological Studies courses, students should know:

- The beliefs and practices of Christianity, with emphasis on the Catholic Tradition.
- Some of the beliefs and practices of the world's religions.
- Some aspects of how culture, race, gender, class, and ethnicity affect theological reflection.

By virtue of their Theological Studies courses, students should be able to:

- Interpret critically theological and/or religious texts and phenomena through research and writing.
- Express orally and in writing the significance of theological and religious values for church, society, and/or self.
- Integrate religious meaning and lived practice.

By virtue of their Theological Studies courses, students should value:

- The Catholic theological tradition.
- Ecumenical and interreligious dialogue.
- The promotion of justice and the service of faith.

Major Requirements

The undergraduate major consists of 36 semester hours total (12 courses).

Lower Division Requirements (6 semester hours):

THST 100	Introduction to the Old Testament	3 semester hours
THST 110	Introduction to the New Testament	3 semester hours

Note: Normally, THST 100 and THST 110 are taken at the beginning of the program of study.

Upper Division Requirements (30 semester hours):

Required Upper Division Courses (9 semester hours)

THST 320	History of Christianity I	3 semester hours (Students are encouraged to take this sequence in their Sophomore or Junior year.)
THST 321	History of Christianity II	3 semester hours (Students are encouraged to take this sequence in their Sophomore or Junior year.)
THST 496	Senior Integration Seminar	3 semester hours (for graduating seniors)

Distribution Requirements (18 semester hours, at least 12 of which must be 400-level)

- Area A: Sacred Scriptures, Religious Sources, and Traditions—two courses 6 semester hours
- Area B: Theology, Ethics, and Spirituality—three courses 9 semester hours
- Area C: Faith, Culture, and Ministry—one course 3 semester hours

One additional upper division THST course of the student's choice 3 semester hours

Note: An average grade of C (2.0) must be obtained in the courses included in the major.

We highly recommend that students wishing to pursue graduate study in Theology have a reading knowledge of two languages, either classical or modern.

We further recommend that additional philosophy courses be taken as early as possible. The specific courses are to be determined in conjunction with the student's Theological Studies advisor.

Theology Society

The Theology Society is a co-curricular student group open to all Theological Studies undergraduate majors and minors, as well as non-majors/minors who are interested in the theological issues and topics. The group convenes monthly, typically sharing lunch and discussion, often with a guest speaker. The group also organizes various outings as opportunities for students to socialize with one another and with Theological Studies faculty. The Theology Society hosts annual visits from admissions representatives from graduate theological programs around the country for interested students. The Theology Society's members also participate in an annual paper competition sponsored by the Department of Theological Studies, in which the winning paper is presented to faculty and students each Spring.

Theta Alpha Kappa

LMU's Department of Theological Studies is an institutional member of Theta Alpha Kappa, the only national honor society serving the needs of those involved in the study of religion and/or theology. The membership of Theta Alpha Kappa is composed of students and professors who have been elected to membership upon the basis of excellence in Theology and Religious Studies. Each Spring the department inducts eligible students into this honor society.

Undergraduate Admission Qualifications:

1. Completion of at least three semesters at LMU
2. Successful completion of 12 semester hours of THST course work
3. Cumulative GPA of at least 3.0
4. GPA of at least 3.5 in THST course work

Core Curriculum in Theological Studies

- One course from THST 100–199 (see Course Descriptions);
- One course from THST 300–399 (Junior standing required) (see Course Descriptions).

Only courses in the 100 series and 300 series will fulfill the core curriculum requirements. All 400-level courses have a prerequisite of one 300-level course. The 400-level courses fulfill major or minor requirements. Except for those entering LMU as a transfer student, no student may take a 300-level course without successful prior completion of a 100-level course.

For students interested in the study of Catholicism in the core curriculum, the Theological Studies Department offers three courses, THST 120, THST 326, and THST 345, which are designed to study the Catholic tradition. For the non-majors who wish a core sequence in Catholic Theology, we recommend THST 120 and either THST 326 or THST 345.

Theological Studies Model Four-Year Plan

The normal course load is 15 semester hours (5 classes). By following the model below, a student will complete all lower division core requirements by the end of the sophomore year as well as most major prerequisites. Pastoral Theology Electives (18 semester hours)

Pastoral Theology students are required to take one three-semester-hour course in either Liturgy, Religious Education, or Spirituality and select other elective courses offered by the Department of Theological Studies after consultation with their advisor.

The program is designed to allow a student to pursue general interests or a particular concentration. Concentrations are offered in two areas: 1) Pastoral Leadership and 2) Spiritual Direction. Under special circumstances, students may take up to two courses (six semester hours) outside the department.

Spiritual Direction Concentration

An option for Students in the M.A. in Pastoral Theology

This concentration is designed for anyone enrolled in the Master of Arts in Pastoral Theology who would like to acquire the art of spiritual direction, a ministry of accompanying others in their spiritual journey. The purpose of the concentration is twofold: 1) to provide a course of studies that integrates theology, Scripture, psychology, spirituality, skills acquisition and supervision in the art of spiritual direction and 2) to assist participants to discern whether they are being called to the ministry of spiritual direction.

Upon successful completion of the four required courses listed below, participants will be able to designate that their Master of Arts in Pastoral Theology included a concentration in spiritual direction training.

Students who wish to concentrate their electives in spiritual direction would take the following courses. NOTE: THST 685 The Theory and Practice of Spiritual Direction, needs to be taken first; THST 688 Practicum and Supervision in Spiritual Direction, needs to be taken last. The other two courses can be taken whenever opportune, after completing the first course.

THST 685	The Theory and Practice of Spiritual Direction 3 semester hours
THST 686	Ignatian Spirituality and Discernment 3 semester hours (prerequisite: THST 685)
THST 687	Psychological Foundations of Spiritual Direction 3 semester hours (prerequisite: THST 685)
THST 688	Practicum and Supervision in Spiritual Direction 3 semester hours (taken after completion of the three courses listed above)

Pastoral Leadership Concentration

An option for Students in the M.A. in Pastoral Theology

Description:

The concentration is made up of four courses (12 semester hours) that the student chooses from the set of approved courses listed in the Bulletin for this Concentration.

The concentration is designed to educate those who will serve (or who currently serve) as leaders in pastoral settings, either as leaders in specialized ministries or as leaders in general ministry positions. Examples of leaders in specialized ministry: Directors of Religious Education, Directors of Youth Ministry of Campus Ministry, Directors of Catechumenate/RClA. Leaders in generalist ministries include pastors and Pastoral Associates who are assigned a variety of general duties according to need.

The concentration is deliberately open to the students to design under the guidance of the academic advisor. In this way, students who find themselves actively engaged in, or aspiring to, leadership ministries within schools or parishes will choose courses for the concentration that fit their current or aspired ministry commitments.

Pastoral Leadership Concentration Course Offerings

THST 670	Foundations of Pastoral Theology 3 semester hours (graduate core course)
----------	--

Students are required to take:

THST 674	Theory and Practice of Pastoral Leadership 3 semester hours
----------	--

Students are required to take any two (2) of the following:

THST 650	Liturgical Theology: History and Interpretation 3 semester hours
THST 652	The Rites 3 semester hours
THST 671	Pastoral Approaches to Religious Education 3 semester hours
THST 673	Faith and Culture 3 semester hours Catechesis in Southern California
THST 677	Pastoral Liturgy 3 semester hours
THST 678	The Theology of the Parish 3 semester hours
THST 679	Special Topics in Pastoral Theology 3 semester hours
THST 687	Psychological Foundations of Spiritual Direction 3 semester hours

Pastoral Synthesis Project (PT capstone)

The Pastoral Synthesis Project is the required capstone experience for all Pastoral Theology students. The project is designed to elicit familiarity with scholarly sources and pastoral analysis of issues that impact the contemporary practice of ministry. The project is not solely a research paper nor a reflection paper, but a synthesis of both. The project is typically done in the last semester of the Pastoral Theology program.

Learning Outcomes

Students will know the basic contours of:

- Pastoral Theology
- Critical approaches to Biblical Theology and Systematic Theology
- Either Theological Ethics or Historical Theology
- Theological Method
- Students will be able to:
 - Assess pastoral situations from a critical stance
 - Reflect on ministerial practice in a pluralistic society
 - Engage in biblical exegesis with attention both to historical contexts and contemporary pastoral contexts
 - Reflect critically on the praxis of faith, particularly within the Roman Catholic context
 - Discuss the main contours of either church history or of theological ethics, especially as they relate to ministerial practice
 - Integrate theological vision, critical understanding, and a faith attentive to justice
- Students will value:
 - The significance of ecclesial community for pastoral practice
 - An integrated formation of the person for pastoral ministry
 - A pluralistic approach to pastoral ministry

Theology Electives (21 semester hours)

Theology students are to complete an additional 21 semester hours for a total of 42 semester hours.

Total: 42 semester hours

Comparative Theology Concentration

An option for Students in the M.A. (Theology)

M.A. (Theology) students may choose to take elective courses that develop a concentration in Comparative Theology. The concentration in Comparative Theology serves students who wish to focus their program more specifically around questions of religious diversity, inter-religious dialogue, world religions, and comparative theology.

The concentration is comprised of four courses (12 semester hours), one (1) required course (THST 680: Comparative Theology), and three (3) other approved courses, which the student chooses in conjunction with the academic advisor. Students must also fulfill core requirements as listed above, items A through G.

Comparative Theology Concentration—Course Offerings

Students who choose to do this Concentration are required to take:

THST 680 Comparative Theology 3 semester hours

In addition, students are required to take three (3) of the following: (Or other courses approved by the academic advisor in concert with the graduate director)

THST 612 Hinduism: Vedanta and Yoga 3 semester hours
 THST 613 Buddhism and Jainism 3 semester hours

 THST 619 Readings in Religious Literature 3 semester hours
 THST 643 Feminist Theology 3 semester hours
 THST 681 Comparative Religious Ethics 3 semester hours
 THST 682 Comparative Mysticism 3 semester hours

Learning Outcomes

Students will know the basic contours of:

- Biblical Theology
- Systematic Theology
- Theological Ethics
- Historical Theology
- Comparative Theology
- Theological Method
- Students will be able to:
- Perform biblical exegesis with attention to historical contexts, the history of interpretation, and contemporary theological developments
- Engage in critical theological reflection on major systematic themes
- Demonstrate a clear grasp of significant developments in the history of the church
- Describe the work of seminal thinkers in the history of Christian ethics and analyze contemporary moral problems
- Demonstrate familiarity with other (non-Christian) religious traditions
- Recognize and employ various theological methods

Students will value:

- Critical fidelity within the Roman Catholic tradition
- Ecumenical and inter-faith dialogue
- Creative tension between theological unity and diversity

Lay Ministry Minor

Lay Ministry Minor Requirements

18 semester hours with at least 15 semester hours from upper division courses, including six semester hours at the 400 level. The courses for the minor must be selected under the direction of the faculty advisor for the Lay Ministry Minor. The student must select no more than two courses from each of areas A, B, and C (see Theology, B.A.).

In addition, the student will be required to participate in 90 hours of active service in related fields of lay ministry. This will be under the direction of the faculty advisor and contracted through the Career Development office.

Urban Studies, B.A.

Objectives

As an interdisciplinary program, Urban Studies encourages students to examine urbanization and the multitude of issues inherent in urban life from the perspectives of a wide range of disciplines and methodological traditions. The critical analysis of urban issues helps students evaluate the various political, sociocultural, and economic strategies available to urban planners, local governments, law enforcement agencies, and others seeking to remedy the problems of contemporary cities.

The curriculum of the Urban Studies program, including its internship program, allows students to take advantage of one of LMU's greatest assets: the many linkages that connect LMU to the extraordinarily dynamic, multicultural metropolitan area surrounding the University. Los Angeles is both an educational resource and a laboratory for Urban Studies students.

Career options for Urban Studies majors may be found in local government, law enforcement, real estate development, and urban social services. The major is also appropriate preparation for students seeking careers or graduate education in urban planning, public administration, social welfare, policy analysis, or the law.

Urban Studies Student Learning Outcomes

By virtue of their Urban Studies Program courses, students should know:

- The general history of urbanization and its associated economic and demographic processes
- The structures and expressions of urbanization and urban life associated with modern and postmodern cities
- The structures and expressions of urbanization and urban life associated with cities of the developed realms/core and those associated with cities of the less developed realm/periphery
- The basic research questions and agendas associated with the various disciplines contributing to our understanding of urban issues
- The general expressions of urbanization and urban life associated with contemporary Los Angeles
- The common theories, practices, and methodologies employed in contemporary urban planning and policy analysis;

By virtue of their Urban Studies Program courses, students should be able to:

- Effectively employ contemporary social science methodology in the analysis of urban issues
- Demonstrate written and oral competencies in the analysis of urban issues and policy
- Identify and utilize appropriate primary data, including census materials, for the analysis of urban issues
- Apply their understanding of urban issues to the development and critical analysis of programs and policies appropriate to addressing contemporary social and economic problems
- Successfully pursue graduate education in such areas as urban planning, public administration, policy analysis, social welfare, and the law upon completion of their major;

By virtue of their Urban Studies Program courses, students should value:

- Diverse perspectives in the analysis and assessment of urban issues and policies

- Thoughtful analysis of the implications of urbanization and urban policy in the context of social justice and sound environmental practices
- Rigorous, scientific research that enlightens the experience of urban populations and contributes to the resolution of the social and environmental problems associated with urbanization
- Community-based participation in the development of programs and policies that contribute to the social, economic, political, and environmental improvement of their communities and cities.

Women's StudiesFaculty*Chairperson: Stella OhAssistant Professors: Stella Oh, Jade Sasser, Trace VoylesWomen's Studies, B.A*Objectives

The mission of Women's Studies at Loyola Marymount University is to engage students in a critical understanding of the complex ways gender shapes the world around them, particularly in relation to race, sexuality, class, and other social factors. Women's Studies invites all students to participate in a vibrant interdisciplinary program of study that places women at the center of traditional disciplines in which they have been historically marginalized. It encourages the critical examination of academic fields such as the humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, and the arts, together with the gendered assumptions that underwrite them. Further, Women's Studies proposes not only that we ask different questions of academic disciplines from the perspective of women, but also that we transform those fields and ways of knowing through the innovative theoretical tools and new methodologies that have been developed by feminist scholars and activists over the past thirty years. As a department committed to transformation through education, the mission of Women's Studies is to call attention to the androcentric nature of society, propose alternatives and strategies that honor women's human rights, and promote a vision of society where gender hierarchy, as well as other forms of social injustice, are eliminated. Grounded in feminist pedagogy, Women's Studies courses provide students with a broad understanding of the asymmetry of gender relations within diverse historical and cultural contexts. Our mission is to foster a vigorous intellectual environment where students can develop their analytical thinking skills and conceptual tools for social change.

Women's Studies Student Learning Outcomes

After completing their program in Women's Studies, students will have:

- Acquired a critical understanding of the complex ways gender shapes the world, particularly in relation to race, sexuality, class, and other social factors
- Acquired a strong commitment to social justice for women of all ethnicities

- Learned new methodologies and theoretical tools
- Learned to express themselves well both orally and in writing.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Administration

Dean: Dennis W. Draper

Associate Deans: Renéé Florsheim (Undergraduate) and Jack Gregg (Graduate Programs)

Directors: Yongsun Paik (Center for Asian Business); Lawrence P. Kalbers (Center for Accounting Ethics, Governance, and the Public Interest); David Choi (Fred Keisner Center for Entrepreneurship); Thomas White (Center for Ethics and Business), Interim Director Richard Stafford (Executive MBA Program)

Organization

The College has four Departments, four Centers, three undergraduate programs, and three graduate programs, each led by a Chairperson, Associate Dean, or Director.

- Department of Accounting
- Department of Finance and Computer Information Systems
- Department of Management
- Department of Marketing and Business Law
- Center for Accounting Ethics, Governance, and the Public Interest
- Center for Asian Business
- Center for Ethics and Business (courses and activities are offered through the Departments)
- Fred Keisner Center for Entrepreneurship (courses are offered through the Departments)

Graduate Degree Programs

The College offers the Master of Business Administration in different formats. The part-time MBA addresses the educational demands of a person who recognizes the need to continue to build his or her career.

The Executive MBA (EMBA) is for the experienced business leader who aspires to executive-level responsibility.

The College also offers a Master of Science in Accounting.

Baccalaureate Degree Programs

The College offers three Baccalaureate Degrees: Bachelor of Business Administration (B.B.A.) with majors in Entrepreneurship, Finance, Marketing, and Management; the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) with a major in Applied Information Management Systems; and the Bachelor of Science in Accounting (B.S.A.).

The Vision and Mission of the College of Business Administration

The vision of the College is to be recognized as a leading College of Business Administration within a Catholic university through our commitment to learning, values, and research. The underlying theme is the development of ethical leaders for a diverse, technologically-driven, global economy. These statements confirm our commitment to the principles of continuous improvement. The primary focus is on excellence in instruction and learning.

The mission of the College is to continuously develop an environment in which all stakeholders learn and grow together and contribute to an understanding of:

- The global economy,
- The business theories and practices which explain its operations,
- The decision models and analytical frameworks for meeting ethical challenges,
- The importance and interdependence of people in the work environment,
- The technologies that stimulate change, and
- The skills and management tools needed to manage an enterprise successfully.

The mission of the undergraduate programs is to:

Assist students of high potential experience personal growth in the acquisition of knowledge in a broad range of subjects based on the University core curriculum and an integrated business curriculum;

Assist students to develop technical, analytical, and interpersonal skills and personal qualities and values to realize their potential as future leaders in a global economy; and

Graduate students who are able to demonstrate a depth of understanding in their primary field of interest.

College of Business Administration Curriculum

The courses within the three degree programs (Bachelor of Business Administration, Bachelor of Science [AIMS major], and Bachelor of Science in Accounting) are categorized in six groups:

B.B.A.	Semester Hours (S.H.)
A. University Core Curriculum	39
B. Business Requirement	12
C. Business Core	37
D. Major Requirement	15
E. Electives	17
Total	120

B.S. (AIMS Major) (see Department)

B.S. in Accounting	S.H.
A. University Core Curriculum	39
B. Business/Econ. Core Requirement	12
C. Accounting Major Specific Core	31
D. Major Requirement	33
E. Electives	11
Total	126

Special Note:

The purpose of the above listing is simply to indicate the overall structure of the three programs in business. The order in which the courses must be taken is governed in all cases by the contribution of each course to the overall system. The suggested sequence of courses is shown in the following curriculum sections.

Subject to the student's qualification, College of Business Administration students may be permitted to take ECON 105 (SATM 620 or higher required) in lieu of economics core requirements, Microeconomics (ECON 110), and Macroeconomics (ECON 120).

All Business students must earn a grade of C (2.0) or higher in the following courses: ACCT 2110, ACCT 2120; BADM 1010, BADM 1020, BADM 1030, BADM 1040; ECON 105 (or ECON 110 and ECON 120 and ECON 230); and MATH 112 and MATH 120, as these are prerequisites for other required business classes.

Total Program

The B.B.A. and B.S. (AIMS major) degree programs require a minimum of 120 semester hours, and the B.S. in Accounting degree program requires a minimum of 126 hours, including the prescribed business administration core courses and those listed above. A minimum of 45 semester hours must be from upper division course offerings.

Students should consult the Associate Dean's office for specific policies applicable to the College of Business Administration.

Transfer Credit

The College can accept only those business and economics courses which are reasonably equivalent and at the same level of instruction as courses offered by Loyola Marymount. Lower division courses in business and economics that may be accepted in transfer include the equivalents of the following Loyola Marymount courses:

ACCT 2110	Financial Accounting
ACCT 2120	Accounting Information for Decision Making
BLAW 2210	Legal and Regulatory Environment

ECON 110	Introductory Microeconomics
ECON 120	Introductory Macroeconomics
ECON 230	Introductory Statistics

The following policies apply to all work transferred to the College of Business Administration at Loyola Marymount, whether from a two-year or a four-year school.

- Upper division business courses may only be transferred from a four-year, AACSB-accredited institution.
- Upper division Accounting classes may not be transferred to LMU.
- Students must obtain Transfer Course Approval prior to registration in classes at other institutions.
- Students may not enroll in classes, whether in person or online, offered at other institutions while enrolled at LMU.
- A course that Loyola Marymount offers at the junior level, whether Business or non-business, courses numbered 3000 (300) and above, but was taken by a transfer student at the sophomore level at her/his previous school cannot be accepted for credit. Such courses can be recognized only if the student takes the appropriate examinations after admission to the College (see Credit by Examination).
- All transfer courses must be taken for a letter grade, and the student must receive a grade of C (2.0) or higher.

Current LMU Students Interested in Transferring to the College of Business Administration

Students who are currently enrolled in another major at LMU, but are interested in changing their major to Business Administration are encouraged to apply during their first year at LMU but no later than their third semester. Students are asked to state their interest in Business Administration by completing MATH 112 or an equivalent course in calculus with a minimum grade of B (3.0) and ECON 110 and ECON 120 with a minimum grade of B- (2.7) all in residence at LMU. In addition, students must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0. Once requirements have been met, students will be eligible to complete an application which will be evaluated by the Associate Dean's Office. Attainment of minimum requirements may not always be sufficient to secure approval of transfer request. Applications will be accepted through the end of the seventh week of Fall and Spring semesters. The evaluation process will take place during the Fall and Spring semesters with students being informed once the evaluation process has been completed.

External Transfer Student Policy

Students interested in transferring to the LMU College of Business Administration from another college or university must complete a course in calculus with a minimum grade of B (3.0) and have a cumulative GPA of B (3.0).

Business Administration Minor

Objectives

The Business Administration Minor is designed for and offered to non-business students only. Course content will provide adequate coverage and include the necessary breadth to provide a general understanding of the business discipline. The program has no prerequisites but assumes the students have a sufficient understanding of economics and basic mathematics skills in order to understand fundamental analytical business concepts. Admission to the minor is competitive, based upon grades, demonstrated ability to handle quantitative coursework, and difficulty of program in the major.

Structure

The Business Administration Minor is designed as a cohort structure, where students take four required foundational courses, two during the Fall semester and two during the Spring semester of their sophomore or junior year. Two additional business electives will be taken during the following semesters and chosen in consultation with the minor advisor. All courses must be taken in residence to ensure coherence and completeness of the cohort learning experience. An assessment test will be given after all four foundational courses have been completed, to ensure students have mastered the information covered in these courses. A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5 is required in the minor.

Students are asked to apply for the minor during the Spring semester of their freshman or sophomore year and will be notified of the decision in time for Fall semester registration. Enrollment in the foundational courses will begin during the Fall semester of the sophomore/junior year. In some exceptional cases, the Associate Dean may allow students to apply during the Spring semester of their freshman year and enroll in courses the Fall semester of their sophomore year.

Minor Requirements

All business minor students are required to complete four foundational courses (12 semester hours) and two (6 semester hours) upper division business elective classes, all with a grade of C (2.0) or higher.

- BADM 3010 Analytical Concepts and Methods for Business
- BADM 3020 Economic Environment, Marketing, and Business Law Concepts
- BADM 3030 Key Concepts of Accounting and Finance
- BADM 3040 Management and Society: Issues in Strategic and Ethical Management

Students will also complete two upper division business classes (6 semester hours) based upon their understanding of foundational courses as well as personal interest and career plan. Upper division and elective courses appropriate for those in the business minor program will be designated by the faculty of each CBA department and in consultation with a business faculty advisor. All minor required courses must be completed in residence.

Accounting Minor Requirements

ACCT 2110, ACCT 2120, and at least three of the following courses: ACCT 3110, ACCT 3120, ACCT 3130, and ACCT 4120. All upper division Accounting courses must be taken in residence. A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5 must be earned in the minor area. All minor required courses must be completed in residence. Open to Business Administration majors only.

Business Law Concentration

To earn a concentration in Business Law, students are required to complete nine semester hours of advanced Business Law classes. No double counting will be allowed.

International Business Concentration

To earn a Concentration in International Business, a CBA student must take three advanced International Business courses (9 semester hours) beyond the core and the courses taken to meet the requirements for his or her major. No double counting is permitted. These three courses are:

INBA 4830 International Management
 INBA 4880 International Finance
 INBA 4989 International Marketing (to be developed) or MRKT 4597 Marketing Strategy in the Global Environment

If one or more of the above required courses has been taken as a part of the student's major, the following courses may be substituted to fulfill the requirements of the concentration:

INBA 4840 International Entrepreneurship
 INBA 4850 International Business Law
 INBA 4870 Multinationals and the Third World
 INBA 4872 Managing a Global Workforce
 INBA 4898 Special Studies

The student must, during his or her LMU program, have participated in an LMU-sponsored or an LMU-approved Study abroad Program.

It is further recommended, though not an concentration requirement, that the student take sufficient courses to gain proficiency in a second language in addition to English.

Beta Gamma Sigma Honor Society

Beta Gamma Sigma is the honor society for students enrolled in business and management programs accredited by AACSB International—the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business. Election to lifetime membership in Beta Gamma Sigma is the highest honor a business student can achieve. Juniors and seniors in the top 10% and MBA students in the top 20% of their class may be invited to membership. Beta Gamma Sigma membership provides recognition for a lifetime. With alumni chapters in major metropolitan areas across the United States, the BGS Career Central job board and the BetaLink online membership community, those recognized for their academic achievements at Loyola Marymount University can continue an active relationship with Beta Gamma Sigma long after graduation. This lifelong commitment to its members' academic and professional success is defined in the Society's mission: to encourage and honor academic achievement in the study of business and personal and professional excellence in the practice of business.

Accounting, B.S.A.

Objectives

The Bachelor of Science in Accounting degree program is designed to prepare students for a career in public, corporate, or governmental accounting. Students will learn the basic definitions, concepts, and techniques of accounting, as well as the role accounting plays in society.

Learning Outcomes

Students majoring in Accounting are expected to be prepared for a career in the accounting profession. Therefore, students are expected to be able to describe, apply, and evaluate financial accounting concepts and standards at a professional level. That is:

- Students will be able to use managerial accounting methods and techniques to solve both structured and unstructured, real-world business problems
- Students will be able to explain, apply, and evaluate the key provisions and exceptions in the federal tax code
- Students will be able to explain and apply an ethical conceptual framework to solve real-world ethical problems
- At least 80 percent of our graduates will be able to start graduate studies or careers in accounting at entry-level professional positions

Academic Plan

Effective January 1, 2014, accounting students in the state of California are required to have 150 credit hours for CPA licensure. The California Board of Accountancy currently allows candidates to sit for the CPA exam upon completion of their undergraduate degree; however, candidates will need an additional 30 credit hours of accounting courses to be eligible for CPA licensure. (LMU's B.S. in accounting degree requires 126 credit hours.) Accounting majors are encouraged, but not required, to include 150 semester hours of study in their academic planning process. The 150 semester hours of study is now required to practice public accounting in most states. Their plan might include undertaking minors and/or an additional major/degree or pursuing Master of Science in Accounting at LMU or other graduate acceptable graduate programs. Students are encouraged to discuss with Accounting Department Chair and/or their academic advisor various possible tracks to earn the 150 semester hours.

Accounting, M.S.A.

Objectives

The overall objective of the Master of Science in Accounting (MSA) is to provide an opportunity for students with an undergraduate degree in accounting, or its equivalent, to complete their accounting education in a high quality program that will enhance their future professional growth opportunities. The program will equip students with the necessary advanced knowledge and skills to be productive and ethical accounting professionals and leaders. The Master of Science in Accounting is a 30-semester-hour program that is designed for:

- Students who are enrolled in, or have completed, an undergraduate degree in accounting and wish to enter a Master's program that will comply with the 150-hour California requirement for CPA licensure
- Students who have not completed an undergraduate degree in accounting but have met the prerequisites for accounting and business courses

The purpose of the MSA program is to prepare graduates for accounting and managerial positions in public accounting, private industry, management consulting, and government and not-for-profit organizations.

Students must complete the MSA program within five years of their registration date. All academic requirements must be completed in residence.

Learning Outcomes

Specific learning objectives include:

- Develop the skills necessary for critical thinking, professional research and continuous learning
- Develop a global perspective of business and accounting practices
- Provide a framework for developing leadership and team-building skills
- Provide a framework for recognizing the importance of social responsibility and making ethical business decisions
- Develop effective communication skills and strong interpersonal skills

Major Requirements

The MSA program requires a minimum of 30 semester hours. The full-time program typically begins in the Fall semester and is completed at the end of the following Summer session (10 months). All full-time students take a minimum of 12 semester hours in the Fall and Spring semesters and 6 semester hours in the Summer. Non-accounting undergraduates must complete prerequisite courses before entering the program (which may be completed at LMU). Admission into the MSA program is conditional upon successful completion of prerequisite core accounting coursework. This coursework may be completed at any regionally accredited four-year college or university or may be completed in residence at LMU. The basic core of accounting coursework includes:

- A minimum of 24 semester hours of accounting subjects, including intermediate accounting, advanced accounting, auditing, accounting information systems, cost accounting, and taxation
- A minimum of 24 semester hours in business-related subjects, including 6 semester hours of business law
- A minimum of 7 semester hours of ethics study (may be completed at LMU)

The specific degree requirements for the MSA program include:

1. A minimum of 30 semester hours of graduate coursework approved by the MSA director. This includes 12 semester hours of core MSA graduate accounting courses.
2. Students must have either completed or take as an elective course Accounting Ethics, Professionalism and the Public Interest (ACCT 6150).
3. Each student must complete 9 semester hours of graduate coursework in a specialization of either Tax or Financial Reporting/Audit approved by the MSA director.
4. Up to 6 semester hours of graduate study may be satisfied by completing graduate-level College of Business Administration courses beyond core classes.
5. Each student must successfully complete a written and oral comprehensive case analysis in their final semester.

All MSA students are required to complete the following core courses and select a concentration path in Tax or Financial Reporting/Audit.

Required Core Classes (12 Semester Hours)

ACCT 6110	Financial Reporting—Standard Setting Process and Financial Accounting Theory 3 semester hours
ACCT 6120	Taxes and Business Strategy 3 semester hours
ACCT 6130	Accounting Information, Analysis, and Evaluation 3 semester hours
ACCT 6170	Professional Accounting Research 3 semester hours

Note: All MSA students who have not completed a 3-semester-hour course in Accounting Ethics and Professionalism must register for ACCT 6150 Accounting Ethics, Professionalism, and the Public Interest as an elective class.

Elective Courses

Accounting and Taxation Electives (9 semester hours)

Electives may include: Advanced Auditing, Fraud Examination, Financial Statement Analysis, Valuation, Advanced Accounting Information Systems, Current Issues in Accounting, Accounting Internship, Taxation of Corporations and Shareholders, Taxation of Flow-Through Entities, State and Local Taxation, International Taxation, Estate and Gift Taxation and Planning, and Tax Internship.

Business Electives (6 semester hours)

Students may select any College of Business Administration graduate-level courses beyond the core. Courses must be approved by the MSA director. Students may register for a maximum of 3 semester hours of internship experience (ACCT 6197) and a maximum of 3 semester hours of Directed Studies with the consent of the faculty as approved by the MSA director.

Accounting Minor

Accounting Minor Requirements

ACCT 2110	Financial Accounting 3 semester hours
ACCT 2120	Accounting Information for Decision Making 3 semester hours

At least three of the following courses:

ACCT 3110	Intermediate Accounting I 4 semester hours
ACCT 3120	Intermediate Accounting II 4 semester hours
ACCT 3130	Cost Management 4 semester hours
ACCT 4120	Income Tax Accounting 4 semester hours

Note: All upper division Accounting courses must be taken in residence. A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5 must be earned in the minor area. All minor required courses must be completed in residence. Open to Business Administration majors only.

Applied Information Management Systems (AIMS), B.B.A.

Objectives

The Bachelor of Business Administration (B.B.A.) degree in Applied Information Management Systems (AIMS) is designed to 1) prepare students for careers in the IT (information technology) field; 2) provide analytical and quantitative skills for careers in such areas as business analytics and consulting; 3) provide hands-on experience with cutting edge information technologies; and 4) teach critical skills to help students continuously adapt to the ever-changing field of information technology and their applications in business. Beginning in Fall 2013, students may also elect a Bachelor of Science (B.S) degree in AIMS, which will require four courses in the Department of Computer Science, in addition to satisfying all the requirements of the Bachelor of Business Administration in AIMS.

Learning Outcomes

The Applied Information Management Systems major involves the application of computers to meet the information needs of organizations. It prepares students to use modern information technology to solve business problems at the operational, technical, and strategic levels. Learning outcomes for AIMS majors are as follows:

- Utilize competencies gained from hands-on experience in core information technologies including:
 - Programming languages
 - Database management systems
 - Spreadsheets and other software used to analyze data
 - Web development techniques and technologies
 - Networking and telecommunications
- Apply critical thinking and problem-solving skills when analyzing business problems
- Identify problems, structure problems, propose an IT solution, and solve the problem
- Have the knowledge to plan, manage, develop, and implement information systems in business and organizational settings
- Learn how to effectively work in teams
- Effectively communicate complex technological concepts including
 - Oral communications
 - Written communications

MRKT 3510	Principles of Marketing 3 semester hours

Note: A cumulative GPA of C (2.0) must be achieved in the major requirements (all business, economics, and math courses).

For purposes of meeting the requirements for the Applied Information Management Systems major, an overall cumulative grade point average of at least a C (2.0) must be obtained in all courses required in the major.

Core, Major, and Elective Applied Information Management Systems Courses:

AIMS 2710	Management Information Systems 3 semester hours
AIMS 3710	Database Management Systems 3 semester hours
AIMS 3720	Systems Analysis and Design 3 semester hours
AIMS 3770	Production Operations Analysis 3 semester hours

Bachelor Business Administration (BBA) in Applied Information Management Systems

All majors in AIMS must complete AIMS 2710, and BADM 1030 before they can start taking the upper division courses.

The B.B.A. in AIMS is intended to provide students with broad technological and business knowledge so that they are equipped to tackle a wide array of problems across many different kinds of jobs and organizational settings. Students with a B.B.A. in AIMS are required to complete five courses in the AIMS area including three required classes: Database AIMS 3710 Database Management Systems, AIMS 3730 Programming for Business Applications, and AIMS 4797 Capstone Project.

Two additional electives are to be chosen from the following:

AIMS 3720	Systems Analysis and Design 3 semester hours
AIMS 4720	Object-Oriented Programming 3 semester hours
AIMS 4740	Financial Modeling for Decision Support 3 semester hours
AIMS 4750	Web-based Development 3 semester hours
AIMS 4730	Business Data Communications 3 semester hours
AIMS 4760	Analytics and Business Intelligence 3 semester hours
AIMS 4770	Information Technology Security 3 semester hours

Note: Students may take CMSI 185 Computer Programming in the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering in lieu of the AIMS 3730 Programming for Business Applications. However, students who choose to take CMSI 185 to satisfy the programming requirement must take three AIMS electives rather than two. At the same time, CMSI 185 will fulfill the University Science and Technology core curriculum requirement for the AIMS major.

Note: A cumulative GPA of C (2.0) must be achieved in the major requirements (all business, economics, and mathematics courses).

For purposes of meeting the requirements for the B.S., Applied Information Management Systems major, degree and determination of academic probation, an overall cumulative grade point average of at least a C (2.0) must be obtained in all courses required in the major.

Core, Major, and Elective Applied Information Management Systems Courses:

AIMS 2710	Management Information Systems 3 semester hours
AIMS 3710	Database Management Systems 3 semester hours
AIMS 3720	Systems Analysis and Design 3 semester hours
AIMS 3770	Production Operations Analysis 3 semester hours

AIMS 4798	Special Studies 1 TO 3 semester hours
AIMS 4799	Independent Studies 1 TO 3 semester hours

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in Applied Information Management Systems

Students electing the B.S. in AIMS degree must complete all the requirements of the Applied Information Management Systems (AIMS), B.B.A. degree. In addition, the B.S. in AIMS adds four Computer Science courses (12 semester hours), including CMSI 185 Computer Programming. CMSI 186 Programming Lab is also highly recommended, but not required.

A side-by-side comparison of the two degrees, B.B.A. vs. B.S., shows that students can complete the B.S. by taking 120 semester hours, the same as the B.B.A. degree. This is because CMSI 185 satisfies the Science and Technology requirement of the undergraduate core curriculum; in addition, students can use their free electives to satisfy the other three CMSI electives. For more information about the CMSI courses, please consult the Bulletin for course offerings in the Department of Computer Science.

A Comparison of the Two Degrees

	B.B.A.	B.S.	Note
University Core	48	45	(1)
Business Core	43	43
Math Requirement	3	3
AIMS major courses	15	15
CMSI courses	0	12	(2)
Free elective	11	2
Total	120	120	(3)

Notes:

(1) B.S. majors take three fewer University Core semester hours because the Science and Technology requirement is fulfilled by CMSI 185 Computer Programming. B.B.A. majors also have the option to take CMSI 185 to fill the Science and Technology core requirement.

(2) B.S. majors must take 12 semester hours in the Department of Computer Science, College of Science and Engineering, including a programming language course.

(3) The B.S. degree requires 120 semester hours so that a B.S. student does not need to take any more courses than a regular B.B.A. student.

Finance, B.B.A.

Objectives

The Bachelor of Business Administration degree—Finance (FNCE) major is to provide students with 1) the necessary skills to perform rigorous financial analysis 2) an adequate understanding of financial markets, institutions, and current issues, in order to 3) to contribute more to organizations in their chosen specialty within finance upon graduation from LMU. Students will develop analytical skills in the application of theory and tools essential to financial planning, investments, financial markets, institutions, and corporate planning while acquiring the vocabulary and critical financial perspectives needed to enhance their careers and personal financial goals.

Learning Outcomes

Learning outcomes for Finance majors are as follows:

Students will be able to understand:

- How to assess a firm's financial performance
- How to value a stream of cash flows
- The relationship between risk and return and the benefits of diversification
- How to make sound investment decisions
- The determinants and importance of a firm's capital structure
- How financial managers deal with international risks
- Important considerations in working capital management

Management, B.B.A.Objectives

Management involves planning, organizing, leading, and controlling the activities necessary to successfully run an organization. In studying management, the student will focus on the practical skills, ethical issues, and management theory necessary to succeed in our diverse global economy. The Management Department offers two types of courses: general knowledge courses and specialized courses. General knowledge courses are required of all business majors. Elective courses are chosen by majors who wish to gain specialized instruction in specific areas of management.

Learning Outcomes

The Bachelor of Business Administration—Management Major at LMU will provide undergraduate students with the fundamental theories, problem-solving tools, and current real-world information and actual learning experience necessary to support their entry and ongoing career success as ethical and socially responsible leaders, managers, and administrators in various kinds of organizations. All Management Major students will demonstrate acceptable understanding and skills in:

1. Interpersonal/team effectiveness
2. Communications
3. Key processes of planning/goal setting, decision making, problem solving
4. Critical HR functional areas
5. Career management

Upon completion of requirements for this major,

- students should understand and be able to explain and evaluate the critical role and functions of management in organizations and apply principal concepts and models in the field of management within an organization;
- students should understand and be able to describe and explain how the human resource function in an organization contributes to overall productivity through its component activities;
- students should understand and be able to apply concepts of career planning and management both generally and to their own career.

ConcentrationInternational Business Concentration

To earn a Concentration in International Business, a CBA student must take three advanced International Business courses (9 semester hours) beyond the core and the courses taken to meet the requirements for his or her major. No double counting is permitted.

These three courses are:

INBA 4830	International Management 3 semester hours
INBA 4880	International Finance 3 semester hours
INBA 4989	International Marketing (to be developed) or
MRKT 4597	Marketing Strategy in the Global Environment 3 semester hours

If one or more of the above required courses has been taken as a part of the student's major

The following courses may be substituted to fulfill the requirements of the concentration:

INBA 4840	International Entrepreneurship 3 semester hours
INBA 4850	International Business Law 3 semester hours
INBA 4870	Multinationals and the Third World 3 semester hours
INBA 4872	Managing a Global Workforce 3 semester hours
INBA 4898	Special Studies 1 TO 3 semester hours

Note: The student must, during his or her LMU program, have participated in an LMU-sponsored or an LMU-approved Study Abroad Program.

It is further recommended, though not a concentration requirement, that the student take sufficient courses to gain proficiency in a second language in addition to English.

Students begin by completing the foundational marketing course, MRKT 3510 Principles of Marketing, which is a required core business class for all business and accounting majors. Students must then complete two further foundational courses, consisting of MRKT 3520 Marketing Analysis and MRKT 3530 Buyer Behavior. After this point, students will be required to complete two advanced marketing elective courses of their choice. Students will be permitted to enroll in the elective marketing courses after completing the foundational courses (MRKT 3510, MRKT 3520, MRKT 3530). Students complete the requirements for the Marketing Major by taking a "capstone" course, MRKT 4597

Marketing Strategy in the Global Environment, which is a course that will integrate their prior coursework in marketing and business and provide a setting under which their prior learning of marketing theory can be considered in an applied context.

Introduction

The College of Business Administration offers the MBA degree designed for working professionals. There are eight areas of emphasis/specialization in the MBA Program. The purpose, admission requirements, program requirements, and options are described in the pages that follow. The part-time MBA program (MBA) serves the educational requirements of working professionals who recognize the need to continue to build their careers. The Executive MBA (EMBA) is designed for the experienced business professional who aspires to executive-level responsibility.

In addition, two dual degree programs are available. Students may apply for separate admission to the Loyola Law School and earn the JD/MBA degree or apply to the Systems Engineering Leadership Program (SELP) and earn an MBA and an MS in Systems Engineering.

Mission Statement

The mission of the Loyola Marymount University MBA Program is to provide high quality graduate business education consistent with the Jesuit and Marymount traditions. The MBA Program fosters development of each student's potential to create value, handle risk, and manage change to serve both business and society. The result is the development of ethical leaders possessing the knowledge and skills to effectively manage organizations in a diverse and global economy.

To accomplish its mission, the MBA Program utilizes faculty who regularly extend the boundaries of their discipline and simultaneously demonstrate in the classroom their ability to translate theory into practice. Although teaching styles and techniques vary, all focus on the current issues and technologies that are forming and shaping the many environments of business (political, social, legal, and ethical). Classes range from those that emphasize computer applications to those that delve into ethical concepts and humanistic management. The MBA curriculum is one of breadth first and specialization second. To that end, the basis of the Program is broad and integrating. Areas of specialization are built on this base. By specializing, students are able to focus some of their studies in a single area of emphasis. Additionally, numerous opportunities exist to explore various aspects of global business. These include a full-fledged International MBA Program of studies and a unique overseas integrative experience. The high quality of the MBA Program is confirmed through its accreditation by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business.

Admission Requirements

1. Eligibility for Admission: Applicants for admission to the Program leading to the degree of Master of Business Administration must have a Bachelor's degree and an acceptable level of scholarship from a regionally accredited institution of higher learning. The degree may be in any academic discipline.
2. Application: Applicants should apply and pay the application fee online at <https://apply.embark.com/Grad/LMU/90/>.
3. Transcripts: Two copies of sealed official transcripts must be sent to the Graduate Admissions Office. Transcripts from all institutions attended must be provided. All such transcripts become the property of Loyola Marymount University. All applicants with degrees earned outside the United States must have transcripts evaluated for equivalencies to U.S. degrees.
4. Graduate Management Admissions Test: All applicants must take the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) or Graduate Record Examination (GRE). GMAT/GRE scores taken within 5 years are accepted.

5. International Students: All international students must demonstrate proficiency in the English language with one of the following: TOEFL or IELTS scores or undergraduate/graduate degree from U.S. institutions.
6. Application Evaluations: The MBA Office evaluates the potential candidacy of each applicant. Applications are evaluated only after the following components are received by the Graduate Admissions Office:
 - a. application form and personal statement (plus appropriate fees)
 - b. official transcripts for all previous collegiate work
 - c. GMAT or GRE results
 - d. TOEFL, PTEA, or IELTS (when applicable)
 - e. two letters of recommendation
 - f. a current resume
 - g. two years work experience
7. Entrance: Students may enter the program in the Fall or Spring.
8. Attendance: Attendance in MBA classes are limited to individuals who have been admitted to the MBA Program and who are registered for the class.

Proficiency Prerequisites

All students admitted to the MBA Program must be proficient in spoken and written English composition, business mathematics, and computer applications. Successful completion of a college-level course in business math or intermediate algebra is required.

Waivers

A waiver may be granted to an applicant with the stipulation that the equivalent course was taken at a AACSB International accredited or regionally accredited 4-year U.S. college or university, and the applicant earned a grade of 3.0 or better on a 4-point scale in the original course. Applicants who completed courses from a 4-year U.S. college or university without AACSB accreditation must have earned a grade of 4.0 on a 4-point scale. Completed courses equivalent to the LMU waiverable core that were taken at schools outside the United States or at 2-year community or junior colleges, or at non-accredited or non-traditional schools are not acceptable. All waivers are granted at the discretion of the MBA Director or designee.

A student may waive a maximum of 3 out of the 4 eligible core classes, MBAA 601–604. A previously completed course that is used as a basis for a waiver a) must cover equivalent material offered in the LMU MBA program (a course syllabus may be requested), b) must have been taken in a regionally accredited and bachelor degree granting academic institution, and c) must have the course grade posted not more than 5 years prior to MBA Program initial enrollment. A course waiver may be granted only in a student's first term of enrollment in the MBA program. All waiver requests must be resolved prior to the start of a student's first term of enrollment.

Challenge Exams

Challenge Exams are only available for the core courses, MBAA 601–604. Students who feel that they are sufficiently grounded in the content of a core course by virtue of their work experience or academic study may consider taking the Challenge Exam. Challenge Exams must be taken during the first semester of the student's enrollment in the MBA Program. Students must fill out a challenge examination request form (available at the MBA Office) and pay the challenge examination fee. Further instructions will be given at that time.

Attendance and Residence

Students are expected to be continuously enrolled in the MBA Program. A LEAVE OF ABSENCE (LOA) may be granted for up to one year at the discretion of the MBA Program Director and the Office of the Registrar. If a student needs to request a LEAVE OF ABSENCE, the student must contact the MBA Office to initiate the process. Individuals who remain on leave for more than two years must formally reapply for admission. Readmission is based on the admission criteria and the curriculum that are in effect at the time of the resumption of classes.

Student Registration, Counseling, and CAPP Report

Registration must be completed each semester during the dates specified in the LMU Academic Calendar provided by the Office of the Registrar.

Newly-admitted students must attend a New Student Group Advising Session prior to their first formal registration. Afterwards, students will have the option to discuss their academic track, challenge exams, and potential waivers with their academic advisor.

In subsequent semesters, students are not required to obtain course approval for registration, unless on academic probation or have been admitted on a "controlled" status. Each student takes responsibility for following the curriculum plan outlined by the MBA Program exclusively. Enrolling in non-LMU MBA courses may result in credits not applying towards the MBA degree.

Students are encouraged to meet informally with faculty in their areas of interest for general and career guidance.

CAPP Report

The Office of the Registrar uses CAPP to certify students for graduation, and all areas in CAPP must show MET before the student may graduate. A student should review his or her CAPP regularly to make sure that courses are listed in the correct areas. CAPP may be adjusted by the student to allow for course substitutions, waived requirements, or any other variance in the program of study. Students must submit an approved Petition for CAPP Adjustments from the MBA Office to the Office of the Registrar.

MBA Program Policies

Responsibility and Academic Standing

A student is responsible for knowing academic and administrative policies and regulations affecting their program of study and for abiding by all such policies and regulations during their period of enrollment at the University. Continued enrollment is subject to compliance with the academic and administrative policies and regulations. Failure to understand the policies and regulations does not relieve a student of her or his responsibility for adhering to the policies and regulations.

A student must maintain in each semester the stated minimum cumulative grade point average for each of the requirements in the degree program. The calculation of standing is based on all courses taken at LMU. Graduates must maintain a B average (3.0) in term, major, program, and cumulative GPA. The calculation is based upon courses taken in Fall, Spring, and Summer terms.

Academic Probation and Disqualification

Academic probation constitutes a serious warning to students that their academic performance is unsatisfactory and continued failure to improve this record may result in being disqualified from the University. Additionally, a student who does not make satisfactory progress in the course of study is subject to probation. Further, the Dean or Director may impose restrictions on students on probation regarding the program of study and their participation in scholarship or extracurricular activities at LMU.

Conditions for Academic Probation

Any MBA student who, in any semester, fails to earn a "B" (3.0) average or whose cumulative grade point average in the MBA Program falls below a "B" (3.0) will be placed on academic probation. Students on academic probation will be ineligible for scholarships and tuition remission.

Conditions for Disqualification

MBA program disqualification is based upon two consecutive semesters (Fall, Spring, or Summer) in which work of less than grade of B (3.0) average is earned or in which the student fails to meet conditions imposed by the Dean or other academic entity. Summer sessions are used to calculate if a graduate student is subject to disqualification.

A student can receive no more than two grades below a B- throughout their Program. Should the student earn a third grade below B-, the student will be given one opportunity to retake that course the following semester (provided the student does not also have two semesters on probation). The student may not enroll in other courses concurrently with the repeated course. If the student does not earn at least a B- or better when retaking the course, the student will be disqualified.

Disqualification terminates a student's relationship with the University. A disqualified student may not register in any division or session of the University, and is denied all privileges of the University, including all organizations or activities in any way connected to the University.

Academic Dishonesty

Please review the LMU Honor Code for definitions of academic dishonesty and detailed information regarding the Honor Code process.

Change of Program or Emphasis/Specialization

A student who wishes to change a program before completing a degree must submit a new application form to the Graduate Admission Office.

A student who wishes to transfer from one emphasis/specialization to another before completing a degree must request an approval from the MBA Office.

Course Loads

It is generally recommended that fully-employed MBA students take no more than six semester hours in the Fall or Spring semester. Those not fully employed may take a maximum of 12 semester hours. During the Summer session, fully-employed students should take no more than three semester hours each term and those not fully employed may take a maximum of six semester hours each term.

Cross-Listed Courses

A cross-listed course is one that carries credit in more than one department or program. Students may not enroll in more than one section of a cross-listed course and may receive credit in one department only. Cross-listed course section changes cannot be made after course completion.

Repeating Courses

Students may repeat a course previously taken at LMU in a subsequent term one time only, including any withdrawals; the prior occurrence is excluded from the cumulative grade point average but remains on the transcript. Please note that although the GPA for that term will change accordingly, the academic status of the previous term will not change.

A student who earns an F in a course or receives a third grade below a B- will be required to repeat that course. The student will only be allowed to enroll in the repeated course and will not be allowed to take additional courses in that semester.

A student who receives an F in course must repeat that course before taking additional courses.

Grade Appeals

Please refer to the Academic Degree Requirements and Policies section of the University Bulletin for more information.

Incomplete Grades

"I" (Incomplete) indicates that the student's work is incomplete. The student must remove the "I" within one year of receiving it. For students in the MBA Program who elect to do the Integrative Strategy option, the time limit is one year. In those cases, the IP (Work in Progress) code is used. If an Incomplete has not been removed after the specified period of time, the Incomplete grade will automatically change to a "W" (Withdrawal). Students who wish to retake the course must pay regular tuition for the repeated course.

When a professor has granted an "I," it is the student's responsibility to arrange a deferred grade. The professor submits a "Deferred Grade Form" with the final grade to the Office of the Registrar. Incomplete grades which are not removed within the time limit given are computed as "I." A student with two Incomplete grades will be blocked from registration.

Any graduate student who in a given term receives a grade of I (Incomplete) for a course and who subsequently completes the course will receive a grade that is retroactive to the term when the student first registered for the course with all the impact it entails on the student's academic standing.

Independent Study

Independent Studies classes must be sponsored by a full-time faculty member and approved by the Associate Dean. Independent Studies can only be invoked twice during a student's MBA program.

There are time constraints associated with an Independent Studies course. The approval process for Independent Studies must be completed during the semester prior to the semester during which the student expects to enroll in the independent studies course.

All questions about Independent Studies should be directed to the Faculty Advisor. The Faculty Advisor is the arbiter of the process facilitating Independent Studies.

Academic Advising

An Academic Advisor is available for all MBA students to assist in navigating through the Program curriculum.

Advising is optional, unless a student is on controlled status or academic probation, in which case the student must be advised prior to registration. MBA Advisor Holds will be placed on the student's record and not removed until the student has been advised.

Jesuit Network

Jesuit Transfer Network

Students from schools that are parties to the Multilateral Agreement may complete their degree requirements at another Agreement School, subject to the admission standards of the receiving school.

LMU MBA students who have completed more than half of their degree requirements may take courses that apply towards their LMU degree requirements at another Jesuit-affiliated school and still receive their degree from LMU, assuming that they take the courses approved by the LMU MBA Program and earn at least a B in each course.

Those students who have completed less than half of their degree requirements at LMU may transfer to another Jesuit-affiliated school, assuming they meet the receiving school's admission standards, and receive credit for some or all LMU coursework to apply towards the degree requirements at the receiving school. The receiving school determines the transfer credits they will accept.

LMU will only accept courses towards the degree with grades of B or better.

A student who transfers to LMU from other Jesuit MBA programs are required to maintain the standards of graduate students at LMU and are governed by the guidelines established within the University Bulletin. For more information about the Jesuit Transfer Network, visit <http://www.jesuitmba.org/>.

A student who transfers in from other Jesuit MBA Programs but will be receiving their degree from their original school are considered Visiting Students (non-degree). The MBA Program grants admission to these students based on space available.

International Study Classes

Students may take no more than one (1) MBA international study class offered by another Jesuit institution.

International M.B.A Certificate

The International MBA Certificate emphasizes a strong business curriculum intermeshed with intensive studies of global business practices, environments, and cultures. The Comparative Management Systems sequence provides a unique capstone to the program.

Students who fulfill the requirements below receive the degree Master of Business Administration plus a Certificate in International Business.

To qualify for the Certificate in International Business, MBA students must complete at least nine advanced courses in addition to the core, and comply with the following:

Depth or Specialization—through the selection of one of six areas of emphasis

Breadth or Generalization—through international electives

Integration—through the Comparative Management Systems courses

An area of emphasis is selected from one of the five following fields:

MBAB	Management and Organizational Behavior
MBAC	Marketing Management
MBAE	Human Resource Management

MBAF	Financial Decision Systems
MBAH	Entrepreneurial Organizations

Three elective courses comprise an area of emphasis. One of the electives must be the international study of the field, such as International Finance or International Marketing.

International electives comprise the breadth of the advanced curriculum. At least 5 courses must be taken in this category. At least 1 course must be taken from each group of international electives.

Functional—outside of area of emphasis

Regional

Practicum

Free International Elective

Strategic—MBAI 690

The integrative experience requirement is satisfied by participating in the Comparative Management Systems class MBAI 691.

MBA Advantage Certificate Program for Alumni

Program Description

MBA Advantage, a certificate program for alumni of LMU and other AACSB International-accredited MBA programs, can provide MBA alumni with the opportunity to complete 3 courses and earn a certificate in an additional area of emphasis.

Tuition rates will vary. Please contact the MBA Office and the Office of Student Accounts for more information.

Areas of Emphasis

- Accounting Decision Systems
- Competitive Strategy
- Entrepreneurial Organizations
- Financial Decision Systems
- Human Resource Management
- Information and Decision Sciences
- International Business Systems
- Management and Organizational Behavior
- Marketing Management

Dual-Degree

J.D./M.B.A.

Only full-time law students and those applying to the full-time division of the Law School may apply for admission into the JD/MBA Program.

The JD/MBA Program is designed for the full-time student who wishes to combine his/her graduate studies in law and business administration. It requires an intensive full-time commitment and superior capability to handle the academic rigors of two equally intensive graduate programs.

All students enrolled in the JD/MBA Program are required to comply with the requirements of both the Law School and MBA Program. Please refer to the Loyola Law School Student Handbook and this University Bulletin for clarification on policies governing graduate students.

JD/MBA Admissions

Applicants to the JD/MBA Program must first apply and be accepted separately to both the Law School and the MBA Program. Applicants must successfully complete the first year of Law School before they are eligible to apply to the JD/MBA Program. Acceptance to both schools does not guarantee admission to the JD/MBA Program.

Applications to the JD/MBA Program are due in the Law School Admissions Office by the first of July at the conclusion of the applicant's first year at the Law School.

Course of Study

Students enrolled in the JD/MBA Program plan a specific course of study with the MBA Program and the Loyola Law School. JD/MBA students must take a minimum of 11 classes in the MBA Program.

Specific Course Paradigm for Master of Business Administration

The following course paradigm satisfies the MBA degree requirements for the JD/MBA Program:

I. Core Courses

The core curriculum courses, prefixed MBAA, comprise the first level or common body of knowledge studies in business administration. All core courses must be taken before students may proceed to the advanced curriculum. Challenge exams and waivers are at the discretion of the Associate Dean or designee.

MBAA 602	Financial and Managerial Accounting 3 semester hours
MBAA 603	Business Statistics 3 semester hours
MBAA 604	Business Economics 3 semester hours
MBAA 605	Management and Organizational Behavior 3 semester hours
MBAA 606	Marketing Management 3 semester hours
MBAA 607	Operation Analysis and Decision Support Systems 3 semester hours
MBAA 608	Financial Management 3 semester hours
MBAA 609	Management Information Systems 3 semester hours

II. Generalization Requirement

Generalization in the Advanced Curriculum is obtained in the following way: Students must take 5 advanced course "breadth" electives from at least 3 fields in addition to the Area of Emphasis/specialization. Additionally, no more than 2 courses may be taken within a single specialization. For example, a student who declared their area of emphasis/specialization in MBAB, would opt to take 2 MBAC advanced courses, 2 MBAD advanced courses, and 1 MBAE advanced course to satisfy the generalization requirement. Another student having the same area of emphasis/specialization may prefer to obtain even greater generalization by taking 1 MBAC, 1 MBAD, 1 MBAE, 1 MBAF, and 1 MBAG advanced course.

Students are advised to contact the Director of Student Affairs at Loyola Law School for specific degree requirements prior to enrolling in any law courses once they have been admitted to the dual degree program.

III. Integrative Experience Courses

Two integrative options are available:

1. Comparative Management Systems (MBAI 691)
2. 3 Strategy Courses (MBAI 610 plus any 2 other strategy courses)

Refer to comprehensive description of the MBA Program.

Introduction

The Executive MBA (EMBA) program is a 20-month program for experienced mid-level executives with a bachelor's degree and at least 6 years of professional, managerial, or entrepreneurial experience. Classes meet all day Saturday.

Executive MBA students bring a deep understanding of the workplace and managerial experience into the classroom. Their diverse knowledge base becomes an important shared-learning tool for fellow students, creating a broad range of perspectives on wide-ranging business issues and contributing to a challenging and enriching learning environment. You will enter and graduate as a group having experienced a high level of collaborative learning and exposure to real-world business situations taught from an executive management level perspective.

The current program begins August 2014 and ends in May 2016.

Application Process

The Executive MBA program requires a Bachelor's degree with an acceptable level of scholarship from an accredited institution of higher learning and six or more years of increasing responsibility in professional, management, or entrepreneurial positions.

Admission to the Executive MBA program is individualized and based on a candidate's potential to pursue graduate study. Each candidate is evaluated on the cumulative evidence received including, but not limited to, work and management experience, career accomplishments, potential for advancement, letters of recommendation, personal interview, information provided in the application form, undergraduate and graduate (if any) record, and GMAT (if required). Selection is based on academic potential without regard to race, creed, color, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, age, or disability.

How to Apply

Application deadline is July 1. Applications received after the deadline will be considered if spaces are available.

- Schedule your personal interview
Candidates for the Executive MBA must have an interview with a member of the admissions committee. If you are considering candidacy, you are encouraged to interview early in the admissions process to assess the fit between the program and your experience, expectations, and personal development needs, and to determine if you are required to take the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT).
- Complete the application for admission
Please type or print clearly. Give your full legal name.
- Include a $100 application fee (non-refundable)
Your check should be made out to Loyola Marymount University. If a check is written for you by someone else, please make sure your name appears on it. Application fee is waived for active duty military members and veterans.
- Send for official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended
Official records must be sent directly from the registrar of the issuing institution to EMBA Admissions. Transcripts submitted will not be returned, nor will copies be forwarded by LMU to other institutions.
- Request two letters of recommendation
You should request these from persons with whom you have closely worked and who can evaluate your abilities, accomplishments, and potential. Where applicable, at least one letter should come from your supervisor. Recommenders should use one of the postage paid envelopes provided by EMBA Admissions to send their letters directly to EMBA Admissions.
- Obtain your company's sponsorship
You must have a support statement from your employer acknowledging that you will be given the necessary time off from work to attend classes and other official program functions. Please have your employer complete the proper form and send it to EMBA Admissions using the postage paid envelope provided.
- Provide the official score of your Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT), if required
The Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) is required only if your prior academic work and professional experience does not show clear evidence of strong quantitative and analytical reasoning skills. A determination that the GMAT is required will be made after your personal interview and application screening. If the GMAT is required, your results should be sent to EMBA Admissions (ETS code 4403). The GMAT is a computer-adaptive test (CAT) that is available year-round at test centers throughout the world. Visit the MBA Explorer @ website at <http://www.mbaexplorer.com> for quick answers to most of your questions and the latest GMAT information. If you have additional questions, contact an Educational Testing Service customer service representative at 609.921.9000. Telephone lines are open Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., EST.
- Review and Notification
A formal notice will be sent to each candidate after the application and complete records are received, the interview conducted, and the admission committee has made its recommendation. If you are admitted, you will be expected to confirm your commitment with a non-refundable payment of $1,000. This pre-payment will be applied to tuition charges and will reserve one of the LMU EMBA positions for you.

The Executive MBA Curriculum

The Executive MBA curriculum employs a modular structure with the focus shifting from analysis and evaluation in the first half of the program to strategic application and execution in the second half of the program. The 20-month, 55-credit-hour program is presented in four modules. The learning process is accomplished through three levels of integration.

Knowledge Content: To enhance relevance of core business concepts to the workplace, knowledge content (finance, accounting, economics, statistics, marketing, leadership, performance management, and strategy) is presented by instructors with significant real-world experience in theme-based modules that closely approximate their application in real-world situations.

Managerial Competencies: Core managerial competencies (problem solving and decision making, communicating and interpersonal relations) are used to integrate and enhance the application of knowledge, experience, and learned concepts into the workplace.

Integrated Learning Environment: Relevance and enhanced retention are enabled through action-based assignments, illustrative real-world cases studies, integrated skill application projects, and on-scene domestic and international field trips.

The major components of the program are the Classroom Experience, Skills Application Projects, and off-campus Learning Experiences.

Classroom Experience

Classroom sessions are comprised of presentations by highly-qualified faculty and business leaders. Learning is facilitated through interaction between participants and faculty, exercises approximating real management issues, case studies, and exploring management concepts found in readings and text materials. Individual skill development is stressed, with the aim of equipping executives with strategies they can use to improve their own decision-making and leadership capabilities.

Skill Application Projects

Skill application projects provide important experiential learning by "forcing" the use of business concepts learned in the classroom to solve real business problems. Each module or major curriculum focus uses a team project to facilitate the transference of knowledge into practical application. Projects are real business issues faced every day, such as a merger or acquisition, ethical decisions, opening new markets, major reorganization, or a functional business problem. Web-based group interaction and e-mail are used to facilitate completion of group assignments.

Learning Experiences

Learning experiences provide unique educational opportunities that augment classroom instruction. These are fully integrated into the curriculum and also provide experiential learning in the actual practice of management.

- Executive Leadership Retreat
You begin the Executive MBA program with a four-day residential retreat where we help you set learning goals, form study teams, and engage in a variety of workshops and team-building exercises. We also include a workshop for our students and their spouses/significant others addressing the importance of achieving balance between family, work, and school.
- Innovation and Entrepreneurialism
After completing Modules 1 and 2 in Year One, students will study innovation and entrepreneurialism during a structured summer program. The innovation component will explore the key organizational factors that facilitate innovative process, including a domestic field trip to some of the nation's most innovative companies. The entrepreneurialism component will examine the new venture start up process, identifying the elements critical for success.

- International Trip

Toward the end of the program, you will take a ten-day journey to one or more major, non-U.S. business centers that will broaden your understanding of what it takes to manage in today's global business environment. In recent years, we have traveled to South America, China, India, Southeast Asia, and Europe. Our students regularly cite the visit as a highlight of the program.

Expectations for Executive MBA Students

The Executive MBA is a cohort program where students proceed through a fixed curriculum as a group. Learning is facilitated through collaborative assignments where students work closely with each other, with faculty, and within study teams. A significant and critical part of the learning is achieved through open and honest dialog with fellow students and faculty.

Success in the program depends heavily on attitude and how students interact with and work with other classmates. Students are expected to develop an awareness of self that requires a willingness to engage in self-discovery, to look at oneself objectively and honestly, and to respect the opinions and perspectives of fellow classmates, faculty, and administrators. Students agree to and accept the following guidelines:

- Fully engage and participate in class discussion
- Actively participate in regular team meetings and activities
- Fulfill commitments made to the team including homework and team projects
- Support other team members
- Actively work to create a high performance team
- Be open to feedback from faculty, team members, and class members
- Provide feedback to team members and class members
- Treat fellow students, faculty, and administrators with dignity, decency, and mutual respect

Failure to adhere to these guidelines may result in dismissal from the program.

The EMBA Curriculum Sequence

The EMBA is built and organized around key business challenges, with courses that integrate core business concepts and tools with real business situations to address these challenges. Credit hours for an individual course may vary from .5 to 4 semester hours, and some courses may not be offered for each class, or in the module indicated; however, total credit hours is 55 semester hours. The MBA degree is awarded by the College of Business Administration at the successful completion of the program.

The LMU EMBA program consists of 55 semester hours taught over four modules and a concluding Leadership and International Experience. Each module approximates a normal semester. The curriculum is integrated, which means that key concepts are addressed across courses and across modules. The sequence moves from acquiring business knowledge, to applying knowledge in real-world settings at the organizational level, to using knowledge and skills for making strategic decisions and leading change at the firm level.

Module 1: Leadership and Language of Business

This module introduces fundamental leadership principles and to develop skills for assessing the impact of the global economy on the economic value of the firm. Courses aim at improving decision making by laying a solid foundation in leadership, quantitative and analytical skills.

The module includes:

MBAP 601	Financial Accounting 1 TO 4 semester hours
MBAP 604	Applied Business Economics 1 TO 4 semester hours
MBAP 608	Managerial Finance 1 TO 4 semester hours
MBAP 623	Leadership in the 21st Century 1 TO 4 semester hours
MBAP 626	Executive Communications I 1 TO 4 semester hours

MBAP 651 Introduction to Executive Leadership 1 TO 4 semester hours

MBAP 662 Ethics and Spirituality in the Workplace 1 TO 4 semester hours

MBAP 664 Neuroscientific Leadership .5 TO 4 semester hours

Note: The coursework is applied in a real-world skill application project, MBAP 611 Corporate Expansion Analytics, which ties the course work together and provides actual practice in using quantitative data to support a major financial decision.

Module 2: Building and Leading High Performance Organizations

The focus of this module is to enable executives to maximize human potential for building and leading high performance organizations. Courses expand learning through application of core concepts learned in the previous module. Students will develop an understanding of their own leadership and decision-making styles.

The module includes:

MBAP 602 Managerial Accounting 1 TO 4 semester hours

MBAP 603 Business Analytics 1 TO 4 semester hours

MBAP 609 Finance, Valuation, and Capital Budgeting 1 TO 4 semester hours

MBAP 612 Leadership Practicum 1 TO 4 semester hours

MBAP 622 Strategic Human Resource Management 1 TO 4 semester hours

MBAP 627 Executive Communications II 1 TO 4 semester hours

MBAP 662 Ethics and Spirituality in the Workplace 1 TO 4 semester hours

MBAP 663 Professional Growth Planning 0 TO 4 semester hours

Summer: Innovation and Entrepreneurialism

The summer learning experience focuses on gaining an understanding of the leadership, organizational, and individual factors that facilitate innovation and entrepreneurialism. Classroom learning is supplemented with a domestic field trip that examines the management practices of leading companies.

The program includes:

MBAP 616 New Venture Start Up 1 TO 4 semester hours

MBAP 629 Managing Innovation 1 TO 4 semester hours

MBAP 652 Field Study: Innovation in Practice 1 TO 4 semester hours

Note: By the end of the program, students will have gained insights into the organizational dynamics and capabilities required to foster innovation. The entrepreneurial perspectives gained are applicable to both start-ups or new ventures within large firms.

Module 3: Strategy in the Global Business Environment

This module expands learning and perspective beyond functional and internal topics to global approaches, presenting a variety of complex and interrelated issues confronting firms in today's global and uncertain business climate.

The module includes:

MBAP 631 Strategic Management 1 TO 4 semester hours

MBAP 632 Applied Macro Economics 1 TO 4 semester hours

MBAP 633 Business in the International Environment 1 TO 4 semester hours

MBAP 634 Applied Marketing and Marketing Strategy 1 TO 4 semester hours

MBAP 662 Ethics and Spirituality in the Workplace 1 TO 4 semester hours

MBAP 663 Professional Growth Planning 0 TO 4 semester hours

Note: By the end of this module, students will have acquired both the knowledge and skills required of sophisticated managers. The focus to this point has been mastery of concepts and application of those concepts.

Module 4: Leadership and International Experience

This experience is the capstone application of previously learned knowledge and skills. The courses' focus is strategic assessment of opportunities and threats facing a firm and then is light of this assessment developing strategic approaches that can lead to a competitive advantage for the firm. The major emphasis is on leadership required to execute strategic direction with specific focus on change management.

The experience includes:

MBAP 613	Business Opportunity Assessment 1 TO 4 semester hours
MBAP 614	Strategic Opportunity Implementation 1 TO 4 semester hours
MBAP 645	Demonstrating Leadership 1 TO 4 semester hours
MBAP 646	International Negotiations 1 TO 4 semester hours
MBAP 653	Field Study: Business in the International Environment 1 TO 4 semester hours
MBAP 662	Ethics and Spirituality in the Workplace 1 TO 4 semester hours
MBAP 663	Professional Growth Planning 0 TO 4 semester hours

MBA Degree Program

To qualify for the Master of Business Administration degree, the admitted student must satisfy the requirements of at least 18–20 courses, waivers, double emphasis/specialization, and choice of integrative option may alter the required amount.

MBA course descriptions and prerequisites are listed in the University Bulletin, depending on which integrative option a student chooses. Course syllabi are available on the MBA Student Intranet page.

MBA Course Categories

Two broad divisions of courses exist in the MBA Program: the core and the advanced curriculum.

Core Curriculum

The core curriculum consists of 9 specific courses that comprise the common body of knowledge of business administration as defined by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB International).

Core courses are prefixed MBAA and numbered in the 60X series (MBAA 601–609).

Core courses are described in the next section. They include the following:

MBAA 601	The Legal and Ethical Environment of Business 3 semester hours
MBAA 602	Financial and Managerial Accounting 3 semester hours
MBAA 603	Business Statistics 3 semester hours
MBAA 604	Business Economics 3 semester hours
MBAA 605	Management and Organizational Behavior 3 semester hours
MBAA 606	Marketing Management 3 semester hours
MBAA 607	Operation Analysis and Decision Support Systems 3 semester hours
MBAA 608	Financial Management 3 semester hours
MBAA 609	Management Information Systems 3 semester hours

Note: Several topics which are vital to the common body of knowledge in business are not directly referenced in the titles of the nine core courses. These topics include the following: business ethics, social influences, political influences, computer applications, organizational theory, interpersonal communications, integrating analysis, and the international dimension of business.

Because of their critical nature for emerging business leaders, many of these topics are included as major elements within each core course. For example, MBAA 605 Management and Organizational Behavior, includes modules on organizational theory, interpersonal communication, business ethics and the international dimension of business. Similar matrixed break-downs occur in the other core courses. Viewed from a topical standpoint, the international dimension of business is addressed in MBAA 604, MBAA 605, MBAA 606, MBAA 608, and MBAA 609.

The Advanced Curriculum

The advanced curriculum consists of 9–12 courses depending on the Integrative double emphasis/specialization option. All courses in the advanced curriculum are electives, but certain constraints exist to ensure that each graduate has an acceptable and intelligently constructed program of study. Within the advanced curriculum, the student is given an opportunity to obtain both specialized knowledge in an Area of Emphasis and generalized knowledge in supporting areas. The curriculum also provides ample opportunity to integrate the knowledge obtained through the below specializations and generalization studies below.

Area of Emphasis/Specialization

Depth in a specialized field of knowledge is obtained by the selection of three courses within one of eight designated areas of emphasis. For example, a student who plans on selecting MBAB: Management and Organizational Behavior as their area of emphasis/specialization, must take 3 MBAB advanced courses to fulfill the area of emphasis/specialization requirement. These specializations and their course designator prefixes are listed below:

MBAB:	Management and Organizational Behavior
MBAC:	Marketing Management
MBAD:	Information and Decision Sciences
MBAE:	Human Resource Management
MBAF:	Financial Decision Systems
MBAG:	International Business Systems
MBAH:	Entrepreneurial Organizations
MBAJ:	Accounting Decision Systems
MBAI:	Integrative Experience Courses

Generalization “Breadth” Requirement

By nature, MBA programs that are similar to LMU follow the classic AACSB International model mandate that candidates for graduation have a broad academic background rather than one of extensive specialization.

Generalization in the Advanced Curriculum is obtained in the following way:

Students must take 5 advanced course “breadth” electives from at least 3 fields in addition to the Area of Emphasis/specialization. Additionally, no more than 2 courses may be taken within a single specialization. For example, a student who declared their area of emphasis/specialization in MBAB, would opt to take 2 MBAC advanced courses, 2 MBAD advanced courses, and 1 MBAE advanced course to satisfy the generalization requirement. Another student having the same area of emphasis/specialization, may prefer to obtain even greater generalization by taking 1 MBAC, 1 MBAD, 1 MBAE, 1 MBAF, and 1 MBAG advanced course.

Double Emphasis/Specialization

A student may earn a second area of emphasis/specialization by taking one additional advanced course in the MBA Program. The advanced course selected must specialize in the area of the 2 existing advanced courses within the generalization requirement. For example, if a student advanced courses in the generalization requirement are MBAC, MBAC, MBAD, MBAE, MBAF then the additional advanced course needed to create a double emphasis/specialization would be from the area of MBAC. A second specialized field of knowledge is obtained by the selection of three courses within the remaining designated specializations.

Final Integrative Options

The integrative experience is designed to draw together the knowledge gained in the MBA program into a combined focus. Two integrative options are available:

Option One, Comparative Management Systems (CMS), MBAI 691. This integrative course requires prep activities in the Fall and Spring semesters prior to the three week travel taken in the first Summer Session. Prior to departure, students participate in a co-requisite advanced elective course, MBAI 690 International Regional Strategies: Cultural and Industrial, during which they preform area studies of the nations to be visited and participate in seminars conducted by area and industry specialists. The industries visited are held constant for each annual CMS Program. Students are grouped by business functional areas and meet with executives from those areas in each firm visited. Group papers and presentations comprise final outputs for the course.

Option Two, Strategy Option: This option allows the student to take 3 designated Strategy electives. Strategy electives are advanced courses with the word “strategy” or “strategic” in the course title. All students who elect this option must take MBAI 610 Management Strategy, plus 2 additional strategy courses. Each designated Strategy elective provides the student with a general management and functional area perspective on the development and implementation of high level corporate strategy. Taken together, the 3 selected electives give the student an integrative view of the total strategic planning and implementing processes.

Students who follow this option observe how firms determine and implement corporate strategy from the standpoint of several functional areas. The strategy courses provide an overall integrative focus as a capstone to the student's MBA studies.

COLLEGE OF COMMUNICATION AND FINE ARTS

Administration

Dean: Bryant Keith Alexander

Associate Deans: Paul Humphreys, Judith Scalini

Assistant Dean: Elaine P. Walker

Mission of the College

Grounded in and sustained by a significant commitment to an excellent liberal education, the College of Communication and Fine Arts aims to promote the Mission of Loyola Marymount University in the following ways:

foster the encouragement of learning in all of our academic programs and endeavors; contribute in a distinctive way to the education of the whole person;

create in our own community and in the larger community beyond LMU the individual and collective resources and orientations that will allow us to create a more compassionate and just world.

The College of Communication and Fine Arts creates an environment conducive to understanding the complex phenomena of art and art making as well as human communication in all its diverse forms. Driven by a passionate commitment to study, understand, and experience human creative expression requires that we assist students and our various publics in adopting a critical and discerning orientation to human artistic and communicative expression. We develop both the capacity for human artistic expression and the capacity for other forms of communication as life-enhancing opportunities to promote the common good and contribute to the full development of our students, faculty, staff, alumni, and those we serve beyond LMU.

Our undergraduate programs in Art and Art History, Communication Studies, Dance, Music, and Theatre Arts and our graduate program in Marital and Family Therapy (grounded in clinical art therapy) foster deep inquiry into the processes and artifacts of human expression and their capacity to shape life's experiences, meanings, and expectations. We are intrigued by the ways in which art and communication reveal human interiority in all its mysterious and complex diversity. Ultimately, our shared objective is to create and sustain a learning community composed of individuals, each more fully alive, more capable of experiencing life in all its complexity, in order to assist all to live more meaningful and productive lives. Our educational programs and personal interactions with students motivate them to continue learning throughout their lives. Our courses and programs are embedded in a learning community characterized by close contact between faculty, staff, and students that encourages students and their mentors to realize our individual and collective potential to make meaningful contributions to a world in need of our most discerning intelligence and our most creative and compassionate responses. In order to respond most effectively to a challenging and diverse world, the College develops its curricular and program initiatives to promote specific student learning outcomes, developing in them the capacity to make informed, capable, and compassionate contributions through their professional lives and their personal relationships.

College of Communication and Fine Arts Student Learning Outcomes

By engaging and fully participating in academic programs in the College of Communication and Fine Arts, our students should develop a critical understanding of:

- The history, theories, techniques, approaches, and orientations appropriate to their academic disciplines in the arts, communication studies, and marital and family therapy (clinical art therapy)
- The ways this body of knowledge and its distinctive understandings relate to and inform other ways of knowing and other forms of human expression in all its diversity
- The significant consequences and potentially transformative impact of our individual and collective capacity to create or to communicate something that would not exist were it not for our own expression.

By engaging and fully participating in academic programs in CFA, our students should be able to:

- Integrate and incorporate the knowledge of their disciplines into their own work in a creative and increasingly accomplished way
- Develop the capacity to be receptive to the critiques of others and to be deeply self-reflective about their own work
- Experience their work as central to their own personal development and accept their responsibility to other people and the world we share
- Offer discerning responses to the human expressions and created art works of others
- Collaborate with others in exploring how to create and communicate, bringing the interior world of our private selves into the public sphere in ways that engage and enlighten.

By engaging and fully participating in academic programs in CFA, our students should value:

- Imagination, intuition, and spirituality as an essential part of life
- The power of human creativity and human communication to transform our innermost private lives and our relationships in an increasingly diverse and complex public sphere
- The complexity and diversity of human experience reflected in an openness to respond to other people from varied backgrounds, cultures, and belief systems in a socially just and compassionate way
- The role that the arts and communication play in creating and re-creating cultures, meanings, and expectations that shape our lives in profound ways.

Application of General University Requirements

The University requirements for admission, graduation, and all general rules and regulations of the University as set forth in this Bulletin are applicable to and binding upon all students enrolled in the College of Communication and Fine Arts.

Teacher Preparation Program

The College of Communication and Fine Arts offers a subject matter preparation program in art education specially designed to meet the State of California subject matter requirements for a secondary credential. The Bachelor of Arts degree with an emphasis in Art Education is designed to allow completion of the California Preliminary Single Subject (Secondary) credential in four years. This program is offered in conjunction with the School of Education. All students interested in teaching art at a secondary level should contact Teresa I. Lenihan as soon as possible and should also contact the School of Education to arrange a time to attend an Undergraduate Information Session.

College Curriculum

The curriculum of each department in the College of Communication and Fine Arts incorporates required courses in general education, major sequences, and elective courses which complement and enhance the student's major field of concentration.

Total Program

120 semester hours are required for graduation with the following distribution:

- a. maximum of 36 upper division semester hours in any one department will be accepted toward the 120 semester hours requirement; and
- b. at least 45 semester hours are required from upper division offerings.

Students should consult the Dean's Office for specific policies applicable to the College of Communication and Fine Arts.

Individualized Study Program

Admission to the Individualized Study Program in Communication and Fine Arts requires:

1. A B (3.0) grade point average.
2. The submission of an Individualized Study Program form delineating courses and signed by the student's advisor and the chairperson of the advisor's department.
3. The submission by the advisor of a complete curriculum from an accredited college or university.
4. The signature of the Dean of the College.

All subsequent changes in the Individualized Study Program require points 2, 3, and 4 above.

Students registering for an Individualized Study Program are advised that their diploma and transcript will read "Individualized Study" and not the specific major they elect within that program.

Mission

Within the framework of the University's mission, the Department of Art and Art History is committed to giving students educational opportunities combining creativity, professional, and scholarly study in the visual arts.

Objectives

The philosophy of the Department rests on the premise that its students should receive a broad education that combines creativity and scholarly study. Two majors are offered, Studio Arts and Art History. The foremost objective is to prepare students intellectually and professionally for a career in Studio Arts and Art History and/or graduate studies. Courses offered to undergraduate majors and non-majors stress the cultural value of the visual arts.

Degrees

Two majors are offered, Studio Arts and Art History.

Students may also complete a minor.

The Department is a fully accredited member of the National Association of Schools of Art and Design.

Semester Hours

For studio classes, a semester hour of credit, one unit, represents three hours of work each week. In lecture and seminar courses, an hour of credit represents one hour each week in class and two hours of work outside of class.

Art History, B.A.

The major in Art History is designed to increase the student's understanding of the meaning and purpose of visual arts. Utilizing an interdisciplinary approach, courses examine the historical development, formal expression, and societal role of visual culture, art, and architecture.

Goals for Art History Majors

Courses expose students to a broad understanding of world history through the visual arts, providing a full awareness of the historical, spiritual, and cultural contexts of the works of art. In addition, classes foster excellent research skills, critical thinking, and advanced writing in preparation for graduate studies or professional careers.

Objectives

The philosophy of the Department rests on the premise that its students should receive a broad education that combines creativity and scholarly study. Two majors are offered, Studio Arts and Art History. The foremost objective is to prepare students intellectually and professionally for a career in Studio Arts and Art History and/or graduate studies. Courses offered to undergraduate majors and non-majors stress the cultural value of the visual arts.

Student Learning Outcomes

Students majoring in Art History should be able to:

- Demonstrate that they comprehend historical contexts for diverse artistic traditions.
- Exhibit knowledge of the impact of diverse cultural contexts on the production and understanding of artistic traditions.

Students majoring in Art History should know:

- Methods for analyzing works of visual culture, art, and architecture within their appropriate historical, social, religious, and philosophical contexts.
- How to think critically and articulate clear ideas about visual culture, art, and architecture and their historical and contemporary significance.
- The necessary research and writing skills to formulate and articulate meaningful statements and documents on visual culture, art, and architecture.

Students majoring in Art History are presented with the opportunity to value:

- The aesthetic, theoretical, and historical properties of works of visual culture, art, and architecture.
- The power of visual culture to communicate deep human ideas and emotions.

Studio Arts, B.A.

Description and Goal

This Studio Arts program of study provides a broad foundation in the techniques, concepts, and professional orientation related to an area of emphasis chosen by the student in either Art Education, Fine Arts, Graphic Design, or Multimedia Arts.

Students are required to declare their chosen emphasis during the first semester Sophomore year. Entering transfer students are required to declare their chosen emphasis at the time of registration for classes.

The goal of all areas is to encourage individual creative exploration and to develop student understanding of artistic and cultural expression.

Objectives

The philosophy of the Department rests on the premise that its students should receive a broad education that combines creativity and scholarly study. Two majors are offered, Studio Arts and Art History. The foremost objective is to prepare students intellectually and professionally for a career in Studio Arts and Art History and/or graduate studies. Courses offered to undergraduate majors and non-majors stress the cultural value of the visual arts.

Student Learning Outcomes

Students majoring in Studio Arts (STAR) should know:

- The basic definitions, concepts, and techniques in visual arts
- How to discover their unique capabilities and personal artistic expression
- How to solve creative and aesthetic problems in the visual arts.

Students majoring in Studio Arts (STAR) should be able to:

- Represent a distinct sensibility
- Make artistic decisions based on an awareness of traditional and current art movements and technological advancements
- Expand their cultural and critical view of the history of art
- Critically analyze and assess artworks and concepts
- Prepare a portfolio needed to enter graduate studies or a professional career.

Students majoring in Studio Arts (STAR) are encouraged to value:

- The on-going learning and development of overall technical knowledge
- The abilities of others
- Expertise in the arts
- The awareness of art history within the larger human context
- The pursuit of new skills and insights for personal growth
- Service to others and the promotion of justice.

General Information

Students in Studio Arts (STAR) are expected to engage in studio work in addition to scheduled class time. Most studios are open to enrolled students outside of class time on a 24-hour basis. For studio classes, students should anticipate approximately three hours of outside of class studio work every week for each semester hour of course credit. In lecture and seminar courses, students should anticipate approximately one hour each week in class and two hours of work outside of class for each semester hour of course credit.

Fine Arts Emphasis

Major Requirements

Fine Arts Emphasis majors choose a concentration in:

Ceramics (FACR),
Drawing/Painting (FADP),
Photography (FAPH),
Printmaking (FAPR),
or Individualized Studies (FAIS)

then select both lower and upper division courses from within the same concentration.

Lower Division Requirements:

27 semester hours of lower division courses:

ART 153	Drawing I 3 semester hours
ART 160	Two-Dimensional Design 3 semester hours
ART 260	Computer Graphics I 3 semester hours

Graphic Design Emphasis (GRPH)

Graphic Designers are the visual communicators who capture our attention and imagination through the innovative uses of typography and imagery. From books to brands, to film titles, motion graphics, posters, and websites, graphic design surrounds us. The graphic design curriculum prepares students to envision the future of this persuasive social medium.

Multimedia Arts Emphasis (MTMD)

Students who elect a Multimedia emphasis are interested in a future of authoring and designing in a world of new media and emerging technologies. This Emphasis provides a strong and flexible foundation in the visual arts and an understanding of critical theory, with the addition of computer science for a solid grasp of underlying technologies. The career outlook for multimedia students is very encouraging. The Multimedia Internship provides real-world experience with galleries, agencies, and production studios. Multimedia students at Loyola Marymount have the flexibility to concentrate in one of the following areas, and to hone in their creative and professional interests: TEXT, IMAGE, SOUND, or MOTION.

Major Requirements

Lower Division Requirements:

21 semester hours of lower division courses:

ART 160 Two-Dimensional Design 3 semester hours
 ART 182 Programming for Creative Applications 3 semester hours

Mission

The Communication Studies Department provides students from across the LMU community the communication competencies to pursue their personal, professional, and civic goals. Our department fosters the development of the whole person, promotes a commitment to social justice and cultural diversity, and confronts the most pressing contemporary political, social, and ethical issues of our time. To this end, we prepare students to communicate effectively in the service of human dignity and rights, civic engagement, and global equity.

Our department also is committed to the production of research that furthers disciplinary knowledge, enhances the quality of public discourse, and helps bridge the gap between our curriculum and real world experience. To serve our overall goals, we create an environment in which students and faculty can pursue research, community outreach, and leadership in civic and corporate arenas.

We cultivate in students an increased professional competency that enables them to maximize their post-graduation opportunities for career development. Our curriculum focuses on core competencies in the human communication discipline, which concerns the production, delivery, reception, deployment and criticism of oral, written, visual and electronic messages. Students are expected to demonstrate the following skills:

1. Thinking critically and creatively;
2. Generating effective arguments;
3. Conducting rigorous research;
4. Using new mediated technologies, and
5. Relating communication concepts to everyday practices in culturally diverse and global settings.

Communication Studies, B.A.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon and after graduation, a Communication Studies major will:

(Foundations)

1. Explain, analyze, and critique basic communication theories and principles.
2. Demonstrate ethical approaches to the production, delivery, and analysis of message across interpersonal, group, organizational, public, and global contexts.
3. Assess the needs, interests, and values of an audience.
4. Evaluate argumentative claims and reasoning processes.
5. Support their analyses and arguments with evidence and reasoning.
6. Retain and assess information as active listeners.

(Competencies)

1. Research topics, organize/outline the material, and deliver oral presentations that are designed to influence audience understanding, belief, and action.
2. Research topics, organize/outline the material, and revise written products that are created to influence audience understanding, belief, and action.
3. Research topics, organize/outline the material, and revise visual products that are created to influence audience understanding, belief, and action.
4. Utilize electronic technology as a tool for designing and delivering oral, written, and visual messages to influence audience understanding, belief, and action.

(The Research Experience)

1. Utilize electronic technology as a tool for effective research.
2. Evaluate the credibility of evidence and sources of information.
3. Demonstrate proper citation of sources.
4. Explain, analyze, and critique the methods used to produce communication research and information in communication and other academic disciplines.
5. Compile information and generate new knowledge through the following research approaches: participant observations, focus group, interviewing, survey, and textual analysis.

(Moving Beyond the Classroom)

1. Demonstrate time-bound problem-solving attitude.
2. Explain, analyze, and critique a variety of everyday communicative texts.
3. Apply oral, written, visual and electronic communication skills in professional contexts.
4. Explain and assess the communication of power relations, cultural similarities, and cultural differences in intercultural and global contexts.
5. Articulate the relationships among communication, social justice, and ethics by participating, evaluating, and reporting on critical events concerning social justice.

(Students may repeat this course providing the subject matter is not the same.)

CMST 490	Communication Practicum	3 semester hours
CMST 495	Senior Thesis	3 semester hours

(The student must obtain the written approval of the faculty member directing the thesis project and the Department Chairperson the semester prior to writing the thesis.)

Note: *Application courses defined: Advanced courses in which students "apply" communication concepts, theories, and research methods to address "real world" issues/problems in concrete contexts. They range in subject matter and conceptual content, yet remain consistent with our departmental mission in social justice, requiring students to apply their knowledge for the purpose of sustaining a more humane and livable world. Application courses are creative and/or theoretical in focus in the critique and/or production of persuasive messages (in oral, written, visual, or electronic form) adapted to target audiences to accomplish ethical and effective change. Students learn to analyze communication messages; understand the relationship between communication, audience, and context; and demonstrate a commitment to cultivating critical thinking skills about the complex role of communication in society locally and globally. Application courses may also offer students opportunities to develop their group and community-oriented communication skills by working in teams or partnering with organizations on and/or off-campus in service learning contexts or internships.

Potential Career Pathway

A degree in Communication Studies (CMST) from Loyola Marymount University provides students with the opportunity to develop essential skills—Writing, Oral Communication, Critical Thinking, and Teamwork—that are in high demand in today's challenging and ever-changing world.

With additional specific education and pre-professional training and experience, our graduates are prepared for a variety of entry-level positions emphasizing both internal and external communication management across corporate, nonprofit, and/or public fields.

Below are a few of those fields:

- Campaign Strategy
- Corporate and Non-profit Communication
- Social Media Management
- Training and Development
- Development/Fundraising
- Human Resources
- Public Relations and Advertising
- Sales and Marketing

Our graduates often successfully pursue additional education, including advanced degrees, in a variety of academic fields. These fields include:

- Communication Studies and related fields
- Mediation/Conflict Resolution
- Education
- Law
- Business

Interdisciplinary Applied Programs

Director: Dean Scheibel

Objectives

The philosophy of Interdisciplinary Applied Programs (IDAP) rests on the premise that students should receive a broad education that combines creativity and scholarly activity. IDAP deepens students' intellectual and professional preparation for careers.

IDAP provides for the acquisition of knowledge and skills that will allow students to explore potential careers in Public Relations and related fields. Historical and theoretical knowledge informs the acquisition of practical skills, which includes writing, speaking, analyzing, strategizing and planning, using a mix of traditional and social media. The knowledge and skills will allow students to ethically communicate to a variety of audiences and publics within interpersonal, group, organizational, regional, national, and global contexts. IDAP offers a sequence of courses and includes internships in the specific field of interest.

Mission Statement

The Graduate Department of Marital and Family Therapy offers a graduate program leading to a Master of Arts in Marital and Family Therapy. In addition to State of California required curriculum in traditional marital and family therapy coursework, the program is augmented with art therapy coursework. The department provides its graduates with comprehensive training in both verbal and nonverbal modalities. The structure of the program begins with the foundational marital and family therapy coursework, teaching sound theoretical understandings as well as a variety of clinical strategies, including art therapy as a modality. Additional coursework focuses on the art therapy process providing graduates with training in clinical art therapy and giving them breadth and skill in a nonverbal modality.

The Department trains clinicians to work in facilities providing psychological therapeutic services such as: community mental health centers, family counseling agencies, psychiatric hospitals, general hospitals, therapeutic and public schools, residential treatment facilities, drug, alcohol and rehabilitation centers.

The Department provides two- and three-year programs of rigorous academic work combined with two clinical internships of approximately 840 hours and 420 hours of direct client contact.

Initiated at Immaculate Heart College in 1974, the Department moved to Loyola Marymount in 1980. It encourages well-trained, traditionally grounded marital and family therapists who can expertly utilize art therapy within their clinical work. This philosophy effectively facilitates the comprehensive successes of our graduates within the systems that deliver mental health services in our communities.

The curriculum is designed to meet all the academic requirements established by the State of California's Board of Behavioral Sciences for the M.F.T. license. The core curriculum and the additional training in art therapy allow the graduate to apply for registration with the American Art Therapy Association.

Admission Requirements

- A Bachelor's degree from an accredited institution with a GPA of 3.0 ("B") average or higher
- Prerequisites in Psychology and Studio Art
 1. A minimum of eighteen (18) semester hour credits (or twenty-seven [27] quarter-hour credits) of study in studio art which demonstrates proficiency and disciplined commitment in art making

2. A minimum of twelve (12) semester hours credits (or [18] quarter-hour credits) of study in psychology, which must include developmental psychology and abnormal psychology
 - Submit an application with a $50 application fee.
 - Satisfactory score on the Miller Analogies Test (MAT)
 - Autobiography with emphasis on personal life experiences rather than educational or occupational information
 - Portfolio of art work
 - Two (2) letters of recommendation
 - Video interview which may be followed by a second interview on the LMU campus
 - Personal interview
 - A $250 deposit must accompany your letter of acceptance within 21 days of notification by the University of your admittance into the program. The deposit is applied toward tuition and is non-refundable.
 - Admission is on a rolling basis

Marital and Family Therapy, M.A.

Student Learning Outcomes

Graduates of the Department of Marital and Family Therapy should know:

- A broad theoretical basis for the practice of art psychotherapy
- The complex societal culture in which they are engaging
- The legal and professional responsibilities of the licensed practicing psychotherapist.

Graduates of the Department of Marital and Family Therapy should be able to:

- Advance to professional engagement in the mental health community
- Describe individual and family dynamics according to the theory and concepts of the discipline of marriage and family therapy
- Delineate short-term and long-term psychotherapeutic goals and develop treatment plans
- Synthesize the art therapy modality with traditional theoretical approaches and use a variety of techniques and interventions to achieve systemic change
- Present case material in verbal and written form at a professional level
- Work with others from varied and diverse perspectives
- Engage in critical scholarly discourse in the field of art psychotherapy.

Graduates of the Department of Marital and Family Therapy are encouraged to value:

- An increasing commitment to change as part of the psychotherapeutic and artistic process
- The ongoing development of multicultural competencies
- Engagement with the community in the service of social justice.

Program Requirements

The Master of Arts degree will be granted upon satisfactory completion of a minimum of 60 semester hours. A total of eleven practicum semester hours are applied towards the required total semester hours of credit. The internship fulfills a minimum of 840 hours with 420 direct client contact hours. The internship includes a minimum of two hours a week of supervision. This is provided by licensed psychotherapists who are approved by Loyola Marymount University.

Students enrolled in the full-time day Master of Arts in Marital and Family Therapy program will complete the degree requirements in two years. A three-year day program is also available.

Students are required to maintain a "B" (3.0) grade point average in both classroom and internship tracks.

The Department takes seriously its role in the training of therapists. The personality as well as the intellectual capability of each student is carefully evaluated. In light of this, a student may be disqualified from the program for factors other than grades.

Students are required to receive personal psychotherapy during the first two semesters in the program.

Faculty members are practicing clinicians. The courses they teach are directly related to their work experience and area of expertise.

Summer Study Abroad in Mexico

The Graduate Department of Marital and Family Therapy has established a summer Study Abroad program in San Miguel de Allende, Mexico. While obtaining a master's degree at LMU, students are encouraged to attend the summer program at which they are able to fulfill degree requirements, broaden their appreciation for issues of culture and, specifically, the Mexican culture. Classes available are MFTH 620, MFTH 622, and MFTH 629. These summer units can be counted toward Fall classes MFTH 621 and MFTH 630.

Music

Faculty

Chairperson: Mark Saya

Professors: Mary C. Breden, Rae Linda Brown, Paul W. Humphreys, Mark Saya, Virginia Saya

Assistant Professor: Michael Miranda

Clinical Assistant Professors: Wojciech Kocyan, Martha Masters

Music, B.A.

Objectives

The purpose of the Department of Music is to provide quality music instruction both for students who wish to pursue music as a career and for students who wish to enrich their lives through non-career oriented study and performance. Students and faculty work together to foster aesthetic involvement and creative and scholarly inquiry that support a vital community of music learning. Instruction emphasizes a personal approach. Through the presentation of diverse musical programs, the department also sustains and enriches the cultural vitality of the University and its surrounding communities. The work of the department further supports the goals of Jesuit and Marymount education by strengthening the socializing influence of music both within the University and the world at large.

The Department of Music offers the Bachelor of Arts in Music degree, the requirements of which can serve as an excellent foundation for students undertaking advanced studies in preparation for such careers as musicology, composition, ethnomusicology, music librarianship, and pedagogy-oriented teaching. In addition to meeting all general University admissions requirements, students who wish either to major or minor in Music must meet specific Department of Music entrance requirements.

Loyola Marymount University and the Department of Music are accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music.

Student Learning Outcomes

Students majoring in Music should be able to:

- Develop physical coordination and technical skills required for specific musical activities (conducting, singing, instrumental performance)
- Apply essential principles of music theory and form to the study and evaluation of musical scores (critical skills)
- Display familiarity with musical notation in performance and original composition (creative skills).

Students majoring in Music should know:

- The historical evolution of Western music as evidenced by style periods, performance practices, and representative composers and their works
- The varieties of music as a cultural phenomenon seen in its interrelationship with belief systems, life-ways, and language.

Students majoring in Music are presented with the opportunity to value:

- The power of music as an expression and reflection of human emotion and responsiveness
- The experience of aesthetic engagement that allows for deep identification with music
- The synthesis of perspectives—physical, technical, analytical, historical—that leads to a cultured musical sensibility and artistic performance.

Assistant Professors: Teresa L. Heiland, Rosalynde LeBlanc Loo

Mission

Framed by the Mission of Loyola Marymount University, the LMU Dance Program is committed to the inquiry and practice of dance as a creative, expressive art form that is integral to life.

The program believes that the study of dance engages the student as a whole person—body, mind, and spirit.

Guided by collaborative partnerships with teachers and scholars, opportunities to engage prominent dance artists, as well as participation within the diverse cultural and dance communities of Los Angeles and beyond, LMU Dance prepares students for a variety of career paths in dance and related areas of professional engagement.

The program provides a strong, unified learning community that works with deep intention, cooperation, and flexible engagement in performance, scholarship, choreography, and social action.

Housed in the Department of Theatre Arts and Dance, the Dance Program offers coursework for the dance major, the dance minor, and the general student population who wish to pursue dance as part of the core curriculum, as electives, and for the purposes of a liberal arts education.

Dance, B.A.

Student Learning Outcomes

DOING: Upon and after graduation, a Dance major will:

- Dance with an articulate, centered, expressive, and skilled body
- Perform modern dance, ballet, jazz, and world dance—at least two of these at the intermediate–advanced level
- Connect the work and play of the body with the life of the mind and the spirit
- Discern the difference between an uninformed, unconscious reaction and the spark of impulse that can be generated from informed intuition
- Use informed intuition and imagination to address issues in art and life
- Maintain health through a practice of integration of body, mind, and spirit and a balance between activity and stillness, work and rest
- Understand and communicate with people from diverse backgrounds using appropriate listening and observing skills along with appropriate oral, written, and dance-movement skills and sensibilities
- Interactively use knowledge of dance and dancing along with knowledge of the other arts, humanities, business, and the sciences to ask questions and solve life and art problems
- Employ media and technology to learn about dance, make dances, and navigate the world in many other ways
- Write cogently and speak thoughtfully about dance, dancers, and dancing
- Seek, lead, and participate in one's community
- Seek solitary time for reflection and study.

KNOWING: Upon graduation, a Dance major will:

- Understand the critical importance of diversity in dance, dancers, and dancing as well as in the life of culture at large
- Recognize similarities and differences between and among diverse peoples and phenomena and acknowledge the potential opportunities and challenges therein
- Understand the workings of the physical and emotional body as described through the study of somatics, the sciences, and psychology
- Analyze the interactive stages of the creative process and employ critical analysis when uncovering questions and building “answers”
- Comprehend the process and craft of dance composition and understand aesthetic valuing in dance
- Know historical and cultural traditions in dance
- Know fundamental principles of teaching dance to others
- Understand and appreciate the role of music, theatre, and media-technology in the making and presentation of dance.

VALUING: Upon graduation, a Dance major will:

- Identify personal values as a center from which to depart and return as one is tested through life experience
- Respect life in its diverse expressions
- Acknowledge the power of, and seek continued development of, interactive and integrated physical-spiritual-emotional consciousness
- Appreciate the voices of intuition and imagination
- Tolerate chaos, confusion, and uncertainty long enough to arrive at invention and transformation when making art and live life in all its expression
- Know oneself in order to have the strength, freedom, and will to give to others
- Appreciate that knowledge is cognitive, emotional, and sensory
- Appreciate that knowledge is a critical companion to intuition
- Recognize how being “truthful,” “heartful,” and “mindful” ultimately leads to transformation and connection to one's life purpose
- Appreciate the importance of working as a community of dancers, colleagues, work associates, friends, and family and understand that this kind of work does not replace the need for solitary reflection and creation
- Appreciate that inviting more people to the “table of dance” could augment physical health of American people and enhance intrapersonal and interpersonal compassion and empathy.

Theatre Arts, B.A.

Objectives

The Theatre Arts curriculum is planned to provide a broad quality education in the humanities and to develop in the student an appreciation of the whole self and the universality of the human experience. The Theatre Arts program promotes an environment that nurtures self-expression within all aspects of the discipline, ranging from acting and design to technical theatre and the history and theories surrounding these practices. Faculty and students collaborate to enhance creative involvement in and promote aesthetic and scholarly inquiry into the art of theatre and performance. Participation on all levels in the performing arts is central to this work. Through the production and study of both Western and world theatrical traditions, the program contributes to the cultural vitality of our students, the university, and the surrounding community. The Theatre Arts program supports the mission and goals of the university with a commitment to educating the whole person and providing students with the tools to be an active participant in the service of faith and the promotion of justice, and is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Theatre. The program offers the Bachelor of Arts in Theatre degree, the requirements of which can serve as an excellent foundation for those students pursuing a career in theatre, film, and television, for those who wish to enrich their lives through non-career oriented study and performance, and for those pursuing MFA and PhD degrees in performance, design, history, and performance theory.

Student Learning Outcomes

Students majoring in Theatre Arts should be able to:

- Strengthen their skills in observation, concentration, and imagination
- Effectively apply learned acting techniques to performance and/or creative works of their own
- Interpret dramatic texts and critique theatrical performance using appropriate critical language and analytical frameworks
- To integrate effective use of body and voice in communication in a theatrical space
- Read technical drawings, and apply a basic understanding of scenery, scenic materials, construction procedures, and standard theatrical lighting practices to theatre production
- Identify the basic elements of stage direction; analyze a play script from the point of view of the director; articulate and defend a production concept; develop actor-coaching skills; and identify elements of direction that communicate story, theme, and concept
- Positively contribute to the field of theatre performance, history, and production.

Students majoring in Theatre Arts are presented with the opportunity to value:

- Theatre as a live, human, creative, and spiritual experience, which has the power to transform and educate as well as entertain an audience
- Non-Western theatrical styles and genres
- The impact design and production have on the theatrical experience, and the relationships and contributions of all collaborators and theatrical personnel and how they contribute to the creation of theatre production across a broad spectrum of styles and genres
- Individual expression through exploration, analysis, and creation of dramatic writing
- First-hand European theatre tradition; Stanislavski and Epic theatre performance techniques; the history, geography, and culture of Germany and Russia, through our semester study abroad program, Bonn-Moscow-Berlin.

Students majoring in Theatre Arts should know:

- Basic theories, techniques, and process of dramatic writing and structure, and various approaches to translating original dramatic material from the page to the stage/screen
- Basic world theatre history and dramatic literature, including exemplary works and genres
- Basic performance and design genres, styles, and techniques
- Basic strategies of career development and audition/interview methods.

Dance Minor

Minor Requirements

Dance minor (DANG)—20 semester hours:

One composition course

DANC 160 Fundamentals of Dance Composition I 3 semester hours

One pedagogy course selected from

DANC 384 Creative Dances for Children 3 semester hours

DANC 385 Movement Arts for Children 3 semester hours

DANC 484 Principles of Teaching Dance 3 semester hours

One general theory course selected from

DANC 281 History of Dance Theatre 3 semester hours

DANC 381 To Dance Is Human: Dance, Culture, and Society
3 semester hours or

Other courses in Dance as directed by advisor

3 semester hours of creative theory course(s) selected from

DANC 183 Stagecraft for Dancers 1 semester hour

DANC 260 Laban Movement Analysis 3 semester hours

DANC 382 Drumming for Dance 2 semester hours

DANC 383 Dance Improvisation 0 TO 1 semester hour

DANC 386 Dance in Los Angeles 1 semester hour

DANC 387 Dance as Social Action 0 TO 3 semester hours

DANC 487 Dance Media and Technology 3 semester hours

At least 6 semester hours of dance technique
(ballet, modern, and/or jazz dance)

At least 2 semester hours of tap or world dance

Theatre Arts Minor

Minor Requirements (THEA)

18 semester hours divided into 6 semester hours of lower division work, 12 semester hours of upper division theatre offerings, and participation in departmentally-sponsored events.

Minor programs must be planned in consultation with a departmental advisor. A minimum grade of C (2.0) must be obtained in each course included in the minor program.

FRANK R. SEAVER COLLEGE OF SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING

Administration

Interim Dean: S. W. Tina Choe

Interim Associate Deans: Pippa Drennan, William Trott

Associate Dean of Faculty Development and Graduate Studies:
Curtis D. Bennett

College Mission Statement

The Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering is dedicated to providing outstanding educational opportunities in science, engineering, and mathematics in a mentoring environment to an increasingly diverse student body. The College emphasizes development of the whole person through its focus on ethical behavior and service to society.

The Graduate Programs in the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering provide opportunities for working professionals to enhance their skills and knowledge through modern, professionally rigorous and conveniently administered curricula which balance theory and practice in the areas of engineering, engineering management and leadership, computer and environmental science and the teaching of mathematics to advance their careers, serve the needs of society and meet the challenges of an ever-changing, complex world.

College Goals

Particularly applicable to the College are these goals: (1) to develop in the student the understanding that education is a self-discipline, and to place a greater responsibility for learning on the individual, (2) to integrate ethics into the curriculum in order to develop personal and professional integrity, (3) to help the student to become cognizant of the changing needs of humankind while interpreting and implementing the ever-increasing body of knowledge, (4) to encourage the student to recognize the wide applicability of scientific, engineering, and mathematical methods and to become skillful in their use, (5) to prepare the student for a world of accelerating scientific and technological change, (6) to impress upon the student that education must be a continuous process throughout one's professional career, and (7) to enable the Loyola Marymount graduate, through theological and philosophical studies, to make absolute and genuinely intellectual decisions and commitments about truth as it exists in the world and about one's own nature as a human being.

Programs

The College offers degree programs in Applied Mathematics, Biochemistry, Biology, Chemistry, Civil Engineering, Computer Science, Electrical Engineering, Engineering Physics, Environmental Science, Health and Human Sciences, Individualized Studies, Mathematics, Mechanical Engineering, Physics, and Systems Engineering. Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering faculty also teach the math, science and technology component of the University core curriculum. Courses numbered from 260–279 are designed specifically to meet the University core requirements in mathematics, science and technology for students not majoring within the College. With the exception of MATH 101, other lower-division courses in the College may also satisfy University core requirements. Check with your Dean's office.

Application of General University Requirements

The University requirements for admission and graduation and all general rules and regulations of the University as set forth in this Bulletin are applicable to and binding upon all students enrolled in the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering.

Degrees Offered

Bachelor of Arts in: Biology and Mathematics

Bachelor of Science in Engineering in: Civil, Electrical, and Mechanical Engineering

Bachelor of Science in: Applied Mathematics, Biochemistry, Biology, Chemistry, Computer Science, Engineering Physics, Environmental

Science, Health and Human Sciences, Individualized Studies, Mathematics, and Physics

Master of Arts in Teaching in: Mathematics

Master of Science in Engineering in: Civil, Electrical, and Mechanical Engineering

Master of Science in: Environmental Science and Systems Engineering

In addition, the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering offers Certificate Programs in Mechanical Engineering, Engineering and Productivity Management, and Program Leadership.

Teacher Preparation Programs in Biology, Chemistry, and Mathematics

Program Directors: Blake Mellor (Mathematics) and Carolyn Viviano (Biology and Chemistry)

The Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering offers state accredited subject matter preparation programs in mathematics, biology, and chemistry. These programs meet the State of California subject matter requirements for a secondary teaching credential; a student who has successfully completed one of our subject matter programs (refer to the Mathematics, Biology, or Chemistry section of the University Bulletin) will receive a waiver for the California Subject Examinations for Teachers (CSET).

All three programs were designed in collaboration with the School of Education to enable students to complete their subject matter requirements and their preliminary credential in four years; however, this does require summer coursework. Alternatively, students can choose to complete the subject matter program in four years and obtain their credential as a masters level graduate student (refer to the School of Education section of the University Bulletin). It is recommended that students entering one of the subject matter programs meet with the program director to discuss their options before making a decision. The College also offers courses in mathematics and science to support the multiple subject credential program for teaching elementary school (see the Liberal Studies section in the Liberal Arts part of the University Bulletin).

All students interested in teaching mathematics or science at the secondary level should inform their departmental advisors as soon as possible and should also contact the Center for Undergraduate Teacher Preparation (CUTP).

The Center for Student Success in Science and Engineering

The Center for Student Success (CSS) in the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering coordinates and provides opportunities aimed at enhancing undergraduate students' academic performance and career prospects. Located in Pereira 100, CSS offers students a central location to access information that is integral to a successful educational experience. The CSS collaborates with other divisions on campus to provide students with information regarding career development, study abroad, and service opportunities to enhance the student's academic, professional, and personal development. In addition, offers support to prepare for admission into health professional schools. These elements reinforce the shared mission of the University of encouragement of learning and the education of the whole person. For more information about the Center for Student Success, please contact the Associate Dean for Undergraduate Studies office at 310.338.2833 or CSS@lmu.edu.

Current Students Interested in Transferring to the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering (CSE)

Students who are currently enrolled in a major at LMU outside of CSE but are interested in transferring to the CSE are encouraged to apply as early as possible. Students must have completed a semester of calculus (MATH 122/131) and a semester of general chemistry (CHEM 110/114) with a minimum grade of C (2.0) in each class. Students interested in the Computer Science or Mathematics major do not need the chemistry requirement. Individual programs may have additional requirements; refer to the University Bulletin for details. A minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 is preferred for admission to the college. The Associate Dean of CSE and the Department Chair will evaluate the application when the student has met the minimum requirements.

Attainment of minimum requirements may not always be sufficient to secure approval of transfer request.

Core Curriculum for Students in the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering

CSE students enrolled in B.A. or B.S. degrees within the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering will follow the core curriculum as described below.

Science and Mathematics majors are required to complete 32 semester hours of core courses to satisfy the University Core requirements. Engineering majors are required to complete 30 semester hours of Core.

1. CSE students must complete one course from each of the following core areas:

	Core Area
Foundations	First Year Seminar Rhetorical Arts Theological Inquiry Philosophical Inquiry Studies in American Diversity
Integrations	Faith and Reason Ethics and Justice

2. To fulfill the rest of the core semester hour requirements, students take a combination of courses in the categories listed below taking at least one course under Explorations.

	Core Area
Explorations	Explorations Historical Analysis and Perspective Understanding Human Behavior Creative Experience
Integrations	Interdisciplinary Connections

3. Flagged Course requirements (200 level or higher): 5 courses required

- Writing: 2 Flags
- Oral Skills: 1 Flag
- Information Literacy: 1 Flag
- Engaged Learning: 1 Flag

Flagged courses will typically be courses that satisfy other Core, major, or elective requirements, so they will be incorporated over the student's four years of study. Foundations courses carry no flags.

Quantitative Reasoning and Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics Core categories are met by the curriculum of the major in CSE. In addition, the Quantitative Reasoning Flag is met by the curriculum of the major in CSE.

Science, Engineering, and Mathematics

Science, Engineering, and Mathematics (SCEM) courses are offered to the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering.

Faculty

Chairperson: Carl R. Urbinati

Professors: Philippa M. Drennan, Martina G. Ramirez, Eric Strauss (Presidential Professor), John P. Waggoner III

Associate Professors: Wendy J. Binder, Kam D. Dahlquist, Michelle R. Lum, M. Catharine McElwain, Carl R. Urbinati, Carolyn Viviano

Assistant Professors: Victor Carmona, Deepa Dabir, W. Wesley Dowd, Nancy Fujishige, Heather E. Watts

The mission of the Biology Department is to promote an appreciation for and understanding of the science of biology in our students. The particular objectives of the Biology Department are to: (1) provide students with a broad background in the biological sciences; (2) enable students to master the essential concepts of biology; (3) develop students' ability to think critically about scientific information and solve scientific problems; (4) enable students to articulate ideas and present information in both written and oral forms in a clear, organized fashion; (5) encourage students to participate in original research; (6) promote interdisciplinary scholarship; (7) teach students the skills of both field and laboratory biology, and enable them to participate directly in the scientific discovery process; (8) facilitate students' independent exploration of career opportunities; and (9) participate in the University's effort to educate non-science majors in the areas of science and technology.

Biology, B.A.

The B.A. in Biology degree is a general liberal arts and sciences program. The B.A. will allow for a double major with other liberal arts programs. Pre-professional students should select the program leading to the B.S. degree.

Major Requirements, Lower Division: for the B.A. in Biology

BIOL 101	General Biology I 3 semester hours *
BIOL 102	General Biology II 3 semester hours *
BIOL 111	General Biology I Lab 2 semester hours *
BIOL 112	General Biology II Lab 2 semester hours *
BIOL 201	Cell Function 3 semester hours *
BIOL 202	Genetics 3 semester hours *
CHEM 110	General Chemistry I 3 semester hours *
CHEM 111	General Chemistry I Lab 1 semester hour *
CHEM 112	General Chemistry II 3 semester hours *
CHEM 113	General Chemistry II Lab 1 semester hour *
CHEM 220	Organic Chemistry I 3 semester hours
6 semester hours of mathematics to include MATH 122 *
Plus 3.0 additional semester hours in science to be approved by the Department Chairperson

Note:

* A student must complete with a C (2.0) average the courses indicated with an asterisk, including a C (2.0) average in BIOL 101, BIOL 102, BIOL 111, BIOL 112, BIOL 201, and BIOL 202, prior to becoming eligible to take any upper division biology course.

Major Requirements, Upper Division: (both B.S. and B.A. in Biology)

27 (B.S.) or 24 (B.A.) upper division semester hours in Biology, to be selected from the groups listed below, and to include at least 4 laboratory courses.

- (a) One course in Cell/Organism Function

To be selected from

BIOL 351	General Physiology 3 semester hours
BIOL 353	Plant Physiology 3 semester hours
BIOL 356	Cell Biology 3 semester hours
BIOL 357	Comparative Animal Physiology 3 semester hours
BIOL 358	Hormones and Behavior 4 semester hours
BIOL 450	Physiology of Disease 3 semester hours

- (b) One course in Molecular Biology

To be selected from

BIOL 330	Embryology and Development 4 semester hours
BIOL 367	Biological Databases 3 semester hours
BIOL 437	Plant Development 3 semester hours
BIOL 439	Molecular Biology Applications 4 semester hours
BIOL 440
BIOL 443	Molecular Biology 3 semester hours
BIOL 478	Molecular Biology of the Genome 4 semester hours
BIOL 479	Molecular Mechanisms of Disease 3 semester hours

- (c) One course in Organismal Diversity

To be selected from

BIOL 312	Field Botany 4 semester hours
BIOL 314	Tropical Ecology 4 semester hours
BIOL 328	Tropical Marine Ecology 3 semester hours
BIOL 333	Biology of Mammals 4 semester hours
BIOL 334	Invertebrate Zoology 4 semester hours
BIOL 335	Comparative Anatomy 4 semester hours
BIOL 338	Animal Behavior 4 semester hours
BIOL 361	General Microbiology 3 semester hours
BIOL 422	Marine Biology 4 semester hours

- (d) One course in Populations

To be selected from

BIOL 315	World Vegetation Ecology 3 semester hours
BIOL 316	Island Biology 3 semester hours
BIOL 318	Principles of Ecology 4 semester hours
BIOL 321	Urban Ecology 3 semester hours
BIOL 328	Tropical Marine Ecology 3 semester hours
BIOL 338	Animal Behavior 4 semester hours
BIOL 422	Marine Biology 4 semester hours
BIOL 474	Principles of Evolution 3 semester hours
BIOL 475	Evolution 4 semester hours
BIOL 477	Conservation Genetics 4 semester hours

Note: BIOL 328, BIOL 338, or BIOL 422 can satisfy only (c) or (d).

(e) One 2 semester hour 500-level seminar or research course.

(f) Additional upper division biology courses.

(g) The above requirements must also include

One plant biology course

To be selected from

BIOL 311	Plant Interactions 3 semester hours
BIOL 312	Field Botany 4 semester hours
BIOL 315	World Vegetation Ecology 3 semester hours
BIOL 353	Plant Physiology 3 semester hours
BIOL 437	Plant Development 3 semester hours

And one field biology course

To be selected from

BIOL 312	Field Botany 4 semester hours
BIOL 314	Tropical Ecology 4 semester hours
BIOL 318	Principles of Ecology 4 semester hours
BIOL 322	Urban Ecology Lab 1 semester hour
BIOL 328	Tropical Marine Ecology 3 semester hours
BIOL 333	Biology of Mammals 4 semester hours
BIOL 338	Animal Behavior 4 semester hours
BIOL 380	Tropical Marine Ecology Laboratory 1 semester hour
BIOL 422	Marine Biology 4 semester hours

Note: (BIOL 312 can satisfy only one of these two categories).

In addition to the 24 required semester hours

Upper division biology courses may be taken as electives. Students preparing for specific graduate careers should discuss appropriate courses with their advisors.

To graduate as a biology major, a student must accumulate a C (2.0) average in all major requirements.

Biology, B.S.

The B.S. in Biology degree prepares students for a variety of careers following graduation. Substantial numbers of students go on to health professional schools to study medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, optometry, podiatric medicine, and veterinary medicine. Other students go on to various graduate programs in the basic biological sciences (e.g., physiology, genetics, molecular biology, immunology, microbiology, marine biology, ecology, etc.), college teaching, and positions in industry and in research and development.

Assistant Professors: Nicole C. Bouvier-Brown, Emily A. Jarvis

The chemistry and biochemistry curricula provide students with a solid foundation necessary for careers in research, health professions, teaching, and industry. The flexibility of the programs gives students the opportunity to explore areas that build upon that foundation. Examples of these areas include forensics, environmental science, and materials science. In addition, students acquire skills in critical thinking and problem solving useful in other professions such as law and business.

Chemistry and biochemistry are empirical sciences. In addition to intellectual mastery of the disciplines, the major programs also develop practical experimental skills. The LMU student obtains "hands on" experience, both in traditional synthetic and analytic bench chemistry, as well as in major contemporary methods and techniques, enhanced by the department's collection of modern instrumentation.

Because of the complex and sensitive nature of the equipment and techniques of chemistry and biochemistry, continued participation in the programs is contingent on appropriate development of the ability to work maturely and responsibly in the laboratory.

Biochemistry, B.S.Objectives

There are two tracks available in the biochemistry major, ACS-certified track and General track.

The Bachelor of Science degree program, approved by the Committee on Professional Training of the American Chemical Society (ACS), ACS certified track in Biochemistry, is designed to prepare the student not only for immediate entry into the profession of biochemistry at the Bachelor's level but also for graduate study toward advanced degrees.

The Bachelor of Science degree program, General track in Biochemistry, provides the student with a flexible program that builds upon a solid fundamental knowledge in chemistry and biochemistry. Students work with their advisors/chairperson to select upper division elective courses in emphasis areas like health sciences—which include but are not limited to medicine, pharmacy, dentistry, optometry—and areas such as forensics, environmental chemistry, education, etc.

Chemistry, B.S.

Objectives

There are two tracks available in the chemistry major, ACS-certified track and General track.

The Bachelor of Science degree program, approved by the Committee on Professional Training of the American Chemical Society (ACS), ACS certified track in Chemistry, is designed to prepare the student not only for immediate entry into the profession of chemistry at the Bachelor's level but also for graduate study toward advanced degrees.

The Bachelor of Science degree program, General track in Chemistry, provides the student with a flexible program that builds upon a solid fundamental knowledge in chemistry. Students work with their advisors/chairperson to select upper division elective courses in emphasis areas like health sciences—which include but are not limited to medicine, pharmacy, dentistry, optometry—and areas such as forensics, environmental chemistry, education, etc.

Major Requirements

Lower Division Requirements: ACS-certified track and General track

CHEM 110	General Chemistry I 3 semester hours
CHEM 111	General Chemistry I Lab 1 semester hour
CHEM 112	General Chemistry II 3 semester hours
CHEM 113	General Chemistry II Lab 1 semester hour
CHEM 190	World of Chemistry and Biochemistry 1 semester hour
CHEM 220	Organic Chemistry I 3 semester hours
CHEM 221	Organic Chemistry I Lab 1 semester hour
CHEM 222	Organic Chemistry II 3 semester hours
CHEM 223	Organic Chemistry II Lab 1 semester hour
BIOL 101	General Biology I 3 semester hours
BIOL 111	General Biology I Lab 2 semester hours
MATH 122	Calculus for the Life Sciences I 3 semester hours
MATH 123	Calculus for the Life Sciences II 3 semester hours
PHYS 253	General Physics I 4 semester hours
PHYS 254	General Physics II 4 semester hours

Note: A grade of at least C (2.0) is required in each of the CHEM courses. With approval of the Chairperson, MATH 131 and MATH 132; PHYS 101 and PHYS 201 may be substituted, as a complete package, for MATH 122 and MATH 123; PHYS 253 and PHYS 254. An average of C (2.0) is required for the BIOL, MATH, and PHYS courses.

Upper Division Requirements: ACS-certified track

33 upper division semester hours of CHEM courses, including

CHEM 330	Inorganic Chemistry 3 semester hours
CHEM 331	Inorganic Chemistry Lab 1 semester hour
CHEM 340	Physical Chemistry 3 semester hours
CHEM 341	Physical Chemistry Lab 1 semester hour
CHEM 360	Analytical Chemistry and Lab 4 semester hours

CHEM 371	Biochemistry Lab 1 semester hour
CHEM 390	Chemistry Seminar 1 semester hour
CHEM 391	Chemistry Seminar 1 semester hour
CHEM 490	Chemistry Seminar 1 semester hour
CHEM 491	Chemistry Seminar 1 semester hour

For UD CHEM electives,

a minimum of 2 lecture courses and 1 lab credit must be selected from

CHEM 342	Advanced Physical Chemistry 3 semester hours
----------	--

CHEM 343	Advanced Physical Chemistry Lab	1 semester hour
CHEM 372	Advanced Biochemistry	3 semester hours
CHEM 373	Advanced Biochemistry Lab	1 semester hour
CHEM 420	Advanced Organic Chemistry	3 semester hours
CHEM 421	Advanced Organic Chemistry Lab	1 semester hour
CHEM 430	Advanced Inorganic Chemistry	3 semester hours
CHEM 460	Instrumental Analysis and Lab	4 semester hours

Note: The remaining semester hours may be fulfilled with any UD chemistry elective.

Upper Division Requirements: General track

31 upper division semester hours of CHEM and CHEM/Emphasis courses, including

CHEM 340	Physical Chemistry	3 semester hours
CHEM 341	Physical Chemistry Lab	1 semester hour
CHEM 360	Analytical Chemistry and Lab	4 semester hours
CHEM 370	Biochemistry	3 semester hours
CHEM 371	Biochemistry Lab	1 semester hour
CHEM 390	Chemistry Seminar	1 semester hour
CHEM 391	Chemistry Seminar	1 semester hour
CHEM 490	Chemistry Seminar	1 semester hour
CHEM 491	Chemistry Seminar	1 semester hour

Note: CHEM UD electives and Emphasis UD electives can be selected from any 300- and 400-level courses offered in the Chemistry and Biochemistry Department. The Emphasis courses can also be selected from other CSE departments. All UD elective courses must be approved by and developed in conjunction with your academic advisor/chairperson. Example emphasis areas are: Chemical Education, Environmental Chemistry, Health Sciences (Medicine, Pharmacy, Dentistry, Optometry, etc.) and others.

For both ACS-certified and General tracks:

Except for CHEM 390 and CHEM 490, a grade of at least C (2.0) must be obtained in each course included in the upper division requirements of the major. All upper division courses must be completed at LMU. Strongly recommended for those intending graduate study: CHEM 397/CHEM 497. A maximum of 12 semester hours of Chemistry/Biochemistry Internship and/or Directed Research (CHEM 393, CHEM 397, CHEM 493, CHEM 497) may be included toward the 124-hour baccalaureate requirement.

To be eligible for the Dean's list, students must have completed 15 semester hours at LMU for that semester.

* Registered Professional Civil Engineer

Description

The civil engineer applies scientific and economic principles to plan, design, and oversee a wide variety of public and private projects which improve the quality of life, protect the environment, and facilitate economic growth. These projects include roads and highways, railroads, mass transit systems, airports, bridges, buildings, structures, harbors, flood control and drainage works, water supply, treatment and distribution systems, wastewater treatment and reuse systems, irrigation systems, pipelines, and power plants.

The civil engineering curriculum emphasizes practicality and design, supported by a strong background in scientific and mathematical concepts. The undergraduate program provides a broad background in all aspects of civil engineering, providing our graduates with the flexibility to practice in any of the specialties or to pursue an advanced degree. The program provides an opportunity to get hands-on experience with classes in surveying as well as laboratories in fluid mechanics, hydraulics, soil mechanics, mechanics of materials, structures, steel, and reinforced concrete design. Engineering design experiences are integrated throughout the curriculum beginning with the freshman engineering courses and extending through the last semester of the senior year. Design courses provide working experience with computer software used in the profession. Group and team projects prepare the student for real world engineering experiences.

The civil engineering student can select courses and electives that emphasize environmental engineering as described below.

Accreditation

The Civil Engineering program is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology, 111 Market Place, Suite 1050, Baltimore, MD 21202-4012; telephone: 410.347.7700.

Mission

The mission of the Department of Civil Engineering and Environmental Science is to provide opportunities for students to develop the skills and knowledge necessary to become productive professionals through a rigorous, student-centered curriculum that balances theory and practice, serving the needs of society by emphasizing sustainability and environmental justice and meets the challenges of an ever-changing, complex world through a dynamic engineering program, combined with a comprehensive liberal arts core.

Objectives

The Civil Engineering program has established the following program educational objectives that are consistent with the mission of the University and that describe the expected accomplishments of graduates during the first several years following graduation. Civil Engineering program graduates will:

1. Be productive in the civil engineering profession or other professional fields;
2. Uphold the code of ethics of the profession and be cognizant of social justice issues in the practice of civil engineering;
3. Further develop their professional and technical skills through graduate studies and continuing education;
4. Be involved with civil engineering professional organizations; and
5. Exhibit leadership in the practice of civil engineering.

To accomplish these program educational objectives, analysis and design courses in the fields of environmental, geotechnical, hydraulic, structural, and water resources engineering are offered in addition to preparatory courses in oral and written communications, mathematics, sciences, and basic mechanics. A broad base of theory and design is provided along with discussion of current issues and practices of the profession. Through class assignments, students will become proficient in the use of computers and pertinent software, spreadsheets, presentations, drawing, and geographical information system (GIS) programs. Integrated with these courses is the University core curriculum.

Program Outcomes

The Civil Engineering program has established the following program outcomes:

- a. an ability to apply knowledge of mathematics, science, and engineering
- b. an ability to design and conduct experiments, as well as to analyze and interpret data
- c. an ability to design a system, component, or process to meet desired needs within realistic constraints such as economic, environmental, social, political, ethical, health and safety, manufacturability, and sustainability
- d. an ability to function on multidisciplinary teams
- e. an ability to identify, formulate, and solve engineering problems
- f. an understanding of professional and ethical responsibility
- g. an ability to communicate effectively
- h. the broad education necessary to understand the impact of engineering solutions in a global, economic, environmental, and societal context
- i. a recognition of the need for, and an ability to engage in life-long learning
- j. a knowledge of contemporary issues
- k. an ability to use the techniques, skills, and modern engineering tools necessary for engineering practice.

Design in Civil Engineering

The civil engineering student participates in design projects throughout the curriculum both as an individual and as a member of a design team. The design experience varies in complexity as the student progresses through the program ending with the senior capstone design experience. Engineering design is the process of devising a system, component, or process to meet a specified need in an optimal manner. While the resulting design must stay within the appropriate specifications and constraints, consideration must also be given to economic, social, and environmental impacts and constructability. Accomplishing these varied goals requires creativity and involves considerable decision making. Many design projects are performed while part of a project team.

Civil Engineering Curriculum

(128 S.H. Required)

Major Requirements

The program shown below is the recommended sequence for a major in civil engineering. A customized program is available in consultation with your faculty advisor, although it must meet minimum ABET-related standards. It is expected that each student will have at least two classes with a minimum of two 3- or 4-semester-hour upper division classes in each of the General, Structural, Water Resources, Environmental, Geotechnical, Transportation, and Sustainability Engineering tracks for graduation. Students may focus in one or more areas of civil engineering by selecting a minimum of three electives in a particular area of concentration. Electives cannot count for any more than one area of concentration. Selected elective courses will be offered during each academic year.

Environmental Science, B.S.

Director: James M. Landry

Objectives

The objective of the Environmental Science major is to prepare a student for a career in the field of environmental sciences. Students receiving this degree can either pursue graduate studies or enter the field of environmental science where many jobs are available, for example, with various private businesses, government agencies, and environmental advocacy groups.

The Environmental Science major is a rigorous interdisciplinary program involving course work in biology, chemistry, physics, and environmental science and engineering. The curriculum for the major involves courses that will provide students the following knowledge and skills:

- theoretical and technical knowledge of the generation, transport, and fate of pollutants;
- the impacts of contaminants and other stressors on receiving environments (air, water, land), biodiversity, natural resources, and human health;
- resource management and conservation strategies;
- design and implementation of field and laboratory studies;
- data assessment employing the use of descriptive statistics and hypothesis testing; and
- conveying technical information through written reports and poster and oral presentations.

Laboratory courses are designed to maximize hands-on experience in collecting samples from various media, and using an array of equipment to characterize samples of soils, water, and air. Many of the environmental science courses include field trips to the adjacent Ballona Wetlands and Santa Monica Bay to demonstrate methods for collecting samples, and to study environmental conditions and resident biota. Internships with local environmental organizations and companies are an integral component of the program. The major requires that the student conduct a research project followed by presentation of results upon completion.

Civil Engineering, M.S.E

Objectives

The Civil Engineering program has established the following program educational objectives that are consistent with the mission of the University and that describe the expected accomplishments of graduates during the first several years following graduation. Civil Engineering program graduates will:

1. Be productive in the civil engineering profession or other professional fields;
2. Uphold the code of ethics of the profession and be cognizant of social justice issues in the practice of civil engineering;
3. Further develop their professional and technical skills through graduate studies and continuing education;
4. Be involved with civil engineering professional organizations; and
5. Exhibit leadership in the practice of civil engineering.

To accomplish these program educational objectives, analysis and design courses in the fields of environmental, geotechnical, hydraulic, structural, and water resources engineering are offered in addition to preparatory courses in oral and written communications, mathematics, sciences, and basic mechanics. A broad base of theory and design is provided along with discussion of current issues and practices of the profession. Through class assignments, students will become proficient in the use of computers and pertinent software, spreadsheets, presentations, drawing, and geographical information system (GIS) programs. Integrated with these courses is the University core curriculum.

Admission Requirements

All applicants must possess a bachelor of science (B.S.) degree or undergraduate engineering degree, which shall include:

General Chemistry, 3 semester hours (1 course)

Mathematics through one year of college calculus

Total all science—12 semester hours or 4 courses, which could include biology, microbiology, chemistry, or physics.

The Department may require new applicants who lack an adequate background in mathematics, chemistry, or science to take additional courses prior to being admitted to or continuing in the program.

A completed application form and $50 application fee. Admission into the program is in strict conformity with the requirements for all graduate students. Upon review of the student's undergraduate and professional preparation, additional admission requirements may be set by the Civil Engineering Graduate Studies Committee of the Department.

Program Requirements

The LMU graduate program in civil engineering and environmental science offers four major fields of study: 1) M.S. in Engineering in Civil Engineering with an emphasis in Environmental Engineering, 2) M.S. in Engineering in Civil Engineering with an emphasis in Water Resources Engineering and Hydrology, 3) M.S. in Environmental Science, and 4) M.S. in Environmental Science with an emphasis in Urban Ecology.

The candidate for the Master of Science in Engineering degree in Civil Engineering or Master of Science in Environmental Science must satisfy the following requirements:

I. Complete with a 3.0 ("B") average a minimum of 30 semester hours which include core courses listed in item 1A below and elective courses listed in item 1B below. At least 18 semester hours must be at the 600 level. Students that have taken any of the core or elective courses below as part of his/her undergraduate degree at LMU will be required to take a different course as part of the M.S. program. (Equivalent courses at other institutions will be considered on a case by case basis.) Requirements for students on the Urban Ecology track are determined in consultation with the Director of the program.

A. Required core courses for each field of study

M.S. in Civil Engineering with emphasis in Environmental Engineering:

ENVS 631	Principles of Water Quality Management 3 semester hours
ENVS 633	Aquatic Chemistry 3 semester hours
ENVS 644	Applied Microbiology 3 semester hours
CIVL 640	Physical and Chemistry Treatment Processes 3 semester hours
CIVL 641	Biological Treatment Processes 3 semester hours
CIVL 600	Comprehensive Exam 0 semester hours

M.S. in Civil Engineering with emphasis in Water Resources Engineering:

ENVS 631	Principles of Water Quality Management 3 semester hours
CIVL 608	Groundwater Hydrology 3 semester hours
CIVL 620	Computer and Environmental Analysis 3 semester hours
CIVL 654	Surface Water Hydrology 3 semester hours
CIVL 600	Comprehensive Exam 0 semester hours

M.S. in Environmental Science:

CIVL 504	Applied Fluid Mechanics 3 semester hours
ENVS 631	Principles of Water Quality Management 3 semester hours
ENVS 633	Aquatic Chemistry 3 semester hours
ENVS 644	Applied Microbiology 3 semester hours
CIVL 600	Comprehensive Exam 0 semester hours

M.S. in Environmental Science with an emphasis on Urban Ecology:

ENVS 600	Ecology of Resilient Cities 3 semester hours
ENVS 601	Behavioral Ecology and Management of Urban Wildlife 3 semester hours
ENVS 602	Land Use, Legacies, and Transformation in Urban Ecosystems 3 semester hours
ENVS 603	Advanced Topics in Urban Ecology 3 semester hours

B. Electives courses for each field of study

M.S. in Civil Engineering with emphasis in Environmental Engineering:

Choose at least two courses from

ENVS 635	Chemical Fate and Transport 3 semester hours
ENVS 645	Environmental Engineering and Science Laboratory 3 semester hours
CIVL 610	Water and Wastewater Treatment Systems Design 3 semester hours
CIVL 620	Computer and Environmental Analysis 3 semester hours

M.S. in Civil Engineering with emphasis in Water Resources Engineering:

Choose at least two courses from

ENVS 633	Aquatic Chemistry 3 semester hours
ENVS 635	Chemical Fate and Transport 3 semester hours
CIVL 607	Hydraulic Analysis and Design 3 semester hours
CIVL 609	Open Channel Hydraulics 3 semester hours
CIVL 634	Groundwater Management 3 semester hours
CIVL 635	Contaminant Transport Groundwater 3 semester hours
CIVL 656	Water Resources Systems Modeling 3 semester hours

M.S. in Environmental Science:

Choose at least two courses from

CIVL 620	Computer and Environmental Analysis 3 semester hours
CIVL 640	Physical and Chemistry Treatment Processes 3 semester hours
CIVL 641	Biological Treatment Processes 3 semester hours
ENVS 635	Chemical Fate and Transport 3 semester hours
ENVS 645	Environmental Engineering and Science Laboratory 3 semester hours

C. Courses in other departments

Courses in other departments (maximum of 3 semester hours), independent studies (maximum of 3 semester hours), and thesis preparation (maximum of 6 semester hours) may be taken as additional electives with the consent of the Program Director and the other department.

D. The remaining semester hours would be elective courses from the list below, to bring the total semester hours to 30.

Students in the Urban Ecology track of the M.S. in Environmental Science will need the approval of the Program Director and Associate Dean for Graduate Programs for any elective courses taken.

Graduate Courses (See sections 1A and 1B above for required core courses and elective courses in each field of study. A description of each course is provided in the Course Description section.)

BIOL 521	Urban Ecology 3 semester hours

ENVS 644	Applied Microbiology 3 semester hours
ENVS 645	Environmental Engineering and Science Laboratory 3 semester hours
ENVS 650	Watershed Function and Protection 3 semester hours

II. Successfully complete

CIVL 600 Comprehensive Exam 0 semester hours for M.S. in Engineering or M.S. in Environmental Science (not applicable to the Urban Ecology Track)

III. Thesis Option.

With the consent of the Department, the student may elect a thesis, which may satisfy up to 6 semester hours of the elective requirements. The student may enroll for a maximum of 3 semester hours of Master's Thesis in any semester or summer session for a maximum of 6 semester hours. Students electing this option must obtain a thesis advisor before Departmental consent will be considered. Formal requirements may be obtained from the Department.

Note: In addition to the above requirements, the candidate of the Master of Science in Engineering degree in Civil Engineering (Environmental Engineering emphasis and Water Resources Engineering emphasis) must possess an undergraduate Engineering degree or pass the Fundamentals of Engineering examination given by the State of California prior to applying for graduation.

III. Thesis Option.

With the consent of the Department, the student may elect a thesis, which may satisfy up to 6 semester hours of the elective requirements. The student may enroll for a maximum of 3 semester hours of Master's Thesis in any semester or summer session for a maximum of 6 semester hours. Students electing this option must obtain a thesis advisor before Departmental consent will be considered. Formal requirements may be obtained from the Department.

Note: In addition to the above requirements, the candidate of the Master of Science in Engineering degree in Civil Engineering (Environmental Engineering emphasis and Water Resources Engineering emphasis) must possess an undergraduate Engineering degree or pass the Fundamentals of Engineering examination given by the State of California prior to applying for graduation.

Mission Statement

The Master of Science program in Electrical Engineering is designed to provide theoretical knowledge as well as practical applications in the areas of communication systems, digital systems and computer engineering. Through these programs, working engineers are given an opportunity to continue their education on a part-time basis.

Admission Requirements

Students seeking admission should have completed an undergraduate program in electrical engineering, computer science, or a closely related field. To be considered for admission, students must submit an application, $50 application fee, a statement of intent, and transcripts. Letters of recommendation and the Graduate Record Exam (GRE) are optional. However, the GRE Subject Test in Computer Science is strongly recommended for all applicants to the Master of Science in Computer Science who do not hold an undergraduate degree in Computer Science. Additional coursework may be recommended or required as a condition of admission.

Transfer Credit

Students may transfer up to six (6) semester hours for courses completed at another regionally accredited college or university. Credits to be transferred must be taken prior to admission. Course grade must be at least a "B," and course must not have been used to satisfy degree requirements at another college or university.

Program Requirements

During the first semester of attendance, the student should prepare a program of study with a faculty advisor. A degree candidate is required to complete, with an average grade of at least 3.0 ("B"), a program of study that must include thirty or more semester hours of graduate-level coursework and which may include additional prerequisite (undergraduate) courses, as deemed appropriate by the advisor in consultation with the department. Of the graduate-level coursework, at least fifteen semester hours are to be in 600-level courses. Students must achieve a grade of B (3.0) or better in all 500-level courses. Applicable courses generally include both CMSI and ELEC courses offered by this department, as well as appropriate courses from mathematics or other disciplines.

Electrical Engineering

A Master of Science in Engineering (M.S.E.) degree is offered in Electrical Engineering. Programs of study are composed of courses in the areas of VLSI design and communications. The program must include at least fifteen hours at the 600 level, including ELEC 601, plus the following courses:

1. Introduction to Microprocessors II (ELEC 584)
2. Probability and Random Processes (ELEC 532)
3. Introduction to Communication Systems (ELEC 521)

One or more of these required courses may be waived if the student demonstrates satisfactory completion of a similar course, or competence in the subject matter. Waived courses will be replaced by electives at the 500 or 600 level.

Computer Science, B.S.

The computer science curriculum consists of classroom and laboratory experiences related to the following topics: algorithms and data structures, theory and design of computer programming languages and systems, operating systems, compilers, interaction design, computer graphics, distributed systems, database systems, artificial intelligence, networks, and organization and design of microprocessor-based computer systems. The curriculum embraces the values, best practices, and philosophy of the open source culture.

The B.S. degree is awarded upon successful completion of the computer science curriculum. Department criteria for graduation include completion of all courses in the curriculum with a minimum grade point average of C (2.0) in the Upper Division Requirements listed below.

A minor field program in computer science is also offered, which emphasizes traditional topics such as programming and data structures. The course requirements are CMSI 185, 186, 281, 282 or 284, and two upper division CMSI electives.

Objectives

The program educational objectives for graduates are: 1) preparation for professional practice; 2) preparation for advanced study; 3) promotion of the ideas of life-long learning; 4) development of self-fulfillment through professional activity; and 5) development of ethical values and personal responsibility.

The program educational objectives are met by providing a curriculum which follows contemporary guidelines for computer science. Mathematics and digital hardware courses are important components of the curriculum. In addition to these traditional technical courses, and in keeping with the Jesuit tradition of educating the whole person, the curriculum includes core requirements in the humanities, communications, social sciences, and the fine arts.

Opportunities for involvement in professional societies, student design competitions, public open source projects, research with faculty, and University co-curricular activities are plentiful and help to accomplish these objectives.

Electives

The 21 semester hours designated as electives must include one course in laboratory science and one course of upper division computer science.

Students are encouraged to prepare, in consultation with an advisor, a coherent set of electives, so as to:

1. Customize a computer science curriculum to feature a field of emphasis, such as scientific computing, business applications, or games and animation.
2. Achieve a minor or build strength in a field related to computer science, such as psychology, linguistics, engineering, logic, foreign languages, animation, economics, or the technical arts.
3. Achieve breadth in the undergraduate curriculum.

Electrical Engineering, B.S.E.

The electrical engineering curriculum consists of classroom and laboratory experiences related to the following topics: engineering design, electrical and electronic circuits and models, control systems, communication systems, design of analog and digital systems, and organization and design of microprocessor-based computer systems.

The electrical engineering curriculum leads to the B.S.E. degree in Electrical Engineering. Department criteria for graduation include completion of all courses in one of the two emphases, electrical engineering or computer engineering, with a minimum grade point average of C (2.0) in the Upper Division Requirements.

A minor field program in electrical engineering is also supported. Course work includes 18 semester hours to be determined in consultation with the Department Chairperson. All minor field programs require the approval of the student's major field faculty advisor and the Department Chairperson in the student's major field.

Accreditation

The electrical engineering program is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology, 111 Market Place, Suite 1050, Baltimore, MD 21202-4012; telephone: 410.347.7700.

Objectives

The electrical engineering program has established the following program educational objectives that are consistent with the mission of the University and the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering. The objectives describe the expected accomplishments of graduates during the first several years following graduation. The electrical engineering program graduates will:

1. Perform effectively as practicing engineers and/or successfully undertake graduate study in electrical engineering or related fields;
2. Meet the challenges of the future through continuing professional growth; and
3. Exhibit concern for service and justice through leadership within their profession, as well as the community as a whole.

These program educational objectives are met by providing a curriculum which has both breadth and depth. Engineering science and design, mathematics and basic sciences are significant components of the electrical engineering program. In addition to these traditional technical courses, and in keeping with the Jesuit tradition of educating the whole person, the curriculum includes core requirements in the humanities, communications, and the fine arts.

Opportunities for involvement in professional societies, student design competitions, and University co-curricular activities are plentiful and help to accomplish these objectives.

Design in Electrical Engineering

Design is interwoven throughout the electrical engineering curriculum, culminating in a formal senior design project course. Freshman and sophomore engineering courses provide an introduction to design. The two junior and first semester senior laboratory courses extend this design experience to the integration of material from the upper division electrical engineering courses. Finally, the senior design project experience builds on the analytical and theoretical background developed throughout the curriculum as well as topics covered in the University's core curriculum.

Degree

The Department offers a Bachelors of Science in Health and Human Sciences.

Mission Statement

Within the context of LMU's mission, the Department of HHSC strives to cultivate educated students in the subjects of HHSC with quality classroom preparation for graduate schools and professional careers as well as relevant clinical, practical and evidence-based experience in health related fields. Such fields include, but are not limited to: physical therapy, occupational therapy, physician assistant, nursing, public health, exercise science, and entry-level graduate programs in athletic training. The Department prepares students in a positive environment that encourages the development of the whole person.

Vision Statement

The vision of the Department of HHSC is to develop quality graduates in the area of health science and its related professions. Excellence in development of the health science student is based on academics, research, service, professional and practical experiences.

Health and Human Sciences, B.S.

The Health and Human Sciences major offers specialized programs to provide prerequisite training for graduate programs or careers in such fields as: physical therapy, occupational therapy, physician assistant, nursing, public health, exercise science, and entry-level graduate programs in athletic training.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Students will demonstrate basic understanding and appreciation of the human body's relationship to health and wellness through science, theory and application.
2. Students will demonstrate effective communication skills necessary to explain to others effectively and accurately about human health and wellness in a variety of organizational and institutional settings.
3. Students will demonstrate critical-thinking skills and the ability to access and critically evaluate relevant health information and resources.
4. Students will demonstrate the interpersonal skills required to work cooperatively with diverse individuals and groups on issues related to the human condition.
5. Students will demonstrate basic understanding and appreciation of cultural, philosophical and professional considerations related to health and wellness.
6. Students will demonstrate a world view that integrates spiritual and ethical values with their vocational calling.
7. Students will have clear career goals and demonstrate practical preparation for their career.

Current LMU Students Interested in Transferring to the Department of Health and Human Sciences

Students who are currently enrolled in another major at LMU, but are interested in changing their major to HHSC are encouraged to apply during their first year at LMU. Students are asked to state their interest in HHSC by completing an application available from the department chairperson. In addition, students will need to complete MATH 122 and CHEM 110 with a minimum grade of C (2.0) in each class and have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0. Attainment of minimum requirements may not always be sufficient to secure approval of transfer request. The evaluation process will take place during the Fall and Spring semesters with students being informed once the evaluation process has been completed.

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in Health and Human Sciences

The Health and Human Sciences major offers specialized programs to provide prerequisite training for graduate programs or careers in such fields as: physical therapy, occupational therapy, physician assistant, nursing, public health, exercise science, and entry-level graduate programs in athletic training.

Major Requirements

In order to graduate, a student must have a C (2.0) average in the lower division science courses and a C (2.0) average in the upper division science courses.

PSYC 100	General Psychology 3 semester hours

Upper Division Requirements:

A total of 30 of upper division semester hours are required: 27 semester hours of upper division HHSC and 3 semester hours of PSYC must be completed. Within the 27 semester hours of HHSC, students need to complete:

- a minimum of one 3-semester-hour course from each of the four categories listed below (Clinical; Health Management and Policy; Health and Wellness; Exercise Science)
- 3 laboratory courses (a combination of Upper and Lower Extremities count as lab equivalents)
- 1 semester hour of HHSC 495 Allied Health Internship and 2 semester hours of HHSC 497 Allied Health Internship II. A maximum of 6 semester hours of independent study coursework may count in the upper division major category. This includes any HHSC course between the numbers of 490 and 499.

Students are required to take PSYC 332 or PSYC 352, achieving a minimum of 30 semester hours total in the upper division major. A student must have a C (2.0) average in upper division science courses.

Clinical Courses

HHSC 350	Exercise for Special Populations 3 semester hours

The Master of Arts in Teaching Mathematics program provides an opportunity for secondary school teachers to broaden their background in mathematical science and to correlate this knowledge with current education practice.

Admission Requirements

Students seeking admission to the Master of Arts in Teaching Mathematics program should have completed an undergraduate program in mathematics or a closely related field. The applicant must have been a mathematics major, mathematics minor, or had equivalent coursework. To be considered for admission, students must submit a Graduate Division application, a statement of intent, transcripts from all colleges/universities attended and the application fee. A letter of recommendation addressing the student's mathematical background and teaching experience, if any, is also required. Admittance to the program is considered provisional until the initial course is passed with a grade B or better.

Program Requirements

During the first semester of attendance, the student should prepare a program of study with a faculty advisor. A degree candidate is required to complete, with an average grade of at least 3.0 ("B"), a program of study that may include prerequisite undergraduate-level coursework, and that must include thirty or more semester hours of graduate-level coursework, as deemed appropriate by the advisor in consultation with the department. Of the graduate level coursework, at least fifteen semester hours are to be in Mathematics and fifteen in Education.

Mathematics Undergraduate ProgramMathematics Placement Examination

The purpose of this examination is to determine the level of preparation of the student and to place her/him in the appropriate mathematics course. Any student with three years of high school mathematics including two years of algebra and one year of geometry should be adequately prepared to take this examination. However, students may wish to review these areas.

All first-year students with majors in the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering or the College of Business Administration, or who are Economics majors or Liberal Studies majors, must take the mathematics placement examination.

All students transferring into the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering or the College of Business Administration, or who are Economics majors or Liberal Studies majors, must take the mathematics placement examination unless they have transferred a college algebra, precalculus, or higher level college mathematics class approved by the Mathematics Department before entering LMU.

Any student, no matter her/his major, who plans to take MATH 106, MATH 112, MATH 120, MATH 122, or MATH 131 and who has not transferred a college algebra or higher level college mathematics class is required first to take the mathematics placement examination. The mathematics placement examination may only be taken one time.

Biomathematics

Under the direction of an advisor, the student selects courses from the fields of biology, chemistry, computer science, and mathematics and obtains a Bachelor of Science degree through the Individualized Studies Program.

Any deviation from the above programs requires formal approval of the student's advisor and the Department Chairperson.

Secondary Teacher Preparation Program in Mathematics

For information on this program, see the Secondary Teacher Preparation Program section in this Bulletin.

Applied Mathematics, B.S.

This degree program is designed for students who want an interdisciplinary program that combines the study of applied and computational mathematics with a scientific area of specialization. This program can be tailored to meet the needs of students who expect to pursue a graduate degree in applied mathematics or science, expect to double-major or minor in a scientific field, or intend to work in a mathematics-related interdisciplinary field in industry.

Objectives

Mathematics, as an intellectual activity, is both an art and a powerful tool for problem solving and for understanding the physical universe. A mathematics major explores the different facets of the discipline through a broad spectrum of courses in applied, computational, and pure mathematics. In addition to exploring mathematics, a student majoring in mathematics takes classes from other fields (e.g., science and education) that help her/him prepare for her/his chosen career. The Department's programs allow a student to focus on different aspects of the discipline and lead to one of three undergraduate degrees:

- Bachelor of Arts with a major in Mathematics
- Bachelor of Science with a major in Mathematics
- Bachelor of Science with a major in Applied Mathematics

The Department offers minors in Pure Mathematics, Applied Mathematics, and Secondary Education Mathematics. These minors are designed for students majoring in another field (e.g., engineering, physics, business, economics, computer science, or liberal studies) who wish to develop an undergraduate background in mathematics that goes beyond the requirements of their degree program.

In addition to its major and minor degree programs, the Mathematics Department serves every department in LMU's four Colleges, the School of Film and Television, and the School of Education through the core curriculum and by providing students in other majors courses designed to serve the mathematical needs of their fields of study.

Learning Outcomes

1. Content Proficiency. In each of the following subject areas of mathematics:
 - a. calculus and analysis,
 - b. abstract and linear algebra,
 - c. probability, combinatorics and statistics,
 - d. elementary numerical methods; students will be able to:
 1. State and use basic definitions and theorems.
 2. Solve basic problems.
 3. Decide on useful approaches to more complicated problems.
 4. Explain the central concepts of the subject.

2. Communication. Students will be able to communicate mathematics both orally and in writing. They will do so according to accepted standards in mathematics.
3. Tools. Students will employ a variety of tools such as the library, Internet, computers, and calculators to solve problems and do undergraduate research.
4. Independent Learners. Students will be able to independently investigate a mathematical topic.
5. Career and Professional Preparation. LMU mathematics graduates will be prepared to engage in mathematics-related professions or in a graduate school academic environment. This preparation will include significant pre-professional experiences.

General Major Requirements

Students must complete the corresponding Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science University Core requirements as defined by the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering; students will choose the proper sequence of University Core courses in consultation with their advisor.

Mathematics majors and minors are not permitted to enroll in a mathematics course without a minimum grade of C (2.0) in that course's prerequisite. A minimum grade of C (2.0) is required in each course in the lower division major requirements. A minimum cumulative grade point average of C (2.0) is required in the upper division major requirements for graduation.

Mathematics, B.A.

This major is designed for students who are interested in pursuing a career in teaching mathematics at the secondary (i.e., high school) level. With the help of her/his advisor, the student may design a schedule carefully so that s/he can complete the 2042 California Preliminary Single Subject (Secondary) Teaching Credential during her/his four years at LMU. For more details on the additional requirements for a Teaching Credential, and a sample four-year curriculum which includes both the requirement for the Bachelor of Arts in Mathematics and the Teaching Credential, see the Secondary Teacher Preparation Program section in this Bulletin.

Teaching Mathematics, M.A.T.

Admission Requirements

Students seeking admission to the Master of Arts in Teaching Mathematics program should have completed an undergraduate program in mathematics or a closely related field. The applicant must have completed a minimum of six upper division courses in Mathematics with a 3.0 ("B") average. If an upper division course in algebra is not included in the six courses required as prerequisites, a student entering the program will be required to take an upper division algebra course.

To be considered for admission, students must submit a Graduate Division application, $50 application fee, a statement of intent, and transcripts from all colleges/universities attended. A cumulative GPA of 2.8 as an undergraduate or a 3.0 GPA in at least 9 units of graduate level coursework is required. A letter of recommendation addressing the student's mathematical background and teaching experience, if any, is also required.

Program Requirements

During the first semester of attendance, the student should prepare a program of study with a faculty advisor. A degree candidate is required to complete, with an average grade of at least 3.0 ("B"), a program of study that may include prerequisite undergraduate-level coursework, and that must include thirty or more semester hours of graduate-level coursework, as deemed appropriate by the advisor in consultation with the department. Of the graduate level coursework, at least fifteen semester hours are to be in Mathematics and fifteen in Education. Available courses in Mathematics include topics courses in Real Variables, Complex Variables, Algebraic Structures, Geometry, Topology, Numerical Analysis, Probability and Statistics, Mathematical Modeling, Operations Research, and History of Mathematics. All fifteen hours of work in Education are to be at the graduate level.

In addition, all candidates for the Master of Arts in Teaching Mathematics are required to register for and complete an approved project in mathematics or mathematics education, MATH 695 MAT Final Project. It is recommended that the student register for MATH 695 in the semester in which she or he intends to complete the project.

Applied Mathematics Minor

Minor in Applied Mathematics Requirements

At least 24 semester hours including:

MATH 131	Calculus I 4 semester hours
MATH 132	Calculus II 4 semester hours
MATH 234	Calculus III 4 semester hours
MATH 245	Ordinary Differential Equations 3 semester hours
MATH 355	Methods of Applied Mathematics 3 semester hours
MATH 360	Introduction to Probability and Statistics 3 semester hours or
MATH 366	Discrete Methods 3 semester hours
MATH 250	Linear Algebra 3 semester hours or
	One additional 3 semester-hour upper division MATH course chosen in consultation with the applied mathematics minor advisor.

Choose one:

MATH 321	Real Variables I 3 semester hours (MATH 248 is a prerequisite for MATH 321, so the MATH 321 option requires 27 semester hours)
MATH 357	Complex Variables 3 semester hours
MATH 560	Advanced Topics in Probability and/or Statistics 3 semester hours
MATH 562	Numerical Analysis 3 semester hours

Note: A cumulative grade point average of C (2.0) or better is required in the courses included in the minor.

Pure Mathematics Minor

Minor in Pure Mathematics Requirements

At least 24 semester hours including:

MATH 131	Calculus I 4 semester hours
MATH 132	Calculus II 4 semester hours
MATH 234	Calculus III 4 semester hours
MATH 248	Introduction to Methods of Proof 3 semester hours
MATH 331	Elements of Group Theory 3 semester hours
MATH 350	Advanced Linear Algebra 3 semester hours or
MATH 366	Discrete Methods 3 semester hours
MATH 321	Real Variables I 3 semester hours
MATH 357	Complex Variables 3 semester hours
MATH 471	Topology 3 semester hours or
MATH 550	Fundamental Concepts of Geometry 3 semester hours

MATH 250 Linear Algebra 3 semester hours or
One additional 3 semester-hour upper division MATH course chosen in consultation with the pure mathematics minor advisor.

Note: A minimum cumulative grade point average of C (2.0) is required in the courses included in the minor.

Secondary Education Mathematics Minor

Minor in Secondary Education Mathematics Requirements

At least 24 semester hours including:

MATH 131 Calculus I 4 semester hours
MATH 132 Calculus II 4 semester hours
MATH 234 Calculus III 4 semester hours
MATH 248 Introduction to Methods of Proof 3 semester hours
MATH 360 Introduction to Probability and Statistics 3 semester hours
MATH 490 History of Mathematics 3 semester hours
MATH 550 Fundamental Concepts of Geometry 3 semester hours

Note: A cumulative grade point average of C (2.0) or better is required in the courses included in the minor.

Mechanical Engineering

Faculty

Chairperson: Michael Manoogian

Graduate Program Director: Mel I. Mendelson

Professors: Omar S. Es-Said, Michael Manoogian, Mel I. Mendelson, Rafiqul I. Noorani, Nader Saniei

Associate Professor: Matthew T. Siniawski

Assistant Professors: Pezhman Hassanpour, Emin Isakhanian

Lecturers: Chris Cobb, Vinay Goyal, Greg V. Meholic, James P. Nokes, Peter B. Pollack, Miroslav Sir, Hooman Rahimi-Zadeh

Description

Mechanical Engineering is very broad in scope and is pertinent to a variety of engineering activities and products, such as transportation vehicles, energy generation, machine mechanisms, manufacturing systems, structures, and processing plants. The Mechanical Engineering program provides a solid foundation for work in all of these fields. The flexible and modern curriculum covers contemporary technology as well as the fundamentals for future technologies. It is designed to prepare students for graduate school as well as for employment in industry. Engineering design is a major emphasis of the curriculum, and students work on various aspects of design projects throughout, culminating in a comprehensive capstone design project. Modern, well-equipped research laboratories support the curriculum. These laboratory facilities include computer-aided design and engineering, manufacturing, the materials science and materials processing, rapid prototyping, renewable energy, robotics, solid mechanics, thermal and fluid systems, and tribology.

Accreditation

The Mechanical Engineering program is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology, 111 Market Place, Suite 1050, Baltimore, MD 21202-4012; telephone: 410.347.7700.

Mission

The mission of the Mechanical Engineering Department is to provide a high quality, practice-oriented, design-focused curriculum that prepares students for both leadership roles in industry and advanced graduate studies.

Educational Objectives

The Mechanical Engineering program has established the following program educational objectives that are consistent with the University's mission and Department's program outcomes. During the first 3–5 years after graduation, Mechanical Engineering graduates will:

1. Advance in their professional careers and pursue graduate studies and continuous learning in areas relevant to their long-term goals;
2. Demonstrate competency and leadership in professional activities such as research, experimental studies, and industrial projects;

3. Be capable of working effectively in cross-functional teams, communicating effectively, and participating in the practice of mechanical engineering design; and
4. Contribute to professional societies and demonstrate ethical conduct.

These program educational objectives are accomplished through the major requirements, the core curriculum, design competition experiences, internships, research opportunities, professional society involvement, and extracurricular activities.

Program Outcomes

The Mechanical Engineering program has established the following program outcomes:

- a. an ability to apply knowledge of mathematics, science, and engineering
- b. an ability to design and conduct experiments, as well as to analyze and interpret data
- c. an ability to design a system, component, or process to meet desired needs within realistic constraints such as economic, environmental, social, political, ethical, health and safety, manufacturability, and sustainability
- d. an ability to function on multidisciplinary teams
- e. an ability to identify, formulate, and solve engineering problems
- f. an understanding of professional and ethical responsibility
- g. an ability to communicate effectively
- h. the broad education necessary to understand the impact of engineering solutions in a global, economic, environmental, and societal context
- i. a recognition of the need for, and an ability to engage in life-long learning
- j. a knowledge of contemporary issues
- k. an ability to use the techniques, skills, and modern engineering tools necessary for engineering practice.

Mechanical Engineering, B.S.E.

Transfer Requirements

Students who are currently enrolled in another major at LMU, but are interested in changing their major to MECH must complete CHEM 111, CHEM 114; ENGR 200; MATH 131, MATH 132; and PHYS 101 with a minimum grade of C (2.0) in each course and an average of 2.3 before being considered. Final approval of the transfer request resides with the Chair of the Mechanical Engineering Department.

Mechanical Engineering, M.S.E.

Admission Requirements

All applicants must possess a Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree or an undergraduate engineering degree, which shall include at least:

- 3 semester hours (1 course) of general chemistry
- Mathematics courses through differential equations

Those applicants who do not possess an engineering degree, in addition to items 1 and 2 above, should complete the following five courses with an average grade of B (3.0) or better. These are: Mechanics of Material, Dynamics, Thermodynamics, Fluid Mechanics, and Heat Transfer.

A completed application form and $50 application fee (completed online at the Loyola Marymount University Graduate Division). Admission into the program is in strict conformity with the requirements for all graduate students set forth by the LMU Graduate Division. Upon review of the student's undergraduate and professional preparation, additional admission requirements may be set by the Mechanical Engineering Department. Students applying for the combined B.S./M.S. degrees must apply in the Fall semester of their senior year, indicating the "Combined B.S. and M.S." on their application form.

Program Requirements

Requirements for Master of Science in Engineering Degree, major in Mechanical Engineering (30 semester hours)

The candidate for the Master of Science in Engineering degree in Mechanical Engineering must satisfy the following requirements:

- Complete MECH 504, Engineering Mathematics
- Complete 27 semester hours (9 courses) from the courses listed below.

At least 3 semester hours (1 course) must be at the 600 level.

MECH 510	Computer-Aided Manufacturing 3 semester hours
MECH 511	Materials Selection in Design 3 semester hours
MECH 512	Advanced Mechanics of Materials 3 semester hours
MECH 513	Metallurgical and Materials Engineering 3 semester hours
MECH 514	Modern Methods in Materials Science 3 semester hours
MECH 515	Composites 3 semester hours
MECH 516	Finite Elements Methods 3 semester hours
MECH 517	Fracture Mechanics 3 semester hours
MECH 520	Computational Fluid Dynamics 3 semester hours
MECH 521	Alternative Energy Systems 3 semester hours
MECH 531	Design of Tribological Systems 3 semester hours
MECH 532	Robotics 3 semester hours
MECH 538	Structural Dynamics 3 semester hours
MECH 542	Turbomachinery 3 semester hours
MECH 543	Propulsion 3 semester hours
MECH 612	Rapid Prototyping 3 semester hours

MECH 620	Nanotechnology Engineering Topics 3 semester hours
MECH 621	Solar Thermal Energy Systems 3 semester hours
MECH 623	Advanced Thermodynamics 3 semester hours
MECH 634	Fatigue 3 semester hours
MECH 643	Advanced Heat Transfer 3 semester hours
MECH 651	New Product Design and Development 3 semester hours

- At least 6 semester hours (2 courses) must be at the 600 level.
A maximum of one elective course in another engineering department may be taken with the consent of the Graduate Program Director. The Thesis Option (MECH 686) may be chosen to satisfy up to 6 semester hours of these elective course requirements (see below).
- Maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 ("B") for all coursework
- A maximum of three courses (9 semester hours) may be taken in any given semester
- Thesis Option. With the consent of the Department, the student may elect a thesis. The thesis will satisfy 6 semester hours of the elective mechanical engineering course work requirements. The student may enroll for a maximum of 3 semester hours of Master's Thesis in any given semester (MECH 686). The student electing the thesis option must obtain a thesis advisor before Departmental consent will be considered. Formal thesis requirements must be obtained from the Graduate Program Director.

Requirements for the Combined B.S./M.S. Degrees, major in Mechanical Engineering (30 semester hours)

Only LMU Seniors in Mechanical Engineering with a GPA of 3.0 or greater are eligible to apply for the combined degree program. The student must apply for admission before the end of the Fall semester of the senior year. The candidate for the Combined B.S./M.S. in Engineering degree in Mechanical Engineering must satisfy the following requirements:

- Students may count one 500-level class from their undergraduate degree towards their masters degree.
- In addition to the undergraduate B.S. degree requirements, an admitted student must enroll in one additional 500-level mechanical engineering course during the Spring semester of the senior year.
- The student must take one 500- or 600-level course during each Summer Session (for a total of two courses) immediately following the senior year. Three courses per semester must be taken during the first year of the program.
- Complete MECH 504 Engineering Mathematics.
- Complete 3 semester hours of the research project course (MECH 685). The student must obtain a project advisor before Departmental consent will be granted. Formal requirements must be obtained from the Graduate Program Director. The project normally takes two semesters to complete. Therefore, students should start their project at least one semester before enrolling in the course.
- The student cannot enroll in the Thesis Option or retake any 500-level courses already completed from the undergraduate degree.

The Physics department offers degrees in Physics and Engineering Physics.

Engineering Physics, B.S.

Objectives

The B.S. Engineering Physics degree provides extensive education in engineering as well as physics. The curriculum combines the strengths of a physics curriculum (with emphasis on understanding basic principles) and an engineering curriculum (with emphasis on applications). Graduates are especially well prepared for either graduate work in engineering or applied physics or for immediate employment by companies with an engineering research orientation. With the right electives, the curriculum provides excellent preparation for graduate work in biomedical engineering.

Major Requirements

Lower Division Requirements:

CHEM 111	General Chemistry I Lab 1 semester hour
CHEM 114	General Chemistry for Engineers 3 semester hours
ELEC 210	Electric Circuit Analysis 3 semester hours

Two upper division physics electives selected from the following:

PHYS 351	Space Physics 3 semester hours
PHYS 361	Astrophysics 3 semester hours
PHYS 371	Biophysics 3 semester hours
PHYS 421	Condensed Matter Physics 3 semester hours
PHYS 441	Modern Optics 3 semester hours
PHYS 461	Elementary Particle Physics 3 semester hours
PHYS 471	Introduction to Relativity and Cosmology 3 semester hours

Seniors must complete:

PHYS 480	Capstone Experience 1 semester hour
PHYS 481	Senior Thesis 1 semester hour

Students must also take a two-course sequence in a technical area:

Among the options are:

ELEC 302	Junior Lab II 3 semester hours and
ELEC 383	Introduction to Microprocessors 3 semester hours
MECH 323	Heat Transfer 3 semester hours and
PHYS 451	Thermodynamics and Statistical Mechanics 3 semester hours
ELEC 371	Linear Systems 3 semester hours and
ELEC 423	Communications I 3 semester hours

Note: To graduate, a student must have at least a 2.0 average in all upper division physics courses.

Learning Outcomes

Engineering Physics majors will know:

1. The concepts of classical physics
2. The theories of modern and contemporary physics
3. The concepts of engineering and applied physics

Engineering Physics majors will be able to:

1. Understand, apply, and adapt known physical models to real-world situations
2. Solve problems, which includes formulating a strategy, estimating a solution, applying appropriate techniques, and evaluating the result
3. Design systems, conduct experiments, and analyze data to address the needs of contemporary society
4. Employ computational methods to perform calculations and generate data that model physical systems
5. Communicate effectively their understanding of core engineering principles, the results of experiments, and their analysis of physical problems

Engineering Physics majors will value:

1. Ethical and unbiased actions as cornerstones to the scientific method
2. The impact of applied physics on society
3. The interplay between theory and applications

Physics, B.S.

Objectives

The B.S. Physics degree provides a solid foundation in classical and modern physics. This program is well suited for the student who wishes to continue the study of physics at the graduate level, leading to a career in research and/or university teaching. With a proper choice of electives, the physics degree is also suitable for a variety of other careers requiring graduate education. Physics graduates can pursue advanced studies in fields such as optics, biophysics, geophysics and space science, nuclear engineering, business management, or law. Some physics majors choose electives that prepare them for medical school. Physics graduates can also select immediate employment in a number of areas, including high school teaching and various areas of industrial science and technology. Because of the flexibility of the physics major, with its numerous electives, it is possible to double major in physics and some other discipline. Examples of double degrees that can be completed in four years are physics and math, or physics and chemistry. Each of these double majors is very powerful, in that it develops the ability to solve problems that require a knowledge of two separate disciplines.

Major Requirements

Lower Division Requirements:

CHEM 111	General Chemistry I Lab 1 semester hour
----------	---

CHEM 114	General Chemistry for Engineers 3 semester hours
ENGR 160	Algorithms and Applications 3 semester hours
MATH 131	Calculus I 4 semester hours
MATH 132	Calculus II 4 semester hours
MATH 234	Calculus III 4 semester hours
MATH 245	Ordinary Differential Equations 3 semester hours
MATH 250	Linear Algebra 3 semester hours
PHYS 101	Introduction to Mechanics 4 semester hours
PHYS 195	Waves and Light 3 semester hours
PHYS 201	Introduction to Electricity and Magnetism 4 semester hours
PHYS 206	Foundations of Modern Physics 4 semester hours
PHYS 212	Intermediate Mechanics 3 semester hours

Note: Each course in MATH and PHYS listed above must be passed with a grade of C (2.0) or better.

Upper Division Requirements:

MATH 355	Methods of Applied Mathematics 3 semester hours
PHYS 301	Electromagnetic Fields 3 semester hours
PHYS 302	Electromagnetic Waves 3 semester hours
PHYS 321	Quantum Mechanics I 3 semester hours
PHYS 322	Quantum Mechanics II 3 semester hours
PHYS 411	Modern Physics Lab 3 semester hours
PHYS 451	Thermodynamics and Statistical Mechanics 3 semester hours

One from:

MATH 350	Advanced Linear Algebra 3 semester hours
MATH 357	Complex Variables 3 semester hours
MATH 360	Introduction to Probability and Statistics 3 semester hours

Three upper division physics electives selected from the following:

PHYS 351	Space Physics 3 semester hours
PHYS 361	Astrophysics 3 semester hours
PHYS 371	Biophysics 3 semester hours
PHYS 421	Condensed Matter Physics 3 semester hours
PHYS 441	Modern Optics 3 semester hours
PHYS 461	Elementary Particle Physics 3 semester hours
PHYS 471	Introduction to Relativity and Cosmology 3 semester hours

Seniors must complete:

PHYS 480	Capstone Experience 1 semester hour
PHYS 481	Senior Thesis 1 semester hour

Note: To graduate, a student must have at least a 2.0 average in all upper division physics courses.

Learning Outcomes

Physics majors will know:

1. The concepts of classical physics
2. The theories of modern physics
3. The discoveries and questions of contemporary physics

Physics majors will be able to:

1. Form new inferences about the physical world by carrying out scientific investigations
2. Solve problems, which includes formulating a strategy, estimating a solution, applying appropriate techniques, and evaluating the result
3. Design and conduct experiments, and well as analyze and interpret the resulting data
4. Employ computational methods to perform calculations and model physical systems
5. Communicate effectively their understanding of core physical principles, the results of experiments, and their analysis of physical problems

Physics majors will value:

1. Ethical and unbiased actions as cornerstones to the scientific method
2. The impact of physics on society
3. The role of elegance and beauty in the scientific process

BrownOffice Location: Doolan Hall 218Telephone: 310.338.7878Fax: 310.338.5249E-mail: fbrown@lmu.eduMission Statement

The mission of the Systems Engineering MS program is to provide working engineers and scientists with the skills and modern tools needed to manage complex, interdisciplinary technical endeavors and systems engineering teams to enable the realization of successful systems. The students may select the following study plans:

1. The Systems Engineering MS program.
2. The Systems Engineering Leadership Program (SELP) offering a dual-MS/MBA degree to provide integrated engineering and business skills for becoming systems engineering managers and leaders.
3. The Systems Engineering MS program with a Technical Focus or Concentration in another science, engineering or computer science discipline providing multidisciplinary breadth. The student pursuing this option will take three Electives in another graduate program offered by the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering at LMU. The student's prior education must provide suitable preparation for such studies. The course plan must be approved by both the Director of Systems Engineering and the Director of the Technical Focus program.
4. A post-baccalaureate Certificate in Systems Engineering providing the skills required for conducting and managing basic systems engineering activities.

5. A Certificate in Program Leadership that consists of SELP 594, 661, and 688.

Admission Requirements

Students applying to the SELP must be accepted into both the Systems Engineering Program and the MBA Program. The following requirements must be satisfied for admission into any of the programs listed above:

- Application to Graduate Division (<https://apply.embark.com/Grad/LMU/89>) and $50 application fee
- Bachelor's degree in engineering or science from an ABET-accredited program with a grade point of 3.0 ("B") or better (original university transcripts required)
- GMAT exam score (only for the MBA program)
- Three or more years of related work experience or permission of the Program Director
- Resume indicating past and current job functions
- Three letters of recommendation-one from a current manager
- Essay discussing how the graduate program fits the applicant's career goals

Promising applicants who do not satisfy these requirements will be considered for provisional admission based upon their performance on the GMAT test, or their classroom performance during their first year in the program.

Schedule

The Systems Engineering MS program and Systems Engineering with Technical Focus MS program are designed to be completed in about two years by a working student taking two courses per semester. The dual degree Systems Engineering Leadership Program is designed to be completed in about three years. The Certificate program can be completed within one year. Students can be admitted anytime during the academic year. The application deadlines for admission are April 15 for the Summer session, July 15 for the Fall semester, and December 15 for the Spring semester.

Systems Engineering Certificate

Course requirements for the Certificate in Systems Engineering:

SELP 500	Quality
SELP 552	Systems Engineering 3 semester hours
SELP 594	Project Management 3 semester hours

Note: With the approval of the SELP Program Director, other SELP courses may be substituted for one of the three above to meet the Certificate requirements.

Dual-DegreeSystems Engineering Leadership Program

The mission of the Systems Engineering Leadership Program (SELP) is to educate working engineers and scientists in the engineering and business disciplines that will make them leaders of highly complex technical endeavors within their sponsoring organizations.

The SELP will confer two degrees upon its graduates: an MBA and an MS in Systems Engineering. Students may obtain either an MS in Systems Engineering or an MBA degree as a stand-alone by fulfilling the individual degree requirements. A certificate program in Systems Engineering is also available.

SELP Admissions

Both the MBA program in the College of Business Administration and the Systems Engineering Program in the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering must accept students applying to the SELP for admission. The admissions process to both Colleges will be coordinated within the University. Prospective students need to submit only one application to the LMU Graduate Division.

Course of Study

Students enrolled in SELP are advised by the SELP Program Director. Students who have taken undergraduate business courses may qualify to have some of their MBA core requirements waived (see MBA Program waiver policy). Challenge exams and waivers are at the discretion of the Associate Dean or designee.

The SELP Program requires a total of 22 courses from the Systems Engineering curriculum as well as the MBA Program curriculum. A detailed description of the course requirements for the SELP Program can be found in the section pertaining to the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering.

SELP students will be expected to meet all course requirements associated with the MBA Program classes. SELP students are expected to adhere to the policies and procedures established for all students in the MBA Program.

The MBA requirements include 12 courses listed below. Students who receive a grade of less than "B" in any course or a grade of less than "C" in any course will not have the course count toward their degree. The overall minimum GPA required for graduation is 3.0.

Program Requirements

The SELP students will be expected to meet the course requirements in both the Systems Engineering and the MBA programs. SELP students will be expected to adhere to the policies and procedures established for all students in the MBA program. The System Engineering portion of the requirements (11 courses) is exactly the same as those listed above under "Systems Engineering Program Requirements". The MBA requirements include 12 courses listed below. Additional information about the MBA program, including procedures for waiving core MBA courses, may be found in the MBA section of this Bulletin. Students who receive a grade of less than "B" in any 500-level course or a grade of less than "C" in any 600-level course will not have the course count toward their degree. The overall minimum GPA required for graduation is 3.0.

Program Requirements

The students will be expected to adhere to the LMU policies and procedures stated in this Bulletin and those established by each course instructor. Students who receive a grade of less than "B" in any 500-level course or a grade of less than "C" in any 600-level course will not have the course count toward their degree. The overall minimum GPA required for graduation is 3.0 in the MS programs and 2.7 in the Certificate program.

The MS student must complete the requirements (a–c):

a. Core Requirements for the MS in SE degree:

SELP 500	Quality *
SELP 530	Systems Architecting 3 semester hours
SELP 540	Engineering Ethics 3 semester hours
SELP 552	Systems Engineering 3 semester hours
SELP 594	Project Management 3 semester hours
SELP 650	Advanced Systems Engineering 3 semester hours
SELP 660	Lean Methods 3 semester hours

b. Three Elective courses:

For MS in Systems Engineering:

SELP 671	Spacecraft Design 3 semester hours or
SELP 673	New Product Design and Development 3 semester hours * or
SELP 675	Systems Architecting and Modeling II 3 semester hours
SELP 685	Systems Engineering Case Studies 3 semester hours *
SELP 694	Systems Engineering Seminar 3 semester hours

For MS in Systems Engineering with Technical Focus in X:

Three graduate courses selected by the student from another graduate science, engineering or computer science program offered by the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering at LMU, subject to approval of both the Director of Systems Engineering and the Director of the selected program. The courses must be at the 500 or 600 level, and at least one of the three courses must be at the 600 level.

c. Integrative Project/Thesis

SELP 695	Systems Engineering Integrative Project/Thesis 3 TO 6 semester hours *

Introduction

The School of Education offers graduate programs in the following areas of study: Administration, Bilingual Education, Catholic Inclusive Education, Catholic School Administration, Reading Instruction, Educational Studies, School Psychology, Elementary and Secondary Education, Counseling, and Special Education. The School of Education also offers a doctorate in Leadership for Social Justice.

The high quality of the education program is confirmed through its accreditation by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing, the National Association of School Psychologists, the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education, and Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

Mission of the School of Education

In accordance with the Mission of Loyola Marymount University, the faculty, staff, and students of the School of Education understand and declare our purpose to be the encouragement of life-long learning and academic excellence, the education of the whole person, and the promotion of service and justice for all. We commit ourselves to serving public and private education by fostering excellence inspired by the Jesuit and Marymount traditions of Catholic education.

Goals of the School of Education

The faculty, staff, and students of the School of Education strive to work collaboratively in a student-centered environment to be professionals who act to:

- Value and respect all individuals
We believe in the worth of each individual. We affirm the inherent dignity and value of each person as a child of God. Therefore, we believe that all individuals have the potential to be successful learners with unique characteristics and experiences that bring positive value and meaning to the learning experience.
- Promote social justice
We recognize the existence of social inequity, marginalization, and the different faces of oppression, and we commit ourselves to work actively for the establishment of a just and equitable society. While it is important to understand critically the structures, practices, and discourses that cause and perpetuate injustice, we also aim to nurture transformative structures, practices, and discourses that actively promote greater equity. This commitment challenges us to think with a global perspective, to embrace the notion of a preferential option for the poor, and to act with a conviction of equity.
- Promote cultural responsiveness
We recognize diversity as a strength, and we commit ourselves personally and professionally to serve culturally and linguistically diverse populations. These populations include those who represent cultural diversity broadly defined, including race, ethnicity, socio-economic status, gender, religion, sexual orientation, ability, and age. Among other valuable theories and approaches, we utilize sociocultural and constructivist perspectives in teaching and learning. We value these and other perspectives that promote active participation in learning as well as meaningful and authentic instruction and assessment and emphasize students' cultural and linguistic background experiences.

- Integrate theory and practice
We strive to unite theory and practice in a reciprocal relationship that mutually informs each other. We are a community of reflective practitioners, guided by critical inquiry and social responsibility. We actively engage in educational research, including faculty/ student collaboration. We affirm the use of technology in education as authentic, meaningful, and accessible to all learners.
- Develop moral, intellectual, responsible, and caring leaders
We are committed to the preparation of educators who will be leaders in the field and who reflect high standards of ethics and values. We seek to be, and to encourage others to be, women and men who have the intellectual skills to critically evaluate educational issues, have the moral conviction to respond as agents of change, and exhibit an ethic of care in the service of others.
- Collaborate and share leadership across communities
We believe in the value of working collaboratively with the districts, schools, parents, and students of the communities we serve to successfully educate all learners. We recognize, support, and promote the gifts and talents of community members and encourage their participation in decision-making processes.

Candidate Outcomes and Proficiencies

In accordance with the Mission of Loyola Marymount University, the faculty, staff, and students of the School of Education understand and declare our purpose to be the encouragement of life-long learning and academic excellence, the education of the whole person, and the promotion of service and justice for all. We commit ourselves to serving public and private education by fostering excellence inspired by the Jesuit and Marymount traditions of Catholic education.

The following four broad learning goals are intended to express the expectations for how all candidates will achieve the mission of the School of Education. Under each goal are corresponding candidate learning outcomes that express specific ways in which candidates should be able to demonstrate fulfillment of each goal.

Unit Goal 1: Candidates will respect and value all individuals and communities. Candidate Learning Outcomes

Diversity: Candidates will know, value, and integrate the diversity of students and their communities

Culture of high expectations: Candidates will promote a culture of high expectations for all

Inclusion: Candidates will be able to use inclusive strategies and practices

Community: Candidates will be able to gather and use multiple resources to better understand and serve their community

Unit Goal 2: Candidates will integrate theory and practice. Candidate Learning Outcomes

Knowledge: Candidates will be able to demonstrate knowledge of historical, philosophical, socio-political, economic, and legal influences on education

Critical Lens: Candidates will be able to use a critical lens to analyze and share content knowledge

Reflection: Candidates will be able to reflect on personal experience of self and others to inform practice

Disposition: Candidates will understand and model exemplary professional practices

Research: Candidates will be able to use multiple research methodologies

Pedagogical Technology: Candidates will be able to integrate content and pedagogical knowledge, academic skills, and technology in professional practice

Unit Goal 3: Candidates will advocate for access to a socially just education.

Candidate Learning Outcomes

Communication and Collaboration: Candidates will be able to effectively communicate and collaborate

Academic Excellence: Candidates will promote academic excellence in the field

Equity: Candidates will be able to use pedagogical skills to implement principles of equity and empowerment

Social Justice: Candidates will be able to understand and respond to issues related to the preferential option for the poor and marginalized groups

Technology: Candidates will be able to advocate for and critically use technology

Lifelong Learning: Candidates will demonstrate a commitment to ongoing professional development and involvement in professional organizations

Unit Goal 4: Candidates will lead in order to facilitate transformation.

Candidate Learning Outcomes

Ethics: Candidates will be able to practice effective, ethical, and moral leadership

Shared Vision: Candidates will be able to share and collaboratively construct an inclusive vision within professional learning communities

Performance Evaluation: Candidates will be able to seek, reflect upon, and respond to constructive feedback

Systemic Change: Candidates will understand and use the elements, processes, and technological advances that lead to systemic change

Assessment: Candidates will understand and promote equitable and effective assessment and evaluation systems

School of Education Academic Regulations

Graduate Admissions Policies

Applicants for graduate programs are encouraged to contact SOE Admissions for advice and assistance in meeting the admission requirements.

Categories of Admission

Categories of admission for the Credential, Master of Arts degrees, Education Specialist degree, and Doctoral degree programs are as follows:

Formal Admission: Formally admitted students are those who have completed the entire application process and have been accepted by a particular program with no conditions or provisions.

Provisional Admission: Provisionally admitted students are those who are missing one or more items for formal admission.

Controlled Admission: Students admitted on Controlled Admission are accepted through an exceptions process and are admitted under academic probation. Students admitted on Controlled Admissions are required to receive a minimum 3.0 GPA (B) in their first 6 semester hours of classes, and remain in good standing in their academic program. Students on Controlled Admission may take a maximum of 2 courses per semester, and are required to advance to Formal or Provisional status by the end of their first semester, or by the completion of their first 6 semester hours in the program.

Non-Degree Status: Students admitted as non-degree students are not guaranteed admission to the School of Education.

Exception Policy

Applicants who have been denied admissions based on GPA of TOEFL/IELTS test scores may appeal through the exceptions process upon recommendation of the program director. A student with a GPA below 3.0 and above 2.7 may submit a written petition for admission. Candidates accepted through exceptions process will be admitted on controlled admission status as described above.

Graduate Transfer Credit

School of Education graduate students must submit transfer credit requests at the time of admission in order to receive credit toward a degree for graduate-level work taken at other regionally accredited colleges and universities. The request must be in writing and accompanied with a course syllabus and Bulletin description for each course they wish to transfer. All transferred course credit requested must have received a grade of at least 3.0 (B). Courses used to satisfy a degree requirement at another college or university cannot be used for transfer credit with the exception of core or prerequisite requirements. Students may request a transfer for up to 6 semester (9 quarter) hours of graduate units. Transfer coursework may not be more than five years old. Transfer credit requests received after admission will not be considered. The Office of the Registrar grants final approval of transfer credit.

Adding a Second LMU Master of Arts Degree

A student who has earned a Master of Arts degree from the School of Education may apply up to three applicable core courses from that degree toward a second Master of Arts degree with the approval of the program director. The student must successfully complete all other requirements for the second degree.

Advising

Orientation

New students are strongly encouraged to attend Student Orientation.

Academic Advising

Upon admission to the School of Education, students are assigned an academic advisor. The advisor will assist students with course sequencing, enrollment, and monitor their progress toward program completion. Students are advised to schedule a meeting with their academic advisor as soon as possible after admission and consult with their academic advisor regularly on program requirements and registration.

Professional Advising

Faculty are available to meet with students to discuss professional, career, academic, and educational issues. Students are encouraged to see their program director for professional advisement.

Technology

The School of Education emphasizes and supports the use of technology throughout its programs. To aid in the integration of technology, the School of Education maintains a computer lab as well as two computer eClassrooms in University Hall. The lab is available for use by School of Education students and faculty only. Hours are posted at the lab and at the School of Education website (<http://soe.lmu.edu>). The eClassrooms are intended for whole class instruction and are available for reservation by faculty. There are several general use student computer labs in various locations on campus.

Basic Technology Skills

All SOE applicants must verify that they are capable of basic technology skills necessary for success in the School of Education.

E-mail Accounts

The School of Education will utilize students' LMU e-mail accounts to contact students. Students must check this account regularly or forward it to a preferred account. Students should contact the Student Help Desk for information on e-mail and network access accounts.

LiveText

LiveText is web-based software used by students to complete fieldwork and course assignments. All undergraduate, Masters, Education Specialist, credential, and certificate students enrolled in the School of Education are required to purchase and utilize LiveText. An ePortfolio fee is assessed to each student at the beginning of their first semester of enrollment. The fee covers a three-year subscription for LiveText. Students taking more than three years to complete their programs will be reassessed the ePortfolio fee.

Grading

Credit/No Credit (CR/NC)

A number of courses in the School of Education are offered on a Credit/No Credit basis. Credit indicates a graduate student has earned at least a “B” or an undergraduate student has earned at least a “C” in the course. Certain State mandated credential courses must be taken for a grade. Instructors should be consulted for clarification.

Incomplete (I)

A grade of Incomplete “I” may be requested by the student to the instructor in extraordinary circumstances and when a candidate has completed a minimum of 80% of the course work. The instructor may not approve the request. Graduate students with more than two Incompletes will be blocked from registration.

In Progress (IP)

In Progress grades are given in fieldwork classes when the academic calendars of the PK–12 school and the University do not align. The In Progress grade indicates that the fieldwork is in progress at the time grades were submitted. An IP grade will be replaced by a grade of CR or NC.

Support for Candidates’ Development of Academic and Professional Standards

The School of Education is committed to the development of the qualified educators to work in public, private, and Catholic schools. This commitment is made to the candidates, to the students with whom they will work, and to the general public we serve. The faculty strives to enhance each candidate’s ability to work effectively with students and families, and to be highly sought by schools and school districts. During the candidate’s course of study in the School of Education, the faculty will provide feedback and support to candidates in both their academic and professional development.

Academic Development

When a candidate is not able to meet the minimum academic expectations in a course, the instructor will conduct one-on-one meeting(s) with the candidate to develop a remediation plan. This plan may include, but is not limited to: referral to the program director; tutorials provided by the faculty; support from peers; or a referral to the University’s Learning Resource Center. If the candidate is not able to attain the minimum course grade needed for graduation, he/she may retake the course to attain a higher grade with approval from the program director.

All candidates are required to maintain a minimum semester and cumulative GPA of 3.0 during their course of study. Candidates will be placed on academic probation if they fail to meet the minimum GPA. The candidate will be required to meet with the program director who will monitor the candidate’s progress. Students on academic probation must receive a “B” or better the following semester or be subject to disqualification from the University.

Professional (Non Academic) Development

The School of Education, the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing and National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education have determined that non-academic qualities are necessary for educators to be successful. Non-academic factors include behaviors, dispositions, and attitudes that educators must positively develop and demonstrate. If a candidate fails to meet appropriate professional expectations in class or in field placements, the School of Education will assist with the student’s professional development.

Assistance with professional development will take the following steps:

- The instructor will consult with the student and complete a Concerns Form.
- The instructor and program director will work with the student to develop a remediation plan. Assistance may include: specific tutorials provided by any member of the faculty; a referral to LMU Student Psychological Services; or other referrals.
- The instructor, program director, and student will meet with the assistant dean if necessary.
- The program director will monitor the student’s progress in accordance with the developed remediation plan.

Students who cannot uphold academic or non-academic standards may be disqualified from their program. Students who are disqualified from one program in the School of Education are not eligible for any other program in the School.

Comprehensive Assessment

All students completing a Master of Arts degree must successfully pass a Comprehensive Examination, a Culminating Experience, or successfully complete a thesis in their subject area.

Statement of Professional Disposition

The National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) requires the LMU School of Education to assess the professional dispositions of education credential and degree candidates. According to NCATE, professional dispositions are “The values, commitments, and professional ethics that influence behavior toward students, families, colleagues, and communities and affect student learning, motivation, and development as the educator’s own professional growth. Dispositions are guided by beliefs and attitudes related to values such as caring, fairness, honesty, responsibility, and social justice.” Throughout a candidate’s program, the faculty will assess the School of Education Unit and Program Professional Dispositions, and failure to meet professional expectations may result in a remediation process for the candidate. In extreme cases, failure to meet professional expectations could warrant dismissal from an education program. The School of Education holds four Unit Dispositions that shape the professional expectations for all candidates: “We strive to be, and to educate professionals to be, educators who: Respect and value all individuals and communities; Educate by integrating theory and practice; Advocate for access to a socially just education; and Lead in order to facilitate transformation.”

Comprehensive Examination

Students are required to enroll in and receive credit for 6995, Comprehensive Examination, to complete the Master of Arts degree. There is a fee charged for this zero semester hour course.

The comprehensive examination is not just a quantitative or cumulative extension of the examination content of all required courses. Rather, it examines a candidate’s ability to apply acquired knowledge and experiences to a set of practical problems within the candidate’s field of specialization. The comprehensive examination can be written and/or oral. The various Master of Arts degrees have specific requirements as to what type of comprehensive examination is required. Students should consult their program director as to the type of comprehensive examination required.

Thesis

Select programs within the School of Education offer a thesis option in place of the comprehensive examination. The course requirement section of each program will indicate whether this option is available. Students in those programs who are interested in this option must meet the thesis guidelines as specified by their program director. In addition to meeting the thesis criteria and guidelines, students in the thesis option must complete EDLA 6950 Advanced Research Methods; EDLA 6951 Advanced Research Design; and EDCE 6955 Master’s Thesis I. Continuing course enrollment in EDCE 6956 Master’s Thesis II and EDCE 6957 Master’s Thesis III may also be required.

Graduation

A commencement ceremony is held at the end of the Spring term for those candidates who wish to participate. Please consult the Registrar’s website for more detailed information.

Application for Degree

Degrees are awarded at the end of the Spring, Fall, and Summer terms. Candidates must submit a formal application for degree to the Office of the Registrar. The deadlines to apply for degree are listed in the University calendar. The degree will not be posted to the candidate’s transcript if an application for degree is not submitted. See the Registrar’s website for more detailed information.

Requirements for Graduation

1. All requirements for the degree must be met prior to the degree date.

2. The date of the degree posted on the student's transcript and diploma is the one by which all graduation requirements, including the application for degree, have been completed.
3. A 3.0 cumulative GPA must be met prior to the degree date.
4. All incomplete work required for the degree must be completed prior to the degree date.

Failure to comply with these regulations will preclude the granting of a degree. Those who have applied for a degree and do not complete the requirements before the projected date of completion for which they applied are required to reapply in a later semester.

School of Education Academic Awards

The School of Education will name an Outstanding Student for each graduate and undergraduate program, with the exception of the Doctoral program. The recipient must be a student graduating in the current academic year. The candidates for these awards are nominated and voted upon by faculty in recognition of the graduate's academic, personal, and professional qualities that best exemplify the mission and goals of the School of Education.

Credential Application Process

The California Commission on Teacher Credentialing issues credentials upon the recommendation of the School of Education.

A credential application must be submitted to the School of Education Credential Office at the completion of the candidate's credential program requirements. Final transcripts that reflect completion of program requirements must be requested from the Office of the Registrar and submitted to the Credential Office. See the School of Education credential section of the website at <http://soe.lmu.edu> for detailed information on the credential application process.

Student Records and Materials

All materials submitted to the School of Education are property of the School of Education and will not be returned to the student. Students are advised to make copies of all materials submitted for their records.

Statement of Professional Dispositions

The National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) requires the LMU School of Education to assess the professional dispositions of education credential and degree candidates. According to NCATE, professional dispositions are "The values, commitments, and professional ethics that influence behavior toward students, families, colleagues, and communities and affect student learning, motivation, and development as the educator's own professional growth. Dispositions are guided by beliefs and attitudes related to values such as caring, fairness, honesty, responsibility, and social justice." Throughout a candidate's program, the faculty will assess the School of Education Unit and Program Professional Dispositions, and failure to meet professional expectations may result in a remediation process for the candidate. In extreme cases, failure to meet professional expectations could warrant dismissal from an education program. The School of Education holds four Unit Dispositions that shape the professional expectations for all candidates: "We strive to be, and to educate professionals to be, educators who: Respect and value all individuals and communities; Educate by integrating theory and practice; Advocate for access to a socially just education; and Lead in order to facilitate transformation."

Introduction

The Department of Specialized Programs in Urban Education offers credential and Master of Arts degree programs designed for teachers who are employed as the teacher of record in either a private or public school. The Department prepares teachers to work in urban settings where the student population is economically, linguistically, and culturally diverse.

Admission Requirements

Each specialized program cohort in Urban Education has special admission requirements in addition to the requirements listed in this section. Additional admission requirements for these specialized program cohorts are communicated to applicants during the admission process.

1. Graduate Application and Fee
2. Statement of Intent: Applicants must write a 3- to 5-page essay describing how their experience and professional goals are compatible with the Mission and Goals of the School of Education at Loyola Marymount University.
3. Letters of Recommendation: Applicants must submit letters of recommendation. Some specialized cohort programs ask candidates use specific recommendation forms.
4. Grade Point Average Requirement: This requirement is met in one of three ways:
 - a. A cumulative undergraduate degree GPA of 2.8 or higher
 - b. A GPA of 2.85 or higher in the last 60 units of the applicant's undergraduate degree
 - c. A GPA of 3.0 or higher obtained in 9 semester hours of graduate work

Applicants who do not meet the GPA requirement will need to file an appeal with the Exceptions Committee.

5. Transcripts: Applicants must submit two sets of official transcripts in sealed envelopes with their application. The transcript for the undergraduate degree must show that the undergraduate degree has been posted. Applicants who have attended more than one college or university must submit transcripts from all colleges or universities attended.
6. Basic Skills Proficiency Requirement: All credential applicants must meet the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing basic skills requirement. An official passing score on one of the following examinations is required to demonstrate proficiency in basic skills:
 - a. The California Basic Skills Examination Test (CBEST)
 - b. CSET Multiple Subjects plus Writing Section (for multiple subjects only)
7. Subject Matter Competency: All credential applicants must meet the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing subject matter requirement. This requirement can be met in the following ways:
 - a. Passing score on the appropriate examination in the California Subject Examination for Teachers (CSET)
 - b. Completion of an approved subject matter program (for single subject candidates only).
8. Certificate of Clearance: Candidates must be able to successfully apply for a Certificate of Clearance with the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing prior to teaching full time.
9. Technology Requirement: Candidates must satisfy the technology requirement through self-verification of basic technology skills or by completion of an approved course.
10. Interview: Candidates will be asked to schedule an interview with the appropriate program personnel.
11. Verification of Employment: Applicants must document employment as a full time teacher using the appropriate form provided by the Department.

LMU|Teach for America Partnership

Director: Edmundo F. Litton

Associate Director, Los Angeles: Doris Madrigal

Associate Director, Bay Area: Katharine Berlin

This comprehensive two-year program combines coursework for the Master of Arts in Elementary Education, Secondary Education, or Special Education with a preliminary teaching credential while participating in Teach for America in Los Angeles. The Bilingual Cross-Cultural Academic and Language Development or BCLAD teaching credential (Spanish emphasis) can be added to the credential if a candidate meets the requirements of this program. A Master of Arts in Child and Adolescent Literacy or Education Administration may be available to applicants who already have a teaching credential, pending transcript evaluation.

Introduction

The School of Education is committed to social justice and therefore maintains a strong focus on serving underrepresented and under-resourced school communities. In order to advocate for education for these school communities and their students, the School of Education has partnered with Teach for America (TFA), the national corps of outstanding graduates of all academic majors who commit to teach in public schools and become lifelong leaders in the effort to expand educational opportunities for all children. As the preferred university partner in Los Angeles since 2000, the LMU|TFA Partnership expanded to the San Francisco Bay Area in 2010. The LMU School of Education is currently the exclusive university partner with Teach for America in California, serving both the Los Angeles and San Francisco Bay regions (San Jose, San Francisco, Oakland, and Sacramento). Since expanding to the San Francisco regions, the School of Education now has approved regional centers in Northern California. The program information outlined below is based on the program offerings in Los Angeles and are available/applicable to LMU|TFA Partnership students in the Northern California regions.

The LMU|TFA Partnership program requires that candidates work full-time in a public school district while they complete requirements for a California 2042 Preliminary Teaching Credential, that aligns with their teaching assignment, and a Master of Arts degree. Once candidates are admitted into the LMU|TFA Partnership program, they will have the opportunity to choose a credential and/or Master of Arts degree program that supports their teaching assignment. All LMU|TFA students pursue a California SB2042 Preliminary Teaching Credential (either Multiple Subjects for K–5 teachers or Single Subject for grade 6–12) or a California Mild/Moderate Preliminary Education Specialist Teaching Credential. Candidates with an interest in bilingual education can also take additional courses to earn their bilingual authorization. Participants in the LMU|TFA program may be eligible for an Americorps educational award through their TFA membership. Participants are also eligible for an LMU SOE tuition grant that is contingent on full-participation in all related grant program requirements and completion of their two-year commitment to TFA and LMU program.

The LMU|TFA program pathways include Elementary Education (Multiple Subjects), Secondary Education (Single Subject: Math, Science, English, Foreign Language, Social Studies), Special Education, and Early Childhood Education. For specific information about the Special Education intern program pathway, please refer to the Special Education program section. For specific information about the Early Childhood Education program pathway, please refer to the Early Childhood Education section.

Admission Requirements

Admission into the LMU|TFA Partnership is limited to candidates who have been admitted to, and matriculate at, Teach for America in the Los Angeles or Northern California regions. Students interested in participating in these programs must begin their application process with Teach for America directly and be assigned to one of these regions in order to apply for the LMU|TFA Partnership program. Admission into this program is contingent upon the availability of space as well as the candidate meeting all LMU School of Education admission requirements and deadlines for their program pathway. Candidates must complete all admission requirements outlined in either the Multiple Subjects or Single Subject credential program as described in respective sections. Once students are confirmed TFA Los Angeles or TFA Northern California corps members, they will receive admissions application instructions from their respective LMU program office. LMU|TFA Partnership students are admitted under Provisional or Controlled Admission. Please see the School of Education Academic Regulations for information on the admission categories.

Program Requirements

LMU|TFA Partnership students admitted to a program are required to attend all LMU Orientation events as well as any additional requirements for their specific program pathway. Orientation events include recruitment webinars, in-person presentations about their program, sessions on registration, program and disposition expectations, credential requirements and processes, and financial responsibilities. Eligible students are also required to participate in all institutional scholarships/grants. Students are expected to maintain a minimum 3.0 GPA throughout their LMU programs as well as meet all SOE policy guidelines for successful progress and completion of their program and degree.

LMU|TFA Partnership students take their coursework over a period of two years. Exceptions to the recommended sequence must be approved by the Program Director, Department Chair, and Credential Manager. The Partnership is comprehensive and includes all the coursework and field experience required to obtain a preliminary teaching credential and Master of Arts degree.

Course Requirements for the Teach for America Program

Credential Coursework

The following information is for LMU|TFA Partnership students holding teaching assignments in General Education, K–12, settings only. Course requirements for Special Education and Early Childhood Education LMU|TFA Partnership students can be found in those respective sections in the Bulletin.

Multiple Subjects Credential

EDUR 5010	Theories of Teaching, Learning, and Assessment 2 semester hours
EDUR 5014	Multicultural Subjects Curriculum and Instruction 3 semester hours
EDUR 5004	Elementary School Literacy and Language Development 2 semester hours
EDUR 5012	Culture Language Urban Education 3 semester hours
EDUR 5016	Teaching Students with Special Needs in Urban Education 3 semester hours
EDCE 5970	Fieldwork 1 1 semester hour
EDCE 5971	Fieldwork 2 1 semester hour

Single Subject Credential

EDUR 5010	Theories of Teaching, Learning, and Assessment 2 semester hours
EDUR 5005	Literacy in the Content Areas 2 semester hours
EDUR 5012	Culture Language Urban Education 3 semester hours
EDUR 5016	Teaching Students with Special Needs in Urban Education 3 semester hours
EDCE 5970	Fieldwork 1 1 semester hour
EDCE 5971	Fieldwork 2 1 semester hour

and one of the following:

EDES 5251	Methods in Teaching Secondary Languages Other Than English 3 semester hours
EDES 5252	Methods in Teaching Secondary Social Studies 3 semester hours
EDES 5253	Methods in Teaching Secondary English 3 semester hours
EDES 5254	Methods in Teaching Secondary Science 3 semester hours
EDES 5255	Methods in Teaching Secondary Math 3 semester hours
EDES 5256	Methods in Teaching Secondary Art 3 semester hours

Note: One or two additional semesters of Fieldwork Experience coursework may be required for individual students on the Multiple Subjects or Single Subject traditional program pathway depending on their program and credential progress.

In addition to the required coursework, candidates for the teaching credential must also pass all tasks of the Teaching Performance Assessment (TPA Tasks 1–4) and complete a program exit presentation before they can be recommended for their credential and continue on with the Master of Arts degree in Urban Education.

Early Completion Option

The Early Completion Option (ECO) program pathway is available only to LMU|TFA Partnership students who have successfully passed the Teaching Foundations Exam (in addition to all other required credentialing exams) prior to enrollment and hold confirmed teaching assignments in Multiple Subjects (K–5) or Single Subject Math, English, or Science (6–12) only.

Students who opt into this program track must take and pass the Teaching Foundations Exam before they can be accepted into this program track. This program track is a total of 12 units and provides candidates the option to complete their credential program requirements on an earlier timeline than traditional track students. In order to remain on the ECO program track, students must take and successfully pass each Teaching Performance Assessment task (TPA) the first time they take it. ECO students are not able to re-take TPAs on this program track. Failure to successfully pass each TPA on the first attempt exempts the student from continuing on this program track and the student will need to enroll in the traditional program track appropriate for their teaching assignment and meet all program and course requirements for that track. Early Completion Option students do not enroll in Fieldwork coursework and therefore do not receive support from a university supervisor or on-site support provider while they are fulfilling their teaching assignment.

Multiple Subjects Credential—Early Completion Option

- EDUR 5014 Multicultural Subjects Curriculum and Instruction 3 semester hours
- EDUR 5004 Elementary School Literacy and Language Development 2 semester hours
- EDUR 5016 Teaching Students with Special Needs in Urban Education 3 semester hours
- EDUR 6961 Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching 3 semester hours

Single Subject Credential—Early Completion Option

- EDUR 5005 Literacy in the Content Areas 2 semester hours
- EDUR 5016 Teaching Students with Special Needs in Urban Education 3 semester hours
- EDUR 6961 Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching 3 semester hours

and one of the following:

- EDES 5251 Methods in Teaching Secondary Languages Other Than English 3 semester hours
- EDES 5252 Methods in Teaching Secondary Social Studies 3 semester hours
- EDES 5253 Methods in Teaching Secondary English 3 semester hours
- EDES 5254 Methods in Teaching Secondary Science 3 semester hours
- EDES 5255 Methods in Teaching Secondary Math 3 semester hours
- EDES 5256 Methods in Teaching Secondary Art 3 semester hours

Note: In addition to the required coursework, candidates for the teaching credential must also pass all tasks of the Teaching Performance Assessment (TPA Tasks 1–4) on their first attempt and complete a program exit presentation before they can be recommended for their credential and continue on with the Master of Arts degree in Urban Education.

Master of Arts in Urban Education

All LMU|TFA Partnership students in Multiple Subjects or Single Subject teaching assignments (General Education) that are successfully progressing in their teaching credential program requirements are eligible to apply for admission into the Master of Arts in Urban Education degree program. Both the traditional and Early Completion Option program pathways are designed to help meet the program requirements for the Master of Arts in Urban Education degree so that LMU|TFA Partnership students can complete their two-year teaching commitment with TFA and graduate with a credential and Master of Arts degree from LMU. Coursework taken in the teaching credential program, with the exception of Fieldwork and TPAs, can be transferred to the Master of Arts degree program. Candidates may transfer up to 15 semester hours of coursework from their first year and complete the remaining units (a minimum of 16, depending on their program pathway) in their second year.

During their MA program coursework, students work alongside a faculty advisor to complete a comprehensive research project of their own design. This culminating research project offers students an opportunity to develop research skills in addition to addressing an issue of interest in urban education. Students must select one of the four concentrations offered under this degree and complete four courses in their concentration. All students must take the required research methods course in which they begin their project and a culminating 1-semester-hour course in which they finalize it. In addition, students are expected to fully participate in the Urban Education Symposium held in the spring semester. Attendance at the Symposium is required.

Admission Requirements

Admission into the Master of Arts in Urban Education degree program is contingent on admission into the LMU|TFA Partnership program and successful progression in the teacher credential program coursework. Students must also complete an internal admission application.

Required Coursework

All students in this degree program must take the following course in order to begin their culminating research project:

- EDUR 5018 Research in Urban Education 3 semester hours

Note: Students must also take one of the following courses in order to complete their research project:

- EDUR 6995 Comprehensive Examination 0 semester hours or
EDUR 5020 Research Project in Urban Education 1 semester hour

Note: In addition to these courses, students must select a concentration and take the four courses (3 semester hours each) listed under each concentration. Students completing the Early Completion Option program pathway must take an additional elective course (3 semester hours), to be selected under advisement and approval from the Program Director.

Exceptions to the recommended sequence must be approved by the Program Director and Department Chair.

Master of Arts in Urban Education Concentrations

Literacy: The Literacy concentration is designed for candidates interested in studying literacy practices effective in urban settings. This concentration is offered in collaboration with the Literacy Program in the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education.

In addition to EDUR 5018 and EDUR 6995 or EDUR 5020, candidates in this concentration take the following courses:

- EDES 6350 Linguistics and Reading 3 semester hours
- EDES 6355 Introduction to Reading Difficulties 3 semester hours
- EDES 6356 Diagnosis and Intervention in Reading—Practicum I 3 semester hours
- EDES 6103 Curriculum and Instructional Leadership 3 semester hours

Digital Learning: This concentration explores the role of technology in teaching and learning in urban schools. It is designed for candidates who would like to explore the role of technology in teaching and learning. Candidates develop skills to integrate technology into teaching, question the role of technology in promoting equity in society, and learn how to use technology to work with students with special needs.

In addition to EDUR 5018 and 6995 or EDUR 5020, candidates in this concentration take the following courses:

- EDUR 6324 Technology in Multilingual Settings 3 semester hours
- EDUR 6327 Learning and Teaching with Technology 3 semester hours
- EDUR 6328 Survey of Digital Technologies for Urban Education 3 semester hours
- EDUR 6329 Assistive Technology 3 semester hours

Educational Policy and Administration: Candidates in this concentration learn about administrative practices that promote effective teaching and learning in urban education. Candidates also study federal and state policies in education. Candidates who wish to become leaders in Catholic schools can be offered in discussion with the Program Director. This concentration is offered in collaboration with the Administration Program in the Department of Educational Leadership and has developed in response to Teach for America's request and data, which shows that many TFA alumni become administrators in charter schools. The courses in this concentration also allow candidates to have a deeper understanding of American education and this knowledge can help candidates become advocates for social justice even if they are working in non-education fields.

In addition to EDUR 5018 and 6995 or EDUR 5020, candidates in this concentration take the following courses:

EDUR 6102	The Context of Schooling 3 semester hours
EDLA 6427	Advocacy from a Legal Perspective 3 semester hours
EDLA 6428	Business of Education 3 semester hours
EDLA 6429	Specializing in Charter Schools 3 semester hours or
EDLA 6842	Leadership in Catholic Education 3 semester hours

Language and Culture: The Language and Culture concentration is offered in collaboration with the Bilingual/Bicultural Programs within the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education. Candidates in this concentration have the option of studying for a bilingual authorization (in Spanish or Mandarin) for their Preliminary credential.

In addition to EDUR 5018 and 6995 or EDUR 5020, candidates in this concentration take the following courses:

EDUR 5324	Bilingualism, Cognition and Identity Development 3 semester hours
EDUR 5322	Intercultural Education 3 semester hours or
EDUR 6430	Educational Linguistics 3 semester hours

Plus two of the following, according to their language specialization:

Spanish Specialization

EDES 5320	Chicano/Latino Cultures: An Interdisciplinary Perspective 3 semester hours
EDES 6320	Methodology for Primary Language Instruction in a Bilingual Setting 3 semester hours

Mandarin Specialization

EDES 5330	Chinese/American/American Chinese Cultures: An Interdisciplinary Perspective 3 semester hours
EDES 6330	Methodology for Chinese Language Instruction in Bilingual Settings 3 semester hours

LMUJLA CAST: Los Angeles Catholic Archdiocesan School Teachers

Director: Edmundo Litton

Location: University Hall 1760

The LMUJLA CAST program is offered in the School of Education through a partnership with the Department of Catholic Schools of the Archdiocese of Los Angeles. Candidates in the program are able to complete a Master of Arts Degree and a State of California 2042 Preliminary Teaching Credential. The LMUJLA CAST program is an important professional development opportunity for educators employed in Catholic Schools within the Archdiocese of Los Angeles. Some of the unique features of the program include:

- Saturday classes
- Classes are taught in a hybrid format (traditional classes combined with on-line classes)
- Substantial scholarships are offered
- Candidates have the opportunity to collaborate with other Catholic school teachers
- Candidates are required to infuse technology in teaching and learning

To be eligible for the LMUJLA CAST program, candidates must meet the following requirements:

1. All the admission requirements outlined in the sections for teaching credentials in Multiple and Single subjects for University Interns and Teacher Practitioners
2. Candidates must be a full-time teacher or administrator in a Catholic school in the Archdiocese of Los Angeles. Administrators (e.g., Vice Principal, Principal) must be able to teach at least part-time while enrolled in the LMUJLA CAST program. Teacher aides or pre-school teachers are not eligible for the LMUJLA CAST program.
3. Candidates must attend an information meeting held in October (for Spring admission) and February (for Fall admission). Information on these meetings is given to principals of Catholic schools and is also available from the School of Education.
4. All candidates complete the program as a cohort and must be able to commit to the two-year program. Candidates must sign a contract agreeing to program conditions prior to starting the LMUJLA CAST program.

5. Candidates are required to use Apple technology. Requirements change by year and are shared at the information meetings.

Course Requirements for the LMUJLA CAST Program

Multiple and Single Subject Candidates

PLACE Corps—Partners in Los Angeles Catholic Education

Director: Diana Murphy

Location: University Hall 1300

Introduction

This comprehensive two-year program combines coursework for the Master of Arts in Elementary Education or Master of Arts in Secondary Education with a State of California 2042 Preliminary Teaching Credential while participating in a Catholic teacher service corps. A Master of Arts in Reading Instruction, Special Education, or Guidance and Counseling may be available to applicants who have or will have by the time the program begins a credential, license or certificate to teach, pending transcript evaluation.

The PLACE Corps is a nationally recognized teaching service corps in partnership with the Archdiocese of Los Angeles and the University Consortium for Catholic Education (UCCE). The PLACE Corps is built upon three pillars: spirituality, community, and professional development. This University program incorporates full-time teaching in an under-resourced Los Angeles Archdiocesan elementary or high school with an academic program through the School of Education.

The ideal candidate for the PLACE Corps is an enthusiastic recent college graduate who has an appreciation for Catholic education and wishes to “give something back.” The PLACE Corps member, serving as a role model in Catholic schools, will be instrumental in maintaining the traditions of Catholic education in Los Angeles.

The ideal candidate has an ardent desire to work with young people. There are no prerequisite courses, other than a Bachelor’s degree in any field. PLACE Corps recruits nationally. Interested students in the local area should attend an information meeting in the fall and subsequent application distribution meeting.

PLACE Corps members work under contract as teachers for the Archdiocese of Los Angeles. Acceptance into the program is contingent upon the availability and offer of a compatible teaching position in an Archdiocesan PLACE Corps partner school. A portion of the Corps member’s salary will contribute toward housing and other member expenses.

Participants of this service corps may be eligible for the AmeriCorps Education Award and an LMU grant which contribute toward tuition.

Those admitted to the new cohort are required to attend the Orientation Weekend in April. The orientation includes such topics as program expectations, the academic program, housing, and program funding. Incorporated into the weekend is an opportunity for the PLACErs to meet their principals. Contracts for employment will be offered by the Archdiocese through the individual school.

Application Deadline: The PLACE Corps application has two components, an online and paper application. The deadline for the online application is January 17. The deadline for the paper application is January 31. The full-time commitment begins the subsequent summer.

Admission Requirements

The PLACE Corps admits an average of 25 members per cohort. Admission to the PLACE Corps requires the following:

1. Candidates must complete all admission requirements outlined in either the Multiple Subjects or Single Subject credential program as described in respective sections. Please refer to the Teacher Practitioner/Intern sections of Elementary or Secondary Education in this bulletin for more details.
2. Graduate Division online application, PLACE Corps application, Statement of Intent, three letters of recommendation, signed letter of commitment, and a Judicial Affairs clearance.
3. Interview with PLACE Corps Selection Committee.
4. Observation Hours: All candidates must present acceptable evidence of having completed at least 20 hours of observation in a culturally and linguistically diverse setting within the age range they are planning to teach. It is beneficial to the candidate to do so within a public school setting as these 20 hours may be applied towards the 60 hours of public school observations required for credential requirements for teachers in private and parochial schools. Any remaining hours of public school observations still required may be completed during the first summer of PLACE Corps participation.

Program Requirements

PLACE Corps members will begin their two-year commitment with participation in a program summer retreat designed to support and inspire members. Participants are invited to become actively involved in ongoing spiritual aspects of the program while fully engaged in an intentional community to which they are assigned.

In addition to specific program requirements, PLACErs must satisfy all contractual obligations of the school to which they are assigned.

In the fall, while living in community, PLACE Corps members will begin their teaching, along with taking two classes (generally one night per week) each semester.

For the most part, over the two-year period, PLACE Corps members will be enrolled in courses as a cohort. If a PLACE has an academic background which includes prior education courses, the PLACE Corps staff will work with the PLACEr in making appropriate adjustments to his/her respective course of study. Any exception to the recommended sequence must be approved by both the PLACE Corps director and coordinator. PLACErs must take only their prescribed courses and may not take any additional coursework concurrently.

The sequence of academic coursework will be outlined at the Orientation Weekend in April. The PLACE Corps academic program is comprehensive and includes all the coursework and field experience required to obtain a State of California 2042 Preliminary Teaching Credential and Master of Arts degree.

EDES 5251	Methods in Teaching Secondary Languages Other Than English 3 semester hours
EDES 5252	Methods in Teaching Secondary Social Studies 3 semester hours
EDES 5253	Methods in Teaching Secondary English 3 semester hours
EDES 5254	Methods in Teaching Secondary Science 3 semester hours
EDES 5255	Methods in Teaching Secondary Math 3 semester hours
EDES 5256	Methods in Teaching Secondary Art 3 semester hours

Note: Candidates in the PLACE program may also have the option of completing the degree requirements for the Master of Arts degree in Reading Instruction, Special Education, or Guidance and Counseling. More information can be obtained from the PLACE Corps staff.

LAMS—Los Angeles Math and Science Residency

Introduction

The Los Angeles Math and Science Residency (LAMS) is an innovative and rigorous year-long teacher training partnership program that integrates practice, content, theory, and pedagogy through an in-field apprenticeship model within The Alliance for College-Ready Public Schools in the Los Angeles region.

The LAMS Program advances student achievement by developing highly trained, effective math and science teachers for high-needs schools who will become future transformative leaders in math and science education.

Admission Requirements

To apply for the LAMS Residency Program, you must:

- be a college graduate with a B.A. or B.S., preferably in mathematics, engineering, biology, chemistry, or physics (minimum 3.0 GPA)
- have strong math or science content knowledge, at a minimum, candidates must have a minor in mathematics, engineering, biology, chemistry, or physics
- have passed the Math or Science tests for the California Subject Examinations for Teachers (CSET) and California Basic Skills Test (CBEST)
- desire to pursue a teaching career and become a highly effective math or science teacher and future transformative leader in Los Angeles urban schools serving low income and minority students
- have an unwavering commitment to teaching in urban schools for at least 4 years

MAST Teacher Leader (TL) Certificate

Introduction

In the CMAST TL Certificate, TMs learn how to demonstrate effective teaching practices, coach their colleagues, and teach their colleagues in Professional Learning Seminars centered around teaching the CCSS through MAST at their respective sites and within their organizations. Throughout each course of the certificate, TMs take on more responsibility in leading their colleagues, through a gradual release of responsibility from CMAST faculty to the TL.

CMAST institutionalizes a combination of university classes, professional development seminars, in-class demonstrations, and virtual learning components to train TMs how to analyze student and teacher data, teach students and adults, share leadership with administrators, design STEM curriculum, and collaborate with faculty and community members to create and sustain the MAST System.

Eligibility

Teacher leaders who meet the following minimum program criteria are invited to apply:

1. For Secondary teaching: possess an undergraduate degree with at least a 3.0 GPA in a STEM or STEM-related field. For Elementary teaching: possess an undergraduate degree with at least a 3.4 GPA and at least 12 units in math and/or science preferred
2. Possess a minimum of three years classroom teaching experience with demonstrated student achievement
3. Possess current Clear California Multiple Subjects or Secondary Teaching Credential in Mathematics or Science for grades 7–12 or current Clear California Multiple Subject Teaching Credential
4. Must be currently teaching
5. Desire to lead a new generation of effective teachers, commit to utilizing action research to improve practice, and dedicate their energy to uplifting schools that serve children from diverse economic, racial, linguistic, and cultural backgrounds

6. Demonstrate commitment to ongoing professional learning and openness to feedback and critical conversations that transform mathematics or science practices
7. Be a transformative teacher and coach for adult learners: able to establish effective relationships with colleagues, committed to leading courageous conversations with colleagues, able to design and implement effective instruction to increase colleagues' learning, and model and facilitate data-informed decision-making keeping students at the core

Course Requirements

EDUR 5580	Teaching Mathematics and Science in Urban Schools 3 semester hours
EDUR 5581	Mentorship in Math and Science Education 3 semester hours
EDUR 5582	Collaboration in Math and Science Education 3 semester hours
EDUR 5583	Mentorship in Math and Science Education 3 semester hours

Master's Option

After successful completion of the MAST TL Certificate, candidates have the option of applying their 12 semester hours towards a Master's in Urban Education (Curriculum, Teaching, and Learning).

19 semester hours of additional coursework required.

Intern/Practitioner Program

Master of Arts (with a Preliminary 2042 Multiple Subjects Credential)

The combined Multiple Subject Preliminary Credential and Master of Arts in Elementary Education program is designed for graduate students who are currently contracted to teach in grades K–5 or any self-contained classroom in grades 6–8 in either public or private schools. A student successfully completing the program is eligible to receive a Master of Arts in Elementary Education as well as be able to apply for a California Preliminary Multiple Subject Credential. Application and admissions procedures vary based on the selected cohort program.

Intern Credential Requirements

Eligibility for the Intern Credential is determined by the following guidelines set forth by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC):

1. Original approved Basic Skills Proficiency examination score report with passing score
2. Original CSET score report with passing score
3. Verification the U.S. Constitution requirement has been met
4. Undergraduate degree posted on official transcripts
5. Verification of employment
6. Two-year academic program
7. Certificate of Clearance (fingerprint application and fee)
8. Application for credential and fee

Once candidates have satisfied the above guidelines, an application for the intern credential is available through the Program Director or Department Chair. Please schedule an appointment with the Program Director of Department Chair. The California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC) is responsible for the awarding of the University Intern Credential.

Intern Candidate: A candidate following this path is employed full-time at a public school in a district that has a partnership with LMU. The candidate takes courses while teaching full-time. This employment status, along with additional supervision in the classroom provided through LMU, fulfills the field requirements of the credential. Candidates seek out their own employment as Interns unless the candidates are in a cohort program where placement is facilitated through the program (e.g., Teach for America). The Intern must be employed to teach at least 60% in the area of the credential, and the contract must state that the teacher is contracted to teach in the subject/grade in which the candidate is seeking a credential. It is necessary that the student hold a University Intern credential in order to be enrolled in the Intern program.

Teacher Practitioner Candidate: Teacher practitioner candidates are employed full-time at a private or Catholic school. The candidates take courses while teaching full-time. This employment status, along with additional supervision in the classroom provided through LMU, fulfills the requirements of the credential. There is an additional requirement of 60 observation hours in a public school setting required to meet the credential requirements (see Program Director for details). Candidates seek out their own employment as a Teacher Practitioner unless the candidate is part of a cohort program (e.g., Partners in Los Angeles Catholic Education—PLACE; Los Angeles) where placement is facilitated through the cohort program. The teacher practitioner must be employed to teach at least 60% in the subject/grade of the credential.

Provisional Admission Requirements

All requirements must be met to be eligible for an admissions interview. All application requirements must be met.

- Verification of Employment: Candidates must submit a signed Verification of Employment form. The candidate must be employed by a School District that holds a partnership agreement with Loyola Marymount University.
- CSET: Must submit official passing score report to the Academic Advisor (Intern Candidates only)
- Interview with the Program Director: Upon submission of all application requirements, applicant will be contacted for an interview.

Formal Admission Requirements

- Program Advising: All candidates must meet with the Program Director to complete a course sequence and receive program information.
- Prerequisite Courses: Candidates must complete the following courses with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better:

EDCE 5970	Fieldwork 1
EDCE 5971	Fieldwork 2
EDES 6200	Elementary School Curriculum and Methods
EDUR 6960	Introduction to Teaching and Learning

Candidates must complete two of the following four courses with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better:

EDUR 5000	Cultural Paradigms of Education
EDES 5001	Applied Educational Psychology for the Childhood and Adolescent Years
EDES 5003	Theories and Policies of Second Language Acquisition
EDSS 6001	Teaching Culturally/Linguistically Diverse Students with Exceptional Needs
- Disposition Rubric Score: Candidate chooses a professor of one of the four prerequisite courses to complete the Disposition Rubric and submits the score to the Academic Advisor.
- Professional Advising: Candidate schedules an appointment with the Academic Program Director/Assistant Director.

Teacher Admission and Advisory Committee (TAAC) Review

After the requirements for provisional and formal admission have been completed, the candidate's file will be submitted to TAAC for review. It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that all items have been completed, including the resolution of any Incomplete grades received in the prerequisite courses. Candidates will be notified of the committee's decision in writing.

Note: All documents become property of the University and will not be released to any person or institute unless required by law.

Program Requirements

- Candidates will need to complete the following prior to enrolling in EDUR 6961, TPA 3 and TPA 4:

Complete the remaining courses below with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better:

EDUR 5000	Cultural Paradigms of Education
EDES 5001	Applied Educational Psychology for the Childhood and Adolescent Years
EDES 5003	Theories and Policies of Second Language Acquisition

EDSS 6001 Teaching Culturally/Linguistically Diverse Students with Exceptional Needs

Complete both of the following courses with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better:

EDES 5200 Methodology in English Language Development (ELD) and Specially Designed Academic Instruction in English (SDAIE) for Elementary Educators
 EDES 6201 Foundations of Elementary Literacy Instruction

- Teaching Performance Assessments: Tasks 1 and 2 (two zero semester hour courses with associated fees):

EDCE 5950 Teaching Performance Assessment Task 1, Subject Specific Pedagogy
 EDCE 5951 Teaching Performance Assessment Task 2, Subject Designing Instruction

- Health Education for Educators: Candidates may satisfy the Health Education requirement in one of the following ways:

- Successful completion of EDES 8000
- Successful completion of a 2042 approved course through another institution. It is recommended that the candidate obtain approval from the School of Education Credential Office prior to taking class. Official transcripts must be submitted as evidence of course completion

- Professional Advising: Schedule an appointment with the Program Director.

- CSET Score Report: Original score report verifying 100% successful completion of all elements of the CSET.

- Disposition Rubric Score: The professor for EDES 6201 will submit a score to the Program Director.

- Fieldwork Application: Candidates must complete the fieldwork application and violation affidavit with the Academic Advisor. They must then schedule an interview with the Coordinator of Clinical Education.

- Verification of Employment: Candidates must submit a signed verification of employment form prior to enrollment into EDUR 6961.

- Teacher Advisory Review Committee (TARC): After all the steps outlined above have been completed, the candidate's file will be submitted to the Teacher Advisory Review Committee (TARC) for review. It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that all items have been completed, including the resolution of any Incomplete grades received in any courses. Candidates will be notified of the committee's decision in writing.

Culminating Fieldwork Requirements

- EDUR 6961 Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching
- TPA Tasks 3 and 4: Two zero semester hour courses with associated fees.

EDCE 5952	Teaching Performance Assessment Task 3, Assessing Learning 0 semester hours
EDCE 5953	Teaching Performance Assessment Task 4, Culminating Teaching Experience 0 semester hours

Additional Coursework Required for the Master of Arts Degree

OPTION 1: Elementary Education

Choose one of the following courses and complete with a 3.0 or better:

EDUR 6100 Anthropological Analysis of Cultural Diversity
 EDES 6103 Curriculum and Instructional Leadership
 EDLA 6105 Assessment and Research Methodology
 EDSS 6106 Human Development and Learning

Complete EDUR 6995 Comprehensive Exam in Elementary Education: Fee required.

OPTION 2: Literacy and Language Arts

The Master of Arts in Literacy and Language Arts combined with the 2042 Preliminary Multiple Subjects or Single Subject Teaching Credential offers the opportunity for a graduate student to receive both a preliminary teaching credential and a Master of Arts degree. Candidates who initially applied for admission to the credential program only must add the Master of Arts degree prior to the pre-fieldwork assessment.

Program Requirements

1. All 2042 Preliminary Multiple Subjects Teaching Credential courses
2. Additional Required Coursework
 EDES 6355 Introduction to Reading Difficulties
 EDES 6356 Diagnosis and Intervention in Reading—Practicum I
3. Comprehensive Assessment: Candidates meet with the program director to discuss their timeline and enrollment in either the comprehensive exam or the thesis project series.
 EDES 6995 Comprehensive Exam: Literacy (fee required)
 or
 Thesis Option

(See program director for detailed course sequence)

Exit Interview

The candidate must schedule an exit interview with the Academic Program Director. The exit interview must be completed prior to submitting an application for a credential and Master of Arts degree.

Application for Credential

When all requirements have been completed, candidates must complete an application for a preliminary teaching credential (additional fee required, see SOE website for more information).

Reading Instruction Competence Assessment (RICA)

After completing EDES 6201 Foundations of Elementary Literacy Instruction, candidates are required to take, pass, and submit an original score report of the RICA to the School of Education prior to the completion of their student teaching.

Application for Master of Arts Degree

Candidates must complete an application for a Master of Arts degree with the Office of the Registrar the semester prior to the completion of degree requirements.

Clear 2042 Multiple Subjects Credential

Candidates have five years after obtaining their preliminary credential in which to complete the requirements for a professional clear credential. LMU offers an approved Professional 2042 Clear Credential Program for those teachers who do not have access to an induction program at their school site. See Professional 2042 Clear Teaching Credential in the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education in this Bulletin for more information.

Master of Arts (without Credential)

This program is designed for practitioners who do not successfully pass the CSET prior to EDUR 6961 Portfolio and Assessment. Instead, candidates must complete all of the requirements detailed above for Provisional Admission, Formal Admission and Student Teaching requirements. Culminating Fieldwork Experience and Additional Coursework Required for the Master of Arts Degree are replaced with the following:

OPTION 1: Elementary Education

1. Choose two of the following courses and complete with a 3.0 or better:
 EDUR 6100 Anthropological Analysis of Cultural Diversity
 EDES 6103 Curriculum and Instructional Leadership
 EDLA 6105 Assessment and Research Methodology
 EDSS 6106 Human Development and Learning
 Students in specialized cohort programs may take an Education elective selected by the Program Director or Department Chair.
2. Complete EDES 6995 Comprehensive Exam in Elementary Education: Fee required.

OPTION 2: Literacy and Language Arts

Program Requirements

1. All 2042 Preliminary Single Subject Teaching Credential courses

2. Additional Required Coursework

EDES6355 Introduction to Reading Difficulties
 EDES 6356 Diagnosis and Intervention in Reading—Practicum I

3. Comprehensive Assessment: Candidates meet with the program director to discuss their timeline and enrollment in either the comprehensive exam or the thesis project series.

EDES 6995 Comprehensive Exam: Literacy (fee required)
 or
 Thesis Option (See Program Director for detailed course sequence).

If the candidate successfully passes all sections of the CSET within 5 years, the candidate can complete the credential by completing an exit interview with the Program Director and submitting an application for a credential.

Exit Interview

The candidate must schedule an exit interview with the Program Director/Assistant Director. The exit interview must be completed prior to submitting an application for a credential and Master of Arts degree.

Application for Credential

When all requirements have been completed, candidates must complete an application for a preliminary teaching credential (additional fee required, see SOE website for more information).

Application for Master of Arts Degree

When all requirements have been completed, candidates must complete an application for a Master's degree with the Office of the Registrar.

Master of Arts (with a Preliminary 2042 Single Subject Credential)

The combined Single Subject Preliminary Credential and Master of Arts in Secondary Education program is designed for graduate students who are seeking teaching positions in grades 9–12, or in 6–8 school settings that require teachers to teach in departments (Traditional Secondary Candidate) or students who are currently contracted to teach in grades 9–12, or in 6–8 school settings that require teachers to teach in departments (Intern/Practitioner Secondary Candidate). A student successfully completing this program will be eligible to receive a Master of Arts in Secondary Education as well as be able to apply for a California Preliminary Single Subject Credential.

The following Single Subject Preliminary credentials are offered through the School of Education:

- Art
- Biology
- Chemistry
- Physical Education (Dance)
- Earth Science
- English
- French
- Mathematics
- Physics
- Social Science
- Spanish

Intern/Practitioner Candidates

Intern Candidate: A candidate following this path is employed full-time at a public school in a district that has a partnership with LMU. The candidate takes courses while teaching full-time. This employment status, along with additional coaching in the classroom provided through LMU, fulfills the field requirements of the credential. Candidates seek out their own employment as interns unless the candidates are in a cohort program where placement is facilitated through the program (e.g., Teach for America). The intern must be employed to teach at least 60% in the area of the credential, and the contract must state that the teacher is contracted to teach in the subject/grade in which the candidate is seeking a credential.

It is necessary that the student hold a University intern credential in order to be enrolled in the intern program.

University Intern Credential Requirements

Eligibility for the University Intern Credential is determined by the following guidelines set forth by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC):

1. Original CBEST score report with passing score
2. Original CSET score report with passing score
3. Verification the U.S. Constitution requirement has been met
4. Undergraduate degree posted on official transcripts
5. Verification of employment
6. 2-year academic program completion plan
7. Certificate of Clearance (fingerprint application and fee)
8. Application for credential and fee

Once candidates have satisfied the above guidelines, an application for the intern credential is available through the Program Director or Department Chair. The California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC) is responsible for the awarding of the University Intern Credential.

Teacher Practitioner Candidates: Teacher practitioner candidates are employed full-time at a private or Catholic school. The candidates take courses while teaching full-time. This employment status, along with additional supervision in the classroom provided through LMU, fulfills the requirements of the credential. There is an additional requirement of 60 observation hours in a public school setting required to meet the credential requirements (see Academic Program Advisor for details). Candidates seek out their own employment as a Teacher Practitioner unless the candidate is enrolled in a cohort program (e.g., PLACE) where placement is facilitated through the cohort program. The teacher practitioner must be employed to teach at least 60% in the subject/grade of the credential.

Provisional Admission Requirements

1. Verification of Employment: Candidates must submit a signed Verification of Employment form. The candidate must be employed by a School District that holds a partnership agreement with Loyola Marymount University.
2. Subject Matter Competency (for Intern Candidates only): Candidates must demonstrate mastery of the required subject matter by either passing the appropriate California Subject Exam Test (CSET) OR by completing a 2042 approved subject matter program. Either option needs to be completed and verified prior to enrollment in EDUR 6961 Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching and TPA 3 and TPA 4.
 - CSET Option: Candidates will provide a written statement documenting when the CSET will be taken. Candidates must provide an original passing score report to the School of Education prior to enrollment in EDUR 6961 Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching and TPA 3 and TPA 4.
 - 2042 Approved Subject Matter Program: Candidates must complete a 2042 approved Subject Matter Program. Candidates must provide a written statement on when the subject matter coursework will be completed. Candidates will provide a letter verifying 100% completion of the subject matter requirement prior to enrollment in EDUR 6961 Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching and TPA 3 and TPA 4.
3. Interview with the Elementary/Secondary Academic Program Director/Assistant Director: Upon submission of all application requirements, applicant will be contacted for an interview.
4. Advisement: Immediately upon being provisionally admitted, the student must schedule an appointment with the Program Director or Department Chair.

Formal Admission Requirements

1. Academic Advising: All candidates must meet with the Program Director to complete a course sequence.
2. Prerequisite Courses: Candidates must complete the following courses with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better:
 - EDCE 5970 Fieldwork 1
 - EDCE 5971 Fieldwork 2
 - EDUR 6960 Introduction to Teaching and Learning

Candidates must complete two of the following four courses with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better:

EDUR 5000	Cultural Paradigms of Education
EDES 5001	Applied Educational Psychology for the Childhood and Adolescent Years
EDES 5003	Theories and Policies of Second Language Acquisition
EDSS 6001	Teaching Culturally/Linguistically Diverse Students with Exceptional Needs

Candidates must complete one of the following courses, depending on subject emphasis of the credential:

EDES 5251	Methods in Teaching Secondary Languages Other Than English
EDES 5252	Methods in Teaching Secondary Social Studies
EDES 5253	Methods in Teaching Secondary English
EDES 5254	Methods in Teaching Secondary Science
EDES 5255	Methods in Teaching Secondary Math
EDES 5256	Methods in Teaching Secondary Art

3. Disposition Rubric Score: Candidate chooses a professor of one of the four prerequisite courses to complete the Disposition Rubric and submits the score to the Program Advisor.
4. Professional Advising: Candidate schedules an appointment with Academic Program Director/Assistant Director.
5. Teacher Admission and Advisory Committee (TAAC) Review: After the requirements for provisional and formal admission have been completed, the candidate's file will be submitted to TAAC for review. It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that all items have been completed, including the resolution of any Incomplete grades received in the prerequisite courses. Candidates will be notified of the committee's decision in writing.

Note: All documents become property of the University and will not be released to any person or institution unless required by law.

Program Requirements

1. Candidates will need to complete the remaining courses with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better prior to enrolling in EDUR 6961, TPA 3, and TPA 4:

EDUR 5000	Cultural Paradigms of Education
EDES 5001	Applied Educational Psychology for the Childhood and Adolescent Years
EDES 5003	Theories and Policies of Second Language Acquisition
EDSS 6001	Teaching Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Students with Exceptional Needs

Complete both of the following courses with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better:

EDES 5250	Methodology in English Language Development (ELD) and Specially Designed Academic Instruction in English (SDAIE) for Secondary Educators
EDES 6250	Improvement of Literacy in the Single Subject Classroom

2. Teaching Performance Assessments: Tasks 1 and 2 (two zero-semester-hour courses with associated fees):

EDCE 5950	Teaching Performance Assessment Task 1, Subject Specific Pedagogy
EDCE 5951	Teaching Performance Assessment Task 2, Subject Designing Instruction
3. Health Education for Educators: Candidates may satisfy the Health Education requirement in one of the following ways:
 - successful completion of EDES 8000
 - successful completion of a 2042 approved course through another institution. It is recommended that the candidate obtain approval from the School of Education Credential Office prior to taking class. Official transcripts must be submitted as evidence of course completion.
4. Professional Advising: Schedule an appointment with the Program Director.
5. Subject Matter Competency: Submit to the Academic Advisor either
 - original score report verifying 100% successful completion of all elements of the CSET, OR

- letter verifying 100% completion of the subject matter coursework from a 2042 approved program.
6. Disposition Rubric Score: The professor for EDES 6250 will submit a score to the Program Director.
 7. Fieldwork Application: Candidates must complete the fieldwork application and violation affidavit with the Academic Advisor. They must then schedule an interview with the Coordinator of Clinical Education.
 8. Teacher Advisory Review Committee (TARC): After all the steps outlined above have been completed, the candidate's file will be submitted to the Teacher Advisory Review Committee (TARC) for review. It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that all items have been completed, including the resolution of any Incomplete grades received in any courses. Candidates will be notified of the committee's decision in writing.

Culminating Fieldwork Requirements

1. Enroll in Fieldwork:
EDUR 6961 Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching
2. Enroll in TPA Tasks 3 and 4: Two zero-semester-hour courses with associated fees.
EDCE 5952 Teaching Performance Assessment Task 3, Assessing Learning
EDCE 5953 Teaching Performance Assessment Task 4, Culminating Teaching Experience

Additional Coursework Required for the Masters Degree

OPTION 1: Secondary Education

1. Choose one of the following courses and complete with a 3.0 or better:
EDUR 6100 Anthropological Analysis of Cultural Diversity
EDES 6103 Curriculum and Instructional Leadership
EDLA 6105 Assessment and Research Methodology
EDSS 6106 Human Development and Learning
2. Complete EDES 6995 Comprehensive Exam in Secondary Education: Fee required.

OPTION 2: Literacy and Language Arts

The Master of Arts in Literacy and Language Arts combined with the 2042 Preliminary Multiple Subjects or Single Subject Teaching Credential offers the opportunity for a graduate student to receive both a preliminary teaching credential and a Master of Arts degree. Candidates who initially applied for admission to the credential program only must add the Master of Arts degree prior to the pre-fieldwork assessment.

Program Requirements

1. All 2042 Preliminary Single Subject Teaching Credential courses
2. Additional Required Coursework
EDES 6355 Introduction to Reading Difficulties
EDES 6343 Diagnosis and Intervention in Reading Practicum I
3. Comprehensive Assessment: Candidates meet with the program director to discuss their timeline and enrollment in either the comprehensive exam or the thesis project series.
EDES 6995 Comprehensive Examination: Literacy (fee required)
or
Thesis Option (See program director for detailed course sequence)

Exit Interview

The candidate must schedule an exit interview with the Program Director/Assistant Director. The exit interview must be completed prior to submitting an application for a credential and Master of Arts degree.

Application for Credential

When all requirements have been completed, candidates must complete an application for a preliminary teaching credential (additional fee required, see SOE website for more information).

Application for Master of Arts Degree

Candidates must complete an application for a Master of Arts degree with the Office of the Registrar the semester prior to the completion of degree requirements.

2042 Single Subject Credential Only

This program is designed for intern/practitioner candidates who are only interested in seeking a credential. Candidates must complete all of the requirements detailed above for Provisional Admission, Formal Admission, Culminating Fieldwork Experience, Exit Interview and Application for Master's Degree.

Clear 2042 Single Subject Credential

Candidates have five years after obtaining their preliminary credential in which to complete the requirements for a professional clear credential. LMU offers an approved Professional 2042 Clear Credential Program for those teachers who do not have access to an induction program at their school site. See Professional 2042 Clear Teaching Credential in this Bulletin for more information.

Master of Arts (without Credential)

This program is designed for practitioners who do not successfully pass the CSET prior to enrollment in EDUR 6961 Portfolio and Assessment. Instead, candidates must complete all of the requirements detailed above for Provisional Admission, Formal Admission and Program Requirements.

OPTION 1: Secondary Education

1. Choose two of the following courses and complete with a 3.0 or better:
EDUR 6100 Anthropological Analysis of Cultural Diversity
EDES 6103 Curriculum and Instructional Leadership
EDLA 6105 Assessment and Research Methodology
EDSS 6106 Human Development and Learning
EDES 6995 Comprehensive Examination in Secondary Education (fee required)
2. Complete EDES 6995 Comprehensive Examination in Secondary Education: Fee required.

OPTION 2: Literacy and Language Arts

The Master of Arts in Literacy and Language Arts combined with the 2042 Preliminary Multiple Subjects or Single Subject Teaching Credential offers the opportunity for a graduate student to receive both a preliminary teaching credential and a Master of Arts degree. Candidates who initially applied for admission to the credential program only must add the Master of Arts degree prior to the pre-fieldwork assessment.

Program Requirements

1. All 2042 Preliminary Single Subject Teaching Credential courses.
2. Additional Required Coursework
EDES 6342 Diagnosing and Developing Literacy Skills
EDES 6343 Practicum in Diagnosing and Developing Literacy Skills
3. Comprehensive Assessment: Candidates meet with the program director to discuss their timeline and enrollment in either the comprehensive exam or the thesis project series.
EDES 6995 Comprehensive Exam: Literacy (fee required)
or
Thesis Option (See Program Director for detailed course sequence)

If the candidate successfully passes all sections of the CSET within 5 years or completes 100% of the required coursework from a 2042 approved program, the candidate can complete the credential by completing an exit interview with the Academic Program Director and submitting an application for a credential.

Introduction

The Department of Educational Leadership in the School of Education offers programs in Leadership and School Administration. Students may choose from credential and certificate programs, Master of Arts programs, and a doctorate in Educational Leadership for Social Justice.

Institute of School Leadership and Administration (ISLA)

Academic Program Director: TBD

Assistant Program Director: Sergio M. Pesqueira, Jr.

The Institute of School Leadership and Administration (ISLA) offers degrees, credentials, and certificates specializing in empowering moral, ethical leaders who respect differences, value reflective practice, understand change facilitation, build learning communities, and work effectively in diverse settings.

The Institute of School Leadership and Administration (ISLA) offers the following degree, credentials, and specialized certificates:

- Master of Arts in Administration
- Master of Arts in Catholic School Administration
- CA Preliminary Administrative Services Credential / Tier I
- Administrative Services Internship / Tier I
- Certificate in Catholic School Leadership
- Certificate in Charter School Leadership

NOTE: The State of California requires a minimum of five years of successful service in an authorized area under a valid base credential prior to applying for the Preliminary Administrative Services credential.

Cohort model is followed in all degree, credential, and certificate areas. A grade of "B" or higher is required for each course.

Certificate

School Administration and Leadership Certificate Programs

Learning Outcomes

Candidate will acquire the skills, knowledge, and dispositions to serve as an Educational Leader in California. There will be a strong emphasis on cultural and linguistic diversity, special education, the successful development of English Language Learners, and the parent-school relationship.

The Certificate in School Administration and Leadership are designed to recognize those candidates who have completed a 3 course sequence in the designated area of emphasis. Candidates will be prepared to develop and implement programs which will render additional, focused support to students, staff, parents, and school communities.

- Certificate in Charter School Leadership (11 semester hours)

Master of Arts in Educational Psychology, Education Specialist in School Psychology, Combined with a PPS Credential-School Psychology

The LMU School Psychology program is approved by both California (CTCC) and national (NASP) accrediting agencies. Program content is informed by the School of Education Conceptual Framework, and social justice is a strong emphasis of the program. Almost all courses have service learning assignments in which candidates learn and serve in schools and in the greater community. Field placements in the schools are required during year two (practicum) and year three (internship). Passing the Praxis exam in School Psychology at the program cutoff score (160) is required for graduation, and passing the exam at the national cutoff score (165) will result in candidates becoming Nationally Certified School Psychologists (NCSP). After two years in the schools, program graduates will qualify to sit for the Licensed Educational Psychologist (LEP) exam administered by the California Board of Behavioral Sciences.

An undergraduate major or minor in Psychology, or major in a closely related field is required for admission. Applicants whose undergraduate major is other than psychology may apply but are required to have completed 18 selected undergraduate semester hours (6 courses) in psychology before beginning the program.

Psychology Prerequisites:

Introduction to Psychology
Learning and Motivational Theories
Developmental Psychology
Statistics or Experimental Psychology

Plus two courses from the following areas:

Social Psychology
Abnormal Psychology
Personality Theory

This program admits as a cohort in the summer session II only. The application deadline for admissions is February 15.

For additional information about the School Psychology program and admission information, please visit the SOE website or contact the School of Education at soeinfo@lmu.edu for an admission packet.

The items below should be submitted in one complete packet to the Graduate Division, unless otherwise noted:

1. A complete Graduate Division application, submitted online using the University's application system.
2. Two copies of official transcripts from all colleges/universities attended. These should be included in your complete application packet to the Graduate Division.

3. Completion of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). The requirement is waived for those who already possess a Master's degree from an accredited university.
4. Completed and signed Technology Requirement Form.
5. A Statement of Intent, attached to your online application. The prompts to address are included in the School Psychology application packet.
6. Three letters of recommendation. At least one of these should be from a practicing school psychologist, Director of Psychological Services, Director of Pupil Personnel Services, or licensed psychologist familiar with the role of a School Psychologist.
7. Certificate of Clearance (COC): Completion of fingerprint clearance (Livescan) must occur prior to formal admission and enrollment in classes. Instructions on how to complete this process are included in the School Psychology application packet.

After the complete application has been received, it will be reviewed by the School Psychology Admissions Committee to determine the applicant pool for the next step: a 1-hour group interview that will take place in early March. Participation in this group interview is mandatory for admission. Candidates selected for admission will be notified by no later than the end of March. A commitment to attend is expected by April 15, with a non-refundable commitment deposit that will be applied to candidate's tuition.

After being admitted to the School Psychology program, candidates must fulfill several post-admission requirements.

Formal Admissions Requirements

1. Pass all 3 sections of the CBEST no later than the end of the first semester in the program.
2. Receive CTC Certificate of Clearance by the end of the first semester. Instructions on how to complete this process are included in the School Psychology application packet.

The PPS credential in School Psychology is only available to those concurrently enrolled in the School Psychology M.A. and Ed.S. program, and passing the Comprehensive Examination (ETS Praxis II Series, School of Psychology).

Counseling, M.A.

Learning Outcomes

Aligned with the School of Education's Conceptual Framework, Mission Statement, and Goals, and the Department of Educational Support Services candidate goals, the Counseling Program's goals are to prepare candidates that:

- Respond positively to issues of diversity;
- Educate to help insure the success of all;
- Advocate for all pupils to have access to counseling services; and,
- Lead and work collaboratively to help transform programs, practices, and institutions.

Master of Arts in Counseling

The Master of Arts in Counseling program prepares you to succeed as a counselor in diverse educational, community, private, and non-profit settings. This is a 60-semester-hour program designed for those who intend to pursue Licensed Professional Clinical Counselor (LPCC) certification. Graduates of the MA in Counseling Program are eligible to apply to the Board of Behavioral Sciences (BBS) for Professional Clinical Counselor Intern (PCCI) status. As a PCCI, you would then complete 3,000 hours of work and pass 2 national exams to receive LPCC status. There are 4 specialization options for LPCC eligibility:

School Counseling: For candidates who desire to work in a K–12 school setting. You will gain experiences that include individual counseling, group and educational counseling, career and college counseling, teacher consultation, and prevention programming. The completion of this specialization will also result in eligibility to receive a Pupil Personnel Services Credential for the State of California. This program is approved by the State of California Commission on Teacher Credentialing and the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Community Mental Health Counseling: For candidates who desire to work in a community mental health settings or outpatient hospital settings. You will gain experiences offering mental health counseling to clients from a variety of age groups and presenting with a variety of clinical issues. Additional experiences may include group counseling, assessment, and family counseling.

Multicultural and Social Justice Counseling: For candidates who are interested in gaining experiences in counseling settings that offer traditional (e.g., individual mental health counseling) and nontraditional counseling services (e.g., homeless shelter, domestic violence shelter, group home). In addition, students in this specialization track are more likely to aspire to work for a nonprofit agency.

Doctoral Preparatory: For candidates who are interested in obtaining a Master's degree that will prepare them for a doctoral program. Students will gain experiences (e.g., doctoral application strategies, applied counseling and psychotherapy research, etc.) aimed to facilitate their acceptance to a doctoral program in professional psychology.

Admission Requirements

1. Completion of the Graduate Division application form, submitted directly to the Graduate Admissions Office.

2. Two official copies of transcripts from all colleges/universities attended, sent directly to the Graduate Admissions Office.
3. Cumulative undergraduate GPA of 3.0; or a 3.05 GPA in the last 60 semester hours of undergraduate course work taken or a 3.0 GPA in at least 9 semester hours of graduate level coursework is required. An appeal may be made to the Exceptions Committee.
4. A letter of application (intent) to the Academic Program Director in which the following issues are addressed:
 - a. Why the applicant wants to be a counselor;
 - b. characteristics the applicant possesses that he or she thinks will make him/her an effective counselor;
 - c. the applicant's commitment towards preparing himself/herself to be an effective counselor (e.g., devote the required time to an internship; become active in related professional organizations); and
 - d. a summary of experience with culturally diverse individuals.
5. Two letters of recommendation. Forms may be accessed in the online application.
6. Certificate of Clearance (COC): Completion of fingerprint clearance (Livescan) process through the Department of Justice (DOJ) and FBI must occur prior to enrollment in first semester classes. Fingerprint applications are available on the School of Education website.
7. Interview and approval by Academic Program Director or Assistant Director.
8. After steps 1–7 above have been completed, the candidate's file will be reviewed for provisional or controlled admission. Under these designations, candidates are able to enroll in their first semester of coursework.
9. Completion of the CBEST no later than the end of the first semester of enrollment and before fieldwork assignment. The CBEST is not required for those students pursuing the Master degree without the PPS credential. Intern candidates must pass CBEST prior to beginning the internship program.
10. Signed Candidate Disposition Forms from two full-time faculty members in the School of Education with whom the candidate has had courses are required before a candidate is granted Formal Admission.
11. All entering candidates should first enroll in EDSS 6391 Foundations of Counseling. Candidates will be reviewed for formal acceptance upon completion of this course and steps 1–10 above.
12. Basic Computer Skills: All applicants must verify that they have basic computer skills that are necessary for success in the School of Education. Applicants may either verify their skills by signing a self-verification form provided by the School of Education or take EDUX 846, Basic Computer Skills of Educators, during their first year.
13. Prior to beginning fieldwork, candidates must verify 100 clock hours in a "practica" experience (e.g., shadowing a counselor, observing classroom instruction, attending school-based meetings, peer counseling, personal or group counseling experiences). Eighty of these hours are accumulated in the required course work.

Master of Arts in School Counseling

The Master of Arts in School Counseling program is a 48-semester-hour combined degree/credential program. It is designed for candidates who plan to serve as School Counselors in a California K–12 public or private school setting. As a combined program, it incorporates the required courses and fieldwork experiences mandated by the California CTC for the Pupil Personnel Services (PPS) credential. As such, candidates in this program do not pursue other specializations. Graduates of this program are eligible to apply for the California PPS credential but not for the licensure as an LPCC.

The program leading to the School Counseling credential is approved by the State of California Commission on Teacher Credentialing and the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education.

- U.S. Constitution Requirement: Candidates may satisfy the U.S. Constitution requirement in one of the following ways:
 - Taking one of the following LMU courses: HIST 198 upon approval or POLS 135;
 - Completing an equivalent course at another institution. The course must be approved by the School of Education Admissions Coordinator. Candidates must present a course syllabus and course description;
 - Passing the U.S. Constitution Exam online at usconstitutionexam.com
- CSET: Candidates must submit official passing score report to the Academic Advisor. Students who have not taken the CSET, must submit their CSET registration as proof of their intent to take the CSET.
- Disposition Form: Signed Candidate Disposition Forms two faculty members in the School of Education with whom the candidate has had courses has had courses are required before a candidate is granted Formal Admission.

Benchmark (2,3) Review Committee: After all the steps outlined above have been completed, the candidates' file will be submitted to the Benchmark (2,3) Review Committee for review. It is the candidates' responsibility to ensure that all items have been completed, including the resolution of any incomplete grades received in any courses. Candidates will be notified of the committee's decision in writing.

Field Experiences

Students in the Education Specialist: Mild/Moderate Credential program choose one of three routes to the credential/Master of Arts Degree.

Note: During the program, if a traditional candidate changes to the intern track as a full-time teacher, the candidate must meet all the requirements of the intern candidate as state below, including four semesters of fieldwork, beginning when the candidate is issued an intern credential.

Traditional Candidates

Candidates following this path will complete all coursework before beginning their field experiences as student teachers. LMU will facilitate the candidates' placement as student teachers. All prerequisite requirements apply to the candidate choosing the traditional route.

University Intern Candidates

A candidate following this path is employed full-time at a public school in a district that has a partnership with LMU. The candidate takes courses while teaching full-time. This employment status, along with the required seminars and additional supervision in the classroom provided through LMU, fulfills the field requirements of the credential.

Candidates seek out their own employment as Interns unless the candidates are in a cohort program where placement is facilitated through the program (e.g., Teach for America). Interns must be employed to teach at least 60% in the area of the credential, and the contract must state that the teacher is contracted to teach in the area in which the candidate is seeking a credential.

It is necessary that the student complete the program pre-service requirement and hold a University Intern credential in order to be enrolled in the Intern program. University Intern credentials are issued for new placements at the beginning of the fall semester only.

Candidates must submit a Verification of Employment form, signed by the School District that holds a partnership agreement with Loyola Marymount University.

Teacher Practitioner Candidates

Elementary and Secondary Education Undergraduate Program

Introduction

The Department of Elementary and Secondary Education offers a variety of credential and graduate programs that emphasize the preparation of excellent teachers to educate the culturally and linguistically diverse populations in K–12 public or private schools. Accredited by the National Council for the Education of Teacher Education and the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing, we provide professional preparation in research-based exemplary practices that include the requisite knowledge, skills, and dispositions required to ensure equity and excellence in education. As a result of our Masters and credential program, graduates are highly regarded by their colleagues and leaders in the schools, districts, and communities in which they work. Teacher preparation and professional development options in the Department promote and respond to the Jesuit and Marymount traditions and correspond to the core tenets of the School of Education's Conceptual Framework.

Learning Outcomes

In accordance with the Mission and Goals of the School of Education, the Elementary and Secondary Education programs strive to work collaboratively in a student-centered environment to be professionals who act to value and respect all individuals, promote social justice, promote cultural responsiveness, integrate theory and practice, develop moral, intellectual, responsible, and caring leaders and to collaborate and share leadership across communities.

Programs also strive to be, and to educate professionals to be, educators who: Respect and value all individuals and communities; Educate by integrating theory and practice; Advocate for access to a socially just education; and Lead in order to facilitate transformation.

For additional information, please refer to the School of Education Mission and Goal Statements.

Exit Interview

The candidate must schedule an exit interview with the Program Director or Assistant Director. The exit interview must be completed prior to submitting an application for a credential and/or Master of Arts degree.

Application Process for the Preliminary Multiple Subject Credential

When all requirements have been completed successfully, candidates must complete the Credential Application through the School of Education to the Commission on Teacher Credentialing, State of California (additional fee required; see website for more information).

Application for Master of Arts Degree

Candidates must complete an application for a Master of Arts degree with the Office of the Registrar the semester prior to the completion of degree requirements. Please follow up with the Office of the Registrar for commencement participation.

Professional 2042 Clear Teaching Credential

A student has five years after obtaining the preliminary credential to complete the requirements for the professional clear credential. This Clear Credential is intended for Catholic and private school teachers who do not have access to a district induction program. For more information, see the section on the Professional 2042 Clear Teaching Credential.

Elementary Education Intern or Teacher Practitioner Program

Master of Arts in Elementary Education with a Preliminary 2042 Multiple Subjects Credential

The combined Multiple Subject Preliminary Credential and Master of Arts in Elementary Education program is designed for graduate students who are currently contracted to teach in grades K–5 or any self-contained classroom in grades 6–8 in either public or private schools. A student successfully completing the program is eligible to receive a Master of Arts in Elementary Education as well as be able to apply for a California Preliminary Multiple Subject Credential. Application and admissions procedures vary based on the selected cohort program.

Intern Credential Requirements

Eligibility for the Intern Credential is determined by the following guidelines set forth by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CTC):

- Original approved Basic Skills Proficiency examination score report with passing score
- Original CSET score report with passing score
- Verification the U.S. Constitution requirement has been met
- Undergraduate degree posted on official transcripts
- Verification of employment
- Two-year academic program
- Certificate of Clearance (fingerprint application and fee)
- Application for credential and fee

Once candidates have satisfied the above guidelines, an application for the intern credential is available through the Program Director or Department Chair. Please schedule an appointment with the Program Director of Department Chair. The California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CTC) is responsible for the awarding of the University Intern Credential.

Intern Candidate: A candidate following this path is employed full-time at a public school in a district that has a partnership with LMU. The candidate takes courses while teaching full-time. This employment status, along with additional supervision in the classroom provided through LMU, fulfills the field requirements of the credential. Candidates seek out their own employment as Interns unless the candidates are in a cohort program where placement is facilitated through the program (e.g., Teach for America). The Intern must be employed to teach at least 60% in the area of the credential, and the contract must state that the teacher is contracted to teach in the subject/grade in which the candidate is seeking a credential. It is necessary that the student hold a University Intern credential in order to be enrolled in the Intern program.

Teacher Practitioner Candidate: Teacher practitioner candidates are employed full-time at a private or Catholic school. The candidates take courses while teaching full-time. This employment status, along with additional supervision in the classroom provided through LMU, fulfills the requirements of the credential. There is an additional requirement of 60 observation hours in a public school setting required to meet the credential requirements (see Program Director for details). Candidates seek out their own employment as a Teacher Practitioner unless the candidate is part of a cohort program (e.g., Partners in Los Angeles Catholic Education—PLACE; Los Angeles) where placement is facilitated through the cohort program. The teacher practitioner must be employed to teach at least 60% in the subject/grade of the credential.

Provisional Admission Requirements

All requirements must be met to be eligible for an admissions interview. All application requirements must be met.

1. Verification of Employment: Candidates must submit a signed Verification of Employment form. The candidate must be employed by a School District that holds a partnership agreement with Loyola Marymount University.
2. CSET: Must submit official passing score report to the Academic Advisor (Intern Candidates only)
3. Interview with the Program Director: Upon submission of all application requirements, applicant will be contacted for an interview.

Formal Admission Requirements

1. Program Advising: All candidates must meet with the Program Director to complete a course sequence and receive program information.
2. Prerequisite Courses: Candidates must complete the following courses with a grade of “B” (3.0) or better:

EDCE 5970	Fieldwork 1
EDCE 5971	Fieldwork 2
EDES 6200	Elementary School Curriculum and Methods
EDUR 6960	Introduction to Teaching and Learning

Candidates must complete two of the following four courses with a grade of “B” (3.0) or better:

EDUR 5000	Cultural Paradigms of Education
EDES 5001	Applied Educational Psychology for the Childhood and Adolescent Years
EDES 5003	Theories and Policies of Second Language Acquisition
EDSS 6001	Teaching Culturally/Linguistically Diverse Students with Exceptional Needs
3. Disposition Rubric Score: Candidate chooses a professor of one of the four pre-requisite courses to complete the Disposition Rubric and submits the score to the Academic Advisor.
4. Professional Advising: Candidate schedules an appointment with the Academic Program Director/Assistant Director.

Teacher Admission and Advisory Committee (TAAC) Review

After the requirements for provisional and formal admission have been completed, the candidate’s file will be submitted to TAAC for review. It is the candidate’s responsibility to ensure that all items have been completed, including the resolution of any Incomplete grades received in the prerequisite courses. Candidates will be notified of the committee’s decision in writing.

Note: All documents become property of the University and will not be released to any person or institute unless required by law.

2. TPA Tasks 3 and 4:
Two zero semester hour courses with associated fees.

EDCE 5952	Teaching Performance Assessment Task 3, Assessing Learning 0 semester hours
EDCE 5953	Teaching Performance Assessment Task 4, Culminating Teaching Experience 0 semester hours

Additional Coursework Required for the Master of Arts Degree

OPTION 1: Elementary Education

Choose one of the following courses and complete with a 3.0 or better:

- | | |
|-----------|--|
| EDUR 6100 | Anthropological Analysis of Cultural Diversity 3 semester hours |
|-----------|--|

- EDES 6103 Curriculum and Instructional Leadership 3 semester hours
- EDLA 6105 Assessment and Research Methodology 3 semester hours
- EDSS 6106 Human Development and Learning
- Complete EDUR 6995 Comprehensive Exam in Elementary Education:
Fee required.

OPTION 2: Literacy and Language Arts

The Master of Arts in Literacy and Language Arts combined with the 2042 Preliminary Multiple Subjects or Single Subject Teaching Credential offers the opportunity for a graduate student to receive both a preliminary teaching credential and a Master of Arts degree. Candidates who initially applied for admission to the credential program only must add the Master of Arts degree prior to the pre-fieldwork assessment.

Program Requirements

- All 2042 Preliminary Multiple Subjects Teaching Credential courses
- Additional Required Coursework
 - EDES 6355 Introduction to Reading Difficulties 3 semester hours
 - EDES 6356 Diagnosis and Intervention in Reading—Practicum I 3 semester hours
- Comprehensive Assessment:

Candidates meet with the program director to discuss their timeline and enrollment in either the comprehensive exam or the thesis project series.

 - EDES 6995 Comprehensive Examination 0 semester hours (fee required) Literacy or Thesis Option

Note: (See program director for detailed course sequence)

Exit Interview:

The candidate must schedule an exit interview with the Academic Program Director. The exit interview must be completed prior to submitting an application for a credential and Master of Arts degree.

Application for Credential:

When all requirements have been completed, candidates must complete an application for a preliminary teaching credential (additional fee required, see SOE website for more information).

Reading Instruction Competence Assessment (RICA):

After completing EDSS 6201 Foundations of Elementary Literacy Instruction, candidates are required to take, pass, and submit an original score report of the RICA to the School of Education prior to the completion of their student teaching.

Application for Master of Arts Degree:

When all requirements have been completed, candidates must complete an application for a Master's degree with the Office of the Registrar.

Clear 2042 Multiple Subjects Credential

Candidates have five years after obtaining their preliminary credential in which to complete the requirements for a professional clear credential. LMU offers an approved Professional 2042 Clear Credential Program for those teachers who do not have access to an induction program at their school site. See Professional 2042 Clear Teaching Credential in the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education in this Bulletin for more information.

Practitioner: Master of Arts without credential

This program is designed for practitioners who do not successfully pass the CSET prior to EDUR 6961 Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching. Instead, candidates must complete all of the requirements detailed above for Provisional Admission, Formal Admission and Student Teaching requirements. Culminating Fieldwork Experience and Additional Coursework Required for the Master of Arts Degree are replaced with the following:

OPTION 1: Elementary Education

- Choose two of the following courses and complete with a 3.0 or better:
 - EDUR 6100 Anthropological Analysis of Cultural Diversity 3 semester hours
 - EDES 6103 Curriculum and Instructional Leadership 3 semester hours
 - EDLA 6105 Assessment and Research Methodology 3 semester hours
 - EDSS 6106 Human Development and Learning
- Note: Students in specialized cohort programs may take an Education elective selected by the Program Director or Department Chair.
- Complete:
 - EDES 6995 Comprehensive Examination 0 semester hours in Elementary Education: Fee required

OPTION 2: Literacy and Language Arts

Program Requirements

- All 2042 Preliminary Single Subject Teaching Credential courses
- Additional Required Coursework
 - EDES 6355 Introduction to Reading Difficulties 3 semester hours
 - EDES 6356 Diagnosis and Intervention in Reading—Practicum I 3 semester hours
- Comprehensive Assessment:

Candidates meet with the program director to discuss their timeline and enrollment in either the comprehensive exam or the thesis project series.

 - EDES 6995 Comprehensive Examination 0 semester hours (fee required) Literacy or Thesis Option (See Program Director for detailed course sequence).

Note: Thesis Option (See Program Director for detailed course sequence). If the candidate successfully passes all sections of the CSET within 5 years, the candidate can complete the credential by completing an exit interview with the Program Director and submitting an application for a credential.

Exit Interview

The candidate must schedule an exit interview with the Program Director/Assistant Director. The exit interview must be completed prior to submitting an application for a credential and Master of Arts degree.

Application for Credential

When all requirements have been completed, candidates must complete an application for a preliminary teaching credential (additional fee required, see SOE website for more information).

Application for Master of Art Degree

Candidates must complete an application for a Master of Arts degree with the Office of the Registrar the semester prior to the completion of degree requirements.

Professional 2042 Clear Teaching Credential

Program Director: Candace Poindexter

Assistant Director: Diane Fogarty

Office Location: University Hall 2600

The Professional 2042 Clear Credential Program is a one-year cohort program designed for candidates who hold a 2042 Preliminary Credential, are currently teaching full-time, and do not have access to a state approved induction program at their school sites. This program leads toward the Professional Clear 2042 Teaching Credential granted by the State of California Commission on Teacher Credentialing. The Professional 2042 Clear Credential Program coursework may be combined with graduate coursework to complete the following Master of Arts degrees: Elementary, Secondary, or Literacy Education. Application Deadline: Applications for the Professional 2042 Clear Credential Program are due June 15. Candidates will only be admitted to begin coursework during the Fall semester of each academic year.

Formal Admission Requirements

Documentation should be submitted to the Graduate Division:

1. Grade Point Average: The GPA requirement may be met in one of the following ways: an undergraduate cumulative GPA of 2.8 or higher; GPA of 2.85 or higher in the last 60 units of the applicant's undergraduate degree; GPA of 3.0 or higher in nine units of graduate coursework.
2. Verification of the Unavailability of a State of California Commission of on Teacher Credentialing Approved Induction Program: This program is only available to candidates who do not have access to an approved induction program. Eligible applicants must submit a completed form signed by the school/district where they are employed, releasing them to participate in the Professional 2042 Clear Credential Program.
3. Valid California 2042 Preliminary Teaching Credential: Applicants must submit a copy of their valid California 2042 Preliminary Teaching Credential.
4. Graduate Division Application and Application Fee: Applicants must submit an application for admission, two recommendation forms, the Candidate Information Sheet and the application fee. The application fee is waived for LMU Alumni.
5. Verification of Employment or Intent to Hire: Applicants must submit a completed form signed by their principal verifying employment for the duration of advanced coursework in the Professional 2042 Clear Credential Program.
6. Transcripts: If applicants have earned a Master of Arts degree, official transcripts must be submitted with the degree posted. Applicants that have earned units beyond a Bachelor's degree, official transcripts from any and all institutions where courses have been taken must be submitted. For applicants that have recently completed an academic program in the School of Education, this requirement may be waived.
7. Statement of Intent: Applicants must write a 3–5 page essay describing the way in which their experiences, qualities, and goals reflect the School of Education's motto-REAL (Respect, Educate, Advocate, Lead). For a complete explanation of REAL see the School of Education website, <http://soe.lmu.edu>. This requirement is waived for LMU alumni returning after an absence of less than one year.
8. Professional 2042 Clear Credential Program Contract: A contract committing applicants to complete the advanced coursework in one year may be submitted along with the application materials. Applicants signing the Professional 2042 Clear Credential contract are eligible for a grant applied towards tuition.
9. Additional Units Plan of Action Form: Applicants must complete this form to clarify how they will obtain the additional units beyond their Bachelor's degree required to clear their credential. Applicants must have a total of 30 units beyond their Bachelor's degree to clear their credential. (See Master of Arts in Literacy Education section.)
10. Interview with the Program Director/Assistant Director: Following submission of all materials to the Graduate Division, the applicant will be contacted to schedule an interview with the Director of the Professional 2042 Clear Credential Program.

Upon completing the interview, the candidate's application is submitted to the Associate Dean for review and recommendation. Once a recommendation is made, the candidate will receive written correspondence from the School of Education and Graduate Admissions explaining their admission status. The candidate is notified of their admission status approximately two weeks after completing their admission interview with the Academic Program Director/Assistant Director.

Professional 2042 Clear Credential Advanced Coursework

After being formally admitted to the Professional 2042 Clear Credential Program, candidates will complete the following courses:

- | | |
|-----------|--|
| EDES 6080 | Advance Course 1: Special Populations, English Language Learners, Health, and Technology

Master of Arts in Secondary Education with a Preliminary 2042 Single Subject Credential

The combined Single Subject Preliminary Credential and Master of Arts in Secondary Education program is designed for graduate students who are seeking teaching positions in grades 9–12, or in 6–8 school settings that require teachers to teach in departments (Traditional Secondary Candidate) or students who are currently contracted to teach in grades 9–12, or in 6–8 school settings that require teachers to teach in departments (Intern/Practitioner Secondary Candidate). A student successfully completing this program will be eligible to receive a Master of Arts in Secondary Education as well as be able to apply for a California Preliminary Single Subject Credential.

The following Single Subject Preliminary credentials are offered through the School of Education:

- Art
- Biology
- Chemistry
- Earth Science
- English
- Mathematics
- Social Science
- Spanish

Program Goals

1. Candidate will engage and support all students in learning.
2. Candidate will create and maintain effective environments for student learning.
3. Candidate will understand and organize subject matter for student learning.
4. Candidate will plan instruction and design learning experiences for all students.
5. Candidate will assess student learning.
6. Candidate will develop as a professional educator.

Provisional Admission Requirements for Master of Arts and/or Credential

Secondary Education requires the following for provisional admission:

1. Attendance at an Information Session (for Credential Candidates Only) Please contact the Director of Student Recruitment at soeinfo@lmu.edu for more information or to RSVP.
2. Submission of Graduate Application and Application Fee Applicants will receive the complete application packet and instructions at the information session.
3. Candidate Information Sheet Applicants must submit the Candidate Information Sheet with the complete application packet.
4. Statement of Intent Applicants must write a 3–5 page essay describing how their experiences, qualities, and goals reflect the School of Education's motto-REAL (Respect, Educate, Advocate, Lead). For additional information on REAL, see <http://soe.lmu.edu>. The Statement of Intent should be included with the application.
5. Letters of Recommendation Applicants must submit three letters of recommendation. At least one letter must verify the applicant's experience and familiarity with the age group appropriate to the candidate's interest.
6. Grade Point Average (GPA) Requirement A cumulative undergraduate GPA of 2.8 or higher or a GPA of 2.85 or higher in the last 60 units of the applicant's undergraduate degree or a GPA of 3.0 or higher obtained in 9 units of graduate work. Students who do not meet this requirement may be recommended to the Exceptions Committee by the Academic Program Director.
7. Transcripts Applicants must submit two sets of official transcripts with their bachelor's degree posted. If applicants are in the process of completing the degree at the time of application, they must submit official transcripts with the degree posted by the start of registration for the following semester. Candidates who have attended more than one college or university must submit two sets of official transcripts from each college/university attended.
8. Observation/Volunteer Hours Plan of Action Candidates must complete at least 20 hours of experience working with culturally diverse youths in the required age level for the program (secondary, 13–19 years of age).
9. Basic Skills Proficiency Requirements All Single (Secondary) Subjects applicants must meet the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing requirements for basic skills. An official passing score on the CBEST examination is required to demonstrate proficiency in basic skills.
10. Subject Matter Competency Test (CSET) Plan of Action Candidates must demonstrate mastery of the required subject matter by passing the appropriate subject matter exam (CSET). Candidates will provide a written Plan of Action stating when the CSET will be taken. Candidates must provide an original passing score report to the School of Education. Candidates may provide a letter verifying 100% completion of the subject matter coursework from a 2042 approved program.

11. Certificate of Clearance (COC) The application for fingerprint clearance (also known as Live Scan) should be completed online. Official results of the Certificate of Clearance must be received by the Credential Office prior to enrolling in education courses. All fees associated with the fingerprint clearance application must be included with the application to the Credential Office and are the responsibility of the student.
12. Tuberculin Test Candidates must submit an official copy of their tuberculin skin test results, given within one year.
13. Technology Requirement Candidates may satisfy the technology requirement by either completing a self-verification form or verifying the completion of an approved 2042 course through another institution. Candidates must register for LiveText during the first prerequisite course. The e-Portfolio fee is assessed during the first semester of enrollment.
14. Interview with the Program Director/Assistant Director Following the review of the complete application packet, the candidate will be contacted to schedule an admissions interview with the Academic Program Director/Assistant Director. Upon completing the interview, the candidate's application is submitted to the Associate Dean for review and recommendation. Once a recommendation is made, the candidate will receive written correspondence from the School of Education and Graduate Admissions explaining the admission status. Candidates are notified of their admission status approximately two weeks after completing their admission interview with the Academic Program Director/Assistant Director.
15. Admission Status Candidates are admitted on either Controlled or Provisional status to the appropriate Education Master of Arts and/or Credential Program.
16. Advisement Immediately upon being either Controlled or Provisionally admitted, the student must schedule an appointment with the Academic Advisor.

Academic Advising: All candidates are expected to meet with the Academic Advisor once a semester. Candidates are advised on appropriate course sequence and program information.

Professional Advising: All candidates are recommended to meet with the Professional Advisor (Program Director/Assistant Director) once a semester. Candidates will discuss academic course progress, career plans and goals, dispositional issues and other issues related to the teaching profession.

Formal Admission Requirements for Master of Arts and/or Credential

Review by the Teacher Admission and Advisory Committee (TAAC): After the requirements for formal admission, outlined below, have been completed, the candidate will apply to the Teacher Admission and Advisory Committee (TAAC) for Formal Admission review. The Academic Advisor will facilitate the application process. It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that all items have been completed and submitted, including the resolution of any Incomplete grades received in the prerequisite courses. Candidates will be notified of the Committee's decision in writing. All documents become property of the University and will not be released to any person or institution unless required by law.

EDCE 5951	Teaching Performance Assessment Task 2, Subject Designing Instruction 0 semester hours

Exit Interview

The candidate must schedule an exit interview with the Program Director or Assistant Director. The exit interview must be completed prior to submitting an application for a credential and/or Master of Arts degree.

Application Process for the Preliminary Single Subject Credential

When all requirements have been completed successfully, candidates must complete a credential application through the School of Education to the Commission on Teacher Credentialing, State of California (additional fee required; see website for more information).

Application for Master of Arts Degree

Candidates must complete an application for a Master of Arts degree with the Office of the Registrar the semester prior to the completion of degree requirements. Please follow up with the Office of the Registrar for commencement participation.

Professional 2042 Clear Teaching Credential

A student has five years after obtaining the preliminary credential to complete the requirements for the professional clear credential. This Clear Credential is intended for Catholic and private school teachers who do not have access to a district induction program. For more information, see the following section on the Professional 2042 Clear Teaching Credential.

Secondary Education Intern or Teacher Practitioner Program

Master of Arts in Secondary Education with a Preliminary 2042 Single Subject Credential

The combined Single Subject Preliminary Credential and Master of Arts in Secondary Education program is designed for graduate students who are seeking teaching positions in grades 9–12, or in 6–8 school settings that require teachers to teach in departments (Traditional Secondary Candidate) or students who are currently contracted to teach in grades 9–12, or in 6–8 school settings that require teachers to teach in departments (Intern/Practitioner Secondary Candidate). A student successfully completing this program will be eligible to receive a Master of Arts in Secondary Education as well as be able to apply for a California Preliminary Single Subject Credential.

The following Single Subject Preliminary credentials are offered through the School of Education:

- Art
- Biology
- Chemistry
- Physical Education (Dance)
- Earth Science
- English
- French
- Mathematics
- Physics
- Social Science
- Spanish

Intern/Practitioner Candidates

Intern Candidate: A candidate following this path is employed full-time at a public school in a district that has a partnership with LMU. The candidate takes courses while teaching full-time. This employment status, along with additional coaching in the classroom provided through LMU, fulfills the field requirements of the credential. Candidates seek out their own employment as interns unless the candidates are in a cohort program where placement is facilitated through the program (e.g., Teach for America). The intern must be employed to teach at least 60% in the area of the credential, and the contract must state that the teacher is contracted to teach in the subject/grade in which the candidate is seeking a credential.

It is necessary that the student hold a University intern credential in order to be enrolled in the intern program.

University Intern Credential Requirements

Eligibility for the University Intern Credential is determined by the following guidelines set forth by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC):

1. Original CBEST score report with passing score
2. Original CSET score report with passing score
3. Verification the U.S. Constitution requirement has been met
4. Undergraduate degree posted on official transcripts
5. Verification of employment
6. 2-year academic program completion plan
7. Certificate of Clearance (fingerprint application and fee)
8. Application for credential and fee

Once candidates have satisfied the above guidelines, an application for the intern credential is available through the Program Director or Department Chair. The California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC) is responsible for the awarding of the University Intern Credential.

Teacher Practitioner Candidates: Teacher practitioner candidates are employed full-time at a private or Catholic school. The candidates take courses while teaching full-time. This employment status, along with additional supervision in the classroom provided through LMU, fulfills the requirements of the credential. There is an additional requirement of 60 observation hours in a public school setting required to meet the credential requirements (see Academic Program Advisor for details). Candidates seek out their own employment as a Teacher Practitioner unless the candidate is enrolled in a cohort program (e.g., PLACE) where placement is facilitated through the cohort program. The teacher practitioner must be employed to teach at least 60% in the subject/grade of the credential.

Provisional Admission Requirements

1. Verification of Employment: Candidates must submit a signed Verification of Employment form. The candidate must be employed by a School District that holds a partnership agreement with Loyola Marymount University.
2. Subject Matter Competency (for Intern Candidates only): Candidates must demonstrate mastery of the required subject matter by either passing the appropriate California Subject Exam Test (CSET) OR by completing a 2042 approved subject matter program. Either option needs to be completed and verified prior to enrollment in EDUR 6961 Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching and TPA 3 and TPA 4.
 - CSET Option: Candidates will provide a written statement documenting when the CSET will be taken. Candidates must provide an original passing score report to the School of Education prior to enrollment in EDUR 6961 Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching and TPA 3 and TPA 4.
 - 2042 Approved Subject Matter Program: Candidates must complete a 2042 approved Subject Matter Program. Candidates must provide a written statement on when the subject matter coursework will be completed. Candidates will provide a letter verifying 100% completion of the subject matter requirement prior to enrollment in EDUR 6961 Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching and TPA 3 and TPA 4.
3. Interview with the Elementary/Secondary Academic Program Director/Assistant Director: Upon submission of all application requirements, applicant will be contacted for an interview.
4. Advisement: Immediately upon being provisionally admitted, the student must schedule an appointment with the Program Director or Department Chair.

Formal Admission Requirements

1. Academic Advising: All candidates must meet with the Program Director to complete a course sequence.
2. Prerequisite Courses: Candidates must complete the following courses with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better:
 - EDCE 5970 Fieldwork 1
 - EDCE 5971 Fieldwork 2

EDUR 6960	Introduction to Teaching and Learning Candidates must complete two of the following four courses with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better:
EDLC 5000	Cultural Paradigms of Education
EDES 5001	Applied Educational Psychology for the Childhood and Adolescent Years
EDLC 5003	Theories of Second Language Acquisition
EDSS 6001	Teaching Culturally/Linguistically Diverse Students with Exceptional Needs

Candidates must complete one of the following courses, depending on subject emphasis of the credential:

EDES 5251	Methods in Teaching Secondary Languages Other Than English
EDES 5252	Methods in Teaching Secondary Social Studies
EDES 5253	Methods in Teaching Secondary English
EDES 5254	Methods in Teaching Secondary Science
EDES 5255	Methods in Teaching Secondary Math
EDES 5256	Methods in Teaching Secondary Art

- Disposition Rubric Score: Candidate chooses a professor of one of the four pre-requisite courses to complete the Disposition Rubric and submits the score to the Program Advisor.
- Professional Advising: Candidate schedules an appointment with Academic Program Director/Assistant Director.
- Teacher Admission and Advisory Committee (TAAC) Review: After the requirements for provisional and formal admission have been completed, the candidate's file will be submitted to TAAC for review. It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that all items have been completed, including the resolution of any Incomplete grades received in the prerequisite courses. Candidates will be notified of the committee's decision in writing.

Note: All documents become property of the University and will not be released to any person or institution unless required by law.

Program Requirements

- Candidates will need to complete the remaining courses with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better prior to enrolling in EDUR 6961, TPA 3, and TPA 4:

EDUR 5000	Cultural Paradigms of Education 3 semester hours
EDES 5001	Applied Educational Psychology for the Childhood and Adolescent Years 3 semester hours
EDES 5003	Theories and Policies of Second Language Acquisition 3 semester hours
EDSS 6001	Teaching Culturally/Linguistically Diverse Students with Exceptional Needs 3 semester hours

Complete both of the following courses with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better:

EDCE 5951	Teaching Performance Assessment Task 2, Subject Designing Instruction 0 semester hours
- Health Education for Educators:
Candidates may satisfy the Health Education requirement in one of the following ways:
 - successful completion of EDES 8000
 - successful completion of a 2042 approved course through another institution. It is recommended that the candidate obtain approval from the School of Education Credential Office prior to taking class. Official transcripts must be submitted as evidence of course completion.
- Professional Advising:
Schedule an appointment with the Program Director.

- Subject Matter Competency:
Submit to the Academic Advisor either
 - original score report verifying 100% successful completion of all elements of the CSET, OR
 - letter verifying 100% completion of the subject matter coursework from a 2042 approved program.
- Disposition Rubric Score:
The professor for EDES 6250 will submit a score to the Program Director.
- Fieldwork Application:
Candidates must complete the fieldwork application and violation affidavit with the Academic Advisor. They must then schedule an interview with the Coordinator of Clinical Education.
- Teacher Advisory Review Committee (TARC):
After all the steps outlined above have been completed, the candidate's file will be submitted to the Teacher Advisory Review Committee (TARC) for review. It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that all items have been completed, including the resolution of any Incomplete grades received in any courses. Candidates will be notified of the committee's decision in writing.

Culminating Fieldwork Requirements

- Enroll in Fieldwork:

EDUR 6961	Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching 3 semester hours
-----------	---
- Enroll in TPA Tasks 3 and 4:
Two zero semester hour courses with associated fees.

Exit Interview

The candidate must schedule an exit interview with the Program Director/Assistant Director. The exit interview must be completed prior to submitting an application for a credential and Master of Arts degree.

Application for Credential

When all requirements have been completed, candidates must complete an application for a preliminary teaching credential (additional fee required, see SOE website for more information).

Application for Master of Arts Degree

Candidates must complete an application for a Master of Arts degree with the Office of the Registrar the semester prior to the completion of degree requirements.

2042 Single Subject Credential Only

This program is designed for intern/practitioner candidates who are only interested in seeking a credential. Candidates must complete all of the requirements detailed above for Provisional Admission, Formal Admission, Culminating Fieldwork Experience, Exit Interview and Application for Master's Degree.

Clear 2042 Single Subjects Credential

Candidates have five years after obtaining their preliminary credential in which to complete the requirements for a professional clear credential. LMU offers an approved Professional 2042 Clear Credential Program for those teachers who do not have access to an induction program at their school site. See Professional 2042 Clear Teaching Credential in this Bulletin for more information.

Practitioner: Master of Arts without Credential

This program is designed for practitioners who do not successfully pass the CSET prior to enrollment in EDUR 6961 Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching. Instead, candidates must complete all of the requirements detailed above for Provisional Admission, Formal Admission and Program Requirements.

OPTION 1: Secondary Education

- Choose two of the following courses and complete with a 3.0 or better:

EDUR 6100	Anthropological Analysis of Cultural Diversity 3 semester hours
EDES 6103	Curriculum and Instructional Leadership 3 semester hours
EDLA 6105	Assessment and Research Methodology 3 semester hours
EDSS 6106	Human Development and Learning
EDES 6995	Comprehensive Examination 0 semester hours (fee required) in Secondary Education
- Complete EDES 6995 Comprehensive Exam in Secondary Education:
Fee required.

OPTION 2: Literacy and Language Arts

The Master of Arts in Literacy and Language Arts combined with the 2042 Preliminary Multiple Subjects or Single Subject Teaching Credential offers the opportunity for a graduate student to receive both a preliminary teaching credential and a Master of Arts degree. Candidates who initially applied for admission to the credential program only must add the Master of Arts degree prior to the pre-fieldwork assessment.

Program Requirements

- All 2042 Preliminary Single Subject Teaching Credential courses.
- Additional Required Coursework

EDES 6342	Diagnosing and Developing Literacy Skills
EDES 6343	Practicum in Diagnosing and Developing Literacy Skills
- Comprehensive Assessment:

Candidates meet with the program director to discuss their timeline and enrollment in either the comprehensive exam or the thesis project series.

- | | |
|-----------|--|
| EDES 6995 | Comprehensive Examination 0 semester hours (fee required) Literacy or Thesis Option (See Program Director for detailed course sequence) |
|-----------|--|

Note: If the candidate successfully passes all sections of the CSET within 5 years or completes 100% of the required coursework from a 2042 approved program, the candidate can complete the credential by completing an exit interview with the Academic Program Director and submitting an application for a credential.

Bilingual Elementary Education, M.A. with a Preliminary 2042 Multiple Subjects Credential

The Master of Arts program emphasizes the preparation of highly qualified elementary school teachers to conduct quality bilingual and intercultural education for a variety of student populations. This combined program fulfills all the requirements for the Master of Arts in Bilingual Education degree and the 2042 Multiple Subjects Preliminary Teaching Credential with a Bilingual Authorization in Spanish or Mandarin.

Candidates following this path will complete all coursework before beginning their culminating experience as student teachers. Candidates must successfully pass all components of the CBEST for formal admission in the 2042 credential. The School of Education will facilitate candidates' placement as student teachers. Placements must be completed in the subject or grade level that is authorized by the credential.

Program Goals

- Candidate will engage and support all students in learning.
- Candidate will create and maintain effective environments for student learning.
- Candidate will understand and organize subject matter for student learning.
- Candidate will plan instruction and design learning experiences for all students.
- Candidate will assess student learning.
- Candidate will develop as a professional educator.

After completing EDES 6201 (Foundations of Elementary Literacy Instruction), candidates are required to take, pass, and submit an original score report of the RICA to the School of Education prior the completion of their student teaching.

Intern/Practitioner Candidates

University Intern: A candidate following this path is employed full-time at a public school in a district that has a partnership with LMU. The candidate takes courses while teaching full-time. This employment status, along with additional supervision in the classroom provided through LMU, fulfills the fieldwork requirements of the credential. Candidates seek out their own employment as an Intern unless the candidate is part of a cohort program where placement is facilitated through the program. The Intern must be employed to teach at least 60% in the area of the credential, and the contract must state that the teacher is contracted to teach in the subject/grade in which the candidate is seeking a credential. It is necessary that the student hold a University Intern credential in order to be in the Intern program.

Application for Credential

When all requirements have been completed, candidates must complete an application for a preliminary teaching credential (additional fee required, see SOE website for more information).

Application for Master of Arts Degree

Candidates must complete an application for a Master of Arts degree with the Office of the Registrar the semester prior to the completion of degree requirements.

Educational Studies, M.A.

This program provides experiences which are tailored to meet the general teaching and curriculum needs of teachers and other professionals. The teaching credential is not required. The candidate for this degree selects coursework centered on his/her goals and objectives. This program allows a maximum flexibility in selecting a course of study for a Master's degree.

Admission Requirements

Application to the Master of Arts in the Educational Studies program requires the completion and submission the following:

- Graduate Division Application: Submitted directly to the Graduate Division Office.
- Transcripts: Two copies of official transcripts from all colleges/universities attended. These should be sent directly to the Graduate Division Office.
- GPA Requirement: A minimum cumulative undergraduate GPA of 3.0; or a 3.05 GPA in the last 60 semester units of undergraduate coursework taken; or a 3.0 GPA in at least 9 units of graduate level coursework is required.
- Statement of Intent
- Educational Studies Program Application: Available in the School of Education.
- Two Letters of Recommendation: Forms may be obtained in the School of Education.
- Interview with the Program Director/Assistant Director: Upon completing the interview, the candidate's application is submitted to the Associate Dean for review and recommendation. Once a recommendation is made, the candidate will receive written correspondence from the School of Education and Graduate Admissions explaining their admission status. Candidates are notified of their admission status approximately two weeks after completing their admission interview with the Academic Program Director/Assistant Director.

Program Goals

- Candidates will develop an understanding of the interdisciplinary nature of education.
- Candidates will develop and improve the critical thinking skills needed to apply the knowledge and skills learned throughout the program.
- Candidates will acquire and develop the knowledge, skills and perspectives to examine and act upon the ethical and social justice dimensions of schooling.
- Candidates will utilize educational research skills to investigate educational issues and challenges.

Program Requirements

- Successful completion of all the requirements outlined above
- Students must submit an official transcript with the Bachelor's degree posted to the Credential Office in the School of Education.
- Complete the Credential Application through the School of Education to the Commission on Teacher Credentialing, State of California (additional fee required; see website for more information).

Professional 2042 Clear Teaching Credential

A student has five years after obtaining the preliminary credential to complete the requirements for the professional clear credential. LMU offers a Clear Credential intended for Catholic and Private school teachers who do not have access to a district induction program. For more information, contact the Academic Program Director, Dr. Candace Poindexter, at 310.338.2863.

Reading Instruction, M.A. (online option also available)

This program offers an area of specialization in reading instruction. It is a carefully planned sequence of thirty semester hours designed to prepare the candidate with professional competencies and skills to more effectively teach and promote literacy skills at the elementary and secondary school levels. This degree is offered as a traditional program or as an online program.

Admission Requirements

Application to the Reading Instruction Master of Arts degree program is accomplished by completing and submitting the following to the School of Education (unless otherwise noted).

- Graduate Division Application: Submitted directly to the Graduate Division Office.
- Transcripts: Two copies of official transcripts from all colleges/universities attended, sent directly to the Graduate Division Office.
- GPA Requirement: Minimum cumulative undergraduate GPA of 3.0; or a 3.05 GPA in the last 60 semester units of undergraduate coursework taken; or a 3.0 GPA in at least 9 units of graduate level coursework is required.
- Reading Instruction Program Application: Form may be obtained in the School of Education.
- Statement of Intent
- Two Letters of Recommendation: Forms may be obtained in the School of Education or online at <http://soe.lmu.edu>.
- Interview with the Program Director/Assistant Director: Upon completing the interview, the candidate's application is submitted to the Assistant Dean for review and recommendation. Once a recommendation is made, the candidate will receive written correspondence from the School of Education and Graduate Admissions explaining their admission status. The candidate is notified of their admission status approximately 2 weeks after completing their admission interview with the Academic Program Director/Assistant Director.

Once the above have been completed, the candidate's file will be submitted to the Associate Dean for review. The Associate Dean may accept, defer, or deny admission.

Learning Outcomes

In accordance with the Mission and Goals of the School of Education, the Literacy Education Programs strive to work collaboratively in a student-centered environment to be professionals who act to value and respect all individuals, promote social justice, promote cultural responsiveness, integrate theory and practice, develop moral, intellectual, responsible, and caring leaders and to collaborate and share leadership across communities.

Programs also strive to be, and to educate professionals to be, educators who: Respect and value all individuals and communities; Educate by integrating theory and practice; Advocate for access to a socially just education; and Lead in order to facilitate transformation.

For additional information, please refer to the School of Education Mission and Goal Statements.

Secondary Education, M.A.

Preliminary California Teaching Credential

The 2042 Single Subject Preliminary Credential program is designed for students who are seeking teaching positions in grades 9–12, or in 6–8 school settings that require teachers to teach in departments. A student successfully completing this program is eligible to receive a minor in Secondary Education as well as to apply for a California Preliminary Single Subject Credential.

The following Single Subject Preliminary Credentials are offered through the School of Education:

- Art*
- Biology*
- Chemistry*
- Earth Science*
- English*
- Mathematics*
- Social Science*
- Spanish

* Content area with an LMU undergraduate approved program by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC). However, students can major in any content area and still be eligible to receive a Single Subject Preliminary Credential.

Requirements for Formal Admission

Review by the Teacher Admission and Advisory Committee (TAAC): After the requirements for formal admission, outlined below, have been completed and all application materials submitted, the candidate's file will be presented to TAAC for review. It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that all items have been received. Candidates will be notified of the Committee's decision in writing. All documents become the property of the University and will not be released to any person or institution.

All of the following requirements must be completed and submitted to the School of Education, University Hall 2100, prior to scheduling an interview with the Academic Program Director.

- Complete three of the following four prerequisite courses and maintain a GPA of 3.0 or better:
 - EDUR 400 Sociocultural Analysis of Education
 - EDES 401 Applied Educational Psychology for the Childhood and Adolescent Years
 - EDES 414 Theories and Policies of Second Language Acquisition
 - EDSS 440 Introduction to the Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Student with Exceptional Needs
Prerequisite courses are only available to sophomores (30 semester hours earned) or higher. Interested first year students should contact the Academic Program Director. Plan to complete the fourth prerequisite prior to student teaching.
- Teacher Education Application form
- Statement of Intent
- Candidate Information Sheet
- Submit one set of official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended other than LMU
- Four letters of recommendations: three out of the four must be submitted for an interview. One letter must be from your major advisor.
- Verification of 20 hours of experience working with culturally and linguistically diverse youth groups, ages 4–13, or Plan of Action of Completion of 20 hours prior to student teaching
- Certificate of Clearance (COC): The original Certificate of Clearance must be received back from the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC) at the School of Education.
- Tuberculosis (TB) Skin Test results: Candidates must submit an official copy of their TB test results, given within one year.
- California Basic Educational Skills Test (CBEST) original passing score report
- U.S. Constitution Requirement—Satisfied by one of the following:
 - Successfully completing a LMU course;
 - Completing an equivalent course at another institution. The course must be approved by the School of Education Admissions Coordinator. Candidates must present a course syllabus and course description.
- Subject Matter Plan of Action completion
- Students must demonstrate mastery of the required subject matter by passing the Single Subject California Subject Matter Exam for Teachers (Single Subject CSET); or Students must complete an LMU Undergraduate Approved Subject Matter Waiver Program (Art [approval pending], Biology, Chemistry, English, Mathematics, Physical Education (Dance), Social Science and Spanish [approval pending])
Results of the CSET are valid for only five years.
- Disposition Rubric: Candidates are expected to uphold both academic and non-academic standards embraced by the School of Education. Non-academic factors include behaviors, dispositions, and attitudes that educators must positively develop. The Disposition Rubric will be used to assess the professional dispositions of our candidates.
- Technology Requirement
- Interview with Academic Program Director

Requirements for Student Teaching

Review by the Teacher Advisory Review Committee (TARC): After the requirements for student teaching, outlined below, have been completed the candidate will apply to TARC for review. Applications will be submitted to the Academic Advisor. It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that all items have been completed and received. The candidate will be notified of the Committee's decision in writing. All documents become the property of the University and will not be released to any person or institution.

All of the following are required once you have been formally admitted to the School of Education and must be fulfilled prior to enrollment in student teaching:

- A "B" (3.0) grade point average must be maintained in all education coursework. A "D" (1.0) is not acceptable in any of the coursework in the sequence.
- Fingerprint Clearance—A signed Violation Affidavit.
- TB test results—Valid within one year prior to student teaching.
- Health Education requirement (verified on transcripts), satisfied by one of the following:
 - Completing EDES 8000 1 semester hour; or
 - Completing a 2042 approved health education course through another institution.
- Single Subject CSET in credential content area (original passing score report) or official letter confirming the completion and approval of an LMU Undergraduate Subject Matter Waiver Program. See your Major Advisor for further information.
- Disposition Rubric: Candidates are expected to uphold both academic and non-academic standards embraced by the School of Education. Non-academic factors include behaviors, dispositions, and attitudes that educators must positively develop. The Disposition Rubric will be used to assess the professional dispositions of our candidates.
- Complete the following methods courses (maintaining a GPA of 3.0 or better):

EDES 403	Reading and Content Learning in Middle and Secondary Schools

Elementary Education Minor

Education Minors

Education minors are offered in Elementary Education and Secondary Education. Students may declare a minor in Education so that their Education coursework is acknowledged in their official transcript. Students pursuing a minor must complete 18 semester hours in Education coursework. Please see the Elementary or Secondary Program section for specific courses.

In order to maximize enrollment in Education courses within the undergraduate program, students are strongly encouraged to declare the Education minor early in their career. The Education minor is not applicable to Liberal Studies majors (Multiple Subject Credential).

Completion of an Education minor does not equal completion of the requirements for a teaching credential. Students may complete the Education minor without completing all the requirements for a teaching credential.

Students wishing to be admitted to the Minor in Education program must complete all the requirements for admission to the School of Education except for the subject matter competency and CBEST requirements. Students must meet with the Program Director to declare the minor and obtain permission for additional coursework.

Minor in Elementary Education

For non-Liberal Studies majors only.

Introduction

The Department of Specialized Programs in Urban Education offers credential and Master of Arts degree programs designed for teachers who are employed as the teacher of record in either a private or public school. The Department prepares teachers to work in urban settings where the student population is economically, linguistically, and culturally diverse.

Admission Requirements

Each specialized program cohort in Urban Education has special admission requirements in addition to the requirements listed in this section. Additional admission requirements for these specialized program cohorts are communicated to applicants during the admission process.

1. Graduate Application and Fee
2. Statement of Intent: Applicants must write a 3- to 5-page essay describing how their experience and professional goals are compatible with the Mission and Goals of the School of Education at Loyola Marymount University.

3. Letters of Recommendation: Applicants must submit letters of recommendation. Some specialized cohort programs ask candidates use specific recommendation forms.
4. Grade Point Average Requirement: This requirement is met in one of three ways:
 - a. A cumulative undergraduate degree GPA of 3.0 or higher
 - b. A GPA of 3.05 or higher in the last 60 units of the applicant's undergraduate degree
 - c. A GPA of 3.0 or higher obtained in 9 semester hours of graduate work

Applicants who do not meet the GPA requirement will need to file an appeal with the Exceptions Committee.

5. Transcripts: Applicants must submit two sets of official transcripts in sealed envelopes with their application. The transcript for the undergraduate degree must show that the undergraduate degree has been posted. Applicants who have attended more than one college or university must submit transcripts from all colleges or universities attended.
6. Basic Skills Proficiency Requirement: All credential applicants must meet the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing basic skills requirement. An official passing score on one of the following examinations is required to demonstrate proficiency in basic skills:
 - a. The California Basic Skills Examination Test (CBEST)
 - b. CSET Multiple Subjects plus Writing Section (for multiple subjects only)
7. Subject Matter Competency: All credential applicants must meet the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing subject matter requirement. This requirement can be met in the following ways:
 - a. Passing score on the appropriate examination in the California Subject Examination for Teachers (CSET)
 - b. Completion of an approved subject matter program (for single subject candidates only).
8. Certificate of Clearance: Candidates must be able to successfully apply for a Certificate of Clearance with the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing prior to teaching full time.
9. Technology Requirement: Candidates must satisfy the technology requirement through self-verification of basic technology skills or by completion of an approved course.
10. Interview: Candidates will be asked to schedule an interview with the appropriate program personnel.
11. Verification of Employment: Applicants must document employment as a full time teacher using the appropriate form provided by the Department.

LMU|Teach for America Partnership

Director: Edmundo F. Litton

Associate Director, Los Angeles: Doris Madrigal

Associate Director, Bay Area: Katharine Berlin

This comprehensive two-year program combines coursework for the Master of Arts in Elementary Education, Secondary Education, or Special Education with a preliminary teaching credential while participating in Teach for America in Los Angeles. The Bilingual Cross-Cultural Academic and Language Development or BCLAD teaching credential (Spanish emphasis) can be added to the credential if a candidate meets the requirements of this program. A Master of Arts in Child and Adolescent Literacy or Education Administration may be available to applicants who already have a teaching credential, pending transcript evaluation.

Introduction

The School of Education is committed to social justice and therefore maintains a strong focus on serving underrepresented and underresourced school communities. In order to advocate for education for these school communities and their students, the School of Education has partnered with Teach for America (TFA), the national corps of outstanding graduates of all academic majors who commit to teach in public schools and become lifelong leaders in the effort to expand educational opportunities for all children. As the preferred university partner in Los Angeles since 2000, the LMU|TFA Partnership

expanded to the San Francisco Bay Area in 2010. The LMU School of Education is currently the exclusive university partner with Teach for America in California, serving both the Los Angeles and San Francisco Bay regions (San Jose, San Francisco, Oakland, and Sacramento). Since expanding to the San Francisco regions, the School of Education now has approved regional centers in Northern California. The program information outlined below is based on the program offerings in Los Angeles and are available/applicable to LMU|TFA Partnership students in the Northern California regions.

The LMU|TFA Partnership program requires that candidates work fulltime in a public school district while they complete requirements for a California 2042 Preliminary Teaching Credential, that aligns with their teaching assignment, and a Master of Arts degree. Once candidates are admitted into the LMU|TFA Partnership program, they will have the opportunity to choose a credential and/or Master of Arts degree program that supports their teaching assignment. All LMU|TFA students pursue a California SB2042 Preliminary Teaching Credential (either Multiple Subjects for K–5 teachers or Single Subject for grade 6–12) or a California Mild/Moderate Preliminary Education Specialist Teaching Credential. Candidates with an interest in bilingual education can also take additional courses to earn their bilingual authorization. Participants in the LMU|TFA program may be eligible for an Americorps educational award through their TFA membership. Participants are also eligible for an LMU SOE tuition grant that is contingent on full-participation in all related grant program requirements and completion of their two-year commitment to TFA and LMU program.

The LMU|TFA program pathways include Elementary Education (Multiple Subjects), Secondary Education (Single Subject: Math, Science, English, Foreign Language, Social Studies), Special Education, and Early Childhood Education. For specific information about the Special Education intern program pathway, please refer to the Special Education program section. For specific information about the Early Childhood Education program pathway, please refer to the Early Childhood Education section.

Admission Requirements

Admission into the LMU|TFA Partnership is limited to candidates who have been admitted to, and matriculate at, Teach for America in the Los Angeles or Northern California regions. Students interested in participating in these programs must begin their application process with Teach for America directly and be assigned to one of these regions in order to apply for the LMU|TFA Partnership program. Admission into this program is contingent upon the availability of space as well as the candidate meeting all LMU School of Education admission requirements and deadlines for their program pathway. Candidates must complete all admission requirements outlined in either the Multiple Subjects or Single Subject credential program as described in respective sections. Once students are confirmed TFA Los Angeles or TFA Northern California corps members, they will receive admissions application instructions from their respective LMU program office. LMU|TFA Partnership students are admitted under Provisional or Controlled Admission. Please see the School of Education Academic Regulations for information on the admission categories.

Program Requirements

LMU|TFA Partnership students admitted to a program are required to attend all LMU Orientation events as well as any additional requirements for their specific program pathway. Orientation events include recruitment webinars, in-person presentations about their program, sessions on registration, program and disposition expectations, credential requirements and processes, and financial responsibilities. Eligible students are also required to participate in all institutional scholarships/grants. Students are expected to maintain a minimum 3.0 GPA throughout their LMU programs as well as meet all SOE policy guidelines for successful progress and completion of their program and degree. LMU|TFA Partnership students take their coursework over a period of two years. Exceptions to the recommended sequence must be approved by the Program Director, Department Chair, and Credential Manager. The Partnership is comprehensive and includes all the coursework and field experience required to obtain a preliminary teaching credential and Master of Arts degree.

Course Requirements for the Teach for America Program

Credential Coursework

The following information is for LMU|TFA Partnership students holding teaching assignments in General Education, K–12, settings only. Course requirements for Special Education and Early Childhood Education LMU|TFA Partnership students can be found in those respective sections in the Bulletin.

EDES 5255	Methods in Teaching Secondary Math 3 semester hours
EDES 5256	Methods in Teaching Secondary Art 3 semester hours

Note: One or two additional semesters of Fieldwork Experience coursework may be required for individual students on the Multiple Subjects or Single Subject traditional program pathway depending on their program and credential progress.

In addition to the required coursework, candidates for the teaching credential must also pass all tasks of the Teaching Performance Assessment (TPA Tasks 1–4) and complete a program exit presentation before they can be recommended for their credential and continue on with the Master of Arts degree in Urban Education.

Early Completion Option

The Early Completion Option (ECO) program pathway is available only to LMU|TFA Partnership students who have successfully passed the Teaching Foundations Exam (in addition to all other required credentialing exams) prior to enrollment and hold confirmed teaching assignments in Multiple Subjects (K–5) or Single Subject Math, English, or Science (6–12) only.

Students who opt into this program track must take and pass the required Eco Entrance Exam before they can be accepted into this program track. This program track is a total of 12 units and provides candidates the option to complete their credential program requirements on an earlier timeline than traditional track students. In order to remain on the ECO program track, students must take and successfully pass each Teaching Performance Assessment task (TPA) the first time they take it. ECO students are not able to re-take TPAs on this program track. Failure to successfully pass each TPA on the first attempt exempts the student from continuing on this program track and the student will need to enroll in the traditional program track appropriate for their teaching assignment and meet all program and course requirements for that track. Early Completion Option students do not enroll in Fieldwork coursework and therefore do not receive support from a university supervisor or on-site support provider while they are fulfilling their teaching assignment.

Multiple Subjects Credential—Early Completion Option

EDUR 5014	Multicultural Subjects Curriculum and Instruction 3 semester hours
EDSS 5002	Survey of Second Language Acquisition Theories 2 semester hours

EDUR 5016	Teaching Students with Special Needs in Urban Education 3 semester hours
EDUR 6961	Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching 3 semester hours

Single Subject Credential—Early Completion Option

EDUR 5005	Literacy in the Content Areas 2 semester hours
EDUR 5016	Teaching Students with Special Needs in Urban Education 3 semester hours
EDUR 6961	Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching 3 semester hours

And one of the following:

EDES 5251	Methods in Teaching Secondary Languages Other Than English 3 semester hours
EDES 5252	Methods in Teaching Secondary Social Studies 3 semester hours
EDES 5253	Methods in Teaching Secondary English 3 semester hours
EDES 5254	Methods in Teaching Secondary Science 3 semester hours
EDES 5255	Methods in Teaching Secondary Math 3 semester hours
EDES 5256	Methods in Teaching Secondary Art 3 semester hours

Note: In addition to the required coursework, candidates for the teaching credential must also pass all tasks of the Teaching Performance Assessment (TPA Tasks 1–4) on their first attempt and complete a program exit presentation before they can be recommended for their credential and continue on with the Master of Arts degree in Urban Education.

PLACE Corps—Partners in Los Angeles Catholic Education

Director: Diana Murphy

Location: University Hall 1300

Introduction

This comprehensive two-year program combines coursework for the Master of Arts in Elementary Education or Master of Arts in Secondary Education with a State of California 2042 Preliminary Teaching Credential while participating in a Catholic teacher service corps. A Master of Arts in Reading Instruction, Special Education, or Guidance and Counseling may be available to applicants who have or will have by the time the program begins a credential, license or certificate to teach, pending transcript evaluation.

The PLACE Corps is a nationally recognized teaching service corps in partnership with the Archdiocese of Los Angeles and the University Consortium for Catholic Education (UCCE). The PLACE Corps is built upon three pillars: spirituality, community, and professional development. This University program incorporates full-time teaching in an under-resourced Los Angeles Archdiocesan elementary or high school with an academic program through the School of Education.

The ideal candidate for the PLACE Corps is an enthusiastic recent college graduate who has an appreciation for Catholic education and wishes to “give something back.” The PLACE Corps member, serving as a role model in Catholic schools, will be instrumental in maintaining the traditions of Catholic education in Los Angeles.

The ideal candidate has an ardent desire to work with young people. There are no prerequisite courses, other than a Bachelor’s degree in any field. PLACE Corps recruits nationally. Interested students in the local area should attend an information meeting in the fall and subsequent application distribution meeting.

PLACE Corps members work under contract as teachers for the Archdiocese of Los Angeles. Acceptance into the program is contingent upon the availability and offer of a compatible teaching position in an Archdiocesan PLACE Corps partner school. A portion of the Corps member's salary will contribute toward housing and other member expenses.

Participants of this service corps may be eligible for the AmeriCorps Education Award and an LMU grant which contribute toward tuition.

Those admitted to the new cohort are required to attend the Orientation Weekend in April. The orientation includes such topics as program expectations, the academic program, housing, and program funding. Incorporated into the weekend is an opportunity for the PLACERs to meet their principals. Contracts for employment will be offered by the Archdiocese through the individual school.

Application Deadline: The PLACE Corps application has two components, an online and paper application. The deadline for the online application is January 17. The deadline for the paper application is January 31. The full-time commitment begins the subsequent summer.

Admission Requirements

The PLACE Corps admits an average of 25 members per cohort. Admission to the PLACE Corps requires the following:

1. Candidates must complete all admission requirements outlined in either the Multiple Subject or Single Subjects credential program as described in respective sections. Please refer to the Teacher Practitioner/ Intern sections of Elementary or Secondary Education in this bulletin for more details.
2. Graduate Division application, PLACE Corps application, statement of intent, three letters of recommendation, signed letter of commitment, and a Judicial Affairs clearance.
3. Interview with PLACE Corps Candidate Selection Committee.
4. Observation Hours: All candidates must present acceptable evidence of having completed at least 20 hours of observation in a culturally and linguistically diverse setting within the age range they are planning to teach. It is beneficial to the candidate to do so within a public school setting as these 20 hours may be applied towards the 60 hours of public school observations required for credential requirements for teachers in private and parochial schools. Any remaining hours of public school observations still required may be completed during the first summer of PLACE Corps participation.

Program Requirements

PLACE Corps members will begin their two-year commitment with participation in a program summer retreat designed to support and inspire members. Participants are invited to become actively involved in ongoing spiritual aspects of the program while fully engaged in an intentional community to which they are assigned.

In addition to specific program requirements, PLACERs must satisfy all contractual obligations of the school to which they are assigned. In the fall, while living in community, PLACE Corps members will begin their teaching, along with taking two classes (generally one night per week) each semester.

For the most part, over the two-year period, PLACE Corps members will be enrolled in courses as a cohort. If a PLACER has an academic background which includes prior education courses, the PLACE Corps staff will work with the PLACER in making appropriate adjustments to his/her respective course of study. Any exception to the recommended sequence must be approved by both the PLACE Corps director and coordinator. PLACERs must take only their prescribed courses and may not take any additional coursework concurrently.

The sequence of academic coursework will be outlined at the Orientation Weekend in April. The PLACE Corps academic program is comprehensive and includes all the coursework and field experience required to obtain a State of California 2042 Preliminary Teaching Credential and Master of Arts degree.

Introduction

The Center for Equity for English Learners (CEEL) was established in 2006, with support from Bank of America, for the purpose of improving educational outcomes of English Learners (ELs). The Center's research and professional development agendas will inform leadership and instructional practices for the state's 1.5 million English Learners and the nation's 3.5 million English Learners. CEEL's mission is to pursue equity and excellence in the education of English Learners by transforming schools and educational systems through the Center's research and professional development agendas. An integral component of this work is the development of advocacy-oriented leadership. Educators who utilize students' cultural and language resources while developing students' academic competencies have the potential to significantly transform schools and educational systems.

Urban Education, M.A.

All LMUJTFA Partnership students in Multiple Subjects or Single Subject teaching assignments (General Education) that are successfully progressing in their teaching credential program requirements are eligible to apply for admission into the Master of Arts in Urban Education degree program. Both the traditional and Early Completion Option program pathways are designed to help meet the program requirements for the Master of Arts in Urban Education degree so that LMUJTFA Partnership students can complete their two-year teaching commitment with TFA and graduate with a credential and Master of Arts degree from LMU. Coursework taken in the teaching credential program, with the exception of Fieldwork and TPAs, can be transferred to the Master of Arts degree program. Candidates may transfer up to 15 semester hours of coursework from their first year and complete the remaining units (a minimum of 16, depending on their program pathway) in their second year. During their MA program coursework, students work alongside a faculty advisor to complete a comprehensive research project of their own design. This culminating research project offers students an opportunity to develop research skills in addition to addressing an issue of interest in urban education. Students must select one of the four concentrations offered under this degree and complete four courses in their concentration. All students must take the required research methods course in which they begin their project and a culminating 1-semester-hour course in which they finalize it. In addition, students are expected to fully participate in the Urban Education Symposium held in the spring semester. Attendance at the Symposium is required.

Admission Requirements

Admission into the Master of Arts in Urban Education degree program is contingent on admission into the LMUJTFA Partnership program and successful progression in the teacher credential program coursework. Students must also complete an internal admission application.

Required Coursework

All students in this degree program must take the following course in order to begin their culminating research project:

EDUR 5018 Research in Urban Education 3 semester hours

Students must also take one of the following courses in order to complete their research project:

EDUR 6995 Comprehensive Examination 0 semester hours or

EDUR 5020 Research Project in Urban Education 1 semester hour

Note: In addition to these courses, students must select a concentration and take the four courses (3 semester hours each) listed under each concentration. Students completing the Early Completion Option program pathway must take an additional elective course (3 semester hours), to be selected under advisement and approval from the Program Director. Exceptions to the recommended sequence must be approved by the Program Director and Department Chair.

Master of Arts in Urban Education Concentrations

Literacy:

The Literacy concentration is designed for candidates interested in studying literacy practices effective in urban settings. This concentration is offered in collaboration with the Literacy Program in the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education.

In addition to EDUR 5018 and 6995 or EDUR 5020, candidates in this concentration take the following courses:

EDES 6350 Linguistics and Reading 3 semester hours

EDES 6355 Introduction to Reading Difficulties 3 semester hours

EDES 6356 Diagnosis and Intervention in Reading—Practicum I 3 semester hours

EDES 6103 Curriculum and Instructional Leadership 3 semester hours

Digital Learning:

This concentration explores the role of technology in teaching and learning in urban schools. It is designed for candidates who would like to explore the role of technology in teaching and learning. Candidates develop skills to integrate technology into teaching, question the role of technology in promoting equity in society, and learn how to use technology to work with students with special needs.

In addition to EDUR 5018 and 6995 or EDUR 5020, candidates in this concentration take the following courses:

EDUR 6324	Technology in Multilingual Settings 3 semester hours
EDUR 6327	Learning and Teaching with Technology 3 semester hours
EDUR 6328	Survey of Digital Technologies for Urban Education 3 semester hours

Educational Policy and Administration

Candidates in this concentration learn about administrative practices that promote effective teaching and learning in urban education. Candidates also study federal and state policies in education. Candidates who wish to become leaders in Catholic schools can be offered in discussion with the Program Director. This concentration is offered in collaboration with the Administration Program in the Department of Educational Leadership and has developed in response to Teach for America's request and data, which shows that many TFA alumni become administrators in charter schools. The courses in this concentration also allow candidates to have a deeper understanding of American education and this knowledge can help candidates become advocates for social justice even if they are working in non-education fields.

In addition to EDUR 5018 and 6995 or EDUR 5020, candidates in this concentration take the following courses:

EDUR 6102	The Context of Schooling 3 semester hours
EDLA 6427	Advocacy from a Legal Perspective 3 semester hours
EDLA 6428	Business of Education 3 semester hours
EDLA 6429	Specializing in Charter Schools 3 semester hours or
EDLA 6842	Leadership in Catholic Education 3 semester hours

Language and Culture

The Language and Culture concentration is offered in collaboration with the Bilingual/Bicultural Programs within the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education. Candidates in this concentration have the option of studying for a bilingual authorization (in Spanish or Mandarin) for their Preliminary credential.

In addition to EDUR 5018 and 6995 or EDUR 5020, candidates in this concentration take the following courses:

EDUR 5324	Bilingualism, Cognition and Identity Development 3 semester hours
EDUR 5322	Intercultural Education 3 semester hours or
EDUR 6430	Educational Linguistics 3 semester hours

Plus two of the following, according to their language specialization:

Spanish Specialization

EDES 5320	Chicano/Latino Cultures: An Interdisciplinary Perspective 3 semester hours
EDES 6320	Methodology for Primary Language Instruction in a Bilingual Setting 3 semester hours

Mandarin Specialization

EDES 5330	Chinese/American/American Chinese Cultures: An Interdisciplinary Perspective 3 semester hours
EDES 6330	Methodology for Chinese Language Instruction in Bilingual Settings 3 semester hours

Introduction

Catholic schools are an integral part of the educational systems of urban centers across the United States, serving as pillars for many communities, particularly in economically disadvantaged areas. In Los Angeles, more than 80,000 children and their families rely on these schools to provide the moral, spiritual and intellectual underpinnings that have enabled so many Catholic school graduates to become productive, socially conscious adults.

But these schools are facing significant challenges. Enrollment in Catholic schools has declined 12 percent nationally in the last decade. Many schools are struggling financially. Catholic school systems are in need of professional development for teachers and administrators, along with research into the most effective approaches to running the schools and educating increasingly diverse student bodies.

With the Center for Catholic Education, the LMU School of Education will be better positioned to assist the Archdiocese of Los Angeles, as well as Catholic school systems across the country, in ensuring that the rich tradition of Catholic education endures and grows. The CCE brings together a broad range of successful programs at SOE to advance PK–12 Catholic education by training school leaders and teachers, increasing awareness of Catholic schools' impact on communities, and developing innovative ways to support Catholic schools. The Center for Catholic Education will serve as an anchor for Catholic schools in Los Angeles and nationally so that the rich tradition of Catholic education continues to shape morally and socially conscious men and women.

The Center for Catholic Education is committed to leadership development, teacher preparation, and research and outreach.

Programs

The Center for Catholic Education offers programs in specialized cohorts:

- LMUJLA CAST: For teachers employed by the Archdiocese of Los Angeles
- PLACE Corps: Teachers who are part of a teaching service corps in partnership with the Archdiocese of Los Angeles

LMUJLA CAST: Los Angeles Catholic Archdiocesan School Teachers

Director: Beth Brewer

Location: University Hall 1760

The LMUJLA CAST program is offered in the School of Education through a partnership with the Department of Catholic Schools of the Archdiocese of Los Angeles. Candidates in the program are able to complete a Master of Arts Degree and a State of California 2042 Preliminary Teaching Credential. The LMUJLA CAST program is an important professional development opportunity for educators employed in Catholic Schools within the Archdiocese of Los Angeles. Some of the unique features of the program include:

- Saturday classes
- Classes are taught in a hybrid format (traditional classes combined with on-line classes)
- Substantial scholarships are offered
- Candidates have the opportunity to collaborate with other Catholic school teachers
- Candidates are required to infuse technology in teaching and learning

To be eligible for the LMUJLA CAST program, candidates must meet the following requirements:

1. All the admission requirements outlined in the sections for teaching credentials in Multiple and Single subjects for University Interns and Teacher Practitioners
2. Candidates must be a full-time teacher or administrator in a Catholic school in the Archdiocese of Los Angeles. Administrators (e.g., Vice Principal, Principal) must be able to teach at least part-time while enrolled in the LMUJLA CAST program. Teacher aides or pre-school teachers are not eligible for the LMUJLA CAST program.
3. Candidates must attend an information meeting held in October (for Spring admission) and February (for Fall admission). Information on these meetings is given to principals of Catholic schools and is also available from the School of Education.
4. All candidates complete the program as a cohort and must be able to commit to the two-year program. Candidates must sign a contract agreeing to program conditions prior to starting the LMUJLA CAST program.
5. Candidates are required to use Apple technology. Requirements change by year and are shared at the information meetings.

PLACE Corps—Partners in Los Angeles Catholic Education

Director: Diana Murphy

Location: University Hall 1300

Introduction

This comprehensive two-year program combines coursework for the Master of Arts in Elementary Education or Master of Arts in Secondary Education with a State of California 2042 Preliminary Teaching Credential while participating in a Catholic teacher service corps. A Master of Arts in Reading Instruction, Special Education, or Guidance and Counseling may be available to applicants who have or will have by the time the program begins a credential, license or certificate to teach, pending transcript evaluation.

The PLACE Corps is a nationally recognized teaching service corps in partnership with the Archdiocese of Los Angeles and the University Consortium for Catholic Education (UCCE). The PLACE Corps is built upon three pillars: spirituality, community, and professional development. This University program incorporates full-time teaching in an under-resourced Los Angeles Archdiocesan elementary or high school with an academic program through the School of Education.

The ideal candidate for the PLACE Corps is an enthusiastic recent college graduate who has an appreciation for Catholic education and wishes to “give something back.” The PLACE Corps member, serving as a role model in Catholic schools, will be instrumental in maintaining the traditions of Catholic education in Los Angeles.

The ideal candidate has an ardent desire to work with young people. There are no prerequisite courses, other than a Bachelor’s degree in any field. PLACE Corps recruits nationally. Interested students in the local area should attend an information meeting in the fall and subsequent application distribution meeting.

PLACE Corps members work under contract as teachers for the Archdiocese of Los Angeles. Acceptance into the program is contingent upon the availability and offer of a compatible teaching position in an Archdiocesan PLACE Corps partner school. A portion of the Corps member’s salary will contribute toward housing and other member expenses.

Participants of this service corps may be eligible for the AmeriCorps Education Award and an LMU grant which contribute toward tuition.

Those admitted to the new cohort are required to attend the Orientation Weekend in April. The orientation includes such topics as program expectations, the academic program, housing, and program funding. Incorporated into the weekend is an opportunity for the PLACErs to meet their principals. Contracts for employment will be offered by the Archdiocese through the individual school.

Application Deadline: The PLACE Corps application has two components, an online and paper application. The deadline for the online application is January 17. The deadline for the paper application is January 31. The full-time commitment begins the subsequent summer.

Admission Requirements

The PLACE Corps admits an average of 25 members per cohort. Admission to the PLACE Corps requires the following:

1. Candidates must complete all admission requirements outlined in either the Multiple Subjects or Single Subject credential program as described in respective sections. Please refer to the Teacher Practitioner/Intern sections of Elementary or Secondary Education in this bulletin for more details.
2. Graduate Division online application, PLACE Corps application, Statement of Intent, three letters of recommendation, signed letter of commitment, and a Judicial Affairs clearance
3. Interview with PLACE Corps Selection Committee
4. Observation Hours: All candidates must present acceptable evidence of having completed at least 20 hours of observation in a culturally and linguistically diverse setting within the age range they are planning to teach. It is beneficial to the candidate to do so within a public school setting as these 20 hours may be applied towards the 60 hours of public school observations required for credential requirements for teachers in private and parochial schools. Any remaining hours of public school observations still required may be completed during the first summer of PLACE Corps participation.

Program Requirements

PLACE Corps members will begin their two-year commitment with participation in a program summer retreat designed to support and inspire members. Participants are invited to become actively involved in ongoing spiritual aspects of the program while fully engaged in an intentional community to which they are assigned.

In addition to specific program requirements, PLACErs must satisfy all contractual obligations of the school to which they are assigned.

In the fall, while living in community, PLACE Corps members will begin their teaching, along with taking two classes (generally one night per week) each semester.

For the most part, over the two-year period, PLACE Corps members will be enrolled in courses as a cohort. If a PLACE has an academic background which includes prior education courses, the PLACE Corps staff will work with the PLACEr in making appropriate adjustments to his/her respective course of study. Any exception to the recommended sequence must be approved by both the PLACE Corps director and coordinator. PLACErs must take only their prescribed courses and may not take any additional coursework concurrently.

The sequence of academic coursework will be outlined at the Orientation Weekend in April. The PLACE Corps academic program is comprehensive and includes all the coursework and field experience required to obtain a State of California 2042 Preliminary Teaching Credential and Master of Arts degree.

MAST Teacher Leader (TL) Certificate

Introduction

In the CMAST TL Certificate, TLs learn how to demonstrate effective teaching practices, coach their colleagues, and teach their colleagues in Professional Learning Seminars centered around teaching the CCSS through MAST at their respective sites and within their organizations. Throughout each course of the certificate, TLs take on more responsibility in leading their colleagues, through a gradual release of responsibility from CMAST faculty to the TL.

CMAST institutionalizes a combination of university classes, professional development seminars, in-class demonstrations, and virtual learning components to train TLs how to analyze student and teacher data, teach students and adults, share leadership with administrators, design STEM curriculum, and collaborate with faculty and community members to create and sustain the MAST System.

Eligibility

Teacher leaders who meet the following minimum program criteria are invited to apply:

1. For Secondary teaching: possess an undergraduate degree with at least a 3.0 GPA in a STEM or STEM-related field. For Elementary teaching: possess an undergraduate degree with at least a 3.4 GPA and at least 12 units in math and/or science preferred
2. Possess a minimum of three years classroom teaching experience with demonstrated student achievement
3. Possess current Clear California Multiple Subjects or Secondary Teaching Credential in Mathematics or Science for grades 7–12 or current Clear California Multiple Subject Teaching Credential
4. Must be currently teaching
5. Desire to lead a new generation of effective teachers, commit to utilizing action research to improve practice, and dedicate their energy to uplifting schools that serve children from diverse economic, racial, linguistic, and cultural backgrounds
6. Demonstrate commitment to ongoing professional learning and openness to feedback and critical conversations that transform mathematics or science practices
7. Be a transformative teacher and coach for adult learners: able to establish effective relationships with colleagues, committed to leading courageous conversations with colleagues, able to design and implement effective instruction to increase colleagues' learning, and model and facilitate data-informed decision-making keeping students at the core

Course Requirements

EDUR 5580	Teaching Mathematics and Science in Urban Schools 3 semester hours
EDUR 5581	Mentorship in Math and Science Education 3 semester hours
EDUR 5582	Collaboration in Math and Science Education 3 semester hours
EDUR 5583	Mentorship in Math and Science Education 3 semester hours

Master's Option

After successful completion of the MAST TL Certificate, candidates have the option of applying their 12 semester hours towards a Master's in Urban Education (Curriculum, Teaching, and Learning).

19 semester hours of additional coursework required.

CMAST—Center for Math and Science Teaching

Contact Information

Director: Phillip Molebash

Location: University Hall 2600

Introduction

CMAST is dedicated to strengthening science, technology, engineering, mathematics (STEM) and STEM-related fields by transforming the teaching and learning of mathematics and science.

Loyola Marymount University's Center for Math and Science Teaching (CMAST) provides a national model for middle schools, high schools, and universities to transform math and science education using measurable, data-driven results connected to student engagement and achievement. CMAST is currently implementing the Los Angeles Math and Science Residency (LAMS), a teacher residency program focused on training math and science teachers in urban schools. CMAST also partners with organizations and districts across the spectrum of public, charter, and Catholic schools.

CMAST's goals are:

- Creating a professional learning community comprised of faculty, teachers, administrators, parents, students, and community members dedicated to increasing student engagement and achievement in mathematics and science
- Finding and sharing solutions that increase the number of students who pursue science, technology, engineering, mathematics, and science and mathematics teaching as careers
- Building teacher retention by providing opportunities for shared leadership between transformational teacher leaders, administrators, and parents
- Designing, strengthening, and sharing best practices in teaching and learning to improve teacher quality and college-readiness

Intern/Practitioner Program

Master of Arts (with a Preliminary 2042 Multiple Subjects Credential)

The combined Multiple Subject Preliminary Credential and Master of Arts in Elementary Education program is designed for graduate students who are currently contracted to teach in grades K–5 or any self-contained classroom in grades 6–8 in either public or private schools. A student successfully completing the program is eligible to receive a Master of Arts in Elementary Education as well as be able to apply for a California Preliminary Multiple Subject Credential. Application and admissions procedures vary based on the selected cohort program.

Intern Credential Requirements

Eligibility for the Intern Credential is determined by the following guidelines set forth by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC):

1. Original approved Basic Skills Proficiency examination score report with passing score
2. Original CSET score report with passing score
3. Verification the U.S. Constitution requirement has been met
4. Undergraduate degree posted on official transcripts
5. Verification of employment
6. Two-year academic program
7. Certificate of Clearance (fingerprint application and fee)
8. Application for credential and fee

Once candidates have satisfied the above guidelines, an application for the intern credential is available through the Program Director or Department Chair. Please schedule an appointment with the Program Director of Department Chair. The California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC) is responsible for the awarding of the University Intern Credential.

Intern Candidate: A candidate following this path is employed full-time at a public school in a district that has a partnership with LMU. The candidate takes courses while teaching full-time. This employment status, along with additional supervision in the classroom provided through LMU, fulfills the field requirements of the credential. Candidates seek out their own employment as Interns unless the candidates are in a cohort program where placement is facilitated through the program (e.g., Teach for America). The Intern must be employed to teach at least 60% in the area of the credential, and the contract must state that the teacher is contracted to teach in the subject/grade in which the candidate is seeking a credential. It is necessary that the student hold a University Intern credential in order to be enrolled in the Intern program.

Teacher Practitioner Candidate: Teacher practitioner candidates are employed full-time at a private or Catholic school. The candidates take courses while teaching full-time. This employment status, along with additional supervision in the classroom provided through LMU, fulfills the requirements of the credential. There is an additional requirement of 60 observation hours in a public school setting required to meet the credential requirements (see Program Director for details). Candidates seek out their own employment as a Teacher Practitioner unless the candidate is part of a cohort program (e.g., Partners in Los Angeles Catholic Education—PLACE; Los Angeles) where placement is facilitated through the cohort program. The teacher practitioner must be employed to teach at least 60% in the subject/grade of the credential.

Provisional Admission Requirements

All requirements must be met to be eligible for an admissions interview. All application requirements must be met.

1. Verification of Employment: Candidates must submit a signed Verification of Employment form. The candidate must be employed by a School District that holds a partnership agreement with Loyola Marymount University.
2. CSET: Must submit official passing score report to the Academic Advisor (Intern Candidates only)
3. Interview with the Program Director: Upon submission of all application requirements, applicant will be contacted for an interview.

Formal Admission Requirements

1. Program Advising: All candidates must meet with the Program Director to complete a course sequence and receive program information.
2. Prerequisite Courses: Candidates must complete the following courses with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better:

EDCE 5970	Fieldwork 1
EDSS 5002	Survey of Second Language Acquisition Theories
EDCE 5971	Fieldwork 2
EDES 6200	Elementary School Curriculum and Methods
EDUR 6960	Introduction to Teaching and Learning

Candidates must complete two of the following four courses with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better:

EDUR 5000	Cultural Paradigms of Education
EDES 5001	Applied Educational Psychology for the Childhood and Adolescent Years
EDES 5003	Theories and Policies of Second Language Acquisition
EDSS 6001	Teaching Culturally/Linguistically Diverse Students with Exceptional Needs
3. Disposition Rubric Score: Candidate chooses a professor of one of the four pre-requisite courses to complete the Disposition Rubric and submits the score to the Academic Advisor.
4. Professional Advising: Candidate schedules an appointment with the Academic Program Director/Assistant Director.

Teacher Admission and Advisory Committee (TAAC) Review

After the requirements for provisional and formal admission have been completed, the candidate's file will be submitted to TAAC for review. It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that all items have been completed, including the resolution of any Incomplete grades received in the prerequisite courses. Candidates will be notified of the committee's decision in writing.

Note: All documents become property of the University and will not be released to any person or institute unless required by law.

Program Requirements

1. Candidates will need to complete the following prior to enrolling in EDUR 6961, TPA 3 and TPA 4:

Complete the remaining courses below with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better:
EDUR 5000	Cultural Paradigms of Education 3 semester hours
EDES 5001	Applied Educational Psychology for the Childhood and Adolescent Years 3 semester hours
EDES 5003	Theories and Policies of Second Language Acquisition 3 semester hours
EDSS 6001	Teaching Culturally/Linguistically Diverse Students with Exceptional Needs 3 semester hours

Complete both of the following courses with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better:

EDES 5200	Methodology in English Language Development (ELD) and Specially Designed Academic Instruction in English (SDAIE) for Elementary Educators 3 semester hours
EDES 6201	Foundations of Elementary Literacy Instruction

2. Teaching Performance Assessments: Tasks 1 and 2 (two zero semester hour courses with associated fees):
 EDCE 5950 Teaching Performance Assessment Task 1, Subject Specific Pedagogy 0 semester hours
 EDCE 5951 Teaching Performance Assessment Task 2, Subject Designing Instruction 0 semester hours
3. Health Education for Educators: Candidates may satisfy the Health Education requirement in one of the following ways:
 - Successful completion of EDES 8000
 - Successful completion of a 2042 approved course through another institution. It is recommended that the candidate obtain approval from the School of Education Credential Office prior to taking class. Official transcripts must be submitted as evidence of course completion.
4. Professional Advising: Schedule an appointment with the Program Director.
5. CSET Score Report: Original score report verifying 100% successful completion of all elements of the CSET.
6. Disposition Rubric Score: The professor for EDES 6201 will submit a score to the Program Director.
7. Fieldwork Application: Candidates must complete the fieldwork application and violation affidavit with the Academic Advisor. They must then schedule an interview with the Coordinator of Clinical Education.
8. Verification of Employment: Candidates must submit a signed verification of employment form prior to enrollment into EDUR 6961.
9. Teacher Advisory Review Committee (TARC): After all the steps outlined above have been completed, the candidate's file will be submitted to the Teacher Advisory Review Committee (TARC) for review. It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that all items have been completed, including the resolution of any Incomplete grades received in any courses. Candidates will be notified of the committee's decision in writing.

Culminating Fieldwork Requirements

1. EDUR 6961 Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching 3 semester hours
2. TPA Tasks 3 and 4: Two zero semester hour courses with associated fees.

EDCE 5952	Teaching Performance Assessment Task 3, Assessing Learning 0 semester hours
EDCE 5953	Teaching Performance Assessment Task 4, Culminating Teaching Experience 0 semester hours

Additional Coursework Required for the Master of Arts Degree

OPTION 1: Elementary Education

Choose one of the following courses and complete with a 3.0 or better:

- | | |
|-----------|---|
| EDUR 6100 | Anthropological Analysis of Cultural Diversity 3 semester hours |
| EDES 6103 | Curriculum and Instructional Leadership 3 semester hours |
| EDLA 6105 | Assessment and Research Methodology 3 semester hours |
| EDSS 6106 | Human Development and Learning |

Complete EDUR 6995 Comprehensive Examination in Elementary Education: Fee required.

OPTION 2: Literacy and Language Arts

The Master of Arts in Literacy and Language Arts combined with the 2042 Preliminary Multiple Subjects or Single Subject Teaching Credential offers the opportunity for a graduate student to receive both a preliminary teaching credential and a Master of Arts degree. Candidates who initially applied for admission to the credential program only must add the Master of Arts degree prior to the pre-fieldwork assessment.

Program Requirements

1. All 2042 Preliminary Multiple Subjects Teaching Credential courses

2. Additional Required Coursework

- | | |
|-----------|--|
| EDES 6355 | Introduction to Reading Difficulties 3 semester hours |
| EDES 6356 | Diagnosis and Intervention in Reading—Practicum I 3 semester hours |

3. Comprehensive Assessment: Candidates meet with the program director to discuss their timeline and enrollment in either the comprehensive exam or the thesis project series.

- | | |
|-----------|--|
| EDES 6995 | Comprehensive Examination 0 semester hours (fee required) Literacy |
| | or |
| | Thesis Option (See program director for detailed course sequence) |

Exit Interview

The candidate must schedule an exit interview with the Academic Program Director. The exit interview must be completed prior to submitting an application for a credential and Master of Arts degree.

Application for Credential

When all requirements have been completed, candidates must complete an application for a preliminary teaching credential (additional fee required, see SOE website for more information).

Reading Instruction Competence Assessment (RICA)

After completing EDES 6201 Foundations of Elementary Literacy Instruction, candidates are required to take, pass, and submit an original score report of the RICA to the School of Education prior to the completion of their student teaching.

Application for Master of Arts Degree

When all requirements have been completed, candidates must complete an application for a Master's degree with the Office of the Registrar.

Clear 2042 Multiple Subjects Credential

Candidates have five years after obtaining their preliminary credential in which to complete the requirements for a professional clear credential. LMU offers an approved Professional 2042 Clear Credential Program for those teachers who do not have access to an induction program at their school site. See Professional 2042 Clear Teaching Credential in the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education in this Bulletin for more information.

Master of Arts (without Credential)

This program is designed for practitioners who do not successfully pass the CSET prior to EDUR 6961 Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching. Instead, candidates must complete all of the requirements detailed above for Provisional Admission, Formal Admission and Student Teaching requirements. Culminating Fieldwork Experience and Additional Coursework Required for the Master of Arts Degree are replaced with the following:

OPTION 1: Elementary Education

1. Choose two of the following courses and complete with a 3.0 or better:

EDUR 6100	Anthropological Analysis of Cultural Diversity 3 semester hours
EDES 6103	Curriculum and Instructional Leadership 3 semester hours
EDLA 6105	Assessment and Research Methodology 3 semester hours
EDSS 6106	Human Development and Learning

Students in specialized cohort programs may take an Education elective selected by the Program Director or Department Chair.

2. Complete EDES 6995 Comprehensive Examination 0 semester hours in Elementary Education: Fee required

OPTION 2: Literacy and Language Arts

Program Requirements

1. All 2042 Preliminary Single Subject Teaching Credential courses
2. Additional Required Coursework

- EDES 6355 Introduction to Reading Difficulties 3 semester hours
- EDES 6356 Diagnosis and Intervention in Reading—Practicum I 3 semester hours

3. Comprehensive Assessment: Candidates meet with the program director to discuss their timeline and enrollment in either the comprehensive exam or the thesis project series.

- EDES 6995 Comprehensive Examination 0 semester hours (fee required) Literacy
or
Thesis Option (See Program Director for detailed course sequence).

If the candidate successfully passes all sections of the CSET within 5 years, the candidate can complete the credential by completing an exit interview with the Program Director and submitting an application for a credential.

Exit Interview

The candidate must schedule an exit interview with the Program Director/Assistant Director. The exit interview must be completed prior to submitting an application for a credential and Master of Arts degree.

Application for Credential

When all requirements have been completed, candidates must complete an application for a preliminary teaching credential (additional fee required, see SOE website for more information).

Application for Master of Art Degree

Candidates must complete an application for a Master of Arts degree with the Office of the Registrar the semester prior to the completion of degree requirements.

Master of Arts (with a Preliminary 2042 Single Subject Credential)

The combined Single Subject Preliminary Credential and Master of Arts in Secondary Education program is designed for graduate students who are seeking teaching positions in grades 9–12, or in 6–8 school settings that require teachers to teach in departments (Traditional Secondary Candidate) or students who are currently contracted to teach in grades 9–12, or in 6–8 school settings that require teachers to teach in departments (Intern/Practitioner Secondary Candidate). A student successfully completing this program will be eligible to receive a Master of Arts in Secondary Education as well as be able to apply for a California Preliminary Single Subject Credential.

The following Single Subject Preliminary credentials are offered through the School of Education:

- Art
- Biology
- Chemistry
- Earth Science
- English
- Mathematics
- Social Science
- Spanish

Intern/Practitioner Candidates

Intern Candidate: A candidate following this path is employed full-time at a public school in a district that has a partnership with LMU. The candidate takes courses while teaching full-time. This employment status, along with additional coaching in the classroom provided through LMU, fulfills the field requirements of the credential. Candidates seek out their own employment as interns unless the candidates are in a cohort program where placement is facilitated through the program (e.g., Teach for America). The intern must be employed to teach at least 60% in the area of the credential, and the contract must state that the teacher is contracted to teach in the subject/grade in which the candidate is seeking a credential.

It is necessary that the student hold a University intern credential in order to be enrolled in the intern program.

University Intern Credential Requirements

Eligibility for the University Intern Credential is determined by the following guidelines set forth by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC):

1. Original CBEST score report with passing score
2. Original CSET score report with passing score
3. Verification the U.S. Constitution requirement has been met
4. Undergraduate degree posted on official transcripts
5. Verification of employment
6. 2-year academic program completion plan
7. Certificate of Clearance (fingerprint application and fee)
8. Application for credential and fee

Once candidates have satisfied the above guidelines, an application for the intern credential is available through the Program Director or Department Chair. The California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC) is responsible for the awarding of the University Intern Credential.

Teacher Practitioner Candidates: Teacher practitioner candidates are employed full-time at a private or Catholic school. The candidates take courses while teaching full-time. This employment status, along with additional supervision in the classroom provided through LMU, fulfills the requirements of the credential. There is an additional requirement of 60 observation hours in a public school setting required to meet the credential requirements (see Academic Program Advisor for details). Candidates seek out their own employment as a Teacher Practitioner unless the candidate is enrolled in a cohort program (e.g., PLACE) where placement is facilitated through the cohort program. The teacher practitioner must be employed to teach at least 60% in the subject/grade of the credential.

Provisional Admission Requirements

1. Verification of Employment: Candidates must submit a signed Verification of Employment form. The candidate must be employed by a School District that holds a partnership agreement with Loyola Marymount University.
2. Subject Matter Competency (for Intern Candidates only): Candidates must demonstrate mastery of the required subject matter by either passing the appropriate California Subject Exam Test (CSET) OR by completing a 2042 approved subject matter program. Either option needs to be completed and verified prior to enrollment in EDUR 6961 Portfolio and Assessment and TPA 3 and TPA 4.
 - CSET Option: Candidates will provide a written statement documenting when the CSET will be taken. Candidates must provide an original passing score report to the School of Education prior to enrollment in EDUR 6961 Portfolio and Assessment and TPA 3 and TPA 4.
 - 2042 Approved Subject Matter Program: Candidates must complete a 2042 approved Subject Matter Program. Candidates must provide a written statement on when the subject matter coursework will be completed. Candidates will provide a letter verifying 100% completion of the subject matter requirement prior to enrollment in EDUR 6961 Portfolio and Assessment and TPA 3 and TPA 4.
3. Interview with the Elementary/Secondary Academic Program Director/ Assistant Director: Upon submission of all application requirements, applicant will be contacted for an interview. Specialized Programs in Urban Education 205
4. Advisement: Immediately upon being provisionally admitted, the student must schedule an appointment with the Program Director or Department Chair.

Formal Admission Requirements

1. Academic Advising: All candidates must meet with the Program Director to complete a course sequence.

2. Prerequisite Courses:

Candidates must complete the following courses with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better:

- | | |
|-----------|--|
| EDSS 5002 | Survey of Second Language Acquisition Theories |
| EDCE 5970 | Fieldwork 1 |
| EDCE 5971 | Fieldwork 2 |

EDUR 6960 Introduction to Teaching and Learning

Candidates must complete two of the following four courses with a grade of "B" (3.0) or better:

- EDUR 5000 Cultural Paradigms of Education
- EDES 5001 Applied Educational Psychology for the Childhood and Adolescent Years
- EDES 5003 Theories and Policies of Second Language Acquisition
- EDSS 6001 Teaching Culturally/Linguistically Diverse Students with Exceptional Needs

Candidates must complete one of the following courses, depending on subject emphasis of the credential:

- EDES 5251 Methods in Teaching Secondary Languages Other Than English
- EDES 5252 Methods in Teaching Secondary Social Studies
- EDES 5253 Methods in Teaching Secondary English
- EDES 5254 Methods in Teaching Secondary Science
- EDES 5255 Methods in Teaching Secondary Math
- EDES 5256 Methods in Teaching Secondary Art

3. Disposition Rubric Score: Candidate chooses a professor of one of the four prerequisite courses to complete the Disposition Rubric and submits the score to the Program Advisor.
4. Professional Advising: Candidate schedules an appointment with Academic Program Director/Assistant Director.
5. Teacher Admission and Advisory Committee (TAAC) Review: After the requirements for provisional and formal admission have been completed, the candidate's file will be submitted to TAAC for review. It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that all items have been completed, including the resolution of any Incomplete grades received in the prerequisite courses. Candidates will be notified of the committee's decision in writing.

Note: All documents become property of the University and will not be released to any person or institution unless required by law.

- EDES 5250 Methodology in English Language Development (ELD) and Specially Designed Academic Instruction in English (SDAIE) for Secondary Educators
- EDES 6250 Improvement of Literacy in the Single Subject Classroom

2. Teaching Performance Assessments: Tasks 1 and 2 (two zero-semester-hour courses with associated fees):

- EDCE 5950 Teaching Performance Assessment Task 1, Subject Specific Pedagogy
- EDCE 5951 Teaching Performance Assessment Task 2, Subject Designing Instruction

3. Health Education for Educators: Candidates may satisfy the Health Education requirement in one of the following ways:

- successful completion of EDES 8000
- successful completion of a 2042 approved course through another institution. It is recommended that the candidate obtain approval from the School of Education Credential Office prior to taking class. Official transcripts must be submitted as evidence of course completion.

4. Professional Advising: Schedule an appointment with the Program Director.

5. Subject Matter Competency: Submit to the Academic Advisor either

- original score report verifying 100% successful completion of all elements of the CSET, OR
- letter verifying 100% completion of the subject matter coursework from a 2042 approved program.

6. Disposition Rubric Score: The professor for EDES 6250 will submit a score to the Program Director.
7. Fieldwork Application: Candidates must complete the fieldwork application and violation affidavit with the Academic Advisor. They must then schedule an interview with the Coordinator of Clinical Education.
8. Teacher Advisory Review Committee (TARC): After all the steps outlined above have been completed, the candidate's file will be submitted to the Teacher Advisory Review Committee (TARC) for review. It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that all items have been completed, including the resolution of any Incomplete grades received in any courses. Candidates will be notified of the committee's decision in writing.

Culminating Fieldwork Requirements

1. Enroll in Fieldwork:
 - EDUR 6961 Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching
2. Enroll in TPA Tasks 3 and 4: Two zero-semester-hour courses with associated fees.
 - EDCE 5952 Teaching Performance Assessment Task 3, Assessing Learning
 - EDCE 5953 Teaching Performance Assessment Task 4, Culminating Teaching Experience

Additional Coursework Required for the Masters Degree

OPTION 1: Secondary Education

1. Choose one of the following courses and complete with a 3.0 or better:
 - EDUR 6100 Anthropological Analysis of Cultural Diversity
 - EDES 6103 Curriculum and Instructional Leadership
 - EDLA 6105 Assessment and Research Methodology
 - EDSS 6106 Human Development and Learning
2. Complete EDES 6995 Comprehensive Examination:
 - Fee required.

OPTION 2: Literacy and Language Arts

The Master of Arts in Literacy and Language Arts combined with the 2042 Preliminary Multiple Subjects or Single Subject Teaching Credential offers the opportunity for a graduate student to receive both a preliminary teaching credential and a Master of Arts degree. Candidates who initially applied for admission to the credential program only must add the Master of Arts degree prior to the pre-fieldwork assessment.

Program Requirements

1. All 2042 Preliminary Single Subject Teaching Credential courses
2. Additional Required Coursework
 - EDES 6355 Introduction to Reading Difficulties
 - EDES 6343 Diagnosis and Intervention in Reading Practicum I
3. Comprehensive Assessment: Candidates meet with the program director to discuss their timeline and enrollment in either the comprehensive exam or the thesis project series.
 - EDES 6995 Comprehensive Examination: Literacy (fee required) or Thesis Option (See program director for detailed course sequence)

Exit Interview

The candidate must schedule an exit interview with the Program Director/Assistant Director. The exit interview must be completed prior to submitting an application for a credential and Master of Arts degree. 206 Specialized Programs in Urban Education

Application for Credential

When all requirements have been completed, candidates must complete an application for a preliminary teaching credential (additional fee required, see SOE website for more information).

Application for Master of Arts Degree

Candidates must complete an application for a Master of Arts degree with the Office of the Registrar the semester prior to the completion of degree requirements.

2042 Single Subject Credential Only

This program is designed for intern/practitioner candidates who are only interested in seeking a credential. Candidates must complete all of the requirements detailed above for Provisional Admission, Formal Admission, Culminating Fieldwork Experience, Exit Interview and Application for Master's Degree.

Clear 2042 Single Subject Credential

Candidates have five years after obtaining their preliminary credential in which to complete the requirements for a professional clear credential. LMU offers an approved Professional 2042 Clear Credential Program for those teachers who do not have access to an induction program at their school site. See Professional 2042 Clear Teaching Credential in this Bulletin for more information.

Master of Arts (without Credential)

This program is designed for practitioners who do not successfully pass the CSET prior to enrollment in EDUR 6961 Portfolio and Assessment. Instead, candidates must complete all of the requirements detailed above for Provisional Admission, Formal Admission and Program Requirements.

OPTION 1: Secondary Education

- Choose two of the following courses and complete with a 3.0 or better:

EDUR 6100	Anthropological Analysis of Cultural Diversity
EDES 6103	Curriculum and Instructional Leadership
EDLA 6105	Assessment and Research Methodology
EDSS 6106	Human Development and Learning
EDES 6995	Comprehensive Examination in Secondary Education (fee required)

- Complete EDES 6995 Comprehensive Exam in Secondary Education:

OPTION 2: Literacy and Language Arts

The Master of Arts in Literacy and Language Arts combined with the 2042 Preliminary Multiple Subjects or Single Subject Teaching Credential offers the opportunity for a graduate student to receive both a preliminary teaching credential and a Master of Arts degree. Candidates who initially applied for admission to the credential program only must add the Master of Arts degree prior to the pre-fieldwork assessment.

Program Requirements

- All 2042 Preliminary Single Subject Teaching Credential courses.
- Additional Required Coursework

EDES 6342	Diagnosing and Developing Literacy Skills
EDES 6343	Practicum in Diagnosing and Developing Literacy Skills

- Comprehensive Assessment: Candidates meet with the program director to discuss their timeline and enrollment in either the comprehensive exam or the thesis project series.

EDES 6995	Comprehensive Examination: Literacy (fee required) or Thesis Option (See Program Director for detailed course sequence)
-----------	---

If the candidate successfully passes all sections of the CSET within 5 years or completes 100% of the required coursework from a 2042 approved program, the candidate can complete the credential by completing an exit interview with the Academic Program Director and submitting an application for a credential.

MAST Transformational Leader (TL) Certificate

Introduction

In the CMAST TL Certificate, TLs learn how to demonstrate effective teaching practices, coach their colleagues, and teach their colleagues in Professional Learning Seminars centered around teaching the CCSS through MAST at their respective sites and within their organizations. Throughout each course of the certificate, TLs take on more responsibility in leading their colleagues, through a gradual release of responsibility from CMAST faculty to the TL.

CMAST institutionalizes a combination of university classes, professional development seminars, in-class demonstrations, and virtual learning components to train TLs how to analyze student and teacher data, teach students and adults, share leadership with administrators, design STEM curriculum, and collaborate with faculty and community members to create and sustain the MAST System.

Eligibility

Teacher leaders who meet the following minimum program criteria are invited to apply:

- For Secondary teaching: possess an undergraduate degree with at least a 3.0 GPA in a STEM or STEM-related field. For Elementary teaching: possess an undergraduate degree with at least a 3.4 GPA and at least 12 units in math and/or science preferred
- Possess a minimum of three years classroom teaching experience with demonstrated student achievement
- Possess current Clear California Multiple Subjects or Secondary Teaching Credential in Mathematics or Science for grades 7–12 or current Clear California Multiple Subject Teaching Credential
- Must be currently teaching
- Desire to lead a new generation of effective teachers, commit to utilizing action research to improve practice, and dedicate their energy to uplifting schools that serve children from diverse economic, racial, linguistic, and cultural backgrounds
- Demonstrate commitment to ongoing professional learning and openness to feedback and critical conversations that transform mathematics or science practices
- Be a transformative teacher and coach for adult learners: able to establish effective relationships with colleagues, committed to leading courageous conversations with colleagues, able to design and implement effective instruction to increase colleagues' learning, and model and facilitate data-informed decision-making keeping students at the core

Course Requirements

EDUR 5580	Teaching Mathematics and Science in Urban Schools 3 semester hours
EDUR 5581	Mentorship in Math and Science Education 3 semester hours
EDUR 5582	Collaboration in Math and Science Education 3 semester hours
EDUR 5583	Mentorship in Math and Science Education

Master's Option

After successful completion of the MAST TL Certificate, candidates have the option of applying their 12 semester hours towards a Master's in Urban Education (Curriculum, Teaching, and Learning).

19 semester hours of additional coursework required.

Introduction

Catholic schools are an integral part of the educational systems of urban centers across the United States, serving as pillars for many communities, particularly in economically disadvantaged areas. In Los Angeles, more than 80,000 children and their families rely on these schools to provide the moral, spiritual and intellectual underpinnings that have enabled so many Catholic school graduates to become productive, socially conscious adults.

But these schools are facing significant challenges. Enrollment in Catholic schools has declined 12 percent nationally in the last decade. Many schools are struggling financially. Catholic school systems are in need of professional development for teachers and administrators, along with research into the most effective approaches to running the schools and educating increasingly diverse student bodies.

With the Center for Catholic Education, the LMU School of Education will be better positioned to assist the Archdiocese of Los Angeles, as well as Catholic school systems across the country, in ensuring that the rich tradition of Catholic education endures and grows. The CCE brings together a broad range of successful programs at SOE to advance PK–12 Catholic education by training school leaders and teachers, increasing awareness of Catholic schools' impact on communities, and developing innovative ways to support Catholic schools. The Center for Catholic Education will serve as an anchor for Catholic schools in Los Angeles and nationally so that the rich tradition of Catholic education continues to shape morally and socially conscious men and women.

The Center for Catholic Education is committed to leadership development, teacher preparation, and research and outreach.

Programs

The Center for Catholic Education offers programs in specialized cohorts:

- LMUJLA CAST: For teachers employed by the Archdiocese of Los Angeles
- PLACE Corps: Teachers who are part of a teaching service corps in partnership with the Archdiocese of Los Angeles

Center for Undergraduate Teacher Preparation

Emphasis

Mathematics Bachelor of Arts with Major in Mathematics Secondary Teacher Preparation Program

This major is designed for students who are interested in pursuing a career in teaching mathematics at the secondary (i.e., middle or high school) level. With the help of her/his advisor, the student may design a schedule carefully so that s/he can complete the degree and 2042 California Preliminary Single Subject (Secondary) Teaching Credential during her/his four years at LMU.

Included in the program, students complete University and College core requirements. Additionally, students complete eight upper division math core. The required upper division math courses are: MATH 321, MATH 331, MATH 357, MATH 360, MATH 490, MATH 493 or MATH 497, MATH 550, and one additional 3 semester hour upper division MATH elective (excluding MATH 301 or MATH 302) chosen in consultation with her/his advisor.

In addition, the Bachelor of Arts requires students to complete EDES 488 and two three semester EDxx courses chosen from the list of requirements for the preliminary single subject secondary credential program. Those doing both the Bachelor of Arts and the credential will have to complete the other requirements for the credential program.

Four-Year Plan for Mathematics Major, Secondary Teacher Preparation Program, including the Preliminary Single Subject Credential

Fall Semester:

EDCE 462	Teaching Performance Assessment 2 0 semester hours
EDES 488	Methods in Teaching Secondary Math 3 semester hours
EDES 8000	Health Education 1 semester hour
MATH 357	Complex Variables 3 semester hours
MATH 493	Senior Seminar for Future Mathematics Educators 3 semester hours
MATH 550	Fundamental Concepts of Geometry 3 semester hours
___ ___	University Core 3 semester hours

Spring Semester:

EDCE 412	Secondary Directed Teaching 9 TO 12 12 semester hours
EDCE 463	Teaching Performance Assessment 3 0 semester hours
EDCE 464	Teaching Performance Assessment 4 0 semester hours
EDES 403	Reading and Content Learning in Middle and Secondary Schools 3 semester hours

Note:

* HIST 198 (Becoming America) satisfies both the U.S. Constitution requirement for the preliminary teaching credential and 3 semester hours of the history core requirement. POLS 135 satisfies both the U.S. Constitution requirement for the preliminary teaching credential and 3 semester hours of the understanding human behavior core requirement.

 This class is required for the student who wishes to get a secondary teaching credential.

 For the student who is working on the teaching credential, these semester hours can be used for secondary directed teaching (EDCE 412).

This four-year plan serves only as a general model. Students should meet with their advisors at least once a semester to discuss progress in the program and plans for future semesters.

Secondary Teacher Preparation Program in Social Science (History)

Secondary Teacher Preparation Program in Social Science

The LMU Secondary Teacher Preparation Program in Social Science is designed for students who are seeking history and social science teaching positions in grades 6–8 or 9–12 in school settings that are departmentalized.

This program includes courses both in the Bellarmine College of Liberal Arts and the School of Education, and it leads towards the 2042 Preliminary Single-Subject Teaching Credential granted by the State of California Commission on Teacher Credentialing.

Students are able to complete the LMU Secondary Teacher Preparation Program in Social Science at the same time that they complete a B.A. degree with a major either in History or Political Science. The LMU Secondary Teacher Preparation Program in Social Science has been approved by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing.

Please contact the Center for Undergraduate Teacher Preparation for information about all available Secondary Teacher Preparation Programs. All students interested in teaching English in middle schools or high schools should meet with their departmental advisors as soon as possible and must also attend a mandatory School of Education Undergraduate Information Session. Please call 310.338.7845 to obtain the next scheduled meeting time and to confirm attendance.

In order to meet the academic requirements of the LMU Secondary Teacher Preparation Program in Social Science, students must complete the following courses granting either 141 semester hours of credit for a Political Science major or 120 semester hours of credit for a History major.

Required Core Courses in the Secondary Teacher Preparation program in Social Science (27 semester hours)

World History

HIST 300	Global Encounters pre-1500	3 semester hours
HIST 301	Global Encounters post-1500	3 semester hours
POLS 155	Comparative Politics	3 semester hours

Required Courses in the Secondary Teacher Preparation Program in Social Science Needed to Complete Either a History or a Political Science Major (HIST Majors: 24 semester hours; POLS Majors: 48 semester hours)

History and Political Science Majors

Both History and Political Science majors choose HIST 198.

Choose one:

POLS 210	Empirical Approaches	3 semester hours (a requirement for POLS majors)
HIST 310	History and Historians	3 semester hours
HIST 330	History as Detective	(a requirement for HIST majors) (HIST and POLS majors)

(POLS Majors)

Both History and Political Science majors choose five upper division HIST courses. Not more than half of the total upper division semester hours may be taken from one of the following areas: a) Europe; b) United States; or c) Africa, Asia, Latin America, and modern Middle East

Seminar

(3–4 semester hours)

History majors choose one HIST 500-level senior seminar. Political Science majors choose one POLS 500-level seminar.

Additional Political Science Major Requirements

Political Science majors must complete:

POLS 220	Foundations of Political Thought	3 semester hours
----------	----------------------------------	------------------

Five upper division POLS courses

(20 semester hours)

Political Science majors choose five upper division POLS courses, at least one course in three of these five groups: Political Thought, U.S. Politics, Comparative Politics, and International and World Politics.

Total:

HIST Majors: 24 semester hours

POLS Majors: 48 semester hours

Education Courses Required for the 2042 Preliminary Single-Subject Teaching Credential

(Not included in the Extended Studies Courses of the Secondary Teacher Preparation Program in Social Science) (24 semester hours)

(24 semester hours for POLS majors and 30 semester hours for HIST majors)

include Electives (HIST majors)

Total:

HIST Majors: 120 semester hours

POLS Majors: 138 semester hours

Undergraduate-Level Coursework Plan for the Secondary Teacher Preparation Program in Social Science (History)

The Secondary Teacher Preparation Program in Social Science is designed for students who anticipate teaching history and social science in grades 6–8 or 9–12 in school settings that are departmentalized. Because of the rigorous standards set by the State of California for teacher credentialing, the Program at LMU is very specific in terms of the coursework you will be taking. With careful planning, however, it is possible to complete a History major, the University's Core Curriculum requirements, the Secondary Teacher Preparation Program's subject-matter courses in social science, and the School of Education's required courses in four years (eight semesters). Students with a History major, choosing to complete this four-year plan, will fulfill all of the required coursework at the undergraduate level that will lead to a B.A. degree, with a major in History, and the California 2042 Preliminary Social Science Single-Subject Credential.

State of California Secondary Teaching Credential and a Minor in Secondary Education

Secondary Teacher Preparation in Art

The Art Education Emphasis is designed to create reflective, informed, caring, and capable artists who are skilled in using interpersonal and creative tools for teaching careers in California schools at the secondary level (grades 6–12). Students interested in earning a State of California Single Subject Teaching Credential in Art must fulfill all the requirements for the major in Studio Arts (STAR) with an Emphasis in Art Education (ARTE) and the requirements for a minor in Secondary Education (SEED). With the help of their advisor, students can carefully design a schedule to complete the program during their four years at LMU. Students who seek graduation with an Art Education Emphasis and a teaching credential should ideally declare the Art Education Emphasis as a freshman.

The LMU Secondary Teacher Preparation Program in Art is approved by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing. The Department of Art and Art History is a fully accredited member of the National Association of Schools of Art and Design.

(tlenihan@lmu.edu 310.338.4409) to sign up for the program and to discuss their course of study.

Please contact the School of Education at soeinfo@lmu.edu for information about all available Secondary Teacher Preparation Programs (STPP). All students interested in teaching Art in middle schools or high schools should meet with their departmental advisors as soon as possible and must also attend a mandatory School of Education Undergraduate Information Session. Please call 310.338.7845 to obtain the next scheduled meeting time and to confirm attendance. The advisor for STPP students regarding the School of Education is Terri Taylor (ttaylor@lmu.edu 310.338.7755).

The Center for Undergraduate Teacher Preparation (CUTP) is also available to assist students interested in teaching careers in both secondary and elementary education. Please contact Dr. Bernadette M. Musetti, Senior Director and Associate Professor of Liberal Studies (bmusetti@lmu.edu 310.338.4402). CUTP has a library of information and advice for teachers and also sponsors several informational programs every year. CUTP is located in UH 3404, 310.338.1748.

Major Requirements for a Major in Studio Arts (STAR) with an Emphasis in Art Education (ARTE)

Note:

*Students following the Art Education Emphasis with a Studio Arts Focus in Design must complete all prerequisites prior to enrolling in ART 490; see course description.

This schedule is typical. The sequence and choices of courses must be decided in consultation with the Director of Art Education and advisors from the School of Education.

Additional education courses are required for those students who plan to complete the State of California Secondary Teaching Credential. Additionally, prerequisite courses are required along with these additional requirements and are necessary for applying to the School of Education to earn the State of California Teaching Credential.

All students interested in art education are required to consult closely with the CFA Dean's office, the Director of Art Education, and the School of Education for the updated program requirements. Consultation is critical to insure timely completion of the programs. Additionally, students should contact the School of Education to arrange a time to attend an Undergraduate Information Session.

Studio Arts with Art Education emphasis, B.A.

Secondary Teacher Preparation in Art

The Art Education Emphasis is designed to create reflective, informed, caring, and capable artists who are skilled in using interpersonal and creative tools for teaching careers in California schools at the secondary level (grades 6–12). Students interested in earning a State of California Single Subject Teaching Credential in Art must fulfill all the requirements for the major in Studio Arts (STAR) with an Emphasis in Art Education (ARTE) and the requirements for a minor in Secondary Education (SEED). With the help of their advisor, students can carefully design a schedule to complete the program during their four years at LMU. Students who seek graduation with an Art Education Emphasis and a teaching credential should ideally declare the Art Education Emphasis as a freshman.

The LMU Secondary Teacher Preparation Program in Art is approved by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing. The Department of Art and Art History is a fully accredited member of the National Association of Schools of Art and Design.

Students should consult with the Director/Advisor of Secondary Teacher Preparation Program in Art, Professor Terry Lenihan (tlenihan@lmu.edu 310.338.4409) to sign up for the program and to discuss their course of study.

Please contact the School of Education at soeinfo@lmu.edu for information about all available Secondary Teacher Preparation Programs (STPP). All students interested in teaching Art in middle schools or high schools should meet with their departmental advisors as soon as possible and must also attend a mandatory School of Education Undergraduate Information Session. Please call 310.338.7845 to obtain the next scheduled meeting time and to confirm attendance. The advisor for STPP students regarding the School of Education is Terri Taylor (ttaylor@lmu.edu 310.338.7755).

The Center for Undergraduate Teacher Preparation (CUTP) is also available to assist students interested in teaching careers in both secondary and elementary education. Please contact Dr. Bernadette M. Musetti, Senior Director and Associate Professor of Liberal Studies (bmusetti@lmu.edu 310.338.4402). CUTP has a library of information and advice for teachers and also sponsors several informational programs every year. CUTP is located in UH 3404, 310.338.1748.

SCHOOL OF FILM AND TELEVISION

Administration

Dean: Stephen Ujlaki

Associate Dean for Academic Affairs: Abigail Kaun

Associate Dean of Operations and Business Services:
Roger D. Stewart

Objectives

The LMU School of Film and Television is committed to preparing students for their creative and professional lives. Through their course work, creative projects, and internships, students will learn the art and craft of communicating ideas through images and sound and writing for the screen. They will also gain an appreciation for the history of these art forms and develop their ability to critically analyze these works. We aim for that delicate balance between theory, technology and the creative impulse—where the balance is always heavily weighted toward the creative and human.

It is important for artists to be aware and considerate of diverse views, yet have the freedom to discover their individual voices and the courage to express their own points of view. As faculty, our most important work is to help our students find those creative voices and express them, because we believe that art is of utmost importance to the human race. We strive to create an atmosphere in which lasting and useful original works are fashioned—by the students and by the faculty and staff. We encourage our students to address a wide audience, to appreciate the contributions of all who labor to tell a story, and to work as part of a community of artists to find new ways to tell new stories.

True to the Loyola Marymount tradition, we also seek to remind students of the ethical and social responsibilities that go with the power of these media, and we encourage them to have a reflective mind and generous spirit as they seek to create works that inform, enlighten, and entertain.

Graduate Program

Degrees Offered

The School of Film and Television offers three Master of Fine Arts (M.F.A.) degrees:

- Film and Television Production (PROD)
- Feature Film Screenwriting (FFSW)
- Writing and Producing for Television (WPTV)

Specific degree requirements are listed under each individual program.

Mission Statement

The Master of Fine Arts degrees offered by the School of Film and Television at Loyola Marymount University are based on a professional academic program and designed to foster original and creative work in film and television production and writing. The emphasis is on understanding and mastering visual storytelling in an atmosphere which allows students to explore and express their ideas with ever increasing creative and technical skills.

Admission Requirements

All applicants must have a Bachelor's degree from an accredited university. The department welcomes applicants who have received degrees in unrelated fields. There are only a limited number of openings in the graduate School of Film and Television programs, and applications are reviewed and accepted ONLY for the Fall semester each year.

Applicants must submit all materials to the Graduate Division by January 15. These materials include: application, $50 application fee, detailed personal statement, all transcripts, GRE scores (optional if undergraduate GPA is greater than a 3.0), two letters of recommendation, and supplemental materials including any creative work in written and/or multimedia formats that illustrate a particular talent or expertise that the applicant would like to highlight for the selection committee. PROD applicants must submit creative samples (see the SFTV website for specific requirements). Applicants to FFSW or WPTV programs must submit a writing sample (see the SFTV website for specific requirements).

A non-refundable $250 deposit must accompany your letter of acceptance within 15 days of notification by the University of your admittance into the program. The deposit is applied toward tuition. Letters are mailed out on a rolling basis.

June 15 is the deadline to register for Fall classes. IMPORTANT: Any applicant who does NOT register by this date will forfeit his or her spot, and it will be offered to another student.

Graduate Prerequisites

Students will also be required to take a specified number of graduate prerequisites. Graduate students are on a provisional status until their graduate prerequisites are successfully completed. These prerequisites are required and may not be waived.

Thesis

Each of the three majors comes to fruition in the graduate thesis project for production students, and a portfolio for writing students. Thesis projects take a minimum of one year to complete, usually spanning the final year of graduate work towards the Master of Fine Arts degree. Students do not have the option of the traditional Master's research thesis.

Undergraduate Program

Degrees Offered

The School of Film and Television offers the following four degrees:

- Bachelor of Arts in Animation
- Bachelor of Arts in Film and Television Production
- Bachelor of Arts in Recording Arts
- Bachelor of Arts in Screenwriting

Degree requirements are listed under each individual program.

Change of Program/Major

There is a formal application procedure for students who wish to be accepted into the School of Film and Television or who wish to transfer from one SFTV program to another. This procedure is explained in the SFTV Application Form available from the School. Applications are due on the last working day of February for admission to the following Fall semester and on the last working day of September for admission to the following Spring semester.

Application of General University Requirements

The University requirements for admission, graduation, and all general rules and regulations of the University as set forth in this Bulletin are applicable to and binding upon all students enrolled in the School of Film and Television.

School Curriculum

The curriculum of the School of Film and Television incorporates required courses in university core, major sequences, and elective courses which complement and enhance the student's major field of concentration.

Recommendations

Students are encouraged to enrich their program of study with selected electives from the following areas.

Business

Students are encouraged to take a course in the issues of business. Consult the Bulletin listings.

Computer Skills

Students are expected to become proficient in computer skills. Courses or workshops may be taken to help students develop existing skills.

Foreign Language

Students are encouraged to study foreign languages to the intermediate level. LMU offers Chinese, Filipino, French, German,

Greek (Modern and Classical), Italian, Japanese, Latin, and Spanish on a regular basis.

International/Global Studies

Students are encouraged to select elective courses that deal with international and/or global issues. Consult the Bulletin listings.

Study Abroad

A semester of international study abroad is also recommended. Consult the Study Abroad office.

Total Program

120 semester hours are required for graduation with the following distribution:

- a) a maximum of 36 upper division semester hours in any one department will be accepted toward the 120 semester hours requirement; and
- b) at least 45 semester hours are required from upper division offerings.

Students should consult the Dean's Office for specific policies applicable to the School of Film and Television.

European Satellite Program

Students in the School of Film and Television have the opportunity to participate in an intensive production study abroad experience in Bonn, Germany. The program focuses on documentary film production and European media and culture. Courses are taught by both LMU faculty and German instructors. The program's structure includes three-week workshops and immersive, hands-on production training. Cultural opportunities while overseas include film festivals (depending on the season), exhibitions, theater performances, tours of film and television studios, and a trip to Berlin. Participating students will earn 13–15 semester hours of credit, including the production sequence, and will produce a 10-minute documentary that can be distributed or exhibited at festivals or through other channels. The Bonn program includes additional requirements.

The FITS Europe study abroad program partners LMU's School of Film and Television. For more details on the program, please visit LMU's Study Abroad Office and FITS Europe.

Animation

Faculty

Chairperson: Thomas F. Klein

Associate Professors: Rob Burchfield, José Garcia-Moreno,
Thomas F. Klein

Assistant Professor: Adriana Jaroszewicz

Animation, B.A.

Objectives

The Animation program offers students a classical approach to this complex and multifaceted medium based on traditional fundamentals, such as hand drawn, clay, stop motion, pixilation, mixed media and cut-outs animation. The program represents a broadband approach to animation education within a liberal arts framework. There is course work in both traditional and digital animation, plus studies in experimental, interactive storytelling and alternative forms of the medium in small classroom settings.

In four years at LMU, animation majors move from a traditionally based foundation in animation production techniques during the freshman year to the theory and practice of digital filmmaking and computer animation during the sophomore year. The third year is devoted to the study of multimedia and alternative forms of animation. During the senior year, students write, animate and direct a thesis film/project for their portfolio.

We propose that this degree represents a solid cross-disciplinary approach in Animation Studies. Accordingly, we choose to stress a solid lower division knowledge base across the salient animation disciplines taught in any given animation curriculum. Moreover, we also choose to stress a higher dimension of flexibility in upper division courses-without regard to specific track or emphasis-to allow any student the freedom to determine their own course and career destination within the protocols of a classical Ignatian education.

Animation Student Learning Outcomes

Students will:

- Have a unique personal artistic vision and work effectively in a collaborative filmmaking process.
- Be ethical and humanistic animation storytellers, grounded in traditional skills while being prepared in the pillars of innovation, diversity and social justice.
- Be active leaders in the new emerging industries; whether it will be in the studio system or as independent artists.
- Demonstrate understanding of technological foundations for the ever evolving world of animation innovation
- Integrate animation workflows in a collaborative filmmaking process

Major Requirements

University Core requirements	42 semester hours
Lower Division major requirements	35 semester hours
Upper Division major requirements	25 semester hours
Electives	18 semester hours
Overall Total	120 semester hours

Four-Year Planning Guidelines

- Normal course load is 15 semester hours or 5 courses per semester. Beginning sophomore year, the remaining semesters also include the 1 semester hour Figure Drawing requirement.
- University core should be distributed based on interests and availability.
- Lower division major requirements should be completed by end of sophomore year.
- 45 semester hours of upper division coursework are required; these are comprised of upper division core requirements, upper division major requirements, and upper division electives taken.
- Proper sequencing of major requirements is indicated by prerequisites of individual courses and as suggested in the outline below. Please consult assigned academic advisor.
- Acting, cinematography and lighting, computer programming, dance, multimedia design, editing, music, mythology and literature, and sound design classes are among suggested electives for Animation majors.

Associate Professors: Susan Torrey Barber, Patrick J. Connolly, S.J.,

Richard P. Hadley, Jr., Susan Scheibler

Film, Television, and Media Studies MinorObjectives

Film, Television, and Media Studies is an academic interdisciplinary program that provides students the opportunity to understand the many ways that filmmakers have used the media as a means of personal expression as well as a tool for understanding the world. Through their Film and TV courses, students gain the tools that allow them to critically examine the ways in which their own perceptions have been shaped and influenced by media texts. FTVS classes are academically rigorous, depending on analytic as well as critical tools that are informed by reading in media and cultural history. The program is an integral part of the School of Film and Television, providing the theoretical, historical, and cultural frameworks within which SFTV students apply their practical skills, whether they are directing, producing, filming, editing, writing, and/or recording sound for movies.

Film, Television, and Media Studies students gain an appreciation of the basic elements of film and/or television language and acquire the tools that will enable them to be more thoughtful consumers as well as producers of media texts. Through a careful study of film history, students will understand and appreciate the development of cinematic and televisual media within their historical and cultural contexts. Courses focusing on national cinemas open up and deepen their understanding of other cultures, national histories, and religious viewpoints. Courses that focus on ethical and political issues encourage students to think about the ways that media can be used to create a more just world. In all FTVS classes, students explore the many ways that media texts reflect, shape and question cultural values, attitudes, and beliefs, including but not limited to representations of race, ethnicity, gender, sexuality, class, and nationality.

Film, Television, and Media Studies Student Learning Outcomes

Students minoring in Film, Television, and Media Studies will:

- Know and demonstrate an understanding of the narrative and stylistic elements of film or TV language
- Apply an understanding of film/TV language through a critical analysis of specific texts
- Know and demonstrate knowledge of film history, including key movements and important filmmakers
- Know and demonstrate understanding of at least one film/TV genre or auteur and one national cinema or international TV
- Value diverse approaches to film and TV production

FTVS Minor Requirements

The School of Film and Television offers a minor in Film, Television, and Media Studies to all LMU students.

The minor is 18 semester hours consisting of:

Film and Television Production Undergraduate Program

Film and Television Production Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completing the program, students majoring in Film and Television Production will know:

- The techniques of visual storytelling
- The processes of producing, directing, screenwriting, cinematography, editing, sound recording and design, and set design
- The current technologies involved in the creation of film or TV production
- Strategies for future dissemination of their work

Upon completing the program, student majoring in Film and Television Production will value:

- A wide variety of cinematic forms of expression
- The importance of film history
- The diversity and contributions of fellow students
- Collaboration and teamwork in the production process
- Individual expression through cinematic and other forms

Upon completing the program, student majoring in Film and Television Production will be able to:

- Clearly communicate story, theme, and concept in their works
- Create and treat content in innovative and imaginative ways
- Apply learned techniques of film and television production to creative works of their own
- Create or contribute to technically accomplished and aesthetically engaging films
- Give constructive feedback, and implement revision of their own creative work based on feedback received
- Balance creative and organizational skills
- Practice teamwork

Four-Year Planning Guidelines

- Normal course load is 15 semester hours or 5 courses per semester.
- University core should be selected based on distribution of various disciplines as well as interests and availability.
- Lower division major requirements should be completed by end of sophomore year.
- 45 semester hours of upper division coursework are required; these are comprised of upper division core requirements, upper division major requirements, and upper division electives taken.
- Proper sequencing of major requirements is indicated by prerequisites of individual courses and as suggested in the outline below. Please consult assigned academic advisor.
- PROD 200 and PROD 250 should be taken in opposite semesters sophomore year in either order.
- Acting, drawing, photography, computer graphics, additional film history, screenwriting, and business classes are among suggested electives for Film and Television Production majors.

Film and Television Production, M.F.A.

Objectives

The School of Film and Television's major in Film and Television Production is designed to enable students to express their ideas on the screen-whether that screen is in a theater, at home, or held in one's hand. Beyond the existing television and theatrical feature landscape, new forms of media empower a single person to be both a worldwide broadcaster and a very selective receiver. Digital technologies have created new ways of working that transcend the traditional distinctions between film and television. The Film and Television Production major combines the best of both of these fields.

Students admitted to this rigorous major become quickly immersed in the art of storytelling for the screen. They encounter and study great works of world cinema, both past and present, and ponder the ramifications of the emerging media of the future. They receive expert hands-on training in writing the screenplay, directing actors, cinematography, sound recording and design, and editing. In the process, each student learns about the challenging relationship between art and technique, and how both serve each other. Students learn the practical aspects of mounting a production: budgeting, location scouting, casting, set design and construction, post production, and the importance of safety in all aspects of what they do. Complete premier state of the art equipment and technology are available 24/7-all in service of story. Through teamwork, students learn an appreciation for all of the artists who labor to serve the story, and the camaraderie that comes from working as part of a crew engaged in a large, collaborative creative enterprise.

Students also learn to find their individual voices, and express their own points of view, on projects driven by their own creative choices. Beginning with their work on a series of short and intermediate films, students forge the fundamental skills of visual storytelling. Each student's experience culminates with a final project in which advanced students write, cast, direct and edit their own thesis films.

These projects may be entirely from the imagination, or they may document the real world. These finished works are produced and owned by the students, and many are distributed and celebrated far beyond the confines of our campus, through the exciting world of festivals, theatrical, television, and other channels of local, national, and international exhibition.

Film and Television Production Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completing the program, students majoring in Film and Television Production will know:

- The basic techniques of visual storytelling
- The processes of producing, directing, screenwriting, cinematography, editing, sound recording and design, and set design
- The current technologies involved in the creation of film production
- Strategies for future dissemination of their work

Upon completing the program, students majoring in Film and Television Production will value:

- A wide variety of cinematic forms of expression in traditional as well as emerging technologies
- The importance of film history and theory
- Create technically accomplished and aesthetically engaging films
- Collaboration and teamwork in the filmmaking process
- Individual expression through cinematic forms

Upon completing the program, students majoring in Film and Television Production will be able to:

- Clearly communicate story, theme, and concept in their works
- Apply learned techniques of film and television production to creative works of their own
- Give constructive feedback, and implement revision of their own creative work based on feedback received
- Balance creative and organizational skills
- Practice teamwork, while developing leadership skills
- Create and treat content in innovative and imaginative ways

M.F.A. in Film and Television Production Requirements

First Semester Requirements	12 semester hours
Program Requirements	39 semester hours
Thesis Requirements	9 semester hours
Overall Total	60 semester hours

M.F.A. in Film and Television Production Guidelines

- Proper sequencing of major requirements is indicated by prerequisites of individual courses and as noted in the outline below. Please consult assigned academic advisor.
- First semester courses (PROD 500, PROD 565, PROD 566, and SCWR 501) must be completed with a grade of B or better. Failure to do so will lead to disqualification from the program. Students who receive a grade lower than a B may not continue until they repeat the course when it is next offered. A course may be repeated only once. If a passing grade of B is received, the student may continue in the program.
- Prior to registration for the Thesis Project (PROD 650), the student must come before the Thesis Committee to advance to candidacy based upon the work completed towards this goal. Once advanced to candidacy, the student must take PROD 650 (with the instructor of record) and PROD 670 (with the instructor of record) until the project is completed and signed off by the Thesis Committee and the Dean in order to successfully complete the requirements for the M.F.A. degree. All course requirements must be taken for a letter grade. Students who receive a grade lower than the passing grade of B- must repeat the course. A course may be repeated only once. A grade of F will subject the student to disqualification from the program. Please refer to the University Bulletin for information regarding appeal and readmission after disqualification.
- The Thesis Committee form adopted by the School must be obtained from the SFTV Graduate Office and signed by all committee members in order for the student to be advanced to candidacy.
- Students must screen a master copy of the Thesis Project for approval. Upon approval, the master copy must be submitted to the thesis committee to complete the requirements. All Thesis productions are required to have a full card at the end of the credits that reads: This production was done in partial fulfillment of degree requirements at Loyola Marymount University.

Recording Arts

Faculty

Chairperson: Mladen Milicevic

Professors: Mladen Milicevic, Rodger Pardee

Associate Professor: Kurt Daugherty

Recording Arts, B.A.

Objectives

Recording Arts students explore the theoretical and practical elements of sound recording, reproduction, and design—the fundamentals crucial to successful work in all media that tap into the creative power of sound.

Given the enormous influence of these media, it is vital that these studies are given perspective by courses in LMU's Liberal Arts core curriculum. Recording Arts students are also required to take one music class that deals with the fundamentals of music theory. In upper division courses, students study the science of sound behavior, reproduction, and modification. They learn audio techniques that apply to both film/television sound and music recording.

The SFTV sound stages, studios, and audio workstations are the laboratories where students put their knowledge and creativity to work and build a portfolio. Each Recording Arts student gains experience with film and television sound production and produces an advanced recording arts senior project. Creative collaboration is key to success in this field.

Recording Arts Student Learning Outcomes

Recording Arts students will understand:

- The physical and psychoacoustic properties of sound
- The techniques of making, editing, and processing sound recordings
- The aesthetic contribution of sound to media.

Recording Arts students will be able to:

- Make technically competent recordings of music as well as production and post-production sound for film and television media
- Effectively edit and process sound for those media
- Create technically competent and aesthetically pleasing mixes for those media.

Recording Arts students will value:

- The transformative power of challenging and meaningful art
- The collaborative and rigorous nature of working in sound for music, film, and television
- The cultural impact and significance of this media—past, present, and future.

Feature Film Screenwriting, M.F.A.Objectives

- Students will prepare for specific careers in film, television, and new and emerging media through a highly professional and challenging graduate curriculum.
- Students will demonstrate the application of the theoretical, aesthetic, and practical elements of film, television, and emerging new media, story development, and script writing at a professional level suitable for pursuing a career in academia and/or the entertainment industry.

Learning Outcomes

- Students will demonstrate, through a portfolio of screenplays and teleplays, mastery of story development, character development, storytelling structure, and cinematic style.
- Students will demonstrate the ability to pitch stories and scripts to producers, managers, agents, studios, cable outlets, and networks.

- Students will demonstrate proficiency in writing for screens of all sizes. Students will value diverse stories that explore social justice issues and ethical and humanistic themes.
- Students will develop entrepreneurial skills by creating relationships with outside organizations through internships, mentorships, and designated courses and workshops.
- Students will demonstrate the fundamental business skills required for working effectively with producers, managers, agents, and the Writers Guild of America.
- Students will demonstrate proficiency in analyzing the influences of film, television, and emerging media on our culture, and vice versa.

M.F.A. Feature Film Screenwriting

The goal of the M.F.A. program in Feature Film Screenwriting is to train students to write and work in long-form storytelling. Progressing from the core courses, the Feature Film Screenwriting student must complete a portfolio, which consists of three feature-length screenplays and develop a project adapted from another medium. Students can also take courses in television writing as electives. Proper sequencing of major requirements is indicated by prerequisites of individual courses and as noted in the outline below. Please consult assigned academic advisor.

General Military Course

The first two years of Aerospace Studies (AERO 100, AERO 200) are designated the General Military Course (GMC) for students enrolled in Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (AFROTC). There are no prerequisites for these courses, and all University students may participate. These courses focus on developing individual communication skills, basic leadership traits, understanding the environment of the Air Force officer, and comprehending the historical development of the United States Air Force in the national security structure. AERO 100 and AERO 200 may be taken concurrently to allow late entry into the program by second-semester freshmen and sophomores.

Professional Officer Course

The last two years of AFROTC (AERO 300, AERO 400) are designated the Professional Officer Course (POC) for students enrolled in AFROTC. They are designed to prepare cadets for duty as officers in the United States Air Force and provide students with a working knowledge of advanced leadership and management theories and applications, as well as an understanding of the United States national security processes. The POC includes academics, interaction with military and national security professionals, and the practice of leadership and management in a large group environment.

Special Notes

Aerospace Studies academic courses are open to all students who wish to take these classes as electives, whether they are cadets or not. Courses may or may not count toward graduation, depending upon the student's major. Students should consult their Dean and Department Chairperson for allowable courses. Leadership laboratories are mandatory for members of the cadet wing. Students that are not members of the cadet wing cannot enroll in the leadership laboratory courses.

Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps Program

The AFROTC program at Loyola Marymount University is conducted by active duty Air Force Officers assigned to the Department of Aerospace Studies. The program is designed to prepare qualified men and women for careers as commissioned officers in the United States Air Force. Textbooks, uniforms, and all other equipment used in this program are furnished by the Air Force at no expense to the student.

Air Force ROTC offers three- and four-year scholarships. Additionally, Loyola Marymount University supplements some Air Force ROTC scholarships with room and board.

A nominal four-year program consists of two years of the General Military Course, followed by two years of the Professional Officer Course. Admission into the Professional Officer Course is limited to those students who successfully pass required written, oral, and physical examinations. During the summer between the sophomore and junior year, cadets are required to attend four weeks of field training at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, to familiarize them with Air Force life. The Air Force furnishes all uniforms, equipment, and transportation. Students also receive pay and allowances authorized by current directives at the time of field training attendance. After successfully completing field training, qualified cadets enter the Professional Officer Course and receive $350-400 per month, tax-free, during the final two years of AFROTC. For information on scholarships, please go to www.afrotc.com.

AFROTC offers students expanded access to management theories and practice, exposure to industry and military leaders, and opportunities to better comprehend international political and security environments. While most training takes place on the LMU campus, it includes extensive interaction with students from other local universities and colleges who participate in the program. In addition to a commission upon graduation, cadets may apply for careers as pilots, navigators, space and missile operators, business administrators, engineers, health professionals, intelligence, officers, and many other specialties.

SECONDARY TEACHER PREPARATION

Introduction

The Loyola Marymount University Center for Undergraduate Teacher Preparation exists to provide matriculation-to-graduation advising and other academic and professional support to undergraduates preparing for careers in K–12 teaching. The Center also serves as a resource for faculty and staff who provide instruction and other services in LMU's subject-matter teacher preparation programs.

In carrying out its work, the Center for Undergraduate Teacher Preparation is informed by the Mission and Goals of Loyola Marymount University, which emphasize the encouragement of learning, the education of the whole person, the service of faith, and the promotion of justice. For the encouragement of learning, the Center facilitates academically challenging teacher preparation programs where the faculty model effective pedagogy. The Center contributes to the education of the whole person through a vision of the educational process as the simultaneous formation of intellect, moral character, the senses and the imagination. The Center's role in the service of faith includes training future Catholic educators as well as cultivating respect in all our future teachers for the rich diversity of faith traditions in our multicultural society. To promote justice, the Center educates our future teachers to be agents of positive social change for all members of global society.

All LMU undergraduates who foresee a career in K–12 teaching, whether enrolling in a formal teacher preparation program or not, are encouraged to contact the Center for Undergraduate Teacher Preparation for support throughout their time at LMU.

Explanation of Coursework Required

Candidates must complete major requirements and liberal arts core requirements that address the four domains of competence. The courses listed above under pre-major, lower-division (12 semester hours), and upper-division (30 semester hours) will demonstrate competence in the Four Domains.

Candidates complete coursework in the Four Domains of Competence, including:

- the literature and textual analysis requirement by taking a minimum of ten literature courses (these ten courses are included in those listed above)
- the language, linguistics, and literacy requirements by taking ENGL 569 Linguistics; and EDES 414 Theories and Policies of Second Language Acquisition
- the rhetoric and composition requirement by taking ENGL 574 Rhetoric and Media; and ENGL 565 Theory of Teaching Writing and Literature
- the communications, speech, media, and creative performance requirement by taking one communications course (CMST 100 Introduction to Public Speaking, or CMST 130 Argumentation and Debate); one theatre course (THEA 110 Beginning Acting; THEA 120 Basic Stagecraft/THEA 121 Basic Stagecraft Lab; THEA 251 Theatre Practicum: Performance; or THEA 451 Theatre Practicum: Performance); and one media course (ENGL 574 Rhetoric and Media).

Candidates must also complete extended studies in one of the domains. This extended study consists of 6 semester hours or 2 electives in the selected domain. Students may not choose one course from one domain and one course from another. They must select their two elective courses from within one domain. Students can specialize in every genre and/or period and can select from a wide range of theory and writing courses, both creative and professional.

1. Domain Course Listings:
2. Literature and Language Analysis
3. Language, Linguistics, Literacy
4. Composition and Rhetoric
5. Communications, Speech, Media, and Performance

Secondary Teacher Preparation in Art

The Art Education Emphasis is designed to create reflective, informed, caring, and capable artists who are skilled in using interpersonal and creative tools for teaching careers in California schools at the secondary level (grades 6–12). Students interested in earning a State of California Single Subject Teaching Credential in Art must fulfill all the requirements for the major in Studio Arts (STAR) with an Emphasis in Art Education (ARTE) and the requirements for a minor in Secondary Education (SEED). With the help of their advisor, students can carefully design a schedule to complete the program during their four years at LMU. Students who seek graduation with an Art Education Emphasis and a teaching credential should ideally declare the Art Education Emphasis as a freshman.

The LMU Secondary Teacher Preparation Program in Art is approved by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing. The Department of Art and Art History is a fully accredited member of the National Association of Schools of Art and Design.

Students should consult with the Director/Advisor of Secondary Teacher Preparation Program in Art, Professor Terry Lenihan (tlenihan@lmu.edu 310.338.4409) to sign up for the program and to discuss their course of study.

Please contact the School of Education at soeinfo@lmu.edu for information about all available Secondary Teacher Preparation

Programs (STPP). All students interested in teaching Art in middle schools or high schools should meet with their departmental advisors as soon as possible and must also attend a mandatory School of Education Undergraduate Information Session. Teacher Preparation Programs in Biology, Chemistry, and Mathematics

The Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering offers subject matter preparation programs in mathematics and in science specifically designed to meet State of California subject matter requirements for a secondary teaching credential. Both the Bachelor of Arts degree in Mathematics (see the Mathematics section) and the Bachelor of Science degree in Natural Science (see the Natural Science section) are designed to allow completion of the 2042 California Preliminary Single Subject (Secondary) credential in four years, although this may require some summer coursework. These programs are offered in conjunction with the Center for Undergraduate Teacher Preparation and the School of Education. The College also offers courses in mathematics and science to support the multiple subject credential program for teaching elementary school (see the Liberal Studies section in the Bellarmine College of Liberal Arts part of the University Bulletin).

All students interested in teaching mathematics or science at the secondary level should inform their departmental advisors as soon as possible and should also contact the Center for Undergraduate Teacher Preparation and the School of Education to arrange a time to attend an Undergraduate Information Session.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS 2014–2015

Accounting

ACCT 2110

Financial Accounting

3 semester hours

This is the first course in a two-accounting-course sequence that is required for all business majors. This course introduces the student to 1) the role of accounting in business and society, 2) the basic concepts and techniques of financial accounting and 3) the use of financial statements for decision-making purposes. Topics covered include analyzing and recording business transactions; preparation of accounting records for business organizations; accounting valuations of financial resources; and the preparation, interpretation, and analysis of financial statements.

Prerequisites: BADM 1010, BADM 1020; MATH 112 or MATH 120 or MATH 131, all with a minimum grade of C (2.0)

ACCT 2120

Accounting Information for Decision Making

3 semester hours

This course involves study of managerial accounting, in which economic information (both qualitative and quantitative) is used to make strategic business decisions. This course is the second of two introductory accounting courses (business core prerequisite: ACCT 2110 Financial Accounting) required for all business majors and as a prerequisite to all other accounting courses. Managerial accounting information is used to make decisions that guide the organization through planning, organizing, directing, and controlling activities. Strategic decision making requires a future orientation to the information, with relevant and flexible data. This course draws heavily from economics, finance, management, and marketing.

Prerequisites: ACCT 2110; BADM 1010, BADM 1020, BADM 1030; MATH 112 or MATH 131, all with a minimum grade of C (2.0).

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Information Literacy.

ACCT 3110

Intermediate Accounting I

4 semester hours

This course begins the in-depth study of financial accounting and reporting. Topics covered include the environment of the standard setting process for financial reporting, the conceptual framework, basic financial accounting concepts, accounting cycle procedures, financial statement preparation and financial disclosures, basic ratio analysis, revenue recognition, present value applications, and accounting standards and procedures for cash, notes and accounts receivable, and inventories. Uses and limitations of the balance sheets, income statements, and statements of cash flows are studied. Researching accounting issues through the use of the FASB's Codification database is integrated throughout the course.

Prerequisites: BADM 1030 and ACCT 2120, both with a minimum grade of C (2.0).

ACCT 3120

Intermediate Accounting II

4 semester hours

This course continues the in-depth study of financial accounting and reporting introduced in ACCT 3110. The conceptual and procedural aspects of some of the complex and controversial topics in financial accounting are studied from both the U.S. and an international accounting perspective. Topics include the accounting for property, plant, and equipment, intangible assets, investments, long-term debt, leases, deferred income taxes, contingent liabilities, pensions and other post-retirement benefits, and several issues relating to stockholders' equity. Coverage of these topics includes an historical perspective, current practice, awareness of limitations in current practice, and possible future directions. Researching accounting issues through the use of the FASB's Codification database is integrated throughout the course.

Prerequisite: ACCT 3110 with a minimum grade of C (2.0).

ACCT 3130

Cost Management

4 semester hours

This course continues the process of analyzing economic events within the framework of accounting information systems and the use of information in the management decision-making process. Students are expected to analyze and evaluate business operations and activities. The topics will include those of the traditional product costing methods as well as cost management topics. Advanced topics of decision making structure, together with the measurement of performance, and the new competitive environment are covered during the last part of the semester. This course draws heavily from other disciplines, especially the fields of management and economics.

Prerequisite: ACCT 2120 with a minimum grade of C (2.0).

ACCT 3140

Accounting Information Systems

3 semester hours

This course introduces students to the fundamentals of accounting information systems including transaction processing, system documentation techniques, business process, and internal controls. Various software is utilized to illustrate these AIS fundamentals and to reinforce financial and managerial accounting concepts within the context of an accounting information system.

Accounting majors only, except by permission of instructor.

Prerequisites: ACCT 2120 and BADM 1030, both with a minimum grade of C (2.0)

ACCT 3197

Internship

1 semester hour

The objective of this one-semester-hour course is to help students achieve a worthwhile learning experience relevant to their major program of study. The internship, conducted with an off-campus organization, will help the student gain insights relative to his/her strengths and weaknesses in the job environment.

Prerequisite: ACCT 3110 with a minimum grade of C (2.0).

ACCT 4110

Advanced Accounting

4 semester hours

This course completes the undergraduate study of financial accounting and reporting. An emphasis is placed on consolidated financial statements. Additional topics covered include foreign currency transactions, translation of the financial statements of foreign entities, and governmental accounting for local and state governments. International financial reporting standards are integrated into the course content as applicable.

Accounting majors only, except by permission of instructor.

Prerequisites: ACCT 3120 with a minimum grade of C (2.0) and ACCT 3140.

(See ACCT 5110.)

ACCT 4120

Income Tax Accounting

4 semester hours

This is a comprehensive study of federal tax laws and administration with emphasis on the taxation of individuals. In addition, application of the components of the federal income tax formulas for partnerships, corporations, and other business entities will be examined.

Accounting majors /minors only, except by permission of instructor and approval of Associate Dean.

Prerequisite: ACCT 3110 with a minimum grade of C (2.0).

ACCT 4150

Accounting Ethics, Professionalism, and the Public Interest

3 semester hours

Accountants and the accounting profession play an important role in society. This role is examined in this course through an in-depth study of accounting ethics, professionalism, and the public interest. Students will learn about and analyze the history of the profession; the legal and ethical responsibilities of the profession; important legislation that has impacted the profession and the practice of accounting, particularly auditing; and the current environment in which accountants and auditors work. The course will expose students to moral reasoning and ethical decision making in accounting, business, and society. Students will be encouraged to adopt the objectivity, integrity, and ethical standards necessary to serve society as an accounting professional.

Accounting majors only, except by permission of instructor.

Prerequisites: ACCT 3110 and BADM 1020, both with a minimum grade of C (2.0).

ACCT 4160

Auditing

4 semester hours

This course covers the Audit Profession and the responsibilities of the Auditor, Ethics and the role of other audit professions. It also covers the tools and techniques for conducting an audit, sampling techniques and their application, the areas to be audited and the reporting requirements after an audit is completed. Discussions are also conducted on the requirements for audits of public companies under Sarbanes-Oxley (2002), the use of technology and its impact on the audit process, and the role of regulatory bodies in maintaining the accountability of the accounting profession.

Accounting majors only, except by permission of instructor and approval of Associate Dean.

Prerequisites: ACCT 3120 and ECON 230, with a minimum grade of C (2.0); ACCT 3130 and ACCT 3140

ACCT 4180

Fraud Examination

This course will examine basic concepts that govern of financial statement reporting by publicly-held corporations. Actual statements will be used to illustrate the complexities of current disclosure issues. The policy-making environment that produces generally accepted accounting principles in the United States will be critically examined, along with some procedural aspects of financial accounting.

Prerequisite: MBAA 602.

MBAJ 613Profit Planning and Management Decisions3 semester hours*

This course provides a conceptual framework for decisions involving a firm's strategies and profitability. Partly based on case study approach, the importance of performance measurement in the decision process is emphasized. Various issues related to the firm's cost structure and pricing models as well as budgeting are covered. Other topics related to the profitability measure such as cost assignment, performance appraisal, and resource allocation are discussed.

Prerequisite: MBAA 602.

MBAJ 615Tax Planning and Management Decisions3 semester hours*

An analysis of the effects of the tax law on the investment and business decisions of individuals and organizations. The course will survey tax principles that managers should understand whether they are a sole proprietor or an executive in a partnership or corporation. Tax planning and savings opportunities from the perspective of the entrepreneur, the business enterprise, the employee, and the investor will be emphasized. Also listed as MBAF 615.

Prerequisites: MBAA 602 and MBAA 608.

MBAJ 618Fraud Examination3 semester hours*

An introductory course designed for business managers and those beginning careers in accounting and auditing. The course stresses the nature of fraud, its litigation, approaches to detecting and preventing fraud, fraud inquiry methods, and reports issued by fraud examiners. Specific topics covered include: financial statement fraud, asset conversion frauds, computer frauds, and bankruptcy frauds. The course advocates a more careful and skeptical view of financial transactions and information.

Prerequisite: MBAA 602.

MBAJ 635Information Technology Security3 semester hours*

After 9/11 and the fall of Enron-the 7th largest corporation in America-information technology security has become one of the fastest growing areas in the business world. The need to know how to protect corporate information from attacks both from terrorists and business insiders are enormous. The main objective of this course is to provide students an exposure to the complex information security management issues in the US today. This course offers business professionals a unique blend of technical knowledge and managerial training to investigate digital threats, study corporate security needs, modeling potential risk, and explore possible strategies that management can adapt to protect valuable corporate assets. Also listed as MBAD 635.

Credit/No Credit grading.

Prerequisites: MBAA 601, MBAA 602, MBAA 603, MBAA 604, MBAA 605, MBAA 606, MBAA 607, MBAA 608, MBAA 609

Aerospace Studies

AERO 100Foundation of the USAF I1 semester hour*

A survey course designed to introduce students to the United States Air Force and Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps. Featured topics include: mission and organization of the Air Force, officership and professionalism, military customs and courtesies, officer career field opportunities, group leadership experiences, and an introduction to communication skills.

AERO 101Foundation of the USAF II1 semester hour*

A survey course designed to introduce students to the United States Air Force and Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps. Featured topics include: mission and organization of the Air Force, officership and professionalism, military customs and courtesies, officer career field opportunities, group leadership experiences, and an introduction to communication skills.

AERO 102Laboratory I0 semester hours*

Students are exposed to leadership experiences by learning basic military drill and ceremonies, participating in physical fitness activities, and participating in challenging group activities.

(Taken concurrently with AERO 100, mandatory for cadets, not offered to students not pursuing an AFROTC commission.)

AERO 103Laboratory II0 semester hours*

Students are exposed to leadership experiences by learning basic military drill and ceremonies, participating in physical fitness activities, and participating in challenging group activities.

AERO 200The Evolution USAF Air and Space Power I1 semester hour*

A course designed to examine general aspects of air and space power through a historical perspective. Featured topics include: a study of Air Force history and heritage, significant Air Force leaders and their contributions, and key service issues, ethics, and values. Students give oral and written presentations and participate in group leadership exercises.

AERO 201The Evolution of USAF Air and Space Power II1 semester hour*

A course designed to examine general aspects of air and space power through a historical perspective. Featured topics include: a study of Air Force history and heritage, significant Air Force leaders and their contributions, and key service issues, ethics, and values. Students give oral and written presentations and participate in group leadership exercises.

AERO 202Laboratory III0 semester hours*

Students are exposed to leadership experience by directing others in basic military drill and ceremonies, participating in physical fitness activities, and participating in challenging group activities.

(Taken concurrently with AERO 200, mandatory for cadets, not offered to students not pursuing an AFROTC commission.)

AERO 203Laboratory IV0 semester hours*

Students are exposed to leadership experience by directing others in basic military drill and ceremonies, participating in physical fitness activities, and participating in challenging group activities.

(Taken concurrently with AERO 201, mandatory for cadets, not offered to students not pursuing an AFROTC commission.)

AERO 300Air Force Leadership Studies I3 semester hours*

A study of leadership and quality management fundamentals, professional knowledge, Air Force doctrine, leadership ethics, and advanced communication skills. Case studies are used to examine Air Force leadership and management situations by demonstrating and exercising practical application of the concept being studied.

AERO 301Air Force Leadership Studies II3 semester hours*

A study of leadership and quality management fundamentals, professional knowledge, Air Force doctrine, leadership ethics, and advanced communication skills. Case studies are used to examine Air Force leadership and management situations by demonstrating and exercising practical application of the concept being studied.

AERO 302Laboratory V0 semester hours*

Students experience leadership by supervising basic military drill and ceremonies, and planning and participating in physical fitness activities and challenging group activities.

(Taken concurrently with AERO 300, mandatory for cadets, not offered to students not pursuing an AFROTC commission.)

AERO 303Laboratory VI0 semester hours*

Students experience leadership by supervising basic military drill and ceremonies, and planning and participating in physical fitness activities and challenging group activities.

(Taken concurrently with AERO 301, mandatory for cadets, not offered to students not pursuing an AFROTC commission.)

AERO 400National Security Affairs Preparation for Active Duty I3 semester hours*

Students examine the national security process, regional studies, the complexities of just war theory and how it relates to the laws of armed conflict, advanced leadership ethics, and Air Force and Joint Doctrine. Special topics of interest focus on the military profession, officership, civilian control of the military, and current issues. Effective communication skills continue to be emphasized.

AERO 401National Security Affairs Preparation for Active Duty II3 semester hours*

Students examine the national security process, regional studies, the complexities of just war theory and how it relates to the laws of armed conflict, advanced leadership ethics, and Air Force and Joint Doctrine. Special topics of interest focus on the military profession, officership, civilian control of the military, and current issues. Effective communication skills continue to be emphasized.

AERO 402Laboratory VII0 semester hours*

Students assume full responsibility for planning and running the leadership laboratory to include control of budgets and equipment, directing military drill and ceremonies, planning and participating in physical fitness activities, organizing trips and formal dinners, and designing and executing challenging group activities.

AERO 403Laboratory VIII0 semester hours*

Students assume full responsibility for planning and running the leadership laboratory to include control of budgets and equipment, directing military drill and ceremonies, planning and participating in physical fitness activities, organizing trips and formal dinners, and designing and executing challenging group activities.

AMCS 100American Cultures3 semester hours*

Lower division introductory courses in American Cultures Studies explore the meaning and dynamics of such issues as race, ethnicity, gender, class, sexuality, and other factors that define members of our society. These issues are explored from the vantage point of at least three ethno-cultural groups. Courses may be taught from myriad disciplinary perspectives and emphasize the development of basic skills for understanding and interacting in today's multicultural society.

Not repeatable for credit.

AMCS 105History of Ethnic America3 semester hours*

A historical and comparative approach to the study of America's racial and ethnic diversity.

AMCS 110Race in Contemporary American Society3 semester hours*

A critical examination of the role of race and ethnicity in contemporary American society.

AMCS 115Race and Representations3 semester hours*

A comparative examination of race and ethnicity in American literary and cultural representations.

ANIM 100History of Animation3 semester hours*

A survey of the historical developments, styles, techniques, theory, and criticism of animation as an art form. History and use of creative arts used in animation to form effective communication in film and video.

ANIM 110Visual Development for Animation3 semester hours*

Introduction to visual techniques: color theory, design composition, and storyboarding.

ANIM 120Beginning Animation Workshop3 semester hours*

An introduction to animation process: organization and integration of various creative arts used in animation; possibilities in style, media, technique, and equipment.

Lab fee.

ANIM 198Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursANIM 199*Independent Studies0 TO 3 semester hoursANIM 220*Intermediate Animation Workshop3 semester hours*

Intermediate workshop in the art of traditional animated film production. Topics of study include digital sound production, motion and articulation strategies, camera and post-production techniques.

Lab fee.

Prerequisite: ANIM 120.

ANIM 230Introduction to 3-D Computer Animation3 semester hours*

Introduction to three-dimensional digital film production. Topics of study include: modeling techniques, image processing and manipulation strategies, motion and articulation solutions, digital production techniques, texture, lighting and rendering methods, compression technology, and systems for computer-created animation.

Lab fee.

Prerequisite: ANIM 220.

ANIM 231Introduction to 2-D Computer Animation3 semester hours*

Introduction to two dimensional digital film production. Topics of study include: image processing and manipulation, motion and articulation strategies, digital production techniques, rendering, and compression techniques.

Prerequisite: ANIM 220.

ANIM 250Introduction to Interactive Animation3 semester hours*

This course will cover nonlinear storytelling for animators and filmmakers. An emphasis will be placed on interactive scripting to create user involvement in the unfolding narrative.

Lab fee.

ANIM 260Digital Toolbox3 semester hours*

Introduction to principles and practices of digital imaging as applicable to film and video.

Lab fee.

Prerequisite: ANIM 120.

ANIM 298Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursANIM 299*Independent Studies0 TO 3 semester hoursANIM 310*Intermediate Storyboard3 semester hours*

An introduction to professional storyboarding for animation. Students will create storyboards from scripts and from non-scripted ideas; apply storyboarding logic to pre-written scripts and to their own creative ideas; and identify and correct such technical problems as crossing the line, hook-up issues, jump cuts, shot redundancy, and poor composition.

Prerequisites: ANIM 110 and ANIM 220.

ANIM 320Mechanics of Animation3 semester hours*

Workshop in the art of animated film production.

Prerequisite: ANIM 220.

ANIM 330Intermediate 3-D Computer Animation3 semester hours*

Further practical study in computer animation including: modeling; advanced articulation methods, techniques, and solutions; lighting; texture mapping; compositing; and rendering solutions.

Prerequisite: ANIM 230.

ANIM 331Intermediate 2-D Computer Animation3 semester hours*

Two-dimensional digital film production. Topics of study include: image processing and manipulation, motion and articulation strategies, digital production techniques, rendering, and compression techniques.

Prerequisite: ANIM 231.

ANIM 350Intermediate Interactive Animation3 semester hours*

Introduction to creative and technical aspects of interactive animation technology.

Prerequisite: ANIM 250.

ANIM 352Game Design3 semester hours*

The iterative process of game design will allow students to develop prototypes of their original games and storylines. Important topics include design issues, balanced play, theming, game theory, intellectual property, and play testing.

ANIM 360Character Design3 semester hours*

An introduction to the principles of classical character design.

Prerequisite: ANIM 220.

ANIM 370Character Animation3 semester hours*

An introduction to the principles of classical character animation, creating the illusion of life and believability.

Prerequisite: ANIM 220.

ANIM 371 3DCharacter Animation3 semester hours*

An introduction to the principles of 3D character animation. Creation of illusion of life and believability.

Prerequisites: ANIM 230 and ANIM 260.

ANIM 380Visual Effects3 semester hours*

Concepts and approaches to production work in cinematic visual effects. A combination of digital and traditional methods will be discussed, with a concentration on exercises using computer graphics to illustrate these techniques.

Prerequisites: ANIM 220, ANIM 230, and ANIM 260.

ANIM 398Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

ANIM 399Independent Studies0 TO 3 semester hoursANIM 410*Advanced Storyboard3 semester hours*

Advanced research and practice in creating and planning animated film and video. Professional experience in storyboard production.

Prerequisite: ANIM 310.

ANIM 420Experimental Animation3 semester hours*

Workshop in the art of animated film production.

Lab fee.

ANIM 443History and Analysis of Video Games3 semester hours*

This course will cover genre studies and relevant topics in the development of the past, present, and future of the videogame industry.

ANIM 450Advanced Interactive Animation3 semester hours*

Production and design using interactive animation technology.

Prerequisite: ANIM 350.

ANIM 490Animation Internship3 semester hours*

Professional experience in animation. Animation internship. Portfolio and demo reel development. Vocational strategies.

Junior or senior standing required.

ANIM 495Senior Thesis Project/Pre-Production3 semester hours*

Practical experience in animation pre-production. This course centers on the animation thesis project. Development, direction, production of a sophisticated, well-produced film or project. Students are free to determine style, format, and genre of project.

The student must provide a professional copy of all senior thesis-level projects to the School of Film and Television in partial fulfillment of degree requirements.

ANIM 496Senior Thesis Project/Production3 semester hours*

Continuation of practical experience in animation production. Completion of animation thesis project.

The student must provide a professional copy of all senior thesis-level projects to the School of Film and Television in partial fulfillment of degree requirements.

Prerequisite: ANIM 495.

ANIM 498Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursANIM 499*Independent Studies0 TO 3 semester hoursApplied Information Management Systems

AIMS 2710Management Information Systems3 semester hours*

This course is designed to introduce students to the key concepts in MIS (Management Information Systems) and to enhance understanding of the issues that business organizations face when developing and managing information systems. The course will examine the fundamental principles associated with IT development and management and the increasing impact of information technology in business organizations. The field is in a state of flux, so the course will also examine emerging technologies and IT trends. By completing the course, students should be better equipped to make IT decisions, to participate in IT projects, and to communicate more knowledgeably with IT experts.

Must be taken in residence at LMU

Prerequisite: BADM 1030 with a grade of C (2.0) or higher.

AIMS 3710Database Management Systems3 semester hours*

This course is intended for the student who wishes to become more proficient at developing and managing database applications. It is designed to provide an introduction to the conceptual foundations underlying database management systems, with an emphasis on its applications in business and organizations. The course begins with an introduction to the fundamental principles of database design—from data modeling to the actual implementation of a business application. Particular emphasis will be placed on the careful planning and analysis of business needs, which will lead to the appropriate development of an Entity-Relationship Model. Using these principles, each student will design and implement a database application using Access. This part of the course will employ lectures describing database theory, as well as hands-on tutorials demonstrating database concepts using Access. The second part of the course will further investigate the relational model, which is the basis for the most popular DBMS products on the marketplace today (i.e., Oracle, SQL Server, MS Access, Sybase). Topics to be studied include relational algebra, Structured Query Language (SQL), and maintaining data integrity in a relational design. In addition, important managerial concerns will be covered including database administration and the management of multi-user databases. No prior knowledge of database management systems is required, although a strong aptitude for computer-related work is helpful.

Prerequisites: ACCT 3140 or AIMS 2710; BADM 1030 with a grade of C (2.0) or better; or consent of instructor and approval of Associate Dean.

AIMS 3720Systems Analysis and Design3 semester hours*

The course covers fundamental concepts in OO programming using the Java language. Objects represent entities in the real world with properties whose values define their states, and with methods that describe the operations that can be performed on the objects. Objects can interact with each other by sending and receiving messages among themselves. In Java, the objects are represented as program modules, which encapsulate some portion of the objects' characteristics and operations or behavior. The course will tackle basic concepts dealing with object-oriented problem-solving and software development. Students will learn problem-solving skills and apply them to real-world program design and construction in the Java language.

Prerequisites: ACCT 3140 or AIMS 2710; BADM 1030 with a grade of C (2.0) or better; or consent of instructor and approval of Associate Dean.

AIMS 3730Programming for Business Applications3 semester hours*

This course is an introduction to programming with an emphasis on its business application capability. Students will learn the basic techniques of programming from concepts to code. The objectives of this course are: making students comfortable with fundamental programming terminology and concepts, including data type, input/output, control statements methods, arrays, strings and files; giving students hands-on practical experience with modeling and problem solving; and illustrating to students how such models are translated into working business applications.

Prerequisites: ACCT 3140 or AIMS 2710; BADM 1030 with a grade of C (2.0) or better; or consent of instructor and approval of Associate Dean.

AIMS 3770Production Operations Analysis3 semester hours*

This course will introduce students to decision making and model building in the management of operations which create products and/or services. The principles of Operations Management apply throughout the world to all productive enterprises. It doesn't matter if a good or a service is being produced, efficient production methods require the effective application of the concepts, tools, and techniques that are covered in this course. Hands-on learning is an important feature of the course. For each topic, a case analysis requires the use of Excel and/or other specialized operations management software to reinforce the underlying theoretical details.

Prerequisites: ECON 105 or ECON 110, ECON 230; MATH 112 or MATH 131, all with a minimum grade of C (2.0) or higher and ACCT 3140 or AIMS 2710.

AIMS 3797Internship1 semester hour*

The objective of this one-semester-hour course is to help students achieve a worthwhile learning experience relevant to their major program of study. The internship, conducted with an off-campus organization, will help the student gain insights relative to his/her strengths and weaknesses in the job environment.

AIMS 4720Object-Oriented Programming3 semester hours*

The course covers fundamental concepts in OO programming using the Java language. Objects represent entities in the real world with properties whose values define their states, and with methods that describe the operations that can be performed on the objects. Objects can interact with each other by sending and receiving messages among themselves. In Java, the objects are represented as program modules, which encapsulate some portion of the objects' characteristics and operations or behavior. The course will tackle basic concepts dealing with object-oriented problem-solving and software development. Students will learn problem-solving skills and apply them to real-world program design and construction in the Java language.

Prerequisites: ACCT 3140 or AIMS 2710; BADM 1030 with a grade of C (2.0) or better; or consent of instructor and approval of Associate Dean.

AIMS 4730Business Data Communications3 semester hours*

An introduction to the use of data communications and other automation systems in the business environment, including the study of local and wide area networks, voice and electronic mail, video conferencing, and other automation tools in support of management.

Prerequisite: ACCT 3140 or AIMS 2710 or consent of instructor and approval by Associate Dean.

AIMS 4740Financial Modeling for Decision Support3 semester hours*

This course introduces spreadsheet modeling skills and advanced quantitative analysis tools to support financial decision-making. Hands-on experience in the development of spreadsheet forecasting, simulation and optimization models for applications in valuation, cash budgeting, and financial planning and portfolio management will be provided.

(See FNCE 4440.)

Prerequisites: AIMS 3770 and FNCE 3410.

AIMS 4750Web-based Development3 semester hours*

This course will introduce students to Web-based Development using various web design and development software as well as programming languages. The emphasis is on the business use of the web and its integration with business strategy and activities along with developing skills in creating effective web sites. The course will teach the students the basics of web development and will introduce them to the Mobile Web and Mobile Application development. Students will also learn about the current developments taking place in this area.

Prerequisite: ACCT 3140 or AIMS 2710.

AIMS 4760Analytics and Business Intelligence3 semester hours*

Current management practices place an increasing dependence on the use of information to manage a business-business intelligence tools and systems play a critical role in this regard. To help managerial decision makers do their job effectively, it is necessary to understand the decision making process, the nature of data/information used in the decision making process and the role of information technology (in particular, business intelligence technologies) in that process. The course focuses on data mining, data warehousing and aspects of knowledge management along future directions and development of business intelligence tools in the context of business networks and collaborative online environments.

Prerequisite: ACCT 3140 or AIMS 2710.

AIMS 4770Information Technology Security3 semester hours*

This course will introduce students to Information Technology Security in the corporate setting through various hands-on practice/experiments as well as Harvard Business School cases. The emphasis is on the business use of information security knowledge and its integration with business strategy and process along with developing skills in measuring information security, identifying security vulnerabilities, managing security risks, monitoring and preventing potential security breaches, and creating secured business practice procedures. The course will teach the students the basics of Information Technology Security and will introduce them to theory and technology of wireless network security, e-commerce security, securing online advertising as well as business continuity and disaster recovery.

Prerequisite: ACCT 3140 or AIMS 2710.

AIMS 4797Capstone Project3 semester hours*

This course will enable students to practice team-oriented problem-solving skills in the context of undertaking and completing a complex IT project, and to demonstrate their knowledge and understanding of IT concepts and techniques in tackling analysis, design, and implementation of solutions to complex IT problems. The course will enable students to acquire and demonstrate their understanding, use, and proficiency in project management skills related to tackling IT projects, and to practice their written and oral communication skills in the write-up and presentation of their projects.

Consent of instructor required.

ART 150Introduction to Studio Arts3 semester hours*

Open to non-Studio Arts majors only.

Exploration of the materials, techniques, and inspiration of the artist in the media of drawing, painting, printmaking, sculpture, and two- and three-dimensional design.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Creative Experience.

ART 151Introduction to Drawing and Printmaking3 semester hours*

Open to non-Studio Arts majors only.

Development of basic drawing skills in various media and the exploration of printmaking techniques.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Creative Experience.

ART 153Drawing I3 semester hours*

An introduction to drawing and the development of visual awareness. Experimentation and exploration of technique developed through a variety of subject matter. Varied media, including pencil, charcoal, ink and conte.

ART 154Drawing II: Figure Drawing3 semester hours*

Development of technique and principles used in Drawing I, ART 153, with emphasis placed on working from the figure and anatomy.

Prerequisite: ART 153.

ART 160Two-Dimensional Design3 semester hours*

An examination of the basic elements of two-dimensional design. Course emphasizes visual literacy as well as the conceptual and problem-solving processes used in creating and composing graphic form.

ART 182Programming for Creative Applications3 semester hours*

Emphasis on programming as an art form and as a tool for creative applications. Introduction to computer programming within the context of art and design. Concepts and skills taught enhance student ability to excel in future courses about Internet, animation, interactive media, and game design. Weekly exercises balance concept and techniques to reveal potential of computer as medium and tool.

Lecture, lab, workshop.

ART 250Visual Arts for the Elementary Educator3 semester hours*

Designed to develop the visual arts for the Liberal Studies student, both personally and professionally. Projects will emphasize a personal exploration of media, techniques, art history, and art fundamentals, as well as the role of the teacher in nurturing artistic expression and aesthetic. Students will compile course material into a teaching research portfolio. Participation in the ARTsmart service-learning program is required and is incorporated into class hours.

Liberal Studies majors only.

ART 255Field Experience in Art0 semester hours*

Designed for students interested in secondary art education. Explores practical applications of teaching through planned observation, reflection, and group discussions appropriate for future secondary art teachers. Twenty (20) hours of field observation in a secondary public school art classroom is required.

Art Education Emphasis majors only.

Consent of the Director of Secondary Teacher Preparation of Art required.

ART 257Painting I3 semester hours*

Study of basic theoretical methods and techniques as applied to both representation and abstraction. Acrylic paints will be utilized.

Prerequisite: ART 153, ART 160, or consent of instructor.

ART 260Computer Graphics I3 semester hours*

Introduction to principles and practices of electronic imaging as they apply to graphics, art, and design.

Recommended: ART 160.

ART 275Three-Dimensional Design3 semester hours*

Examination of the basic elements of three-dimensional design emphasizing the conceptual process and utilizing various media.

Prerequisite: ART 160 or consent of instructor.

ART 276Ceramic Sculpture3 semester hours*

Examination of ceramics as a sculptural medium. Students will explore technical and conceptual processes of ceramics. While clay is the focus, other materials will be utilized.

ART 278Ceramics I3 semester hours*

Basic techniques of hand building and throwing on the potter's wheel integrated with aesthetic exploration through various projects.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Creative Experience.

ART 280Photography I3 semester hours*

This course focuses on photography as a medium of personal and artistic expression. Students learn camera, darkroom, and presentation fundamentals, as well as basic digital imaging skills.

ART 285Introduction to Printmaking3 semester hours*

Introduction to the basic printmaking and transfer processes, using monoprinting, linocuts, woodcuts, drypoints, water etchings, and collagraphs. Both black and white and multicolor images will be produced.

Recommended: ART 151, ART 153, and ART 160.

ART 290Multimedia Survey3 semester hours*

Critical and historical examination of multimedia arts through research, discussions, and presentations.

ART 298Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursART 299*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursART 300*Figure Drawing Workshop1 semester hour*

A studio workshop for art and animation majors with emphasis placed on working from the figure and anatomy. Independent reading, research and production goals are devised for each student. As students repeat course study, the course requires increased learning and skill development as an extension of work in figure drawing. Each semester an online portfolio is required.

May be repeated for degree credit for further development up to six times.

Prerequisites: ART 153 and ART 154, or consent of instructor.

ART 302Design: Concept to Form3 semester hours*

Design as a visual problem-solving process is explored. Emphasis is placed on the creative processes of design and the visual presentation of design research, the design concept, and the final design.

Prerequisites: ART 160 and ART 260.

ART 303Experimental Typography3 semester hours*

The conceptual aspects of typography as both image and form are explored in print, environmental, and time-based media. Storytelling using typography is emphasized.

Prerequisite: ART 368 or consent of instructor or Studio Arts major, Multimedia Arts Emphasis.

ART 304Image Making3 semester hours*

The creation of original imagery is explored using a combination of digital and analog drawing, collage and montage methods. The communicative potential of the image is emphasized through the interplay of context, connotation, and denotation.

Prerequisites: ART 160 and ART 260.

Recommended: ART 368.

ART 305ARTsmart Community Service Program0 semester hours*

ARTsmart is the community service program of the Department of Art and Art History. The mission of ARTsmart is to provide underserved youth an education in the visual arts. LMU Art and Art History students work in teams to develop and teach lessons that incorporate formal art issues, art history, visual culture, social justice issues, and standards-based education to students in a neighboring K-8 school. Students from a variety of art disciplines are encouraged to volunteer.

ART 310Drawing Workshop1 semester hour*

A studio workshop for art and animation majors with emphasis placed on advanced drawing concepts and techniques. Independent reading, research, and production goals are devised for each student related to continually changing topics and issues relevant to drawing. As students repeat course study, the course requires increased learning and skill development as an extension of work in drawing.

May be repeated for degree credit for further development up to six times.

Prerequisites: ART 153 and ART 154, or consent of instructor.

ART 350Visual Thinking3 semester hours*

This course promotes concept development and creative thinking. Visual problem solving and projects will be based on a concern for how each person examines and explores, ultimately interprets and recreates the world around them.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Creative Experience.

ART 353Drawing Workshop1 semester hour*

A studio workshop for studio arts and animation majors with emphasis on technique and visual development.

May be repeated for degree credit for further development up to six times.

Prerequisites: ART 153 and ART 154, or consent of instructor.

ART 355Experiencing Art and Social Justice3 semester hours*

This course is divided into two components: studio arts and service learning. In the studio component, students will create art to explore the relationship between art and social justice. Studio projects include mixed media sculpture, painting, and installation. The students participate in the ARTsmart service-learning program, developing and teaching lessons that emphasize the use of art to incite social change. ARTsmart service time is incorporated into the class hours.

ART 356Painting II3 semester hours*

A continuation of theoretical methods and techniques used in Painting I, ART 257. Emphasis is on color, materials, and individual concept development. A variety of media will be utilized.

Prerequisites: ART 153, ART 160, and ART 257, or consent of instructor.

ART 358Painting III3 semester hours*

A continuation of Painting II, ART 356. Emphasis is on color, materials, and individual concept development. May be repeated for degree credit with consent of instructor.

Prerequisite: ART 356 or consent of instructor.

ART 359Mural Painting3 semester hours*

Emphasis on student collaboration in the process and execution of large-scale paintings and public mural projects.

ART 360Graphic Design I3 semester hours*

An introduction to the basic principles of visual design as they are applied to communication problems involving a message and an audience. Students develop conceptual and problem solving skills to create graphic form for a range of content.

Prerequisites: ART 160, ART 260, and ART 368.

Recommended: ARHS 360.

ART 362Creative Direction3 semester hours*

The application of design principles and advertising concepts in the development of conceptual campaigns involving a message and an audience.

Prerequisites: ART 302, ART 360, and ART 368.

ART 3633D Digital Toolbox3 semester hours*

Survey of concepts and processes utilized in the production of artworks with 3D digital software applications. Study of computer techniques integrating digital processing into the creative process.

Prerequisites: ART 160 and ART 260.

ART 364Digital Illustration3 semester hours*

The integration of illustration practices, design principles, and conceptual problem solving procedures in the creation of illustrations for editorial designs, book jackets, and advertising. Illustrations are computer assisted or computer generated in black and white and in color.

Prerequisites: ART 153, ART 160, and ART 260.

ART 365Illustration3 semester hours*

The integration of illustration practices, design principles, and conceptual problem-solving procedures in the creation of illustrations for editorial designs, book jackets, and advertising art. Illustrations are conceived of by conventional means.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisites: ART 153, ART 160, and ART 260.

ART 366Multimedia Computer Arts3 semester hours*

Exploration of narrative forms and interactive technologies for multimedia projects with an emphasis on the development of personal artistic expression.

Prerequisites: ART 160 and ART 260.

ART 367Online Computer Arts3 semester hours*

An emphasis on a working expertise in graphics, art, design, and aesthetics as they apply to interactive web authoring. This course will also utilize interactive linkages to a larger virtual arts community.

Prerequisites: ART 160 and ART 260.

ART 368Typography I3 semester hours*

An introduction to the fundamentals of typography. Emphasis is on developing typographic literacy in terms of history, type classification, nomenclature, letterform anatomy, hierarchy, visual structure, as well as how type works as a compositional element textual communication.

Prerequisites: ART 160 and ART 260.

ART 369Information Design3 semester hours*

Information Design as a visual problem-solving process is explored. Information aesthetics and visualization methods are used to conceive and give form to a range of content. The course emphasizes how the mediums of print, screen, and social media shape the message.

Prerequisites: ART 160, ART 260, and ART 368.

Recommended: ARHS 360.

ART 370Beginning Wheel Throwing3 semester hours*

Introduction to throwing, glazing, and firing at several temperature levels with the aim of developing skills to enhance the student's artistic voice in the contemporary clay context.

ART 371Advanced Wheel Throwing1 TO 3 semester hours*

Advanced work with wheel thrown forms with the aim of developing a thematic body of creative work in clay.

May be repeated once for degree credit by completing coursework at an advanced level.

Prerequisite: ART 370.

ART 372Jewelry I3 semester hours*

A basic jewelry course with an emphasis on creative design and various techniques including fabrication, soldering, forging, wax working, and casting. Also includes bezel stone setting.

ART 373Jewelry II3 semester hours*

Advanced jewelry making with an emphasis on creative design and exploration of various techniques such as fabrication, casting, rolling mill texturing, hydraulic press forming, enameling processes, and the setting of faceted stones. Also an introduction to larger scale, sculptural design.

Prerequisite: ART 372.

ART 374Motion Graphics3 semester hours*

Study of motion graphic design principles through diverse production-based projects that explore the creative integration of images, text, sound, and motion.

Prerequisites: ART 160 and ART 260.

ART 375Figure Sculpture3 semester hours*

Modeling of the human figure with an emphasis on anatomy, leading to the extension of the figure as image.

ART 376Sculpture Workshop3 semester hours*

Advanced exploration of sculptural problems, techniques, and concepts using a variety of materials.

May be repeated for degree credit with consent of instructor.

Prerequisite: ART 275 or consent of instructor.

ART 378Drawing and Clay3 semester hours*

Emphasis on the surface treatment of ceramic work incorporating drawing, painting, and printmaking techniques.

May be repeated once for degree credit by completing coursework at an advanced level.

ART 380Photography II3 semester hours*

Exploration of advanced concepts of photography as applied to the development of personal expression. Students learn medium format photography, studio lighting, digital imaging, and advanced black and white darkroom techniques.

Prerequisite: ART 280.

ART 381Imagining Los Angeles3 semester hours*

This course looks at the various ways in which Los Angeles has been portrayed in the visual arts, film, literature, advertising, and new media from the late 19th Century to the present, while taking into account the cultural, social, historical, and physical dynamics of the city. Students will create photography-based creative projects and will develop related technical skills.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Creative Experience.

ART 382Digital Photography3 semester hours*

An emphasis on a working expertise in digital imaging, technologies utilizing Adobe Photoshop for image creation, manipulation, with input and output to various media.

Prerequisite: ART 260 or consent of instructor.

Recommended: ART 280.

ART 383Advanced Multimedia3 semester hours*

Advanced investigation in one or more areas of multimedia production based upon research, mentorship, and practical experience that culminates in a final project.

Prerequisites: ART 363 or ART 374 and ART 366 or ART 367, or consent of instructor.

ART 385Relief Printmaking3 semester hours*

Exploration of relief printmaking, photo-etching, and monotype processes. Graphic image making will be pursued through multiprintings. Personal visual development, technical skill, and conceptual development will be emphasized.

Recommended: ART 151 or ART 285, or consent of instructor.

ART 386Etching Printmaking3 semester hours*

Process using etching, aquatint, and other incising techniques on metal plates. Emphasis on black and white images with an introduction to multicolor printing.

May be repeated once for degree credit for further development.

Recommended: ART 151, ART 280, and ART 285.

ART 387Silkscreen Printmaking3 semester hours*

Introduction to the use of serigraphy to create posters and fine art prints. Handcut, handpainted, and photographic techniques will be used. The emphasis is on the development of personal expression in the creation of multicolor prints.

May be repeated once for degree credit for further development.

Recommended: ART 160 and ART 280.

ART 388Screen Printing3 semester hours*

Introduction to the use of silkscreening to communicate a message. Basic screening techniques will be used, including using hand-cut, photographic, and computer-generated images. Water-based textile and plastisol inks will be used. Emphasis will be on producing multicolor prints on T-shirts and posters.

May be repeated once for degree credit for further development.

Recommended: ART 160, ART 260, and ART 280.

ART 396Design Praxis: Professional Practices in Design3 semester hours*

An examination of the career possibilities within the creative landscape of contemporary design. The design internship and portfolio development are emphasized. Participation in the LMU AIGA student chapter is recommended.

Prerequisites: ART 160, ART 260, and ART 368.

Recommended: Concurrent enrollment in ART 360.

ART 397Professional Practices in Fine Arts3 semester hours*

Examination of the current state of the studio arts and various career options through research, discussions, and guest speakers. Includes development and presentation of a professional portfolio and resume.

Prerequisites: Art major or consent of instructor; Junior standing required.

ART 398Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursART 399*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursART 453*Drawing III: Formal Issues3 semester hours*

This course explores traditional and contemporary issues in drawing. Using a variety of media, content, space, color, value, and form are examined.

May be repeated for degree credit for further development.

Prerequisites: ART 153 and ART 154, or consent of instructor.

ART 454Drawing IV: Figure Composition3 semester hours*

This course promotes concept development and psychological possibilities inherent in the human form. Using a variety of media, it explores anatomical structure and imaginative composition.

May be repeated for degree credit for further development.

Prerequisites: ART 153 and ART 154, or consent of instructor.

ART 455Methods in Teaching Secondary Art3 semester hours*

This methodology seminar is designed to provide opportunities for prospective secondary art educators to critically examine the theoretical, historical, psychological, sociological, and practical applications of art education. Projects will involve the development, implementation, and assessment of a successful and socially responsible art education curriculum. Students will compile course material into a professional teaching resource portfolio.

Prerequisite: ART 255.

Art Education Emphasis majors only.

Junior standing required.

ART 460Graphic Design II3 semester hours*

Graphic Design II builds on the fundamental design principles introduced in ART 360, Graphic Design I. Portfolio-oriented projects cover the gamut of print to electronic media.

Prerequisites: ART 302, ART 303, ART 360, ART 368, and ART 369.

Recommended: ARHS 360 and ART 468.

ART 468Typography II3 semester hours*

Typography II extends the fundamental concepts introduced in ART 368, Typography I. Projects emphasize the application of typographic principles to multiple levels of text in both print and electronic media.

Prerequisite: ART 368.

Recommended: ART 369 and ARHS 360.

ART 478Ceramics Workshop3 semester hours*

Design problems with ceramic materials incorporating wheel-thrown and hand building techniques. Development of a personal style in addition to advanced firing techniques.

May be repeated once for degree credit by completing coursework at an advanced level.

ART 480Color Photography3 semester hours*

Focus on the use of color in photography and imaging. Students learn large format photography and digital imaging skills including scanning, printing, Photoshop, and Lightroom. Students develop a personal project.

Prerequisite: ART 280.

ART 485Advanced Printmaking1 TO 3 semester hours*

Continuation and more advanced work in relief, etching, or silkscreen techniques.

May be repeated once for degree credit by completing coursework at an advanced level.

Prerequisite: ART 385 or ART 386 or ART 387.

ART 490Senior Design Thesis3 semester hours*

The senior thesis in design provides the opportunity to explore design as a liberal arts activity through focused study around the design disciplines, or the application of design to a specific subject matter. Students independently address topic areas within a creative project resulting in a body of work (aside from the professional portfolio). The topic(s) should address one or more of the following issues: the societal impact of design; design as a process for innovation; the historic and contemporary contexts of design; design as an experiential medium.

Senior standing required.

Prerequisites: ART 302, ART 303, ART 360, ART 368, ART 369, and ART 460 or ART 468; ARHS 360.

ART 494Multimedia Internship3 semester hours*

Professional experience in multimedia.

May be repeated for degree credit for further development.

Studio Arts majors only.

Consent of instructor required.

ART 495Advanced Studio Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

Pre-professional directed study in studio art.

May be repeated for degree credit three times for further advanced development.

Permission of instructor and Department Chairperson required.

ART 497Senior Thesis in Fine Arts1 TO 3 semester hours*

This course continues for Fine Arts Emphasis students the professional development experience of ART 397 Professional Practices in Fine Arts. The curriculum includes all aspects of exhibition design, promotion, and artwork presentation.

Required for Fine Arts emphasis majors.

Studio Arts majors, Fine Arts Emphasis only.

Prerequisite: ART 397 or consent of instructor.

ART 498Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursART 499*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

ASPA 386Introduction to Asian Literature

3 semester hours

An introductory course in Asian literature from China, Japan, and India. Various literary genres such as poetry, fiction, diary, biographies, and drama and their relation to Asian literary tradition will be examined.

ASPA 387China's Women and One Child Family

3 semester hours

Course traces the development of Chinese female roles from the traditional to the modern periods. Footbinding, infanticides, and the three obediences gave way to Communism, which provided women freedom and recognition for their contribution. Is the One Child Policy a relief to women?

ASPA 388Imperial China

3 semester hours
(See HIST 482.)

ASPA 389Contemporary Chinese Cinema

3 semester hours

This course provides an introduction to contemporary Chinese cinema. It focuses not only on the "poetics of cinema" (cinematic language, styles, and aesthetics) but also the "politics of cinema" that emphasize contemporary Chinese cinema's engaging dialogue with Chinese history and its critical intervention into key socio-political issues facing post-Mao China. It concerns itself with such issues relating to history and memory, modernity, and nationhood; family, gender, and sexuality; urbanization, migration, and transnational formations; and Hong Kong and Taiwan identities.

ASPA 396Hong Kong Cinema

3 semester hours

This course critically explores one of the world's most popular, dynamic, and innovative cinemas—Hong Kong cinema. Situating Hong Kong cinema in historical, artistic, and transnational contexts, this course examines major developments in Hong Kong cinema running from the war time cinema, the rise of martial arts movies and their influx into the United States, the international breakthrough of the "New Wave," Hong Kong filmmaking before and after the 1997 handover to China, to Hollywood remakes of Hong Kong films in recent years. The class will focus on issues relating to filmic nationalism, transnational film production and consumption; migration, identity, and community formation; nostalgia, memory, and post-colonialism; and family, gender, and sexuality.

ASPA 397Popular Culture in East Asia

3 semester hours

This course will explore the role of popular culture in the social production of meaning and creation of identity. The site of study will be popular culture in East Asia (China, Japan, and Korea) and "East Asian" popular culture abroad. It aims to impart to students the theoretical and analytical tools necessary to conduct in-depth interdisciplinary research on the mechanisms, implications, and functions of popular culture. By exploring myriad forms of popular culture—popular literature, film, manga, television, music, posters, fashion, material culture, etc.—that span modern Asian history from the early 20th century to today, students will gain a critical understanding of culture, politics, and history of the East Asian region.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections.

ASPA 398Special Studies

1 TO 4 semester hours

ASPA 399Independent Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

ASPA 460Women in Asia

3 semester hours

This course employs interdisciplinary methods to examine the problems and issues confronting women in Asia (primarily China, Japan, and Korea) from ancient times to the contemporary era. We will integrate the research methods of gender studies, history, literature, philosophy, media, and cultural of gender studies, and investigate how Asian womanhood is constructed, institutionalized, appropriated, reinvented, and reinterpreted in different socio-historical discourses. We will interrogate the underlying mechanisms that tend to perpetuate Asian women's marginality and subordination. At the same time, we will pay particular attention to new perspectives on women's roles in current scholarship and look into women's ongoing negotiation with their gender identity and their struggles for power and agency.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections.

ASPA 482Daoism: Theory and Practice

3 semester hours

An introduction to Daoism, its classical texts and its enduring practices. Special emphasis will be on the examinations of Daoist philosophical concepts and persistent issues that arise in the development of Daoist spiritual tradition. A central aim of the course is to understand the Chinese ways of thinking, values, and the way of life.

ASPA 483Advanced Asian Media

3 semester hours

This is a sequel to ASPA 306, but the introductory course is not a prerequisite. This survey course of media systems in the Asia Pacific emphasizes compare-and-contrast methodology. An additional education tool is the University website, ASIA MEDIA (<http://www.lmu.edu/asiamedia>), where students discover the origins of the media presentations, develop rigorous analytic tools, and critique that epistemology. This course is sometimes taught in conjunction with an Internet-linked class at the United Arab Emirates University in Al Ain, UAE.

ASPA 486Topics in Asian Literature

3 semester hours

The subject matter of this course will vary from semester to semester.

ASPA 487Asian Mythology

3 semester hours

This class will examine mythology and folktales from various Asian traditions: China, Japan, Korea, and India. The reading materials will be examined through psychological, philosophical, and cultural approaches. The topics for discussion include creation myths, heaven and hell, the mythic hero, metamorphosis, and immortality.

Junior or senior standing required.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections.

ASPA 488

Modern Asian Fiction

3 semester hours

This course examines twentieth-century Chinese and Japanese fiction through the study of novels, short stories, novellas, biographies, diaries, and film. The class will also study major literary trends and movements.

ASPA 490

Asian Women Writers

3 semester hours

This is a cross-cultural study of Asian women writers through the readings of poetry, short stories, autobiographies, diaries, and novels. Most readings are derived from contemporary female writers from China, Japan, Korea, Hong Kong, Taiwan, and the United States.

ASPA 498

Special Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

ASPA 499

Independent Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

ASPA 500

Senior Integrating Seminar

3 semester hours

This requirement enables the students to integrate their work in Asian and Pacific Studies. The actual content of the course will depend on the student's chosen focus. Students write a senior thesis under the guidance of a faculty member. The thesis, while focused on a particular topic, is intended to be interdisciplinary.

Asian Pacific American Studies

APAM 117

Introduction to Asian Pacific American Studies

3 semester hours

An introductory course which surveys the cultures and histories of the Asian Pacific American in the U.S. Interaction among various Asian Pacific Americans in the United States will also be discussed.

APAM 198

Special Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

APAM 199

Independent Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

APAM 298

Special Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

APAM 299

1 TO 3 semester hours

APAM 350

Immigration and Los Angeles

3 semester hours

An interdisciplinary and comparative examination of the historical role of immigration and migration in shaping the Los Angeles region as well as the social, political, economic, and cultural impact of immigration in contemporary Los Angeles.

APAM 371

Asian Pacific American Literature

3 semester hours

A survey of Asian Pacific American writers and their literature, using critical analysis of autobiographies, short stories, novels, poetry, essays, and films.

APAM 388

Imagining Asian Pacific America

3 semester hours

Using interdisciplinary approaches and cross-cultural perspectives, this class explores the ways in which certain Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders have been portrayed and, in turn, have portrayed themselves in the visual culture throughout historical time and place.

APAM 398

Special Studies

1 TO 4 semester hours

APAM 399

Independent Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

APAM 417

Contemporary Issues of Asian Pacific Americans

3 semester hours

Topical studies of timely and pertinent contemporary interest involving Asian Americans in the U.S. Focus will change from year to year.

APAM 427

Asian American Psychology

3 semester hours

Coverage of major psychological issues relevant to Asian American personality, identity, and mental health, including acculturation, stereotypes, racial identity, intergenerational conflict, etc.

APAM 435

Asian Pacific American Women's Experience

3 semester hours

An interdisciplinary and comparative examination of the histories and experiences of Asian Pacific American women. Topics include social and economic inequality, literary and cultural representation, and political and community activism.

APAM 437

Asian Pacific Americans and the American Law

3 semester hours

An examination of constitutional, immigration, and civil rights laws and their impact on Asian Pacific American experience. Analysis of historical court cases and legislation, including those pertaining to citizenship, exclusion, and World War II internment. Study of contemporary legal issues in Asian Pacific American communities.

APAM 450Specific Ethnic Focus Seminars3 semester hours*

An in-depth examination of the experience of a single Asian American subgroup. Populations covered will vary.

APAM 453Filipino American Experience3 semester hours*

Comprehensive introduction to the Filipino American experience. Historical analysis of U.S. colonialism and the experiences of Filipino Americans as “American Nationals.” Review of contemporary issues such as immigration patterns, community formation, and family dynamics. In-depth study of Filipino Americans in Los Angeles and Southern California.

APAM 457Vietnamese American Experience3 semester hours*

Comprehensive introduction to the Vietnamese American experience. Review of Southeast Asian politics during the Cold War with emphasis on U.S. policies in Vietnam. Review of contemporary issues in Vietnamese American community including economic integration, political mobilization, and community and family dynamics. In-depth study of social and cultural life of Vietnamese Americans in Los Angeles and California.

APAM 459Pacific Islander American Experience3 semester hours*

Comprehensive study of the Pacific Islander American experience, including the history and culture of Pacific Islanders, especially Hawaii, and contemporary issues facing the Pacific Islander American communities, particularly in Southern California.

APAM 478Asians in America: From the “Yellow Peril” to the “Model Minority”3 semester hours*

This class traces the many-faceted histories of Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders from cross-cultural and transitional perspectives, beginning with the earliest immigration to the present era.

APAM 498Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursAPAM 499*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursAPAM 500*Capstone Course3 semester hours*

A mandatory course that provides APAM minors with the opportunity to create an individualized thesis project that draws on knowledge and experiences gained from previous coursework in APAM studies. Specific requirements will be finalized based on the research interest. Prerequisite: Completion of all other APAM requirements.

BioethicsBIOE 6000*Introduction to Bioethics3 semester hours*

Bioethics represents a complex intellectual phenomenon in the canon of newly emerging disciplines. Although an established academic field, it still struggles to find a formal and coherent methodology for the analysis of ethical problems triggered by advances in medicine and the life sciences. The course introduces students to the historical, theoretical, and thematic dimensions of bioethics. More specifically, the course looks at historical contribution of theologians and philosophers to bioethics; it addresses the theoretical challenges of bioethics as an interdisciplinary field, with an emphasis on dominant theories in bioethics; and, finally, it touches upon the main topics of bioethics, including medical experimentation, assisted reproductive technologies, genetics, transplantation, assisted suicide, and euthanasia.

BIOE 6100Bioethics at the Beginning of Life3 semester hours*

The course looks at bioethical questions that concern the beginnings of life. Topics include the ethics of abortion, maternal fetal conflicts, ethical problems in perinatology and neonatology, as well as the ethical judgment on the entire field of assisted reproductive medicine—from in vitro fertilization, to surrogate motherhood, gamete storage techniques, and pre-implantation genetic diagnosis. There is also a clinical component to this class that offers students with an opportunity for engaged learning. Students will be exposed to decision-making in the clinical setting of obstetrics and neonatology departments at various hospitals.

Prerequisite: BIOE 6000.

BIOE 6200Law and Bioethics3 semester hours*

The law contributes to public bioethics discourse on a variety of issues, from abortion to assisted suicide and euthanasia, to questions of access to health care. This course looks at the intersection of law and bioethics, relative especially to the study of important legal cases and court decisions. Examples include Roe v. Wade and Planned Parenthood v. Casey for abortion, Quinlan, Cruzan, and Schiavo for end of life issues, etc. Students will be exposed to the ethical reasoning of important legal cases and their jurisprudential developments, thus showing how landmark legal cases have shaped bioethical discourse.

Prerequisite: BIOE 6100.

BIOE 6300Bioethics at the End of Life3 semester hours*

The increasing medicalization of the dying process poses new ethical problems to health care professionals and patients alike. This course looks at the bioethical problems that concern the end of life. Topics include ethical criteria for withholding and withdrawing treatments, palliative care, proxy decision making for incompetent patients, as well as the controversial questions, newly emerging in both the clinical realm and the law, of assisted suicide and euthanasia. This class will entail a clinical component as well. Students will be exposed to decision-making in the clinical setting of the Intensive Care Unit at various hospitals or in nursing homes.

Prerequisite: BIOE 6200.

BIOE 6400Clinical Bioethics3 semester hours*

This class focuses on “clinical” bioethics, that is, the ethics of decision making at the bedside, exposing students to the practical mechanisms presiding over such decisions in today’s health care facilities, such as ethics committees, clinical consultations, clinical rounds, etc. In addition to learning the method and content of clinical bioethics, this class prepares students for active participation and leadership in the institutional mechanisms mentioned above.

Prerequisite: BIOE 6300.

BIOE 6500Elective Topics in Bioethics3 semester hours*

This course analyzes specific topics in bioethics, such as public policy and bioethics, global bioethics, feminist bioethics, the relation between bioethics and environmental sensibility, history of medicine, sociology of medicine, etc. These courses are taught by affiliate faculty of the Bioethics Institute and introduce students to the interdisciplinary dimensions of bioethical questions.

BIOE 6600Foundations of Theological Ethics3 semester hours*

This course introduces students to the foundations of theological ethics. After a historical introduction dealing with different models of ethical thinking, the course looks at the following: biblical roots of Christian morality; the mediation of faith and moral reason, with special reference to the relation of philosophical and theological ethics; the debate on normative theories; and the integration of virtue ethics, fundamental moral option, and action theory. Applications to contemporary issues in the field of bioethics exemplify the meaning and function of different foundational frameworks and the relation between theory and practice in theological ethics.

BIOE 6700Foundations of Philosophical Ethics3 semester hours*

This course introduces students to the theories and problems of moral philosophy, comprising both a historical and an systematic component. Main versions of ethics will be studied, including natural law and virtue ethics, deontological and consequentialist theories. Students will understand the function and importance of ethical frameworks for the articulation of bioethical problems.

BiologyBIOL 101*General Biology I3 semester hours*

Unifying principles of biology; introduction to cell structure and function, genetics, control systems, tissues, organs, and organ systems.

Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering majors only.

Lecture, 3 hours.

BIOL 102General Biology II3 semester hours*

An introduction to the mechanism of evolution; major patterns of biotic evolution; and the principles of ecology.

Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering majors only.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101 and BIOL 111.

BIOL 111General Biology I Lab2 semester hours*

A survey of the three domains.

Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering majors only.

Lecture, 1 hour; Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisite: BIOL 101 or concurrent enrollment.

BIOL 112General Biology II Lab2 semester hours*

An experimental approach to biology with emphasis on design, execution, and analysis to answer biological questions.

Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering majors only.

Lecture, 1 hour; Laboratory 4 hours.

Prerequisite: BIOL 101 or BIOL 102, or concurrent enrollment.

BIOL 114Biology for Engineers3 semester hours*

This course addresses fundamental concepts and language of biology. Topics include cell biology, genetics, organ systems, ecosystems, organisms, and engineering applications.

Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering majors only.

Lecture, 3 hours.

BIOL 194Introduction to Research0 TO 4 semester hours*

An introduction to scientific research methodology: information gathering, data analysis, laboratory research practice in a faculty laboratory.

BIOL 198Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursBIOL 199*Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursBIOL 201*Cell Function3 semester hours*

Cellular and sub-cellular structures and functions including: DNA and RNA structure and function; protein synthesis and structure; enzyme function; metabolic pathways; membrane function.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, CHEM 112, or concurrent enrollment.

BIOL 202Genetics3 semester hours*

A study of Mendelian and molecular genetics.

Prerequisite: BIOL 201.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

BIOL 260Human Biology3 semester hours*

The discussion of general biological principles with a human emphasis. Topics include: cells; heredity and reproduction; animal behavior; organ systems; drugs; disease; ecology; and evolution.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

BIOL 263Natural History of Southern California3 semester hours*

Introduction to the geography, climate, plant communities, and common animals of Southern California; animals will be covered in regard to behavior, taxonomy, and ecology.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

BIOL 264The Marine Environment3 semester hours*

An introduction to marine biology, including its history, different communities and the animals and plants that occur in marine ecosystems, and their economic importance.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

BIOL 266Sacred and Medicinal Plant Use3 semester hours*

The sacred and medicinal use of plants and hallucinogenic fungi by traditional and modern cultures, including the biological basis for their use.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

BIOL 271Human Reproduction and Development3 semester hours*

The biological aspects of human reproduction, including the basic reproductive system, genetics, fetal development, nutrition, pregnancy, birth, and neonatal development.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

BIOL 272Human Drug Use3 semester hours*

The physiological, psychological, and social effects of the use of alcohol, tobacco, and other therapeutic and recreational drugs.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

BIOL 275Human Genetics3 semester hours*

Basic Mendelian genetics and the application to individual risk assessments. Population genetics and the implications of artificial selection. Modern molecular genetics and medical applications.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

BIOL 277Plants and Society3 semester hours*

An introduction to the natural evolution of plant species and the associated cultural evolution of man's relationship to plants. A multidisciplinary approach to studying the relationship between plants and people. An exploration of plants as sources of food and medicine, commercial products, and the role of plants in preserving and restoring the environment.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

BIOL 278Tropical Marine Ecology3 semester hours*

Field studies of the tropical marine habitats in Isla Roatan, Honduras. This includes the examination of the ecology and biology of coral reefs, mangroves, seagrass beds, and intertidal communities.

Summer only—Study Abroad Program.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher. Open water SCUBA certification highly recommended.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

BIOL 294Independent Research0 TO 4 semester hoursBIOL 295*Biology Internship1 TO 2 semester hours*

Work experience involving research, industry-, or community-based projects.

May be taken only once for credit.

CR/NC only.

BIOL 298Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursBIOL 299*Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursBIOL 311*Plant Interactions3 semester hours*

Study of various ways in which plants interact with other organisms, such as herbivores, pathogens, symbiotic bacteria and fungi, and the outcomes of that interplay. Examination of the physiological, biochemical, and genetic bases of these interactions and how understanding the chemical and molecular communication that takes place has implications for improvement of agriculture and human health.

Prerequisites: BIOL 112, BIOL 201, BIOL 202; CHEM 220.

BIOL 312Field Botany4 semester hours*

The identification, distribution, evolution, and ecological relationships of the native plants of Southern California.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory 4 hours; 4 weekend field trips.

Prerequisites: BIOL 102, BIOL 111, BIOL 112; CHEM 110, CHEM 111; MATH 122 or MATH 131.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Engaged Learning.

BIOL 314

Tropical Ecology

4 semester hours

An introduction to Neotropical biodiversity, natural history and conservation, as well as an examination of the diversity of tropical species interactions in an international field setting.

Travel embedded course—lab travels to Costa Rica during Spring break.

Prerequisites: BIOL 102, BIOL 111, BIOL 112; CHEM 221; MATH 122 or MATH 131.

BIOL 315

World Vegetation Ecology

3 semester hours

Characteristics and distribution of the major vegetation types of the world, emphasizing environmental conditions, plant adaptations and ecosystem processes.

Prerequisites: BIOL 102, BIOL 111; CHEM 110, CHEM 112.

BIOL 316

Island Biology

3 semester hours

Island biogeography and evolution, dispersal, adaptive radiation, gigantism/dwarfism, flightlessness, reproductive biology, endemism, and relictualism.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101 and BIOL 102.

BIOL 318

Principles of Ecology

4 semester hours

An exploration of the interactions between organisms and their biotic and abiotic environment across population, community, and ecosystem levels.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 4 hours; weekend field trips.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102, BIOL 111, BIOL 112; CHEM 221; MATH 122 or MATH 131.

BIOL 321

Urban Ecology

3 semester hours

An analysis of the dynamic and integrated nature of urbanized landscapes. Using active inquiry and the original literature, the course will engage the current theories and practice of the research being conducted on the patterns and process of urban ecosystems—ranging from biodiversity and trophic dynamics, to public health and environmental justice.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102 or equivalent.

BIOL 322

Urban Ecology Lab

1 semester hour

An inquiry-based investigation into the biophysical and human social dimensions of a local urban ecosystem, with a focus on group project development. At least one Saturday trip.

Prerequisites: BIOL 112 and BIOL 321, or concurrent enrollment.

BIOL 328

Tropical Marine Ecology

3 semester hours

Field studies of the tropical marine habitats on Isla Roatán, Honduras. This includes the examination of physical, chemical, and ecological aspects as applied to coral reefs, mangroves, seagrass beds, and intertidal communities.

Summer only—Study Abroad Program.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102, BIOL 111, BIOL 112; CHEM 110, CHEM 112. Open water SCUBA certification highly recommended.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics; Flag: Engaged Learning.

BIOL 329

Marine Ecology of Baja, California

3 semester hours

Field studies of subtropical, intertidal and subtidal habitats along the coasts of Baja, California peninsula.

Emphasis on community structure.

Summer only. Entire course held at the LMU Baja, California Biological Station.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102, BIOL 111, BIOL 112; CHEM 110, CHEM 112.

BIOL 330

Embryology and Development

4 semester hours

The development of chordates with emphasis on experimental embryology and underlying molecular mechanisms.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 112, BIOL 202; CHEM 222, CHEM 223.

BIOL 333

Biology of Mammals

4 semester hours

Examination of physical, physiological, and ecological characteristics of mammals, including taxonomic relationships, feeding and reproductive strategies, and local and world distribution of mammalian orders and families.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 4 hours; Weekend field trips.

For majors only.

Prerequisites: BIOL 102, BIOL 112; CHEM 110, CHEM 112.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Engaged Learning; Writing.

BIOL 334

Invertebrate Zoology

4 semester hours

A study of the anatomy, physiology, behavior, and ecology of invertebrates and the evolutionary relationships within and among the invertebrate phyla.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102, BIOL 111, BIOL 112; CHEM 110, CHEM 112.

BIOL 335

Comparative Anatomy

4 semester hours

A comparative study of the vertebrate structures and their significance in terms of their evolution and function.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102, BIOL 111, BIOL 112; CHEM 110, CHEM 112.

BIOL 338

Animal Behavior

4 semester hours

Study of the evolutionary aspects of behavioral ecology including foraging strategies, social competition, communication, sexual selection, mating systems, cooperation, and social organization.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102, BIOL 111, BIOL 112.

BIOL 351

General Physiology

3 semester hours

Introduction to physiological principles and concepts with emphasis on organ systems.

Prerequisite: BIOL 201.

BIOL 352

General Physiology Lab

1 semester hour

Laboratory experiments in general physiology.

Laboratory, 4 hours; Data analysis, 1 hour.

Prerequisites: BIOL 112 and BIOL 351 or BIOL 356 or BIOL 357, or concurrent enrollment.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Quantitative Reasoning; Writing.

BIOL 353

Plant Physiology

3 semester hours

Introduction to plant function, including photosynthesis, mineral nutrition, water relations, metabolism, and growth processes.

Prerequisites: BIOL 201; CHEM 220, CHEM 221; MATH 122 or MATH 131.

BIOL 354

Plant Physiology Laboratory

1 semester hour

Laboratory experiments in plant physiology.

Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 112 and BIOL 353 or concurrent enrollment.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Writing.

BIOL 356

Cell Biology

3 semester hours

A detailed study of subcellular organelles, including their origin, function, and regulation within the cell.

Prerequisites: BIOL 202; CHEM 222, CHEM 223.

BIOL 357

Comparative Animal Physiology

3 semester hours

Environmental and evolutionary influences on functioning of animals, focusing on mechanisms and strategies utilized by animals to cope with challenges imposed by their biotic and abiotic surroundings.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102, BIOL 111, BIOL 112, BIOL 201, BIOL 202; CHEM 110, CHEM 112, CHEM 220, CHEM 221.

BIOL 358

Hormones and Behavior

4 semester hours

Study of the interaction of hormones and behavior in vertebrates.

Topics include organizational and activational effects of hormones, sex differences in behavior, reproductive behavior, parental behavior, social behavior, and stress.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory 4 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 112, BIOL 201; CHEM 220, CHEM 221.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Engaged Learning.

BIOL 359

Cell Biology Laboratory

1 semester hour

Laboratory experiments in cell biology.

Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 112 and BIOL 201; CHEM 220.

BIOL 361

General Microbiology

3 semester hours

Properties and ecology of viruses, bacteria and protists; principles of genetics and physiology of bacteria; pathogenesis of bacteria and viruses; microbes as tools for molecular biology.

Prerequisites: BIOL 202 and CHEM 220.

BIOL 362

General Microbiology Laboratory

1 semester hour

Laboratory experiments in general microbiology.

Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 112 and BIOL 361 or concurrent enrollment.

BIOL 367

Biological Databases

3 semester hours

Interdisciplinary course at the interface between biology and computer science focusing on how biological information is encoded in the genome of a cell and represented as data in a database. Biological concepts include DNA structure and function, the central dogma of molecular biology, and regulation of gene expression. Computer science concepts and skills include command line interaction, the structure and functions of a database, and the management of data ranging from individual files to a full relational database management system. Emphasis on science and engineering best practices, such as maintaining journals and notebooks, managing files and code, and critically evaluating scientific and technical information. Course culminates with team projects to create new gene databases.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Information Literacy; Oral Skills.

BIOL 368

Bioinformatics Laboratory

1 semester hour

Current bioinformatics techniques will be used to address systems-level biological questions. Techniques may include: querying biological databases, sequence alignment, construction of phylogenetic trees, comparative genomics, genome annotation, protein structure analysis and prediction, modeling pathways and networks, use of biological ontologies, or the analysis of high-throughput genomic and proteomic data.

Prerequisites: BIOL 112, BIOL 202; CHEM 220.

BIOL 375

Advanced Genetics

3 semester hours

Topics in genetics including both meiotic and mitotic recombination, quantitative genetics, gene structure, genetic control, and gene therapy.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 202; CHEM 222, CHEM 223.

BIOL 376

Genetics Laboratory

1 semester hour

Laboratory experiments in genetics.

Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 112, BIOL 202; CHEM 110, CHEM 112.

BIOL 380

Tropical Marine Ecology Laboratory

1 semester hour

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 381

Baja Marine Ecology Laboratory

1 semester hour

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 394

Independent Research

0 TO 4 semester hours

Independent research in a faculty laboratory.

BIOL 395

Biology Internship

1 TO 2 semester hours

Work experience involving research, industry-, or community-based projects. May be taken only once for credit.

CR/NC only.

BIOL 398

Special Studies

1 TO 4 semester hours

BIOL 399

Independent Studies

1 TO 4 semester hours

BIOL 422

Marine Biology

4 semester hours

Examination of the physical, chemical, and biological patterns and processes that shape life in the oceans.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102, BIOL 111, BIOL 112; BIOL 201, CHEM 110, CHEM 112.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Engaged Learning; Information Literacy.

BIOL 433

Histology

3 semester hours

The structure and function of human tissue types including basic histological techniques.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102, BIOL 111, BIOL 112; CHEM 110, CHEM 112.

BIOL 437

Plant Development

3 semester hours

Biochemical, molecular, and genetic approaches to the study of pattern and tissue formation, embryogenesis, germination, flowering, photosynthesis, and plant-microbe interaction.

Prerequisites: BIOL 202; CHEM 222, CHEM 223 or concurrent enrollment.

BIOL 438

Plant Development Laboratory

1 semester hour

Laboratory experiments in plant developmental biology.

Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 112 and BIOL 437 or concurrent enrollment.

BIOL 439

Molecular Biology Applications

4 semester hours

The application of the techniques employed in molecular biology to the study of inherited diseases, genetic engineering, infectious diseases, cancer, and gene therapy.

Lecture, 2 hours; Laboratory, 6 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 112, BIOL 202; CHEM 220.

BIOL 443

Molecular Biology

3 semester hours

Study of properties, synthesis, and interactions of macromolecules; genetic engineering.

Prerequisites: BIOL 202; CHEM 220, CHEM 222.

BIOL 445

Endocrinology

3 semester hours

The study of the production, functions, and interactions of hormones and other chemical messengers involved in the integration of the living organism.

Prerequisites: BIOL 202 and CHEM 220.

BIOL 449

Immunology

3 semester hours

The study of the immune response mechanisms in the vertebrate organism, with special reference to humans.

Prerequisites: BIOL 202 and CHEM 220.

BIOL 450

Physiology of Disease

3 semester hours

Examination of normal function and selected disease-associated dysfunctions of the body's organ systems.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102, BIOL 201, BIOL 202; CHEM 222 (or concurrent enrollment).

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Oral Skills.

BIOL 461

Microbial Genetics

3 semester hours

Mechanisms of inheritance and the regulation of gene expression in bacteria and viruses. Viral interactions with higher eukaryotes.

Prerequisites: BIOL 202; CHEM 222, CHEM 223 or concurrent enrollment.

BIOL 474

Principles of Evolution

3 semester hours

Study of the pattern and process of evolution. Topics include the development of theories of evolutionary change; the mechanisms of evolutionary change at the population (micro) level; and evolution at the macro level, focusing on speciation, phylogenetic analysis, historical biogeography, and extinctions.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102, BIOL 111, BIOL 201, BIOL 202.

BIOL 475Evolution4 semester hours*

Study of the pattern and process of evolution. Topics include the development of theories of evolutionary change; the mechanisms of evolutionary change at the population (micro) level; and evolution at the macro level, focusing on speciation, phylogenetic analysis, historical biogeography, and extinctions.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102, BIOL 112, BIOL 201, BIOL 202.

BIOL 477Conservation Genetics4 semester hours*

Survey of the major topics in conservation genetics. Basic models of population genetics and topics relevant to conservation genetics, such as population structure, inbreeding, genetic load, genetic variation, reserve design, and the ethical, moral, and political aspects of species conservation.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102, BIOL 112, BIOL 202.

BIOL 478Molecular Biology of the Genome4 semester hours*

Advances in understanding cellular processes, gene expression, and the structure and function of macromolecules due to The Human Genome Project and associated new high-throughput technologies. Use of systems biology perspectives and bioinformatics tools to answer biological questions. May include: functional genomics, sequence alignment and phylogeny, comparative genomics, and biological pathways and networks.

Lecture, 2 hours; Laboratory, 6 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 112, BIOL 202; CHEM 220.

BIOL 479Molecular Mechanisms of Disease3 semester hours*

Analysis of the molecular mechanisms which underlie the pathology of genetic and infectious diseases. Particular attention paid to molecular mechanisms of disease treatment and experimental analysis in the field of human molecular genetics.

Prerequisites: BIOL 202; CHEM 220, CHEM 222.

BIOL 490Biological Teaching1 TO 2 semester hours*

Guided teaching of undergraduate laboratories.

May be repeated for credit.

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 494Independent Research0 TO 4 semester hours*

Independent research in a faculty laboratory.

BIOL 498Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursBIOL 499*Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursBIOL 515*Ecology of Mutualisms2 semester hours*

Characterization of conditional interspecific interactions and investigations into the variability of outcomes as mediated by seasonality, chemistry, novel habitats, and morphology.

Requires consent of instructor.

Prerequisites: BIOL 102, BIOL 111, BIOL 112; CHEM 113; MATH 122 or MATH 131.

BIOL 521Urban Ecology3 semester hours*

An analysis of the dynamic and integrated nature of urbanized landscapes. Using active inquiry and the original literature, the course will engage the current theories and practice of the research being conducted on the patterns and process of urban ecosystem—ranging from biodiversity and trophic dynamics, to public health and environmental justice.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: Enrollment in Urban Ecology Track or consent of instructor and program director.

BIOL 522Marine Biology Research2 semester hours*

An introduction to marine biology research techniques and basic marine ecosystems.

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 528Invertebrate Conservation Research2 semester hours*

Participation in research on topics in invertebrate conservation biology. Research may include ecological and/or genetic approaches and methodologies.

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 531Developmental Genetics Research2 semester hours*

Investigation through original literature and laboratory experience of the ways in which genes direct development.

Requires consent of instructor.

Prerequisite: BIOL 394, BIOL 494, or BIOL 594.

BIOL 532Drosophila Genetics Research2 semester hours*

An introduction to the use of drosophila as a research tool in classical and molecular genetics.

Requires consent of instructor.

Prerequisite: CHEM 220.

BIOL 536Functional Morphology Research1 TO 2 semester hours*

Participation in original research investigating the functional aspect of morphology and development in carnivorous mammals.

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 537Vertebrate Paleo Research1 TO 2 semester hours*

Participation in original research investigating functional, evolutionary and ecological aspects of vertebrate paleontology in mammals and birds.

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 551Behavior and Physiology Research1 TO 2 semester hours*

Participation in original laboratory and/or field research on social birds or mammals, addressing questions at the interfaces of behavior, physiology and ecology.

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 561Bioinformatics and Genomics2 semester hours*

Investigation of the systems-level properties of biological pathways and networks. Research may include bioinformatics and/or functional genomics techniques.

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 562Microbiology Research2 semester hours*

Participation in research investigating the role of microbes in the environment using culture based and molecular techniques. Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 563Molecular Genetics Research2 semester hours*

Laboratory work in gene mapping and gene isolation.

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 565Plant Developmental Biology Research2 semester hours*

Laboratory work in molecular and genetic analysis of plant development.

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 566Plant Research2 semester hours*

Participation in laboratory and/or field research on the ecophysiological response of plants to environmental extremes.

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 567Plant-Microbe Interactions Research2 semester hours*

Participation in research investigating the association between microbes and plants.

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 569Ethnobotany Seminar2 semester hours*

An introduction to the mutual relationships between plants and traditional peoples with an emphasis on phyto medicines and sustainability.

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 571Conservation Biology Seminar2 semester hours*

A survey of topics relating to the conservation of animals and plants, including extinction, genetic aspects, demography, insularization, threats to biodiversity, economics and politics, religious and ethical perspectives, and practical applications.

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 584Advanced Topics in Gene Expression2 semester hours*

An in-depth exposure to topics in gene expression through analysis of data from primary research literature.

Requires consent of instructor.

Prerequisites: BIOL 201 and BIOL 202.

BIOL 585Issues in Biotechnology Seminar2 semester hours*

An interdisciplinary seminar series bringing together faculty from different disciplines to present and discuss topics in biotechnology. Examples include sustainable agriculture, advances in medicine and biotechnology, legal and ethical considerations and biotechnology, the environment and biotechnology, the manipulation of biological machinery (proteins), the fusion of engineering and biotechnology (nanotechnology), the business of biotechnology.

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 586Molecular Cell Biology Research2 semester hours*

Independent laboratory research examining questions pertaining to gene expression, including ribosome biogenesis and mRNA transport/localization, utilizing techniques of molecular and cell biology, biochemistry, and genetics.

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 587Molecular Mechanisms in Development Seminar2 semester hours*

An exploration of current research utilizing molecular/ genetic techniques to study developmental biology.

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 594Independent Research0 TO 4 semester hours*

Independent research in a faculty laboratory. Results must be presented formally.

BIOL 598Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

Requires consent of instructor.

BIOL 599Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

Business Administration

BADM 1010

Business Perspectives—Business Institutions

1 semester hour

This course covers the Choice and Decision Making framework within the context of a free market economy. Students will be exposed to the role of managers in organizations and the basic agency theory. Students will learn the underlying structure of decision making and concepts of incentive and reward systems. Students will be introduced to the business institutions and the career opportunities in each segment of the free market economy. An overview of economic and business crises in recent history and the role of government in dealing with market failure will be briefly explored.

The objectives of this course are:

- To provide business students with a world view of business organizations in a free society;
- To provide a general understanding of the role of management in business, not-for-profit, and governmental organizations;
- To explain the role of competition, risk, and information in the free market setting;
- Discuss the interaction of regulation and businesses in a market economy;
- To understand the individual choice process and role of the individual in a free society.

Required for ALL majors in the College of Business Administration.

BADM 1020

Business Perspectives—Introduction to Ethical Decision Models

1 semester hour

This course covers two general topics that will be modified slightly based on individual faculty perspectives and style. The first part of the course deals with a variety of legal, social, and institutional dimensions of the environment in which business is conducted. This will include:

- The relationship between business and the society natural environment in which it operates;
- The relationship between business and the values of the society; the legal and business context in which we find “ethics” in today’s workplace-corporate ethics programs, the Federal Sentencing Guidelines for Organizations, Sarbanes-Oxley, and other business regulations;
- The relationship between business, society, and Jesuit values.

The second part of the course aims to help students learn how to work with two different approaches to ethical reasoning:

- A “values” approach (which echoes the “virtue ethics” approach taken by most corporate ethics programs), and
- An approach that connects with the methodology students will be exposed to in their ethics requirement (a secular approach based on an analysis of both the consequence of actions and the intrinsic merit of the actions themselves).

The objective of this course is introducing our students to the centrality of ethics in our mission, and importance of ethical standards in the business leaders’ decision process.

Required for ALL majors in the College of Business Administration.

BADM 1030

Business Perspectives—Information Technology in Organizations

1 semester hour

This course provides an introduction to information technology and computing with emphasis to its applications in business and organizations.

The course will be devoted to problem-solving and acquiring personal productivity software skills essential for effective and efficient use of IT in business and organizations. Emphasis is on use of the computer in problem-solving, and will be hands-on in a laboratory setting. The course is designed to cover the following:

- Application software use to solve problems: Problem-solving/analytical skills-mental processing/logical thinking stage, procedure development, e.g., uses of control structures and flowcharting techniques in developing business procedures, etc. Use of spreadsheet, e.g., Excel, in modeling and data analysis; spreadsheet calculations—use of Excel and user-defined functions, what-if type analysis; use of graphs—creating and editing charts, and printing worksheets, etc.
- Information Technology use for knowledge workers: Use of knowledge work productivity software, e.g., Excel; what is knowledge work and knowledge workers—analysis of individual knowledge work tasks/activities of, for example, managers, accountants, financial analysts, lawyers, etc.; knowledge workers and information management; collaboration among knowledge workers—analysis of work activities and information requirements or management, etc.; data organization, access and management of internal organizational data and external data—role of IT, e.g., Internet and WWW in knowledge worker productivity.
- The Internet and WWW: Operation and functional uses; IP addresses, datagrams, domain names, TCP/IP; and the World Wide Web, use of URLs, browsers, and search engines—for information searches, etc.

The objectives of this course are:

- To introduce students to the important concepts and terminology fundamental to an understanding and appreciation of information technology and its uses in business and organizations.
- To establish a firm foundation and proficiency in problem-solving skills in computing using flowcharting techniques, acquiring personal productivity skills in the use of application software packages, in particular, Excel for spreadsheet modeling and analysis, and the use of the Internet and the WWW for communication, information searches, and collaboration with other workers in an organizational setting.

Required of ALL majors in the College of Business Administration.

Prerequisite: BADM 1010 with a minimum grade of C (2.0).

BADM 1040

Business Perspectives—Globalization

1 semester hour

This course is designed to provide freshman or sophomore students with knowledge of the critical aspects of globalization, key trends in the global economy, and build an appropriate educational plan at the early stage of their college years.

The objectives of this course are:

- To introduce students to the driving forces behind globalization and evaluate how globalization has affected the U.S. economy.
- To discuss our main trading partners and investors along with the key trends in international trade and foreign direct investment. Additionally, the course addresses the key players and their roles in the global economy.
- Through an in-depth analysis of these issues, students are expected to learn:
 - The current trends and future prospects of the global economy.
 - The meaning of globalization and its impacts on the U.S. economy as well as career implications of global economy.

Required for ALL majors in the College of Business Administration.

Prerequisite: BADM 1020 with a minimum grade of C (2.0).

BADM 3010

Analytical Concepts and Methods for Business

3 semester hours

The course is meant as an introductory basis for students seeking a minor in Business Administration. Topics will include fractions, decimals vs. percentages, Excel spreadsheets vs. calculators, future and present value, interest rates, compounding, credit terms in personal finance, probabilities, weights, mean or expected value, statistics, variance, standard deviation, sample vs. population statistics, correlation and covariance, and linear estimations.

Required for ALL Business Administration minors.

BADM 3020Economic Environment, Marketing, and Business Law Concepts3 semester hours*

This is a basic course in economics, marketing, and business law which will give the Business Administration minor student an introduction to the three subjects. After taking this course, the student will be prepared to take more advanced courses in the various subjects covered.

Required for ALL Business Administration minors.

BADM 3030Key Concepts of Accounting and Finance3 semester hours*

This course provides a timely and relevant introduction to key accounting and finance concepts. With a focus on strategic techniques for decision making in the corporate environment, it aims to provide students with a general, real-world understanding of financial statements, budgeting, financial analysis, managerial accounting, valuation, financial markets, investments, risk, ethics, and how firms raise capital.

Required for ALL Business Administration minors.

Prerequisite: BADM 3010.

BADM 3040Management and Society: Issues in Strategic and Ethical Management3 semester hours*

Management and Society is an introductory course which covers the role of business in our society and the principles of management and organizational behavior. Basic concepts such as the role of management (focused on planning, organizing, leading, and controlling) and theories of organizations will be explored while considering the impact on and involvement of stakeholders, the importance of ethics, influence of business-government relations, issues in corporate governance, and the significance of long-term sustainability.

Required for ALL Business Administration minors.

Prerequisite: BADM 3020.

BADM 4950Business and Social Responsibility in the Global Economy3 semester hours*

This is an applied course that focuses on the interactions of business, government, and societal institutions. Particular attention is directed to such topics as economic systems, stakeholder management, political and legislative process, sustainability, and corporate governance. Themes of ethics, social responsibility, and leadership will be emphasized. There are two specific goals: 1) The student grasps the broad issues of corporate social responsibility and 2) The student develops decision making skills needed to lead a corporation to productive solutions.

Must be taken in residence at LMU.

Senior standing required.

Required for ALL majors in the College of Business Administration.

Prerequisites: BADM 1010, BADM 1020, BADM 1030, BADM 1040, all with a letter grade of C (2.0) or higher; BLAW 2210; MGMT 3610; one course from PHIL 320-330.

BADM 4970Strategic Management3 semester hours*

This is an applied course that develops strategic thinking skills to enable managers to position the business to achieve and sustain superior competitive performance. This course addresses issues of both strategy design and implementation in the complex global economic environment. The course requires students to draw upon and integrate knowledge and skills developed throughout their business education.

Must be taken in residence at LMU.

Senior standing required.

Required for ALL majors in the College of Business Administration.

Prerequisites: AIMS 3770; FNCE 3410; MGMT 3610; MRKT 3510.

BADM 4998Special Studies1 to 3 semester hoursBADM 4999*Independent Studies1 to 3 semester hours*

Requires approval of the Associate Dean.

Business LawBLAW 2210*Legal and Regulatory Environment3 semester hours*

A survey course on the general concepts found in Business Law. The student will be exposed to legal, ethics, and regulatory terminology, concepts, and reasoning found when working within the business and government environment.

Prerequisites: BADM 1010 and BADM 1020, both with a minimum grade of C (2.0).

BLAW 3210Business Law Applications and Cases3 semester hours*

The course offers a detailed study of the nature of contracts and their applications in business organizations, personal property, real property, and commercial transactions. A focus will be placed on interpreting the law through existing case studies.

Prerequisite: BLAW 2210.

BLAW 3270Marketing Law3 semester hours*

To acquaint students with fundamental concepts, principles, and rules of marketing law that concern marketers and consumers in day-to-day activities, in private business relationships, and in their relationship with government. The course will focus on various legal constraints, problems and ramifications which should be recognized and addressed by marketers when making pricing, product, promotion, and distribution decisions.

(See MRKT 3570.)

Prerequisites: BLAW 2210 and MRKT 3510.

BLAW 4210Entertainment Law3 semester hours*

Law as it applies to the entertainment (motion picture, sound, television) industry, with particular focus on contracts and agency.

Prerequisite: BLAW 2210.

BLAW 4220Employment Law3 semester hours*

This course provides a broad overview of federal and state employment laws, administrative agency regulations, and judicial decisions that govern the management of human resources. It provides a framework for the analysis and implementation of procedures that impact the employer-employee relationship in the workplace. Topics include the rules for proper advertising, screening, interviewing, and hiring of applicants; an analysis of the procedures that shape the training, promotion, discipline, and termination of employees; grievance handling, anti-discrimination laws, employee rights, health and safety regulations, leaves of absence, harassment prevention, regulatory compliance, and administrative adjudication of claims.

(See MGMT 4620.)

Prerequisite: BLAW 2210.

BLAW 4230

Sports Law

3 semester hours

Sports Law is a practical course that focuses on the nature, formation, and application of traditional legal concepts in relation to sports as a business and social entity. This upper division elective provides a comprehensive introduction to the different dimensions of the legal environment and their influence on the business of sports.

Prerequisite: BLAW 2210.

BLAW 4240

Real Estate Law

3 semester hours

A study of the legal aspects involved in real estate ventures. This course will explore the nature of property and land transactions, management based on current law code, and existing case law. This course provides an excellent legal foundation for students with an interest in future property ownership.

Prerequisite: BLAW 2210.

BLAW 4250

International Business Law

3 semester hours

This course provides an excellent legal foundation for the international operation of businesses. Students will address balancing the legal interests of domestic and international parties and will explore the applicable legal guidelines and case history.

(See INBA 4850.)

Prerequisites: BLAW 2210 and INBA 3810.

CHEM 110General Chemistry I3 semester hours*

Atomic theory; chemical nomenclature; chemical equations and reactions; stoichiometry; properties of gases, solids, and liquids; electronic structure of atoms and periodic properties of the elements; covalent bonding and molecular geometry.

Lecture, 3 hours.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

CHEM 111

General Chemistry I Lab

1 semester hour

Basic chemical lab technique, conservation of mass, definite composition, molar masses, gravimetric and titrimetric analyses, redox chemistry.

Lecture and laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisite: CHEM 110, CHEM 114, or concurrent enrollment.

CHEM 112

General Chemistry II

3 semester hours

Solutions, chemical kinetics, thermodynamics, acids and bases, equilibria, electrochemistry, nuclear reactions, and selected additional topics.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CHEM 110.

CHEM 113

General Chemistry II Lab

1 semester hour

Chemical kinetics, equilibrium, complex ions, solubility, visible spectrophotometry, inorganic synthesis, crystallization, inorganic qualitative analysis.

Lecture and laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 111; CHEM 112 or concurrent enrollment.

CHEM 114

General Chemistry for Engineers

3 semester hours

Atomic theory; stoichiometry; properties of gases, liquids, and solids; electronic structure and periodic table; covalent bonding; kinetics and equilibrium; acid-base, precipitation, and reduction-oxidation reactions; basic thermodynamics.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Engineering majors only.

CHEM 190

World of Chemistry and Biochemistry

1 semester hour

Introduction to the Chemistry and Biochemistry programs, faculty, staff, and the facilities. Students will have the opportunity to learn about the various research programs in the department. Students will also be introduced to various chemistry and biochemistry careers.

Prerequisites: CHEM 110 and CHEM 112.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Quantitative Reasoning.

CHEM 221

Organic Chemistry I Lab

1 semester hour

Introduction to the fundamental lab techniques used in organic chemistry.

Lecture and laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 111, CHEM 113; CHEM 220 or concurrent enrollment.

CHEM 222

Organic Chemistry II

3 semester hours

Introduction to the chemistry of alcohols, ethers, carbonyl compounds, amines, and carbohydrates.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CHEM 220.

CHEM 223

Organic Chemistry II Lab

1 semester hour

Laboratory experience in synthesis and analysis of organic compounds.

Lecture and laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 221; CHEM 222 or concurrent enrollment.

CHEM 250

Earth Systems

3 semester hours

An introductory exploration of how the Earth works. Focus is placed on connecting the Earth systems—the solid Earth, atmosphere, oceans, and biosphere—through the cycling of chemical elements and energy. The course will also discuss significant anthropogenic impacts to the natural Earth system.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 110 and CHEM 112.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Information Literacy.

CHEM 261

The Science in Science Fiction

3 semester hours

The physics, chemistry, and biology found in science fiction literature and examined for accuracy and probability. Topics include the physics of space and space habitats, the chemistry and biology of life arising under non-earthlike conditions, and the ecology of imagined worlds. "Engineering" new worlds on the basis of sound scientific theory will be expected. Understanding of physical implications of simple algebraic expressions is required.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

CHEM 262

The Chemical Environment

3 semester hours

The important chemical processes of the world in which we live; air, water, agriculture, food additives, household chemicals, cosmetics, chemotherapy, sports, toxic waste management.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

CHEM 281

The Science of CSI: An Introduction to Forensic Science

3 semester hours

This course gives students an introduction to the forensic sciences and an appreciation for the activities of a real forensic laboratory. This course utilizes lecture and inquiry based laboratory activities and experiments to introduce basic scientific concepts and develop problem solving and critical thinking skills in a chemical and biological context. Topics will include basic chemistry, biology, and analytical techniques; crime scene analysis; arson investigation; and fingerprint, drug, blood, and DNA analyses. No prior science background is required.

Lecture, 3 hours.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

CHEM 290

Chemistry Seminar

1 TO 3 semester hours

CHEM 330

Inorganic Chemistry

3 semester hours

Introduction to the chemistry of the transition elements. Structure, stereochemistry, and bonding in transition metal complexes. Applied thermodynamics, oxidation-reduction, and descriptive chemistry of the main group elements. Nuclear reactions and the actinide elements.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CHEM 222.

CHEM 331

Inorganic Chemistry Lab

1 semester hour

The synthesis of transition metal complexes and characterization by intra-red, UV-Visible, and NMR spectroscopy. Optical activity and the resolution of a racemic mixture. Organometallic compounds and clusters of the p-block elements. Reactions in non-aqueous solvents and under an inert atmosphere.

Lecture and laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 222 and CHEM 223.

CHEM 340

Physical Chemistry

3 semester hours

The objective of this course is to introduce the student to the principles of physical chemistry, both to satisfy a requirement of the major and to serve as preparation to enrollment in subsequent in-depth courses in selective topics in physical chemistry. Topics include: properties of gases, chemical thermodynamics, chemical equilibria, colligative properties, electrochemistry, chemical kinetics, quantum mechanics, atomic and molecular spectroscopy.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 222 and CHEM 223; MATH 123 or MATH 132; PHYS 201 or PHYS 254.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Quantitative Reasoning.

CHEM 341

Physical Chemistry Lab

1 semester hour

Physical measurements, calorimetry, physical equilibria, phase behavior, chemical equilibria, kinetics, colligative properties, atomic and molecular spectroscopy.

Lecture and laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisite: CHEM 340 or concurrent enrollment.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Quantitative Reasoning; Writing.

CHEM 342

Advanced Physical Chemistry

3 semester hours

Chemical kinetics, quantum mechanics, atomic and molecular spectroscopy, statistical mechanics.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 340 and CHEM 341.

CHEM 343

Advanced Physical Chemistry Lab

1 semester hour

Kinetics, colligative properties, atomic and molecular spectroscopy.

Lecture and laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 340, CHEM 341; CHEM 342 or concurrent enrollment.

CHEM 346

Physical Biochemistry

3 semester hours

Chemical and enzyme kinetics, solutions of macromolecules, chemical equilibria, transport processes, sedimentation, transport in electric fields, physical methods in biochemistry, scattering, molecular modeling.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 340 and CHEM 341.

Corequisite: CHEM 347.

CHEM 347

Physical Biochemistry Lab

1 semester hour

Kinetics, colligative properties, macromolecular solution properties, atomic and molecular spectroscopy as applies to biochemical systems.

Lecture and laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 340 and CHEM 341.

Corequisite: CHEM 346.

CHEM 352

Environmental Chemistry

3 semester hours

A study of chemical processes in the environment: topics include stratospheric ozone depletion, the greenhouse effect, air pollution, sources of energy, water chemistry, water purification, sewage treatment, and pesticides.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 110 and CHEM 112.

CHEM 353Environmental Chemistry Lab1 semester hour*

Analysis to determine pollutants found in air, water, soil systems; emphasis on the use of instrumental methods and techniques.

Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 110, CHEM 111, CHEM 112, CHEM 113.

Corequisite: CHEM 352.

CHEM 354Air Pollution: Atmospheric Chemistry3 semester hours*

Introduction to air pollution and the chemistry of the Earth's atmosphere. The fundamental natural processes controlling trace gas and aerosol concentrations in the atmosphere will be explored as well as how anthropogenic activity has affected those processes at local, regional, and global scales.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 110 and CHEM 112.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Information Literacy.

CHEM 360Analytical Chemistry and Lab4 semester hours*

Theory of chemical analyses, statistical analyses in chemistry, and an introduction to spectroscopy. Lab includes quantitative analyses by gravimetric, titrimetric, and spectroscopic methods.

Lecture and laboratory, 8 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 112 and CHEM 113.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Quantitative Reasoning.

CHEM 370Biochemistry3 semester hours*

Macromolecular structure and function, enzymology, bioenergetics and kinetics, biotechnology, major metabolic pathways.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 222 and CHEM 223.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections.

CHEM 371Biochemistry Lab1 semester hour*

Techniques of protein purification, enzyme assay, and kinetics.

Lecture and laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisite: CHEM 370 or concurrent enrollment.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Engaged Learning; Writing.

CHEM 372Advanced Biochemistry3 semester hours*

Metabolic regulation; macromolecular structure, function and synthesis membrane transport; DNA and RNA metabolism and control; biochemistry of vitamins and other nutrients; protein biosynthesis.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CHEM 370.

CHEM 373Advanced Biochemistry Lab1 semester hour*

Techniques in lipid and carbohydrate analysis; enzyme regulation; enzymes as diagnostic tools, restriction enzymes.

Lecture and laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 370, CHEM 371; and CHEM 372 or concurrent enrollment.

CHEM 376Biochemistry I3 semester hours*

Macromolecular structure and function; enzymology; bioenergetics and kinetics; biotechnology; major metabolic pathways.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 222 and CHEM 223.

CHEM 380Forensic Chemistry3 semester hours*

An introduction to the forensic sciences with an emphasis on chemistry. This course gives students an appreciation for the activities of a real forensic laboratory. Topics covered include basic analytical techniques, arson investigation, and fingerprint, drug, blood, and DNA analyses.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 222, CHEM 223, and CHEM 360 or consent of instructor.

CHEM 382Wine Chemistry3 semester hours*

Addresses the major chemical topics associated with wine production, chemical analysis of wine and wine faults. Provides an overview of wine-making and the wine industry through a combination of lecture, lab and field trips.

Minimum age of 21 required for full participation.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CHEM 222.

CHEM 390Chemistry Seminar1 semester hour*

Regular attendance at Departmental Seminar Program.

CR/NC grading only.

CHEM 391Chemistry Seminar1 semester hour*

Regular attendance at Departmental Seminar Program and presentation of a seminar.

CHEM 393Chemistry/Biochemistry Internship1 TO 3 semester hours*

Research/Development work conducted in a professional chemical setting in a local government or industrial laboratory. Work includes both theory and laboratory practice on a project designed cooperatively by the laboratory's supervisory staff and LMU faculty. The project is jointly supervised by on-site staff and LMU faculty.

May be repeated for credit up to 6 semester hours.

CR/NC grading only.

CHEM 397Directed Research1 TO 3 semester hours*

May be repeated for credit up to 6 semester hours.

Consent of instructor required.

CHEM 398Special Studies0 TO 3 semester hoursCHEM 399*Independent Studies0 TO 3 semester hoursCHEM 420*Advanced Organic Chemistry3 semester hours*

Modern synthetic reactions, mechanisms and study of organic synthesis.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 220 and CHEM 222.

CHEM 421Advanced Organic Chemistry Lab1 semester hour*

Laboratory techniques for multi-step synthesis and spectroscopic analysis of organic compounds.

Lecture and laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 222 and CHEM 223.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Writing.

CHEM 430Advanced Inorganic Chemistry3 semester hours*

Ligand field theory and spectral properties of transition metal complexes. Acid-base concepts and non-aqueous ionizing solvents. Molecular orbital theory applied to p-block clusters. Metallic bonding and chemistry of the solid state.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 330 and CHEM 331 or concurrent enrollment.

CHEM 434Bioinorganic Chemistry3 semester hours*

The study of the function and structure of metal ions in biology: the properties and spectroscopy of metal ions; metalloproteins; the interaction between metal ions and DNA or RNA; introduction of metal ions into biological systems as probes and as drugs.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CHEM 370 or CHEM 376, or by consent of instructor.

CHEM 460Instrumental Analysis and Lab4 semester hours*

Theory and practice of analytical methods including infrared spectroscopy, atomic spectroscopy, nuclear magnetic resonance spectroscopy, mass spectrometry, and gas and liquid chromatography.

Lecture and laboratory, 7 hours.

Prerequisite: CHEM 360.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Writing.

CHEM 474Food Chemistry3 semester hours*

The chemistry involved in food preparation and development. Examples include flavorings, food additives, what happens when it is cooked, then eaten; nutritional aspects of foods, food supplements, preservation, food fads.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CHEM 370.

CHEM 476Advanced Topics in Biochemistry and Biotechnology3 semester hours*

Recent advances in biochemistry and biotechnology are discussed and analyzed. Typical topics discussed include protein phage display, genome sequencing technologies, gene synthesis and mutagenesis, protein design and engineering. Students will also read and discuss recent publications from leaders in the fields of biochemistry and biotechnology.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CHEM 370.

CHEM 480Medicinal Chemistry3 semester hours*

Chemical principles involved in design and formulation of drugs; their absorption, distribution, and elimination; and their interaction at possible active sites. Mechanism of action of specific groups of drugs are discussed.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CHEM 370 or consent of director.

CHEM 482Toxicology3 semester hours*

An introduction to the principles of toxicology emphasizing cellular mechanisms, e.g., cell signaling, mutagenesis, and/or carcinogenesis. Topics will also include dose-response, toxicokinetics, risk assessment, effects of toxicants on the environment, and approaches that can decrease the amounts of toxicants in the environment.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CHEM 370.

CHEM 490Chemistry Seminar1 semester hour*

Regular attendance at Departmental Seminar Program.

CR/NC grading only.

CHEM 491Chemistry Seminar1 semester hour*

Regular attendance at Departmental Seminar Program and presentation of a seminar.

CHEM 493Chemistry/Biochemistry Internship1 TO 3 semester hours*

Research/Development work conducted in a professional chemical setting in a local government or industrial laboratory. Work includes both theory and laboratory practice on a project designed cooperatively by the laboratory's supervisory staff and LMU faculty. The project is jointly supervised by on-site staff and LMU faculty.

May be repeated for credit up to 6 semester hours.

CHEM 495Chemistry Teaching0 TO 1 semester hour*

Guided teaching of the undergraduate laboratories.

May be repeated for credit up to 8 semester hours.

CR/NC grading only.

Approval of Department Chairperson required.

CHEM 497Directed Research1 TO 3 semester hours*

A written report is required.

May be repeated for credit up to 6 semester hours.

Consent of instructor required.

CHEM 498Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCHEM 499*Independent Studies0 TO 4 semester hoursChicano Studies

CHST 116Introduction to Chicana@/Latin@ Studies3 semester hours*

An interdisciplinary overview of Chicana/o Studies to familiarize students with historical and contemporary issues in Chicana/o and Latina/o communities.

University Core fulfilled: Foundations: Studies in American Diversity.

CHST 126Chicana/o Cultural Production3 semester hours*

Examines contemporary Chicana/o cultural production, including performance, film, and art. Comparisons are made to other ethnic groups and cross-cultural production.

CHST 198Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCHST 199*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCHST 206*Introduction to Chicana/o, Latina/o Literature3 semester hours*

An overview of a range of genre, themes, and concepts created by Chicana/o and other U.S. Latina/o writers.

CHST 298Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCHST 299*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCHST 302*Chicanas and Latinas in the U.S.3 semester hours*

Analysis of the historical, social, and cultural characteristics that shape the roles of Chicanas and Latinas in the U.S.

CHST 308Contemporary Urban Issues3 semester hours*

Using service learning in Los Angeles, the course helps students understand how the lives of Chicanas/os and Latinas/os are shaped by politics, economics, culture, history, and access to nation-state institutions.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Engaged Learning.

CHST 310Guadalupe, Queen of the Américas3 semester hours*

The course investigates the Virgin of Guadalupe's religious, cultural, and artistic significance among Mexicans and Mexican Americans in the United States. It uses interdisciplinary methods to examine Latino theology, the faith-practices and devotions to Guadalupe, and contemporary visual arts.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Faith and Reason; Flag: Writing.

CHST 332Survey of Chicana/o-Latina/o Literature3 semester hours*

(See ENGL 350.)

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections.

CHST 337Racial and Ethnic Politics3 semester hours*

Comparative analysis of racial and ethnic groups within the United States political system. A focus on the effect of political institutions on minority groups at federal, state, and local levels. Examines the experience of minority groups to illuminate political process in the U.S.

CHST 350Immigration and Los Angeles3 semester hours*

(See APAM 350.)

CHST 360Chicana/o History3 semester hours*

An analytical survey of Native America, Mexican America, and the recent past with a focus on race, ethnicity, sexuality, gender, and class.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Historical Analysis and Perspectives; Flag: Writing.

CHST 367History of Los Angeles3 semester hours*

(See HIST 367.)

CHST 398Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursCHST 399*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

CHST 404Latina Feminist Theory3 semester hours*

Focuses on current writings by Chicana feminists and connects this material to African American and Asian American feminist theory. The course traces the development of Chicana feminism and its concern with the interlocking conditions of gender, race, sexuality, and class.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Writing

CHST 406Chicana/o Consciousness3 semester hours*

(See ENGL 353.)

CHST 407Mexican Presence in Los Angeles Art since 19453 semester hours*

A historical and social investigation of Chicana/o art and the politics of identity. The course includes options for curating a virtual art gallery, field trips, and other creative assignments.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections.

CHST 435The Politics of California1 TO 3 semester hours*

(See POLS 435.)

CHST 436The Politics of Los Angeles3 semester hours*

(See POLS 436.)

CHST 437Chicana/o Politics3 semester hours*

(See POLS 437.)

CHST 460The Chicana/o Southwest3 semester hours*

An examination of the historical and contemporary issues shaping this important region of the U.S. Attention to indigenous communities, women, and current political issues.

CHST 465Chicana/os-Latina/os in Film and Mass Media3 semester hours*

An examination of film and other forms of mass media, focusing on issues of representation as well as production. Subject matter addresses both Chicano cinema and Mexican/Latin American cinema.

CHST 498Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCHST 499*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCHST 500*Capstone Seminar3 semester hours*

A senior seminar required of majors and minors. Students conduct original, independent research and present the work before an audience.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Writing.

Chinese

CHIN 101Elementary Chinese I3 semester hours*

This course is designed for students who have little or no knowledge of Mandarin Chinese. Students will be introduced to fundamentals of the language and will develop communicative skills and learn to read and write in spoken style.

This course requires participation in a weekly one-hour integrated drill session.

Fall semester only.

CHIN 102Elementary Chinese II3 semester hours*

This course is a continuation of CHIN 101. Students will continue learning the fundamentals of Mandarin Chinese. The four aspects of language skills—listening, speaking, reading, and writing in spoken style Chinese—are equally emphasized.

This course requires participation in a weekly one-hour integrated drill session.

Spring semester only.

Prerequisite: CHIN 101 or by LMU Placement Exam.

CHIN 198Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCHIN 199*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCHIN 203*Intermediate Chinese I3 semester hours*

Builds upon the fundamentals of Mandarin Chinese studied in CHIN 101 and CHIN 102. Students will continue to develop the four aspects of their language skills: listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Students are expected to write short paragraphs and conduct oral presentations.

This course requires participation in a weekly one-hour integrated drill session.

Fall semester only.

Prerequisite: CHIN 102 or by LMU Placement Exam.

CHIN 204Intermediate Chinese II3 semester hours*

This course is a continuation of CHIN 203. Four aspects of language—listening, speaking, reading, and writing—are equally emphasized. Students will be introduced to more idiomatic expressions, grammatical structures, and cultural elements. Students are expected to write short paragraphs and do oral presentations. The basic written style will also be introduced.

This course requires participation in a weekly one-hour integrated drill session.

Spring semester only.

Prerequisite: CHIN 203 or by LMU Placement Exam.

CHIN 298

Special Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

CHIN 299

Independent Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

CHIN 305

Advanced Chinese I

3 semester hours

This course will help students continue to develop their four skills of listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Many of the grammatical constructions introduced in first and second year Chinese will be repeated in this course with increasing sophistication in terms of style and usage. Students are required to comprehend and produce paragraph-level Chinese. Rigorous practice of spoken and written style Chinese in complex communicative activities will be conducted. Students will also do intensive reading of expository writings on a variety of cultural topics.

Prerequisite: CHIN 204 or by LMU Placement Exam.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Oral Skills.

CHIN 306

Advanced Chinese II

3 semester hours

This course is designed to help students further solidify their language and literacy skills; moreover, this course helps students improve their understanding of today's China. It seeks to enable students to give formal reports, give factual accounts, read materials, write essays, reports, and all types of correspondence in written style Chinese.

Prerequisite: CHIN 305 or by LMU Placement Exam.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Oral Skills.

CHIN 333

Topics in Contemporary Chinese Society

3 semester hours

This course intends to help students develop knowledge and perspectives about contemporary Chinese society. Students will be exposed to different aspects of Chinese culture and their relationship with the Chinese language in the process of China's social and cultural transformation. This class will be taught in both Chinese and English.

Prerequisite: CHIN 306 or consent of instructor.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections.

CHIN 398

Special Studies

1 TO 4 semester hours

CHIN 399

Independent Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

CHIN 407

Modern Chinese Literature and Culture

3 semester hours

This course introduces students to some key topics in modern Chinese literature, cinema, and culture. We will examine the ways in which these literary and cultural texts engage modern Chinese experience. This course will help students acquire language skills that allow them to formulate culturally informed and formally attentive interpretations of modern Chinese texts. Through close reading exercises and discussions, this course aims for students to gain a deeper understanding of modern Chinese culture and society.

CHIN 408

Modern China through Film

3 semester hours

By introducing well-known films produced in the twentieth century by filmmakers from Mainland China, Taiwan, and Hong Kong, this seminar explores the immense panorama of contemporary Chinese society from different perspectives. Key issues include gender, identity, youth, family, education, and modernity. The class will be taught in Chinese entirely.

Prerequisite: CHIN 306 or consent of instructor.

Civil Engineering

CIVL 200

Mechanics of Materials

3 semester hours

Development of relationships between loads applied to an elastic body to stresses and deformations produced in the body, the relation between stresses and strains, approaches for finding necessary dimensions of a member with respect to material capabilities and design constraints.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: ENGR 200.

CIVL 210

Surveying and Mapping

3 semester hours

Study of basic surveying instruments and related computations for topographic surveys, horizontal and vertical curves, and the design of highways. The course will include computer aided design and geographic information systems (applications of AutoCAD to civil engineering design and fundamentals of GIS using ArcView).

Lecture, 2 hours; Laboratory, 4 hours.

Sophomore standing required.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Information Literacy.

CIVL 230

Particle Dynamics

2 semester hours

Kinetics and kinematics of particles. Application of Newton's laws, principles of work and energy, impulse and momentum.

Lecture, 2 hours.

Prerequisite: ENGR 200.

CIVL 250

Thermal-Fluid Systems

3 semester hours

The fundamental concepts of thermodynamics including properties, work, and heat; first and second laws; entropy; irreversible processes; thermodynamic analysis of power cycles and refrigeration; fluid statics; Bernoulli's equation; heat convection and radiation.

Prerequisite: ENGR 200.

CIVL 302Seismic Design of Structures3 semester hours*

Free and forced vibration of discrete single and multiple degree of freedom systems, continuous systems, design for earthquake loading, application of the Uniform Building Code to the seismic design of structures.

Lecture, 3 hours.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Quantitative Reasoning.

Prerequisite: CIVL 200.

CIVL 305Structural Theory3 semester hours*

Introduction to the International Building Code. Analysis of determinate and indeterminate deformable structures using classical methods and an introduction to computer methods of analysis.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CIVL 200.

CIVL 310Fluid Mechanics I3 semester hours*

Properties of fluids, fluid statics, kinematics, energy, hydrodynamics, momentum and dynamic forces, steady flow of compressible and incompressible fluids.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CIVL 250.

CIVL 311Fluid Mechanics Lab1 semester hour*

A companion laboratory of CIVL 310.

Laboratory, 3 hours.

Corequisite: CIVL 310.

CIVL 320Introduction to Environmental Engineering3 semester hours*

Introduction to elements of water treatment, water pollution control, solid and hazardous waste disposal, and air pollution control. The interrelationships of the movement of pollutants between the land, air, and water media are discussed.

Lecture, 3 hours.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics (Civil Engineering majors only).

Prerequisites: BIOL 114, CHEM 114 and MATH 123 or MATH 132.

CIVL 340Analytical Methods in Civil Engineering I3 semester hours*

Introduction to probability and statistics with an emphasis on techniques and applications useful in engineering.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 132.

CIVL 395Engineering Economics and Decision Theory3 semester hours*

The economic evaluation of engineering alternatives. Topics include: time value of money relationships, nominal and effective interest rates, present worth method, annual worth method, rate of return and incremental analysis, depreciation and income taxes, replacement analysis and benefit/cost analysis.

Lecture, 3 hours.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Understanding Human Behavior (Civil Engineering majors only).

Prerequisite: MATH 132.

CIVL 400Fundamentals of Water and Wastewater Treatment3 semester hours*

Fundamentals of water and wastewater treatment systems; water and wastewater characteristics, analysis and design and conventional water treatment systems and physical, chemical, and biological processes for wastewater treatment.

Lecture, 3 hours.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Oral Skills.

Prerequisites: CIVL 310 and CIVL 320.

CIVL 406Water Resources Planning and Design3 semester hours*

Flood control hydrology including rainfall, unit hydrographs, flood frequency analysis and flood routing. Development of surface and groundwater supplies, reservoir yield and operation, determination of water requirements, analysis of water supply and distribution systems.

Lecture, 3 hours.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Information Literacy.

Prerequisite: CIVL 310

CIVL 410Soil Mechanics4 semester hours*

Physical and mechanical properties of soil, consolidation, settlement of structures, shear strength, analysis of earth pressures, bearing capacity, slope stability, flow through porous media, and open-ended design problems.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 3 hours.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Writing.

Prerequisites: CIVL 200 and CIVL 310.

CIVL 411Design of Foundations and Earth Structures3 semester hours*

Design methods for foundations and earth structures. Design of footings and piles including stability and settlement, slopes, and retaining structures.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CIVL 410.

CIVL 415Reinforced Concrete Design4 semester hours*

Theory and design of reinforced concrete columns, beams, retaining walls, footings and slabs. Application to design projects.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CIVL 200.

CIVL 460Civil Engineering Design4 semester hours*

An integrated senior design experience which utilizes knowledge from the civil engineering curriculum. In addition to the technical aspects, the designs consider costs, sustainability economics, and environmental factors. Class lectures include discussion of the design process, environmental impact, engineering and professional ethics, the engineering profession, professional practice issues, the role of the engineer in the construction process, and procurement of engineering work. Student project reports and presentations are required.

Lecture, 2 hours; Design Laboratory, 4 hours.

Senior standing required.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Engaged Learning; Flag: Writing.

Prerequisites: CIVL 210, CIVL 395, CIVL 400, CIVL 406, CIVL 410.

CIVL 498

Special Studies

1 TO 4 semester hours

CIVL 499

Independent Studies

1 TO 4 semester hours

CIVL 503

Engineering Sustainability and LEED

3 semester hours

Introduction to the role of engineers in sustainability with focus on the modern engineer's role on design. Topics include environmental impacts, sustainable construction, recycled water and desalination, renewable energy, and management and conservation techniques. Additionally, the course prepares students in Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) with the overall goal for them to receive LEED Green Associate credentials.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Senior standing or permission of instructor required.

CIVL 504

Applied Fluid Mechanics

3 semester hours

Fundamentals of fluid mechanics, and review of the underlying mathematical principles, viscosity, fluid statics, conservation of mass, energy equation, momentum principle, fluid flow in pipes, hydraulic machinery.

Open to science majors interested in a Master's degree in Environmental Science.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Requires consent of instructor.

CIVL 510

Open Channel Hydraulics

3 semester hours

Study of steady uniform and non-uniform flow in open channels; design of channels, transitions, confluences, culverts, and other hydraulic structures.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CIVL 310.

CIVL 511

Hydraulic Analysis and Design

3 semester hours

Design and analysis of hydraulic structures and pump stations; rainfall-runoff models; determination of reservoir storage; unsteady flow and water hammer; flood routing techniques; sediment transport.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CIVL 310 or CIVL 504.

CIVL 512

Air Pollution Analysis

3 semester hours

Detailed analysis of emission sources, emission calculation methods, and air pollution controls. The dispersion of air pollutants in the atmosphere (fates and lifetimes, dispersion modeling methods). In-depth techniques of conducting risk assessments due to exposure to air pollutants.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CIVL 513

Solid Wastes Engineering

3 semester hours

An application of current technology in the collection, control, disposal, and recovery of value from solid wastes.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CIVL 514

Groundwater Hydrology

3 semester hours

Theory of the movement and occurrence of water in a porous medium; steady and unsteady flow in confined and unconfined aquifers; Darcy's law; equilibrium and non-equilibrium hydraulics of wells; computer applications.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CIVL 310 or CIVL 504.

CIVL 515

Industrial Waste Management

3 semester hours

Principles and methods of treatment and disposal of industrial wastes that may adversely affect the environment, including general characterization of wastes from industries of major significance and typical treatment processes involved. Regulatory constraints.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CIVL 400 and ENVS 510.

CIVL 520

Computers and Environmental Analysis

3 semester hours

Applications of digital simulations in the analysis of problems in the environment, water quality modeling, numerical methods, statistical analysis, and use of a large scale application program.

CIVL 531

Principles of Water Quality Management

3 semester hours

Review of the basic parameters used to describe water quality. Fundamentals of aquatic interaction in natural systems and fate of pollutants in the natural environments. Basic water and wastewater treatment systems.

Prerequisites: Introductory calculus, basic physics, and chemistry.

CIVL 534

Groundwater Management

3 semester hours

Management of groundwater basins for optimum yield, quality, and environmental considerations; artificial recharge; methods of exploration; groundwater models; water rights; and conjunctive use of surface and groundwater.

CIVL 548

Hazardous Substances Management

3 semester hours

The study of regulation and management strategies for environmental programs (hazardous substances) including hazardous waste, asbestos, underground tanks, air pollution, and the California Environmental Quality Act.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CIVL 549Hazardous Waste Remediation3 semester hours*

This course provides an overview of the regulatory framework, site assessment and sampling techniques, and remediation technologies for hazardous waste sites. Emphasis is placed on cost-effective remediation technologies, regulatory agency coordination, and new emerging technologies for hazardous waste site clean-up projects.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CIVL 550Fundamentals of Environmental Risk Management2 semester hours*

The fundamental technical aspects and non-technical policy aspects of environmental health risk assessments. Basics of environmental chemistry partitioning fate and transport of pollutants in the atmosphere and water; human exposure scenarios, fundamentals of toxicology and epidemiology.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CIVL 554Surface Water Hydrology3 semester hoursCIVL 595*Structural Steel Design3 semester hours*

Theory and design of steel structures, component members, and connections using codes and specifications. Design projects.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CIVL 200.

CIVL 598Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hours*

Special Studies

CIVL 599Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hours*

Independent Studies

CIVL 600Comprehensive Exam0 semester hours*

Students must register for this class but only after they have completed all of their course requirements (30 semester hours) or will have completed all of their course requirements at the end of the semester in which they plan to take the comprehensive examination.

CIVL 602Membrane Treatment Systems3 semester hours*

Characteristics, application, and selection of membranes for treatment, including reverse osmosis, microfiltration, ultrafiltration and other technologies. Membrane design, process and operation of surface water, groundwater, seawater, wastewater, recycled water and industrial water.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: ENVS 531 or ENVS 631 and ENVS 633.

CIVL 603Engineering Sustainability and LEED3 semester hours*

Introduction to the role of engineers in sustainability with focus on the modern engineer's role on design. Topics include environmental impacts, sustainable construction, recycled water and desalination, renewable energy, and management and conservation techniques. Additionally, the course prepares students in Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) with the overall goal for them to receive LEED Green Associate credentials.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CIVL 604Climate Change, Impacts, and Sustainability3 semester hours*

Overview of Earth's climate system and exploration of the science, impacts, and politics of global climate change. Specific topics include the greenhouse effect; El Niño; atmospheric and oceanic circulations; observations and projections; impacts on water resources and agriculture; politics; alternative energy; sustainability; and mitigation. Special emphasis is placed on California and the western United States.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CIVL 605Engineering Communications3 semester hours*

Written and verbal communication in the engineering profession.

Students for whom English is a second language may not enroll in this class until their second year at LMU.

CIVL 607Hydraulic Analysis and Design3 semester hours*

Design and analysis of hydraulic structures and pump stations; rainfall-runoff models; determination of reservoir storage; unsteady flow and water hammer; flood routing techniques; sediment transport.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CIVL 310 or CIVL 504.

CIVL 608Groundwater Hydrology3 semester hours*

Theory of the movement and occurrence of water in a porous medium; steady and unsteady flow in confined and unconfined aquifers; Darcy's law; equilibrium and non-equilibrium hydraulics of wells; computer applications.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CIVL 504 or equivalent.

CIVL 609Open Channel Hydraulics3 semester hours*

Study of steady uniform and non-uniform flow in open channels; design of channels, transitions, confluences, culverts, and other hydraulic structures.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CIVL 504 or equivalent.

CIVL 610Water and Wastewater Treatment Systems Design3 semester hours*

Integration of unit processes and operations and functional engineering design of water treatment systems.

Prerequisite: CIVL 640.

CIVL 612Air Pollution Analysis3 semester hours*

Detailed analysis of emission sources, emission calculation methods, and air pollution controls. The dispersion of air pollutants in the atmosphere (fates and lifetimes, dispersion modeling methods). In-depth techniques of conducting risk assessments due to exposure to air pollutants.

CIVL 613Solid Wastes Engineering3 semester hours*

An application of current technology in the collection, control, disposal, and recovery of value from solid wastes.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CIVL 614Industrial Waste Management3 semester hours*

Principles and methods of treatment and disposal of industrial wastes that may adversely affect the environment, including general characterization of wastes from industries of major significance and typical treatment processes involved. Regulatory constraints.

Prerequisites: ENVS 610 and ENVS 631.

CIVL 615Theory and Design of Waste Outfall Systems2 semester hours*

The theory of turbulent mixing as applied to the design of submarine waste and thermal outfall systems; a review of the regulations and their impact on the design of outfall systems.

Prerequisites: CIVL 504 or equivalent; ENVS 610 and ENVS 631.

CIVL 620Computer and Environmental Analysis3 semester hours*

Applications of digital simulations in the analysis of problems in the environment, water quality modeling, numerical methods, statistical analysis, and use of a large scale application program.

CIVL 634Groundwater Management3 semester hours*

Management of groundwater basins for optimum yield, quality, and environmental considerations; artificial recharge; methods of exploration; groundwater models; water rights; and conjunctive use of surface and groundwater.

CIVL 635Contaminant Transport Groundwater3 semester hours*

Processes affecting the transport and fate of inorganic and organic contaminants in groundwater. Emphasis is placed on processes involving phase equilibrium, mass transfer, dissolution, etc. Review of flow and contaminant transport models, remediation technologies, and practical/regulatory considerations.

Prerequisites: CIVL 514, ENVS 610, and ENVS 631.

CIVL 640Physical and Chemistry Treatment Processes3 semester hours*

Theory and practice of the physical and chemical treatment processes to treat water and wastewater including flow equalization, preliminary treatment, grit removal, primary sedimentation, filtration, floatation, adsorption, ion exchange and membrane separation, air stripping, precipitation, chemical oxidation and disinfection.

Prerequisites: CIVL 310 or CIVL 504 or equivalent; ENVS 631 and ENVS 633.

CIVL 641Biological Treatment Processes3 semester hours*

Theory and practice of biological treatment of wastewater and wastewater residuals including activated sludge, biotower and fixed film systems, oxygen transfer, secondary clarification, nutrient removal, aerobic and anaerobic digestion, composting, oxidation ponds, and wetlands.

Prerequisites: CIVL 310 or CIVL 504 or equivalent; ENVS 631, ENVS 633, and ENVS 644.

CIVL 648Hazardous Substance Management3 semester hours*

The study of regulation and management strategies for environmental programs (hazardous substances) including hazardous waste, asbestos, underground tanks, air pollution, and the California Environment Quality Act.

CIVL 649Contaminated Site Remediation3 semester hours*

An overview of the regulatory framework, site assessment and sampling techniques, and remediation technologies for contaminated sites. Emphasis is placed on cost-effective remediation technologies, regulatory agency coordination, and new and emerging technologies for site clean-up projects.

CIVL 650Fundamentals of Environmental Health Risk Assessment3 semester hours*

The fundamental technical aspects and non-technical policy aspects of environmental health risk assessments. Basics of environmental chemistry; partitioning, fate and transport of pollutants in the atmosphere and water; human exposure scenarios, fundamentals of toxicology and epidemiology.

CIVL 654Surface Water Hydrology3 semester hours*

Study of the elements of the hydrologic cycle, rainfall, streamflow, infiltration, evapotranspiration, snowmelt, hydrographs, probability, river and reservoir routing, runoff determination using the rational method and hydrograph methods.

CIVL 656Water Resources Systems Modeling3 semester hours*

Analyze and implement current simulation models in water resources. Topics may include: hydrologic and watershed models; reservoir operation models; surface water and groundwater quality models; computer applications.

Permission of instructor required.

CIVL 665Economics of Water Resources3 semester hours*

Fundamentals of microeconomics; analysis of demand; production; theory of costs; welfare economics; benefit-cost analysis; applications in water resources management and environmental engineering.

CIVL 670Contracts and Specifications3 semester hours*

Discussion of the design and construction process, contract documents and specifications, contract changes, claims and disputes, property issues, selection of the design professional and professional service contracts.

CIVL 695Master Thesis3 semester hoursCIVL 698*Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursCIVL 699*Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursClassical Civilizations

CLCV 200Classical Epic in Translation3 semester hours*

The Iliad, Odyssey, Argonautica, and Aeneid.

CLCV 210Greek Tragedy3 semester hours*

The plays of Aeschylus, Sophocles, and Euripides.

CLCV 220Ancient Comedy3 semester hours*

The plays of Aristophanes, Menander, Plautus, and Terence.

CLCV 230The First Historians3 semester hours*

The works of Herodotus, Thucydides, Livy, Tacitus, and Sima Qian.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Historical Analysis and Perspectives.

CLCV 298Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCLCV 299*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCLCV 301*Greek Civilization3 semester hours*

A survey of Hellenic civilization from its origins in the Bronze Age until the Hellenistic period, encompassing the study of archaeology, history, literature, religion, philosophy, and the fine arts.

CLCV 302Roman Civilization3 semester hours*

A survey of Roman civilization from its origins in the Iron Age to the collapse of the empire, encompassing the study of archaeology, history, literature, religion, philosophy, and the fine arts.

CLCV 304Art and Architecture of Ancient Greece3 semester hours*

A survey of the significant monuments of art and architecture of ancient Greece, from the Bronze Age to the Hellenistic Period, with an emphasis on form and function in the cultural context.

CLCV 306Art and Architecture of Ancient Rome3 semester hours*

A survey of the significant monuments of art and architecture of ancient Rome, from the Etruscan period to the Age of Constantine, with an emphasis on form and function in the cultural context.

CLCV 353Religion of the Greeks and Romans3 semester hours*

Study of the religious practices and beliefs of the Greeks and Romans from the archaic period to the triumph of Christianity.

CLCV 398Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursCLCV 399*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCLCV 415*Special Topics in Classical Civilization3 semester hours*

This course may be repeated for credit.

CLCV 451Classical Mythology3 semester hours*

Study of the basic myths and myth patterns of the Greeks and Romans and their mythological heritage in Western literature.

CLCV 452Sex and Gender in Classical Antiquity3 semester hours*

Study of the status and roles of women in classical Greece and Rome, as well as other gender issues.

CLCV 454Greek Cinema3 semester hours*

Study of some of the greatest Greek films in their modern political and social setting, with an emphasis on contemporary cultural identity and its roots in the western tradition.

CLCV 455The Ancient World on Film3 semester hours*

A study of the uses of Greco-Roman myth and history in cinema. The course introduces students to the comparative study of literature and film across different cultures, languages, and genres.

CLCV 467

Greece: Past to Present

3 semester hours

An interdisciplinary study of Greek ethnicity, and the legacy of Greek culture for the ancient and modern Greeks in the homeland and the diaspora, as well as for the ancient Romans and modern Europeans.

Clinical Education

EDCE 410

Elementary Directed Teaching

9 TO 12 semester hours

Full-time supervised teaching in two culturally diverse public elementary schools; seminar sessions held throughout the semester, which include instruction in art, music, and physical education.

Offered on a Credit/ No Credit basis only.

Admission by special approval.

EDCE 412

Secondary Directed Teaching

9 TO 12 semester hours

Full-time supervised teaching in one culturally diverse public middle and/or high school; seminar sessions held throughout the semester support the student in successfully completing his or her teaching.

Offered on a Credit/No Credit basis only.

Special approval required.

EDCE 456

Directed Teaching with Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Students with Mild/Moderate Disabilities

6 semester hours

Actual teaching experience with culturally and linguistically diverse students with mild/moderate disabilities. Must have completed prerequisite and professional coursework in Special Education and be approved by the Coordinator of Fieldwork the semester prior to enrolling.

Credit/No Credit.

Special approval required.

Corequisite: EDCE 459.

EDCE 459

Student Teaching Seminar

3 semester hours

Students take this course in conjunction with EDCE 456 Directed Teaching with Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Students with Mild/Moderate Disabilities.

Credit/No Credit.

Special approval required.

Corequisite: EDCE 456.

EDCE 461

Action Research Fieldwork Support Course I

1 semester hour

This is a field experience course that supports a group of Professional 2042 Clear candidates within the following framework: the candidate will meet weekly with a University Support Provider who will guide the candidate through the individual induction plan process. This process includes individual assessment, observations, conversations, portfolio development and support in the areas designated by the individual induction plan. A small group will meet four times during the semester with the University Support Provider. These meetings are in addition to any feedback sessions that are held between the University Support Provider and candidate. The fifth year University Support Providers will be in contact with the professors who teach the integrated advanced course work to support the collaboration model. Candidates are required to demonstrate competency in the area of the California Standards for the Teacher Profession (CSTP) related to the integrated courses they are currently attending. In order for candidates to receive credit in this course, they must demonstrate competency in the CSTPs and Professional 2042 Clear standards through a portfolio presentation.

EDCE 6998

Special Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

EDCE 6999Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCommunication Studies

CMST 100Introduction to Public Speaking3 semester hours*

Designed to assist the student in developing the skills necessary to communicate effectively to others and to listen effectively to communication from others. Development of proficiency in speaking results from the practice and criticism of informative speeches, persuasive speeches, and discussion.

CMST 130Argumentation and Debate3 semester hours*

The principles of reasoning, evidence, and organization of argumentation for debate and related forms of competitive speech; practical application in debate and other forensic speech.

CMST 131Argumentation Practicum3 semester hours*

Forensics competition in various debate formats requiring intramural and intercollegiate debate competition.

Prerequisite: CMST 130 and consent of instructor.

CMST 170Interpersonal and Small Group Communication3 semester hours*

This course is designed to introduce the students to interpersonal and small group communication theories, processes, and skills. The course challenges students to examine their own communication behaviors and focus on their strengths and weaknesses as a way to develop and apply new communication skills and proficiencies. The course includes a variety of oral and written presentations at both the individual and group levels.

Majors only.

CMST 198Special Studies0 TO 3 semester hoursCMST 199*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCMST 203*Foundations of Communication Theory3 semester hours*

This course introduces students to the field of communication studies. Using an open-source learning paradigm, students will be given tools to become effective researchers and responsible, ethical theory learners. In this course, students will be encouraged to become active, lifelong learners, in part, through the analysis of the meta-theoretical, pragmatic and ethical implications of theory through application, observation and service. Students will study the field's disciplinary history and discover current communication-oriented career trends of personal interest.

Must be completed with a grade of C (2.0) or better.

Majors only.

CMST 204Introduction to Research in Communication Studies3 semester hours*

This course introduces students to scholarship conducted in communication studies. It overviews the research process, including generating research questions, constructing bibliographies, gathering and assessing information, and developing scholarly arguments. Students will learn research techniques, including location and retrieval of information sources (i.e., newspapers, journals, books, electronic databases, and Internet sources). They will apply critical thinking skills to the evaluation of information sources and data/arguments in qualitative and quantitative research. Students will also be introduced to basic aspects of writing for the discipline, as well as expectations for scholarly ethics and proper citation of sources.

Must be completed with a grade of C (2.0) or better.

Prerequisite: CMST 203 with a grade of C (2.0) or better, or permission of instructor.

Majors only.

CMST 206Critical Thinking and Communication3 semester hours*

A study of the techniques of critical thinking as applied to communication and rhetoric.

CMST 298Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCMST 299*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCMST 330*Advanced Forensics3 semester hours*

A study of advanced principles of debate with emphasis on interdisciplinary research on current national collegiate debate topic.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: CMST 130 or consent of instructor.

(Counts as an application course.)

Majors only.

CMST 331Argumentation Practicum3 semester hours*

Forensics competition in various debate formats requiring intramural and intercollegiate debate competition.

Consent of instructor required.

Prerequisite: CMST 130.

CMST 335Gender Communication3 semester hours*

Course surveys gender similarities and differences in verbal and nonverbal communication. Emphasis is also placed on how males and females perceive the world and how these perceptions affect the human communication process.

Junior standing required.

(Counts as an application course.)

Majors only.

CMST 336Intercultural Communication3 semester hours*

A study of the principles and theories of human communication related to cross cultural encounters. Emphasis is placed on cultural relativity, culture shock, verbal and nonverbal interaction, and value differences among diverse cultures.

Junior standing required.

(Counts as an application course.)

Majors only.

CMST 351Contemporary Rhetorical Theory3 semester hours*

This course provides a survey of major rhetorical themes and theories, including classical, symbolic, argumentation, critical, feminist, and non-Western approaches to rhetoric. Students will explore the relationship between rhetorical theory and practice, the contributions of rhetorical theory to the social world, and the potential for rhetorical studies to inform issues of democratic governance, marginalized groups, social justice, and technology in society.

Must be completed with a grade of C (2.0) or better.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: CMST 203 with a grade of C (2.0) or better.

CMST 352Theories of Organizational Communication3 semester hours*

This course is designed to introduce the students to the field of organizational communication and the relationship between organization and communication. The course is designed to allow students to examine a range of organizational communication perspectives, theories, issues, and constructs. At the same time, students are encouraged to explore the ways these perspectives shape, expand, and limit out understanding of communicating and organizing. Significantly, the course encourages critical and analytical thinking by using the course content as a basis for critique.

Must be completed with a grade of C (2.0) or better.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisites: CMST 203 and CMST 204 with a grade of C (2.0) or better.

CMST 375Organizational Communication Advanced Topical Seminar3 semester hours*

Advanced topical studies in organizational communication.

May be repeated once for degree credit with a different topic.

Junior standing required.

(Counts as an application course.)

CMST 376Communication and Consulting3 semester hours*

This course surveys methods of designing, conducting and evaluating organizational communication change strategies. Emphasis is on various methods of conducting organizational communication needs analysis, designing training programs, implementing organizational development strategies and evaluating change efforts.

Junior standing required.

(Counts as an application course.)

CMST 385Political Communication3 semester hours*

Course analyzes the rhetorical dimensions of political campaigns and methods of carrying out various political objectives.

Junior standing required.

(Counts as an application course.)

CMST 386Rhetoric of Social Movements3 semester hours*

This course is a survey of the historical events and rhetorical documents of major American movements for social change. Movements may include: abolitionist (anti-slavery), labor, socialist, women's rights, environmental justice, civil rights (Black, Chicana/o, and Native American), gay and lesbian, and student movements. Emphasis will be placed on rhetorical strategies and tactics relating to effects of movements on systems and structures conceived as dominant; analyses of how social movement actors construct meaning and identity in their discourses are also stressed.

Junior standing required.

(Counts as an application course.)

CMST 387Communication and Legal Practice3 semester hours*

This course brings the legal trial to the classroom, providing students an opportunity to incorporate an array of communication principles and skills with the experience of trial practice. Students are introduced progressively to key aspects of communication and litigation and participate in exercises that culminate in mock trials before a jury.

Junior standing required.

(Counts as an application course.)

CMST 393Topical Seminars in Communication Studies3 semester hours*

Advanced studies in which students "apply" communication concepts, theories, and research methods to address "real world" issues/problems in concrete contexts. They range in subject matter and conceptual content, yet remain consistent with our departmental mission in social justice.

Offerings may vary each semester based on the expertise of individual professors. Students may repeat this course, providing the subject matter is not the same, to fulfill the requirement of 6 application courses and/or University upper-division electives.

Junior standing required.

(Counts as an application course.)

CMST 398Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCMST 399*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCMST 451*Rhetorical Methods3 semester hours*

This course examines various ways rhetorical theories may be applied to discourse in order to highlight methods of rhetorical criticism.

Must be completed with a grade of C (2.0) or better.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: CMST 351 with a grade of C (2.0) or better.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Writing.

CMST 452Qualitative Research Methods3 semester hours*

Study of qualitative research methods in communication, including data collection, analysis, and interpretation of observations and interview data.

Must be completed with a grade of C (2.0) or better.

Prerequisite: CMST 352 with a grade of C (2.0) or better.

Junior standing required.

CMST 490Communication Practicum3 semester hours*

This internship course provides students with an opportunity to gain practical experience in a communication related field. In class students will engage in self-exploration, career search, goal and objectives development, resume and cover letter construction, interview methods, and interpersonal skills development.

Majors only.

Junior standing required.

(Counts as an application course.)

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Engaged Learning.

CMST 491Communication Practicum II3 semester hours*

This internship course builds on students' knowledge from CMST 490. Advanced study of interviewing, mentoring, teamwork, negotiation, business writing, and seminar facilitation.

Majors only.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: CMST 490.

(Counts as an elective only).

CMST 495Senior Thesis3 semester hours*

The senior thesis provides the opportunity for students to perform original research using qualitative and/or rhetorical methods and culminates in a substantial written project.

The student must obtain the written approval of the faculty member directing the thesis project and the Department Chairperson the semester prior to writing the thesis.

For majors only.

Senior standing required.

Prerequisites: CMST 451 and CMST 452 with a grade of C (2.0) or better.

(Counts as an application course.)

CMST 498Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCMST 499*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursComputer Science

CMSI 161Computing in Popular Culture3 semester hours*

Common stereotypes and assumptions about computing, as reflected in art, entertainment, and conventional wisdom-and the truths and fallacies behind them. Deeper study of particularly seminal popular representations of computing concepts. Critical study of the depiction of computing in film (e.g., 2001: A Space Odyssey, The Matrix, War Games), literature (e.g., Neuromancer; I, Robot, The Soul of a New Machine; The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy), and mixed media (e.g., "Spock's Brain," Max Headroom, and Univac's 1952 presidential election forecast).

Lecture, 3 hours.

CMSI 182Introduction to Computer Science3 semester hours*

History of computer science and its relationship to other fields. The benefits of computational thinking in daily life. Numerous examples connecting computing and computing technology to human activities, such as sporting events, elections, politics, and health care. Coursework includes writing small-scale computer programs.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CMSI 185Computer Programming3 semester hours*

Introduction to algorithms and computer programming using Java, JavaScript, or Python.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CMSI 186Programming Lab3 semester hours*

Apprenticeship-styled workshop in Java or JavaScript programming, loosely structured around the notion of algorithm paradigms, treating one medium-sized application every two weeks in a laboratory setting. Typical projects include discrete simulation, randomized estimation, maze solving, dynamic programming, large-number arithmetic, and numerical methods.

For majors and minors only.

Prerequisite: A grade of C (2.0) or better in CMSI 185 or consent of instructor.

CMSI 261Language, Thought, and Computation3 semester hours*

A study of the philosophical and epistemological roots of computer science, covering language, thought, logic, cognition, computation, the Church-Turing thesis, computer programming, and artificial intelligence. Mathematical models of knowledge, learning, consciousness, and self-awareness. Structural and statistical foundations of human language. Holism, reductionism, Zen, and dualism.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

CMSI 264Cryptography through the Ages3 semester hours*

Descriptions of mathematical systems that have been used for enciphering and deciphering information and a study of the context in which these systems arose.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

CMSI 266

Electronic Markets

3 semester hours

Study of the convergence of markets, fair division, and dispute resolution with modern information technologies. Topics include: utility theory; formal definitions for fairness; algorithms for proportional, strong, and envy-free division; complexity of cake-cutting algorithms; unequal shares; indivisible goods; impossibility theorems; auctions and elections; electronic markets vs. electronic commerce; parimutuel wagering and modern wagering websites; efficient market hypothesis; introduction to price theory; prediction markets and IEM (Iowa Electronic Markets); securities exchanges and NASDAQ; online auction markets and eBay; architecture and implementation; scalability and security; legal issues; future directions.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

CMSI 281

Data Structures

3 semester hours

Introduction to data types, information structures, and algorithms. Topics include: collection classes and interfaces for sets, lists, stacks, queues, and dictionaries; implementation techniques such as arrays, linked lists, and efficient tree structures; introduction to computational complexity; elementary sorting; hashing.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: A grade of C (2.0) or better in CMSI 185.

CMSI 282

Algorithms

3 semester hours

Algorithm paradigms, with an emphasis on combinatorial search. Topics include: generating combinatorial objects; greedy methods, dynamic programming; randomized algorithms; modern heuristics such as genetic programs and simulated annealing; advanced sorts and order statistics; cake-cutting and fair division; graph algorithms; computational geometry.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CMSI 281.

CMSI 284

Computer Systems Organization

3 semester hours

An introduction to the basic organization of computer systems. Digital representation of textual and numeric information. Machine instructions and instruction formats, assemblers and assembly languages, linking and loading, process execution, interrupt and device-handling, and file management. System-level programming in C and assembly language.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CMSI 298

Special Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

CMSI 299

Independent Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

CMSI 355

Networks

3 semester hours

A detailed study of the design and use of internetworking technologies in modern digital communication systems. Topics include: routing and control protocols, signaling, multicasting, OSI model, sockets, IPv4, IPv6, UDP, TCP, ARP, ICMP, IGMP, Mobile IP, DNS SMTP, FTP, VoIP, and HTTP.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CMSI 284

CMSI 367

Biological Databases

3 semester hours

The representation, storage, and transformation of biological data. Topics include the central dogma of molecular biology, the genetic code, the Human Genome Project, sequence databases, formats and conversion, searching and regular expressions, XML, and relational databases in biology. Students build and potentially release an open source gene database for a new species at the end of the course.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CMSI 370

Interaction Design

3 semester hours

Introduction to interaction design and human-computer interaction, with equal emphasis on learning how to design and evaluate interaction architectures, and learning how to use existing frameworks to implement such architectures. Topics include: interaction guidelines, principles, and theories; usability engineering; the model-view-controller (MVC) paradigm; and current frameworks such as HTML5, GLUT, and Cocoa.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CMSI 281.

CMSI 371

Computer Graphics

3 semester hours

Introduction to interactive computer graphics. Topics include the design and use of three-dimensional graphics engines and APIs, animation, physics and computer games, modeling, computational geometry, shading, ray tracing, and fractal geometry.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CMSI 281.

CMSI 375

Game Design

3 semester hours

The art and science of games, hosted by a machine or otherwise. Goals, rules, game balance, and other fundamentals are introduced, as well as implementation issues such as modeling, physics, animation, networking, and performance. Coverage of existing gaming platforms and languages is provided as needed. Concepts are applied in an appropriately scaled, team-implemented game project.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CMSI 377

Introduction to Virtual Worlds

3 semester hours

An introduction to the history of, and the technological and social aspects surrounding, virtual worlds. Topics include building and scripting objects, and the interaction between avatars, avatar customization, and computer science concepts underlying virtual worlds.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CMSI 385Introduction to Theory of Computation3 semester hours*

Introduction to the formal theory of computation. Topics include: finite automata and regular sets; context-free grammars and pushdown automata; Turing machines and computability; intractability.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CMSI 281 and MATH 248.

CMSI 386Programming Languages3 semester hours*

A comparative study of the rationale, concepts, design, and features of several major programming languages. Topics include the role of bindings, control flow, types, subroutines, modules, objects, and concurrency. Major attention is given to C, Java, ML, Perl, and JavaScript.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CMSI 284.

CMSI 387Operating Systems3 semester hours*

Concepts in the design of operating systems, including: processes, process management, mutual exclusion, synchronization and message-passing; primary memory management, multiprogramming, paged allocation and paging policies; resource and I/O management; file systems, and security.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CMSI 284.

CMSI 390Internship or Practicum1 TO 2 semester hours*

Credit awarded for 1) preparing supporting documentation for actual internships taken, or 2) participating in an individual or group directed research project resulting in a project or paper that is presented at a conference or University-sanctioned event.

May be repeated for credit.

CMSI 398Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCMSI 399*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCMSI 401*Software Engineering Lab3 semester hours*

Design and implementation of large programs in a group setting, including use of the Unified Modeling Language (UML) for specifying, visualizing, and documenting models.

Lecture and Laboratory, 3 hours.

Consent of instructor required.

CMSI 402Senior Project Lab4 semester hours*

Analysis, design, implementation, and presentation of a large-scale, individual project, demonstrating mastery of the computer science curriculum.

Lecture and Laboratory, 4 hours.

Consent of instructor required.

CMSI 475Computational Complexity3 semester hours*

Introduction to the study of computational complexity, including efficient algorithms for matrix multiplication and fast Fourier transforms, the classes P and NP, approximation algorithms, randomized algorithms and RP, parallel algorithms and NC.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CMSI 282 and CMSI 385.

CMSI 485Artificial Intelligence3 semester hours*

Introduction to the fundamental concepts needed to attain human-level intelligence in computer systems. Topics include agent architectures, problem-solving methods, heuristic search, game playing, knowledge representation, symbolic reasoning, computational models of virtual humans, and machine learning.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CMSI 385 and CMSI 386.

CMSI 486Introduction to Database Systems3 semester hours*

Theory and design of database systems, with emphasis on relational and object-oriented models. Topics include database system structure, semantic data modeling, relational databases, object oriented extensions, formal query languages, integrity and security, physical design of databases, indexing and hashing, and query processing and optimization. Transaction processing, concurrency, and crash recovery are introduced.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CMSI 386.

CMSI 488Language Translation and Implementation4 semester hours*

Introduction to the theory and design of translators and interpreters for high-level computer programming languages. Topics include programming language specification, scanner construction, parser construction, intermediate representations, virtual machines, code generation, and optimization. Comparisons between computer and natural language translations are also covered.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CMSI 385 and CMSI 386.

CMSI 498Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursCMSI 499*Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hours*

CMSI 586Database Design and Database Systems I3 semester hours*

Fundamentals concepts in the field of database technology. Topics include hierarchical, network, object, object-relational, relational, and XML models; database system structure; semantic data modeling; relational database systems; relational query languages; practical database design methodology; mapping of DB tables to UML class diagrams; DB requirements analysis and traceability; introduction to functional dependencies and normalization through 3NF.

Course is designed to meet the needs of Systems Engineering students.

Not available for credit to students who have completed CMSI 486.

CMSI 598Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hours*

Special Studies

CMSI 599Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursCMSI 601*Graduate Seminar3 semester hours*

Project-based seminar in which students will be required to select, research, write about, and discuss some aspect of a broad area of current interest to computer scientists and electrical engineers (e.g., computer networks, digital communication).

Successful completion of coursework and the endorsement of the faculty advisor required. (The seminar can be taken during the final semester of coursework subject to the approval of the faculty advisor.)

Note: Students unable to complete the CMSI 601 project within one semester may request an “in process” grade and complete the project the subsequent term. Students wishing to change their project after the first semester of enrollment in CMSI 601 will need to re-enroll in the course. Students who are unable to complete the CMSI 601 project after two semesters can petition for a continuation of the “in process” grade. If the petition is not granted, re-enrollment in CMSI 601 will be necessary.

CMSI 641Software Engineering3 semester hours*

Design and development issues of large-scale software systems which are reliable and easily maintainable. Course project covers each step of the development process from the initial needs analysis and requirement specification through design and implementation. Topics include tradeoffs between agile and traditional approaches, impact of legacy systems, architectural representation issues, testing, project risk management, and emerging trends in software engineering such as model-driven engineering and aspect-oriented software development.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CMSI 644Advanced Modeling of Software Systems3 semester hours*

Study of model-driven engineering and its ability to alleviate platform complexity and effectively express domain concepts. Topics include techniques for designing, implementing, and maintaining robust software systems; the Unified Modeling Language (UML) and entity relationship modeling (ERD); automation of change evolution in models; and definition of standards that enable tools and models to work together.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CMSI 670Topics in Interaction Design3 semester hours*

Interaction design and human-computer interaction, with equal emphasis on learning how to design and evaluate interaction architectures and learning how to survey and analyze current literature on the subject to implement such architectures. Topics include: interaction guidelines, principles, and theories; usability engineering; the model-view-controller (MVC) paradigm; and current research in the field.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CMSI 677Artificial Intelligence3 semester hours*

Study of the fundamental concepts needed to attain human-level intelligence in computer systems. Topics include: agent architectures, problem-solving methods, heuristic search, game playing, knowledge representation frames, inheritance and common-sense reasoning, neural networks, genetic algorithms, conceptual clustering, and current research in the field.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CMSI 385 and CMSI 386 or consent of the instructor.

CMSI 678Multi-agent Systems and Distributed Artificial Intelligence3 semester hours*

Study of the development of multi-agent systems for distributed artificial intelligence. Topics include intelligent agents, multi-agent systems, agent societies, problem solving, search, decision-making, and learning algorithms in the distributed Artificial domain, industrial and practical applications of distributed artificial intelligence techniques to real-world problems.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CMSI 682Knowledge-Based Systems3 semester hours*

Detailed study of design and implementation of knowledge-based systems. Topics include: logic and theorem proving; deduction systems; reaction systems; forward and backward chaining; knowledge acquisition; and explanatory interfaces.

Lecture, 3 hours.

CMSI 686Database Design and Database Systems II3 semester hours*

Advanced concepts in the field of database technology. Course begins with a review of database system structure, semantic data modeling, relational databases, and object-oriented extensions. Additional topics include relational algebra and formal query languages; integrity, functional dependencies, normalization, security, physical design of databases, indexing and hashing, query processing and optimization, transaction processing, concurrency, crash recovery, and current research in the field.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CMSI 486 or CMSI 586, or consent of the instructor.

CMSI 689Computer Networks3 semester hours*

Concepts in and design of large-scale distributed networks and local area networks, including topologies, standards and protocols.

(See ELEC 687.)

CMSI 698Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursCMSI 699*Independent Studies0 TO 3 semester hoursDance

DANC 100Orientation to Dance1 semester hour*

An introduction to the discipline of Dance for Dance major students. This course addresses: careers, health, wellness, performance, community service, and community resources. Introduction to yoga and other movement fundamentals.

Majors only.

DANC 101Principles of Movement0 TO 1 semester hour*

Orientation to use of breath, alignment, and basic principles of motion. Exploration of the body-mind connection.

Majors only.

DANC 102Modern Dance I0 TO 2 semester hours*

Fundamental movement techniques and the manipulation of time, force, and space are explored through participation in improvisation and structured skill activity, as well as basic relaxation and body awareness experiences. Introduction to jazz dance forms.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 2 times.

DANC 120Ballet I0 TO 2 semester hours*

Barre and center work for alignment, strength, flexibility, and coordination. Introduction to ballet terminology, aesthetics, and study of fundamentals of style and history.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 2 times.

DANC 142Jazz Dance I0 TO 2 semester hours*

An introduction to the art of jazz dance. Emphasis on fundamental alignment and rhythmic skills as well as styling. Study of the aesthetics of entertainment.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 2 times.

DANC 144Tap Dance I0 TO 2 semester hours*

An introduction to tap dance and its history. Focus on specific skills in tap dance involving vocabulary, keeping time, music theory, and rhythm.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 2 times.

DANC 160Fundamentals of Dance Composition I3 semester hours*

Principles of composition in relation to time, force, space, and kinesthesia. Groundwork in aesthetics and composition theory.

Dance majors or Dance minors only.

Offered in the Fall semester.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Creative Experience.

DANC 161Fundamentals of Dance Composition II3 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 160.

Dance majors and Dance minors only.

Offered in the Spring semester.

DANC 163Introduction to Choreography3 semester hours*

An introduction to dance composition for the non-major. Exploration of space, time, and energy through movement, sound, and text.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Creative Experience.

DANC 183Stagecraft for Dancers1 semester hour*

Introduction to basic principles of lighting, costuming, and production management.

Offered in the Spring semester.

DANC 198Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursDANC 199*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursDANC 202*Modern Dance II0 TO 2 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 102. Increased emphasis on energy, range, and expression. More complex rhythmic patterns and movement designs are explored. Introduction to performance technique. Continuation of study of historical and aesthetic principles.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 4 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 220Ballet II0 TO 2 semester hours*

Learning to execute the vocabulary of ballet movement with technical accuracy. Beginning combinations across the floor. Continuation of study of history and aesthetics of the ballet style.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 4 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 242Jazz Dance II0 TO 2 semester hours*

Body rhythms, their initiation, pulse, and flow are explored in conjunction with sound through the principle of syncopation. Study of the aesthetics of entertainment and ethnology.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 4 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 244Tap Dance II0 TO 2 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 144. Increased focus on musicality.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 6 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 248Musical Theatre Dance I0 TO 2 semester hours*

Study of the fundamental dance and performance skills associated with musical theatre dance.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

DANC 260Laban Movement Analysis3 semester hours*

Study of Rudolf Laban's method of systematic description of qualitative change in movement. Application in choreography, in teaching and in learning movement.

Dance majors and Dance minors only.

DANC 262Dance Styles and Forms3 semester hours*

Exploration of dance composition based on styles of noted choreographers. Study of dance forms. Theory and practice as modes of study.

Prerequisites: DANC 160, DANC 161, or DANC 163; and DANC 260.

DANC 279Rehearsal and Performance I0 TO 3 semester hours*

Format varies by semester. Fall: preparation of a small touring program or lecture demonstration; Spring: dancing in the major Dance production.

May be repeated for credit up to 4 times.

DANC 281History of Dance Theatre3 semester hours*

A study of dance development as an art form from earliest origins, through medieval religious pageantry, Renaissance court dances, 18th century stage dance, and culminating with dance in the 19th and 20th centuries. Evolution of ballet and modern dance forms in Europe and America.

Offered in the Spring semester.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Information Literacy; Flag: Writing.

DANC 298Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursDANC 299*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursDANC 302*Modern Dance III0 TO 2 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 202. More complex rhythmic patterns and movement design. Concentrated work on performance and projection techniques. Dance films and study of current research on dance criticism.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 6 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 305Modern Dance Coaching0 TO 1 semester hour*

One-on-one coaching with modern dance instructor. Focused work on technique and performance.

Majors only.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

DANC 320Ballet III0 TO 2 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 220. Variations from the repertory of classic ballet. Familiarity with the music, scenarios, and staging of several traditional ballets. Dance films and study of current research on dance criticism.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 6 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 323Intermediate/Advanced Ballet0 TO 2 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 220 and DANC 320. Augmented work in ballet technique and performance.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 324Ballet Coaching0 TO 1 semester hour*

One-on-one coaching with ballet dance instructor. Focused work on technique and performance.

Majors only.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

DANC 342Jazz Dance III0 TO 2 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 242. Focus on styling and performance. Theoretical study of selected jazz dance artists and the impact of film and video on jazz dance.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 6 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 344Tap Dance III0 TO 2 semester hours*

A continuation of DANC 244. Focus on developing better skills, exploring rhythms, and mastering ability to keep time and phrase rhythms.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 6 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 345Jazz Dance IV0 TO 2 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 342. Emphasis on study of jazz dance, hip hop, funk, and other dance styles used in commercial/media dance.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

Audition: First class meeting. Intermediate ballet skills requisite.

DANC 346Intermediate/Advanced Jazz Dance0 TO 1 semester hour*

Continuation of DANC 345. Augmented work in jazz technique and performance skills.

Corequisite: DANC 349.

Majors only.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 347Intermediate Hip Hop0 TO 2 semester hours*

Study of hip hop as a cultural dance form.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 4 times.

DANC 348Musical Theatre Dance II0 TO 2 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 248. Practice of the dance technique and performance skills associated with musical theatre. Study of music, costuming, and acting dimensions of musical theatre dance.

Majors only.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 349Jazz Dance Coaching0 TO 1 semester hour*

One-on-one coaching with jazz dance instructor. Focused work on technique and performance.

Corequisite: DANC 346.

Majors only.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 353Dance Conditioning0 TO 2 semester hours*

Laboratory course using specialized training modalities selected from Pilates, Feldendrais, and other physical systems.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 6 times.

DANC 360Advanced Choreography3 semester hours*

Dance composition with focus on the craft elements of development, variation, thematic, and non-thematic subject matter. Strategies for building a dance from study to completed work.

Prerequisite: DANC 262.

DANC 362Choreographer's Workshop0 TO 1 semester hour*

Preparing work for the Student Dance Concert.

May be taken up to 8 times for degree credit.

Prerequisites: DANC 160 and DANC 161.

DANC 371Martial Arts0 TO 2 semester hours*

Study of Tae Kwan Do, Aikido, Tai Chi Chuan, or other selected martial arts forms.

May be repeated for degree credit as long as subject changes.

DANC 372Martial Arts in China3 semester hours*

The study of martial arts on location in China.

Enrollment through Study Abroad.

DANC 373Yoga for Ballet0 TO 2 semester hours*

The study of asana, pranayama, and philosophical dimensions of yoga which inform and support the study of ballet.

Majors only.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

DANC 374Yoga I0 TO 2 semester hours*

Theory and practice of yoga through exercise, meditation, and selected readings.

DANC 375Yoga II0 TO 2 semester hours*

Continuation of yoga practice begun in Yoga I.

Prerequisite: DANC 374.

DANC 376Yoga for Dancers0 TO 2 semester hours*

Yoga practice particularly designed for those pursuing in-depth dance technique training.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 6 times.

Majors only.

DANC 377Dance Production0 TO 1 semester hour*

Serving as crew member or 30 hours of Dance Production work in the areas of lighting, publicity, costuming, staging, and/or related fields.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

DANC 378Service Project0 TO 1 semester hour*

Completion of a service project on campus or in the community.

DANC 379Dance Touring Group0 TO 3 semester hours*

Performance group which tours local K-12 schools.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 4 times.

DANC 380Music for Dance3 semester hours*

Study of the elements of music theory and history which are common to dance and music.

DANC 381To Dance Is Human: Dance, Culture, and Society3 semester hours*

A study of dance as a cultural, political and socio-economic phenomena. The dance of three selected cultures in the United States today with origins in Africa, Asia and Europe and current life in the United States will form the focus of study.

Offered in the Fall semester

DANC 382Drumming for Dance2 semester hours*

African drumming techniques used in Dance for dancers and musicians.

DANC 383Dance Improvisation0 TO 1 semester hour*

Movement exploration of time, space, energy, use of gravity, partnering, music and text as sources of movement invention.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 4 times.

DANC 384Creative Dances for Children3 semester hours*

Creative dance experience designed to prepare the elementary school teacher to offer dance instruction.

Meets Liberal Studies Credential requirements.

DANC 385Movement Arts for Children3 semester hours*

Movement Arts experience ("new games," dance, sport) and study of the child's physical and motor development. Designed as pre-service Elementary School teacher training.

Meets Liberal Studies Credential requirements.

DANC 386Dance in Los Angeles1 semester hour*

Attendance at and analysis of concert dance and venues in the greater Los Angeles area.

DANC 387Dance as Social Action0 TO 3 semester hours*

Theoretical and artistic exploration of Dance as a cultural phenomenon and its role in social change.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 2 times.

DANC 388Careers in Dance1 TO 2 semester hours*

Practical and theoretical study of dance-related careers.

DANC 394Dunham Technique0 TO 2 semester hours*

A study of the dance technique of Katherine Dunham.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 6 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 397World Dance0 TO 2 semester hours*

Intensive study of selected world cultures from Africa, Asia, the Pacific, and Europe with particular attention to historical and cultural perspective.

May be repeated for degree credit as long as selected culture differs.

DANC 398Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursDANC 399*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursDANC 402*Modern Dance IV0 TO 2 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 302. Study focuses on subtlety in energy, range, and expression, along with concentration of style, rhythmic patterns, and movement design. Dance films and study of current research on dance criticism.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 403Friday Dance Workshop0 TO 1 semester hour*

In-depth exploration of dance technique and partnering.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 404Modern Dance V0 TO 2 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 402. Study focuses on increasing subtlety in energy, range, and expression, along with concentration on style, rhythmic patterns, and movement designs. Focus on style and professional work.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 6 times.

DANC 420Ballet IV0 TO 2 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 320.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 421Pointe and Variations0 TO 2 semester hours*

Study of pointe work in ballet and reconstruction of variations from ballets of different periods.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 4 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 422Partnering0 TO 1 semester hour*

Exploration of partnering techniques as used in classical ballet, modern and post-modern dance.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 4 times.

DANC 423Ballet V0 TO 2 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 420.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 424Ballet VI0 TO 2 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 423.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 425Ballet Repertory0 TO 2 semester hours*

Apply ballet technique and principles of style to the learning of historical and/or contemporary ballet works.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

DANC 440Jazz Dance IV-V0 TO 2 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 345. Emphasis on study of jazz dance, hip hop, funk, and other dance styles used in commercial/media dance.

DANC 444Tap Dance IV0 TO 2 semester hours*

A continuation of DANC 344. Focus on developing better skills, exploring rhythms, and mastering ability to keep time and phrase rhythms.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 6 times.

Audition: First class meeting.

DANC 445Jazz Dance V0 TO 2 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 345. Emphasis on study of jazz dance, hip hop, funk, and other dance styles used in commercial/media dance.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

By audition only.

DANC 446Jazz Dance VI0 TO 2 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 445. Pre-professional emphasis including auditioning and career planning.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

By audition only.

DANC 459Senior Thesis Preparation0 semester hours*

Organization of the senior thesis project, preparation of the senior thesis essay, and career bridge building.

Majors only.

Senior standing required.

DANC 460Dance Theory Criticism3 semester hours*

Formal seminar in philosophy of art and aesthetic criticism.

Senior standing required.

Majors only.

DANC 461Senior Thesis: Project3 semester hours*

Preparation and presentation of performance or research thesis.

Senior standing required.

Majors only.

Repeatable up to 6 semester hours for degree credit.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Writing.

DANC 462Mentorship: Senior Thesis0 TO 1 semester hour*

One-on-one guidance on the development and presentation of the Senior Thesis Project.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 2 times.

DANC 477Choreography Workshop Coaching0 TO 2 semester hours*

One-on-one coaching to support work in choreography workshop.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 8 times.

DANC 479Rehearsal and Performance II0 TO 3 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 279.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 4 times.

DANC 480Kinesiology for Dancers I3 semester hours*

Understanding of the human body as it experiences movement. Analysis of the physics, anatomy, physiology, and psychology of movement behavior.

Offered in the Fall semester.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

DANC 481Kinesiology for Dancers II3 semester hours*

Continuation of DANC 480.

Prerequisite: DANC 480 or HHSC 150 or consent of Dance director.

Offered in the Spring semester.

DANC 484Principles of Teaching Dance3 semester hours*

Theory and practice of effective dance instruction, including methods, lesson plans, and practice teaching of high school students and adults.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Oral Skills.

DANC 485Internships1 TO 3 semester hours*

Work experience in teaching, health care, or business.

May be repeated for degree credit up to 2 times.

DANC 487Dance Media and Technology3 semester hours*

Use of computer technology and other media in the making and performance of dance.

DANC 489Performance Techniques Workshop0 TO 3 semester hours*

An in-depth exploration of performance techniques in ballet, modern dance, jazz dance, and other selected dance genre.

Analysis of firm behavior. Classical models of perfect competition, monopoly and oligopoly. Game theory including dominant strategy, Nash and subgame perfect equilibrium. Price discrimination, antitrust policy and regulation.

Prerequisite: ECON 310.

ECON 452Political Economy3 semester hours*

The elections, institutions, and actors that determine important policy outcomes. The inefficient outcomes arise and the lessons that can be learned from those failures of voters and institutions. Half the class will focus on the United States, and the other half will consider these issues in a comparative perspective.

Prerequisite: ECON 310. Recommended: ECON 410.

ECON 454Labor Economics3 semester hours*

Modern theories of market and non-market behavior relating to issues of labor and the determination of wages, salaries, and perquisites. Empirical evidence and public policy considerations are always relevant. Topics may include: education, poverty, discrimination, internal job ladders and management systems, collective bargaining, and unemployment.

Prerequisite: ECON 310.

ECON 456Law and Economics3 semester hours*

This course will explore the field of law and economics. We will use standard microeconomic tools to examine torts, contracts, and property law, as well as the theory and empirical evidence on criminal behavior.

Prerequisite: ECON 310.

ECON 458

Health Economics

3 semester hours

Access to quality health care remains an important public health problem for a significant part of the population. This course examines the theoretical and empirical analyses of major topics in health care economics, such as the production of health, demand for medical care and health insurance, the physician-firm, the hospital market, and government provided health care.

Prerequisite: ECON 310.

ECON 474

Economic Development

3 semester hours

This course is about global poverty, with a focus on the market failures that often characterize countries in the developing world and the solutions that countries have adopted to deal with these failures. We will explore how missing or incomplete markets for land, insurance, and credit give rise to the institutions that we see in developing countries, particularly in rural areas. Evidence about important policy debates, such as the role of industrialized countries in the development process, will be discussed in detail.

Prerequisite: ECON 310.

ECON 490

Senior Assessment

0 semester hours

Assessment of student learning outcomes in the field of economics. Includes a written comprehensive examination, a senior exit interview, and possible additional Department evaluation. ECON 490 is offered toward the end of the Spring semester only and is required of all economics majors who will have completed 100 hours or more by the end of the Spring semester.

CR/NC grading only.

Economics majors only.

Prerequisite: Registered to complete 100 hours or more by the end of the semester in which it is taken.

Mathematics for Economics

3 semester hours

Absolutely necessary for those continuing to graduate school and required for those pursuing the B.S. degree in economics. Review of fundamental mathematical concepts and logic. Treatment of linear algebra, univariate and multivariate calculus, real analysis, and unconstrained and constrained optimization. Applications of mathematical techniques to typical problems in microeconomics and macroeconomics.

Offered only in the Fall semester.

Prerequisites: ECON 310 and MATH 131 (or equivalent).

Recommended: MATH 132 (or equivalent).

ECON 532

Econometrics

3 semester hours

This branch of economics uses mathematical and statistical tools to analyze economic phenomena. Mathematical formulation, establishment of hypotheses, model construction, data collection, and statistical estimation and inference. Required for the B.S. degree in Economics. Offered only in the Spring semester.

Prerequisite: ECON 530 (or MATH 250).

Educational Leadership

EDLA 489

Leadership Seminar I

1 semester hour

This course is designed to develop student leaders' understanding of the basic concepts of personal and group leadership development. Participants will define an issue facing student leaders and identify a theoretical framework to address the issue. The class integrates readings, written reflection, in-class exercises, and a group project.

Permission of instructor and concurrent leadership position in a student organization required.

EDLA 490

Leadership Seminar II

1 semester hour

This course develops student leaders' understanding of the basic concepts of personal and group leadership development. Participants will apply a theoretical framework to an issue facing student leaders, create an implementation plan, and develop an evaluation process. The class integrates readings, written reflection, in-class exercises, and a group project.

Permission of instructor and concurrent leadership position in a student organization required.

EDLA 491

Leadership Seminar III

1 semester hour

A capstone leadership experience for advanced student leaders, this class combines readings, in-class activities, and experiential involvement as a peer educator with research and creation of a comprehensive leadership portfolio.

Permission of instructor and concurrent leadership position in a student organization required.

Prerequisite: EDLA 489 or EDLA 490.

EDSS 6515Advanced Counseling Seminar II1 semester hour*

This course is the second of a two-semester counseling supervision experience for school psychology candidates completing their second year practicum. Candidates will learn more in-depth techniques to counsel children and adolescents individually and in groups. Techniques include cognitive behavioral therapy, solution-focused counseling, interpersonal process therapy, and play therapy. Legal and ethical issues in counseling will be discussed, along with multicultural counseling. Field activities required.

EDSS 6516Seminar in Motivation and Achievement2 semester hours*

This course focuses on psychological theories, concepts, and research related to developing intervention to improve student outcomes, individually and school-wide. Special emphasis is placed on motivational theories and application, school engagement, family influences, and socio-cultural factors on learning.

EDSS 6518Assessment and Intervention for Cognitive and Learning Problems I3 semester hours*

This is the first of a two-semester course focusing on psycho-educational assessment, intervention, and data-based decision making. Content includes psychological theory and psychometrics as related to achievement, motivation, school climate, family influences, retention, assessment of learning environments, and socio-cultural impact on learning. Legal and ethical issues related to testing cultural and linguistically diverse students are emphasized, along with proper administration, scoring, interpretation of results, and integration of data from multiple sources. (Course fee required.)

EDSS 6520Prevention, Intervention, and Consultation3 semester hours*

This course provides knowledge and application related to effective decision making and problem solving for school psychologists through consultation and collaboration. Content includes the study of methods of collaborative consultation and communication with individuals, families, groups, and systems. Field assignments required.

EDSS 6522Assessment and Intervention for Cognitive and Learning Problems II3 semester hours*

This is the second of a two-semester course focusing on psycho-educational assessment, intervention, and data-based decision making. Content includes psychological theory and psychometrics as related to achievement, motivation, school climate, family influences, retention, assessment of learning environments, and socio-cultural impact on learning. Legal and ethical issues related to testing culturally and linguistically diverse students are emphasized, along with proper administration, scoring, interpretation of results, and integration of data from multiple sources. (Course fee required.)

EDSS 6524Practicum in School Psychology I2 semester hours*

This course is the first of a full year (two-semester) field experience with concurrent University seminar for second-year candidates in the School Psychology program. Candidates gain knowledge and experience, practice skills acquired in course work, and demonstrate beginning competency in a wide range of skills and services typically performed by a school psychologist.

Credit/No Credit.

EDSS 6525Practicum in School Psychology II2 semester hours*

This course is the second of a full year (two-semester) field experience with concurrent University seminar for second-year candidates in the School Psychology program. Candidates continue to gain knowledge and experience, practice skills acquired in course work, and demonstrate more advanced competency in a wide range of skills and services typically performed by a school psychologist, in preparation for internship the following year.

Credit/No Credit.

EDSS 6526

Social Responsibility, Violence Prevention, and Crisis Intervention in Schools

3 semester hours

This course focuses on preventive and responsive services to promote resilience and reduce risk in student populations. Candidates learn about the development, implementation, and evaluation of systemic and individual strategies to address issues such as violence, pregnancy, bullying, and suicide. Candidates also learn about best practices in school-based crisis teams, including prevention, preparation, response, and recovery. The importance of collaborating with families and community agencies to ensure safe and violence-free schools is highlighted.

EDSS 6528

Social, Emotional, and Behavioral Assessment

3 semester hours

This course teaches candidates to administer and interpret assessments of students' social and emotional functioning in school. Students use assessment results, in conjunction with other data sources to write comprehensive psychoeducational reports with concise conceptualization of how a student's social and emotional issues impact his/her school functioning. (Course fee required.)

EDSS 6530

Treatment of Emotional and Behavioral Disorders in Children and Adolescents

3 semester hours

This course focuses on biological, cultural, developmental, and social influences on emotional and behavioral disorders common in children and adolescents, including autism, ADHD, conduct disorder, mood disorders, eating disorders, substance abuse, and emotional disturbance. Evidence-based academic and mental health interventions are addressed, and contemporary related issues impacting student development are highlighted, such as psychopharmacology, obesity, online/gaming addiction, cyberbullying, and sexuality/gender identity. Field assignments required.

EDSS 6532

Seminar in School Systems and Psychological Services

3 semester hours

This course emphasizes the breadth of school psychology roles, functions, and settings of practice, in preparation for internship. Candidates expand their knowledge of school systems, including general education, special education, and other educational and allied services. Principles and research related to organizational development and systems theory within school settings are included, with a key focus on school-wide, empirically-supported practices and interventions that enhance learning and social-emotional development and promote safe, supportive, and effective learning environments.

EDSS 6534

Advanced Assessment and Positive Behavioral Intervention

3 semester hours

This course focuses on understanding, assessing, and developing effective interventions to support student behavior at the individual, classroom, and school-wide levels. Candidates learn to conduct Functional Behavioral Assessments, focusing on antecedents, consequences, and functions of behaviors that impede learning and socialization, and they use the data collected to develop and evaluate positive behavior support plans. Candidates also learn about classroom management appropriate to students' developmental level and effective classroom and school-wide programming to promote pro-social behaviors and increase school engagement. Field assignments required.

EDSS 6536

Special Issues and Best Practices in School Psychological Services

3 semester hours

This course reviews advanced issues and practices in the delivery of psychological services in school settings. Content includes serving students with low-incidence disabilities, the use of assistive technology, and assessment and intervention with culturally and linguistically diverse students. As part of this course, a leadership module provides candidates with knowledge about leadership in order to effect change in their practice. Field assignments required.

EDSS 6538

Supervised Internship in School Psychology I

3 semester hours

This seminar is the final level of supervision for school psychology interns. Under the supervision of both field-based and university-based psychologists, candidates refine their practice and delivery of psychoeducational services in the school setting with the P-12 student population.

Credit/No Credit.

EDSS 6540

Supervised Internship in School Psychology II

3 semester hours

This seminar is a continuation from previous semester designed to support school psychology interns. Support in preparation for graduation and entry into the profession of school psychology is emphasized.

Credit/No Credit.

EDSS 6820

Education of Students with Exceptional Needs in Catholic Schools

3 semester hours

An overview of the problems confronting educators in Catholic schools regarding students with exceptional needs, with a view to developing an understanding of the educational implications for instruction and program planning. An overview of major exceptionalities and implications of recent legislation will be emphasized.

EDSS 6821

Informal Assessment and Program Development in Catholic Schools

3 semester hours

A survey of strategies for assessing and teaching students with exceptional needs in Catholic schools. Course content includes principles and techniques for assessing learning and behavioral patterns, development of individual learning programs, development and implementation of instructional strategies based on individual needs, and designing and using pupil performance criteria to evaluate pupil learning and behavior. Includes lecture and practicum.

EDSS 6822

Creating Successful Inclusion Programs

3 semester hours

This course will stimulate discussion and decision making about the mission of individual Catholic schools in providing an appropriate educational experience for all its students. This course will focus on essential components to be included in an individual school's inclusion plan.

EDSS 6823Advanced Practicum in Catholic Inclusive Education3 semester hours*

This course is a practicum during which candidates will support staff at practicum sites in the identification, assessment, and intervention of learning differences. Candidates will participate as case managers and engage in trainings for assessment and intervention instruments.

EDSS 6940Fieldwork in Mental Health Counseling I3 semester hours*

Work in this area will be developed around supervised on-site fieldwork experiences and seminar sessions on campus. Supervised fieldwork experiences will focus upon the direct application of classroom knowledge and training. Enrollment limited to advanced candidates. An application for fingerprint clearance must be submitted at least two semesters prior to enrolling in this course; the CBEST must have been passed, and a minimum of nine courses in the counseling sequence completed.

Credit/No Credit.

Special approval required.

EDSS 6942Fieldwork in Multicultural and Social Justice Counseling I3 semester hours*

Work in this area will be developed around supervised on-site fieldwork experiences and seminar sessions on campus. Supervised fieldwork experiences will focus upon the direct application of classroom knowledge and training. Enrollment limited to advanced candidates. An application for fingerprint clearance must be submitted at least two semesters prior to enrolling in this course; the CBEST must have been passed, and a minimum of nine courses in the counseling sequence completed.

Credit/No Credit.

Special approval required.

EDSS 6943Fieldwork in Doctoral Preparatory Counseling I3 semester hours*

Work in this area will be developed around supervised on-site fieldwork experiences and seminar sessions on campus. Supervised fieldwork experiences will focus upon the direct application of classroom knowledge and training. Enrollment limited to advanced candidates. An application for fingerprint clearance must be submitted at least two semesters prior to enrolling in this course; the CBEST must have been passed, and a minimum of nine courses in the counseling sequence completed.

Credit/No Credit.

Special approval required.

EDSS 6945Fieldwork in Mental Health Counseling II3 semester hours*

Work in this area will be developed around supervised on-site fieldwork experiences and seminar sessions on campus. Supervised fieldwork experiences will focus upon the direct application of classroom knowledge and training. Enrollment limited to advanced candidates. An application for fingerprint clearance must be submitted at least two semesters prior to enrolling in this course; the CBEST must have been passed, and a minimum of nine courses in the counseling sequence completed.

Credit/No Credit.

Special approval required.

EDSS 6947Fieldwork in Multicultural and Social Justice Counseling II3 semester hours*

Work in this area will be developed around supervised on-site fieldwork experiences and seminar sessions on campus. Supervised fieldwork experiences will focus upon the direct application of classroom knowledge and training. Enrollment limited to advanced candidates. An application for fingerprint clearance must be submitted at least two semesters prior to enrolling in this course; the CBEST must have been passed, and a minimum of nine courses in the counseling sequence completed.

Credit/No Credit.

Special approval required.

EDSS 6948Fieldwork in Doctoral Preparatory Counseling II3 semester hours*

Work in this area will be developed around supervised on-site fieldwork experiences and seminar sessions on campus. Supervised fieldwork experiences will focus upon the direct application of classroom knowledge and training. Enrollment limited to advanced candidates. An application for fingerprint clearance must be submitted at least two semesters prior to enrolling in this course; the CBEST must have been passed, and a minimum of nine courses in the counseling sequence completed.

Credit/No Credit.

Special approval required.

EDSS 6955Master's Thesis I1 semester hour*

This course is intended for students working on a master's thesis. The committee chair provides ongoing support for the master's thesis.

Credit/No Credit.

EDSS 6956Master's Thesis II1 semester hour*

A continuation of Master's Thesis I for students who have not completed their master's thesis.

Credit/No Credit.

Special approval required.

EDSS 6957Master's Thesis III1 semester hour*

A continuation of Master's Thesis II for students who have not completed their master's thesis.

Credit/No Credit.

Special approval required.

EDSS 6970Fieldwork in School Counseling I3 semester hours*

Work in this area will be developed around supervised on-site fieldwork experiences and seminar sessions on campus. Supervised fieldwork experiences will focus upon the direct application of classroom knowledge and training. Enrollment limited to advanced candidates. An application for fingerprint clearance must be submitted at least two semesters prior to enrolling in this course; the CBEST must have been passed, and a minimum of nine courses in the counseling sequence completed.

Credit/No Credit.

Special approval required.

EDSS 6972Individualized Site-Based Experience1 semester hour*

One hundred hours of community-based experience working with targeted populations are required for all candidates in the GCNS program. The experience will be designed to facilitate the application of classroom knowledge in various community settings. The chosen experience should be tailored to each candidate's background and future plans and should also be clearly related to the field of guidance and counseling. A proposal for this experience should be submitted to the Director of Field Work for approval. Site-based mentors need to be identified and approved.

Credit/No Credit.

Consent of Coordinator required.

EDSS 6980Fieldwork in School Counseling II3 semester hours*

Work in this area will be developed around supervised on-site fieldwork experiences and seminar sessions on campus. Supervised fieldwork experiences will focus upon the direct application of classroom knowledge and training. Enrollment limited to advanced candidates. An application for fingerprint clearance must be submitted at least two semesters prior to enrolling in this course; the CBEST must have been passed, and a minimum of nine courses in the counseling sequence completed.

Credit/No Credit.

Special approval required.

EDSS 6984Internship Fieldwork Supervision1 semester hour*

A continuation of EDSS 6980, Fieldwork Specialization.

EDSS 6990Fieldwork in School Counseling III3 semester hours*

A continuation of EDSS 6970, Fieldwork in School Counseling I. Prior to enrollment, candidate must have completed EDSS 6980, Fieldwork Specialization. Concurrent enrollment in EDSS 6970, EDSS 6980, and 6990 is not permitted.

Credit/No Credit.

Special approval required.

EDSS 6995Comprehensive Examination0 semester hours*

The Comprehensive Examination is usually taken during, or immediately following, the last semester of coursework completion. It may be a written and/or oral examination. Candidates should register for the specific section required for their program.

Fee required.

Credit/No Credit.

Special approval required.

EDSS 6998Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursEDSS 6999*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursElectrical Engineering

ELEC 210Electric Circuit Analysis3 semester hours*

Introduction to the principles of electric circuit analysis, DC, AC, transient and steady-state response of electric circuits; electric power.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 2 hours.

Corequisite: ELEC 213.

Prerequisite: MATH 131.

ELEC 213Electric Circuit Analysis Lab0 semester hours*

Laboratory experiments on electric circuits. This is a companion laboratory course to the electric circuit analysis course.

Corequisite: ELEC 210.

Prerequisite: MATH 131.

Engineering majors only.

ELEC 220Electric Circuit Applications3 semester hours*

Laplace transform applications, network functions, frequency response, analog filters, two-port networks, three phase power, magnetic circuits.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: ELEC 210; MATH 245 or concurrent enrollment.

ELEC 260Introduction to Electricity and Applications3 semester hours*

Presentation of a brief history of electricity and electrical devices. Introduction to basic concepts of circuit and system analysis, electronic instruments, devices and modern electric equipment. Demonstrations of concepts and devices are included.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

ELEC 281Logic Design3 semester hours*

Introduction to computer systems, number systems. Boolean algebra, combinational and sequential logic design, minimization and analysis techniques. Concepts of programmable logic devices.

Lecture, 3 hours.

ELEC 298Special Studies0 TO 3 semester hoursELEC 299*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursELEC 301*Junior Lab I3 semester hours*

Introduction to the use of contemporary lab equipment and techniques of measurement and experimentation; introduction to technical report writing; class is used to provide a laboratory experience related to junior level courses.

Laboratory, 3 hours; Lecture, 1 hour.

Prerequisites: ELEC 220, ELEC 281, and concurrent enrollment in ELEC 353 or permission of the instructor.

ELEC 302

Junior Lab II

3 semester hours

Continuation of ELEC 301 with emphasis on design; introduction to use of CAD tools and FPGA based system design.

Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: ELEC 301 and ELEC 383; concurrent enrollment in ELEC 354.

ELEC 353

Electronics I

3 semester hours

Fundamentals of semiconductor devices and the physics of their operation. Applications of semiconductor devices in electronic circuits and device modeling. Introduction to CAD tools. Design of single stage amplifiers.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: ELEC 220.

ELEC 354

Electronics II

3 semester hours

Introduction to engineering design methods utilized in the synthesis of contemporary analog electronic circuits including extensive use of CAD tools. Topics include multi-transistor circuits, large signal limitations, feedback techniques, amplifier frequency response, stability and oscillation.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: ELEC 353.

ELEC 361

Electromagnetics

3 semester hours

Introduction to Maxwell's equations, wave propagation, transmission line theory, and the solution of static and time varying field problems.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: MATH 355 and PHYS 201.

ELEC 371

Linear Systems

3 semester hours

Time and frequency domain analysis of continuous and discrete-time signals and systems. Signal characterization, Laplace transform, Z-transform, Fourier series, Fourier transform, discrete Fourier transform, State variable analysis. Applications to differential and difference equations.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: ELEC 220.

ELEC 383

Introduction to Microprocessors

3 semester hours

Basic concepts in design and organization of microprocessors and microcomputers. Assembly language programming design for incorporating peripheral devices in solving application designs.

Not open to CMSI majors.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: ELEC 281.

ELEC 385

Computer System Design

3 semester hours

Formal description of digital systems. Design of functional subsystems. Organization and design of general purpose digital computers and of special purpose digital systems.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CMSI 284 and ELEC 281.

ELEC 398

Special Studies

1 TO 4 semester hours

ELEC 399

Independent Studies

1 TO 4 semester hours

ELEC 400

Design Methodology

2 semester hours

An introduction to systems engineering, including a study of design methodology and development of professional project-oriented skills such as communication, team management, creative problem solving, interpersonal management, and leadership skills.

Lecture, 2 hours.

Corequisite: ELEC 401.

ELEC 401

Senior Lab I

3 semester hours

Course is intended to provide a laboratory experience related to other senior level courses; emphasis is on design, technical report writing, and oral presentation.

Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: ELEC 302, ELEC 354, and ELEC 383.

Corequisite: ELEC 400.

ELEC 402

Senior Project

3 semester hours

A study of design methodology and development of professional project-oriented skills including communication, team management, creative problem solving, interpersonal management, and leadership skills. Team project activities are used to apply project-oriented skills to solution of design problems. Periodic design reports and design reviews are presented to, and critiqued by the faculty and the design team.

Lecture, 1 hour; Laboratory, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: ELEC 400 and ELEC 401.

ELEC 423

Communications I

3 semester hours

Review of topics in Signals and Systems, Fourier transform and frequency-domain analysis. Introduction to the principles of operation of typical analog and digital communication systems. Extensive discussion on modulation and demodulation.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: ELEC 371.

ELEC 424Communications II3 semester hours*

Fundamentals of probability, random variables, and random processes. Performance analysis of typical communication systems. Introduction to information theory and coding theory.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: ELEC 423.

ELEC 453Digital Integrated Electronics3 semester hours*

Extensive coverage of digital integrated circuit design, including TTL, NMOS, CMOS and BiCMOS digital logic circuits, Read Only Memory (ROM), and Random Access Memory (RAM).

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: ELEC 281 and ELEC 354.

ELEC 462Microwave and Optical Communications3 semester hours*

Applications of electromagnetic theory. Topics include transmission lines, waveguides, impedance transformations and matching, passive devices, scatter parameters and their applications in circuits, antennas and wave propagation, fiber optics and other communication links.

Lecture, 2 hours; Laboratory, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: ELEC 361.

ELEC 472Control Systems3 semester hours*

Analysis and design of feedback systems using root locus, Bode, Nyquist, and state variable techniques; introduction to discrete feedback control system analysis.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: ELEC 371.

ELEC 481Introduction to Computer Networks3 semester hours*

This course provides a basic introduction to computer networking. The topics covered include: types and uses of computer networks, data transmission, protocols and protocol layering, packets, message transactions, layered architecture, and a client-server introduction.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Senior standing and permission of instructor required.

ELEC 498Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursELEC 499*Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursELEC 521*Introduction to Communication Systems3 semester hours*

The concepts of signal formulation, modulation, transmission and reception, and demodulation of signals in noise will be discussed.

Prerequisites: ELEC 423 and ELEC 532, or equivalents.

ELEC 525Digital Signal Processing3 semester hours*

The representation, analysis, and processing of discrete signals are discussed. Topics include sampling, quantization, Z-transform of signal, discrete Fourier and fast Fourier transforms, analysis and design of digital filters, and spectral estimation of random digital signals.

Prerequisite: ELEC 371.

ELEC 532Probability and Random Processes3 semester hours*

Studies of probability, random variables, stochastic processes, correlation, power spectral density, and linear mean-square estimation with emphasis on their application to electrical engineering are included.

Senior or graduate standing required.

ELEC 552Semiconductor Device Physics3 semester hours*

In-depth coverage of semiconductor device physics, including: principle of quantum mechanics, carrier transport phenomena in semiconductor materials, P-N junctions, metal-semiconductor and semiconductor heterojunctions, and MOS transistors.

Prerequisite: ELEC 353 or equivalent.

ELEC 561IC Fabrication Processes3 semester hours*

Overview of processes in manufacture of integrated circuits. Topics include: single crystal growth, oxide growth, photolithographic processes, ion implantation and impurity diffusion, metal deposition, and passivation and packaging of chips. Use is made of Unix workstations for modeling and simulation.

Prerequisite: ELEC 353 or equivalent.

ELEC 562Digital System Design with VHDL3 semester hours*

Computer aided design of digital VLSI (Very Large Scale Integrated) systems using Very High Speed Integrated Circuits (VHSIC) Hardware Description Language (VHDL).

Prerequisites: ELEC 281 and ELEC 383, or equivalents.

ELEC 563ASIC Design3 semester hours*

Topics include programmable logic devices and gate array architectures, programmability of PLDs and gate arrays, field programmable gate arrays (FPGAs) and applications of FPGAs in digital system design. Course includes laboratory experiments and extensive use of Computer Aided Design tools.

Prerequisites: ELEC 383 and ELEC 562, or permission of instructor.

ELEC 567Introduction to Digital VLSI Design3 semester hours*

Custom and semi-custom design of VLSI circuits using standard cells, design methodologies of advanced complementary metal-oxide-semiconductor (CMOS) circuits, and simulation of designed circuits will be emphasized. At the end of the semester, circuits designed by the students will be sent for fabrication through MOSIS and later tested by the students for functionality.

Prerequisites: ELEC 383 or permission of instructor.

ELEC 583Finite State Machines3 semester hours*

An introduction to the theory and design of finite state automata and sequential machines.

Prerequisite: ELEC 281 or equivalent.

ELEC 584Introduction to Microprocessors II3 semester hours*

Design and applications of 32-bit microprocessors. Topics include: basic concepts, software, architecture, programming, interfacing, and system design.

Prerequisite: ELEC 383 or equivalent.

ELEC 585Computer Organization and Architecture3 semester hours*

System structure of minicomputers and main frame computers. Structured memory based systems; parallel and multiunit processors; introduction to input/output processing.

Prerequisite: ELEC 385 or equivalent.

ELEC 598Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursELEC 599*Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursELEC 601*Graduate Seminar3 semester hours*

Project-based seminar in which students will be required to select, research, write about, and discuss some aspect of a broad area of current interest to computer scientists and electrical engineers (e.g. computer networks, digital communication).

Prerequisites: Successful completion of coursework and the endorsement of the faculty advisor. (The seminar can be taken during the final semester of coursework subject to the approval of the faculty advisor.)

ELEC 621Information Theory and Coding3 semester hours*

The concepts of information measures and channel capacity are introduced. The applications of Shannon theory to evaluate the effectiveness of practical communication links is developed. Error correction coding and its application in reliable communications are emphasized in this class.

Prerequisite: ELEC 532.

ELEC 624Digital Communication Theory3 semester hours*

This course provides the foundation of digital communication theory. Topics include representation of bandpass signals, frequency and phase shift keying, M-ary signal, detection in additive Gaussian noise channel, intersymbol interference, and efficient signaling with coding.

Prerequisites: ELEC 521 and ELEC 532.

ELEC 626Satellite Communication Systems3 semester hours*

This course provides an introduction to the practical and theoretical analysis of the performance of satellite communications links. Topics in link design, satellite orbit dynamics, antenna gain and coverage, frequency and time division multiple access, component and subsystem nonlinearity, signal format, and error correction coding will be discussed.

Prerequisites: ELEC 521 and ELEC 532.

ELEC 627Phase-Lock Techniques for Communication and Control3 semester hours*

Phase-lock loop concepts, stability, noise response, acquisition, frequency response and topics of applications in coherent communications such as PLL costas loop, byte synchronization will be discussed.

Prerequisite: ELEC 532.

ELEC 628Spread Spectrum Systems3 semester hours*

The system performance and signal design of spread communication systems will be discussed. Topics addressed are frequency hopping and direct sequence systems and their performance in jamming and CDMA environments.

Prerequisites: ELEC 521, ELEC 532, and ELEC 624 are recommended.

ELEC 631Numerical Methods in Engineering3 semester hours*

A course in numerical techniques of computing. Numerical techniques; errors in computing; generation of functions; roots of polynomials, integration techniques; solution of simultaneous linear equations; ordinary differential equations; partial differential equations.

ELEC 632Optimization Technique in Signal Processing3 semester hours*

An introduction to the theory, analysis, and design of optimal signal processing systems in both discrete and continuous time. Topics include spectral factorization, least-mean-square theory and estimation algorithms, linear signal estimation, Wiener and Kalman filtering, linear prediction, spectral estimation, and matched filtering. Access to computer with MATLAB, Fortran, Pascal, or other high level language compiler for assignments is required.

Prerequisite: ELEC 532.

ELEC 637Optical Communication Systems3 semester hours*

This course presents the analytical basis for fiber optic and laser communication systems.

Prerequisites: ELEC 521 and ELEC 532.

ELEC 651Communication Electronics3 semester hours*

Theory and design aspects of analog electronic circuits as applied to the generation, amplification, detection, transmission, and modulation of electrical signals will be discussed.

Prerequisite: Undergraduate electronics course.

ELEC 662Analog VLSI Design3 semester hours*

Topics in computer-aided design of analog VLSI systems. Topics include: custom and semi-custom design, design methodologies, and simulation of designed circuits. Circuits designed will be fabricated for testing by student.

Prerequisites: ELEC 354 and ELEC 383 or equivalent.

ELEC 663Digital VLSI Design3 semester hours*

Topics in computer-aided design of digital VLSI systems. Topics include: Custom and semi-custom design, design methodologies of advanced CMOS circuits, and simulation of designed circuits. Circuits designed will be fabricated for testing by student.

Prerequisites: ELEC 354 and ELEC 383 or equivalent.

ELEC 670Radar Engineering3 semester hours*

Radar fundamentals will be covered including radar applications, frequency allocation, radar space-time coordinates, target and clutter scattering, radar range performance and signal/target detection and location. Also waveform and non-coherent/coherent signal processing design and analysis will be treated for targets embedded in various types of clutter. The course will also address simple antenna and transmitter/ receiver design and performance. A sample radar system design problem will be accomplished.

ELEC 682Arithmetic Processors3 semester hours*

Concepts of number systems, digital numbers algorithms; logic and organization of digital arithmetic processors; conventional arithmetic; algorithm acceleration; floating-point and significance arithmetics; redundant, signed-digit, residue number systems; error detection in digital arithmetic.

Prerequisite: ELEC 585 or equivalent.

ELEC 685Diagnostic Design and Fault-Tolerant Computers3 semester hours*

Theories and techniques for testing digital circuits and systems, design techniques for fault-tolerant digital systems, test generation for combinational and sequence circuits, self-checking and self-testing circuits, gate-level simulation on a fault-model.

Prerequisites: ELEC 584 and ELEC 585.

ELEC 686Microprocessor Applications3 semester hours*

Applications of microprocessors and microprocessor control in the design of digital and hybrid systems, including digital computer systems.

Prerequisite: ELEC 584 or equivalent.

ELEC 687Computer Networks3 semester hours*

Concepts in and design of large-scale distributed networks and local area networks, including topologies, standards, and protocols.

ELEC 688Advanced Computer Architecture3 semester hours*

Design and implementation of reduced instruction set computer architectures. Topics include pipelining, parameter passing, register windows compiling techniques, and comparison with CISC architectures.

Prerequisite: ELEC 585.

ELEC 689Advanced Topics in Computer Design3 semester hours*

Selected topics from microprogramming, performance measurement, and chip-slice architectures.

ELEC 695Master's Thesis I3 semester hours*

Graduate students electing the thesis option must obtain a thesis advisor before departmental consent will be considered and comply with the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering Master's Thesis Requirements.

Credit/No Credit grading.

Prerequisite: ELEC 601 or concurrent enrollment.

ELEC 696Master's Thesis II3 semester hours*

Students could choose to continue with further research and/or development of their Thesis project for a second semester after successfully finishing ELEC 695. Consents of the Department and the advisor are required.

Credit/No Credit grading.

Prerequisite: ELEC 695.

ELEC 697Master's Thesis III3 semester hours*

Students could choose to continue with further research and/or development of their Thesis project for a third semester after successfully finishing ELEC 695 and ELEC 696. Consents of the Department and the advisor are required.

Credit/No Credit grading.

Prerequisites: ELEC 695 and ELEC 696.

ELEC 698Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursELEC 699*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

Elementary and Secondary EducationEDES 401*Applied Educational Psychology for the Childhood and Adolescent Years3 semester hours*

A study of the learning environment, the evaluation of learning, and the teaching/learning process. An analysis of the physical, intellectual, emotional, cultural, and ethnic factors affecting development, learning, and behavior. This course is a prerequisite for acceptance into the Multiple and Single Subject Credential Program. Emphasis is placed on implications for teaching and learning in the primary, elementary, middle, and senior high schools. Fieldwork is required.

Sophomore or higher standing required.

EDES 402

Teaching Reading in Today's Elementary Classrooms

3 semester hours

This course is designed to provide opportunities to prospective teachers to develop their understanding and ability to teach reading to all students in the elementary grades. Particular emphasis will be placed on strategies which will accommodate culturally and linguistically diverse learners. Consideration is given to the procedures, skills development, organizations, systems of instruction and instructional materials utilized in the development of an effective, balanced and integrated approach to reading instruction in the elementary school that supports literacy development.

EDES 403

Reading and Content Learning in Middle and Secondary Schools

3 semester hours

This course is designed to provide opportunities for prospective teachers to develop understanding of the nature of the reading process in grades 7-12. Emphasis is placed on the role of subject-matter teachers in the overall school reading program. Advance Course 1: Special Populations, English Language Learners, Health, and Technology

3 semester hours

This course integrates the advanced study of health education and the teaching of students with exceptional needs. The study of health education, including the study of nutrition, cardiopulmonary resuscitation, and the physiological and sociological effects of abuse of alcohol, narcotics, and drugs and the use of tobacco will be addressed. Training in cardiopulmonary resuscitation also meets the standards established by the American Heart Association or the American Red Cross. This course includes the study of and field experience in methods of delivering appropriate educational services to pupils with exceptional needs in general education programs. Candidates will understand how to effectively put IDEA into practice within the context of an all-inclusive classroom. Effective communication between stakeholders to support students with exceptional needs in the classroom will be addressed.

EDES 6081

Advance Course 2: Special Populations, English Language Learners, Health, and Technology

3 semester hours

This course integrates the advanced study of technology and the teaching of English Language Learners (ELL). This course is designed to build upon beginning teachers' expertise in equitable assessment and instruction for ELL students through and with equitable uses of technology. Utilizing a sociocultural and additive approach, the course addresses standards-informed instruction for ELL students from beginning to advanced levels of English development. Particular focus is given to oral language and literacy development across content areas, analysis of teacher instructional practices, and family literacy. This course includes the study of and field experience in methods and strategies of integrating technology into the curriculum to support all students. Candidates will explore a variety of electronic communication tools for use within the classroom as well as to expand the network of professional educators. Candidates will address the areas of information literacy, the digital divide, and using technology to create life-long learners.

EDES 6103

Curriculum and Instructional Leadership

3 semester hours

What should students learn and experience in the classroom? Who decides the content and how it should be taught? How will we know that all students have mastered it? From antiquity to the present, human beings have clashed over these fundamental yet highly charged questions regarding the nature of curriculum. Drawing on theory and practice, past and present, this course explores answers to the above questions and looks at the direction of today's education policies and practices, especially with regard to curriculum standards, accountability, and student assessment under No Child Left Behind.

EDES 6200

Elementary School Curriculum and Methods

3 semester hours

Seminar: The Reading Professional

3 semester hours

A comprehensive study of current research on literacy processes and the philosophies of instruction in reading. Various instructional approaches and programs will be evaluated through the lens of a literacy professional.

EDES 6353Technology and Reading3 semester hours*

This course is designed to explore the impact that technology has on reading instruction. Through individual and group projects, using a variety of media, topics cover children and adolescent literature, current research, emerging trends, and practical classroom applications. Inquiry into topics such as: educational technology policies, both notationally and locally, the digital divide, gender and ethnic bias, evaluation and appropriate use of educational technologies and assistive technologies.

Consent of Program Director required.

EDES 6354Reading Development and Instruction3 semester hours*

Scientifically based practices in reading are addressed in this class, which is designed specifically for candidates in the MA in Reading Instruction program. This course considers linguistic, physiological, psychological, and cultural concerns covering appraisal of literacy needs, premises, and goals of reading instruction, as well as approaches, methods, processes, and techniques for teaching reading skills in grades P-12.

EDES 6355Introduction to Reading Difficulties3 semester hours*

Theoretical and practical considerations of the causes of difficulties in the reading skills of elementary and secondary students; methods and materials best suited for correcting reading intervention and techniques for promoting better reading habits.

Consent of Program Director required.

Prerequisite: EDES 6202 or EDES 6354.

Corequisite: EDES 6356.

EDES 6356Diagnosis and Intervention in Reading—Practicum I3 semester hours*

Practicum taken in conjunction with EDES 6355. Each student works with two struggling readers; learns diagnostic and prescriptive intervention techniques, administers diagnostic tests, screening tests of vision and hearing, and formulates case studies.

Consent of Program Director required.

Prerequisites: EDES 6202 or EDES 6354.

Corequisite: EDES 6355.

EDES 6357Diagnosis and Intervention in Reading—Practicum II3 semester hours*

In this advanced course for the Reading Specialist Credential, candidates will engage in a critical analysis of literacy research that examines current models of the reading process and their influence on the curriculum, as well as instructional and assessment issues in reading.

Consent of Program Director required.

Prerequisites: EDES 6355 or EDES 6356.

EDES 6358Research and Trends in Reading Education3 semester hours*

This course is required for the Reading Specialist Credential and includes methods for diagnosing and providing appropriate and innovative intervention approaches for meeting the needs of students with severe reading difficulties. Candidates will gain knowledge and experience, practice skills acquired in course work, and demonstrate competency in the skills required by a Reading Specialist.

Consent of Program Director required.

Prerequisite: EDES 6355 or EDES 6356.

EDES 6359Field Experience—The Reading Professional3 semester hours*

The purpose of the fieldwork component for the Reading Specialist Credential is two-fold. First, it provides experience in the teaching of reading in grades P–12. Secondly, it provides opportunities for candidates to experience and participate in the variety of duties associated with a leadership position in a school and/or school district.

Consent of Program Director required.

Prerequisites: EDES 6357 and EDES 6358.

EDES 6856Practicum in Bilingual Teaching2 semester hours*

This course is designed to enhance the field experience of bilingual candidates through reflective discussions that evolve around field experiences in the context of dual language education. Candidates will be supervised teaching in a bilingual context. A culminating portfolio is a requirement of the course.

Credit/No Credit.

Prerequisites: EDES 5320, EDES 5324, EDES 5330, EDES 6320, EDES 6330.

Prerequisites: BADM 1010, BADM 1020, all with a minimum grade of C (2.0).

ENTR 3330Social Entrepreneurship3 semester hours*

In this course, students are introduced to the field of social entrepreneurship—the process of using an entrepreneurial mindset and business skills to create innovative approaches to societal problems. We explore the social entrepreneurship landscape and examine the latest innovations in business models, legal forms, financing alternatives, and management strategies. Students are expected to identify their passions and work on relevant business ideas or field projects that will equip them with hands-on experience.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisites: BADM 1010 and BADM 1020, both with a minimum grade of C (2.0), and ENTR 3310.

ENTR 3350New Venture Creation3 semester hours*

This course is designed to provide students with a hands-on opportunity to learn how a new venture opportunity is developed. In the process of completing a business plan, students will 1) learn to think critically about business concepts, and 2) complete primary and secondary research about fundamental strategic, operational, financial, marketing, and HR issues.

Prerequisite: ENTR 3310.

ENTR 3380Small Business Management3 semester hours*

This integrative course allows students to combine skills learned in all business disciplines. The focus is on the identification and analysis of operating problems confronting the small business manager.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisites: BADM 1010 and BADM 1020, both with a minimum grade of C (2.0), and ENTR 3310.

ENTR 3397Internship1 semester hour*

The objective of this one-semester-hour course is to help students achieve a worthwhile learning experience relevant to their major program of study. The internship, conducted with an off-campus organization, will help the student gain insights relative to his/her strengths and weaknesses in the job environment.

ENTR 3398Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursENTR 4310*Entrepreneurial Finance3 semester hours*

In this course, students are introduced to the financial aspects of small businesses and entrepreneurial ventures. The key topics include evaluating new business ideas and ventures, reading and understanding financial statements of rapidly growing companies, and developing financing strategies. We also discuss various debt and equity alternatives of financing, the different valuation techniques, and key tactics and approaches to negotiating term sheets.

(See FNCE 4410.)

Prerequisites: ENTR 3310 and FNCE 3410.

ENTR 4320Real Estate Finance, Investment, and Entrepreneurship3 semester hours*

This course introduces students to gathering relevant data (both primary and secondary data) to build financial models for analyzing, interpreting, and making decisions on evaluation of alternative real estate investment opportunities with alternative financial structures. Hands-on entrepreneurial learning makes use of cases, gathering primary data, financial modeling, and estimating the most an investor should pay for a specific property. More specifically, this course includes determining a property's "investment value," financing strategy, risk analysis, taxation, market area supply and demand analysis by property type (e.g., single-family homes, apartments, office, retail, warehouses, and other industrial properties), alternative investment ownership (e.g., sole proprietorships, REITs, Limited Partnerships, LLCs, etc.), as well as evaluating alternative financing instruments in both primary and secondary markets.

(See FNCE 4420.)

Prerequisites: ENTR 3310 and FNCE 3410.

ENTR 4340International Entrepreneurship3 semester hours*

This course focuses on developing knowledge and skills in three key components of international entrepreneurship: initiating entrepreneurial ventures, managing international business transactions, and dealing with multicultural business environments. The course includes a feasibility study of an international small business venture start up, case study, and experiential learning.

(See INBA 4840.)

Prerequisites: BADM 1040 with a grade of C (2.0) or better, ENTR 3310, and INBA 3810.

ENTR 4370Product and Business Design3 semester hours*

This course, a joint venture between LMU and OTIS College of Design, provides an overview of the key concepts, frameworks, and issues in product design and development. Students are expected learn to work effectively in an interdisciplinary team to construct a business concept, design a new product, and complete a prototype.

Prerequisite: ENTR 3310.

ENTR 4381Managing New Ventures3 semester hours*

This course is designed to provide students with theoretical and practical knowledge about new and young businesses. Print and live cases will be used to facilitate in-depth exploration of the typical start-up, operating, and growth challenges facing entrepreneurial companies. Guest speakers (founders of or investors in new ventures) will share their entrepreneurial journeys. Students will participate in a team project where they meet with the founder(s) of a local entrepreneurial venture, identify key challenges facing that venture, and develop an in-depth plan to address those challenges.

Prerequisite: ENTR 3310.

ENTR 4398Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursENTR 4399*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

Requires approval of the Associate Dean.

Environmental Science

ENVS 101Introduction to Environmental Science3 semester hours*

Introduction to the study of environmental science. Examination of issues and problems associated with the environment including examples from air, water, and soil pollution and some remediation strategies.

Lecture, 3 hours.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

ENVS 250Earth Science3 semester hours*

An introductory exploration of how the Earth works. Focus is placed on connecting the Earth systems—the solid Earth, atmosphere, oceans, and biosphere—through the cycling of chemical elements and energy. The course will also discuss significant anthropogenic impacts to the natural Earth system.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 110 and CHEM 112.

ENVS 263Surfin' Science3 semester hours*

Various basic principles of oceanography, meteorology, and marine biology are explored as applied to the art of surfing. Topics include the genesis, propagation, and dynamics of waves; marine weather systems and surf prediction; marine organisms; and marine pollution issues of concern to surfers.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

ENVS 275The Automobile and the Environment3 semester hours*

The study of geologic processes in mineral formation, world-wide distribution, and commercial value to human societies.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

ENVS 276Atmospheric Science3 semester hours*

The study of general phenomena of weather; including storms, atmospheric disturbances, and possible effects of pollution. This course involves weather forecasting using real-time meteorological data.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

ENVS 279Principles of Environmental Sustainability3 semester hours*

This course explores the reality that the most difficult and enduring challenges are not merely technical but also social and institutional. An introduction to the basic science behind key environmental issues is provided along with tools for analyzing the social and institutional underpinnings of environmental conflict, and strategies to move towards sustainability.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

ENVS 300Engineering Geology3 semester hours*

Atmospheric, aqueous, and igneous agencies; river and marine deposits, glaciers, earth movements, volcanoes, earthquakes. Emphasis placed on factors affecting engineering projects; field trips.

Lecture, 3 hours.

ENVS 301Environmental Science3 semester hours*

Study of environmental science problems stressing an interdisciplinary approach. Analysis of problem and formulation of remediation strategies considering appropriate principles from biology, chemistry, physics, earth science, and engineering.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102; CHEM 110, CHEM 112; or ENVS 101.

ENVS 302Environmental Science Lab I1 semester hour*

Use of standard tests in environmental science to determine chemical and biological species of interest in air, water, and soil systems.

Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: MATH 104; ENVS 301 or concurrent enrollment.

ENVS 310Oceanography3 semester hours*

The basic concepts of physical and biological oceanography will be presented.

Lecture, 3 hours

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102, BIOL 111, BIOL 112; CHEM 110, CHEM 111, CHEM 112, CHEM 113.

ENVS 330Environmental Chemistry3 semester hours*

A study of environmental chemistry. Topics include stratospheric chemistry, the chemistry of ground-level air and air pollution, toxic organic chemicals, the chemistry of natural waters, soil chemistry and heavy metals, energy production and the environment.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 112 and CHEM 113.

ENVS 332Environmental Science Lab II1 semester hour*

Use of standard methods of analysis to determine pollutants found in air, water, and soil systems. Emphasis will be on the use of instrumental methods and techniques.

Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102; CHEM 110, CHEM 112; MATH 104.

ENVS 398Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursENVS 399*Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursENVS 401*Senior Seminar / Project3 semester hours*

Research work on a project within the field of environmental science including presentation of a seminar over work.

Consent of instructor required.

ENVS 420Environmental Systems Lab3 semester hours*

Chemical and microbiological tests and demonstrations for environmental systems.

Laboratory, 3 hours.

ENVS 490Environmental Science Teaching0 TO 2 semester hours*

Guided teaching of undergraduate laboratories.

May be repeated for credit.

Consent of instructor required.

ENVS 493Environmental Science Internship1 TO 4 semester hours*

Work experience in the field of environmental science in a research, industry, or municipal setting.

ENVS 498Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursENVS 499*Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursENVS 500*Geology3 semester hours*

Atmospheric, aqueous, and igneous agencies; river and marine deposits, glacier, earth movement, volcanoes, earthquakes. Emphasis placed on factors affecting engineering projects; field trips.

ENVS 504Climate Change, Impacts, and Sustainability3 semester hours*

Overview of Earth's climate system and exploration of the science, impacts, and politics of global climate change. Specific topics include the greenhouse effects; El Nino; atmospheric and oceanic circulation; observations and projections; impacts on water resources and agriculture; politics; alternative energy; sustainability; and mitigation. Special emphasis is placed on California and the western United States.

ENVS 510Chemistry for Environmental Engineers and Scientists3 semester hours*

Review of inorganic chemistry with emphasis on gas laws, chemical equilibrium, oxidation-reduction, thermodynamics, and chemical kinetics. An introduction to organic chemistry is presented.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: CHEM 114 or equivalent.

ENVS 513Solid Waste Engineering2 semester hours*

An application of current technology in the control, disposal, and recovery of value from solid wastes.

Lecture, 3 hours.

ENVS 515Environmental Impact Reports3 semester hours*

An engineering perspective of managing projects through the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) process.

Lecture, 3 hours.

ENVS 518Applied Oceanography3 semester hours*

A study of the physical, chemical, and biological characteristics of the oceans which must be considered in the design of wastewater outfalls, marine structures, etc.

Lecture, 3 hours.

ENVS 525Inland Waters3 semester hours*

The structure of and movement of water in lakes, rivers, and estuaries; cyclical and progressive changes of the physical, chemical, and biological composition of aquatic systems are discussed along with an explanation of lake remediation techniques.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: ENVS 510 or ENVS 610 and ENVS 544 or ENVS 644.

ENVS 531Principles of Water Quality Management3 semester hours*

Review of the basic parameters used to describe water quality. Fundamentals of aquatic interaction in natural systems and fate of pollutants in the natural environments. Basic water and wastewater treatment systems.

Prerequisites: Introductory calculus, basic physics, and chemistry.

ENVS 533Aquatic Chemistry3 semester hours*

Equilibrium chemistry concepts including gas- and solid-liquid equilibria applied to aquatic systems. Emphasis on calculation methods for solving for chemical speciation in natural and treated aquatic systems.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: ENVS 510 or ENVS 610.

ENVS 544Applied Microbiology3 semester hours*

Emphasis on physical and biochemical aspects of bacterial metabolism and behavior as applied to environmental engineering; kinetics and energetics of microbial growth.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CIVL 400 and ENVS 510.

ENVS 550Watershed Function and Protection3 semester hours*

Discussion of watershed structure, function, pollution, management and protection. Topics include ecosystem services provided by various types of watersheds, impacts from various pollutants and poor land uses, and mitigation measures through various regulatory measures and best management practices (BMPs). Several weekend field trips are required, and a class project will be assigned involving some aspect of watershed protection strategy.

Junior or Senior standing required.

ENVS 593Environmental Science Internship Workshop1 TO 4 semester hours*

Advanced work experience in the field of environmental science in a research, industry, or municipal setting.

ENVS 598Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursENVS 599*Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursENVS 600*Ecology of Resilient Cities3 semester hours*

An investigation into the biophysical and social ecology of urban environments. Considering human legacies of land use and land cover change, the course explores the core elements of sustainable urban communities.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Enrollment in Urban Ecology Track or consent of instructor and program director required.

ENVS 601Behavioral Ecology and Management of Urban Wildlife3 semester hours*

An examination of how wildlife populations interact with the urban environments and the humans that populate them. This course has a strong focus on data and methodology and considers the role of urban habitats as sources and sinks for native and invasive species.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Enrollment in Urban Ecology Track or consent of instructor and program director required.

ENVS 602Land Use, Legacies, and Transformation in Urban Ecosystems3 semester hours*

Enrollment in Urban Ecology Track or consent of instructor and program director required.

ENVS 603Advanced Topics in Urban Ecology3 semester hours*

Taught as a seminar, this course provides a forum for investigating cutting edge ideas in urban ecosystem function and change. Taught from the original literature, and with the help of visiting scholars, the themes of the course will vary from year to year.

ENVS 604Climate Change, Impact, and Sustainability3 semester hours*

Overview of Earth's climate system and exploration of the science, impacts, and politics of global climate change. Specific topics include the greenhouse effect; El Nino; atmospheric and oceanic circulations; observations and projections; impacts on water resources and agriculture; politics; alternative energy; sustainability; and mitigation. Special emphasis is placed on California and the western United States.

ENVS 610Chemistry for Environmental Engineers and Scientists3 semester hours*

Review of inorganic chemistry with emphasis on gas laws, chemical equilibrium, oxidation-reduction, thermodynamics, and chemical kinetics. An introduction to organic chemistry is presented.

Prerequisite: Undergraduate chemistry.

ENVS 613Solid Wastes Engineering3 semester hours*

Application of current technology to municipal solid waste collection, separation and recovery, haul and transport, and municipal landfill design including gas collection and handling.

ENVS 615Environmental Impact Reports3 semester hours*

An engineering perspective of managing water and wastewater projects through the California Environment Quality Act (CEQA) process.

ENVS 618Applied Oceanography3 semester hours*

A study of the physical, chemical, and biological characteristics of the oceans which must be considered in the design of wastewater outfalls, marine structures, etc.

Adequate mathematics/science background required.

ENVS 625Inland Waters3 semester hours*

The structure and movement of water in lakes, rivers, and estuaries; cyclical and progressive changes of the physical, chemical, and biological composition of aquatic systems are discussed along with an explanation of lake remediation techniques.

Prerequisites: ENVS 510 or ENVS 610 and ENVS 644.

ENVS 631Principles of Water Quality Management3 semester hours*

Review of the basic parameters used to describe water quality. Fundamentals of aquatic interaction in natural systems and fate of pollutants in the natural environments. Basic water and wastewater treatment systems.

Prerequisite: Introductory calculus, basic physics and chemistry.

ENVS 633Aquatic Chemistry3 semester hours*

Equilibrium chemistry concepts including gas- and solid-liquid equilibria applied to aquatic systems. Emphasis on calculation methods for solving for chemical speciation in natural and treated aquatic systems.

Prerequisite: ENVS 510 or ENVS 610.

ENVS 635Chemical Fate and Transport3 semester hours*

Introduction to physical, chemical, and biological processes governing the movement and fate of chemicals in surface water and the subsurface. Practical quantitative problems solved based on chemical transport and reactions in the environment.

Prerequisite: ENVS 610 or permission of the instructor.

ENVS 644Applied Microbiology3 semester hours*

Emphasis on physical and biochemical aspects of bacterial metabolism and behavior as applied to environmental engineering; kinetics and energetics of microbial growth.

Prerequisites: ENVS 510 or ENVS 610 and ENVS 531 or ENVS 631.

ENVS 645Environmental Engineering and Science Laboratory3 semester hours*

The application of standard tests to determine the chemical and biological quality characteristics in wastewater, water, and aquatic systems.

Prerequisites: ENVS 531 or ENVS 631, ENVS 533 or ENVS 633, and ENVS 544 or ENVS 644.

ENVS 650Watershed Function and Protection3 semester hours*

Discussion of watershed structure, function, pollution, management and protection. Topics include ecosystem services provided by various types of watersheds, impacts from various pollutants and poor land uses, and mitigation measures through various regulatory measures and best management practices (BMPs). Several weekend field trips are required, and a class project will be assigned involving some aspect of watershed protection strategy.

ENVS 695Master Thesis3 semester hoursENVS 698*Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursENVS 699*Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursEnvironmental Studies

EVST 100Introduction to Environmental Studies3 semester hours*

The course is an overview of issues in environmental studies from the perspective of the humanities and social sciences. Topics may include philosophical, theological, historical, economic, and/or political analyses of environmental issues.

EVST 198Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursEVST 199*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursEVST 298*Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursEVST 299*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursEVST 398*Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursEVST 399*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursEVST 401*Environmental Studies Capstone Seminar3 semester hours*

A capstone seminar in which student groups will bring to bear the multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary perspectives they have developed in the minor by analyzing a local Environmental Impact Report (EIR).

Consent of Director required.

EVST 498Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursEVST 499*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

European StudiesEURO 181*European Language and Culture I3 semester hours*

Introduction to a specific European language. Designed for complete beginners. No placement test necessary upon on-site arrival.

Only available to LMU Study Abroad Program students.

Repeatable up to four times, as long as each is a different language (FREN, GRMN, ITAL, SPAN).

EURO 182European Language and Culture II3 semester hours*

Designed for false beginners—i.e., students who either took a language a long time ago and do not remember it, or students who were exposed to the language, but not in a formal way—in a specific European language. Students will take a placement test upon on-site arrival to be assigned to the appropriate level.

Only available to LMU Study Abroad Program students.

Repeatable up to four times, as long as each is a different language (FREN, GRMN, ITAL, SPAN).

EURO 198Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursEURO 199*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursEURO 283*European Language and Culture III3 semester hours*

Designed for students with intermediate proficiency in a specific European language. Students will take a placement test upon on-site arrival to be assigned to the appropriate level.

Only available to LMU Study Abroad Program students.

Repeatable up to four times, as long as each is a different language (FREN, GRMN, ITAL, SPAN).

EURO 284European Language Culture IV3 semester hours*

Designed for students with intermediate to advanced proficiency in a specific European language. Students will take a placement test upon on-site arrival to be assigned to the appropriate level.

Only available to LMU Study Abroad Program students.

Repeatable up to four times, as long as each is a different language (FREN, GRMN, ITAL, SPAN).

EURO 371Poetics of Modern Landscape3 semester hours*

A comparative study of the poetics of modern landscape as reflected in contemporary French/European literature and the arts.

(This course can fulfill some of the requirements for the major in European Studies.)

Only available to students in the LMU Summer Study Abroad Program in Paris, France.

EURO 373Paris Metisse: Multiculturalism in Paris3 semester hours*

The course's objective is to understand the concept of "metissage" in contemporary Parisian society through contact with the modern arts—poetic, pictorial, and musical—through an analysis of various texts and through personal interviews with exiles.

(This course can fulfill some of the requirements for the major in European Studies.)

Only available to students in the LMU Summer Study Abroad Program in Paris, France.

EURO 381British Life and Cultures3 semester hours*

This course will cover the historical processes that have shaped British society and that govern the social attitudes and outlook of modern Britons.

(This course can fulfill some of the requirements for the major in European Studies.)

Only available to students in the LMU Semester Study Abroad Program in London, England.

Executive MBA Program

MBAP 601Financial Accounting

1 TO 4 semester hours

This course introduces the role of accounting in business and society, the basic concepts and techniques of financial accounting, and use of financial statements for decision-making purposes.

MBAP 602Managerial Accounting

1 TO 4 semester hours

This course presents the nature, techniques, and uses of accounting from a manager's perspective. Topics include interpreting quality of earnings, alternative accounting measurement techniques, and operational decision making.

MBAP 603Business Analytics

1 TO 4 semester hours

Covers data analysis through descriptive statistics techniques, an introduction to quantifying uncertainty through the use of probabilities and decision trees, and an introduction to basic regression analysis tools for business forecasting.

MBAP 604Applied Business Economics

1 TO 4 semester hours

This course applies economic concepts and tools to solve contemporary, real-world business problems. Includes economic terminology, issues and methods, determinants of supply and demand, elasticity concepts, understanding the economics of the firm, and characteristics of alternative market structures.

MBAP 608Managerial Finance

1 TO 4 semester hours

Financial planning and analysis for businesses. Emphasizes long-term investment, securities and business valuation, risk vs. return analysis, long-term and short-term financing alternatives, and working capital management.

MBAP 609Finance, Valuation, and Capital Budgeting

1 TO 4 semester hours

This course reviews and builds on the finance materials covered in MBAP 608. Advanced applications include capital budgeting expanded to include real options, valuation using market multiples, and agency cost framework for understanding financing choices made by corporations.

MBAP 611Corporate Expansion Analytics

1 TO 4 semester hours

This real-world skill application project ties the course work together and provides actual practice in using quantitative data to support a major financial decision.

MBAP 612Leadership Practicum

1 TO 4 semester hours

This skill application project includes a capstone business simulation, in which students will understand how to use one's own leadership style more effectively.

MBAP 613Business Opportunity Assessment1 TO 4 semester hours*

This skill application project involves the identification and evaluation of an international business opportunity. A major report and presentation integrate module concepts into a supportable recommendation for board-level decision.

MBAP 614Strategic Opportunity Implementation1 TO 4 semester hours*

This skill application project is a comprehensive implementation plan for the business opportunity identified and evaluated in the Module 3 skill application project.

MBAP 615Field Consulting Project1 TO 4 semester hours*

In this course, student teams conduct an in-depth study of an actual business, usually a small disadvantaged or non-profit enterprise. Acting as consultants to the enterprise, students apply concepts learned in the classroom to actual business situations, and their recommendations and solutions carry real consequences. Students gain a framework for managing a consulting project and practice the art of quickly turning complex information into effective oral and written presentations.

MBAP 616New Venture Start Up1 TO 4 semester hours*

This course introduces entrepreneurship as an integral part of our economy at the local, regional, national and global levels. Students will gain knowledge and skills that will enable successful entrepreneurial careers in both small and large organizations, and students will learn the application steps in starting a new venture and preparing a business plan for this venture.

MBAP 622Strategic Human Resource Management1 TO 4 semester hours*

Introduces students to key human capital management concepts and tools for managing individual and organizational performance. Includes human capital and organizational performance; HR strategy development and planning; HR "best practices"; establishing, evaluating, and rewarding performance; high performance management practices; recruitment/retention of superior staff; knowledge management; and work design.

MBAP 623Leadership in the 21st Century1 TO 4 semester hours*

Addresses what it means to be a leader in the 21st century. Focuses on three areas related to leadership: the key framework that defines a leader; the key issues a leader encounters in daily work, such as managing people, professional growth planning, and providing feedback and coaching; and the context within which the leader operates, including organizational change, climate and culture, and organizational power and politics.

MBAP 624The Manager as Decision Maker1 TO 4 semester hours*

Integrates two different but related decision-making theories: prescriptive (normative) theory and behavioral theory. On the prescriptive side, typical decision-making problems are investigated from problem statement through to solution analysis. On the behavioral side, decision making is investigated from the perspective of how the decision maker is influenced by non-quantitative information.

MBAP 625Managing Technology1 TO 4 semester hours*

Introduces key concepts and tools for leveraging and managing information technology (IT) for business results, including IT literacy, business megatrends where technology is often deployed, foundational rule-breaking technologies, and the IT maturity curve and its usage.

MBAP 626Executive Communications I1 TO 4 semester hours*

This course includes basic elements of corporate communication strategy with an emphasis on writing, presenting, and listening.

MBAP 627Executive Communications II1 TO 4 semester hours*

Emphasizes developing and delivering effective presentations.

MBAP 628Business Research Skills1 TO 4 semester hours*

The course introduces students to business research methods and their application to optimizing strategic decisions. Students will complete a "hands-on" industry analysis project. As part of the project, students will learn how to plan and manage the execution of business research projects; how to identify, evaluate, and analyze publicly available data sources; and how to conduct data collection in the field (interviews with policy makers and business executives). Special attention will be placed on the development of students' teamwork skills. The project will conclude with a presentation and a research project.

MBAP 629Managing Innovation1 TO 4 semester hours*

This course introduces students to the innovation process within organizations. It examines the leadership, management, organizational, and cultural factors that either facilitate or inhibit innovation in organizations, whether it be in systems for new product development, services, operations, management, or administration. Students will research leading companies to identify and understand factors critical for their ability to sustain innovation. Upon completion of the course, students will gain an understanding of how innovation can contribute to a firm's strategy for sustaining competitive advantage.

MBAP 631Strategic Management1 TO 4 semester hours*

The first of two courses on Strategic Management. Addresses macro-level issues and how they impact the long-term direction of the firm. External forces (globalization, economic trends, technology trends, political and legal environment, and market trends) are analyzed and evaluated to determine strategies that will lead to and sustain a competitive advantage for the firm.

MBAP 632Applied Macro Economics1 TO 4 semester hours*

Explores how aggregate production and spending interact within free markets in the context of the global economy, including understanding how government policies, including monetary, fiscal, and regulatory policies, help shape the environment in which companies compete.

MBAP 633Business in the International Environment1 TO 4 semester hours*

Helps students understand the intricacy of the global political economy by understanding the issues involving international trade and investment for multinational corporations.

MBAP 634Applied Marketing and Marketing Strategy1 TO 4 semester hours*

The first of two marketing courses, where students come to understand how marketing translates the goals of the business into strategies and activities that create a sustainable competitive advantage. The goal is to reach a clear understanding of the elements used to create a marketing plan.

MBAP 635Legal Environment of Business1 TO 4 semester hours*

An introduction to business law in the United States, with emphasis on the court system and on contracts, which are basic to all business activities.

MBAP 641Executing Strategy in the Global Environment1 TO 4 semester hours*

This course focuses on the leader's role in setting, implementing, and controlling strategy. Students learn how to integrate and incorporate the leadership skills, competencies, and functional disciplines needed to strategically lead an enterprise in a responsible and ethical manner.

MBAP 642Deal Making1 TO 4 semester hours*

How to select an appropriate market-entry strategy from a range of reasonable alternatives. If the appropriate strategy requires a business combination of some type, students learn how and when to use the appropriate tools and skills to successfully complete various types of transactions, including mergers, acquisitions, joint ventures, and business alliances.

MBAP 643Strategic Marketing1 TO 4 semester hours*

This course builds upon the marketing concepts and processes explored in Module 3 (MBAP 634). Continues the transition already begun in Module 3 that addressed understanding the marketing environment (marketing mix and product strategies) to developing specific implementation strategies and tactics.

MBAP 644Corporate Governance1 TO 4 semester hours*

Helps students understand the role of corporate governance in protecting the interests of corporate stakeholders. Governance often refers to the formulation and administration of policies designed to protect such interests. Traditionally, corporate governance has been defined as a system that allocates duties and authority among a company's shareholders, board of directors, and managers. More recently, the definition has been expanded to include stakeholders other than shareholders such as employees, customers, suppliers, regulators, and communities.

MBAP 645Demonstrating Leadership1 TO 4 semester hours*

This course provides the perspective of senior managers and what and what they must do to successfully lead a firm in the 21st century. The course work emphasis alignment of strategy into action, change management, ethical decisions, and the role of the CEO as figurehead of the firm. Leadership concepts are compared across different industry and organizational settings. A major objective of the course is to "tie together" the leadership threads in the program by integrating leadership concepts learned with one's own personal leadership development experiences.

MBAP 646International Negotiations1 TO 4 semester hours*

In this course students learn how to negotiate effectively in cross-cultural contexts that impact business. Students are exposed to negotiation processes and will have opportunities of applying theoretical knowledge in negotiation simulations.

MBAP 651Introduction to Executive Leadership1 TO 4 semester hours*

The program begins with a four-day residential retreat where students set learning goals, form study teams, and engage in a variety of workshops and team-building exercises. A workshop specifically designed for students and their spouses/significant others addresses the importance of achieving balance between family, work, and school, and introduces the Spouse/Partner Support Program.

MBAP 652Field Study: Innovation in Practice1 TO 4 semester hours*

This course supplements the Managing Innovation course (MBAP 629). The main component of the course is a domestic field trip to leading companies to study how their leadership, management, organizational, and cultural factors contribute to sustaining innovation in their respective organizations.

MBAP 653Field Study: Business in the International Environment1 TO 4 semester hours*

This course supplements the Strategic Opportunity Implementation course (MBAP 614). Students draw on the international field trip's lectures, site visits, presentations, and cultural experiences to gain insights and key "lessons learned" regarding the unique issues, challenges, and potential benefits of conducting business in an international setting. The course includes identifying and assessing major trends (e.g., economic, political, cultural) impacting a U.S. firm seeking to conduct business in a foreign setting and applying the insights gained from their international field trip experience to their own respective individual work environments.

MBAP 661Team Performance and Group Dynamics1 TO 4 semester hours*

Helps student study teams perform more effectively in skill application projects, and teaches students about teams and team building so they can use teams more effectively as executives. Includes determinants of team success, developing a team mission and operation guidelines, and monitoring team performance.

MBAP 662Ethics and Spirituality in the Workplace1 TO 4 semester hours*

Effective business leadership requires a commitment to personal leadership development and formation in order to fully realize one's personal goals and maximize the value of the organization and the contribution it makes to stakeholders and society at large. This approach defines valuation in its broadest sense and links one's development as a principle-based leader to how an organization identifies and implements core values within the enterprise.

MBAP 663

HHSC 230Nutrition3 semester hours*

The study of nutrients and their functions, recommended nutrient intakes, and dietary adequacy while focusing on how to apply this knowledge personally. Emphasis on nutritional roles in health status and chronic disease. Exploration of how behavior change plays a role in nutrition and a healthy lifestyle.

Lecture, 3 hours.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

HHSC 255

Human Anatomy and Physiology II

3 semester hours

Continuation of comprehensive coverage of anatomy and physiology for the pre-health professions major. Topics include blood, cardiovascular, lymphatic, immune, respiratory, digestive, urinary, and reproductive systems.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: HHSC 155.

Corequisite: HHSC 256.

HHSC 256

Human Anatomy and Physiology II Lab

1 semester hour

Companion lab course to HHSC 255.

Laboratory, 4 hours.

Corequisite: HHSC 255.

HHSC 278

Science, Nutrition, and Health

3 semester hours

The study of nutrients and their functions, recommended nutrient intakes, and dietary adequacy while focusing on how to apply this knowledge personally. Emphasis on nutritional roles in health status and chronic disease. Exploration of how behavior change plays a role in nutrition and a healthy lifestyle.

Non-HHSC majors only.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

HHSC 301

Athletic Training Practicum I

1 semester hour

Supervised experience in an athletic training environment. Additional study required with an emphasis on taping/bracing and athletic injury management. The affiliated clinical rotation occurs in the LMU Athletic Training Room.

Formal acceptance in the ATEP required.

Prerequisite: HHSC 160.

HHSC 302

Athletic Training Practicum II

2 semester hours

Supervised experience in an athletic training environment. Additional study required with an emphasis on upper extremity evaluation. The affiliated clinical rotation occurs at any of the following sites: LMU, local high school, or junior college athletic training facility.

Formal acceptance into the ATEP required.

Prerequisites: HHSC 301 and HHSC 361.

HHSC 303

Athletic Training Practicum III

2 semester hours

Supervised experience in an athletic training environment. Additional study required, with an emphasis on lower extremity evaluation. The affiliated clinical rotation occurs at any of the following sites: LMU, local high school, or junior college athletic training facility.

Formal acceptance into the ATEP required.

Prerequisites: HHSC 302 and HHSC 361.

HHSC 304

Athletic Training Practicum IV

2 semester hours

Supervised experience in an athletic training environment. Additional study required, with an emphasis on therapeutic modalities. The affiliated clinical rotation occurs at a local physical therapy clinic.

Formal acceptance into the ATEP required.

Prerequisites: HHSC 303 and HHSC 460.

HHSC 310

Test and Measurements

3 semester hours

Study of measurement techniques and instruments, descriptive and inferential statistics and evaluation procedures in human performance. Assessment of cognitive, physical, and motor domains through test construction, administration, and interpretation are the central content areas of the course. An original research proposal including statistical design is required.

Lecture, 3 hours.

HHSC 311

Test and Measurement Lab

1 semester hour

HHSC 320

Obesity and Behavior

3 semester hours

This course will examine how body composition, endocrinology, and obesity-related tissue inflammation relate to chronic disease. Special emphasis on the burden of chronic disease in medically underserved communities, as well as disparities in nutritional options and opportunities for physical activity. This course will integrate a service-learning component in disease prevention and health promotion to foster culturally and environmentally appropriate application of theory in public health.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101; HHSC 230 or HHSC 278.

HHSC 321

Obesity and Behavior Lab

1 semester hour

Companion lab course to HHSC 320. Laboratory and fieldwork experiences to provide training in characterizing the burden of obesity-related diseases within a target population. Special emphasis on body composition and biomarkers.

Corequisite: HHSC 320.

HHSC 322

Public Health

3 semester hours

This course will emphasize the role of built, social, and political environments as determinants of public health in geographic communities and among communities of workers. Provides an overview of population dynamics (growth/decline, distribution, fertility, morbidity, migration, maternal and child health). Includes occupational and community-level assessment of medical risks, pollution, sanitation, disability, injury, and death. Will also address primary occupational hazards and the potential for direct and indirect impact on the health of surrounding communities.

HHSC 330

Medical Nutrition Therapy

3 semester hours

This course requires application of nutritional principles for use in preventing or treating various pathological conditions. Common dysfunction of the cardiovascular, respiratory, renal, gastrointestinal, endocrine systems and more will be covered in relationship to dietary prevention and intervention using the Nutrition Care Process.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: HHSC 255, HHSC 256, and HHSC 230 or HHSC 278.

HHSC 331

Medical Nutrition Therapy Laboratory

1 semester hour

Methods of nutritional assessment will be learned while utilizing the Nutrition Care Process for developing diagnoses. Students will conduct biochemical tests commonly used by dietitians to evaluate nutritional status. This course requires hands-on application of nutritional principles for use in preventing or treating various medical conditions. Pathologies of the cardiovascular, hematological, endocrine systems and more will be covered in relationship to dietary assessment and status.

Prerequisites: HHSC 255, HHSC 256, and HHSC 230 or HHSC 278.

Corequisite: HHSC 330.

HHSC 334

Sports Medicine Teaching Workshop

3 semester hours

The course focuses on taking the knowledge that students have gained in their major and implementing it in a community-based learning setting at Westchester Enriches Sciences Magnet High School.

HHSC 335

Global Nutrition

3 semester hours

Nutritional science will be covered in relation to global perspectives, culture, religion, and environmental issues. Physiological explanation to under nutrition and strategies to overcome them will be examined. Nutrition-related chronic diseases in various nations will be investigated. Discussion will include the influence of culture and religion on dietary practices and nutrient intake. Study will include topics of world hunger, food safety, genetically modified foods, and organic/sustainable farming practices. The agricultural approach to farming and its influence on the environment, our food supply, and ultimately our health will be studied.

Prerequisite: HHSC 230 or HHSC 278.

Corequisite: HHSC 336.

Majors only.

HHSC 336

Nutrition Service Learning Lab

1 semester hour

Advanced analysis of nutritional science topics including food safety, accessibility to healthy food, diet analysis, and food quality, especially in its relationship to health and chronic disease. Matters of hunger and poverty will be discussed in this community-based learning course which requires organized service, guided reflection, and critical analysis.

HHSC 342

Peer Health Education

3 semester hours

This course is designed to challenge and expand the students' beliefs and perceptions about health and wellness through active discussion and exercises in introspection. Students will receive current information on the most pressing and relevant issues related to the college population including general wellness, public health issues (current and future), nutrition/exercise, sexual health and identity, body image/eating disorders, stress management, sexual assault, and substance abuse (alcohol and drugs). Students will research and present on a health related topic to enhance their presentation and communication skills.

Lecture, 3 hours.

HHSC 344

Global and Community Health

3 semester hours

This course will address all different kinds of health issues in the local community and around the globe. Global and Community Health will address issues on LMU's campus, in Los Angeles, in the United States, and in other regions of the world. These aspects of health include physical, intellectual, social, spiritual, and emotional. The primary topics will be health promotion, disease prevention, health systems, consumer health issues, communicable diseases, and chronic health problems. Each of these issues will be addressed from the perspective of each of the communities previously stated. Critical thinking will be a major component of this course, and ethical and environmental considerations will also be addressed. The topics will be timely and applicable to current health concerns around the globe. There will also be a focus on health promotion and how best to address the health concerns in the variety of communities discussed.

HHSC 350

Exercise for Special Populations

3 semester hours

This course is designed for the future allied health professionals who would like to further their knowledge in the area of appropriate physical activity management for individuals with disabilities and chronic diseases. The course will cover, but is not limited to, the following topics: ADA and CA public school law, disability etiquette, etiology, epidemiology and pathophysiology of various chronic diseases and disabilities, role of physical activity in lives of persons with disabilities/chronic diseases. The course will include a community based learning component.

HHSC 360

Upper Extremity Evaluation

3 semester hours

In-depth instruction on anatomy and functional abilities of the upper extremity. Emphasis on the assessment techniques for recognizing and evaluating athletic-related injuries. Additional concentration on the cervical region and postural issues of the spine will be addressed.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: HHSC 255 and HHSC 256 or concurrent enrollment.

HHSC 361

Lower Extremity Evaluation

3 semester hours

In-depth instruction on anatomy and functional abilities of the lower extremity. Emphasis on the assessment techniques for recognizing and evaluating athletic-related injuries. Additional concentration on the thoracic, lumbar, and sacral regions of the spine and gait analysis will be addressed.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: HHSC 255 and HHSC 256 or concurrent enrollment; HHSC 360 .

HHSC 375

Science Principles of Strength and Conditioning

3 semester hours

Scientific Principles of Strength and Conditioning is intended to introduce the science and physiology behind strength training and conditioning. Oftentimes the strength and conditioning issues are misunderstood due to common popular myths. Sound scientific principles will be used to dispel such ideas. A variety of strength training and conditioning topics will be covered in order to prepare a student who is interested in becoming a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS) or a Certified Personal Trainer (CPT) through the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA).

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: HHSC 255 and HHSC 256.

HHSC 376Strength Physiology Assessment Laboratory1 semester hour*

This course is meant to provide students with experiences in exercise technique, assessment, and instruction methodology. Students will gain the requisite applied skills and experiences necessary to become recognized by the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) as a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS).

Corequisite: HHSC 375.

HHSC 380Kinesiology3 semester hours*

Study of the human body in motion. Topics include the application of principles of mechanics to anatomical systems; neuromuscular basis of movement; analysis of skills used in exercise science and by the physically active.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: HHSC 255 and HHSC 256.

HHSC 381Kinesiology Lab1 semester hour*

Study of the human body in motion. Topics include the application of principles of mechanics to anatomical systems; neuromuscular basis of movement; analysis of skills used in exercise science and by the physically active.

Prerequisites: HHSC 255 and HHSC 256.

Corequisite: HHSC 380.

HHSC 385Motor Development3 semester hours*

A study of motor, physical, and neuromuscular development from prenatal periods to mature age.

Lecture, 3 hours.

HHSC 398Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursHHSC 401*Athletic Training Internship I2 semester hours*

Supervised experience in an athletic training environment. Additional study required, with an emphasis on therapeutic rehabilitation. The affiliated clinical rotation occurs at any of the following sites: LMU, local high school, college, or junior college athletic training facility.

Formal acceptance into the ATEP required.

Prerequisites: HHSC 304 and HHSC 461.

HHSC 402Athletic Training Internship II2 semester hours*

Supervised experience in an athletic training environment. Additional study required, with an emphasis on pharmacology and general medical conditions. The affiliated clinical rotation occurs at any of the following sites: LMU, local high school, or junior college athletic training facility.

Formal acceptance into the ATEP required.

Prerequisite: HHSC 401.

HHSC 403Senior Seminar in Athletic Training1 semester hour*

Preparation for the National Athletic Trainers' Association Board of Certification Exam. Attention will be focused on a review of the NATA Athletic Training Educational Competencies. Pharmacological issues as they pertain to athletic performance will be addressed.

Prerequisite: HHSC 401.

Corequisite: HHSC 402.

HHSC 412Administration in Sports Medicine3 semester hours*

Addresses organization and administration of athletic training programs both in athletic training rooms and clinical sites. Areas such as building a facility, legal issues, staffing, budgeting, insurance, computer use, record keeping, emergency care planning, and public relations will be discussed.

Lecture, 3 hours.

HHSC 413Medical Bioethics3 semester hours*

Bioethics is a field of study directed to the interdisciplinary ethical analysis of the moral dimensions of health professional practice; this includes an analysis of moral character and vision, judgment, decision making, clinical practices, health policies, etc. Toward this end, the goals of this course are: 1) to introduce the wide range of ethical issues in health care; 2) to familiarize students with the bioethical literature that addresses these issues; 3) to develop the basic skills of analysis, interpretation, moral communication, and argument used in bioethics, especially as it affects nurses and physicians, functioning separately and jointly, and 4) to facilitate the application of those habits of thought that integrate bioethics into the intellectual and moral life of physicians and nurses.

Lecture, 3 hours.

HHSC 420Chronic Disease and Injury Epidemiology3 semester hours*

Epidemiology is the study of health, illness, and associated factors as the population level. Overview of the history of the discipline, association and causality, and exploration of cross-sectional and case-control research will be completed in order to understand the epidemiological basis for preventative medicine. Emphasis on study design, data and specimen collection, and data analysis.

Lecture, 3 Hours

Prerequisites: BIOL 101 and MATH 104.

Corequisite: HHSC 421.

HHSC 421Chronic Disease and Injury Epidemiology Lab1 semester hour*

Companion lab course to HHSC 420. This course will provide computer-based instruction in how to manage and analyze epidemiological and public health data.

Corequisite: HHSC 420.

HHSC 430Advanced Nutrition3 semester hours*

Chemical and physiological studies of carbohydrate, protein, and lipid metabolism. Application to the normal nutrition of human beings with special focus on optimal health, disease prevention, and athletic performance. Special focus on commonly problematic vitamin and minerals and critical analysis of current "hot topics" in nutrition media and research. Evaluation and interpretation of nutritional research methodology of recent peer-reviewed publications.

Prerequisite: HHSC 230 or HHSC 278.

HHSC 434

Pathology

3 semester hours

This course is intended to introduce students to general medical topics and skills that relate to areas of study, including athletic training, physical therapy, occupational therapy, and other healthcare professions. Topics covered in this course will include clinical decision-making, major diseases of the body systems and differential diagnosis. Medical management will also be discussed for the various conditions and illnesses, allowing for athletic trainers/healthcare providers to gain awareness into their role into the treatment/management of the systemic disease and recognize how the treatment may impact participation in physical activity.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: HHSC 255 and HHSC 256.

HHSC 440

Medical Microbiology

3 semester hours

An overview of the biology of microorganisms, including protists, fungi, bacteria, and viruses with special emphasis on the ecology and features of disease-causing microorganisms; control of microorganism and antibiotics; development and function of the Immune System; Vaccination, Autoimmune diseases, and Hypersensitivities; principals of infectious disease and epidemiology; the pathogenesis and clinical features of a number of infectious diseases, including emerging, re-emerging, tropical and common infectious diseases will be covered.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite of BIOL 201.

Corequisite: HHSC 441.

HHSC 441

Medical Microbiology Laboratory

1 semester hour

Basic techniques for the handling and culture of bacteria; sterile technique, sample collection, and isolation of bacteria; staining and microscopy, characterization and identification of unknown bacteria; quantitation of bacteria and evaluation of antimicrobial agents; diagnostic testing.

Corequisite: HHSC 440.

HHSC 460

Therapeutic Modalities in Sports Medicine

3 semester hours

Provides information regarding the physics and physiological effects of athletic training modalities. Gain understanding of the inflammatory process and pain management in relation to athletic injuries. Includes the physiological reactions, contraindications, and indications to such modalities as heat, cold, electricity, ultrasound, water, and massage. Instruction on proper use and application of specific modalities.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: HHSC 255 and HHSC 256.

Corequisite: HHSC 466.

HHSC 461

Therapeutic Rehabilitation in Sports Medicine

3 semester hours

Instruction on how to design, implement, and supervise rehabilitation programs for sports-related injuries and conditions. Theoretical and clinical bases for the use of therapeutic exercises, basic biomechanics, indications, contraindications, and proper application of exercises in therapeutic rehabilitation.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: HHSC 255, HHSC 256, and HHSC 360.

HHSC 466

Therapeutic Modalities in Sports Medicine Lab

1 semester hour

This is the laboratory component to accompany HHSC 460 Therapeutic Modalities in Sports Medicine. This class will focus on the practical aspect of modalities. These modalities include: heat and cold, ultrasound, electrotherapy, laser, and compression, among others.

Corequisite: HHSC 460.

HHSC 475

Exercise Physiology

3 semester hours

In-depth exploration of the acute and chronic changes to physiology that occur with exercise. Focus on the cardiovascular, respiratory, muscular, and endocrinology systems including the study of metabolism and fuel sources.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: HHSC 255 and HHSC 256.

Corequisite: HHSC 476.

HHSC 476

Exercise Physiology Lab

1 semester hour

Measurement of the physiological mechanisms responsible for adaptations to acute and chronic exercise. Develop fitness assessment techniques and their applications to health and exercise performance. Gain hands-on experience with equipment/instrumentation.

Laboratory, 3 hours.

Corequisite: HHSC 475.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Writing.

HHSC 480

Biomechanics

3 semester hours

An analytical approach to the mechanics of human motion. Kinetics and kinematics of human movement as it pertains to bone, joint cartilage, and connective tissue will be discussed. Consideration towards the forces at major points of the human body and their relations to musculoskeletal injuries.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: HHSC 380.

HHSC 481

Biomechanics Laboratory

1 semester hour

An analytical approach to the mechanics of human motion. Kinetics and kinematics of human movement as it pertains to bone, joint cartilage, and connective tissue will be discussed. Consideration towards the forces at major points of the human body and their relations to musculoskeletal injuries.

Laboratory, 1 hour.

Corequisite: HHSC 480.

HHSC 485

Motor Learning

3 semester hours

A study of factors involved in the learning and performance of motor skills.

Lecture, 3 hours.

HHSC 490Health and Human Sciences Teaching0 TO 1 semester hour*

Guided teaching of undergraduate laboratories.

May be repeated for credit.

Consent of instructor required.

CR/NC grading.

HHSC 495Allied Health Internship1 semester hour*

Clinical, hands-on, and/or observational experience for 60 hours in an allied health setting such as: hospital, clinic, or health facility. Guided instruction on professional development and graduate school preparation. Prior approval from instructor is required.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Engaged Learning.

HHSC 497Allied Health Internship II1 TO 5 semester hours*

Clinical, hands-on, and/or observational experience for 60 hours per semester hour of academic credit in an allied health setting such as: hospital, clinic, or health facility. Prior approval from instructor is required. This course taken for CR/NC only.

Prerequisite: HHSC 495 or concurrent enrollment.

HHSC 498Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursHHSC 499*Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursMATH 204*Applied Statistics3 semester hours*

This course provides an introduction to statistics emphasizing data analysis and applications to life sciences. Topics include: descriptive statistics, elementary probability, various discrete and continuous distributions, confidence intervals and hypothesis tests for means and proportions, correlation and linear regression, as well as analysis of variance. This course will also include the use of computer programs to analyze data sets.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Quantitative Reasoning.

Prerequisite: MATH 122 or MATH 131.

History

HIST 198Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursHIST 199*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursHIST 298*Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursHIST 299*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursHIST 300*Global Encounters pre-15003 semester hours*

A history of global encounters among the regions of the Middle East, the Mediterranean World, Europe, and Asia. It will include a focus on the exchange of ideas, trade, and cultural developments.

HIST 301Global Encounters post-15003 semester hours*

A history of global encounters in the early modern and modern periods among the regions of Europe, the Americas, Africa, Asia, and the Middle East, with a focus on the movements of peoples, ideas, and goods, including cross-cultural encounters and trade and the development of a globalized economy.

HIST 310History and Historians3 semester hours*

An introduction to history as an intellectual discipline, focusing on the study and writing of history, including historiography and historical methods. Organized around the study of a particular historical issue or episode, this is an intensive course on how historians approach problems.

HIST 318Victorians to Moderns3 semester hours*

Covers the enormous changes in society and technology, art and science, gender and religion from Victoria's reign through the First World War and the Great Depression.

HIST 326Europe in the Long Nineteenth Century3 semester hours*

A study of the political, social, economic, intellectual, and cultural developments in Europe during the "long nineteenth century," from the French Revolution to the Great War.

HIST 32720th Century Europe3 semester hours*

A study of the political, social, economic, intellectual, and cultural developments in Europe from the Great War through the end of the twentieth century.

HIST 32820th-Century Eastern Europe3 semester hours*

A study of the political, social, economic, and cultural developments in the states between Germany and Russia from the collapse of the Habsburg, German, and Ottoman Empires after World War I to the Balkan Wars at the end of the twentieth century.

HIST 335Gender in European History3 semester hours*

A study of European history using gender as the primary category of analysis. The course examines how ideas about gender, the roles that men and women play in society, and notions about femininity and masculinity have structured European societies and the effects of that gendering.

HIST 348

Women in East Asian History

3 semester hours

An exploration of the ways in which specific institutional arrangements, political settlements, and economic changes informed the organization of family and lineages, inheritance practices, work, and thus shaped the lives of women.

HIST 351

American Reform Movements

3 semester hours

An examination of the major movements for reform of American society, with emphasis on abolitionism, Women's Rights, Progressivism, and Civil Rights.

HIST 352

Health and Disease in American Culture

3 semester hours

The history of health, disease, and medicine in the American social and cultural context, from the colonial period to the present.

HIST 354

Women in American History

3 semester hours

An exploration of women's experience in American history from the colonial period to the present, with emphasis on such variables as class, race/ethnicity, and region, as well as the impact of changing gender roles on American society, culture, and politics.

HIST 356

History of Childhood and the Family

3 semester hours

A history of childhood and the family from the colonial era to the present. Examines the diverse experiences of children and families in North America, with special attention to gender, race, class, and regional issues. Also explores how notions of childhood and the family changed over time.

HIST 357

Immigrant America

3 semester hours

The history of immigration to the United States from the colonial period to the present, focusing on immigrant experiences, transnational ties, immigration law, and citizenship, as well as the ways that race, class, gender, religion, and sexuality shaped Immigrant America.

HIST 360

Chicana/o History

3 semester hours

(See CHST 360.)

HIST 365

The American West

3 semester hours

The history of the American West from the seventeenth century to the present, focusing on settlement, Native American experience, economic development, environment, and the West in popular culture.

HIST 366

History of California

3 semester hours

The history of California from the eighteenth century to the present, focusing on migration, economic development, race and ethnic relations, and the relationship of the state to the rest of the world.

HIST 367

History of Los Angeles

3 semester hours

The history of Greater Los Angeles from the eighteenth century to the present, focusing on migration, economic development, race and ethnic relations, and the city's relationship to the rest of the world.

HIST 368

Hollywood and History

3 semester hours

An examination of the motion picture industry and the relationship of films to United States society from the early twentieth century to the present.

HIST 372

Mexico and the World

3 semester hours

The major social, political, and economic trends and events in Mexico from the Independence movement to the present. The course examines mass movements; leadership; popular culture; globalization; violence, gender, and drugs; and the political and cultural impact of changing domestic and international policies.

HIST 388

Imagining Asian Pacific America

3 semester hours

Using interdisciplinary approaches and cross-cultural perspectives, the class explores the ways in which certain Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders have been portrayed and, in turn, have portrayed themselves throughout historical time and space.

HIST 389

The Invention of Communities

3 semester hours

This class examines a multitude of socioeconomic, political, ideological, and cultural conditions that have caused the formation as well as the disintegration of communal bonds in 19th- and 20th-century United States.

HIST 390

African Kingdoms

3 semester hours

A study of significant kingdoms of Black Africa exploring the major themes of the period.

HIST 392

Colonial Africa, 1860-1980

3 semester hours

A study of the inception and development of European rule over various parts of Africa by European imperialists of the 19th and 20th centuries, leading to an examination of the processes by which African countries gained their independence in the second half of the 20th century.

HIST 396

Asian Empires

3 semester hours

An examination of the Qing Empire (1644-1911) and the Japanese Empire (1910-1945). Paying close attention to the process of empire-building and imperial administration, the course will evaluate the impact of these empires in East Asia, especially in relation to notions of resistance, cooptation, and cooperation.

HIST 397Popular Culture in East Asia3 semester hours*

An examination of the history of modern East Asia through the prism of its popular cultures with a focus on audio, visual, and literary representations from that region in relation to decolonization, nation-building, democracy, identity-formation, and globalization

HIST 398Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursHIST 399*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursHIST 405*Ancient Greece3 semester hours*

Explores the origins of the Greeks from Homeric times to the death of Philip of Macedon. Topics include the developments of political forms, including democracy, and most notably, drama and philosophy against the background of war and conflict

HIST 406Alexander and the Hellenistic World3 semester hours*

Examines the career and impact of Alexander the Great, particularly as seen in the expansion of Greek culture across the Mediterranean world and to the East as far as India. Topics include the Hellenization on non-Greeks, Jews, and Romans in particular, and the further development of philosophy and learning.

HIST 407Ancient Rome3 semester hours*

Studies the origins of the city of Rome with the Etruscans and its transformation into that of Romans, and how the Romans expanded through Italy and conquered the Mediterranean world, ca. 800 BC–AD 44. Topics include the issue of Romanization, political development, the idea of empire, and the assimilation of Greek culture.

HIST 408Imperial Rome3 semester hours*

Explores the world of Imperial Rome from Britain to Mesopotamia, from the reign of Augustus to the end of classical antiquity, ca. 27 BC–AD 600. Topics include Romanization and the imperial system, the origins, survival, and victory of Christianity, and Rome's struggles with Persians and Germans.

HIST 410History of Byzantine Empire3 semester hours*

A study of the eastern Roman Empire to its fall in 1453. Topics include the Byzantine recovery, the Slavic and Moslem invasions, and the Crusades.

HIST 411The Rise of Medieval Europe3 semester hours*

Traces the emergence of a coherent European civilization from the collapse of Roman power in the fifth century to the rise of new forms of Latin Christian unity in the eighth through eleventh centuries.

HIST 412The Transformation of Medieval Europe3 semester hours*

Examines the fragmentation of the medieval forms of European unity from the twelfth through sixteenth centuries. Topics include political and social change, questions of authority, and religious strife.

HIST 414The Crusades3 semester hours*

HIST 416Pagans and Saints: Christian Missionaries to 17003 semester hours*

Studies the interactions between Christian missionaries and non-Christian peoples from the Roman period to the seventeenth century. Topics include the spread of Christianity to Ireland, Germanic Europe, and the Mongols, as well as missionary encounters with China, Japan, and the New World. A principal focus will be on the methods used by preachers to spread their message and the ways native cultures helped shape Christianity.

HIST 418The Viking World3 semester hours*

Explores Viking society from the late eighth to the early eleventh century, including the reasons for the Scandinavian invasions of early-medieval Europe, the course and consequences of Viking activity in the British Isles and France, the wider settlement of the Norse from Russian to Greenland and North America, and the Christianization of the Viking world.

HIST 425The French Revolution3 semester hours*

An inquiry into the causes of the fall of the French monarchy, the creation of a civic order, a new political culture, and the impact of war and terror on French society.

HIST 430The Rise of Russia, 900-18253 semester hours*

A study of the origins of the Russian Empire from the arrival of the Vikings to the emergence of Russia as a Great Power. Topics include autocracy, serfdom, religious revolts, imperial expansion, and competitive emulation of the West.

HIST 431Modern Russia, 1825-19913 semester hours*

Traces the revolutionary challenges to the Romanov dynasty, attempts to modernize the multi-national empire, the revolution and civil war, and the interplay between communism and nationalism in the history of the Soviet Union.

HIST 435Modern Germany3 semester hours*

A study of the history of Germany from the establishment of the German nation-state to the present, including the two world wars, the

Weimar Republic, Nazism and the Holocaust, the two Germanies of the Cold War period, and German unification.

HIST 446

Modern Britain and the British Empire

3 semester hours

A study of how Britain became the world's first industrial nation, came to rule over a quarter of the world's population, became a democracy, lost an empire, and joined the European Union.

HIST 447

Modern Ireland

3 semester hours

Covers key events of Ireland's struggle for independence, incorporating debates about the uses of history and memory, the formation of national identity, and the politics of nostalgia.

HIST 450

Modern Greek History and Society

3 semester hours

An examination of the crises and challenges that have shaped modern Greek society, the transformations that have taken place, and the culture and literature it produced.

HIST 455

The Ottoman Empire

3 semester hours

This course examines the history of the Ottoman Empire from the 13th century to the end of WWI. It focuses on Ottoman political, legal, and social institutions and practices as they evolved over time.

HIST 456

HMNT 491Nineteenth-Century Global Travelers3 semester hours*

Exploring colonial expansion during the nineteenth century, this course examines the impact imperial endeavors had on literary and visual production. We'll look at how encounters with other peoples and nations shaped British identity and indigenous populations within the contact zone. In addition to engaging with postcolonial theories, this course is also interested in how new technologies, such as lithography and photography, rendered distant people and worlds legible to British subjects; how guidebooks helped form the new identity of the tourist; and how women played a role within Britain's expanding empire. During the semester, we'll not only read and interpret novels, poems, travel writing, photography, and early films but also investigate the culture of world fairs (exhibitions that brought "exotic" spaces to the metropole), national museums, and the emergent field of ethnography. While the course will explore nineteenth-century visual cultures, its focus will be on British literature from Coleridge's "Kubla Khan" and Flora Tristan's Peregrinations of a Pariah to Dickens's Little Dorritt and Gilbert and Sullivan's The Mikado.

Junior or senior standing, or consent of instructor required.

HMNT 493Literature, Photography, and the Uncanny3 semester hours*

This course explores the intimate connection between writing and photography, looking at the ways in which writers mobilize photography in different literary forms from the short story to detective fiction. If today we understand the photograph as a privileged source of evidence, our selection of texts challenges the comfortable maxim that "seeing is believing." Pairing texts on photographic practice and theories of photography such as Henry Fox Talbot's The Pencil of Nature with fiction that draws on the emergent technology of photography such as George Eliot's The Lifted Veil, we'll investigate how literature borrows from the language of photography in complex ways—not simply as a shorthand for presenting the "real" but as a means of questioning representation and documentation itself. Through historical and theoretical approaches to photography and fiction, we'll focus on texts from the 1830s to 1930s, examining different methods of approaching the word-image divide. We'll also look at twenty-first century deployments of photography in the book, concentrating on W.G. Sebald's The Rings of Saturn. What do these hybrid books tell us about writing and photography?

Junior or senior standing, or consent of instructor required.

HMNT 497Capstone Project1 semester hour*

The capstone project consists of a portfolio which summarizes the student's interdisciplinary course of study and shows how the student has integrated his or her coursework and met the objectives of the Humanities major.

Credit/No Credit grading.

Senior standing required.

MBAI 610Management Strategy3 semester hours*

This course deals with the strategic direction of the firm. Tools for the in-depth analysis of industries and competition and techniques for the analysis and creation of competitive advantage are presented. Issues of both formulation and implementation of strategy within the firm are explored. This course seeks to develop the capability to understand and evaluate a firm's strategic situation in depth, and to advance viable approaches to addressing the key issues facing it.

Prerequisites: MBAA 601, MBAA 602, MBAA 603, MBAA 604, MBAA 605, MBAA 606, MBAA 607, MBAA 608, MBAA 609.

MBAI 688CMS Preparation—Fall0 semester hours*

This noncredit class is required for CMS activities and mandatory for those planning to participate in the CMS class departing in May. Students will register for this class as they would for any Fall semester course. No tuition is paid at the time of registration, but rather a CMS travel deposit is required. The class will meet one Saturday per month. The schedule will be posted outside the MBA Office.

MBAI 689CMS Preparation—Spring0 semester hours*

This noncredit class is equivalent to MBAI 688, but takes place in the Spring. Students will pay the remaining travel costs required for the CMS trip to be determined by the MBA Office. The balance will be due upon registration.

Prerequisite: MBAI 688.

MBAI 690International Regional Strategies: Cultural and Industrial3 semester hours*

Class sessions held over each month emphasize tools of analysis and comparison, international strategy, regional studies and the industry that has been selected for the year's focus. Individual papers are written on cultural aspects of the international region to be visited and on the group process to date. Group papers are written on the industry, and group presentations are given on visits to representative local firms visited by each group.

Prerequisites: Completion of the core plus MBAI 688 and MBAI 689.

MBAI 691Comparative Management Systems (CMS)3 semester hours*

The CMS course commences immediately at the conclusion of MBAI 690. Students continue with the same groups to visit business firms in a number of different countries. Their preparation in the previous course provides them a significant degree of industry and cultural awareness.

The duration of the trip is about three weeks. En route, the student groups conduct pre-arranged visits to firms in the designated industry and meet with executives who manage their group's functional area. After each visit, the groups make informal presentations to the rest of the class integrating information gleaned from the visit with that from previous visits. Additional visits with relevant government and industry organizations are included for overall learning enrichment.

At the conclusion of the course, each student submits a final analysis of his/her group. Sub groups write papers on topics of interest and present them to their peers in an academic conference.

Although students may have only one integrative course sequence in their MBA program, it is possible for students to participate a second time in the CMS experience on a directed study elective (MBAG 698) basis.

Prerequisite: MBAI 690.

MBAI 692Integrative Project3 semester hours*

This course provides an opportunity for the student to integrate three fields of study in solving on-the-job problems or by doing primary research. An intensive original research study within one field may also be acceptable. Admission requires approval of the Integrative Project Coordinator. The student works independently with the Integrative Project Coordinator in completing the project. Each project is an effort that is unique to the student and his/her field of study and provides a definite state of the art advancement.

Prerequisite: MBAI 610 or MBAI 690.

MBAI 697Internship Experience1 semester hour*

This one-semester-hour Credit/No Credit course will assist students in attaining practical experience relevant to the student's area of emphasis. Course is repeatable.

Italian

ITAL 101Elementary Italian I

3 semester hours

An introduction to Italian language and culture with emphasis on communicative skills, this course is designed for students who have little or no knowledge of Italian. Students will acquire the four basic language skills—listening, speaking, reading, and writing—in classes that are taught exclusively in Italian. Materials covered include an introduction to articles, pronouns, adjectives, prepositions, regular and irregular verbs in past and present tense indicative, and basic vocabulary on selected topics. Students are also introduced to the basic geography of Italy and to aspects of everyday Italian culture.

ITAL 102Elementary Italian II

3 semester hours

Emphasizing communicative and linguistic skills, this course is a continuation of ITAL 101. The principal goal of the curriculum is to develop the four basic language skills—listening, speaking, reading, and writing—in classes that are taught exclusively in Italian. New grammatical material introduced includes direct and indirect object pronouns, imperfect and future tenses, and the use of negative expressions. Students increase their vocabulary through further study of Italian culture past and present.

Prerequisite: ITAL 101 or equivalent.

MGMT 3680Mentoring and Management3 semester hours*

This course will help students increase professional skills by connecting them with a mentor. Students will be asked to formulate specific developmental goals that the mentor can provide with assistance in reaching. A broad overview to careers theory in general, and mentoring theories and practices in particular, will be provided. In addition to structured mentoring learning experiences, students will also have the opportunity to develop important work skills in planning, organizing, and managing a project. In some cases, mentors may involve protégés in projects related to their profession that will enable students to gain valuable hands-on experience. There may also be some projects available with non-profits and the First Year program on campus through collaboration with the Center for Service and Action for students and mentors to work on together. In this way, the class will embody the LMU mission of men and women in service for others. The first part of the class will be structured around addressing three basic questions: 1) Who am I? 2) What do I want (goals)? and 3) What is my plan for getting what I want and how will I give back? Students will answer each of these three questions by completing standardized assessments, undertaking a rigorous self-reflection, setting developmental goals, enhancing career-related skills, and by completing a professional development project.

Prerequisite: MGMT 3610.

MGMT 3697

Internship

MGMT 4640

Cross-Cultural Leadership

3 semester hours

This collaborative course examines what constitutes “effective” leadership across cultures, how to be an inclusive leader, and how to lead diverse groups. Students will be asked to describe leadership in particular cultures based on their research and/or personal experiences. The goal is to prepare students for leadership assignments outside their native countries and/or in cross-cultural teams.

Prerequisites: INBA 3810 and MGMT 3610.

MGMT 4650

Compensation and Rewards

3 semester hours

This advanced management elective deals with such topics as wage and salary administration, benefits administration (U.S. and international), performance management, governmental and legal issues, and budgeting and administration. The course presents practical tools, methods, and a systems perspective to help students understand the role of compensation (base pay and total compensation) in human resource management. Knowledge and skill development from this course is important for future HR professionals and general managers alike. Additionally, this course examines various theories, strategies, and actual practices of employee total compensation (including employee benefits and nonfinancial rewards). A central question throughout will be about what types and forms of compensation practices best motivate and stimulate performance and commitment in the workplace.

Prerequisite: MGMT 3610.

MGMT 4661

Effective Organizational Governance

3 semester hours

This course will explore board of director and top management team responsibilities and activities related to effective organizational governance. All students will participate as part of a team in a Community-based Learning project—a semester-long experience exploring course concepts in a community-based organizational environment while providing a value-added contribution to that organization.

Prerequisite: MGMT 3610.

MGMT 4670

Human Resource Management Practicum

3 semester hours

Due to the increasing realization of the importance of the human resource function, the role of the human resource professional is likewise gaining in importance. This course provides information and professional development opportunities, including resume-building HR consulting projects, a part-time internship, and other relevant field assignments to help facilitate student entry into a successful career in human resources.

Prerequisite: MGMT 3610.

MGMT 4671

Managing Career Success

3 semester hours

It is increasingly clear that career planning and ongoing career management activities are essential to career success. Career management activities in organizations are clearly linked to employee retention and key productivity measures. To help generate experience-based insights for future career preparation and planning, this course involves a personally relevant off-campus internship or meaningful work experience of a minimum of 100 hours, a separate community service activity of at least 20 hours, regular journal recording of ongoing observations and insights, a mock employment interview, informational interviews of professional in the field, a minimum of 10 different self-assessment exercises, and an off-campus networking assignment. Course learning culminates in the completion of a final in-depth individual report that describes insights and specific short- and long-term plans for future career management.

Prerequisite: MGMT 3610.

MGMT 4672

Managing a Global Workforce

3 semester hours

This course helps students recognize important human resource management (IHRM) issues underlying current international and global business conditions, as well as understand key IHRM challenges and practices (e.g., cross-cultural management, managing international assignments, global talent management) relevant to effective strategic management and business development in important countries and regions of the global economy. In addition, personal competencies and international issues are examined that are relevant to students' own future careers within the global workforce.

(See INBA 4872.)

Prerequisites: BADM 1040 with a grade of C (2.0) or better, INBA 3810, MGMT 3610.

MGMT 4680

Employee Relations and Retention

3 semester hours

Employee Relations is the functional area of Human Resource Management whose primary focus is to develop and maintain effective working relationships with employees within union and non-union environments. At a minimum, it is the task of managers and HR professionals to have the knowledge and ability to adhere to organizational policy and state and federal labor law. However, to be truly competitive, managers and HR professionals must strive to advance beyond the minimum standards and focus on the development and retention of their employees as well. This course will present an in-depth overview to Employee Relations along with best practice retention strategies currently employed by leading organizations. This class is designed to address several key questions related to Employee Relations and Retention: 1) What skills are needed by employees, managers, and HR professionals to be successful in this arena? 2) Why do we care about Employee Relations and Retention? 3) Who are the primary stakeholders and what are the interrelationships? 4) How does organizational context affect Employee Relations and Retention? Employee Relations and Retention are critical to the bottom line success of organizations. As future employees, managers, and perhaps for some students, Human Resource professionals, it is critical to be familiar with the fundamental laws, policies, programs, and skills related to developing oneself and the organization's human capital.

Prerequisite: MGMT 3610.

MGMT 4690

Strategic Human Resource Management

3 semester hours

In this course students learn from lectures, cases, and assigned readings about how the various areas of the human resource function (e.g., HR planning, staffing, training, performance management, compensation, employee relations) contribute to an organization's productivity and competitive advantage. A major emphasis is placed on how the human resource function supports effective organization strategy formulation and implementation, as the central role of all managers as HR practitioners in their daily workforce interactions and challenges.

Prerequisite: MGMT 3610.

MBAB 650Environmental Strategy3 semester hours*

This course sensitizes students to the broad range of environmental issues affecting business and society today. It examines how society's increasing concern for the natural environment is having a major impact on business firms as well as how business is affecting the environment. Theoretical frameworks and case studies are used. A strategic approach is emphasized.

Prerequisite: MBAA 605.

MBAB 651Ethical Issues in Business3 semester hours*

This course introduces students to the two dominant philosophical traditions used in analyzing ethical issues in business: 1) evaluating the amount and type of benefits and/or harm that will result from an action, and 2) evaluating the intrinsic character of an action. After getting comfortable with the basic theory, students apply these approaches to numerous ethical dilemmas in business. In this respect, the course is about learning a new way of evaluating problems and making decisions. This course also discusses: the issue of the relationship between the moral character of our actions and the health of the human personality, and the claim that men and women may perceive and resolve ethical dilemmas differently.

Prerequisite: MBAA 605.

MBAB 670Small Business Strategy3 semester hours*

This course explores strategy development, implementation, and control in small businesses. The interdependence of strategic management, leadership, and operational tools and techniques are used to address the effective management of a firm's growth. MarketingMRKT 3510*Principles of Marketing3 semester hours*

This course covers the essential principles of marketing as a vital component of a business operation, emphasizing marketing's strategic bases and the real-world utilization of both traditional and innovative techniques to influence both the trade and the consumer in making a purchase decision. We will focus on the effects of uncontrollable factors in the environment. In addition, basic controllable variables essential to marketing success will be examined, including marketing analysis, product decisions, pricing, distribution, and promotion. We will explore how marketing guides business strategy, discovers and creates demand for products, and influences product development.

Prerequisites: BADM 1010 and ECON 100 or ECON 105 or ECON 110, all with a grade of C (2.0) or better.

MRKT 3520Marketing Analysis3 semester hours*

The course will introduce students to the basic tools and concepts used for acquiring and evaluating market information. Both qualitative and quantitative approaches to analyzing consumer attitudes and behaviors will be examined, and methods for understanding trends in the marketing environment will be discussed.

Prerequisite: MRKT 3510.

MRKT 3530Buyer Behavior3 semester hours*

This course is designed to refocus the student on the buyer as the object of marketing programs. Social science concepts (from psychology, sociology, anthropology, and economics) are used to examine influences on buyer behavior, as well as to study the buyer decision process itself. Emphasis will be put on how marketers use this knowledge to develop their overall strategies.

Prerequisite: MRKT 3510.

MRKT 3570Marketing Law3 semester hours*

To acquaint students with fundamental concepts, principles, and rules of marketing law that concern marketers and consumers in day-to-day activities, in private business relationships, and in their relationship with government. The course will focus on various legal constraints, problems and ramifications which should be recognized and addressed by marketers when making pricing, product, promotion, and distribution decisions.

(See BLAW 3270.)

Prerequisites: BLAW 2210 and MRKT 3510.

MRKT 3597Internship1 semester hour*

The objective of this one-semester-hour course is to help students achieve a worthwhile learning experience relevant to their major program of study. The internship, conducted with an off-campus organization, will help the student gain insights relative to his/her strengths and weaknesses in the job environment.

MRKT 4510Advertising and Promotion Management3 semester hours*

This course is designed to introduce students to the field of advertising and promotion in an applied fashion. The emphasis in this course will be on the role of advertising and other promotional mix elements in the integrated marketing communications program (IMC) of an organization. The development of an integrated marketing communications program requires an understanding of the overall marketing process, how companies organize for advertising and other promotional functions, customer behavior, communications theory, and how to set goals, objectives, and budgets. Attention will be given to the various IMC tools used in contemporary marketing including advertising, direct marketing, Internet and interactive marketing, sales promotion, publicity and public relations, and personal selling. We will examine the process by which integrated marketing communications programs are planned, developed, and executed as well as the various factors and considerations that influence this process. We will also discuss the environment in which advertising and promotion takes place and the various regulatory, social, and economic factors that affect an organization's IMC program.

Prerequisites: MRKT 3510, MRKT 3520, MRKT 3530.

MRKT 4515Managing Retail and Service Businesses3 semester hours*

The U.S. economy is now dominated by the retail and services sectors. Moreover, understanding and strategically managing customer service is now becoming a critical determinant of business success or failure. Yet, most business school courses have traditionally focused on the manufacturing sector of the economy. This is a potential problem, because the management and marketing of service or retail businesses involve methods, strategies, and analytical tools that are distinct from those used in other areas of business. At the same time, the successful marketing of services and the delivery of excellent service are critical elements in the achievement of customer satisfaction and thus the long-term success for virtually all organizations. The purpose of this course is to provide students with an understanding and appreciation of retail and services marketing as separate and distinct areas of marketing thought and practice, their critical roles in contemporary competitive markets, and the tools and strategies necessary for managing successful enterprises in these areas. This course is especially designed for those students who anticipate working in retail or service businesses, or who wish to better understand how these forms of businesses are managed. The course will discuss an overarching philosophy that stresses the importance of the integration of the marketing, human resources, and operations functions within the service and retail systems.

Prerequisite: MRKT 3510.

MRKT 4525Competitive Strategy3 semester hours*

This course provides an in-depth analysis of competition and competitive strategy in the context of business from both theoretical and applied perspectives. Whereas numerous business classes discuss competitive environments, this course focuses exclusively on theories and strategies that can be used to achieve and enhance competitive advantage in the business marketplace. Competitive models, strategic metaphors, and concepts from game theory are explored in detail. Most importantly, the notions of competitive evolution and interdependence are emphasized and extensively explored. These concepts are then illustrated as they are commonly applied in the business world to enhance an enterprise's market position. Additionally, the great dangers of applying "cookbook strategies" or off-the-shelf solutions to competitive situations are explained and illustrated.

Prerequisites: MRKT 3510, MRKT 3520, MRKT 3530.

MRKT 4530Sports Marketing3 semester hours*

This course will introduce students to the unique nature of sport marketing at both the professional and amateur levels. The course will cover the unique aspects of sport marketing and how marketing concepts such as strategic planning and segmentation apply to sport marketing. Students will be introduced to the interrelationship of integrated marketing communications and sport and develop an understanding of sport as industry and the fan as consumer.

Prerequisite: MRKT 3510.

MRKT 4540Professional Selling3 semester hours*

An examination of the sales function, encompassing the broad range of methods that sales professionals may employ to build marketing relationships. Steps in the selling process will be explored, including techniques for engaging customers, identifying needs, handling objections, negotiating, requesting orders, and developing and maintaining long term relationships. A particular emphasis will be placed on the role of technology in contemporary sales activities.

Prerequisite: MRKT 3510.

MRKT 4545New Product Development3 semester hours*

The development of new products represents one of the most promising avenues by which firms can exploit to maintain and expand their market position in today's dynamic markets. The course provides a practical introduction to the process of designing and marketing new products and it covers the major phases of product development and launch. All of the critical steps in the new product development process will be discussed in detail, including: opportunity identification and analysis, concept development and testing, product design and pre-market testing and forecasting, and the management and control of the product launch. The particular focus of this class is upon the marketing function. Thus, the class will concentrate on market measurement, the use of that information to develop the benefit targets for the new product, and the ultimate development of marketing mixes (product, price, place, promotion) that will improve the chances for success. As such, the class will provide techniques to interface the marketing function with the functions of R&D, design engineering, and manufacturing, but it is beyond the scope of the course to emphasize these functions per se. The course will be relevant to students who expect to work directly in brand or product management as well as those whose interests are in general management and consulting.

Prerequisites: MRKT 3510, MRKT 3520, MRKT 3530.

MRKT 4550

Brand Management

3 semester hours

The objective of this course is to learn the decision-making processes used by product or brand managers with primary responsibility for the market success of the company's products and services, including environmental scanning and coordination of marketing activities for the firm's offerings.

Prerequisite: MRKT 3510.

MRKT 4555

Business-to-Business Marketing

3 semester hours

In the business market, the customers are organizations (e.g., businesses, governments, and institutions), and these customers represent a huge market opportunity. While we think of companies like Procter & Gamble, Sony, or Ford as sellers, they are also organizational buyers that annually purchase enormous quantities of raw materials and manufactured component parts; they purchase supplies and business services regularly to support operations, and they make large investments in building, equipment, and information technology. It's important to know that building and maintaining a close relationship with an organizational buyer require careful attention to details, meeting promises, and swiftly responding to changing demands.

Prerequisite: MRKT 3510.

MRKT 4560

Supply Chain Management and Logistics

3 semester hours

This course takes a look at the front-end functions of marketing planning, logistical planning, business relationships, networking, and the marketing benefits of business collaboration inherent in the dynamic channels of distribution used in a global business environment.

Prerequisites: MRKT 3510, MRKT 3520, MRKT 3530.

MRKT 4570

Pricing Goods and Services

3 semester hours

The focus of this course is upon the function of price as a driver of profit. Particular attention will be given to the roles of customers, costs, and competitors as key concerns when developing pricing strategies. All aspects of pricing within the marketing and business environment will be examined, including theories and models of pricing strategy, and common pricing techniques used in contemporary business practice.

Prerequisites: ACCT 2110, ACCT 2120, both with a grade of C (2.0) or better; MRKT 3510, MRKT 3520, MRKT 3530.

MRKT 4580

Marketing and Society

3 semester hours

This course examines the roles individuals play in society and the economy through the acts of shopping, consuming, discussing, displaying, and disposing of goods and services. In addition, the processes by which organizations conceptualize, reinforce, and exploit these roles in the marketing of goods and services will be examined.

Prerequisite: MRKT 3510.

MRKT 4597

Marketing Strategy in the Global Environment

3 semester hours

This is the capstone course for students completing the marketing major. This course provides a comprehensive framework for the development of competitive marketing strategies that achieve organizational objectives and build competitive advantage. It teaches students the fundamentals of strategic analysis and strategy development within the context of the global business environment. The course emphasizes the major analytical, ethical, and strategic frameworks of marketing, as specifically implemented within the complex contemporary conditions of global business relationships and activities. The course incorporates experiential learning, case studies, and a simulation project.

Must be taken in residence at LMU with senior standing.

College of Business Administration students only.

Prerequisites: BADM 1040 with a grade of C (2.0) or better; MRKT 3510, MRKT 3520, MRKT 3530.

MRKT 4598

Special Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

MRKT 4599

Independent Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

Requires approval of the Associate Dean.

Marketing Management

MBAC 612

Strategic Marketing Analysis and Implementation

3 semester hours

This course is a case-based extension of marketing management, focusing on cutting-edge issues faced by marketers. Students will enter actual organizations to develop cases based upon current concerns, and reading assignments will be drawn from the most recent articles on marketing subjects. The goal is to go beyond the textbooks to expose students to the latest marketing topics, technologies, and practices.

Prerequisite: MBAA 606.

MBAC 613

Consumer Behavior

3 semester hours

This course is designed to refocus the student on the consumer as the object of marketing efforts. Social science concepts, drawn from such fields as psychology, sociology, anthropology, and economics, are used to examine influences on consumer choices, as well as to study the consumer decision process itself. Emphasis will be placed on how marketers use this knowledge to develop effective marketing programs.

Prerequisite: MBAA 606.

MBAC 614

Marketing Research

3 semester hours

This course is concerned with the application of both qualitative research methodology to resolve marketing questions. Students will study the role of marketing research within the organization's planning and strategic efforts, and will be involved in the design, execution, analysis, and implementation of a comprehensive research project.

Prerequisite: MBAA 606.

MBAC 617Direct Response Marketing3 semester hours*

This course will focus on how the marketing concept has increased the use of direct response marketing in the U.S. Database development and use, the media of direct response marketing, and the design and production of direct mail pieces will be covered.

Prerequisite: MBAA 606.

MBAC 618Entrepreneurial and Small Business Marketing3 semester hours*

Traditional marketing approaches often assume large budgets, well-organized management structures, available information and power in the marketplace. Small and entrepreneurial business now constitutes a critical sector of the global economy, and the unique needs of such enterprises must be addressed. This course examines how marketers in emergent firms may challenge major competitors through the use of niche strategies, guerrilla techniques, and general creativity. Also listed as MBAH 618.

Prerequisite: MBAA 606.

MBAC 619Marketing Strategies for Innovative Products and Services3 semester hours*

This course will explore concepts and practices related to marketing in the volatile and fast-paced high-tech environment. The course will provide a balance between conceptual discussions and applied/hands-on analysis. The objectives include obtaining an understanding of the concepts and frameworks of high-tech industries and their marketing implications, the use of strategic alliances and partnerships in marketing technology, and the current knowledge and adaptations of the "4 p's" to the high-tech market place.

Prerequisite: MBAA 606.

MBAC 630Business Intelligence Tools and Systems3 semester hours*

The course described the role and application of Business Intelligence in the context of organizational strategy, decision making, and operations. It discusses managerial decision making processes along with the scope and applications of various technical tools that can support those processes. Students taking the course will be introduced to the concepts of Data Warehouses, Business Analytics, and Visualization tools and their roles in delivering Business Intelligence to decision makers. It also delves into the issues of data quality and integration, availability, and organization information and other challenges faced by organizations in implementing BI solutions. Students are exposed to the current industry standard BI software and a number of hands-on exercises as well as projects are used to provide the students with first-hand experience in using BI tools for decision making. Also listed as MBAD 630.

Credit/No Credit grading.

Prerequisites: MBAA 603, MBAA 606, MBAA 609, and working knowledge of Excel.

MBAC 647International Marketing3 semester hours*

This course will examine marketing management and planning factors and techniques required for success in a global environment. Students will develop an appreciation for the external forces which shape the international marketer's decisions and will study strategic decision-making used by international firms as they enter and adapt to new cultures and nations. Also listed as MBAG 647.

Prerequisite: MBAA 606.

MBAC 660Marketing Strategy3 semester hours*

Includes an emphasis on development and implementation of marketing strategy and marketing planning. This course is designed to provide the student with advanced theoretical and practical approaches of those methodologies that lead toward survival and growth in the marketing and competitive environments. Marketing strategy concepts are reviewed in detail.

Prerequisite: MBAA 606.

MBAC 662Product and Brand Management3 semester hours*

This class addresses important decisions faced by an organization. The objectives will be to increase an understanding of the important issues in planning and to provide the appropriate theories, models, and other tools to make better branding decisions. Emphasis is placed on understanding psychological principles at the consumer level that will improve managerial decision making with respect to brands.

Prerequisite: MBAA 606.

MBAC 663Business-to-Business Marketing3 semester hours*

Although firms marketing products and services to other organizations, rather than to final consumers, account for a majority of our economy, marketing was slow to acknowledge the importance of such exchanges. This course focuses on the analysis of issues emerging when the buyer is an organization. Topics include relationship marketing, organizational buying behavior, and marketing of technology.

Prerequisite: MBAA 606.

MBAC 664Advertising and Promotional Strategy3 semester hours*

The field of Integrated Marketing Communications (IMC) is a recognition of the need for firms to coordinate their various promotional activities and expenditures to achieve overall objectives. This course will cover advertising, public relations, sales promotions, and direct marketing theory and technique and their interrelationships. Students will develop a promotional strategy for an organization using complementary elements of each of these tools.

Prerequisite: MBAA 606.

MBAC 676The Environment of Business in the European Union3 semester hours*

This course will examine the European Union as both a major part of the global marketplace and a policymaking body. Cultural aspects of doing business there will be highlighted and contrasted with other regional areas. Historical references will be included to enhance understanding. Finally, the course addresses current EU issues. Throughout, the major focus will be how all of this impacts marketing practice. Also listed as MBAG 676.

Prerequisite: MBAA 606.

MBAC 698Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

Prerequisite: as designated by the MBA Office.

MBAC 699Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

Prerequisites: MBAA 601, MBAA 602, MBAA 603, MBAA 604, MBAA 605, MBAA 606, MBAA 607, MBAA 608, MBAA 609.

Mathematics

MATH 101Algebra3 semester hours*

Polynomials, rational expressions, exponents, radicals, equations in one and two variables, the quadratic formula, functions and graphs.

MATH 102Quantitative Skills for the Modern World3 semester hours*

Quantitative and analytic skills used to understand personal and social issues faced in everyday life. Topics include problem solving, computer spreadsheets, probability and statistics, and the mathematics of finance.

Corequisite: MATH 103.

University Core fulfilled: Foundations: Quantitative Reasoning.

MATH 103Quantitative Skills for the Modern World Lab0 semester hours*

Concurrent laboratory for MATH 102.

Corequisite: MATH 102.

MATH 104Elementary Statistics3 semester hours*

Introduction to methods of inferential statistics, histograms, elementary probability, and random variables and distributions.

University Core fulfilled: Foundations: Quantitative Reasoning.

MATH 106Mathematics for Elementary Teachers I3 semester hours*

Foundations of arithmetic from an advanced standpoint: sets, numeration systems, the structure of number systems, and problem solving strategies.

For Liberal Studies majors only, or by consent of instructor.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 with a minimum grade of C (2.0) or Mathematic Placement Examination.

University Core fulfilled: Foundations: Quantitative Reasoning; Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

MATH 107Mathematics for Elementary Teachers II3 semester hours*

Geometry, metric system, and introduction to probability and statistics. For Liberal Studies majors only, or by consent of instructor.

Prerequisite: MATH 106.

University Core fulfilled: Foundations: Quantitative Reasoning; Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

MATH 111Mathematical Analysis for Business I3 semester hours*

Systems of equations and inequalities, exponential and logarithmic functions, math of finance, linear programming.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or Mathematics Placement Examination.

University Core fulfilled: Foundations: Quantitative Reasoning.

MATH 112Mathematical Analysis for Business II3 semester hours*

Introduction to the differential and integral calculus of elementary functions. Applications of the methods of calculus to business and economics problems.

A laboratory fee may be required.

Prerequisite: MATH 120 or Mathematics Placement Examination.

University Core fulfilled: Foundations: Quantitative Reasoning; Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

MATH 120Precalculus Mathematics3 semester hours*

Functions; polynomial, rational, trigonometric, exponential, and logarithmic functions.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or Mathematics Placement Examination.

University Core fulfilled: Foundations: Quantitative Reasoning.

MATH 122Calculus for the Life Sciences I3 semester hours*

An introduction to calculus. Derivatives and integrals of the elementary functions, including computational techniques and applications.

Prerequisite: MATH 120 or Mathematics Placement Examination.

University Core fulfilled: Foundations: Quantitative Reasoning; Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

MATH 123Calculus for the Life Sciences II3 semester hours*

Integration methods with applications, differential equations and modeling, introduction to multivariate calculus.

Prerequisite: MATH 122 or equivalent.

University Core fulfilled: Foundations: Quantitative Reasoning; Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

MATH 131Calculus I4 semester hours*

Limits, continuity, derivatives of algebraic and transcendental functions, applications of the derivative, antiderivatives, introduction to the definite integral, Fundamental Theorem of Calculus.

Prerequisite: MATH 120 or Mathematics Placement Examination.

University Core fulfilled: Foundations: Quantitative Reasoning; Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

MATH 132Calculus II4 semester hours*

Techniques of integration, numerical methods of integration with error analysis, applications of the integral, improper integral, infinite series, an introduction to parametric equations and polar coordinates.

Prerequisite: MATH 131 or equivalent.

University Core fulfilled: Foundations: Quantitative Reasoning; Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

MATH 190Workshop in Mathematics I2 semester hours*

Study skills, analytical and problem solving skills, technical writing, recent fields of study and advances in mathematics, mathematical career opportunities.

MATH 191

Workshop in Mathematics II

2 semester hours

A continuation of MATH 190.

MATH 198

Special Studies

1 TO 4 semester hours

MATH 199

Independent Studies

1 TO 4 semester hours

MATH 234

Calculus III

4 semester hours

Partial derivatives, multiple integrals, three-dimensional space, vectors in two- and three- dimensional space, line integrals, Green's theorem.

Prerequisite: MATH 132 or equivalent.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Quantitative Reasoning.

MATH 245

Ordinary Differential Equations

3 semester hours

Differential equations as mathematical models, analytical, qualitative, and numerical approaches to differential equations and systems of differential equations, and Laplace transform techniques.

Prerequisite: MATH 132 or equivalent.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Quantitative Reasoning.

MATH 248

Introduction to Methods of Proof

3 semester hours

Number theory, sets, functions, equivalence relations, cardinality, methods of proof, induction, contradiction, contraposition. Student portfolios will be collected.

Prerequisite: MATH 132 or equivalent.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Quantitative Reasoning.

MATH 250

Linear Algebra

3 semester hours

Systems of linear equations, Gauss and Gauss-Jordan elimination, matrices and matrix algebra, determinants. Linear transformations of Euclidean space. General vector spaces, linear independence, inner product spaces, orthogonality. Eigenvalues and eigenvectors, diagonalization. General linear transformations.

Prerequisite: MATH 234 or MATH 248 or consent of instructor.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Quantitative Reasoning.

MATH 261

Mathematics: Contributions by Women

3 semester hours

A study of the biographies and mathematics of women mathematicians from the 1st through the 20th centuries. Topics include prime numbers, conic sections, cycloid curve, functions, sequences, series, polyhedra, and group theory.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

MATH 264

Cryptography through the Ages

3 semester hours

A study of mathematical systems used for enciphering and deciphering information and the context in which these systems arose.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

MATH 282

Elementary Numerical Methods

3 semester hours

Computer solutions of applied mathematical problems using a procedural programming language and a computer algebra system. Nonlinear equations, differentiation, integration.

Prerequisite: MATH 131 or equivalent.

MATH 293

Mathematics Teaching Field Experience

0 semester hours

Planned observation, instruction or tutoring experiences appropriate for future secondary or middle school mathematics teachers; related professional reading and reflections.

MATH 298

Special Studies

1 TO 4 semester hours

MATH 299

Independent Studies

1 TO 4 semester hours

MATH 301

Mathematical Ideas for Future Teachers I

3 semester hours

A selection of topics from number theory, algebra, game theory, probability, and statistics of interest to future teachers. The emphasis is on deepening students' understanding of the methods and philosophy of mathematics. Students will actively engage in exploring mathematics through student investigations and presentations.

Prerequisites: MATH 107 and MATH 112 or MATH 120 or MATH 122 or MATH 131.

MATH 302

Mathematical Ideas for Future Teachers II

3 semester hours

A selection of topics from geometry and topology of interest to future teachers. The emphasis is on deepening students' understanding of the methods and philosophy of mathematics. Students will actively engage in exploring mathematics through student investigations and presentations.

Prerequisites: MATH 107 and MATH 112 or MATH 120 or MATH 122 or MATH 131.

MATH 321

Real Variables I

3 semester hours

The real number system, least upper bound, sequences, Cauchy sequences, functions, limits of functions, continuity, derivatives, and Riemann integration.

Prerequisite: MATH 248.

MATH 322

Real Variables II

3 semester hours

Infinite series, uniform convergence, power series, and improper integrals.

Prerequisite: MATH 321.

MATH 331

Elements of Group Theory

3 semester hours

Group theory. Binary operations, subgroups, cyclic groups, factor groups, isomorphism, homomorphism, and Cayley's theorem.

Prerequisite: MATH 248.

MATH 332

Elements of the Theory of Rings and Fields

3 semester hours

Rings, integral domains, fields, ideals, factor rings, polynomial rings, and unique factorization domains.

Prerequisite: MATH 331.

MATH 350

Advanced Linear Algebra

3 semester hours

Vector spaces over an arbitrary field, dual spaces, Cayley-Hamilton theorem, invariant subspaces, canonical forms for matrices, inner product spaces over \mathbb{C} , the spectral theorem.

Prerequisites: MATH 248 and MATH 250.

MATH 355

Methods of Applied Mathematics

3 semester hours

Series solutions and special functions. Orthogonal functions and Fourier series, partial differential equations and boundary value problems.

Prerequisites: MATH 234 and MATH 245.

MATH 357

Complex Variables

3 semester hours

Complex variables; analytic functions, Laurent expansions and residues; evaluation of real integrals by residues; integral transforms.

Prerequisite: MATH 234.

MATH 360

Introduction to Probability and Statistics

3 semester hours

Descriptive statistics, probability, discrete and continuous random variables, limit theorems, sampling distributions, estimations of parameters, nonparametric methods, hypothesis testing, linear regression.

Prerequisite: MATH 123 or MATH 132.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

MATH 366

Discrete Methods

3 semester hours

An introduction to graph theory; trees; coloring; Eulerian circuits. Combinatorics; permutations and combinations; recurrence relations.

Prerequisite: MATH 248.

MATH 388

Survey of Biomathematics

3 semester hours

Introduction to the application of mathematical tools and techniques in biology. Application areas range from gene regulatory networks to physiological systems to ecology and environment biology. Mathematical methods include deterministic and probabilistic approaches to modeling dynamical systems, development, analysis, and simulation of model equations, and problems of fitting models to data.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101 and MATH 123 or MATH 132.

MATH 393

Mathematics Internship

1 TO 3 semester hours

Internship conducted in an industrial, business, government, or educational setting involving applied mathematical work or teaching. This will involve a research project (or paper) coordinated jointly with an on-site supervisor and a Department faculty member.

Enrollment is subject to available opportunities and approval of the Department Chairperson.

MATH 397

Putnam Competition Preparation

0 TO 1 semester hour

A study of problem-solving techniques and skills to prepare students to participate in the William Lowell Putnam Mathematical Competition, a prestigious national exam. The course may be repeated for credit. Grading is Credit/No Credit. The course may not be used to satisfy any of the requirements of the mathematics major or minor.

Consent of instructor required.

MATH 398

Special Studies

1 TO 4 semester hours

MATH 399

Independent Studies

1 TO 4 semester hours

MATH 471

Topology

3 semester hours

An introduction to metric and topological spaces; continuity and homeomorphism; separation properties; connectivity and compactness; examples and applications.

Prerequisite: MATH 321.

MATH 473

Differential Geometry

3 semester hours

Curves, parametrizations, and arc length; surfaces, differential functions, and the first fundamental form (area); the Gauss map; isometries, Gauss' Theorema Egregium, geodesics, and the Gauss-Bonnet theorem.

Prerequisites: MATH 234 and MATH 250.

MATH 490

History of Mathematics

3 semester hours

The development of mathematics from historical and cultural viewpoints including both European and non-European roots of mathematics as well as contributions by women.

Prerequisite: MATH 248.

MATH 491

Senior Mathematics Seminar

3 semester hours

Topics in mathematics chosen by the instructor. Written and oral presentations are required.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Oral Skills; Writing.

MATH 493Senior Seminar for Future Mathematics Educators3 semester hours*

Topics in high school mathematics are examined from an advanced standpoint by developing and exploring extensions and generalizations of typical high school problems, by making explicit connections between these problems and upper division mathematics courses, and by providing historical context. Current issues in secondary mathematics education will be investigated. Written and oral presentations are required.

Senior standing or consent of instructor required.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Oral Skills; Writing.

MATH 495Mathematical Modeling3 semester hours*

Introduction to various modeling techniques, design and implementation of algorithms, organization and presentation of results, introduction to problem solving using computer algebra systems. Written and oral presentations are required.

Senior standing or consent on instructor required.

University Core fulfilled: Writing.

MATH 497Senior Thesis3 semester hours*

This course is intended to provide the student with an opportunity to complete a substantive research project under the guidance of a faculty member. The student will prepare a written report and an oral presentation on the project at the end of the semester.

Senior standing and the consent of both the Chairperson and a faculty thesis advisor required.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Oral Skills; Writing.

MATH 498Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursMATH 499*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursMATH 511*Mathematics and Gender Equality3 semester hours*

Historical and current gender issues in mathematics examined through 1) the lives and mathematical work of women mathematicians from the 4th to the 21st centuries and 2) equity issues in K-12 mathematics education and math-related careers. Mathematical topics include prime numbers, conic sections, functions, sequences and series, polyhedra and group theory.

Prerequisites: MATH 107 and MATH 112 or MATH 120 or MATH 122 or MATH 131 or consent of instructor.

MATH 550Fundamental Concepts of Geometry3 semester hours*

Euclidean and non-Euclidean planar geometries, axiomatic systems, synthetic and analytic representations, relationships with algebra, and selected topics and applications.

Prerequisites: MATH 248 and MATH 250.

MATH 560Advanced Topics in Probability and/or Statistics3 semester hours*

Material to be covered will be determined by the instructor. Consult with the instructor for the specific topics in probability and statistics that will be covered in any given semester.

Prerequisites: MATH 234 and MATH 360.

MATH 561Computational Methods in Linear Algebra3 semester hours*

Numerical solutions of linear systems of equations, Gauss elimination and iterative methods, eigenvalues and eigenvectors.

Prerequisites: CMSI 185 or ENGR 160 or MATH 282, and MATH 250 or consent of instructor.

MATH 562Numerical Analysis3 semester hours*

Numerical solutions of non-linear equations, interpolation, numerical differentiation, integration, and solution of differential equations.

Prerequisites: CMSI 185 or ENGR 160 or MATH 282, and MATH 245 or consent of instructor.

MATH 590History of Mathematics for Secondary Teachers3 semester hours*

The development of mathematics from historical and cultural viewpoints, including both European and non-European roots of mathematics as well as contributions by women. Course content will be connected to the secondary classroom.

Prerequisite: MATH 248.

MATH 593Seminar for Mathematics Educators3 semester hours*

Topics in high school mathematics are examined from an advanced standpoint by developing and exploring extensions and generalizations of typical high school problems, by making explicit connections between these problems and upper division mathematics courses, and by providing historical context. Current issues in secondary mathematics education will be investigated. Written and oral presentations are required.

Consent of instructor required.

MATH 598Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursMATH 599*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursMATH 695*MAT Final Project0 semester hours*

The student will prepare and submit a proposal for a substantive project to the MAT Director, who will submit it to the Education Liaison Committee, complete the proposal as approved by the Education Liaison Committee under the guidance of a faculty member, prepare a written report, and give an oral presentation on the project.

Mechanical Engineering

MECH 211Computer Aided Design2 semester hours*

Introduction to computer-aided design techniques and applications to design and manufacturing problems. Topics include: computer graphics for geometric design, design of curves and shapes, numerical methods for CAD and optimization. Practice and use of solid modeling software package.

Lecture/Laboratory, 2 hours.

MECH 212

Mechanics of Materials

3 semester hours

This course will focus on the fundamental analysis of stresses, strains, and deflections of loaded members. Students will learn to analyze members undergoing axial, torsion, and bending loads. Students will be introduced to the simple design of members for failure prevention through component sizing and material selection.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: ENGR 200.

MECH 213

Dynamics

3 semester hours

Introduction to Newtonian vector mechanics; Planar and three-dimensional kinematics and kinetics of particles and rigid bodies; rectilinear and curvilinear motion of a particle; rigid body motion; application of principle of work and energy, and principle of impulse and momentum.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: ENGR 200.

Corequisite: MATH 234.

MECH 223

Thermodynamics

3 semester hours

The fundamental concepts of classical thermodynamics including properties, work and heat; first and second laws; entropy; irreversible processes; and thermodynamic analysis of power cycles and refrigeration cycles.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: MATH 132 and PHYS 101.

MECH 260

Nanotechnology

3 semester hours

An introduction to the nanotechnology language, relationship between the macroscopic, microscopic, and nanoscopic worlds, and exploring the social and ethical implications. Applications will be covered in biology, medicine, computers, and electronics.

Lecture, 3 hours.

For non-majors only.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

MECH 261

Biotechnology

3 semester hours

An introduction to the integration of nanotechnology and molecular biology to solve industrial, economic, and medical problems. Such topics will include biological processes, DNA sequencing, recombinant DNA, genes, RNA, proteins, engineering bacteria, cloning, diagnostics, and drug delivery. The social and ethical implications will be covered.

Lecture, 3 hours.

For non-majors only.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

MECH 262

Information Technology

3 semester hours

An introduction to communication systems and data processing. Such topics will include the electromagnetic spectrum, analog/digital transmission, Internet, computers, telephones, cell phones, radio, television, micro/nanoelectronics, the history of modern information technology, and the social/ethical consequences.

Lecture, 3 hours.

For non-majors only.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

MECH 270

Materials

3 semester hours

Introduction to the chemistry and physics of different materials. Types of materials (metals, ceramics, polymers, and composites) and the relation between their structure and properties. Selection of materials in different applications.

Lecture, 3 hours.

For non-majors only.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

MECH 277

Systems of Energy Conversions

3 semester hours

Introduction to the engineering disciplines and the fundamentals of energy conversions for non-engineering majors. Topics will include: introduction to different engineering disciplines, defining important parameters used in engineering, engineering components, engineering systems, energy conversion devices and demonstration of engineering laboratories and equipment.

Lecture, 3 hours.

For non-majors only.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

MECH 298

Special Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

MECH 302

Thermal Science and Energy Lab

2 semester hours

Team-based experimental projects in the disciplines of fluid mechanics, heat transfer, and thermodynamics; lab safety, instrumentation, test planning, data analysis and report writing.

Lecture/Laboratory, 2 hours.

Prerequisite: MECH 223.

Corequisite: MECH 322.

MECH 303

Solid Mechanics and Materials Laboratory

2 semester hours

Students, working both individually and in teams, will conduct experiments using modern equipment and contemporary methods in solid mechanics and materials science. Lab safety, experimental methods, statistical data analysis, interpretation, and report writing will be emphasized.

Lecture/Laboratory, 2 hours.

Prerequisites: MECH 212 and MECH 313.

MECH 310Machine Design3 semester hours*

Failure analysis of common mechanical elements; analysis, design, and selection of standard mechanical elements such as shafts and shaft components, non-permanent and permanent joints, mechanical springs, bearings, gears, clutches, brakes, couplings, flywheels, and flexible mechanical elements team-based design analysis project.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: MECH 211 and MECH 212.

MECH 312Vibrations3 semester hours*

Fundamentals of vibration of mechanical systems; free and forced vibration of single degree-of-freedom systems with and without damping; viscous and structural damping; Instrumentation for vibration measurements; transient and steady-state response; two and higher degree-of-freedom systems; natural frequencies and mode shapes of vibration; vibration absorption and isolation.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MECH 213.

MECH 313Materials Science3 semester hours*

A study of metallic, polymeric, and ceramic materials, emphasizing dependence of mechanical and electrical properties on solid-state bonding forces and micro-structure. Mechanical properties of materials. Introductory design considerations.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: CHEM 111 and CHEM 114.

MECH 321Energy Systems3 semester hours*

Review of energy equation and principles of thermodynamics; entropy and exergy. The fundamentals on conventional and renewable energy resources including the basics of conventional energy conversion. Additional topics will include the environmental impacts of energy consumption and economic considerations.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MECH 223.

MECH 322Fluid Mechanics3 semester hours*

Properties of fluids; fluid statics and dynamics; energy equation; momentum equation; differential and integral approach; drag and lift analysis; turbulent and laminar flow; losses in pipes.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: MATH 234 and MATH 245.

MECH 323Heat Transfer3 semester hours*

Fundamentals of heat transfer mechanisms: conduction, convection, and radiation; steady-state and transient conduction; forced and free convection; heat exchangers; radiation between surfaces.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: ENGR 160, MATH 245, and MECH 223.

MECH 398Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursMECH 399*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

May not be taken as a required course.

MECH 401Design Capstone Project I3 semester hours*

Preliminary phases of the capstone project; industrial-sponsored and student design competition team projects; defining the project requirements, developing and refining a design concept, incorporating design standards, and validating the design performance through analysis and testing; formal and informal project reviews and reports; guest lectures by industry experts.

Lecture/Laboratory, 3 hours.

Senior standing required.

Prerequisite: MECH 310.

MECH 402Design Capstone Project II3 semester hours*

Introduction to common methods and technologies used in product design and development; design for manufacturing (DFM) guidelines; rapid prototyping and CNC machining; a comprehensive design and manufacturing project; technical reports.

Lecture/Laboratory, 3 hours.

Senior standing required.

Prerequisite: MECH 401.

MECH 410Design and Manufacturing Laboratory2 semester hours*

Laboratory applications of vibrations and data acquisition; elasticity, buckling, material testing, computer-aided manufacturing such as NC machining, rapid prototyping, and robotics; tribology; alternative energy technologies such as solar panels and fuel cells.

Lecture/Laboratory, 2 hours.

Prerequisite: MECH 310.

MECH 411Entrepreneurial Product Design3 semester hours*

Student-conceived and/or corporate-sponsored team projects leading to a final prototype and business plan of a new product. Concept generation, team dynamics, customer needs analysis, product function, risk, decision theory, prototyping, manufacturing planning, specifications, and cost analysis. Cross-listed with the College of Business Administration to include entrepreneurship, marketing, and financial considerations when developing the design and business plan. Final oral presentation in front of a panel of industry experts in engineering and business.

Lecture/Laboratory, 3 hours.

Senior standing required.

MECH 412Control Systems3 semester hours*

Introduction to basic engineering techniques for modeling and controlling of dynamic systems, including mechanical, fluid, thermal, and electrical systems; analysis of transient and steady-state response; application of root-locus and frequency response methods in control system design; PID controllers.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: MATH 245 and MECH 312.

MECH 423

Thermal Systems

3 semester hours

Selected topics from thermodynamics, fluid mechanics, and heat transfer to include: review of fundamental concepts; boundary layer theory; isentropic flow through nozzles; shock waves; exergy analysis; gas mixtures; heat exchangers and design.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: MECH 223, MECH 322, MECH 323.

MECH 493

Mechanical Engineering Internship

1 TO 3 semester hours

Engineering analysis, testing, design, and/or production work conducted by the student in an industrial setting. The work will be supervised jointly by an engineer with the industrial firm and by an LMU mechanical engineering faculty member. The project must be pre-approved by the Department.

MECH 498

Special Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

MECH 499

Independent Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

May not be taken as a required course.

MECH 504

Engineering Mathematics

3 semester hours

Advanced topics in applied mathematics in linear algebra and analysis. Vector spaces, linear transformations, determinants, inner product spaces, solution of simultaneous linear equations, LU factorization, solution of algebraic eigenvalue problems by QR and QZ algorithms, linear least square problem and the singular value decomposition. Vector calculus, change of coordinate transformations, Stokes theorem, introduction to calculus of variation, ordinary differential equations, and numerical methods for their solution. Fourier analysis applied to discrete signals.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

MECH 510

Computer-Aided Manufacturing

3 semester hours

A comprehensive study of manufacturing with a focus on automation, flexible automation, group technology, process planning, and design for manufacturability. Principles and applications of computer numerical control (CNC) and NC programming, rapid prototyping, robotics, and quality engineering are introduced through lecture and laboratory work.

Lecture/Laboratory, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

MECH 511

Materials Selection in Design

3 semester hours

Application of principles of materials engineering to selection of materials for optimized engineering design, case studies in failure analysis, and process optimization.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

MECH 512

Advanced Mechanics of Materials

3 semester hours

Combined loading, curved bars, energy methods, buckling and elastic stability; inelastic and plastic deformations; and use of computational finite element analysis (FEA) software.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

MECH 513

Metallurgical and Materials Engineering

3 semester hours

Advanced topics in the relationship of the microstructure and processing of metallic, ceramic, and polymeric materials and their relation to the properties required in engineering design. Phase transformations in ferrous and non-ferrous materials.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

Prerequisite: MECH 313.

MECH 514

Modern Methods in Materials Science

3 semester hours

Modern methods of understanding and characterizing the structures of current industrial materials. A range of topics will be discussed, such as electron microscopy, atomic force microscopy, quantitative stereology, quantum mechanics, band structure of solids, diffusion processing, semiconductor devices, microelectromechanical systems (MEMS), mechanical defects in solids (point, line, and planar), quantitative methods in metals, ceramics, and composites.

Lecture/Laboratory, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

Prerequisite: MECH 313.

MECH 515

Composites

3 semester hours

Forms and properties of resins, fibers and composites; material and structural design and analysis; manufacturing, machining and assembly; quality assurance and testing; metal and ceramic based materials; information resources.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

MECH 516

Finite Elements Methods

3 semester hours

Introduction to the theory and application of finite element methods. Review of the fundamentals of analytical models, elasticity, and structural mechanics. Review of matrix theory and calculation of variations. General process for the development of a finite element solution. Derivations of basic elements, including those for trusses, plane stress and plane strain, beams, plates, and solids. Discussion of the issues of conformity and completeness. Higher order interpolation functions and isoparametric elements. Solutions and applications to problems in structural mechanics, heat transfer, structural dynamics, and elastic stability. Practical examples.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

MECH 517

Fracture Mechanics

3 semester hours

Introduction to concepts of fracture mechanics of engineering materials. These include stress analysis of cracks, fracture toughness, transition temperature, micro-structural aspects, and fatigue crack propagation behavior.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

MECH 520

Computational Fluid Dynamics

3 semester hours

In-depth study of applied computational methods for solving problems involving fluid and heat transport. Course will include both commercially available codes as well as self-generated solving routines. Topics include: numerical solutions to PDEs, steady flow solutions, unsteady flow solutions, flows involving heat transfer.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

Prerequisite: CIVL 310 or MECH 322.

MECH 521

Alternative Energy Systems

3 semester hours

A detailed study of alternative energy technologies including: solar thermal, solar photovoltaic, wind, fuel cells, and geothermal systems will be covered. In-depth analysis of the technical aspects of these systems will be covered while considering economic and environmental constraints. Energy storage and grid integration will also be considered.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

MECH 527

Finite Elements Methods

3 semester hours

Introduction to finite element methods, theory, and applications. Derivations of single elements, matrix application meshing loads, and computer exercises and applications of design.

MECH 530

Urban Vehicle Design

3 semester hours

Computer aided design (CAD), analysis, fabrication, and testing of urban vehicle components and systems. Design of new vehicle components and subsystems in order to improve fuel efficiency through weight reduction, improved vehicle aerodynamics, and decreased rolling resistance.

Lecture/Laboratory, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

MECH 531

Design of Tribological Systems

3 semester hours

Design of systems involving components that undergo surface contact and relative motion. Analytical, computational methods, and experimental techniques used to understand the friction, wear, and lubrication of such systems. Conventional methods used to investigate surface friction and wear and how to minimize their effects.

Lecture/Laboratory, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

MECH 532

Robotics

3 semester hours

This is a fundamental interdisciplinary robotics course containing both introductory as well as more advanced concepts. The course presents a broad overview of technology, kinematics and control, vision systems, robot languages and programming, applications, economics and social issues. A FANUC CERT LR Mate 200i robot will be used for lecture and class projects.

Lecture/Laboratory, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

MECH 538

Structural Dynamics

3 semester hours

Beam vibration; boundary conditions; modes; approximate & exact solutions; general matrix formulations and interrelationships; decoupling by transformation to modal coordinates; free and forced response; experimental approaches; modal truncation; mode acceleration method; component mode synthesis; formulation of large-order system responses (time and frequency domain); load transform matrices; introduction to finite elements.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

MECH 540

Structural Dynamics

3 semester hours

Beam vibration; boundary conditions; modes; approximate & exact solutions; general matrix formulations and interrelationships; decoupling by transformation to modal coordinates; free and forced response; experimental approaches; modal truncation; mode acceleration method; component mode synthesis; formulation of large-order system responses (time and frequency domain); load transform matrices; introduction to finite elements.

MECH 542

Turbomachinery

3 semester hours

Compressor, pump, fan selection and applied theory.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

MECH 543

Propulsion

3 semester hours

This course combines fundamental fluid mechanical and thermodynamic concepts to characterize the components, operation, and performance of internal combustion propulsion devices for aircraft and space vehicles. A practical approach to understanding these devices is also given, supplementing and enhancing the analytical application. The fundamentals of alternative, advanced air breathing and space propulsion concepts are also introduced.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

MECH 551

Sustainable Design

3 semester hours

This course focuses on design for the environment (DFE) principles and methods to create sustainable products. The major themes include: design for environmental processing and manufacturing; design for environmental packaging; and design for disposal and reuse. Includes life cycle assessment (LCA) software tools, case studies, and design projects.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Senior or graduate standing required.

MECH 560

Turbomachinery

3 semester hours

Analysis and design of compressors, pumps, and fans.

MECH 598Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursMECH 599*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

Senior or graduate standing required.

May not be taken as a required course.

MECH 611Advanced Elements of Design3 semester hours*

Fundamentals of designing machine, sheet metal, and plastic parts and deciding which type of part should be used for a given application. Design of subsystems and assemblies using the rules of datum features, design intent, and geometric dimensioning and tolerancing. Design for manufacturing, assembly, serviceability, and the environment. Hands-on design projects.

Lecture/Laboratory, 3 hours.

Graduate standing required.

MECH 612Rapid Prototyping3 semester hours*

The course provides students with an opportunity to conceive, design, and implement a product using rapid prototyping technologies and computer-aided tools. Topics such as principles of rapid prototyping, rapid prototyping materials, reverse engineering, rapid tooling, medical applications, industry perspectives, and current research and developments will be introduced to students through lecture and laboratory works. Two rapid prototyping machines (FDM 1650 and Z Corporation's Z510) will be used for lecture and class projects.

Lecture/Laboratory, 3 hours.

Graduate standing required.

MECH 620Nanotechnology Engineering Topics3 semester hours*

Exploration of technical topics in nanotechnology to prepare the students to better understand engineering research in nanotechnology. Topics such as nanophysics, quantum mechanics, nanofluidics, nano heat transfer, nano materials and tools of nanotechnology will be covered. Applications in engineering and bioengineering will be emphasized.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Graduate standing required.

MECH 621Solar Thermal Energy Systems3 semester hours*

In-depth study of solar thermal energy systems. Flat plate collectors, concentrating collectors, hybrid PV/thermal collectors, solar powered heating and cooling.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Graduate standing required.

Prerequisite: MECH 323 or equivalent.

MECH 623Advanced Thermodynamics3 semester hours*

Review of advanced topics in classical thermodynamics; topics from statistical thermodynamics including: kinetic theory of gases, distribution of molecular velocity, transport phenomena, quantum mechanics, Bose-Einstein quantum statistics, Fermi-Dirac quantum statistics, and thermodynamics properties.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Graduate standing required.

MECH 631Elasticity3 semester hours*

Analysis of stress and strain, stress tensor, Mohr's circles for stress and strain, Hooke's law and stress-strain diagrams, equations of equilibrium and compatibility, two-dimensional plane problems in elasticity, Airy stress functions, failure criteria, stresses in thin-walled cylinders and spheres, stress concentration factors, stresses in thick-walled cylinders and disks, energy methods. A brief introduction to the mathematics of vector calculus and indicial notation.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Graduate standing required.

MECH 633Electronic Properties Materials3 semester hours*

Theory, properties, and device applications of materials from the point of view of their dielectric, electrical, optical, and magnetic behavior.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Graduate standing required.

MECH 634Fatigue3 semester hours*

A study of metal fatigue in engineering describing macro/micro aspects, stress life approach, cycling deformation and strain-life approach, as well as the applications of linear elastic fracture mechanics approach to fatigue crack growth.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Graduate standing required.

MECH 638Random Vibrations3 semester hours*

Classification and description of random data (stationarity, ergodicity, cross-correlation, cross spectra); stationary random process theory (one or two variables, Gaussian distribution, correlation, spectral density); linear input-output relations (single and multiple inputs, ordinary, multiple and partial coherence); statistical error in random data analysis; bias; digital signal processing (FFT, spectra, coherence, aliasing, windowing, averaging); nonstationary data; specifications for testing for structural and equipment survival.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Graduate standing required.

MECH 643Advanced Heat Transfer3 semester hours*

Review of the modes of heat transfer and conservation principles. Topics include: two- and three-dimensional conduction; numerical methods; differential equations of laminar boundary layers; momentum transfer and heat transfer for laminar flow inside tubes; momentum transfer and heat transfer for external boundary layers; differential equations of turbulent boundary layers; experimental techniques.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Graduate standing required.

MECH 651New Product Design and Development3 semester hours*

Student-conceived and/or corporate-sponsored team projects leading to a final prototype and business plan of a new product. Concept generation, team dynamics, customer needs analysis, product function, risk, decision theory, prototyping, manufacturing planning, specifications, quality function deployment, and cost analysis. Cross-listed with the considerations when developing the design and business plan. Final oral presentation in front of a panel of industry experts in engineering and business.

Lecture/Laboratory, 3 hours.

Graduate standing required.

MECH 685

Research Project

3 semester hours

Faculty guided mechanical engineering-related research project. Formal requirements must be obtained from the Program Director.

Graduate standing in the Combined B.S./M.S. degree program and consent of the Department and project advisor required.

Credit/ No Credit

MECH 686

Master's Thesis

3 semester hours

The student electing the thesis option must obtain a thesis advisor before Departmental consent will be considered. The student must enroll in the thesis course during two semesters. Formal requirements may be obtained from the Program Director.

Graduate standing and consent of the Department and thesis advisor required.

Credit/No Credit.

MECH 698

Special Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

Modern Greek

MDGK 100

Modern Greece

3 semester hours

Introduction to Modern Greek language, culture, and history.

MDGK 101

Elementary Modern Greek I

3 semester hours

An introductory course covering the fundamentals of grammar, syntax, reading skills, and oral expression.

MDGK 102

Elementary Modern Greek II

3 semester hours

Continuation of MDGK 101.

MDGK 198

Special Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

MDGK 199

Independent Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

MDGK 203

Intermediate Modern Greek I

3 semester hours

Completion of the study of grammar and syntax. This course is designed to help the student improve conversational skills through listening comprehension and class discussion.

MDGK 204

Intermediate Modern Greek II

3 semester hours

A course aimed at furthering proficiency through reading, listening comprehension, composition, and discussion.

MDGK 298

Special Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

MDGK 299

Independent Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

MDGK 321

Advanced Modern Greek

3 semester hours

A course designed to enable the students to refine their understanding of the language and enhance their verbal abilities. A reasonable command of Modern Greek is a prerequisite.

MDGK 325

Advanced Modern Greek Conversation

3 semester hours

Texts from prose and poetry serve as a basis for advanced discussion and composition.

MDGK 341

Introduction to Modern Greek Literature (in Translation)

3 semester hours

An examination of the connections between literature and the formation of a Modern Greek national and cultural identity against the background of Greek history and myth.

This course may be repeated for credit.

MDGK 342

Ancient Landscapes: Modern Voices

3 semester hours

Literary texts supplement the visits to museums, archaeological sites, and cultural centers in Greece. Discussion will focus on the diverse forms of cultural expression in contemporary Greece.

This course is offered only in the summer and is cross-listed with ENGL 341, EURO 398, and FNLT 341.

MDGK 343

Angels and Demons: Women and Literary Stereotypes

3 semester hours

The course examines the social issue of women's position and representation in modern patriarchal society (late 19th century-present) through the interdisciplinary lenses of Greek and World literature and Women's Studies.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections.

MDGK 344

Cities of the Dead: English and Modern Greek Modernism

3 semester hours

A comparative study of Modern Greek and English Modernism and their use of classical myths. Texts from Eliot, Joyce, Seferis, Elytis, Kazantzakis, and others will be used for study and discussion.

MDGK 345Coming of Age: Stories of Growth and Self-Discovery3 semester hours*

An exploration of the internal psychological conditions as well as the external social pressures that influence the construction of one's identity.

MDGK 346Out of Control: Women, Madness, and the Cultural Imagination3 semester hours*

A cross-cultural exploration of social, cultural, and literary representations of female madness from antiquity to the present.

MDGK 350Greek Orthodox Tradition3 semester hours*

This course approaches the study of the Greek Orthodox Church and its traditions from the theological, historical, cultural, literary, and artistic perspectives. Following an interdisciplinary approach, students examine the historical, social, and cultural forces operative on issues of faith.

(See THST 322.)

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Faith and Reason.

MDGK 352Orthodox Christian Spirituality3 semester hours*

This course will introduce students to the rich spiritual tradition of Eastern Orthodox Christianity. Following an interdisciplinary approach, the course will explore the interrelationship of theological and spiritual concepts and how they relate to sociological and psychological development of individuals and communities.

(See THST 352.)

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Faith and Reason.

MDGK 354Greek Cinema3 semester hours*

A historical and critical survey of contemporary Greek cinema as an alternative narrative discourse that comments on contemporary political, social, and cultural circumstances.

MDGK 398Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursMDGK 399*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursMDGK 450*Modern Greek History and Society3 semester hours*

This course will study Modern Greece in the context of European and world history and culture. Combining several disciplines and approaches (history, literature, the arts, and cinema), students will examine the crises and challenges that have shaped modern Greek society, the transformations that have taken place, and the culture it has produced.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections.

MDGK 498Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursMDGK 499*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

Modern Languages and Literatures

MDLL 300Linguistics3 semester hours*

Students examine major linguistic disciplines, such as phonology, phonetics, morphology, syntax, and language acquisition and variation. Languages from different linguistic families will be analyzed and compared. This class presents activities for raising linguistic awareness.

Prerequisite: 200-level in two languages or consent of instructor.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Understanding Human Behavior.

MDLL 398Special Studies1 to 4 semester hoursMDLL 399*Independent Studies1 to 3 semester hoursMDLL 400*Applied Linguistics3 semester hours*

Topics include language acquisition, language socialization, language policy and planning, bilingualism and multilingualism, translation and intercultural communication. Students will design a research project on child/adult second language acquisition in a psycholinguistic or a socio-cultural framework.

Prerequisite: MDLL 300 or consent of instructor.

MDLL 498Special Studies1 to 3 semester hoursMDLL 499*Independent Studies1 to 3 semester hoursMDLL 500*Senior Capstone Project1 semester hour*

Exit research project (for majors only).

Consent of instructor required.

Credit/No Credit grading.

Music

MUSC 101Studio Class0 semester hours*

Recital class for music majors and minors enrolled in applied lessons, including composition lessons.

May be repeated for degree credit.

MUSC 102Enjoyment of Music3 semester hours*

An overview of the evolution of Western Art music from the era of Gregorian Chant to modern times. Focus is on style periods and the contributions of the great composers. Concert attendance required.

Non-majors and non-minors only.

MUSC 104Fundamentals of Music3 semester hours*

Practical study of the rudiments of music—notation, rhythm, keys, scales, and terminology, with the object of attaining and applying a basic musical literacy. Concert attendance required.

Non-majors and non-minors only.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Creative Experience.

MUSC 105The Vocal Experience3 semester hours*

Exploration of the basic techniques of singing with emphasis on the expressive elements inherent in simple vocal literature; study of fundamental musical elements—rhythm, melody, key structures, notation—leading to successful sight singing.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Creative Experience.

MUSC 106The Guitar Experience3 semester hours*

Exploration of the basic technique of performing on the guitar including 1) learning to read music, 2) chords and styles of accompaniment, and 3) the preparation of solo pieces.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Creative Experience.

MUSC 107The Piano Experience3 semester hours*

Exploration of the basic techniques of performing piano literature; study of fundamental musical elements—rhythm, melody, key structures, notation, and reading music.

Lab fee.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Creative Experience.

MUSC 121Music Theory and Form I3 semester hours*

Introduction to the fundamentals of functional tonal harmony, basic musical terminology and notation, figured bass, and diatonic harmonic progression and voice leading.

Corequisite: MUSC 133.

Lab fee.

MUSC 122Music Theory and Form II3 semester hours*

Continuation of MUSC 121, introducing cadences, non-chord tones, 7th chords, chromatic harmony and voice leading (secondary chords), and various types of modulation. Also includes an introduction to formal analysis through the study of period and other phrase structures.

Prerequisite: MUSC 121.

Corequisite: MUSC 134.

Lab fee.

MUSC 131Sight Singing I1 semester hour*

Study of notation, keys, scales, rhythm; recognition of intervals; development of the ability to sight-read vocally from the score and to take melodic dictation.

MUSC 132Sight Singing II1 semester hour*

Continuation of MUSC 131.

Prerequisite: MUSC 131

MUSC 133Aural Skills I1 semester hour*

Developing of the aural skills of sight singing, audiation and pitch discrimination leading to the ability to take musical dictation from simple to intermediate levels involving melody, rhythm and meter, chords in root position, and cadential harmony. Includes Computer Assisted Instruction (CAI).

Corequisite: MUSC 121.

MUSC 134Aural Skills II1 semester hour*

Continuation of MUSC 133, further developing the ability to take musical dictation from intermediate to advanced levels involving tonal, modal, and atonal melody, rhythm and meter, all chord types including inversions, and functional harmonic progression. Continuation of CAI.

Prerequisite: MUSC 133.

Corequisite: MUSC 122.

MUSC 135Functional Piano I1 semester hour*

Development of pragmatic keyboard reading skills.

Music majors/minors only.

Lab fee.

MUSC 136Functional Piano II1 semester hour*

Continuation of MUSC 135.

Prerequisite: MUSC 135 or consent of instructor.

Lab fee.

MUSC 175Beginning Piano Class1 semester hour*

Development of pragmatic keyboard reading skills.

Lab fee.

MUSC 176Intermediate Piano Class1 semester hour*

Application of fundamental keyboard reading skills through sight reading, ensemble work, harmonizing, and improvising. Development of interpretive skills through the use of repertoire from different eras.

Prerequisite: MUSC 175 or consent of instructor.

Lab fee.

MUSC 177Advanced Piano Class1 semester hour*

Application of interpretive skills using more complex repertoire. Fundamentals of tonal music theory are addressed along with sight reading and improvising. Individual projects may be assigned.

Prerequisite: MUSC 176 or consent of instructor.

Lab fee.

MUSC 178Beginning Voice Class1 semester hour*

Group instruction in singing. The basics of breathing, tone production, diction and articulation, song preparation, and performance.

MUSC 179Beginning Guitar Class1 semester hour*

The study of the classical guitar: learning to read music, learning to use the hands efficiently, gaining an understanding of the structures of music in order to develop an interpretive style.

MUSC 180Guitar, Percussion, Piano, Strings, Voice1 semester hour*

First semester of private applied lessons in the major/minor.

Corequisite: MUSC 101.

MUSC 181Guitar, Percussion, Piano, Strings, Voice1 semester hour*

Second semester of private applied lessons in the major/minor.

Prerequisite: MUSC 180.

Corequisite: MUSC 101.

MUSC 182Guitar, Percussion, Piano, Strings, Voice1 semester hour*

First year of private applied lessons for non-majors, non-minors (repeatable credit).

Applied music fee.

Permission of instructor required.

MUSC 198Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursMUSC 199*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursMUSC 221*Music Theory and Form III3 semester hours*

Introduction to modal species counterpoint, fugal process, fundamentals of formal analysis, binary and ternary forms, and further chromatic harmony and voice-leading, including borrowed chords, the Neapolitan, and augmented 6th chords.

Prerequisite: MUSC 122.

MUSC 222Music Theory and Form IV3 semester hours*

Introduction to song forms, rondo and sonata forms, and further chromatic harmony, including chromatic mediant relationships and enharmonic modulation. Introduction to 20th century concerns, including modality, atonality, Impressionism, Expressionism, polyrhythm and polytonality, serial techniques, minimalism, and improvisation and chance.

Prerequisite: MUSC 221.

MUSC 235Instrumentation2 semester hours*

Ranges, limits, use possibilities, technical parameters, and transpositions of instruments used for the making of music in performance.

Prerequisite: MUSC 122.

An exploration of selected dialogues, informed by a study of the various interpretations of the dialogues from Aristotle to the present.

PHIL 604Aristotle3 semester hours*

A close study of Aristotelian texts. Aristotle's psychology, metaphysics, or ethics and politics may be emphasized in a given semester.

PHIL 606Classics of Chinese Philosophy3 semester hours*

A study of the classic texts of the Confucian and Daoist traditions, including the Analects, Mencius, Doctrine of the Mean, The Great Learning, Daodejing, Zhuangzi, and The Art of War.

PHIL 608Plotinus3 semester hours*

A study of a wide range of Plotinus' works, aimed at articulating his understanding of the fundamental structures of reality, of thought, and of human life in relation to their transcendent source. The main emphasis will be on metaphysical and gnoseological themes, but the ethical, aesthetic, and spiritual dimensions of Plotinus' thought will also be considered.

PHIL 609Augustine3 semester hours*

A study of central philosophical topics in Augustine's thought, focusing primarily but not exclusively on the earlier phases of his work. Issues to be thematized include truth, beauty, unity and number, interiority, divine illumination, eternity and time, and the problem of evil.

PHIL 614Aquinas3 semester hours*

An exploration of major themes in the thought of the 13th-century Dominican Thomas Aquinas through seminal works such as the Summa Theologiae and the Summa Contra Gentiles.

PHIL 615Duns Scotus3 semester hours*

An exploration of major themes in the thought of Duns Scotus.

PHIL 624Early Modern Philosophy3 semester hours*

A study of selected thinkers and themes in 17th and 18th century European philosophy, focusing on the major works of seminal philosophers such as Descartes, Spinoza, Malebranche, Pascal, Locke, Leibniz, Berkeley, and Hume. Topics may include reality, knowledge, perception, reason, causation, identity, substance, mind, and God.

PHIL 626Pascal3 semester hours*

A close reading of the Pensees and selected shorter works with special attention to their relevance for contemporary debates in philosophy of religion over the nature of faith, the ethics of belief, and religious pluralism.

PHIL 628Hume3 semester hours*

A study of selected themes in the philosophy of David Hume.

PHIL 630Kant3 semester hours*

An in-depth study of selections from the three critiques and other writings, with attention to the relevant secondary literature.

PHIL 634Hegel3 semester hours*

A close reading of Hegel's Phenomenology of Spirit with the aid of the major commentators.

PHIL 636Kierkegaard3 semester hours*

A study of Kierkegaard's philosophical psychology through an examination of his pseudonymous works, including Either/Or, Fear and Trembling, Repetition, The Concept of Anxiety, Concluding Unscientific Postscript, and The Sickness Unto Death.

PHIL 637Husserl3 semester hours*

A study of the phenomenological method of Husserl through readings from one or more of his texts.

PHIL 638Heidegger3 semester hours*

A study of major themes in Heidegger's philosophy, beginning with Being and Time and including other major texts from the later periods of his thought.

PHIL 639Topics in Phenomenology3 semester hours*

The study of one or more topics in phenomenology, drawing from the works of such thinkers as Husserl, Scheler, Stein, Heidegger, Sartre, and Merleau-Ponty.

May be repeated for degree credit.

PHIL 640Wittgenstein3 semester hours*

A close study of the Philosophical Investigations along with the Tractatus and On Certainty. Topics include the nature of mind, language, and the relation between language and the world in the philosophy of Wittgenstein.

PHIL 642Hermeneutics3 semester hours*

A consideration of the philosophical questions raised by the interpretation of historically and culturally distant texts, artifacts, and experiences. Course may focus on one or more exponents of philosophical hermeneutics (e.g., Heidegger, Gadamer, Ricoeur, et al.) or on a particular issue (e.g., history, art, narrative, etc.).

PHIL 644Critical Theory3 semester hours*

A look at contemporary “critical theorists,” scholars who—inspired by Kant, Hegel, Marx, and Freud—share two apparently incompatible convictions: first, that philosophy must acknowledge the historical, economic, political, psychological, and sociological factors that constrain and distort our thinking; and second, that this discipline of radical self-criticism can lead to insight, change, and growth.

PHIL 647American Philosophy3 semester hours*

A study of issues and movements in American Philosophy, such as Transcendentalism, Pragmatism, and Neo-Pragmatism.

PHIL 648Lonergan3 semester hours*

A study of Lonergan’s cognitional theory, epistemology, metaphysics, and ethics, in Insight and later works.

PHIL 650Topics in Continental Philosophy3 semester hours*

A study of prominent themes in the continental tradition of philosophy. Topics vary each semester and may include figures from the 19th, 20th, and 21st centuries.

May be repeated for degree credit.

PHIL 654Contemporary French Philosophy3 semester hours*

A study focusing on twentieth and/or twenty-first century figures in French philosophy. This seminar may be devoted to one or more of the following figures: Bergson, Marcel, Ricoeur, Levinas, Foucault, Derrida, Marion, Nancy, or other similar thinkers.

PHIL 656Epistemology3 semester hours*

This course addresses the philosophical dimensions of the cognitive life. It explores questions about the nature and sources of knowledge—and even its very possibility. Such questions lead to further considerations about, for example, skepticism and the problem of epistemic regress; the foundationalism vs. coherentism and internalism vs. externalism debates; the classical debates between rationalism and empiricism and, too, realism and idealism. The course might also investigate fresh developments in virtue epistemology, social epistemology, and feminist epistemology.

PHIL 660Metaphysics3 semester hours*

A study of major metaphysical theories including those of Plato, Aristotle, and Aquinas.

PHIL 662Personalist Metaphysics3 semester hours*

An exploration of the thesis that the personal self is the most dynamic dimension of reality, contrasting both classical metaphysics and phenomenological realism with a range of reductionist accounts of the person. Particular points of contact include economism, scientism, and individualism.

PHIL 664Philosophy of Mind3 semester hours*

An examination of the nature of mind and its relation to the physical world. Topics might include consciousness, subjectivity, the self, personal identity, neuroscience, cognitive psychology, artificial intelligence, and cognitive ethology.

PHIL 666Philosophy of Science3 semester hours*

A detailed philosophical examination of some aspect of natural science. Topics might include science and pseudoscience, scientific explanation, theoretic confirmation, laws of nature, scientific revolutions, scientific realism, and social constructivism.

PHIL 670Social and Political Philosophy3 semester hours*

A study of the interrelation of the person and community, focusing on such questions as: Is the human person, at the deepest level, a whole rather than a part? How can we best evaluate contractarian, utilitarian, and natural law views of the common good? Does liberal individualism do justice to either the person or the common good?

PHIL 672Virtue Ethics3 semester hours*

A study of contemporary reappropriations of Aristotle by such authors as MacIntyre, Anscombe, Geach, and Porter.

PHIL 678Ethics3 semester hours*

A survey of major ethical theories including those of Aristotle, Kant, and Mill.

PHIL 682Topics in Philosophy and Religion3 semester hours*

A study of selected topics in the philosophy of religion, such as God, faith and reason, including an examination of both historical and contemporary discussions of these topics.

PHIL 696Teacher Orientation and Practicum0 semester hours*

PHIL 697Comprehensive Examinations0 semester hours*

CR/NC grading.

PHIL 698Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursPHIL 699*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursPhysics

PHYS 100Thinking in Science3 semester hours*

Enhancement of scientific reasoning. Topics include: identify and control of variables, deductive and inductive reasoning, proportional reasoning, analysis of scientific data, and problem solving.

Lecture, 2 hours; Laboratory, 2 hours.

PHYS 101Introduction to Mechanics4 semester hours*

Vectors, Newton's laws of motion, work and energy, impulse and momentum, rotation, angular momentum, static equilibrium, harmonic motion. May include a brief introduction to quantum mechanics.

Laboratory experiments pertaining to mechanics. Measurement, estimation, and uncertainty. Projectile motion, Newton's laws, friction, torque.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 2 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 131 or concurrent enrollment.

PHYS 195Waves and Light3 semester hours*

An interactive and experimental introduction to geometric optics with emphasis on applications to the modern world. Topics include: ray-tracing, reflection, refraction, thin lenses, polarization, interference, diffraction, thin films, wave-particle duality of light.

Lecture, 2 hours; Laboratory, 2 hours.

Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering students only.

PHYS 198Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursPHYS 199*Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursPHYS 201*Introduction to Electricity and Magnetism4 semester hours*

Electrostatics. Current, resistance, and D.C. circuits. Magnetism. Induced electromotive force. Electric and magnetic properties of matter. Maxwell's equations. Laboratory experiments pertaining to electricity and magnetism. Coulomb's Law, static electricity, electric field plotting, circuits, charge/mass ratio for electron.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 2 hours.

Prerequisites: PHYS 101; MATH 132 or concurrent enrollment.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Quantitative Reasoning.

PHYS 206Foundations of Modern Physics4 semester hours*

An introduction to special relativity (SR), quantum mechanics (QM), and statistical thermodynamics (ST). Selected topics include (SR) frames of reference, Minkowski diagrams and space time structure, causality, Lorentz transformations, four-vectors and Lorentz invariants, relativistic conservation laws. (QM) failures of classical theory, wave-particle duality, models of the hydrogen atom, emission spectra, the Heisenberg uncertainty principle, wave functions and probability, the Schrodinger equation. (ST) Statistical interpretation of entropy, the Laws of Thermodynamics.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 2 hours.

Prerequisites: PHYS 201 or PHYS 254; MATH 245 or concurrent enrollment.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Quantitative Reasoning.

PHYS 212Intermediate Mechanics3 semester hours*

Kinematics and dynamics of single and multiparticle systems. Rigid bodies. Accelerating coordinate systems. Non-inertial coordinate systems. Small vibrations. Central force fields. Introduction to Lagrangian and Hamiltonian mechanics.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: PHYS 101; MATH 245 or concurrent enrollment.

PHYS 253General Physics I4 semester hours*

Vectors. Kinematics. Newton's laws of motion, energy, momentum, rotational motion, and harmonic motion. Fluid mechanics. Heat and thermodynamics. Laboratory experiments pertaining to mechanics, thermodynamics, and fluid mechanics.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 2 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 112 or MATH 122 or MATH 131 or concurrent enrollment.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Quantitative Reasoning.

NOTE: THE PHYS 253-PHYS 254 series is suitable for biology and chemistry majors and others desiring a college-level experience in physics. This series is not acceptable for credit in the physics or engineering programs.

PHYS 254General Physics II4 semester hours*

Electrostatics. Magnetism. Current, D.C. circuits. Electromagnetic waves. Geometrical and wave optics. Relativity. Nuclear physics. Laboratory experiments pertaining to electricity, magnetism, and optics.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 2 hours.

Prerequisite: PHYS 253.

PHYS 271Astronomy3 semester hours*

Understanding the universe. Topics include: history of astronomy, solar system, stars, galaxies, evolution of the universe.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

PHYS 274Weapons of Mass Destruction3 semester hours*

Scientific principles underlying nuclear weaponry, including basic atomic theory, fission, and fusion; quantifying effects of nuclear explosions; exploring the history, development, and use of nuclear weapons, including potential nuclear terrorism scenarios; social, political, and ethical ramifications of the nuclear arms race and the Cold War.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections.

PHYS 278Great Ideas in Physics3 semester hours*

Principles of physics with an emphasis on conceptual understanding. Physics as a human activity.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

PHYS 298Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursPHYS 299*Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursPHYS 301*Electromagnetic Fields3 semester hours*

Electric and magnetic fields. Dielectric materials. Poisson's equation. Boundary value problems. Field energy. Vector potential.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: PHYS 201, PHYS 206; MATH 355 or concurrent enrollment.

PHYS 302Electromagnetic Waves3 semester hours*

Faraday's law. Maxwell's equations. Plane waves in dielectrics and conductors. Sources of radiation, Lienard-Wiechert potentials. Special Relativity.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: PHYS 301.

PHYS 321Quantum Mechanics I3 semester hours*

Schrodinger equation and its solutions; potential wells, steps, and tunneling; the quantum harmonic oscillator; theory of angular momentum; spin; the hydrogen atom.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: PHYS 206; MATH 245 or concurrent enrollment.

PHYS 322Quantum Mechanics II3 semester hours*

Perturbation theory, scattering theory; the variational principle, the WKB approximation; topics in nuclear physics; selected applications of quantum theory to contemporary issues in physics.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: PHYS 321.

PHYS 351Space Physics3 semester hours*

Introduction to Solar-Terrestrial physics. Physics of space plasmas and single fluid magnetohydrodynamics. Solar physics and the solar wind. Collisionless shocks. The magnetosphere. The ionosphere. The aurora. Geomagnetic storms. Pulsations and magnetohydrodynamic waves. Planetary magnetospheres.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: MATH 234 and PHYS 206.

PHYS 361Astrophysics3 semester hours*

Orbital mechanics, the solar system, electromagnetic radiation and matter, stellar properties, Milky Way Galaxy, cosmology.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: PHYS 101, PHYS 201, and PHYS 206; or PHYS 253 and PHYS 254; MATH 123 or MATH 132.

PHYS 371Biophysics3 semester hours*

Application of physical laws to biological structure and function: biomechanics, circulatory system, hearing and vision, radiation.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: PHYS 201 or PHYS 254.

PHYS 398Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursPHYS 399*Independent Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursPHYS 411*Modern Physics Lab3 semester hours*

Experiments in modern physics and optics. Emphasis is placed on instrumentation, data acquisition, programming applications, theoretical interpretations, statistical analysis, and communication of results through written and oral reports.

Lecture, 1 hour; Laboratory, 4 hours.

Prerequisites: PHYS 206 and PHYS 301 or PHYS 321 or concurrent enrollment.

PHYS 421Condensed Matter Physics3 semester hours*

Crystal structure, elastic properties of solids. Free electron Fermi gas. Energy band structure. Semiconductors, superconductivity. Topics in soft condensed matter.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: PHYS 301 or PHYS 321 or concurrent enrollment.

PHYS 441Modern Optics3 semester hours*

Review of electromagnetic theory. Applied geometrical optics. Fourier analysis, polarization, interference and diffraction, coherence theory, lasers, and holography.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: PHYS 206 or concurrent enrollment.

PHYS 451

Thermodynamics and Statistical Mechanics

3 semester hours

Classical thermodynamics, applications to simple systems. Kinetic theory and the approach to equilibrium. Classical statistical mechanics. Quantum statistics.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: PHYS 321.

PHYS 461

Elementary Particle Physics

3 semester hours

Historical introduction. Symmetries and conservation laws. Feynman diagrams and rules. Quantum electrodynamics. The parton model. Quantum chromodynamics. Weak interactions and electroweak unification. Gauge theories and the Standard Model.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: PHYS 301 or PHYS 321 or concurrent enrollment.

PHYS 471

Introduction to Relativity and Cosmology

3 semester hours

Historical introduction. Review of Special Relativity. Differential geometry, tensor analysis and curvature. The Equivalence Principle and Einstein's field equations. The Schwarzschild solution and Black Holes. The standard model of Cosmology and Robertson-Walker metrics. The Friedmann equation and the cosmological constant. Red-shift and cosmological distance. Type Ia Supernovae as distance indicators. Inflation, Dark Matter, Dark Energy, and other problems of current cosmology. Alternative theories of gravity.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: PHYS 301, or PHYS 321 or PHYS 361 or concurrent enrollment.

PHYS 480

Capstone Experience

1 semester hour

Preparation for life after graduation, including graduate school, work in industry, and teaching. Colloquia, journal reading, and seminars on topics in contemporary physics, scientific/proposal writing, and presentation skills.

Enrollment is limited to Physics/Engineering Physics seniors only.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Information Literacy.

PHYS 481

Senior Thesis

1 semester hour

Independent research with a faculty member in his/her area of expertise; students must complete a written thesis and oral presentation.

Enrollment is limited to Physics/Engineering Physics seniors only.

Credit/No Credit grading.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Oral Skills; Flag: Writing.

PHYS 490

Physics Teaching

1 TO 2 semester hours

Guided teaching of introductory physics.

May be repeated for credit.

Requires consent of instructor.

PHYS 493

Physics/Engineering Physics Internship

1 TO 3 semester hours

Research/development work conducted in a local government or industrial laboratory. The project may be theoretical or experimental and is jointly supervised by on-site staff and LMU faculty.

PHYS 498

Special Studies

1 TO 4 semester hours

PHYS 499

Independent Studies

0 TO 4 semester hours

Political Science

POLS 135

U.S. Politics

3 semester hours

An overview of the major political processes in contemporary American life.

POLS 155

Comparative Politics

3 semester hours

Analyzes political institutions and policies in democratic and authoritarian countries. Combines conceptual understanding with case studies from Europe, Africa, Asia, and Latin America.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Understanding Human Behavior.

POLS 165

International Relations

3 semester hours

This course provides an introduction to the field of international relations, with an emphasis on state and non-state behavior in explaining international cooperation and conflict.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Understanding Human Behavior.

POLS 198

Special Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

POLS 199

Independent Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

POLS 210

Empirical Approaches

3 semester hours

This course introduces the assumptions of the scientific approach in the study of politics, the process of concept formation, and research design. Includes data analysis laboratory sessions.

Students are encouraged to complete this class in their sophomore year.

Prerequisite: POLS 135, POLS 155, or POLS 165.

POLS 220

Foundations of Political Thought

3 semester hours

Introduction of the major thinkers and schools of thought that lay the foundation for western governments. Writing intensive.

Students are encouraged to complete this class in their sophomore year.

Prerequisite: POLS 135, POLS 155, or POLS 165.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Writing.

POLS 298

Special Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

POLS 299

Independent Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

POLS 323

American Political Thought

4 semester hours

A study of the origin and development of liberal democracy from Hobbes and Locke to contemporary American thinkers and groups.

POLS 324

Marx and Marxism

4 semester hours

An examination of the Marxist contribution to socio-political thought from Marx to the current era.

POLS 325

Classical and Christian Political Theory

4 semester hours

A survey of Western political thought from ancient Greece through the Renaissance.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Ethics and Justice; Flag: Oral Skills.

POLS 326

Modern Political Theory

4 semester hours

A survey of Western political thought from the Renaissance through the 19th century.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Ethics and Justice; Flag: Oral Skills.

POLS 327

Contemporary Political Theory

4 semester hours

A survey of 20th century and 21st century political thought.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Ethics and Justice; Flag: Writing.

POLS 328

Critical Race Theory

4 semester hours

This course takes up the question of race and politics through the lens of critical theory, legal theory, and political philosophies of race and difference.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections.

POLS 332

Campaigns and Elections

4 semester hours

An examination of the electoral process in the United States covering political participation, campaigns, and institutional arrangements at all levels of government.

POLS 333

Congressional Politics

4 semester hours

A study of the workings of the U.S. Congress with an emphasis on the legislative process. Course is primarily conducted as a simulation of either the House or Senate.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Engaged Learning; Flag: Oral Skills.

POLS 334

Presidency

4 semester hours

A study of the powers, process, and problems of the modern United States presidency.

POLS 335

Immigration Politics and Policy

4 semester hours

This course focuses on the historical and contemporary politics of immigration. The course will cover issues ranging from root causes of international migration, to the various social, cultural, and political consequences of immigration in the United States.

University Core fulfilled: Foundations: Studies in American Diversity.

POLS 336

Courts, Law, and Society

4 semester hours

A study of how America's courts really work, focusing on the role of judges, juries, and attorneys.

POLS 337

Racial and Ethnic Politics

4 semester hours

Comparative analysis of racial and ethnic groups within the United States political system. A focus on the effect of political institutions on minority groups at federal, state, and local levels. Examines the experience of minority groups to illuminate political process in the U.S. (See CHST 337.)

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections.

POLS 338

Social Movements

4 semester hours

An analysis of the current issues and controversies facing several civil rights movements.

POLS 339

Media and Politics

4 semester hours

An examination of the broad array of news and information sources in the U.S. A particular focus on media trends and how information dissemination affects democratic principles.

POLS 345

Urban Politics

4 semester hours

Analysis of political institutions and processes in urban areas of the U.S., including policy-making processes, power structures, urban problems, and intergovernmental relations.

POLS 351

Politics of the European Union

4 semester hours

An analysis of the political structures and processes of Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, and other European nations.

POLS 352Italian Politics4 semester hours*

This course will examine the birth of modern Italy and its politics and political institutions.

POLS 353Politics in the Middle East4 semester hours*

An overview and analysis of the major patterns and problems in political development and life in the Middle East and North Africa from a cross-national perspective.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections;
Flag: Engaged Learning.

POLS 355Political Dynamics of East Asia: Greater China, Japan, and the Koreas4 semester hours*

Northeast Asia is one of the most economically dynamic and politically fraught regions in the world. This course introduces students to the political systems of the region focusing on China, Japan, and the Koreas, and Taiwan.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections.

POLS 356Politics of Africa4 semester hours*

An analysis of the problems and prospects for political, economic, and social development in Africa south of the Sahara.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections;
Flag: Writing.

POLS 357US-British Politics4 semester hours*

A comparative study of political systems of the United States and Great Britain.

POLS 358Politics of Development4 semester hours*

An analysis of the various theoretical approaches to understanding the political economy of developing nations and the empirical consequences of development strategies.

POLS 359Politics of Modern Israel4 semester hours*

This course is an in-depth study of the politics and history of contemporary Israel.

POLS 361International Cooperation4 semester hours*

A study of the patterns of formal institution building and informal regime definition that underlie and define the development of cooperative relationships among the nations of the world.

POLS 362International Security4 semester hours*

A survey of challenges to security and peace in modern international relations, such as war, the nuclear peril, terrorism, revolution, ecological dangers, economic pressures and sociodemographic crises.

POLS 365United States Foreign Policy4 semester hours*

Analysis of recent United States foreign policy with a focus on the policy making and implementation process.

POLS 370Elderly and the Law4 semester hours*

A study of the intersection of aging issues with the legal system including advance directives, guardianships, wills and trusts, assisted living arrangements, health care benefits, age discrimination in employment, long term care, and elder abuse.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Engaged Learning.

POLS 380Washington Internship1 TO 6 semester hours*

The academic component of a supervised internship in Washington, D.C.

Credit/No Credit grading only.

POLS 381Internship1 TO 4 semester hours*

The academic component of a supervised internship in an appropriate agency in Los Angeles or Sacramento.

In addition to the internship itself, the student must meet regularly with a faculty member selected prior to the start of the internship and write a research paper.

Credit/No Credit grading only

POLS 382Washington D.C. Politics4 semester hours*

A part of The Washington Center academic internship program, this course is a comprehensive reflective examination and evaluation (in portfolio format) of the student's academic and internship experience.

POLS 385Political Films and Media4 semester hours*

An examination of the role of print and electronic media in politics and an exploration of political themes as presented in movies.

POLS 392Special Studies in Political Thought1 TO 4 semester hoursPOLS 393*Special Studies in U.S. Politics1 TO 4 semester hoursPOLS 395*Special Studies in Comparative Politics1 TO 4 semester hours*

POLS 396Special Studies in International and World Politics1 TO 4 semester hoursPOLS 398*Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hoursPOLS 399*Independent Studies0 TO 4 semester hoursPOLS 420*Ethics, Politics, and Policy4 semester hours*

An examination of the ethical dimensions of domestic policy and political action. The course combines theoretical analyses and case studies.

POLS 421Ethics of War4 semester hours*

An examination of the ethical dimensions of military and political action, with special attention to just war theory and its applicability to today's world. The course combines theoretical analyses and case studies.

POLS 422Punishment and Mercy4 semester hours*

This course explores theoretical and practical challenges to reconciling effective and just social punishment with the virtue of mercy.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Ethics and Justice; Flag: Information Literacy; Flag: Oral Skills.

POLS 423Political Rhetoric4 semester hours*

An examination of how rhetoric shapes political life and social goals. This course analyzes how the structure and content of arguments helps to create political narrative and guide political action.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Oral Skills.

POLS 430Campaign1 semester hour*

A study of the candidates and issues involved in the fall campaign of each election year.

POLS 431Public Opinion and American Culture4 semester hours*

An examination of public opinion and political participation in terms of their development, trends, measurement, and influencing factors.

POLS 432Interest Groups and Advocacy4 semester hours*

An examination of the role of groups and advocacy organizations in the U.S. Central assignment of the course will be a founding of an interest group.

POLS 435Politics of California1 TO 4 semester hours*

An examination of the structure and dynamics of California government and politics.

POLS 436Politics of Los Angeles4 semester hours*

A study of the structure and dynamics of county, city, and special district governments in the Los Angeles metropolitan area.

POLS 437Chicana/o Politics3 semester hours*

A study of the social and political development of the Chicano community in the United States.

(See CHST 337.)

POLS 438Women and Politics4 semester hours*

An analysis of the issues and topics resulting from the intersection of gender with the political system.

POLS 439Political Psychology4 semester hours*

A study of the relationship between selected psychological and social-psychological characteristics of individuals and political behavior.

POLS 440Public Policy Analysis4 semester hours*

An examination of the processes by which public policy is formulated, implemented, and evaluated. Emphasis will be placed on policy planning and evaluation competencies.

POLS 446Public Policy on Aging4 semester hours*

An introduction to the field of political gerontology with an emphasis on the public policies that affect the elderly population.

POLS 453Politics of the Middle East through Film4 semester hours*

This course surveys the history, economics, and politics of the Middle East and North Africa through film. It examines salient cultural, economic, and political issues in the region through film. The course examines explanations from various disciplines and compares these with empirical evidence to make informed arguments about contemporary and historical social and political issues in the Middle East and North Africa.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections.

POLS 454Politics of Latin America4 semester hours*

Analyzes political institutions and processes in Latin America. Emphasizes current political and economic challenges to democratic consolidation in the region.

POLS 455Slavery, Abolition, and Modern Slavery4 semester hours*

The first half of this course examines historical slavery and abolition. The second half of the course concentrates on modern slavery.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections.

POLS 456Identities in African Diaspora: The Americas4 semester hours*

The course examines the political identities of peoples of African descent in North American, South America, and the Caribbean.

POLS 458Political Leadership4 semester hours*

A study of the sources and uses, limits and possibilities of leadership in the political arena. The course focuses on leadership and followership in political systems across cultures and systems but focuses on the United States.

POLS 460Foreign Policy Analysis4 semester hours*

This course will focus on the foreign policy of states, with particular attention to decision making and policy planning models.

POLS 462Human Rights and Global Change4 semester hours*

This course introduces students to human rights issues around the world, with particular attention paid to international actors, such as the United Nations, that seek progress in this arena.

POLS 465The Politics of the Global Economy4 semester hours*

This course looks at how politics has shaped the modern global economy and how these global forces are re-shaping the relationship between states, markets, and society.

University Core fulfilled: Integrations: Interdisciplinary Connections.

POLS 471United States Constitutional Law: Case Method I4 semester hours*

Judicial, executive, and legislative power; individual rights.

POLS 472United States Constitutional Law: Case Method II4 semester hours*

Freedom of Speech and Equal Protection.

POLS 475International Law4 semester hours*

Focus on some of the major doctrines of international law and the processes of making and implementing law in the contemporary international system.

POLS 480Leadership Development4 semester hours*

This course is an experientially based class that develops leadership skills and knowledge.

POLS 485Practicum in Politics4 semester hours*

Involves a combination of field work with assigned readings, research, and group discussion with others engaged in these same endeavors.

Psychology

PSYC 100

General Psychology

3 semester hours

Introduction to psychology: historical origins; methods of investigation; topics such as sensation, perception, learning, cognition, motivation, and emotion; fields such as physiological, development, personality, social, abnormal, testing, applied psychology, and psychotherapy.

PSYC 198

Special Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

PSYC 199

Independent Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

PSYC 241

Statistical Methods for Psychology

3 semester hours

Statistical concepts and methods related to psychological testing and research, including measures of central tendency, variance, hypothesis testing, analysis of variance, correlation, regression, non-parametric tests, use of computer aids.

Lab required.

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 100, PSYC 243 or concurrent enrollment.

PSYC 243

Statistical Methods for Psychology Lab

1 semester hour

Companion lab course to PSYC 241. Data management and statistical analysis using SPSS.

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 241 or concurrent enrollment.

PSYC 251

Brain and Behavior

3 semester hours

Biological basis of behavior; structure and function of the sensory and effector mechanisms, neural and endocrine systems and their underlying physiological substrates.

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: HHSC 150 and PSYC 100, or consent of instructor.

PSYC 261

Experimental Methods

3 semester hours

Introduces the basic principles of experimental designs. Provides students with fundamental background for planning, conducting, and critiquing experimental research in psychology. Emphasizes scientific writing, including APA style; and data interpretation using inferential, descriptive, and relational statistics. Includes how to generate and test hypotheses, search the scientific literature, the nature of variables, types of measurement, types and assessment of reliability and validity, and ethical issues in empirical research.

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 100, PSYC 241, PSYC 243.

PSYC 265

Nonexperimental Methods

3 semester hours

Introduces the basic principles of nonexperimental and quasi-experimental designs. Provides students with fundamental background for planning, conducting, and critiquing nonexperimental, quasi-experimental, and qualitative research in psychology. Emphasizes philosophy of science and scientific writing, including APA style. Methods and designs may include quasi-experimental, correlational, meta-analytic, survey, longitudinal, narrative, participatory action, ethnographic, focus groups, and mixed methodologies. Statistical procedures include those appropriate to these methods and designs.

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 100, PSYC 241, PSYC 243.

PSYC 298

Special Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 100.

PSYC 299

Independent Studies

1 TO 3 semester hours

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 100.

PSYC 310

Psychology of Sex Differences

3 semester hours

Explores sex and sex differences from a biosocial or evolutionary psychology perspective. Examines evolution of sexual reproduction, the two sexes, sexually dimorphic morphology, behavior, and emotion. Identifies and examines different reproductive strategies employed by males and females (including nonhuman species) and resulting conflicts of interests between the sexes. Particular focus given to sex differences in sexuality, courtship, jealousy, mating systems, and parenting.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 100.

PSYC 315

Psychology of Women

3 semester hours

Women's biological, emotional, cognitive, and behavioral functioning will be reviewed. Topics of special concern to women (e.g., discrimination, sexual harassment, parenting, etc.) will also be discussed.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 100.

PSYC 319

African and Black Psychology

3 semester hours

A biopsychosocial/spiritual review of topics in psychology from an Africentric perspective. A survey course examining and contrasting basic theories, research, and concepts in African psychology and Black psychology. Selected features of the discipline of western psychology are critiqued from an African-centered perspective.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 100.

PSYC 320

Psychology of Race, Culture, and Ethnicity

3 semester hours

Theories and research on psychological, social, and cultural influences in prejudice, racism, ethnic identification, stereotyping, and racial conflict.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 100.

PSYC 321Psychology of Marriage3 semester hours*

Exploration of theories and research on psychological processes in interpersonal attraction; intimacy, marriage, and family relationships.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 100.

PSYC 325Applied Sport Psychology3 semester hours*

Explores the relationship of psychological factors to performance in sports. Emphasizes the application of psychological techniques to sport and exercise, including such topics as: personality, motivation, arousal, anxiety, competitiveness, and aggression. Examines psychosocial aspects of team versus individual sports, performance enhancement strategies, and injury avoidance and recovery. Self-assessment and activities facilitate growth and development in personal abilities to enhance performance in a sport and in a variety of non-sport settings.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 100.

PSYC 330Forensic Psychology3 semester hours*

Examines the interaction of psychology and law. Topics include basic assumptions of law and professional and academic psychology; psychological malpractice; role of mental health experts as expert witnesses, diagnosticians, treatment providers, and advisors in tort law, family law, mental health law, criminal law, and alternative dispute resolution including mediation. Covers fundamental legal procedures, roles of mental health professionals who interact with the legal system, psychological research on legal issues, and common ethical and legal issues related to psychological practices in these areas.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 100.

PSYC 331Human Sexual Behavior3 semester hours*

This course is an up-to-date factual exploration of human sexual behavior based on a biopsychosocial approach. It covers the evolution of sex, sexuality, and sexual behavior; the role of sex in relationships; sexual attraction and arousal; sexual minorities and atypical sexuality; sex in commerce (pornography and prostitution); sexual dysfunction and treatment; and sexually transmitted diseases.

PSYC 332Psychological Disorders3 semester hours*

An introduction to the biological, psychological, and social determinants of psychopathology and maladaptive behaviors. Focus on the causes, diagnosis, and treatment of these disorders. This course is designed for students not majoring in Psychology.

Not open to majors in Psychology.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 100.

PSYC 345Psychology on Film3 semester hours*

An investigation of principles and theories of psychology through the analysis of characters in quality, character-based films.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 100.

PSYC 350Principles of Behavioral Neuroscience3 semester hours*

Explores the scientific investigation and advancement of theory pertaining to processes underlying the biological basis of human behavior. This course will examine pertinent topics within the fields of psychology, biology, chemistry, neuropharmacology, biochemistry, and the clinical sciences (e.g., neurology and neuropsychiatry) to provide a comprehensive introduction to behavioral neuroscience.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics; Flag: Information Literacy; Flag: Oral Skills.

PSYC 352Developmental Psychology3 semester hours*

Research and theories of normal human development from conception through adult maturity, old age, and death. Focus on growth and change in biological, cognitive, and social processes in psychological development. This course is designed for students not majoring in Psychology.

Not open to majors in Psychology.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 100.

PSYC 362Psychology of Religion3 semester hours*

Examines the religious experience from a psychological perspective, including methods of developing spiritual awareness, classic writings in the field and review of empirical research.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 100.

PSYC 363Psychology of Death and Dying3 semester hours*

Theoretical and empirical research on the psychological nature of death and dying in the human life span process will be fully examined.

Lab required.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 100.

PSYC 364Psychology of Death and Dying Lab1 semester hour*

Companion lab course to PSYC 363. Observation and data collection from various institutions and community settings related to concerns of illness, health maintenance, dying, death, and funerals.

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 100.

PSYC 398Special Studies1 TO 4 semester hours*

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 100.

PSYC 399Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

Junior standing required.

Prerequisite: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in PSYC 100.

PSYC 401Cognition3 semester hours*

Contemporary theories and research regarding cognitive processes: perception, pattern recognition, attention, memory, representation of knowledge, mental imagery, psycholinguistics, concept formation, problem-solving, and reasoning. Explores the application of these theories to study skills, education, neuropsychology, psychopathology, cognitive development, intelligence, and computer models of cognition.

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 100, PSYC 251, and PSYC 261 or PSYC 265.

PSYC 410Social Psychology3 semester hours*

Contemporary theories and empirical research related to person perception, affiliation, interpersonal attraction, group structure and dynamics, social influence, attitude change, aggression, prosocial behavior, and prejudice.

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 100, PSYC 251, PSYC 261, PSYC 265.

PSYC 415Lifespan Development3 semester hours*

Research and theories of normal human development from conception through death, with emphasis on changes in physical, cognitive, and social-emotional processes with age.

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 100, PSYC 251, PSYC 261, PSYC 265.

PSYC 430Motivation and Emotion3 semester hours*

Animal and human research related to needs, desires, feelings, and purposes that arouse and direct behavior.

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 401, PSYC 410, PSYC 415.

PSYC 436Personality3 semester hours*

A survey of the major contemporary theories of personality and relevant research and applications related to each theory.

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 401, PSYC 410, PSYC 415.

PSYC 438Abnormal Psychology3 semester hours*

Causes, diagnosis, and treatment of various mental disorders: schizophrenia, mood disorders, anxiety disorders, personality disorders, childhood disorders, sexual dysfunctions, and other conditions covered in DSM IV-TR.

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 401, PSYC 410, PSYC 415.

PSYC 441Community Practicum3 semester hours*

This course is an integration of psychological theory and research with field work in real-world settings within underserved and/or diverse communities. The course includes an academic component in which students learn the history, objectives, and practice of community psychology and an applied component in which students participate in a formal placement/internship within the community.

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 100, PSYC 251, and PSYC 261 or PSYC 265.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Engaged Learning.

PSYC 443Advanced Statistics3 semester hours*

Advanced statistical methods using computer statistical packages. Topics include factor analysis, multiple regression, and multivariate analysis of variance.

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 401, PSYC 410, PSYC 415.

PSYC 445Research Practicum3 semester hours*

This course builds on lower division statistics and research methods courses. Students will design and conduct empirical research in a topical area of psychology through which they will learn more advanced methods and statistical procedures. This course is highly recommended for students considering graduate study in psychology.

Consent of instructor required.

Prerequisites: Grade of B (3.0) or higher in each: PSYC 241, PSYC 243, PSYC 261, PSYC 265.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Engaged Learning.

PSYC 452Evolutionary Psychology3 semester hours*

Examination of the biosocial development of adaptive behavioral strategies for various classes of behavior including altruism, intergenerational conflict, courtship, parenting, territoriality, sibling rivalry, aggression.

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 401, PSYC 410, PSYC 415.

PSYC 455Neuropsychology3 semester hours*

Clinical neuropsychology; brain damage and organic syndromes, diagnosis, and biological therapies.

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 401, PSYC 410, PSYC 415.

PSYC 462Industrial/Organizational Psychology3 semester hours*

Human problems in industry and business: motivation, morale, efficiency, human relations, occupational fatigue and rest, accident proneness, human engineering, and leadership.

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 401, PSYC 410, PSYC 415.

PSYC 490Teaching Internship1 TO 3 semester hours*

Guided teaching of undergraduate laboratories. May be repeated for credit.

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 401, PSYC 410, PSYC 415.

PSYC 498Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 401, PSYC 410, PSYC 415.

PSYC 499Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 401, PSYC 410, PSYC 415.

PSYC 515Capstone Seminar3 semester hours*

Seminar focuses on a faculty-selected topic to be investigated using the biopsychological perspective. The topic of this seminar may be related to the focus of the annual Bellarmine Forum, other major university forum, or a selected issue of current social importance. Students will review and integrate their learning in psychology. Course fulfills capstone requirement.

Senior Psychology majors only.

Prerequisites: All required courses for the major completed or currently in progress.

PSYC 595Senior Assessment0 semester hours*

Assessment of student learning outcomes in the field of psychology. Includes written examination or some other form of written assessment, completion of survey instruments, senior exit interview, or other forms of end-of-program evaluation. PSYC 595 is offered three times a year (Spring, Summer, and Fall) on a Credit/No Credit basis.

CR/NC grading only.

Lab fee.

Senior Psychology majors only.

Prerequisites: All required courses for the major completed or currently in progress.

PSYC 598Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 401, PSYC 410, PSYC 415.

PSYC 599Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hours*

Students work individually with a selected professor on a specific area of interest. Students who have completed PSYC 445 may wish to conduct further research independently.

Prerequisites: Grade of C (2.0) or higher in each: PSYC 401, PSYC 410, PSYC 415.

Recording ArtsRECA 220*Fundamentals of Sound3 semester hours*

The behavior of sound in various environments and techniques of modifying sound.

RECA majors only.

A grade of B (3.0) or better is required.

RECA 250Sound Design3 semester hours*

An introduction to the aesthetic, pragmatic, and technical issues of motion picture sound recording, editing, and mixing.

PROD and RECA majors only.

Prerequisite: FTVS 200, FTVS 210, or FTVS 212.

A grade of B (3.0) or better is required for RECA majors.

RECA 258Digital Sound Editing3 semester hours*

Introduction to sound effects and dialog editing using random access digital sound and picture.

RECA majors only.

Prerequisite: RECA 250.

RECA 298Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursRECA 299*Independent Studies0 TO 3 semester hoursRECA 322*Recording Technology3 semester hours*

The electronic theories of sound recording and reproduction.

RECA majors only.

Prerequisites: RECA 220 and RECA 258.

Corequisite: RECA 353.

RECA 353Production Sound Techniques3 semester hours*

Production sound theory and practice, with actual experience in recording, producing sound, and introduction to initial post-production procedures for film and TV.

RECA majors only.

Prerequisite: RECA 258.

Corequisite: RECA 322.

RECA 358Post-Production Sound3 semester hours*

Advanced applications in film and television sound post-production: ADR, Foley, dialog and sound effects editing, and mixing.

RECA majors only.

Prerequisites: RECA 220, RECA 250, RECA 322, and RECA 353.

Corequisites: RECA 361 and RECA 362.

RECA 361Live and Studio Recording3 semester hours*

The theory and practice of live and studio recording with no overdubs.

Live sound reinforcement practice of an outdoor concert session.

Lecture and Laboratory, 6 hours.

RECA majors only.

Prerequisites: RECA 220, RECA 250, RECA 322, and RECA 353; MUSC 107.

Corequisites: RECA 358 and RECA 362.

RECA 362Audio Software Applications3 semester hours*

In-depth study of audio software applications. Plugins and standalone software usage.

RECA majors only.

Prerequisites: RECA 220, RECA 250, and RECA 322.

Corequisites: RECA 358 and RECA 361.

RECA 367Production Sound3 semester hours*

Production sound theory and practice, with actual experience in recording, producing sound, and introduction to initial post-production procedures for film and TV.

PROD majors only.

Prerequisites: PROD 200 and RECA 250.

RECA 393Movie Music3 semester hours*

Study of understanding the main principles of music as a functional element in films. This class involves looking at and analyzing films and film clips; over the course of the semester, around 200 clips will be presented in class.

RECA 397Recording Arts Internship1 TO 3 semester hoursRECA 398*Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursRECA 399*Independent Studies0 TO 3 semester hoursRECA 461*Multi-Track Studio Recording3 semester hours*

Science, Engineering, and Mathematics

SCEM 190Exploring the Natural Sciences1 semester hour*

Introduction to the areas of study and career opportunities within the natural sciences.

Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering majors only.

SCEM 198Special Studies0 TO 3 semester hourSCEM 199*Independent Studies0 TO 3 semester hoursSCEM 265*Women in Science and Mathematics: Breaking the Stereotype3 semester hours*

A study of the work of prominent women scientists and mathematicians. The course will also examine their lives and how they succeeded in traditionally male disciplines.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

SCEM 267The Science and Life of Galileo3 semester hours*

A study of the scientific works of Galileo and how they influenced changes in our world view during the 17th century.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

SCEM 270Experimenting in Science I4 semester hours*

Combination lecture and laboratory designed to acquaint student with how science is done. Emphasis on active learning strategies such as performing experiments, demonstrations, group discussions. The study of general science principles, such as those typically introduced in K-8 education, in the areas of physical and earth science.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 2 hours.

Liberal Studies majors only.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Nature of Science, Technology, and Mathematics.

SCEM 271Experimenting in Science II4 semester hours*

Combination lecture and laboratory course designed to acquaint student with how science is done. Emphasis on active learning strategies such as performing experiments, demonstrations, group discussions. The study of general science principles, such as those typically introduced in K-8 education, in the areas of earth science and life science.

Lecture, 3 hours; Laboratory, 2 hours.

Liberal Studies majors only.

Prerequisite: MATH 101 or higher, or placement into MATH 106 or higher.

SCEM 298Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursSCEM 320*Science, Theology, and the Future3 semester hours*

A look at scientific discoveries, advances, and knowledge will be presented. The implications of the findings in science on theological questions and our worldview will be explored.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101, BIOL 102, BIOL 111, BIOL 112; CHEM 110, CHEM 111, CHEM 112, CHEM 113.

SCEM 370Workshop Biology: Life Works I3 semester hours*

The course discusses science pedagogy and allows students to experience working with science content as teachers, before they enter the classroom. Students will complete at least twenty hours of observation in high school classrooms and will be teaching lessons that they can develop.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Corequisite: SCEM 371.

SCEM 371Workshop Biology: Life Works I Laboratory1 semester hour*

The laboratory companion course for SCEM 370.

Laboratory, 3 hours.

Corequisite: SCEM 370.

SCEM 372Workshop Biology: Life Works II3 semester hours*

This is a community-based learning course that is project-based; students will create high school science curricula in collaboration with education staff at a local environmental non-profit and teachers from an area high school. Students background and interests, and the particular needs of the non-profit's education program and high school teachers, will play a significant role in defining each project.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Prerequisites: SCEM 370 and SCEM 371.

Corequisite: SCEM 373.

SCEM 373Workshop Biology: Life Works II Laboratory1 semester hour*

The laboratory companion course for SCEM 372.

Laboratory, 3 hours.

Corequisite: SCEM 372.

SCEM 376Workshop Chemistry: The Elements Nature I3 semester hours*

The course discusses science pedagogy and allows students to experience working with science content as teachers, before they enter the classroom. Students will complete at least 20 hours of observation in high school classrooms and will be teaching lessons that they develop.

Lecture, 3 hours.

Corequisite: SCEM 377.

SCEM 377Workshop Chemistry: The Elements of Nature I Laboratory1 semester hour*

The laboratory companion course for SCEM 376.

Laboratory, 3 hours.

Corequisite: SCEM 376.

SCEM 378Workshop Chemistry: The Elements of Nature II3 semester hours*

This is a community-based learning course that is project-based; students will create high school science curricula in collaboration with education staff at a local environmental non-profit and teachers from an area high school. Student background and interests, and the particular needs of the non-profit's education program and high school teachers, will play a significant role in defining each project.

The course will begin with a review of changes in modern Spanish in the Americas. It will provide a general introduction to the history and structure of the varieties of Spanish spoken in the New World. Topics to be treated will include the Peninsular origins of New World Spanish, the influence of American languages on Spanish, the features which characterize the different varieties of "New World" Spanish (including U.S. Spanish), and the grammatical and lexical features which distinguish European Spanish from that spoken in the Americas.

Prerequisite: SPAN 333 or consent of instructor.

SPAN 433Spanish of the United States3 semester hours*

This course aims to raise awareness of linguistic contact phenomena, as well as socio-political and ideological research issues underlying the complexity of Spanish in the U.S. Students will be working with a variety of linguistic topics related to the analysis of the Spanish language and its role as a minority language in the U.S. Topics covered are linguistic variation, diglossia, historical perspectives, attitudes towards language, and language planning.

Prerequisite: SPAN 333 or consent of instructor.

SPAN 434Spanish Language Acquisition3 semester hours*

A study of the acquisition of Spanish as first and second language from a linguistic and psycholinguistic perspective. This course provides hands-on experience on the design of a research project on child and/or adult language acquisition of Spanish.

Prerequisite: SPAN 333 or consent of instructor.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Oral Skills.

SPAN 435The Sounds of Spanish: Theory and Practice3 semester hours*

Study and practice of the sound system of Spanish. This course provides opportunities to explore the organization of the basic sounds in Spanish and discuss the differences between English and Spanish. Students will further develop their pronunciation abilities in Spanish through a lab component, where they will practice phonetic transcription and pronunciation.

Prerequisite: SPAN 333 or consent of instructor.

SPAN 441Latin American Novel3 semester hours*

A comparative study of representative narratives written by Latin American, U.S. Latino/a, and/or other diasporic Spanish-speaking authors during the 19th, 20th, and 21st centuries.

Specific course content depends on the instructor.

Prerequisite: SPAN 322 or consent of instructor.

SPAN 442Latin American Poetry3 semester hours*

Survey and comparative study of Spanish language poetry of the Americas from a variety of historical periods, national origins, and cultural and literary movements.

Specific course content depends on the instructor.

Prerequisite: SPAN 322 or consent of instructor.

University Core fulfilled: Flag: Engaged Learning.

SPAN 443Latin American Women Writers3 semester hours*

Survey and comparative study of representative works by Latin American and/or Latina women writers from a variety of historical periods, national origins, and cultural and literary movements.

Specific course content depends on the instructor.

Prerequisite: SPAN 322 or consent of instructor.

SPAN 444Latin American Drama3 semester hours*

An introduction to and comparison of representative works written by Latin American dramatists from a variety of historical periods, national origins, and literary and cultural movements.

Specific course content depends on the instructor.

Prerequisite: SPAN 322 or consent of instructor.

SPAN 445Latin American Short Story3 semester hours*

A comparative and literary study of the short story as well as representative works written by Latin American and/or Latino/a authors from a variety of historical periods, national origins, and literary and cultural movements.

Specific course content depends on the instructor.

Prerequisite: SPAN 322 or consent of instructor.

SPAN 451Nineteenth-Century Spanish Literature3 semester hours*

Analysis of representative literary works and authors of the Spanish 19th century in their historical and cultural contexts through a particular theme and from different perspectives.

Prerequisite: SPAN 322 or consent of instructor.

SPAN 452Early Modern Spanish Narrative3 semester hours*

The course analyzes narrative texts of the early modern period in Spain studied within their historical and cultural contexts. It will pay particular attention to their relevance for modern and contemporary literature.

Prerequisite: SPAN 322 or consent of instructor.

SPAN 453Twentieth-Century Spanish Literature3 semester hours*

Analysis of representative literary works and authors from the Spanish 20th century in their historical and cultural contexts through a particular theme and from different perspectives.

Prerequisite: SPAN 322 or consent of instructor.

SPAN 455Early Modern Spanish Drama and Poetry3 semester hours*

The course analyzes poetic and dramatic works of the early modern period in Spain studied within their historical and cultural contexts. It will pay particular attention to their relevance for modern and contemporary literature.

Prerequisite: SPAN 322 or consent of instructor.

SPAN 457Spanish Authors3 semester hours*

An in-depth study of the work of a specific author, such as Miguel de Cervantes or Federico García Lorca, or a group of authors, such as Spanish women writers.

May be repeated for degree credit, when content varies.

Prerequisite: SPAN 322 or consent of instructor.

SPAN 460Selected Topics in Spanish Studies3 semester hours*

Topics in Peninsular Spanish literature, film, and culture.

May be repeated for degree credit when content varies.

Prerequisite: SPAN 322 or consent of instructor.

SPAN 498Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursSPAN 499*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursSPAN 500*Senior Capstone Project1 semester hour*

Exit portfolio (for majors only).

Credit/No Credit grading.

Specialized Programs in Urban Education

EDUR 400Sociocultural Analysis of Education3 semester hours*

A study of the sociological and anthropological analysis of contemporary education with emphases on historical and cultural contexts, culturally sensitive pedagogy, cultural and ethnic diversity, social/cultural issues, equity, access to the core curriculum, and demographic trends in schools and society. Emphasis is placed on the preparation of professionals for the teaching profession and their awareness of social, psychological, and cultural forces shaping society today so that they are prepared to work with all learners. This course is designed for undergraduates in the traditional and/or blended teacher preparation program.

Sophomore or higher standing required.

EDUR 498Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursEDUR 499*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursEDUR 5000*Cultural Paradigms of Education3 semester hours*

A study of the sociological and anthropological analysis of contemporary education with emphases on cultural contexts, culturally sensitive pedagogy, cultural and ethnic diversity, social/cultural issues, and demographic trends in schools and society. Emphasis is placed on the preparation of professionals for the teaching profession and their awareness of social, psychological, and cultural forces shaping society today.

Fieldwork is required.

EDUR 5004Elementary School Literacy and Language Development2 semester hours*

The theoretical basis of literacy and approaches, methods, and techniques for teaching literacy skills in diverse urban school settings, will be explored.

EDUR 5005Literacy in the Content Areas2 semester hours*

This course is designed to develop an understanding of the nature of literacy and how it impacts content area learning. Training is provided in a variety of instructional methodologies including strategies designed for culturally and linguistically diverse students, ELD and SDAIE. The course will provide students with opportunities to acquire knowledge, skills, and the ability to deliver comprehensible instruction to English Learners and to develop lessons promoting students access and achievement in relation to state adopted academic content standards.

EDUR 5010Theories of Teaching, Learning, and Assessment2 semester hours*

Candidates will be exposed to current theories of teaching, learning, and assessment. Special attention will be given to the practical application of the theories in urban PK-12 school settings.

EDUR 5012Culture Language Urban Education3 semester hours*

Sociological and anthropological analysis of the role that language and culture play in urban education. Second language acquisition will be explored in depth.

EDUR 5014Multicultural Subjects Curriculum and Instruction3 semester hours*

This course covers curriculum and instruction in a multiple subjects classroom. Culturally and linguistically diverse student needs will be emphasized.

EDUR 5016Teaching Students with Special Needs in Urban Education3 semester hours*

This class will focus on the education of special needs students in urban K-12 classrooms.

EDUR 5018Research in Urban Education3 semester hours*

This is the capstone course in the Urban Education program. Students will be expected to complete a research project focusing in urban education.

EDUR 5020Research Project in Urban Education1 semester hour*

This course is a continuation of EDUR 5018 (Research in Urban Education). Candidates focus on collecting and analyzing findings of the research project started in EDUR 5018. In addition to regular class meetings, candidates are expected to meet individually with a faculty advisor to refine and revise the final research project. A final research paper, approved by a faculty committee, is required for the course.

Prerequisite: EDUR 5018.

EDUR 5501Practicum: Educational Practices in Action in Secondary Math and Science Classrooms3 semester hours*

Candidates learn how to model professional behavior that addresses job responsibilities and the expectations of mathematics or science secondary teachers working in a multilingual, multicultural, and economically diverse community.

EDUR 5503Practicum: Differentiated Education in Action in Secondary Math and Science Urban Education3 semester hours*

Candidates learn how to consistently strategically apply math or science teaching practices that involve students as active participants in the assessment process where both become advocates for student learning and achievement needs.

Consent of Coordinator required.

EDUR 5505Research-Supported Math/Science Practices in Urban Education3 semester hours*

This course helps candidates design and implement a mathematical or scientific learning environment that builds on the strengths that students bring to the teaching/learning process and reverses the achievement gap between subgroups within a school.

Consent of Coordinator required.

EDUR 5580Teaching Mathematics and Science in Urban Schools3 semester hours*

Candidates learn how to implement instruction that reverses the achievement gap and improve student engagement and achievement in mathematics or science by engaging students in a learning culture that values mathematical and scientific thinking.

EDUR 5581Mentorship in Math and Science Education3 semester hours*

This course is designed to build authentic and trusting relationships that value a teacher's paradigm within the context of expected exceptional practice aligned with effective students learning. The use of data to create and move through disequilibrium to strengthen student learning of math or science will be discussed.

EDUR 5582Collaboration in Math and Science Education3 semester hours*

Candidates learn how to design, plan, and implement a learning environment based on cooperative planning, constant collaboration, close unity, unrestrained communication, and sincere sharing. Candidates learn how to collaborate on learning, risk-taking, innovation, and change within the context of interdependence. Consent of Coordinator required.

EDUR 5998Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursEDUR 5999*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursEDUR 6100*Anthropological Analysis of Cultural Diversity3 semester hours*

An in-depth study of cultural diversity using methods from educational sociology and anthropology. The course will examine the major theoretical models advocating responses to cultural diversity and their practical implications for education. Themes/issues covered: contemporary demographics, genetic and cultural deficit theory, cultural mismatch theory, cultural ecological theory, sociocultural theory (neo-Vygotskian) and culturally responsive instruction, multicultural education and intercultural communication, critical pedagogy, and qualitative evaluation.

EDUR 6102The Context of Schooling3 semester hours*

This course focuses on the governmental, political, financial, legal, and historical perspectives of education in the United States. Students are given opportunities to integrate course topics and relate policy initiatives to the welfare of all students in responsible and ethical ways. School governance and management of human and fiscal resources in culturally diverse settings are stressed.

EDUR 6252Secondary School Curriculum and Methods for Language Arts and Social Studies3 semester hours*

Objectives, methods, materials, and problems involved in teaching language arts and social studies in the secondary schools. Explores methods of long and short range planning, course overviews, unit plans and lesson planning. Presents alternative strategies of instruction and methods of diagnosing needs and evaluating learning. Current approaches to classroom discipline, management, and organization are studied.

EDUR 6324Technology in Multilingual Settings3 semester hours*

Offered as an elective, this course emphasizes the use of instructional technologies with multilingual population. Of particular emphasis is the bridging of the Digital Divide, access and equity in technology with diverse populations, and uses of instructional technology within dual language contexts.

EDUR 6327Learning and Teaching with Technology3 semester hours*

In this course, constructivism will be explored as a foundation for teaching and learning with technology. The course will explore how technology can be used to promote the notion that students construct knowledge rather than just receive knowledge passively.

EDUR 6328Survey of Digital Technologies for Urban Education3 semester hours*

This course explores how different technologies can be used to promote equity in teaching and learning in urban schools. As technology evolves, candidates study how new forms of technology, beyond the personal computer, can be used for teaching and learning. Candidates will create projects using these new technologies.

EDUR 6329Assistive Technology3 semester hours*

Students with special needs benefit the most from the use of technology for teaching and learning. In this course, candidates learn the principles of universal design for learning, review federal and state laws regarding the education of students with special needs, and the use of appropriate technology to promote high standards for all students.

EDUR 6955Master's Thesis I1 semester hour*

This course is intended for students working on a Master's thesis. The committee chair provides ongoing support for the Master's thesis. Credit/No Credit.

EDUR 6956Master's Thesis II1 semester hour*

A continuation of Master's Thesis I for students who have not completed their Master's thesis.

Credit/No Credit.

Special approval required.

EDUR 6957Master's Thesis III1 semester hour*

A continuation of Master's Thesis II for students who have not completed their Master's thesis.

Credit/No Credit.

Special approval required.

EDUR 6960Introduction to Teaching and Learning3 semester hours*

This course is for candidates who are employed as full-time teachers either in a private/parochial school or with an emergency permit or intern credential in a public school. This prerequisite should be one of the first courses in the combined Master's/teaching credential program sequence. Seminars focus on analysis of effective classroom practices and problem solving. Initial on-site assessment will be made by a university supervisor as to professional competency in all phases of the multiple or single subject credential program. Areas for professional growth and development are identified and addressed individually through portfolio assessment. Candidates must submit a school-site supervisor/mentor contract agreement. Additionally, for private/parochial school teachers, this course requires 30 hours of public school observation/participation and a comprehensive journal. Application for fingerprint clearance must be submitted by private/parochial teachers immediately upon enrollment in this course. Special approval required.

EDUR 6961Fieldwork Supervision: Portfolio and Assessment of Teaching3 semester hours*

This course is for candidates who are employed as full-time teachers either in a private/parochial school or with an emergency permit or intern credential in a public school. This should be the last course in the combined Masters/teaching credential program sequence. Supervised field experience, portfolio assessment of personal growth, development, problem solving and documentation of teaching competencies will be completed during this course. Candidates must submit a school site supervisor/mentor contract agreement. Additionally, for private/parochial school teachers, this course requires 30 hours of public school observation/participation and a comprehensive journal. The EDUR 6960/6961 course sequence meets the California State requirement of student teaching for multiple and single subject credential candidates. Only one other course may be taken during the semester of fieldwork supervision.

Special approval required.

Prerequisites: EDUR 6960, all professional education courses in program sequence, including Health Education (EDES 8000), formal documentation of completed subject matter competency, and passage of all appropriate examinations.

EDUR 6963Seminar in Advanced Teaching Methodologies3 semester hours*

Candidates build on the material that was learned in the methodology course for the teaching credential program. In this course, candidates are presented with more strategies that promote high standards for all students. The theories behind these strategies are also discussed.

EDUR 6968Action Research in Urban Education3 semester hours*

In this course, candidates will learn how to use self-reflection to improve their practice as urban classroom teachers. Using real classroom experiences, candidates will learn how to systematically and collaboratively identify a problem, collect data, and evaluate solutions. Emphasis is placed on journal writing, observation skills, and methods for sharing the action research project. Case studies will be examined, and candidates will create an action research project in an urban education setting.

EDUR 6995Comprehensive Examination0 semester hours*

The Comprehensive Examination is usually taken during, or immediately following, the last semester of coursework completion. It may be a written and/or oral examination. Candidates should register for the specific section required for their program.

Fee required.

Credit/No Credit

Special approval required.

EDUR 6998Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursEDUR 6999*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursSystems Engineering Leadership*SELP 530*Systems Architecting3 semester hours*

Methodologies in systems architecture. Architecting hardware (aerospace examples), software and system-of-systems. Validation and verification on systems architecture to prevent flawed concepts. Design approaches, tools, and processes for net-centric systems.

Prerequisite: SELP 552.

SELP 540Engineering Ethics3 semester hours*

Ethical implications of engineers' work, both domestic and international. Introduction to ethical reasoning, liability, obligations and rights of engineers and managers, case studies, and current global issues. Course submittals will be used to develop student writing and communication skills. Writing assignments will be graded for 1) content and development, 2) organization and structure, 3) format, and 4) grammar, punctuation, and spelling.

SELP 552Systems Engineering3 semester hours*

Fundamentals of modern Systems Engineering throughout the program lifecycle; focus on mission success, system, and system-of-systems; broad integrative adoptable and flexible thinking; initiation of an SE activity, feasibility studies, mission engineering, pre-proposal and proposal activities; risk in performance, cost, schedule, and deployment aspects of a project; requirement definition and development, system design, interface and configuration control, and verification/validation; introduction to critical aspects of the DoD, NASA, and INCOSE guides on SE; class projects in Integrated Product Development Teams.

SELP 570Systems Thinking3 semester hours*

Systems Thinking is a course in which both students and faculty of two LMU Colleges work together: the Bellarmine College of Liberal Arts (seniors and Honors) and the Frank R. Seaver College of Science and Engineering (the Systems Engineering graduate program). We look at complex systems that combine both technological and societal aspects of our civilization, seeking to understand how things influence one another within a large context, and how we can influence them for common good. The concepts of common good and public interest are discussed and serve as the ethical baseline for the discourse. Students work in teams addressing the big questions of our time such as: energy and transportation, public health, K-12 education, end-of-life health management, defense and homeland security, and others. After 4-5 lectures on introductory topics and methodology, students will study approximately four such complex systems during the semester. Engineering and liberal arts students will complement each other's thinking. The work includes intensive interactive in-class brainstorming and simple modeling, as well as homework research and presentations of results. Note: we welcome students who are not solely ideological, open to seek optimum solutions to the societal challenges in which the free market is not interested in participating, or fails to deliver.

SELP 594Project Management3 semester hours*

Aspects of management and leadership of complex technical endeavors. Project management principles and interaction of the manager with the team. Architecting teams and organizational structures. Planning a project and managing financial, schedule and technical challenges and constraints during its lifecycle. Tools for planning, controlling and monitoring a project. Subcontract management. Configuration management. Federal acquisition process lifecycle. Microsoft Project.

SELP 598Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursSELP 599*Independent Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursSELP 650*Advanced Systems Engineering3 semester hours*

Application and management and monitoring of the SE process and logistics; leadership of integrated teams; management for uncertainty, decision making, risk and opportunity; design for X (manufacturing, assembly, testing, sustainability, maintainability, etc.); technology management and assessment; identifying options and bounding the trade space; software systems management; verification process; different roles of testing; modeling techniques and SE tools; design.

Prerequisite: SELP 552.

SELP 660Lean Methods3 semester hours*

History of Lean: JIT, Toyota Production System, Womack, Lean Aerospace Initiative, Lean Enterprise book, Five Principles of Lean; Value Stream Mapping; Lean Manufacturing with detailed coverage of JIT tools; Lean Enterprise: stakeholders, waste, multiple value streams, LESAT, Transitioning to Lean Enterprise, Lean Enterprise Model, Labor relations and NUMMI Case Study; layoffs; Lean Product Development: definitions, waste, principles, systems engineering, concurrency, matrix organization optimization; design Takt time, scheduling and assessing progress, acquisition reform, Skunk Works; Lean Suppliers Network; Keiretsu, Quality, JIT and the right price; Theory of constraints and critical chain; optional field trip, simulations.

SELP 661Advanced Lean Management of Engineering Programs3 semester hours*

The course introduces the latest knowledge in the fields of Lean Product Development, LPDF Methods, Lean Systems Engineering, and Lean Final Engineering, including the Lean Enablers for Systems Engineering (honored with the INCOSE Best Product Award and with the Shingo Prize Award for Best Publication and Research) and Lean Enablers for Managing Engineering Programs, a set of 326 practices for PD and SE Project.

Prerequisite: SELP 660 (waived for students of the Certificate in Program Leadership).

SELP 671Spacecraft Design3 semester hours*

Fundamental knowledge of spacecraft design: configuration, design and inter-dependencies of subsystems, launch vehicle, and trade-offs between performance, cost, and reliability. Students will be exposed to a wide range of considerations including design, manufacture, test and operation, cost, performance, manufacturability. At the end of this course, the student will have a fundamental understanding of the factors influencing spacecraft design and will be able to evaluate the impact of trade-offs between subsystem requirements on the performance and cost at the system level. The course will be fast-paced and include both individual and team projects.

Prerequisites: SELP 530 and SELP 552.

SELP 673New Product Design and Development3 semester hours*

Student conceived and/or corporate-sponsored team projects leading to a final prototype and business plan of a new product. Concept generation, team dynamics, customer needs analysis, product function, risk, decision theory, prototyping, manufacturing planning, specifications, quality function deployment, and cost analysis. Cross-listed with the business school to include entrepreneurship, marketing, and financial considerations when developing the design and business plan. Final oral presentation in front of a panel of industry experts in engineering and business.

SELP 675Systems Architecting and Modeling II3 semester hours*

This course emphasizes the development of analytic modeling skills, and the effective application of operations research methods in policy, management, and planning settings. An introduction to Model-based Systems engineering is included. A set of widely used models including linear programming, decision analysis, queuing, and forecasting is introduced. We explore how to effectively use these models, as well as their strengths and limitations in different problem and organizational contexts. The goal of this course is to teach system engineers, policy makers, and managers to gain analytical skills and apply them to complex problems. To this end, students will learn: 1) to structure problems so they can be effectively addressed, 2) to formulate models that are useful in different decision situations, 3) to use spreadsheet software to solve these models, and 4) to effectively present quantitative analysis to clients.

Prerequisite: SELP 552.

SELP 685Systems Engineering Case Studies3 semester hours*

Case studies to examine notable successes and failures in major technology-driven government, commercial and defense programs where systems engineering played a significant role. Lessons learned and ethics. Students perform intensive reading of the cases and present them using the Harvard Law School model.

Prerequisites: SELP 552, SELP 594 or MBAB 615; SELP 650.

SELP 688Advanced Program Management3 semester hours*

This course will be conducted in three segments: individual leadership (one's own motivations and leadership style, drive, risk, fear, power, passion, and attitude), project leadership (manager's role in leading a project, and strategies for successful execution), and company leadership (elements of a successful business, and the role of management). Each student will develop a case study of a significant program or development effort using the elements discussed in the class.

Prerequisites: SELP 594 and a minimum of two years of work experience.

SELP 694Systems Engineering Seminar3 semester hours*

Invited guests present interesting and relevant programs with significant systems engineering component. Students present assigned topics on systems engineering.

Prerequisite: SELP 552.

SELP 695Systems Engineering Integrative Project/Thesis3 TO 6 semester hours*

Capstone course in which students work to apply the principles of management and systems engineering to a complex technical endeavor. The products will be rationale for the selected project, a project proposal with timeline and plan, a preliminary requirements document, trade studies on the relevant issues, requirements verification plan, description of the ethical issues involved, and a detailed outline of the final report. A final written report and oral presentation are required.

Prerequisites: All SELP Core Courses; MBAI 610 for SELP students.

SELP 698Special Studies1 TO 3 semester hoursSELP 699*Independent Studies1 to 3 semester hoursTheatre Arts

THEA 110Beginning Acting3 semester hours*

An introduction to the interpretation of drama through the art of the actor.

Lab fee.

Non-majors and Theatre Arts minors only.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Creative Experience.

THEA 111Introduction to Theatre Performance0 OR 3 semester hours*

An introduction to the study of acting with a foundation in realism and physical actions. Emphasis is placed on a variety of critical and creative theories, and techniques to cultivate imagination, focus, and embodied creativity, self-awareness, vocal and physical range, and script analysis. Suitable for beginners and students with some performance experience.

Lab fee.

Theatre Arts majors only.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Creative Experience.

THEA 112Voice and Movement for the Stage3 semester hours*

An introduction to develop and practice vocal and physical techniques designed to free the natural voice and body and to explore the relationship between the two as expressed in performance and basic communication.

Lab fee.

Theatre Arts majors/minors only.

Prerequisite: THEA 110, THEA 111 or equivalent experience.

THEA 120Basic Stagecraft3 semester hours*

An introduction to basic technical theatre organization and vocabulary, scenic materials, and construction processes. The course includes an overview of the relationship of scenography to production and reading/executing basic graphic documents. A lab provides practical application of techniques and methods covered in lectures.

Lab fee.

Corequisite: THEA 121.

THEA 121Basic Stagecraft Lab0 semester hours*

An application of basic modern theatrical practices in a lab format through hands-on experience in a scene shop. Course work correlates with instruction in THEA 120.

Corequisite: THEA 120.

Credit/No Credit grading.

THEA 210Scene Study and Presentation3 semester hours*

A concentrated approach to Stanislavski-based scene analysis and presentation. Emphasis on further development and integration of acting skills in voice, movement, interpretation, script analysis, and character development for performance.

Theatre Arts majors/minors only.

Prerequisite: THEA 110, THEA 111, or equivalent experience.

THEA 220Introduction to Basic Scene, Lighting, and Costume Design3 semester hours*

An introduction to the basic elements of production design and its interrelation to the idea of the play. Course will examine the script and explore the development of a concept and its application in the design disciplines. Conceptual and technical drawings are produced, emphasizing clear and concise communication.

Lab fee.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Creative Experience.

THEA 223Lighting Design I3 semester hours*

An introductory course which explores stage lighting design as a medium and art form focusing on its aesthetic contribution to productions of different genres, styles, and/or periods of theatre and dance. Combining the development of practical skills and imagination, this course emphasizes the application of lighting design elements and principles, research, process, and script analysis in developing lighting designs. An initial exposure to lighting technology, equipment, and safety is included. Projects require mastery of basic techniques necessary to convert visual and conceptual ideas into various presentable graphic forms. Students are assessed on their development and integration of concepts and principles into their critical and creative work, share their work with peers, and critically review productions.

Lab fee.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Creative Experience

THEA 224Scene Design I3 semester hours*

An introductory course in designing scenery for the stage. Combining the development of practical skills and imagination in the development of scenic designs, this course explores the basics such as ground plan formation, research, script analysis, color, basic rendering and/or drafting, and model making techniques. Projects require mastery of basic techniques necessary to convert visual and conceptual ideas into various presentable graphic and three dimensional forms. Craftsmanship is stressed in the execution of projects. Students will be assessed on their development and integration of concepts and principles into their critical an creative work, share their work with peers, and critically review productions.

Lab fee.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Creative Experience.

THEA 225

Basic Stage Make-up

2 semester hours

An introduction to the art and application of stage make-up required of working actors and performers. Recommended for acting students and cast members.

Lab fee.

THEA 227

Costume Design I

3 semester hours

An introductory course in designing costumes for the stage which explores the aesthetic and practical contributions of costume design to productions of different genres, styles, and/or periods in theatre. Combining the development of practical skills and imagination, this course emphasizes the application of design elements and principles, research, process, silhouette, fabric choice, and script analysis in developing costume designs for both individual characters and overall ensemble. Projects require mastery of basic techniques necessary to convert visual and conceptual ideas into various presentable graphic forms. Craftsmanship is stressed in the execution of projects. Students will be assessed on their development and integration of concepts and principles into their critical and creative work, share their work with peers, and be required to critically review productions.

Lab fee.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Creative Experience.

THEA 230

Costume History and Fashion

3 semester hours

Focusing on selected/representative eras, this course explores the evolution of costume (clothing) forms as a cultural expression of Western fashion from early civilizations through contemporary times. Costumes are studied as primary artifacts and as representative signs of socio/political/economic/aesthetic forces to reveal aspects of the daily lives of human beings living in historic eras other than and including that of the students themselves. Design elements are explored. Comparing and contrasting historical costume modes with their own allows students to reflect on the origin and effect of their own fashion/costume choices. The course examines how costume and fashion reveal both the power of conformity—even as rebellion—and the compelling drive to differentiate class, gender, and self in human societies. The course seeks to connect the emergence of specific silhouettes and modes of clothing to the methods of manufacture, trade, and social/cultural conditions of each particular era. The significance of the role of the Fashion Designer in our era is explored. Students participate in special “dress up” days to experience directly how historic forms contributed to specific identities in times other than their own. They design and present an imagined fashion collection to be worn ten years into the future in a runway show as the final exam.

THEA 240

Western Theatre History and Literature I

3 semester hours

The history of world theatre from its origins to the seventeenth century A.D. The theatre is viewed as a prism of social concerns, anxieties, and aspirations, in particular historical settings: Antiquity: Ancient Greece, Rome, and India; the Middle Ages in Europe and Asia; and Renaissance Europe and seventeenth-century Asia.

Offered in the Fall semester.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Historical Analysis and Perspectives; Flag: Writing.

THEA 245

Western Theatre History and Literature II

3 semester hours

The history of world theatre from the eighteenth century to the present. The theatre and other performing arts traditions are viewed as a prism of social concerns, anxieties, and aspirations, in particular, historical settings: The Age of Enlightenment; the American, French, and Industrial Revolutions; the late nineteenth century and early twentieth century; the period of the World Wars, the world-wide Great Depression, and the Cold War; the end of colonialism, the rise of the Third World, and the flourishing of diversity.

Offered in the Spring semester.

University Core fulfilled: Explorations: Historical Analysis and Perspectives; Flag: Writing.

THEA 250

Theatre Practicum: Crew

0 TO 3 semester hours

This course provides mentored hands-on experience in technical theatre through participation in construction or running crew for Theatre Arts departmental productions.

May be repeated for up to 9 semester hours with a maximum of 2 semester hours in any given technical area.

Theatre Arts majors/minors only.

THEA 251

Theatre Practicum: Performance

0 TO 3 semester hours

The application of actor training methods and techniques to departmental theatrical productions.

May be repeated for credit up to 9 semester hours.

Lab fee.

Audition required.

THEA 253

Playwrights Center Stage

0 TO 3 semester hours

An introduction to new play development, theory, and practice, designed for writers, actors, and technical/production managers. The course focuses on the development of new scripts through the interaction between actors and writers with the possibility of staged readings and/or workshop productions.

May be repeated for credit up to 6 semester hours.

Lab fee.

Consent of instructor or Co-Chairperson required.

THEA 266

THST 678The Theology of the Parish3 semester hours*

This course focuses on the history, theology, and practice of Roman Catholic parishes in the United States. As an exercise in practical theology, students reflect on the lived practices in parishes and the theology of the church that emerges therefrom.

THST 679Special Topics in Pastoral Theology3 semester hoursTHST 680*Comparative Theology3 semester hours*

This course provides a review of the historical roots of the current situation of religious pluralism. It examines and evaluates relevant methodological proposals for comparative theology and clarifies the relationship of comparative theology to interreligious dialogue, the history of religions and the Christian theology of religions. It also offers an opportunity to engage in the practice of comparative theology through the interpretation of texts.

THST 681Comparative Religious Ethics3 semester hours*

This course begins with a comparative survey of ethics as found in the world's religious traditions. Specific issues such as war and peace, euthanasia, and environmentalism are then examined.

THST 682Comparative Mysticism3 semester hours*

In this course, Christian mysticism as found in the writings of Teresa of Avila and Meister Eckhart is compared and contrasted with the interior traditions of India and East Asia, including Samkhya, Yoga, Taoism, and Yogacara Buddhism.

THST 685The Theory and Practice of Spiritual Direction3 semester hours*

This course seeks to further the student's understanding of spiritual direction as a form of pastoral care and as a helping relationship. Among the topics to be considered are: various forms of spiritual guidance within the Christian tradition, the distinctive nature of spiritual direction, the qualities and skills required to be an effective spiritual director, and the role of spiritual direction in facilitating spiritual growth and development.

THST 686Ignatian Spirituality and Discernment3 semester hours*

This course seeks to further the student's understanding of the spirituality of Ignatius of Loyola by a close reading of his spiritual classic, The Spiritual Exercises, and by a study of contemporary writing on Ignatian spirituality. Praxis, the reflection upon experience, is a central aspect of this course and reflects the hypothesis that some of the dynamics of the Spiritual Exercises can be experienced by individuals in a group learning situation when they are approached in a critical and prayerful way.

THST 687Psychological Foundations of Spiritual Direction3 semester hours*

This course focuses on the psychological dynamics of spiritual direction as a helping relationship, as well as the cultivation of communication skills needed to be an effective spiritual director. Principal topics to be covered include the following: how spiritual direction differs from psychotherapy; the importance of self-knowledge and personal awareness on the part of helpers; the nature of empathic understanding and its relationship to psychological and spiritual growth; basic counseling skills.

THST 688Practicum and Supervision in Spiritual Direction3 semester hours*

The art of spiritual direction is best fostered through practice and reflection on that practice in a supervisory setting. This course will give students an opportunity to grow in spiritual direction skills, self-awareness, and interior freedom under the guidance of experienced spiritual directors.

THST 690Directed Research1 TO 3 semester hours*

Through selected readings and individually directed study, a student can concentrate in a specific field of research or area of ministry. This course is designed for those students whose particular needs would not be adequately met through other course offerings.
